Allies Raid Wonsan Port North Of 38th Parallel

SOMETHING NEW — Korean youngsters who have lived in a state of poverty are astonished at hearing voices coming from what appears to be a small steel box. Here with the aid of a Canadian soldier they listen, on an inter-company communication set, to troops training in the South Korean hills.

Jury Acquits Mrs. Sullivan

OTTAWA, Feb. 14—(CP)—Mrs. Marion Sulivan was cleared Tuesday night of all criminal responsibility in connection with the death of her husband, Francis J. Sullivan. A 12-man jury acquitted her of a charge of manslaughter arising out of the death of the 52-year-old lawyer and Ontario government solicitor. So ended the 10-day trial of the 48-year-old Toronto society woman whose tragic ordeal began on the early morning of last Nov. 18 when her husband's body was found in the Chateau Laurier suite occupied by the couple. Mrs. Sullivan, who remained composed throughout the trial, clasped black-gloved hands tightly together when foreman Napoleon Pelletier began to announce the jury findings. The jury had deliberated for four hours.

"We find the prisoner not guilty, my lord," he said.

Spectators Applaud

The 300 spectators, many of whom remained throughout an adjournment called to enable jurors to have supper, roared applause.

Mr. Justice J. C. McRuer fined convicted two spectators of contempt of court—but did not impose a fine—then turned to Mrs. Sullivan and told her she was free.

"I can only add that in my opinion it is the only reasonable verdict which could have been arrived at in the light of evidence."

Mrs. Sullivan thanked the justice and the jury in a well-controlled, clear voice. Her only son Frank, 21, strode quickly to his mother's side and the two embraced.

Her 16-year-old daughter, Elizabeth, present in court during the first few days of the trial was not there for the final scene. The girl has been ill with measles and still is confined to bed at the home of friends here.

Arthur Gough of Toronto, Mrs. Sullivan's brother, wept openly when the verdict was announced.

Mrs. Sullivan shook hands with her counsel, Roydon A. Hughes, K.C., and Rowell K. Laishley, and kissed a cheek of each of the two lawyers.

Very Happy

"I can only say that I feel very happy at this moment and I am glad that it is all over," she told newspaper men.

Her son was barely able to speak. He said simply: "I have always believed completely in my mother's innocence."

Mrs. Sullivan stood for more than 10 minutes with her son and her brother while photographers took pictures, then shook hands with the camera men and drove off in the family car with her son at the wheel. They were scheduled to return to Toronto today.

During the trial Tuesday the jury heard a summary of evidence

Little Chance MacArthur To Get More Authority

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—(AP)—Officials here see little chance that Gen. MacArthur will get the power and authority he considers necessary to achieve complete victory over the Chinese Communists in Korea. The expected dispatch of American troops to western Europe, a widespread desire in high places here for a reasonable Korean settlement if possible, the determination to avoid spreading the war—all these factors seem certain to work against fulfilment of the conditions described by MacArthur as essential to success.

In a Tokyo statement following a battle-front visit, the Allied commander Tuesday described the situation this way: recent United Nations advances have been merely tactical successes; it now is academic to talk about a massive drive across the 38th Parallel into North Korea; such a drive would require offsetting the numerical superiority of the Communists with their protected bases in Manchuria.

From the blunt summary he made and his insistence on the point that there are decisions beyond his province which only governments can make, it is apparent that MacArthur is calling for a definition of United Nations objectives in Korea now and the decision to pay the price necessary to win them.

His Terms

His own estimate indicates that steps necessary to a military victory would require (1) A substantial enlargement of UN forces more nearly equal to those of the foe and (2) Authority to bombard positions and communication of the Chinese troops in Manchuria.

On the first point, while MacArthur's forces are being given replacements now and brought up to full strength, the state and defence departments are anxious to build up as fast as possible divisions for assignment to Gen. Eisenhower's new Atlantic Pact command in western Europe. MacArthur is understood to have sought permission to use Chinese Nationalist troops from Formosa but that has been denied on the grounds that they are needed to defend that island.

On the issue of bombing by UN planes in Manchuria, Washington sees difficulty on two counts. Some American allies, notably Britain, are anxious to keep the Korean war in strict limits. And military authorities there have ruled out bombing in Manchuria because it might bring a Communist Far Eastern air force into the fight.

Officials decided some time ago that neither the Communists nor the UN forces could win a clear-cut, decisive victory in Korea. The Chinese have too many men and that UN troops too much fire power, according to this estimate.

What is hoped for here is that these Chinese Reds will come to the same decision and so agree to negotiations which the western powers could accept as a reasonable settlement.

Hat Gets Workout In UK Commons

LONDON, Feb. 14— (AP) — Conservative Robert Turton, a middle-aged lawyer, stood up in the dignified House of Commons Tuesday night wearing a woman's blue velvet hat.

Amid stifled snickers, he raised a point of order.

Conservative Hugh Molson, also middle-aged and also a lawyer, then donned the hat and made a few remarks on the same subject.

The toque, visibly wilting, was next passed across the aisle to the Labor side of the House. John Rankin, 61, put it on and spoke briefly.

Finally Hector McNeil, Secretary of State for Scotland, recovered the hat, strode across to the Conservative benches and restored it to its owner — Irene Ward.

The curious by-play was caused by a House rule. A member must wear a hat when raising or discussing a point of order in the middle of a vote. Miss Ward's was the only hat handy.

WILL INVESTIGATE

LONDON, Feb. 14 (Reuters.)—John Dugdale, Minister of State for Colonial Affairs, said today the government would investigate if there were "undue" exports of rubber from Malaya to Russia, China and other iron curtain countries.

Labor Delegation Sees Cabinet Feb. 20

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP) — A joint delegation from Canada's four big central labor bodies will place their demands for price-rent controls before the cabinet Feb. 20.

The union groups for several weeks have been preparing a brief calling for re-imposition of price controls and retention of rent controls after federal rent authority expires next April 30.

The organizations, representing about 1,000,000 workers, are the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, the Canadian Congress of Labor, the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor and the Dominion Joint Legislative Committee of the Railway Transportation Brotherhoods.

Dangerous Bush Wolf Loose Near Outskirts of Windsor

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 14 (CP) — A "dangerous" bush wolf is believed still lurking today in the vicinity of Oldcastle, less than 10 miles from the outskirts of Windsor.

District sportsmen, hampered for more than 24 hours by bad weather conditions, are expected to form a posse to hunt the animal.

Sleet followed by a driving snowstorm late Tuesday forced cancellation of plans to track down the wounded animal in a concentrated effort.

Token hunts were made for the animal by armed residents of the area but the wolf was not sighted. There has been no sign of the wounded cross-breed since its eerie call was last heard early Tuesday.

The animal was "definitely wounded" by buckshot from the gun of 19-year-old Jack Beer during an encounter Monday night on the property of Thomas Warner, on Highway No. 3. Mrs. Warner said she saw the wolf hit as it stood snarling in the glare of automobile headlights in the backyard of the Warner's farm property.

Moments after the wounded animal, believed half dog and half wolf, ran off yelping toward a brush thicket at the rear of the Warner farm, a second wolf emerged from behind the barn and stalked toward the armed youth. Caught without his gun loaded, young Beer fled but his father, Darcy, neighbor of the Warners, killed the animal with a high-powered deer rifle.

"We have definitely identified the slain animal as a mongrel wolf," Game Overseer Deimar Bailey of Leamington, said. "But it is part dog."

Ontario Plans Institute Fight Cancer

Frost Announces Clinic To Cost 2 Million Dollars

TORONTO, Feb. 14—(CP)—A province-wide attack on cancer, with a $2,000,000 Institute of Radiotherapy in Toronto as its focus, was announced to the Legislature Tuesday by Premier Frost. Work will start at once on construction of the Toronto clinic beside the city's Wellesley Hospital, the Premier said. It will have facilities for diagnosis and treatment, and for research into prevention and cure of the disease.

The Toronto institute would be linked with present or proposed centres for diagnosis and treatment in Windsor, London, Hamilton, Kingston, Ottawa, the lakehead and othern northern Ontario points. The Premier estimated an additional $500,000 will be spent on new or expanded facilities at these points.

Today's sitting of the legislature has been set aside by the government for consideration of private members' bills—the first in several years that the government has earmarked a special day to debate back-benchers' bills.

War On Cancer

Premier Frost said the new clinic plan was "Ontario's declaration of war on cancer."

The attack would enlist "the very best that can be had of knowledge and experience in attacking the serious problems presented by this dreadful disease."

The institute will be directed by the Ontario cancer treatment and treatment will be handled by the Toronto General Hospital staff, backed by specialists from the University of Toronto and other hospitals in Toronto and provincial cities. Scientists and doctors at the universities of Western Ontario, Queen's and Ottawa will also be enrolled.

"Ontario possesses some of the very finest personnel in the world in this field," Premier Frost said. "Their most valuable knowledge and experience will be reinforced by the most experienced knowledge that can be found anywhere."

Best Equipment

The institute will contain high voltage X-ray therapy machines, a radioactive cobalt bomb, and isotope and radio-therapeutic equipment. Research will continue toward the ultimate goal of stamping out cancer.

A nurses' residence will also be built for staffs of both the institute and Wellesley Hospital.

Premier Frost said the scheme was undertaken with the Federal govefnment's "full co-operation." He expected federal grants "to the full limit" of the Ottawa government's health program.

Defence Organization

The provincial secretary reported during the throne speech debate that much of the groundwork has been laid for Ontario's civil defence organization. Some 70 municipalities were fairly well advanced with civil defence plans.

No More Jailed Till Flu Over

SYDNEY, N.S., Feb. 14 (CP)—A ban on anyone entering the county jail here as a prisoner went into effect today because of an outbreak of influenza. City schools were closed Tuesday and the epidemic has been plaguing coal mines in this industrial area of Cape Breton Island.

No new prisoners can enter the jail until further notice.

Persons given jail terms will remain free until space is available after the ban is lifted.

At nearby Glace Bay, Dominion Coal Company reported "hundreds" of miners are confined to their homes and a drop in production is expected. Business firms were having difficulty due to staff shortages.

The jail, built to accommodate 45 prisoners, now has a population of 84. It was learned that nearly 40 inmates were stricken with flu and two have been taken to hospital seriously ill.

Bearded Trappers, Indians Whoop It Up

Eskimo Family Top Guests of Honor At Manitoba Festival

THE PAS, Man., Feb. 14 (CP)—Bearded trappers, Indians in native dress and hundreds of miners and visitors thronged this northern frontier town today for the opening of the four-day trappers' festival.

Premier Campbell of Manitoba and a party of legislature members were here.

So were Too-Too, Pung-Wash-Aloo, Keed-Lapik, Kungo and Kasak, an Eskimo family from Padlei, N.W.T., brought in as guests of honor.

Man, wife and three children, they are building their own igloo for the festival with blocks of snow shipped from Churchill on Hudson Bay. They'll do their cooking on sealoil lamps.

Big event of the festival is the 140-mile Canadian open dog derby to Cranberry Portage and back. The north's oustanding mushers, including last year's winner, Laird Ouelette, will compete for the $1,000 first prize.

Ouelette finished fourth in last week's international dog race at Ottawa. It was his first try in the eastern event.

There'll be plenty of fun for the festival crowd. Typical contests of the north include muskrat skinning, fat Indian women's snowshoe races, campfire building, fishing through the ice, trap-setting. And four northern belles will compete for the title of festival queen.

Lloyd C. Douglas Novelist Dies In 74th Year

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14 (AP)—Lloyd C. Douglas, 73, author of some of the most controversial and widely-read religious novels of the century, died Tuesday night of heart disease.

He had suffered from arthritis since 1944, and his condition had grown steadily worse in recent months.

Douglas' greatest books were "The Magnificent Obsession," his first, published in 1929, and "The Robe," printed in 1942. In the period between there were numerous best-sellers, including "Green Light," "White Banners," and "Disputed Passage," which were filmed.

His last work was "The Big Fisherman," a sequel to "The Robe." Douglas refused to allow a movie to be made of "The Big Fisherman," apparently because of the treatment "The Robe" received in Hollywood. Handling of the book for the films was debated for years. Finally, after $750,000 was poured into the enterprise, the picture was dropped.

Personal Approach

Douglas' books caused much discussion because of their personal approach to religion. He once told a reporter that "The Magnificent Obsession" started out as an essay on "personal expression through private philanthropy."

"I got half through and it occurred to me that the good purpose I wanted to describe would reach more people in story form" he said.

Douglas, an ordained Lutheran minister, was in his 50s when "The Magnificent Obsession" became an immediate success. It went through 51 printings in little more than a year.

Douglas served in several Lutheran pastorates. One time minister of the First Congregational Church at Ann Arbor, Mich., he also was pastor of the First Congregational Church of Los Angeles, where he served from 1926 to 1929.

Israeli Cabinet Falls On Religious Education

JERUSALEM, Feb. 14 (AP).—The cabinet of Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion fell today over the question of religious education among immigrant children.

An Opposition motion rejecting Ben-Gurion's religious education program was adopted by a vote of 49 to 42. The Prime Minister said he considered this a vote of no confidence, and resigned.

The Labor Party Premier had proposed that Yemenite children in work camps be given religious education in all cases, while other immigrant children receive it only if individually registered for it. Members of the Orthodox religious bloc in the cabinet bitterly opposed the program, claiming it was discriminatory.

Following the Parliament vote, Ben-Gurion went to Rehovot to hand in his resignation to President Chaim Weizmann.

Necessary steps were reported being taken, meanwhile, to get general elections under way at the earliest possible date.

BULLETIN

OTTAWA, (CP)—A plane, tentatively identified as a military jet type, was reported to have crashed and exploded in a heavily-wooded area about 15 miles southwest of Ottawa today. Francis Trachan, a district resident, said he was watching the plane when it suddenly "seemed to break up." The RCAF at Trenton reported a Mustang fighter plane missing from its base at Arnprior.

UK Has No Alternative But To Rearm—Shinwell

LONDON, Feb. 14—(AP)—Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell told the House of Commons today if Russia's "experiment" in Korea succeeded, "Berlin or Western Germany might be the next step." Shinwell said Britain has "no alternative but to press on with strengthening our defences."

The defence minister was the opening speaker of a two-day debate in which the Labor government seeks approval of its big rearmament program.

This includes an outlay of £4,700,000,000 during the next three years and 15-day call-up of 250,000 armed forces reserves this summer. The call-up is intended mainly as mobilization practice against a possible sudden outbreak of war.

Shinwell said the government has decided to lower its draft medical standards in an attempt to get an additional 10,000 army men each year.

Shinwell estimated the total strength of the army, RAF and navy will be around 800,000 by April 1.

In Top Form

He said the government plans to "maintain anti-aircraft command in the highest possible state of readiness."

In this connection the United States is sending 3,000 army anti-aircraft artillery men to train with their British counterparts. The first contingent of 830 Americans arrived two weeks ago.

He reiterated that Britain plans to send another division soon to Germany, making it four in all.

Shinwell informed the Commons that the government, in rearming, has no intention to "play the enemy's game by adopting panic measures which the situation would not justify and which would do grave injury to our economy."

The Conservatives already have criticized the program as too little and too late and are expected to elaborate in the later stages of the debate.

32 Reds Arrested Before U.S. Consulate

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 14 (Reuters) — Thirty-two persons were arrested during a Communist demonstration today outside the United States consulate here.

Crowds of onlookers blocked the road and halted traffic as police battled with Communists carrying posters protesting against the visit of John Foster Dulles, special United States envoy.

At the time of the demonstration Dulles was on his way from Darwin to Canberra, where he is to have talks on a Japanese peace treaty with the Australian cabinet.

40 Homeless In Ottawa Fire

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 — (CP)—Forty persons were left homeless early today when fire of undetermined origin swept out of control and gutted a six-dwelling tenement row in Central Ottawa.

None of the residents of the two-storey brick structure was injured. Damage was estimated at $60,000.

The blaze broke out about 2.30 a.m. in the basement and ate its way through the walls to the roof of the building. Sweeping over the rooftops, the fire continued to spread.

The row of houses had recently been purchased by the University of Ottawa as a site for the extension of the medical college. The tenants had been given notice to vacate the premises within a few months.

Quebec MP Aids De Bernonville

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP) — Parliament got notice today of a move that could give Count Jacques De Bernonville a new weapon to fight deportation from Canada and more time to fight it in.

Bona Arsenault (L—Bonaventure) said he will introduce in the Commons a private bill to amend the Immigration Act. His purpose would be to provide "for the asylum recognized in international law for political refugees."

The bill, he said, would allow judges of superior courts to decide "whether this right should be recognized and declared in particular cases."

Mr. Arsenault said it would be possible for the count to go before the Quebec courts and ask for a writ of habeas corpus on the basis of the bill. Even if the bill has not been passed by parliament—most private bills don't get passed—Mr. Arsenault believes it would be possible for the count to argue that he should not be deported until parliament has made up its mind.

QUADS IN AFRICA

CALVINIA, South Africa, Feb. 14— (Reuters) — Quadruplets, all boys, born Tuesday in the Voortrekker Hospital at Calvinia, in the northwest Cape Province, were reported making satisfactory progress today. Their mother Mrs. P. J. J. Lombard, wife of a local sheep farmer, also is doing well.

U.N. Troops Shatter 2 Divisions

Report Chinese Dead Heaped Along Han As Attack Repelled

TOKYO, Feb. 14—(AP)—South Korean Marines landed today at the big North Korean east coast port of Wonsan in a surprise raid under cover of a strong Allied naval bombardment.

Wonsan is 90 miles inside Red territory above Parallel 38 on the Sea of Japan.

On the flaming Central Korean front, American, French and Dutch forces inflicted a staggering toll on Chinese and North Korean divisions striving for a break-through along a 20-mile-wide sector.

A field dispatch said the allied defenders shattered two Communist divisions "in a welter of blood, bombs and shellfire." It added:

"The Chinese dead lay by the thousands on all sides of surrounding Chipyong. Other thousands were heaped up also in the river valley eight miles west-northwest of Wonju where they stumbled into a murderous air and artillery ambush."

On the western front, American soldiers mowed down 1,152 Red Korean troops who had crossed the Han river and slipped inside allied lines. They captured nearly 250 more Communist soldiers.

Cut Down Remnants

American machine guns cut down fleeing remnants of the Red Korean force as they tried to splash back across the Han.

Allied losses were reported small.

U.S. 25th Division troops wiped out two Red patrols who were stalking boldly across Sand Island, a sandbar in the Han between Seoul and its industrial suburb, Yongdungpo.

The 60 Reds in the patrol used Korean civilians as a shield. At a signal, the civilians dropped to the ground and the Reds fired at allied forces on the south bank.

The U.S. soldiers fired back.

Lamotta Makes Fight Weight

CHICAGO, Feb. 14 (AP) — Middleweight champion Jake Lamotta weighed 160, making the exact weight for his title defence against Sugar Ray Robinson at the Chicago Stadium tonight. Robinson scaled 155½ at the official weigh-in.

Had Lamotta, who has not worked out in a gym since Friday, failed to make the weight, he would have forfeited his crown to Robinson, but the fight would have gone on as scheduled.

Lamotta disclosed he had nothing to eat this morning, and had spent the last few days jumping on and off the scales in his room, morning, noon and night. He rushed to a heavy breakfast after the weigh-in and planned a substantial meal around 4 p.m.

Patricias Moving Up To Combat Area

Brig. Fleury Impressed By Battalion's Fighting Fitness On Visit

WITH CANADIAN TROOPS IN KOREA, Feb. 14 (CP) — The Patricias struck camp today to move up to the combat area Thursday.

They will be led by Lt.Col. J. R. Stone, their commanding officer, who returned from the front Tuesday afternoon, briefed on the battalion's first operational project. Brig. Frank Fleury of the Canadian Military Mission arrived from Tokoyo the same afternoon for an overnight visit.

The positions where the battalion will dig in are two day's road travel distant from the Canadians' South Korean training area. The batallion moves at first light Thursday in United States troop-carrying vehicles. It will bivouac in the open air on the way.

The job awaiting the Patricias may keep them out of the battle news for some days, under regulations permitting reporting only when firm contact with the enemy is established.

Taking No Chances.

Brig. Fleury said his visit was prompted by "an abundance of caution" to ensure that the battalion's administrative and supply lines are in good order.

"There was much less for me to help out with than I'd anticipated," he said. "There were only one or two things for me to do. On the whole, they are well set up."

He said reinforcements would be "pipelined" into the British stream at Kure, Japan. Equipment and replacements for battle casualties also will be sent to British or American ordinance installations, depending on the type of equipment.

"It might be difficult to get vehicle replacements for a little while as the Patricias already have more vehicles than any other battalion in Korea, reducing the amount of pressure we can bring to bear until other formations are up to strength."

He said he was impressed by the battalion's fighting fitness and morale.

Col. Stone was enthusiastic about the operational and fighting efficiency of the British brigade with which his troops will be integrated.

"I was there when the brigade was put on the alert," he said. "Things functioned like a quiet drill — even to establishing possible ambulance car post locations should movement orders be issued.

"It was all done without paper work. They've had only one paper order since arriving in the theatre."

He said the Patricia's new area is picturesque and mountainous like their training area but extremely cold, with snow on the ground.

The companies' last two days' training was devoted to attack exercises during which every battalion weapon was fired for the last time before action.

Lie Urges U.N. Attempt Arms Reduction

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 14 (AP)—United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie urged the continuation of arms reduction efforts despite world tension.

Lie addressed the opening session of a new U.N. committee created to take up President Truman's suggestion that talks on arms reductions and atomic control be combined. The committee is made up of the 11 security council members plus Canada.

On the general question of disarmament, Lie said:

"In the present state of tension in the world, with rearmament proceeding at a rapid pace on all sides, it may seem academic and even Utopian to proceed with serious discussion and planning on the regulation and reduction of armaments. I do not agree with this view."

Go Hand In Hand

Efforts at political settlement and the regulation of armaments, he said, should go hand in hand.

The committee meeting brought the Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik, to Lake Success for the first time in three weeks. He has been reported suffering from a heart ailment.

Malik told the committee the failure of the U.N. to make progress on the reduction of arms and atomic control was due to efforts of the United States to undermine the discussions.

The 12-country group will report back to the 1951 general assembly on the feasibility of combining the atomic control and disarmament talks.

Russia has always demanded the link-up. The U.S. insisted on separate handling until President Truman suddenly reversed his stand in a speech to the UN last October.

Special urgency is given to the committee's work by the belief, widely held here, that recent atom tests in Nevada were of atomic warheads for conventional arms.

See Little Hope

In view of current world tension, however, there is little hope that any substantial progress can be made toward international control within any framework.

Today's meeting was scheduled to open with an address by Secretary-General Trygve Lie, then proceed to organizational work.

Members of the committee are Canada, Britain, the United States, Brazil, China, Ecuador, France, India, the Netherlands, Russia, Turkey and Yugoslavia, meeting the day after the UN gave the U.S. two resounding votes of confidence.

The General Assembly showed its disbelief of Russian charges of American aggression against Formosa by throwing the complaint out 48 to 5, with Burma, Indonesia and Yugoslavia abstaining.

The Assembly then refused 51 to 5 to denounce the U.S. for alleged American bombings of Red Chinese territory along the Yalu River. Afghanistan and Yugoslavia abstained.

Firefighters Doubt Increase Acceptable

A deputation from the Peterborough Fire Fighters' Association discussed the 1951 agreement with the fire, water and light committee of the council Tuesday night.

The firemen are asking for a salary increase of $365 this year. This was the main question considered in a lengthy meeting at which Ald. A. B. Burrows, chairman, presided.

The conference proceeded in a friendly spirit, but the deputation expressed doubt that the committee's offer of an increase plus cost of living bonus allowance would receive the approval of the union membership.

It was an opening session of discussion of the proposed agreement. The salary detail is expected to be considered separately by both sides on the basis of the committee's offer.

MONTREAL, Feb. 14 (CP) — The American dollar today opened at 5 3-16 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, unchanged from Tuesday's close. That is, it took $1.05 3-16 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.94½, down 1-16.

MORE ABOUT—
Ontario Plans

Although no agreement with Ottawa had been reached on financing the plans, Mr. Welsh said the province has already spent money and is ready to spend for what he termed "an insurance policy" for civil defence.

The minister said the defence organization as planned could reduce casualties by 50 per cent. He warned against overexpansion that might make civil defence groups unwieldly. Organization should be "capable of expansion to meet any emergency".

Potential Targets

Mr. Welsh said he felt that Sudbury, Niagara Falls and Sarnia should be added to the national defence department's list of potential atomic bombing targets. The list now includes Ottawa, Hamilton, Toronto, London, Windsor and Sault Ste. Marie.

J. D. Baxter (L—Prince Edward-Lennox) urged the government to reduce liquor sales, ease restrictions on municipal grants and control highway trucking loads. He said vegetable growers and processors should use caution in agreeing on produce prices for the coming year for fear they might put canned food prices beyond public reach.

Joseph L. Easton (CCF-Wentworth) said Ontario should take responsibility for providing low-rental housing. Municipalities had too many financial problems to give a lead in housing.

The federal government, he said, should shoulder the full cost of civil defence organization. He also asked that farmland bordering Lake Ontario be protected from erosion by a system of stone walls, and pressed for relaxation of laws restricting sale of farm produce from stands along the Queen Elizabeth Way and other controlled-access highways.

The Legislature also gave approval in principle to government bills to: increase the maximum fire protection charge on railway lands; allow debenture issues for school pension plans; permit appointment of school inspectors for township school boards with 100 or more teachers; bring Ontario College of Art teachers under the Ontario superannuation plan; reduce the maximum work week of full-time firemen from 72 to 56 hours; clarify municipal rights in agreements with the province and Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation; reimburse public hospitals for treatment of mental hospital patients; and compel X-ray examinations for those suspected of having tuberculosis.

Possible Raids

Mr. Welsh in discussing possible raids on Ontario cities, said no area of the continent was too remote for bombing aircraft. The chief defence against atomic bombing would ultimately be disperssion of industries.

Bombing would disrupt Canada's productive capacity and panic and uncertainty in the population would have almost as important an effect.

Ontario had the majority of targets considered by the national defence department as vital. These are Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Windsor and Sault Ste. Marie. Mr. Welsh said Sudbury, Niagara Falls and Sarnia could be added to the list.

Any material damage to the Sault locks would have "a very detrimental effect," on Canada's war economy. There was a "tremendous fire danger" to Northern Ontario forests that would add another hazard in time of war.

Ruled Mentally Ill

TORONTO, Feb. 14 (CP). — Joseph Maconse, 32, of Quebec, who tried to force his way into skater Barbara Ann Scott's apartment a week ago, Tuesday was declared mentally ill and committed to an institution.

The night of the incident, the shabbily-dressed Maconse told police he wanted to see Barbara Ann because he was "madly in love" with her. He carried photographs of the skater in his wallet and said he had dozens of others pasted up in his room.

Murder Hearing Set February 19

NORTH BAY, Feb. 14 (CP) — Preliminary hearing of E. B. Murphy, charged with the hammer-slaying of his wife, will be held in magistrate's court at North Bay, Feb. 19.

Immaculately garbed and showing no evident signs of the strain of awaiting trial, the 69-year-old retired North Bay business man made a brief appearance in court today. He was on remand from his first appearance Feb. 7.

He is charged with murdering his wife, Mrs. Bella H. Murphy, also 69, at their home Feb. 5.

Magistrate F. C. Powell of Parry Sound will preside at the Feb. 19 court session. Magistrate M. G. Gould of North Bay consulted the inspector of legal offices for the province about the substitution of another magistrate. The inspector agreed and Magistrate Powell consented to come here for the preliminary hearing.

Police have said that a hammer was found which might be the blunt weapon they had previously suggested might have been wielded by the person who killed Mrs. Murphy. The body with the head battered in was found in the Murphy cellar.

by Crown Attorney Raoul Mercier and Mr. Hughes, and received its charge from Chief Justice McRuer.

Mr. Mercier contended that Mr. Sullivan died from blows received in a struggle but Mr. Hughes said he died from natural causes.

The Chief Justice, in his 2½-hour charge, advanced what he called a "third theory". It was that Mr. Sullivan died after a struggle which might not be considered a criminal assault.

Mrs. Sullivan first was charged with the murder of her husband. The charge later was changed to manslaughter.

Has Third Theory

Mr. Justice McRuer, elaborating on the possible third theory, said the Toronto lawyer might have gone into convulsions as a result of the brain haemorrhage which medical experts testified Mr. Sullivan suffered.

He recalled evidence that Mr. Sullivan had been drinking. He suggested that Mrs. Sullivan by mistaking the convulsions for drunkenness might have tried to restrain her husband and struggled with him.

In doing so she might have suffered the bruises found on her body and her husband the 60 injuries found on his.

The Chief Justice said Mrs. Sullivan then might have become frightened that people would misjudge the events. Attempting to cover up, she might have packed the pieces of broken glass—a crown-exhibited soda-water bottle—in her luggage, tidied the room and then called for hotel help. The bottle and other glassware might have been broken in her struggle with her husband.

Battle Continues For McKee Child

LONDON, Feb. 14 — (CP). — Details of the long court fight between father and mother for custody of 10-year-old Terry McKee were given the law lords of the Privy Council today as the case continued before the Commonwealth's highest court.

The father, Mark T. McKee, Pan-American Airways executive, is seeking custody of his son. The mother, divorced in 1942, was granted custody by the Supreme Court of Canada last year.

McKee, in the case which opened Tuesday, is asking the Judicial Committee of the Imperial Privy Council to reverse the Canadian judgment.

Since 1942 there has been almost constant litigation over the boy in Canadian and American courts, although the child has remained in the father's custody for nine years. The Supreme Court of Canada judgment was "frozen" last summer pending the current appeal.

Frank Gahan, London lawyer appearing for McKee, told the court the boy's father had been domiciled in Michigan until December, 1946, when he moved to Linwood, near Kitchener, with the boy.

ducks," one American soldier said.

The landing at Wonsan was made early Wednesday afternoon. A big allied naval force bombarded Red installations. Then the South Korean Marines swarmed ashore north of the harbor.

Eighth Army Headquarters said the South Koreans fought to the city's outskirts and seized two island off the port.

Resistance Light

Resistance was reported light. But a large force of Reds was spotted moving south on the port from Hamhung, about 50 miles to the north.

Bad weather held down the number of allied flights in support of ground forces. But skies cleared somewhat at noon Wednesday permitting allied warplanes to strike in about 100 sorties along the flaming central front.

The enemy pushed their ground attack there at tremendous costs in Red manpower.

"Air and artillery have been doing a tremendous job on these (Red) columns," a 10th corps spokesman said. "They have been hitting them all day."

Five Red columns with an estimated strength of 5,000 men were spotted moving south toward Wonju from the northwest.

An allied unit which had been surrounded seven miles southeast of Chipyong broke out of the Communist ring Wednesday morning after a two-hour fight. Later it counter-attacked and pursued the Reds into the hills four miles northeast of Yoju.

Another earlier barrage caught a Chinese force which included pack animals loaded with ammunition.

"Streams turned red with Chinese blood," a divisional officer said.

American and French forces battled to hold Chipyong, 20 miles northwest of Wonju and western anchor of the central front line.

Hold Key Sector

Dutch troops held a key sector farther east. A Dutch battalion had covered the allied rearguard as it pulled back from Hoengsong, 10 miles north of Wonju. The Dutch commander, Lt.-Col. N. P. A. Den Ouden, was killed Monday in that action.

Chinese rifle fire swept the Wonju-Yoju road Wednesday. Red forces pushed within two miles of Pupyong, a station on the main lateral supply highway. An allied mortar company beat back a Red force striking for the road.

Allied commanders felt they had broken the first waves of the newest Red onslaught. But they knew the mountainous central Korean sector was swarming with Communist troops, and field dispatches said they expected the raging battle in the Wonju-Yoju-Chipyong triangle to flare to a climax after dark Wednesday.

Try For Break-Through

The Reds were driving for a break-through in the area where they had dented allied positions 18 miles since Sunday night.

"We are all playing for keeps this time," said a commander of an American division. "My men with the help of the French at Chipyong and the Dutch at Wonju have knocked out two Chinese divisions as organized fighting forces. . . .

"We can scratch those divisions off."

The commander said the Chinese at Chipyong "helped out the gunners by making banzai charges against prepared defences. From the air we could see the bodies piled up on top of each other."

A big airdrop at noon Wednesday bolstered Chipyong's ammunition supply.

A Chinese column slipped six miles south of Chipyong and cut the relief road to the town. Other Red units were attacking Chipyong from all sides.

Communist mortar and artillery fire from guns set up in the surrounding hills crumped into the town.

Not Concerned

But Maj.-Gen. Edward M. Almond, commander of the 10th Corps which is making the central front stand, expressed no great concern. Of the troops defending Chipyong, he said:

"It is a damn good force and can give a damn good account of itself. They are perfectly able to take care of themselves."

Allied artillery at Chipyong began firing Tuesday night when the Reds attacked and still was pounding the enemy late Wednesday afternoon.

The enemy launched a three-hour pre-dawn probing attack Wednesday on allied positions northwest of Wonju and then hit in force at daylight. Hills northwest of the road hub were swarming with bands ranging from 200 to 1,000 Reds.

The Communists apparently hope to slide past Wonju on the west or encircle Chipyong and drive through the mountain corridor between the two towns.

Both moves obviously are aimed at cutting the main Wonju-Yoju lateral supply road and cracking the central front wide open.

If the Reds succeed in smashing this line, they could fan out to the east or west. A move west would threaten the 100,000 allied troops in the area immediately south and west of Seoul.

On the western front, the Communists have begun large-scale infiltration into allied lines south of the Han River near Seoul.

THESE HUSKY PUPS were brought by Mrs. D. A. Fitzgerald and her husband from the United States Air Base at Goose Bay, Labrador, to take part in the annual international Dog Derby at Ottawa.

Britons Seek To Make Room For Visitors By Rushing To Get Out Of Country

LONDON—(CP)—While plans are being made to greet thousands of visitors to the Festival of Britain which officially opens next May, Britons are staging the biggest rush on record to get out of the country.

Travel agencies report their advance bookings are double last year's figures at this time. Most popular choices are Austria, Italy, Switzerland and Scandinavia.

One of the larger shipping companies has stepped-up its drive for a share of the tourist trade with this slogan: "Best idea for the festival this year—a trip to South Africa."

A company official was asked if the slogan was inteded as public derision of the festival.

"Not at all," he replied. "We are following the advice given to Britons to go abroad during the festival to make room for as many visitors as possible."

The reduced cost of holiday tours has been made possible by concessions granted by British and Continental railways and bus lines. The cut in fares ranges from 20 to 40 per cent.

Snowplow Clubs North's Answer For Road Drifts

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP) "Snowplow clubs" are providing an answer to northern Saskatchewan's perennial problem of blocked roads and meagre transportation.

Farmers and country residents first tackled the problem in earnest about four years ago when they began to band together and discuss the possibility of keeping roads open during the winter months.

Clubs were formed in various districts and plows bought with funds donated by members. Now there are few roads in the Prince Albert area that are not kept open despite turbulent weather and heavy snowfalls.

Although this winter's snowfall so far is heavier than usual, rural roads are passable.

A Prince Albert industry plans an important part in the improved conditions. A majority of the snowplows in operation in the region were made by the J. R. Leach and Son Ltd. factory here. In three years the Leach factory has sold more than 1,000 plows in the province, both V type and rotary.

Two Types

The rotaries can be hitched to farm tractors and will slice through snow three to four feet deep. The V-type plows can be attached to the front of trucks and tractors.

Snowplow clubs now are common in the northern section of the province, although a few areas have yet to organize.

Municipalities vary as to methods of organization and financing. In many districts, whist drives, quilting bees and square dances are held throughout the winter to provide funds. Even the proceeds of summer picnics and parties go toward the winter plowing program.

Napoleonic Curio May Go To Museum

LONDON—(CP)—An original cast of Emperor Napoleon's death mask is to be sold with a collection of antiques from Englemere, the Ascot home of Sir Archibald Weisall, former governor of South Australia.

The mask was taken by Dr. Antommarchi, the emperor's physician who was minister in Florence at the time. In return the doctor gave the original cast to Lord Burghersh.

Sir Acrchibald, giving up Englemere because of the high cost of its operation, expects to dispose of the mask as a museum exhibit. Made from some delicate composition, the mask has been kept on a padded base, under glass, since it came into the family's possession. Its value has never been disclosed.

Immigrants Boost Australian Wines

SYDNEY, Australia —(CP)— Immigrants from Europe are boosting the sale of Australian wines.

Annual consumption of wine in Australia now is estimated at about 12 pints a head, compared with 4.8 pints before the Second World War. The increase in domestic consumption partly offsets the higher British tariffs on the Australian product.

British import duties on "fortified" Empire wines now are about 10 times as high as in 1939, and the margin of preference over foreign wines has fallen from 50 per cent to 20 per cent. The higher British rates are said to have reduced wine imports to less than half the pre-war figures.

Experts say the best Australian wines cannot compare with the older European types, but that the average standard of wine is higher than the cheap "vin ordinaire" of Europe. Good table wines are also produced here at prices much lower than in England.

School Bus Ditched On Icy Sideroad

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 14 — (ENS)—A number of Campbellford High School students were late for school on Tuesday morning, after the school bus came to grief, on an icy township road, one mile east of Cedar Creek Cheese Factory, between Codrington and Brighton.

Ken Ames, who owns and operates the bus line in Campbellford, had just stopped to pick up two students on the narrow road. The surface of the road was glare ice, and as Mr. Ames opened the door of the bus, he felt the rear end start to slide toward the ditch, off the high crown of the roadway. "There was nohing I could do, but to let it keep sliding," said Mr. Ames. The bus slid into the deep ditch and turned partly on its side The only passenger on the bus at the time was Marie Towns. Neither the girl or the bus driver were injured. "It's fortunate that this happened just when it did, as I usually have 34 students on this run," said Mr. Ames.

It took the combined efforts of a wrecking truck from Brighton, and a large township truck to get the bus back on the road. The vehicle suffered little damage.

Contentious Road Allowance Question Faces Cobourg School Board

COBOURG, Feb. 14 —(ENS)— The contentious question of what to do about the unopened road allowances of Fraser, Campbell and Major Streets on the proposed site of the east end public school, occupied the major portion of the School Board meeting last night.

The Board analyzed the situation and drew up the frame work of a proposal to close portions of certain streets, but as the entire matter might be materially altered should the Board obtain title to a strip along the south from the provincial government, the Board decided to mark time on specific street allowances until a definite decision was reached in regard to the south strip.

The Board went into detail as to what streets would have to be closed but Harvey Brent pointed out that before anything definite was done by way of asking that certain streets be closed, it would be well to know if the south strip could be acquired.

Mr. Brent went on to say that acquisition of the strip to the south might relieve the situation to such an extent that there would be no complaints about street closings. Dr. W. Brett commented that it might be a good idea to tell the town council that if the south strip of land were obtained it would not be necessary to close so many streets for the school site.

The Board finally passed a resolution advising council that the Board desired to go into the question of the road allowances more thoroughly before making an announcement and that there would likely be something definite after the next meeting.

Harry Field announced his retirement as secretary-treasurer of the Board, a post which he has held for the last 12 years. From 1912 until 1934 he was a member of the School Board.

School principal Grant Sine reported that in competition with five choirs at the recent music festival in Kingston, the Cobourg Public School choir captured first place with 81 marks. There are 27 boys and girls in the choir.

Britain And France Settle Old Dispute

LONDON — (CP). — Britain and France have finally reached agreement in a dispute that goes back almost to the Middle Ages.

Representatives of the two countries and the Channel Islands signed a joint undertaking concerning fishing rights on the tiny islands of Ecrehos and Minquiers, which lie between the Channel Islands and the Normandy coast.

One bone of contention—sovereignty of the islands—remains unsettled. This is expected to be referred to the International Court of Justice at The Hague.

The agreement was signed at the British Foreign Affice after months of negotiation. Before that the question of fishing rights had been in dispute for hundreds of years. Detailed provisions of the new agreement will be made public later.

Don't Be Flippant Toward Half A Million

We are annoyed by the attitude of some of our Ontario politicians toward the Hope Report on Education. Premier Frost announces blithely that the Government is in no way obligated to put any of its recommendations into effect. The Liberal leader in the Ontario House, Mr. Farquhar Oliver, has jocosely compared the Report with "The Thing", and says that the Conservatives are not going to implement it and that the Liberals will not; Mr. Oliver is also reported as saying that the Report does not commend itself to the people of Ontario, and that it might as well be put in the waste paper basket.

* * *

It seems time that these complacent gentlemen, so happily at ease in Zion, woke up to the fact that the Hope Report has occupied the time of twenty of the ablest men and women in Ontario for five years, and that it has cost the people of this province nearly $600,000. The flippant suggestion that the Report is of slight value, and may be ignored, does not reduce the value of the Report in any way, but it gives us a new, and markedly lower quotation on the value of the Premier and the Liberal Leader. If these politicians are not prepared to give heed to this expert and extremely costly advice on education, perhaps it is time to take education out of the hands of the provincial governments and put it in the hands of the Federal Government, where men of keener intelligence and a more highly developed sense of responsibility might possibly be found.

* * *

For Mr. Oliver to say that the Report does not commend itself to the people of Ontario is windy nonsense. How many of them have had a chance to read it? We have the report on the table before us as we write: it is typed on foolscap pages, and it is six inches thick; to read it and digest it would be a month's solid work. We have only had time to read parts of it, but it impresses us as worth careful study; apparently the Legislature is prepared to ditch the whole thing, because a few suggestions in it would lose votes for whatever party put them into effect.

* * *

Education was a very uneven affair before it became a government concern, but it had some pinnacles of achievement; in government hands it appears to be at the mercy of politicians who care nothing for education, and who are prepared to throw a half million dollars worth of advice, much of it excellent, into the waste paper basket rather than exercise their heads. The angels must weep for education in Ontario.

* * *

If the spring brings an intensification of the war in the East every government in Canada will be wagging a finger at the private citizen, urging him to the utmost in economy—which will mean lending his money to governments. When governments themselves are prepared to waste money in this reckless way is it any wonder that politicians appear to the private citizen to be—we will not say either fools or knaves—but of something less than complete sincerity?

"Curfew of Civilization Built On Cities"

Our usual Wednesday book review column on this page is given over today to The Hell Bomb, a small book published a few weeks ago in New York and Toronto. It is being widely read and discussed on this continent and Europe. No wonder. Its subject is the hydrogen bomb which may cause havoc and almost certainly will change the course of human history. The analysis is the most authoritative explanation and discussion of the H-bomb yet available publicly. The writer is William L. Laurence, science editor of the New York Times, who is neither an hysterical journalist wrong about science, nor an atomic physicist blundering into geo-politics, military strategy and sociology. His judgement is respected and his information is as reliable as possible.

The hydrogen bomb has not yet been made, and no person outside the inner atomic energy councils knows for certain whether it can be made. Mr. Laurence believes that it can, that a small model will be tested this summer by the U.S.A., and that the H-bomb need not frighten the wits out of people. He considers it to be in one form a feasible tactical weapon; in another, a horror that would efface all living things over a wide area. The British writer on scientific subjects, Dr. J. Bronowski, whose articles appear from time to time in the London Observer and, by special arrangement, in the Examiner in closing a review of the book makes this assessment of the H-bomb:

"Mr. Laurence suggests that the hydrogen bomb is, therefore, a powerful tactical weapon against armies on the move. But armies spread thin; even today they do not fit into a circle of twenty miles across; and cities do. The largest city in the world, the wen of Greater London, measures thirty miles across. In that circle of 500,000 acres it contains nearly 10,000,000 people and a quarter of our industry. The hydrogen bomb would damage irreparably the inner half of this area, from Hounslow to Woolwich, and from Barnet to Croydon; and burns and fires from it would reach through the outer half. The death roll is unimaginable; in London as it is to-day, without evacuation, an effective hydrogen bomb of one ton would kill far more than 1,000,000 people. A flash measured in millionths of a second would, therefore, surpass our military death roll from 1914 to 1918.

"The hydrogen bomb would also induce radio-activity on a massive scale. Indeed, if the bomb were deliberately encased in a metal such as cobalt, which becomes strongly radio-active, the dust would drift fatally over Europe for years.

"Five years ago I closed a report on the atomic bombs in Japan with the word 'sombre'. Now, by comparison, we are almost inclined to find the atomic bomb cosy, with its modest circle of destruction two miles across and its 50,000 dead. For the hydrogen bomb is something larger than a weapon; it is the curfew of the civilization built on cities."

Whether they want to bother or not, ordinary people, that is, people who are not atomic physicists, must concern themselves with the potential and implications of the hydrogen bomb, and keep tab on the tinkerers with the angry atom. It is too vital to civilization to leave it to the hands and brains of people who are only scientists.

Are We Becoming Piggy?

Milton, Ont. is hogging the news this week. And it's all because of pigs. Milton, Ont. is a place of a couple of thousands souls, and a couple of thousand pigs, half-way between Toronto and Guelph. The Ontario Government has its first pig hatchery there.

Now, a pig hatchery is a new thing under the Ontario sun. It is intended to do for pigs and pig-raisers what egg hatcheries do for hens and poultry men. It raises the suckling from birth through its first few uncertain days, under scientifically-controlled conditions. One of these conditions is infra-red light to keep piglets warm, without the necessity of snuggling up to the mother-porker, who like as not will lie down on them and—squash! there goes one or a dozen piglets at one roll. The government hatchery will eventually have a hundred brood sows to mass-produce weanling pigs for farmers.

In addition to this assembly-line production of piglets which the Department of Agriculture is fostering, it is experimenting on methods of feeding and on the diet of the prospective hams. The Minister, Mr. Kennedy, remarked when showing off the newest thing in pigdom at Milton, that pigs have paid off more Ontario farm mortgages than any other kind of livestock. Last year Ontario farmers received $165,000,000 for their pigs. That is how important pigs are. Through newer methods, like the hatchery, and different feeds, it is hoped to cut costs (which have been heavy), to increase the pig population, and to produce better ones.

Mr. Kennedy has great ambitions for Ontario pigs; no less than a new kind of pig: "We should have sows that would produce two litters each year instead of ten pigs each year, and produce offspring that would do the same". Is that not expecting just a bit too much from the swine? Are we straining them beyond their capacity, beyond what Nature intended? Are we in Ontario not being a whit too piggy about the whole matter, for the sake of more and better ham, more and bigger farm profits? Perhaps not. Human kindness towards pigs and ethical concern about their function and condition have no place in the economic scheme of things. As hens are merely egg-laying machines, so pigs literally bring home the bacon. Pigs is pigs, and the hammier the better.

NOTE AND COMMENT

We read that at a women's political rally in Oshawa, no speeches were made. Was it entirely a matter of small conferences in smoke-filled rooms?

We see that a blacksmithing course is offered in an American university. Just the place to transfer a lot of those boys who don't seem to have quite the touch for dentistry.

Scotland Yard is still searching for that Stone of Scone, but we think the determined detectives would be wise to stop. By this time it will all have been split up into cairngorms, to sell to tourists during the Festival of Britain.

A professor at the Ontario Agricultural College says "the pig is not stupid, but highly intelligent." Quite so, and as with some highly intelligent people, it affects a certain Bohemianism in its social behaviour.

ON THE MARGIN

The Hydrogen Bomb in Focus

THE HELL BOMB by William L. Laurence (McClelland & Stewart).

IN a lecture given in Philadelphia in 1922, Professor Francis William Ashton, British Nobel prize-winning chemist, warned against "tinkering with the angry atoms". He said: "Should the research worker of the future discover some means of releasing this energy [from hydrogen] in a form which could be employed, the human race will have at its command powers beyond the dreams of scientific fiction, but the remote possibility must always be considered that the energy, once liberated, will be completely uncontrollable and by its violence detonate a neighbouring substance. If this happens, all of the hydrogen on earth might be transformed [into helium] at once, and this most successful experiment might be published to the rest of the universe in the form of a new star of extraordinary brilliance, as the earth blew up in one vast explosion."

By the grave prophetic ring of these words, Professor Ashton might have been talking about the H-bomb. As a matter of fact he was. Some of what he said has been proved wrong by later scientific workers "tinkering with the angry atoms"—for instance, the hydrogen in the atmosphere is the wrong kind for the hydrogen-bomb—but talk today of the H-bomb is even more terrorizing than the words of 1922.

HERE is a book which brings the H-bomb into focus, allays some of the bugaboos and makes clear the potential and probable development of the H-bomb. It is written by William L. Laurence, who is undoubtedly the world's best-informed layman on the subject of atomic energy. He is science editor of the New York Times. He was the only reporter allowed by the American War Department to witness the final stages of the development of the A-bomb at Oak Ridge before one was exploded. It was as early as the spring of 1945, while the finishing touches were being put to the uranium or plutonium fission bomb (A-bomb) at Los Alamos, New Mexico, that he first heard about the hydrogen bomb, which scientists there called the "Superdupper". Thus, before the atomic-bomb had been even tested—the A-bomb which on paper promised the explosive force of 20,000 tons of TNT—the H-bomb was being developed, a bomb which Mr. Laurence was told, could be made to equal a million tons of TNT.

The writer explains in his preface that he has not used any information classified as secret, and that the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) has cleared the book for publication. It seems that what the author has done is to analyse and assemble all available public data, and to put this information, his wits and scientific experience together, and produce in 150 pages for laymen (and an additional fifty for those who understand some scientific language) a readable, reasonably accurate and probably authentic account of the nature and scope of the hydrogen bomb. Of course, for security reasons, no physicist qualified to do so will publicly assess the book for its accuracy and authenticity regarding the stage of manufacture of the H-bomb today.

WHAT is the H-bomb? How does it differ from the A-bomb? The author gives a wonderfully lucid explanation. The A-bomb is a fission bomb; the H-bomb is a fusion bomb. Their explosions would be caused by almost opposite means. The A-bomb uses uranium or plutonium. The H-bomb uses hydrogen. The H-bomb became a probability with the discovering in 1932 of a new type of hydrogen, called deuterium, which is double the weight of ordinary hydrogen. The nucleus or centre of the deuterium atom was named deuteron, to distinguish it from the nucleus of common hydrogen known as the proton. "Heavy water" is water containing two deuterium atoms in place of the two atoms of light hydrogen. Deuterium can be produced in quantity by existing heavy water plants.

"The most startling fact learned about deuterium soon after its discovery was that it offered potentialities as an atomic fuel, or an explosive, of tremendous energy, provided one condition could be met. This condition was a 'match' to light it with. And here was the catch. The flame of this match, it was found, would have to have a temperature of the order of 50,000,000 degrees centigrade, two and a half times the temperature in the interior of the sun.

"Oddly enough, the discovery of the principle that made the atomic bomb possible also brought with it the promise that a 'deuterium fire' might, after all, be lighted on earth. Early studies have revealed that the explosion of an atomic bomb, if it lived up to its expectations, would generate a central temperature of about 50,000,000 degrees centigrade. Here at last was the promise of realization of the impossible—the 50,000,000 degree match". So if scientists could build the superduper bomb, they could use an A-bomb as the trigger.

FOLLOWING these explanations the author goes on to explain with remarkable clarity (for the layman) the essential differences between the A-bomb and the H-bomb. This is so illuminating that quotation is in order:

"Our principle fuel is coal, which, as everyone knows, is 'bottled sunshine', stored up in plants that grew about two hundred million years ago. When we apply the small amount of heat energy from a match, the bottled energy is released in the form of light and heat, which we can use in a great variety of ways. The point here is that it requires only the application of a very small amount of energy from a match to release a very large amount of energy that has been stored up for millions of years in the ancient plants we know as coal.

"Now, during the past half century we discovered that the nuclei, or centres, of the smallest units of which the ninety-odd elements of the material universe are made up—units we know as atoms—have stored up within them since the beginning of creation amounts of energy millions of times greater than is stored up by the sun in the coal. But we had no match with which to start an atomic fire burning."

THEN in January 1939 came the discovery of a phenomenon known as uranium fission. "We had found a proper 'match' for lighting a fire with a twin of uranium." This twin is a rare form of uranium known as uranium 235. And no match was required at all. "When proper conditions are met, the atomic fire would be lighted automatically by spontaneous combustion." (e.g. the way sawdust accumulates heat through chemical agents until it reaches a certain temperature and then bursts into flame.) The phrase 'a self-multiplying chain reaction with neutrons' is technical jargon meaning much the same as spontaneous combustion.

Incidentally, the size of an A-bomb is limited by the amount of elemental 'lumps' that can be put together without causing this spontaneous combustion or 'fission'. This is one reason that the H-bomb is so important. There is apparently no limit to its size, for as long as no match is applied there will be no fire. It does not take fire by internal combustion.

The match, or heat, to 'light' the H-bomb requires, as noted above, a very great temperature. This is now generated by the A-bomb. But it seems that the heat of the A-bomb does not last long enough for deuterium to take fire. (The A-bomb burns only for about a hundred billionth of a second.)

IT happens that a form of hydrogen which disappeared from the earth millions of years ago has been re-created in atomic furnaces. It is called tritium, and weighs three times as much as ordinary hydrogen. This apparently 'takes fire' more quickly than deuterium. So the author thinks that a combination of A-bomb heat and tritium and deuterium will make the H-bomb possible. He even believes that a small H-bomb, with the explosive power only of an ordinary model-T A-bomb, will be secretly tested this summer by the U.S.A. The A-bomb heat would light the tritium which would light the deuterium.

Here is a descriptive passage about tritium: "We were already working with tritium in Los Alamos as far back as 1945. I remember the time when Dr. Oppenheimer, wartime scientific director of Los Alamos, went to a large safe and brought out a small vial of clear liquid that looked like water. It was the first diluted minute sample of superheavy water, composed of tritium and oxygen, ever to exist in the world or anywhere in the universe, for that matter. We both looked at it in silent, rapt attention. . . . Here was something, our thoughts ran, that existed on earth in gaseous form some two billion years ago, long before there were any waters or any forms of life. Here was something with the power to return the earth to its lifeless state of two billion years ago."

THE H-bomb could, it seems, be made of tritium alone, but it is very difficult to produce, and very expensive. A kilogram (about two pounds) would cost something like a billion dollars. Deuterium, on the other hand, can be produced fairly easily in existing atomic plants for a cost of about $4,500 a kilogram.

Mr. Laurence figures that it will cost about $4,500,000 at a minimum to produce an H-bomb with 1,000 times the power of an ordinary A-bomb. But he thinks extra H-bomb production appropriations by Congress would be "chicken-feed" in comparison with the costs already undergone to produce the A-bombs.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS is a spotty review of a weirdly fascinating book. The foregoing has touched on little more than half the book. Among other important things which Mr. Laurence says are that (a) the U.S. is probably five years ahead of Russia in H-bomb development—for reasons which would take too long to explain here—even though Klaus Fuchs told the Russians all about the American developments; (b) there could be two kinds of H-bomb; a 'rigged' bomb (in cobalt casing) which would leave a tremendous radio-active cloud that would keep its killing power for two years, and a non-rigged one (in steel casing) which would leave no more radio-activity than an A-bomb; (c) the H-bomb (he believes) could be a useful tactical weapon; it could be pinpointed on targets and fired by remote control. But even the smallest one would not be used merely to wipe out a battalion. It would wipe out an army.

This is not a terribly frightening book and the author does not indulge in histrionics or hysteria. It sells for $3.25 in Canada, $2.75 in the U.S.A. (same printing). T.J.A.

OF late a wide variety of Valentine cards have been seen in the shops every February; it is possible to secure one addressed to virtually every member of the family, even including such unlikely types for Valentine greetings to grandfathers and mothers-in-law.

But fifty years ago there were only two kinds of Valentine—the Sentimental and the Comic; these are the types which our staff artist has depicted above.

The Sentimental Valentine was, in its way, a thing of beauty. Composed of paper lace, tinsel, ribbon and chromolithograph printing, it carried a message of love which was at least half sincere, and which was sometimes expressed in verse of fairly good quality. Contrary to popular belief, really good examples of the Sentimental Valentine were not cheap; they cost a dollar as a usual thing, and could run as high as $2.50. They were so pretty that many of them have been preserved and they now bring fancy prices from collectors.

There is nothing quite like the sentimental Valentine today. The messages of love on most modern Valentines are phrased in weasel words; a Sentimental Valentine, even if sent anonymously, was evidence of real tender feeling.

THE Comic Valentine cost a cent, and was printed in garish colours on newsprint. There was a Comic Valentine for every conceivable type of human being whom you might wish to insult—The Doctor, the Lawyer, the Grocer, the Teacher, the Editor, the Old Maid, the Actor, the Dandy, the Preacher — the selection was endless. The verses printed underneath these hideous caricatures wasted no time on subtlety; they dealt in direct, genial insult. The verse under the picture of The Dandy, for instance, ran:

You think you're a Dandy
And all hearts do please
But in actual fact
You're a big hunk of cheese.

We regret the passing of the Comic Valentine. Raucous and spiteful as it might be, it reflected a certain vigour of spirit, which is not to be found in modern Valentines, either comic or sentimental.

Letter To The Editor

ASPHODEL VALENTINES

Sir:

In just every kind of weather
Let it rain or let it shine,
Yes Jim, I'll always love you,
Will you be my Valentine?

You do battle on the level,
But you tear like a feline,
You have raked me fore and aft, sir,
Max, I'm still your Valentine.

When you're grading eggs, Walter,
Right beside you I'll recline,
We will hatch out things together,
Be each others Valentine.

Rendel, driving truck or snowplough,
As your helper, I'll decline,
Always hired the other fella,
I won't be your Valentine!

Yours,
Asphodel. THE JUDGE.

MORE ABOUT BRITISH RATIONS

Sir: In reply to the writer of the letter 'Facts about British rations', it is obvious that this person is English and equally obvious that she has been out of touch with England for some time. I have 'existed' in England on a ration book for considerably longer than a month, and can honestly say that I never had a single worry about food. I ate only one meal a day in a restaurant. As for housewives starving for ten years, this is sheer nonsense, the rations were very good while England had Lend Lease, which was cut off when the Labour party came to power.

Immediately after the last war, I was working on the land in England for a year, so I think I am qualified to speak about agricultural rations. I very much doubt if many readers of this letter have ever heard of haymaking rations, harvest rations, apple-picking rations and several others, all in addition to the extra rations already available. The English rationing system is full of extras that we never hear about or see mentioned in the press. How easy it is, with a sympathetic audience, to exaggerate our imagined hardships, and present a highly misleading picture. It is my experience that there are quite a number of Englishmen in Canada and other places, who go around whining and moaning about conditions in England, misrepresenting the facts (8d in England, is more than nine cents, you know), and belittling their country in an attempt to gain popularity with Canadians. These are a contemptible type, and England is well rid of them.

I am afraid my letter was over the heads of some readers. For the benefit of these, let me patiently explain that it was not written as an attack on Canada or the Canadian people. I am well aware of all that Canada has done for England, and I too, am grateful for it. I do not propose to answer any more letters on this subject.

Yours truly,
A. J. WALKER.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the Lord; awake, as in the ancient days, in the generations of old. Art thou not it that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the dragon? (Isa. 51: 9.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness and let us put on the armour of light. Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying. (Rom. 13: 12, 13.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light. And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them.

Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light. (Eph. 5: 8, 11, 14.)

A Court Should Do It

(Toronto Star)

In a recent copy of the Senate Hansard these paragraphs occur:

"Hon. Mr. Aseltine, chairman of the standing committee on divorce, presented certain petitions for divorce.

"Hon. Mr. Hair: 'How many are there?'

"Hon. Mr. Aseltine: 'To start with, 207.'"

Year after year parliament acts as a divorce mill for Quebec petitioners. In 1946, 290 divorces were granted by it; in 1947, 348; in 1948, 292; in 1949 (two sessions), 350; in 1950, 240. And now there are 207 applications "to start with" for 1951. There were 301 applications in 1950, of which 240 were recommended, three rejected, two withdrawn and 56 not proceeded with.

Quebec should fall into line with the other provinces, establish its own divorce courts, and relieve the Senate of work which should not be assigned to a governmental body.

Hot Money Drive By U.S. Investors Has Cooled Off

OTTAWA, Feb. 14—(CP)—The United States "hot money" invasion of Canada last summer didn't turn out too well at all for the invaders, Graham Towers said Tuesday, not without a smile.

What has happened to that great surge of speculative money, said the head of the Bank of Canada, is an illustration of the fact that sometimes "hot money later becomes warm money and finally becomes cool money".

He was referring at a press conference to the influx of U.S. money to buy Canadian bonds and securities last July, August and particularly September in anticipation of a possible move to place the Canadian dollar on a par with the U.S. dollar instead of 10 per cent below it.

There were predictions then that if and when the dollar was revalued there would be a great and possibly dangerous withdrawal of these U.S. funds so the speculators could make a killing.

Work Out Differently

But, said Mr. Towers, things have worked out differently. Canada's reserves of U.S. dollars at the end of 1950 were $625,000,000 greater than at the end of 1949, and a fair amount of that increase was originally "hot money" which remained here as "cool money".

Since September, instead of a wide withdrawal, there has actually been a small, net inflow of U.S. capital for the purchase of Canadian bonds and other securities. He declined to give figures but described it as "a small number of millions of dollars".

There are several reasons for this.

One is that Canada, in moving Oct. 1, didn't raise the dollar to parity. She turned it loose and it now stands at about a 5 per cent discount instead of 10, thus halving the prospects of financial gain.

Another, said Mr. Towers, is that bonds have gone down in value. A third is that the U.S. has a capital gains tax that would hit heavily any such speculative profits taken back to the U.S. within six months.

Rent Control Bill Approved By Quebec Government

By The Canadian Press

The Quebec Legislature, one of four in session in Canada, has unanimously approved a bill to set up provincial rent controls when the federal government vacates the field April 30.

The bill was given second reading Tuesday with the unanimous support of the House.

Premier Maurice Duplessis said that while he feels self-control is the best control, the government was forced to continue rent controls because a minority of landlords and tenants did not exercise self-control.

The legislation provides a three-month freeze of rents to allow time for setting up provincial rent-control machinery. After that government authorities will be in operation to mediate on cases where tenants and landlords cannot come to agreement.

Education Topic

Education was the chief topic of discussion in the Manitoba Legislature, where both government and opposition members asked increased assistance for Manitoba schools facing mounting costs.

The House was debating a Progressive Conservative amendment to the address in reply to the Throne speech, criticizing the Liberal-Progressive administratino of Premier D. L. Campbell for having "failed to make adequate provision for the needs of education".

The legislature also heard an announcement by acting mines minister F. C. Bell that the Manitoba Government will collect 12½ per cent royalities on oil produced from lands where it holds mineral rights.

In Regina, the Saskatchewan Legislature received a report which discussed ways of reducing distribution costs of milk in the province.

The annual report of the Saskatchewan Milk Board suggested that price discounts to consumers who buy more than one quart of milk at a time might be one way of cutting costs.

Also suggested for consideration was the elimination of Sunday deliveries and mid-week deliveries every other day instead of every day.

Idle To Hope For Mao Split With USSR-Drew

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 — (CP). — George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, said Tuesday night he believes it is "idle" to hope that Mao Tse-tung's Communist government of China may break with Moscow.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the Ottawa Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Mr. Drew said:

"If the day ever comes when there is a break between Peiping and Moscow, it will be because of the conflict between two dictators, one of whom refuses to be subservient to the other, and not because of any affectionate wooing by the Western world."

It was true that Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia had split with Moscow, but it would be difficult for any government to follow that course. Russia would take special steps to see that there were no more disaffections.

The Communist Party in Canada was organized only one month before the Communist Party in China in 1921. Tim Buck, now head of the Labor-Progressive Party, was one of the original organizers.

"The time is long overdue for Canadians to recognize in all its naked treachery, the purpose which Tim Buck and every Canadian Communist have in mind," said Mr. Drew.

It is time, said Mr. Drew, that steps were taken to amend laws to make it possible to deal effectively with Canadian Communists.

Not So Cheap

LONDON, Feb. 14—(AP)—The Labor government's "cheap food" policy cost taxpayers £424,800,000 (about $1,189,440,000) in 1949-50, Auditor General Sir Frank Tribe reported Tuesday. The subsidies cover the difference between the prices paid for both British and imported food and the lower levels at which they are sold to consumers.

Says Price Controls Only Aspirin For Ills

FORT WILLIAM, Feb. 14 — (CP). — Francis G. Winspear of Edmonton, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, said Tuesday that price controls in effect would be "only as aspirin" for Canada's economic ills.

Here to address the annual meeting of the Fort William Chamber, Mr. Winspear said he thought the government was "quite correct" in shying away from price controls at this time.

"Work harder, produce more, and save money," was his opinion of solving the economic problem. "Root of the problem is that there is not enough production in relation to the amount of money in circulation."

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Queen's University Combines of Kingston make their final OHA senior "B" appearance of the season here tonight. They play the Petes at 8.30 in Civic Arena, a game which means little to Queen's but plenty to the Jopling guys. They're just a bare half-game in front of the surging second-place Eagles now, and will go all out to keep in front during the remaining week and a half of this heated schedule. They should win it, too, but upsets have been fairly common throughout the grind; so one can take nothing for granted. It's the only senior "B" scrap of the week here and should draw a fair crowd.

* * * * * *

Two or three final hockey games in the PMHA will be staged at Civic on the morrow. Empress bantams battle it out at seven with Trojans, who hald a six-goal lead on the city play-off series. Marines midgets, up four goals on St. Peter's, will clash with SPS at eight. If there is an opening juvenile two-game final series, it'll be at nine. Clapper's and Lakefield qualified for this series but, at this writing, we hadn't heard if they'd start it on the morrow or not. These are for city championships, and the victors ae supposed to hit shortly into provincial playdowns, being affiliated with the OMHA. Losers bow out till next winter.

Speaking Of Baseball

Viaduct Baseball League hopes to have eight teams in by spring. Four have entered now: the champion Oshawa Merchants, the runner-up Petes, along with Staffords and Dovers. Others expected are Aces, Robertson Motors, George Hosking's squad, and a club fom Toronto's west end. No mention of New Toronto so far. Hugh McLean is president again, with Tracy Shaw, Orval Wyckoff and Howie Campbell the vice-prexies. Al Rutledge, an accountant, will be treasurer and will have aides in the other cities involved. A girl (for the luvva Michael) is secretary, Miss Eileen Williamson. George Clarke of this city is on the 16-man executive committee.

* * * * * *

Entry fee this year will be $50, with a $100 bond also posted — which will be returned later if the club is in good standing. In future a two-third majority vote is necessary to decide whether or not a club loses all league connections if it defaults one game. This senior "A" circuit of Toronto is quite pleased with the addition of the two former strongest COBL clubs(Petes and Oshawa) and intends to operate in big-time manner during '51. All clubs play games under lights, with some afternoon Sunday double-headers in Toronto during the schedule. It is getting nearly time for the Petes to call a re-organization meeting for an early start.

Rough-House Ructions

For a time at the Brock Arena last eve it looked like a lynching party, but then it turned out to be nothing but a slight case of massacre. The windup of the main mat bout had hundreds of the big crowd swarming around the ring and trying to break into the teeing-off party, as Layton, the ref, Flanagan and Scott (these two had no business in there) went to work on the villainous pair of Henning and Davis. An uproarious time for all, except Henning and Davis. They were knocked about plenty and disqualified for rough tactics. Layton took a bit of a beating and got a shiner, the ref was chucked out of the ring, but Pat and George—and the customers—enjoyed themselves thoroughly. Layton was declared the winnah. The Mask won the semi-final over Scott, while Flan took the prelim from Toar Morgan. A lively card throughout.

* * * * * *

Some puck playoff arrangements have been announced in this part of the province. In the intermediate "A" lakeshore setup, it'll be Port Hope vs. Cobourg in one semi-final bracket, best of five, and Lindsay vs. Bowmanville in the other, first games being tonight and Friday, resuming then on Monday. Lakefield didn't make the charmed circle. Senior "B" teams of our group finishing first and second start Feb. 28 and go Mar. 2-5-7-9. The second series commences Mar. 12 and goes through Mar. 14-16-19-21, according to Convener Lorne Cook of Kingston. Winner of the first series goes into Allan Cup playdowns, loser then tackling the winner of the second series to go into senior "B" playdowns. Two refs used at all playoffs.

Cricket Match Ends In Very Tame Draw

MELBOURNE, Feb. 14.—(Reuters). — The match between the English cricket tourists and Australia's Victoria State ended in a tame draw today after Lindsay Hassett, leading the Victorian side, turned down a suggestion by English captain Denis Compton that they should co-operate to provide an interesting finish.

England, with one second innings wicket down, was 225 runs behind when the match ended. England scored 414 in the first innings in reply to Victoria's 441, dismissed Victoria in the second innings for 234, and then made 36 for one.

Compton told Hassett after the close of play Tuesday night that with his co-operation the tourists would accept any challenge offered them to go for quick runs in the fourth innings. Hassett said he thought it better for the game to take its course.

Queen's Mascot 60 Yrs 'Alfie' Pierce Dies

KINGSTON, Feb. 14 (CP)—Albert (Alfie) Pierce, for nearly 60 years mascot and general handyman at Queen's University, died in hospital here Tuesday night. The son of a runaway slave, he was born here about 1872, but definite records are lacking.

Best known as an unofficial trainer of Queen's football teams and other sports squads, for years he tossed out the ball to Queen's football captains prior to intercollegiate games. He was also custodian of the famed Boohoo, Queen's bear which accompanied the team everywhere it went in Queen's championship era of the mid-1920s.

Site Selected For Hockey Hall Of Fame

KINGSTON, Feb. 14 (CP)—A site has been selected for the International Hockey Hall of Fame and construction of the $100,000 shrine will start this year, it was announced yesterday.

The building will be put up in downtown central Kingston and will face out over the harbor at the eastern end of Lake Ontario.

The land, about 90 feet in width and between 180 feet in depth, has been donated by the Frontenac county council. It is near the century-old county court house and adjacent to Kingston's historic cricket field.

Announcement was made at the annual meeting of members of the Hall of Fame committee here.

Added To Board

At the meeting, Police Chief J. T. Truaisch of Kingston was added to the board of directors and Kerr Petrie, New York Times hockey writer, to the board of governors.

Decision to build the hockey Hall of Fame in Kingston was reached several years ago after a lengthy campaign in which this Eastern Ontario city and Halifax emerged as the chief claimants to the title of birthplace of hockey.

Actual photographs of the selected members will be about 10 by 18 inches in frames 18 by 24 with Hall of Fame engravings and ovals in gold bearing their names and vital statistics.

Twenty-nine hockey immortals have thus far been elected.

Stack Dominates Skating Events

WINNIPEG, Feb. 14 (CP). — Skaters from western Canada, led by the veteran Frank Stack of Winnipeg Tuesday night nominated the opening of the two-day Canadian speed skating championship meet here.

Stack won the 440-yard event ahead of Audley and Bill Hastings of Edmonton in :39.3; the mile in 3:02.5 in front of Audley and Craig, and the two-mile in 6:44.6, with Craig and Audley trailing.

Scoring is based on 30 points for first, 20 for second and 10 for third.

In senior women's competition Edmonton's Pat Underhill and Doreen McLeod are deadlocked with 60 points. Eileen Payne of Winnipeg is in second spot with 40.

Injured Goalie Earns Shutout For Teepees

By The Canadian Press.

Injured goalie Glen Hall stood like a rock Tuesday night and when the barrage of pucks stopped he had earned a 3-0 shutout against St. Catharines' Teepees and first place for Windsor Spitfires in Ontario Hockey Association Junior A standings.

Hall was cut over the left eye in the third period but returned after a 10-minute respite and proved is invulnerable as before. He was mobbed by his teammates at the end of the game.

Jack Offidani, Jim Anderson and Earl Johnston made Hall's efforts count, although Teepees outshot Spitfires 35 to 29.

In Guelph, Biltmores bounced Barrie Flyers from the head of the league by rapping in three goals in the last eight minutes of play to win 5-4. Jack White, Gerry Toppozzini, Don Emms and Jim Morrison registered for Flyers before Dean Prentice with two, Gerry Theberge, Andy Bathgate and Chuck Henderson fired their decisive salvo.

Take Generals

Toronto's St. Michael's — in ninth place—took Oshawa Generals 4-2 to move within four points of eighth-place Stratford Kroehlers. Bill Berwick and Lou Jankowski scored for the Generals, Willie Marshall with two and Dan McDonald and Bob Sabourin for the Irish.

In a listless event, Galt Black Hawks edged Toronto Marlboros 2-1 in Toronto. Pete Conacher and John Sleaver tallied for Hawks, Parker MacDonald for Marlies.

Sheehan, B. Moher and J. Moher finished it up in the third. Just two penalties were handed out. Teams:

North Dummer: Goal, W. Parcells; defence, H. Batten, J. Hampton; centre, A. Bell; wings, F. McCracken, I. Lonsberry; alternates, P. Little, K. Clysedale.

Red Sox Sign Lipka

KITCHENER, Feb. 14 (CP)—Boston Red Sox of the American Baseball League have signed John (Yank) Lipka, Kitchener righthander, whose home is in Toronto. Lipka, who performed last season in the Intercounty League in Western Ontario, was signed by Maurice De Loof, who looked him over last summer on trips through inter-country territory. Signed to a Class C contract, he will be farmed out to Oneonta, a member of the Canadian-American League.

Cleveland Wallops Cincinnati Mohawks

By The Associated Press.

Not that they needed it, but the Cleveland Barons increased their lead in the western division of the American Hockey League Tuesday night by whipping the Cincinnati Mohawks, 5 to 1. It gave the Clevelanders a 21-point spread over Indianapolis.

Tommy Williams, Hy Buller and Joe Lund—all defensemen—accounted for Cleveland's first three goals. The game was rough and referee Walton Russell handed out 62 minutes in penalties, including a 10-minute misconduct to Cincinati goalie Emile (Cat) Francis. It was the only game.

Layton Gets Main Bout With 'Hey Rube' As Climax

Justice triumphed in the main mat bout at the Brock last night but not before a real "hey rube" developed. Lord Athol Layton won the bout when Referee Sam Gotter disqualified Wee Willie Davis and Lee Henning, but a couple of other civvy-dressed grapplers—Pat Flanagan and George Scott—were in the ring pasting the devil out of the villains, and hundreds of fans swarmed around, threatening to get into the slugfest, before order was finally restored. The groggy ref looked suspiciously like he was helping Pat and George knock the whey out of Willie and Lee at the anti-climax.

It was a sizzling pro grapple card all the way and thoroughly enjoyed by a big and noisy crowd. Flan won the opener over Toar Morgan in a hot go, the Masked Marvel took the semi-final against George Scott in another heated scrap, and Layton got the official nod in the torrid heat, though he had lots of help at the finish.

Ref Tossed Out

The last fall came in seven minutes after Davis had thrown the referee out of the ring as Willie and Henning were working in relays to soften up the popular judo expert. With the ref gone, they really went after Layton until Flanagan and then Scott (in street clothes) jumped into the ring and went after them. It was hot and heavy with some of the fans climbing to the ring apron and threatening to get into it. The referee finally came back and lifted Layton's hand, and then it broke out all over again. The villains took the worst of it from three wrestlers and the ref, and eventually retired, roaring defiance at the jeering fans.

Lee, at 255, to Layton's 258 and Davis' 270, was the lighter of the three in the halfway team match, but he proved the nastiest. He won the second fall in 18 minutes with a rolling body scissors. But he and Davis had given Athol the "business" first with fast and rough teamwork, going after him hard in quick relays as the referee tried in vain to keep up with their illegal stuff, such as knees, punches, chokes, hair-pulling, eye-rasps and rope leverage. At times, it was two to one, though his ludship bounced back with speed, reach and judo slaps that kept them cautious.

Uses "Octopus"

Layton won the first fall of the main go in slightly more than 11 minutes with his "octopus" grip after a flying body scissors off the ropes on Davis. It partly resembles the "Boston crab" and is much like a reverse double leglock with pressure applied to the back—making an opponent give in. They roughed it plenty, with Davis at times using a "judo with fists", but neither one alone could match Athol in grappling. He was popular and hustled all the way, with the ref also on the jump trying to keep the other two in order. They mixed it after the bell, as later they jumped Layton before the gong went.

The Masked Marvel, scaling 246 pounds, took the semi-final in 27 minutes over popular 224-pound George Scott of Hamilton. He used three knee back-breakers after giving Scott the works with kicks, fists and the rest, constantly seeking advice from his masked manager. It was an open tussle, with Scott at time banging the big fellow around hard with elbow smashes and body slams. The referee talked plenty and pulled off quick counts to break illegal grips, but he also missed much villainy in the lively tussle. The fall wasn't a bit popular with the customers.

Popular Win

Pat Flanagan, colorful 231-pounder from Toronto, earned the prelim over Toar Morgan, 228, in 17 minutes with a series of flying tackles and drop kicks. He hurt his shoulder at the last on the hard floor, and they mixed it after the bell, the ref having to break it up. The crowd loved the action, in and out of the ring, and above it and below it, as the pals really tore into each other. Toar played it rough to draw the boos but he was effective, too, with knees and smashes, tossing Pat through the hemp, with Flan returning to hang him in the ropes. They squared off with closed fists and then mixed again at a hot pace to keep the place in an uproar. Pat finished stronger in his acrobatic fashion to earn the popular decision.

CANADIAN SPORTS PARADE

WHEN Captain Matthew Webb swam the English Channel on August 24-25th, 1875, he certainly started something. From that day to this, many of the finest swimmers in the world have plunged into the chilly stretch of water, ready to battle the swift currents and treacherous tides. Captain Webb swam from Dover, England, to Cape Gris Nez, France, (about 19 miles), in 21 hours and 45 minutes. He was the first swimmer to cross the English Channel under his own power. On August 6th, 1926, Miss Gertrude Ederle of the United States startled the world by accomplishing the Channel crossing in 14 hours and 34 minutes (a record which still stands for women), and since that time nearly half of the successful attempts have been made by the distaff side.

Canadian Ederle?

After a dozen years of championship competition at the C.N.E. and elsewhere, a Canadian housewife has decided to take up the challenge of the icy Channel. Last week, Mrs. Winnie Roach Leuszler of North York (Toronto) announced her intention of swimming the 21 miles from Cape Gris Nez to the white cliffs of Dover. If Mrs. Leuszler is successful, she will become the first Canadian woman to join the swimming greats of the 'Dover Patrol'. Apparently the trip is best accomplished during August or September, and the feat calls for a neat sense of timing and endurance (due to the tides and currents) as well as swimming ability.

For her to swim the Channel has been a family ambition since Mrs. Leuszler was a little girl. Her father and coach, Eddie Roach, has been set on the idea ever since Winnie was big enough to make a splash entering the water, and next summer his dream may come true when she attempts the famous crossing. No doubt, at times, in the months of training to come, the twenty-one miles from France to England will seem much farther to Winnie Leuszler than they did to Adolph Hitler in 1941, but then, the 'Superman' lacked courage.

Hockey Honeymoon

It's likely a good thing that so many members of the Toronto Maple Leaf hockey team are already married. Imagine what would have happened if, say, Ted Kennedy, Turk Broda, Tod Sloan and several other Leafs had been bachelors a week or so ago and had decided to join Centre Johnny McCormack in a multiple wedding! Then, the Pittsburg Hornets would have been able to swamp the AHL with a parade of dazed but dazzling talent, for at least a week or two.

Since the Major decided to spring for the McCormack honeymoon trip (a passing view of Niagara Falls), the incident has thrown new light on the personal life of a professional hockey player. In a profession which offers so much in the manner of fame and reward, it seems fortunate that a younger player can leave even the date of his wedding to the Management. This must relieve the rookie's mind to a large extent, and necessarily improve his game. The fact that even the honeymoon arrangements can be safely left to the front office, only adds to the merit of the system.

However, McCormack's Pittsburg trip may in the end prove costly to the Leafs. But at least the Major won't have to waste words in wiring the lanky Centre to come back. The telegram could read: 'The honeymoon is over!'

Coming Event

The big attraction in skiing circles this week is the Canadian Ski Championships being held at Camp Fortune in the Gatineau Hills, on Feb. 17-18. Sponsored by the Ottawa Ski Club, the tournament will see the nation's top skiers competing in cross country and jumping events. If you're looking for spine-tingling sport thrills, I recommend you be on the skiing grounds at Camp Fortune this coming week end. Maybe I'll be seeing you.

Johnny McCormack Returns To Leafs From Hornets

By MEL SUFRIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The honeymoon is over—and in more ways than one—for the National Hockey League.

The Goose is back.

John Ronald McCormack, lanky relief centre of Toronto Maple Leafs who was suddenly demoted to Pittsburgh Hornets the day after his wedding two weeks ago, has been recalled just before the deadline for exchanging players between the majors and minors.

Recall of the Goose, as Long John is aptly nicknamed, will displease the forwards of opposing NHL teams who have had good cause to wonder on occasions whether McCormack was using a stick about three times the regulation length.

Johnny's value to Toronto this year has been mostly as a penalty-killer, and his long-armed sweep check has been a repeated joy to Toronto fans who watched him steal pucks from surprised opponents.

As a result of his popularity, there was considerable grumbling when Conn Smythe, Leaf general manager, ordered McCormack to the Hornets, apparently for getting married during the hockey season without permission.

Not Enough

In reply, Smythe said something about the need for strengthening the Hornets, but statistics will show that addition of McCormack wasn't enough to give Pittsburgh anything resembling a winning streak while he was there.

Happy Day, assistant Toronto general manager, said "Johnny may not fit too well into the Pittsburgh system and probably is of more value to the Leafs."

While Toronto was wrestling with the mystery of the Pittsburgh honeymoon, New York Rangers have been trying to make something of the now-famous Manhattan prognostications of their general manager, Frank Boucher.

Latest of Boucher's predictions is that Rangers and Boston Bruins will wind up in the third and fourth playoff positions, leaving Montreal Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks in fifth and sixth place.

Boucher made the statement more than a week ago, but indications are that he might be right. New York is still in fifth place but now only two points behind Montreal and Boston, and of the three teams Montreal has been having the most trouble winning games of late.

Canadiens have had a record of seven wins, eight losses and four ties since the start of the year, while Rangers have had seven wins, six losses and three ties.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

They're throwing a "night" for manager Frank Boucher of the Rangers tonight at Madison Square Garden.

The fans will give him a new car; the team a television set. Local hockey writers will chip in with a typewriter. These are just a sprinkling of the tokens of friendship planned to honor the 49-year-old Boucher on his 25th season with the Ranger organization.

Tonight "I'll be there" wires still were coming in from those who know and respect him in and out of hockey as well as from his many fans. Bill and Bun Cook, Boucher's linemates in the days when he was one of the game's greatest centres, will be on hand. So will Ching Johnson and Murray Murdoch.

He was one of the cleanest players in hockey history, winning the Lady Byng Trophy seven seasons in a row.

Gus Murray, who operated Galt's intercounty baseball team for three years, had agreed to turn the franchise back to the Galt Baseball Association for $3,000.

The association originally held the franchise but made an agreement to have Murray run it for four years. The term has a year to run but as a result of financial reverses last year, Murray has agreed to give up control now.

The Swedish national hockey team defeated the Bates Manufacturing Co., Club 10-1 Tuesday night before 2,500 spectators. Jack Poirier scored the American's only goal in the third period. The American team is entered in the world's amateur tournament at Paris next month.

Because of the unprecedented demand for tickets to see Joe Louis box at San Francisco Feb. 23, his 10-round bout with Andy Walker was switched Tuesday from the Civic Auditorium to the huge Cow Palace just outside the city limits.

A sell-out at the Cow Palace would ensure a gate of around $90,000, doubling the amount for which the Auditorium was scaled.

Five Toronto schoolboys, headed by Rich Ferguson, 19-year-old holder of the Canadian Interscholastic one-mile title, will compete in the United States indoor interscholastic track and field championships in New York Feb. 17.

Ferguson has twice gone under 4:20 in the mile. His Canadian record is 4:23. The U.S. interscholastic record is 4:21.7.

Baseball star Joe DiMaggio scoffed at rumors Tuesday that he and his divorced wife, the former Dorothy Arnold, may remarry.

"I ain't getting married again," said the New York Yankees' famed outfielder, punctuating the answer with a hearty laugh.

New York and San Francisco columnists in the last few days have intimated that the DiMaggios might be reconciled.

Social Credit Party Demands Reserve Army Compulsory Service

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP).—The 10-man Social Credit Party has demanded compulsory military training for Canada's reserve forces.

The move was made in the Commons Tuesday night by Solon Low, party leader. It likely will bring the contentious issue to a vote.

Mr. Low placed before the House a motion accusing the government of "failing to insure that a complete program of preparedness, including compulsory military training in the reserve forces for home defence, be executed with the greatest degree of equality and sacrifice."

The motion was the fourth calling for votes of non-confidence in the government since the throne-speech debate started three weeks ago.

Vote Against Motion

Shortly before Mr. Low spoke the government and Liberal supporters voted 150 to 54 against a CCF motion which called for a vote of non-confidence in the government on the grounds that it had "failed" to use price controls and subsidies in the fight against inflation and the high cost of living.

Last week another CCF non-confidence motion was defeated on a voice vote. The motion criticized the government for having supported at the United Nations a United States resolution declaring Red China an aggressor in Korea.

Still before the Commons is a Progressive Conservative non-confidence motion. It charges the government with "failure" to give leadership; to provide the troops needed for home defence and to carry out international obligations; and with not dealing effectively with inflation and the high cost of living.

Mr. Low's motion caused a stir among the various parties in the Commons, where one-third of the members are war veterans. The chief lieutenants of George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, moved up behind him to discuss the motion. In other parts of the chamber, small groups of members clustered in quiet discussion.

No Compulsion

Prime Minister St. Laurent, leader of the 185-member Liberal party, has stated that the government does not plan to introduce compulsory military training at this time.

Spokesmen for the Progressive Conservative party, which has 43 seats, have said that since the government is not ready to adopt compulsory military training at this time they are not going to suggest an alternative lest it harm voluntary recruiting efforts.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, has called for establishment of a committee that would make an "appraisal" of Canada's human and other resources, and recommend the best way of using them in the current crisis.

Some individual members have suggested compulsory training in the reserve forces.

Pussy-Footing

Mr. Low accompanied his motion with a charge that there has been too much parliamentary "pussy-footing" about the vital manpower question, and sounded a call for immediate national registration of the country's manpower.

Too many speakers, said Mr. Low, "shied away" from the manpower question. Yet Canada could only fulfill international obligations if she made the best possible use of available manpower resources.

He agreed that this country, with a small population, could make her best effort as a supplier of arms for North Atlantic and other partners of the democratic front. But she should have an immediate national registration and compulsory training in the reserves for home defence.

He knew of isolated places in Canada where it would be the "simplest thing in the world" for an enemy country, such as Russia, to land troops.

What Could Be Done?

"Just how far would we be able to take care of a situation like that if it happened?" he asked.

The only way was to build up a reserve force that could cope with such a landing he wondered whether the government had such a program in mind and why it had not presented it to parliament.

"I contend it is because they are afraid," he said.

Defence, the international situation, and prices also were discussed as back-benchers held the floor.

In the opening stages, External Affairs Minister Pearson said any decision to recross the Korean 38th parallel should be a collective decision taken by nations with forces in Korea under the United Nations banner.

Defence Minister Claxton reported that 85 reinforcements to fill the gaps battle may make in the ranks of Canada's Korean battalion in its first month of action now are on their way to Korea. This will be the battalion's monthly quota.

In the main debate, A. J. Brooks (PC, Royal) suggested "some measure of control" is necessary to bring down the cost of living and to help curb the momentum of the inflationary pressures.

Support Unions

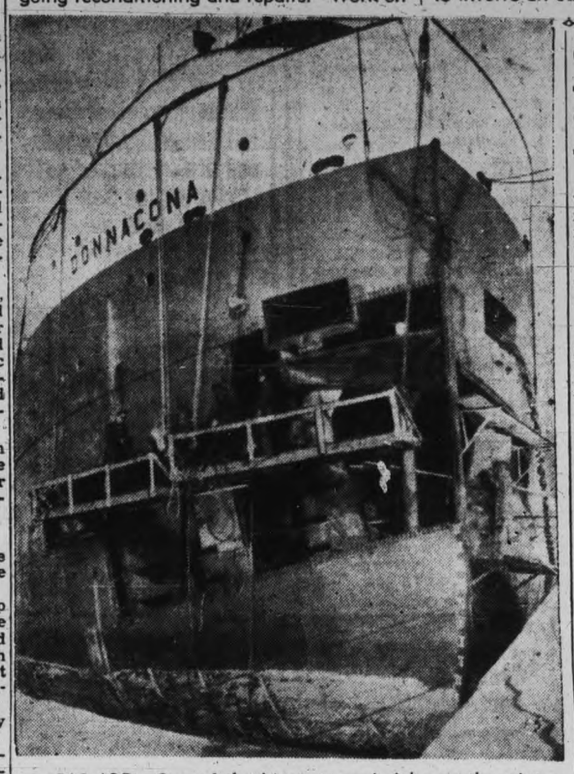
J. J. Smith (L, Moose Mountain) said he would support union demands for reimposition of price controls if they would come out in support of wage controls. He also would support reimposed controls if farmers' organizations asked for them.

Mr. Brooks said the proposed St. Lawrence seaway would be of "absolutely no benefit to the people of the Maritimes. However, they would not oppose it if the government said it was essential to Canada's defence.

F. D. Shaw (SC, Red Deer) said that "if the truth were known" Canadians would be shocked to learn the numerical strength of Communists within their country.

It was essential that Canada develop an organization "to meet not only what may come flying over the ocean, but what may occur in our own country."

Need Defence Wall



Canada needed to build a strong defence wall, but it should be remembered that if and when the Communist aggressors came pounding at that wall "there will be an enemy within trained to unlock the door."

A dozen German scientists and technicians entered Canada on temporary permits last year and took up positions in almost all phases of Canadian industry, a parliamentary return showed.

The return, tabled by Immigration Minister Harris, also showed that 14 wives and children of German scientists and technicians also were given entry on a temporary basis.

WINTER FLEET—Some of the winter fleet in harbor at Port Colborne, are undergoing reconditioning and repairs. Work on the ships alonge the Welland Canal started with the end of navigation and is expected to involve an outlay of $2,225,000.

BIG JOB—One of the biggest repair jobs on the winter fleet at Port Colborne, is the straightening of the stem and frame of the Donnacona, twisted when the CSL vessel rammed into a dock at Hamilton last season. Workmen had to rip plates from the bow to work on the frame.

Freighter Repairs Big Task On Welland Canal In Winter

By T. N. MORRISON

WELLAND, Feb. 14 (CP)—The annual overhauling of Great Lakes freighters in winter berth at Welland Canal ports is in full swing.

This reconditioning of the vessels in preparation for their summer task of hauling grain and iron ore has become big business for Welland and the other communities. Contracts in hand in this area along the 25-mile waterway linking Lakes Erie and Ontario are worth $2,225,000.

Surveys of the work that had to be done were made soon after the lake carriers, canallers and barges were tied up at their winter berths in mid-December. Then the contracts were let late in January.

From now until navigation reopens in the spring, the waterfront will continue to be busy. Hammers clang. Welders' torches hiss. Painters swarm over the ships.

Much of the work involves repairs to boilers. Coal bunkers are replaced on some ships, tank tops partly renewed on others. This year minor repairs have been ordered more extensively than in the past, as shipping firms expect the season ahead to be one of the busiest ever.

Each winter brings its own special jobs. One of the unusual operations now underway involves making the coal-carrier Coalfax 50 feet longer. The first step was to cut the vessel in two. The work is being carried out at Port Weller, at the Lake Ontario end of the canal.

Work On Donnacona

At Port Colborne, plates are being ripped out of the freighter Donnacona to enable workmen to straighten the stem and frames. The ship was damaged in a mishap that sent it crashing against a Hamilton wharf last season.

Firms that do the overhauling as centres along the canal employ close to 1,000 men. A good deal of their skilled help comes from the ranks of mechanically-inclined second and third engineers from the ships that are tied up.

Most ships tying up in this area find winter haven at Port Colborne and Port Weller. Firms from these centres overhaul craft at various other points along the canal and have been known to go still farther afield on special jobs.

22 Ships

Sixteen steamships and six barges make up this year's winter fleet at Port Colborne. There are 25 vessels at Port Weller and another half-dozen at Port Dalhousie.

All must be outfitted before they start the 1951 season. Deck and food supplies for each ship cost approximately $1,500 and they are bought from concerns in the canal area.

But this is not the only large item of business brought to this area by the lake ships. During the navigation season, the passing freighters keep their ship handlers busy. The suppliers' trucks race to rendezvous with ships at all hours as the vessels enter the canal.

Vice Ring Trial

NEWARK, N.J., Feb. 14—(AP)—Five men and a woman accused of participating in a $1,000,000 a-year North Jersey narcotics ring pleaded guilty Tuesday as the trial of 14 other defendants opened in federal court. The government has linked the drug-selling syndicate with Charles (Lucky) Luciano, one-time New York vice overlord deported to Italy on vice charges in the 1940s.

Return To Work

OSHAWA, Feb. 14 (CP)—Some 4,000 assembly-line workers laid off late last week because of a shortage of materials, returned to work Tuesday at General Motors of Canada. The shortage was a result of the railway switchmen's strike in the United States, company officials said.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—The United States Tuesday granted $12,200,000 in loans to Spain. The aim is to aid Spain's economy in the same fashion that the loan features of the Marshall Plan aid other Western European countries.

Senator Urges Steel Expansion

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP)—Senator Gordon Isnor called Tuesday for decentralization of Canada's industry and said Nova Scotia was the place where the steel industry could and should be expanded to meet the growing needs of defence production.

He told the Senate during the throne-speech debate that the majority of defence contracts now were placed in Onario and Quebec. This probably was because these provinces had the majority of factories. However, the government should establish new factories in other parts of the country, particularly in the Maritimes where employment was subject to great seasonal fluctuation.

Nova Scotia's steel facilities were in the centre of an area where necssary ones were available on tidewater. There was a steel shortage in Canada and the government should expand steel production.

BIG PRODUCER

Pennsylvania, great coal-producing state, has a total mineral production of more than $1,000,000,000 annually.

Fears Sanctions Push China Closer To Soviet

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP).—CCF Leader Coldwell said Tuesday night sanctions against China would drive China closer to Russia and increase the ultimate danger of world war.

He expressed fear that the United Nations' condemnation of China as an aggressor in Korea would lead to pressure for sanctions against the Chinese.

Mr. Coldwell, speaking on a CBC free-time political broadcast re-affirmed the CCF's stand against Canada's "unwilling" vote for condemnation of Peiping.

That vote represented a premature and unwise course and invited continued dissipation of western energies and forces in Asia at the peril of the really vital area of Europe.

Not Organized

Further, a situation had been created in which one great power, China, with the support of another great power, Russia, has been declared an aggressor. This was something the UN charter, rightly or wrongly, never contemplated. The UN was not organized to deal with a major power as an aggressor.

With China now condemned, a demand for sanctions would likely follow. Sanctions would be difficult and resented by Asia and would endanger world peace far more than the continuance of efforts to further negotiation before any other steps were taken.

He hoped the CCF's Commons motion criticizing Canada's support of condemnation of China would strengthen the resistance of the government when and if a demand for the institution of sanctions was made.

Bank Block $150,000 Building Sale

Rishor Brothers Buy Commerce Building; Largest Property Deal

Noel Rishor and Max Rishor, brothers, became owners Monday of the Bank of Commerce block at the southwest corner of Hunter and Water streets.

Announcement of the purchase was verified several months ago, but the details of transfer were not completed until Tuesday. It is understood that Rishor brothers paid more than $150,000 for the property, which at present comprises 28 tenancies. There is no vacancy in the entire building of 96 feet frontage on Hunter St. and 192 feet frontage on Water St.

In its extent of space and ground footage this is the largest down town property turnover in present memory. Some of those George St. business and realty parcels no doubt involved larger amounts of money in their change of ownership.

Many Tenancies

The details of this Rishor property were mentioned when the rumor of the sale was first reported. It embraces the Fiske and Soden stores on Hunter St., with the Bank of Commerce, and on Water St. it extends all the way down to, but not inclusive of the Goodfellow and Dougherty plumbing and heating shop.

On the ground floor on that street are: Hopkins' Motor Sales, Reid's Transfer at the rear; V. M. Eastwood, insurance office; Sackville Insurance and Realty Agencies; Archibald and Richmond, plumbers; Dixon and Hurley, insurance; W. F. Huycke, KC, law office; McColl and Turner, accountants.

Offices on the second floor include: Carley and Standish, law offices; Empire Life Insurance Co.; Pierce and Pierce, surveyors; Meredith Dental Laboratory; Dr. B. R. Smyth, dentist; Dr. C. H. Fulford, dentist; Credit Associates; and the quarters of First Church of Christ Scientist.

The Masonic Hall occupies the third floor. There are also six apartments in the block.

No Transfer Since 1886

The main corner building was originally in the title of Senator George A. Cox, who transferred it to the Toronto Savings Loan Company. Originally, there may have been a hotel in the corner part of the property, but that goes back into the 1880's, beyond present memory.

Apparently the transfer by Senator Cox was made in 1886. There has been no change in the title since then.

The Bank of Commerce was removed from the southwest corner of Brock and George Streets to its present location. It is understood that the original vault there is now used by Victoria and Grey Trust Company.

The new owners, Noel and Max Rishor are young Peterborough men whose experience is the basis of their confidence in the future of Peterborough and in their present investment.

BANK OF COMMERCE BLOCK on the south-west corner of Water and Hunter Sts., was purchased this week by Messrs. Max and Noel Rishor from the Toronto Savings and Loan Co. The transaction was for more than $150,000, it is said. The block contains 20 businesses, six apartments, the First Church of Christ Scientist and the Masonic Hall. —Examiner Staff Photo

192 Children Return After Measles

One hundred and ninety-two children received department of health certificates to return to school Monday and Tuesday of this week after a session with the measles. Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, said today that 150 came to the department's rooms Monday and 42 on Tuesday for certificates.

At the same time 196 new cases were reported since last Wednesday bringing the total to date to 627. This is more than 12 times the number reported in 1950. In January 223 cases were reported.

Over the week-end 76 new cases broke out. Other daily reports were: Thursday, 23; Friday 37; and Tuesday 60.

Seven days after the appearance of the rash the patient may receive a certificate from the department of health. After signs such as temperature, coughing, watery eyes and headaches, the rash appears, red and blotchy, usually on the forehead and spreads rapidly over the body. These fade in 24 to 36 hours. The patient should be isolated for seven days.

Force Rear Door Of Lunch Bar

Some $4.60 and cigarettes, chocolate bars and gum were stolen from the Waldrom Lunch Bar on Simcoe St. when someone broke in between 3:00 p.m. and 9.40 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Lois Fleetwood, owner of the lunch bar, had closed the bar for the day because of the funeral of a brother. When she checked the store Tuesday night, she found a rear door forced open with a crow bar.

Frank Clancy, 208 McDonnel St. an employee, checked the store twice during the day, the last time about 3:30 p.m.

Constable Harold Andrew and Sherman Keliele carried out the preliminary investigation.

Postmen Never Realized So Many Loved Each Other

Cupid with his bow and arrow was taken for a ride today, St. Valentine's day, by the postmen. Tuesday night and early today were compared to a day during the Christmas rush at the post office. The daily count through the office's meter machine is usually around 15,000 letters and cards but Tuesday the sweethearts throughout the city swamped the postal carriers and sorters with approximately 25,000 Valentine cards. Sorters worked overtime Tuesday night and returned early today to make sure all the cards were delivered.

Last year the Valentine rush started and ended on February 13 when 20,000 cards went through the office. This year the increase in cards and letters was felt Monday when the meter machine recorded 23,500. Tuesday the sorters sent 44,400 cards and letters through the machine.

Most of carriers who left the office this morning carried an extra bag of mail, most of which were lovers' greetings for the day.

Heavy Parcel Mail?

After a period of slackness, the parcel department at the office has been hard pressed since Monday. Along with a large number of Valentine parcels the sorters have the parcels from U.S. which were held up by the rail strike.

The American parcel mail rolled into Peterborough late Sunday night and early Monday. The largest load arrived Tuesday and today the office reported catching up on the backlog.

"Just imagine the number of cards bought in the local stores in the past week", said one postal clerk. "Why the cards sent by mail must be only a small portion. Most of the cards are taken to school by the youngsters where, for many, Valentine's Day, is 'the' event of the year. They see how many cards they can receive. It's like a contest".

Three Cars Collide When One Car Stops

Three cars travelling in the same direction collided when the first car stopped on Park St. at Westcott St. The first car suffered little damage, but the two other cars had considerable damage done to the fronts of them.

The first car, driven by Fred Allair, RR 11, Peterborough, had only about $15 damage done to the trunk and tail pipe of his car. He stopped for traffic and the other cars slid on ice into the crash.

The second car, operated by William Deyell, 174 Montgomery St. had about $150 damage done to the grill and front fender of his car.

Most damage, about $200, was done to the last car driven by Reginald Mongraw, 41 Morrow St. The grill was smashed, both front fenders crumpled and a bumper support broken.

Constable Robert Menzies investigated.

No Epidemic Of Flu In City

There are no signs in Peterborough of the influenza epidemic now said to be prevalent in Canada, medical and hospital authorities said today.

Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, said he has not heard of any unusual number of 'flu cases.

At Civic Hospital, superintendent John Hornal reported only the usual number of 'flu patients, and at St. Joseph's Hospital, officials said the number of cases was normal.

In St. Catharines, the General Hospital has been ordered closed to visitors until the epidemic abates.

In Montreal, there is a "definite epidemic" and absenteeism in offices, factories and schools reached 20 per cent. Across the country, a number of schools have been closed because of the unusual number of influenza cases.

Fire Destroys Marmora Home

MARMORA, Feb. 14 (ENS).—Fire destroyed the home and household furniture of Mr. and Mrs. James Drummond in Marmora township early Tuesday afternoon.

The Drummonds had taken their son William to the hospital in Belleville for an X-ray examination and no one was at the house when the fire started. The Marmora chemical engine with Jim Walker in charge, went out when the alarm was given by Mrs. Mawer from neighboring Wanganui Lodge but the fire was too far advanced to save the building. It is not known whether any insurance was carried on the house or effects.

Is Music The Food of Love? Not For Malvolio In Garters

Color that knocks your eyes agoggle. Clusters of grapes, big as a man's head, that dangle from a trellis (and men's heads do pop out from them). A fool who is wiser than the second wisest person in Peterborough. A winsome lassie who puts on men's clothes and (tut, tut) is made love to by a titled lady and man-handled by others who think she is her own brother. A duke who talks about feeding on love. A couple of drunks hiccuping around, and one of them is a Sir Knight. That's what the reporter discovered in the Collegiate this evening.

Such goings-on in respectable Peterborough! The police would probably descend on the whole pack and lock 'em up, except that they are doing what other fairly respectable people have been doing for 350 years—"Twelfth Night."

Sneak Preview

This spy sneaked into the Collegiate tonight disguised as a red hassock (which is neither a red haddock nor a Red Cossack) —you'll see it on the centre of the stage Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. There the boisterers sat and the wench Maria plotted against the house steward, Malvolio. It was the dress rehearsal; the last fling before the real thing.

Wow! What dress! What hats! What pants! What garters! Especially Malvolio's garters, criss-crossed all the way up his legs. Your spy nearly split his cushion seams when Malvolio read the phony letter which Maria the maid concocted to trap the bumptious Malvolio: "Some are born great, some achieve greatness, some have greatness thrust upon them."

And what belches! That's where the word comes from, from the drunken noises made by Sir Toby Belch. Sir Andrew Aguecheek is just as bad—that is to say, just as hilariously funny.

The rehearsal went on until eleven p.m. and ended in a great burst of rain and thunder and song "With hey, ho, the wind and the rain." Wonderful ending; even the walls and the caretaker applauded. Wonderful poetic beginning to the play too, especially for St. Valentine's evening. Remember the Duke, piping with romantic love: "If music be the food of love, play on?"

Robertson Davies, the director of the play, is reported to have said, but not for publication, that any resemblance between the characters on the stage and the persons in real Peterborough life, is purely coincidental. By the way, there is no truth in the rumour that the Coventry Singers who make good noises in the pit, are hidden behind nylon gauze, and are hoisted up and down on a hydraulic platform.

P.S. If the fool is only the second-wisest person in Peterborough, who is the first wisest? You, for taking the opportunity to see this play in the next three evenings.

No Evidence Offered By Defence

Defence Counsels Questioning Undercover Witness

No evidence was presented in police court today in the defence of Ronald Horton, Neil Harrington and Edward Alberico charged jointly with keeping a common betting house.

The trial was started a week ago and adjourned until today. Last week W. B. Gordon, defending Alberico, cross-questioned Constable John Wesley Miller, undercover agent who was the principle witness for the prosecution.

Defending the other two men, T. J. Carley, K.C., began cross-questioning the young officer and today took up the task again in earnest.

Little Book

"You have your little book handy?" Mr. Carley asked.

"I have it, sir," Constable Miller replied.

Mr. Carley was referring to the notebook used by the officer to give his evidence. The officer referred constantly to it and was often under attack by the two defending counsels for not remembering anything beyond what was in the notes.

Asking the officer about the recreation club room on Charlotte St. where the officer said bets were taken, Mr. Carley asked if there were a radio there and if there were usually a number of men there. The officer said yes to both questions. Mr. Carley said "I suppose they played Lost Heir."

Officer Confused

"I think that really dates a person, Mr. Carley," commented Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., with a smile.

Taking the officer's book away from him after letting him read his notes on Jan. 5, Mr. Carley asked him about that day.

The constable said the phone rang and Harrington answered it. He hung up and then dialled a number and said "four and four straight on Grandpa Sam and Reflection."

Asked what number was dialled, the officer said "4481."

"Did you hear any name said?" Mr. Carley asked.

No Name Mentioned

The officer said he did not hear any name mentioned although opposite the phone number there was a misspelling of the name Curly Alberico.

The officer said the phone used in the room was on the wall in a small alcove about 36 inches from the floor. Mr. Carley showed the officer pictures taken of the room, one showing the phone and said he believed it was impossible for anyone sitting down to dial a number and know what figures he was dialing.

The constable said he had seen at least one person dial the phone while sitting. Mr. Carley said it would be also impossible for anyone standing behind someone using the phone to see the number dialled, without leaning over his shoulder.

Saw Several Times

Constable Miller said he saw it several times without having to lean over the shoulder of the man phoning.

Asked if he kept a record of his wins and losses on betting and card games while in Peterborough, Constable Miller said he did. He added that he had not won on any bets placed with the three accused men and he had not won while playing cards there.

Corporal VonZuben of the provincial police testified that he and Constable John Strachan raided the club the afternoon of Jan. 13. Horton and several other men were in the room along with Constable Miller.

Marked Bill

He asked Horton to turn out his pockets. In one pocket Horton had $72 in bills, one of which was a $10 bill that had been given to Constable Miller a few nights before. Constable Miller said he gave the $10 bill to Horton and asked him to make a bet for him and got back $5.

Mr. Gordon in starting his argument, said the crown had failed to prove the identity of E. Alberico as the man on the premises on three separate days. He said the officer referred to the man he saw at the club room only as Alberico.

He pointed out that there were five Albericos listed in the city directory.

Couldn't Infer Betting

He argued that the court could not infer from the jargon overheard by the officer and given in testimony that the subject discussed was betting.

Mr. Gordon also argued that Jan. 9 when Constable Miller said he placed a bet with Alberico it was in a public corridor and therefore didn't come within the charge.

He pointed out that there was an inaccuracy in one of the dates given by the officer in his notes.

Mr. Carley said the evidence was that it was a social club. He said the office's notebook contained a record of conclusions, not facts.

He added that the names given over the phone might have been horses' names, dogs' names or the names of places.

He attacked the accuracy of the constable's notes and said the officer was prone to giving his conclusions and that when checked up giving facts which left a different impression.

He had not finished his argument when he became involved in an argument with Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, KC, over whether the officer had or had not said he had seen men come into the room on numerous occasions and place bets. The case was adjourned to this afternoon while the official record of the evidence was consulted.

ANNOUNCE WEEK'S FIGURES

Clearing house figures for the week ending February 13 totalled $2,332,887.

Miss Greta Clark, Anglican Missionary, 35 Years In China Returning To Canada

Miss Greta Clark of Peterborough, an Anglican missionary in China for 35 years, is returning to Canada. She reportedly left Shanghai by boat on January 29, on the first stage of her homeward journey.

A number of China inland missionaries left for Tokyo at that time, and it is believed Miss Clark was among them.

Miss Clark was with the Anglican mission in Honan province but when they were forced to withdraw after Communist occupation, two years ago, she stayed on in Shanghai. She was working with the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship.

Communists have not stopped missionaries from teaching in Shanghai, but it is understood that student converts are suspect with authorities because of their association with westerners.

This year Miss Clark's furlough is due. Her future plans are unknown.

Her brother, Milton Clark, farms in Smith township.

'51 Community Chest Fund Objective Set At $85,000

An objective of $85,000 has been set for the 1951 Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund Campaign to take place March 2 - 9. This figure was released today by R. L. Dobbin, campaign chairman.

This year's objective is $10,000 above the 1950 objective of $75,000. The reason for this increase was explained by Mr. Dobbin as a general increase in cost of operations of the member agencies.

The four divisions in the campaign fund have the following objectives: Retail, $17,000; Industrial, $38,000; Special Names, $25,000; Women, $5,000.

The 1951 budget with final figures of the amounts to be given to the member agencies will not be decided until the campaign is over.

The amounts received by the agencies in 1950 were: Children's Aid, $7,620; St. Vincent's Orphanage, $4,000; Peterborough Humane Society, $236; Canadian National Institute for the Blind, $4,600; Salvation Army, $5,200; YMCA, $14,000; YWCA, $12,000; Victorian Order of Nurses, $5,400; Navy League of Canada, $1,000; Canadian Red Cross Society, $20,000.

Zone Ski Meet For Women On Saturday

Once postponed, the Southern Ontario ski zone will hold its annual novice class C meet for senior and junior women this Sunday at Bethany, Mrs. Mollie Craig, chairman of the women's section of the Ontario division of the CASA, announced today. It was first scheduled for January 14, but snow conditions forced postponement.

This will be the only ski meet to be held in the Peterborough area this season and will be the first time the novice meet has been held here, the Peterborough Ski Club as host. Last year in Hamilton the Cedar Springs club sponsored the first meet of this type.

Peterborough skiers registered only one win last year, Mrs. Craig taking the slalom event. There were 40 entries in the slalom and downhill events for the senior and junior women from clubs throughout Southern Ontario. The Ski Club expects the number of entries this year to equal last year's.

To Award Trophies

The downhill races will start at 11 a.m. and the slalom at 1:30 p.m. A trophy will be presented to both the senior and junior division winner for the combined downhill and slalom. Eight prizes will be awarded for the first and second place skiers in each event.

Entries will be made by the Peterborough club. Others are expected from Hamilton, Toronto, Huntsville, Oshawa, Collingwood, Kitchener and Barrie.

City Sailor Received By Truman

R. Langton In Group Of Pact Trainees; Joined Navy In 1941

Chief Petty Officer R. N. Langton, 32, of Peterborough, was among eight Atlantic-pact military trainees granted an audience Tuesday by President Harry S. Truman.

The eight, who come from Canada, western Europe and Britain are among 2,000 men from allied countries receiving training in the United States under the North Atlantic Defence Treaty.

Chief Petty Officer Langton, a trainee at the naval receiving station at Anacostia, D. C., was the Canadian representative.

President Truman assured them that the United States "has no designs on any nation, either for territory, conquest or otherwise."

Ordnance Man

CPO Langton is a highly-skilled ordnance man. His special training at Anacostia is to familiarize him with United States' armaments and other equipment.

He joined the RCNVR in 1941 but before the end of the Second World War decided to join the permanent force. He served on the corvette Halifax and on the lend-lease destroyer Columbia. While on the Columbia he was mentioned in dispatches.

His temporary home is now Victoria. He married a Peterborough girl, the former Marjorie Thexton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Thexton, Stewart St. A brother, Donald, lives on Ware St.; another brother, Gordon, is a provincial constable in Minden; and his father lives on Downie St.

Before flying on to Washington he had time to pay a quick visit to his relatives in Peterborough.

1,100 Members In Kawartha Health Service

With a present membership of 1,100 persons, Kawartha Medical Health Services have paid $4,617 in claims during the period of nearly three years since it was organized under the sponsorship of Peterborough Federation of Agriculture.

Claims were for medical attention and hospital care. They amounted to only $625 in the year of its founding, but the total in 1950 was $3,727, as reported by Harold Lewis, fieldman, at the annual meeting of the Federation at the YMCA Tuesday night.

"We had 275 contracts a year ago," Mr. Lewis said, "and that means we have just about doubled the number of our contracts within the year. We have taken over Peterborough Medical Services. They added 100 contracts.

"Our rates had to be increased two dollars a year. The rate that was $18 is now $20, providing $4.50 a day hospital payment help. The semi-private accommodation charge is now $28, paying $6 a day at the hospital."

Mr. Lewis said Kawartha Medical has two groups in Victoria county, "and the people up there want us to help them organize."

Mr. Lewis has also had a hand in promoting Farm Radio Forums, as credited by Wellington Sutton, chairman of the Federation.

14 Forums In County

Six new Forums were organized up to January 1, but one of them folded up, leaving five new ones, for a total of 14 Forums in the county. Some of the new groups are in eastern Peterborough. Mr. Sutton said that development was greatly appreciated.

"There is still a lot of work that could be done," said Mr. Sutton, "especially when we think of Bruce county with 80 Forums, as announced in the broadcast Monday night."

Mr. W. W. Dawson was chairman of the meeting. The financial statement showed a balance of $1,911.75 after payment of $201.78 in outstanding cheques. Copies of this report were distributed. Mr. Dawson remarked that the current balance might be somewhat misleading. It was actually the money available for the federation's affairs this year.

Mrs. Wm. C. Steinkrauss presented an informative report of the annual meeting of the women's committee of the Ontario federation, which was held on the day preceding the opening of the general convention of the provincial federation, Jan. 10.

A report of the convention of the Junior Farmers of the province was given by John Edmison.

Walter Dawson of Otonabee entertained the assembly in several vocal solos and encores. His bass voice, in fine pitch and richly timbred tone, was greatly appreciated. He was accompanied at the piano by his mother, Mrs. Harold Dawson.

Ross Legge of Norwood reported some of his impressions of the provincial convention, especially the obviously close relations existing between the federation and its twenty commodity groups, and the prospect of further consolidation of those relations this year.

The convention attendance, Mr. Legge said, was impressive evidence of the strength of the federation in Ontario. He briefly mentioned the importance of farmers realizing the need of financing their organization. The objective this year in its financing was equivalent to only 56 cents per capital.

Cecil Belyea, federation fieldman in Ontario, reviewed some of the major accomplishments of the farm organization in the province and throughout Canada, and stressed the necessity of securing amendments to the marketing legislation.

Directors elected for 1951 are: Bruce Graham, Henry Sharpe, Stuart Nelson, Ross Legge, Mrs. W. Steinkrauss, Kenneth Petrie, Alan Drummond and George Shoniker.

Refreshments were served by a women's committee of which Mrs. Lorne Reynolds was convener.

Culprit Flees With Handcuff After Scuffle With Chief

Joseph Hill, Dummer township, dodged two charges in police court Tuesday. He was charged with being drunk in charge of a car and escaping custody of Havelock Chief Constable Bay Bell the night of Feb 5.

When only part of the evidence was in, Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, KC, suggested that the charge be dismissed, partly as a result of a recent decision of an appeal court.

Withdrew Second Charge

After the drunk charge was dismissed, the crown decided to withdraw the charge of escaping custody because it was the drunk charge which had started off the series of events.

Evidence showed that Hill was only seen behind the wheel of hs car when it was stuck in a snow bank opposite the Havelock police station.

Some months ago an appeal court held that a man behind the wheel of a car stuck in a snow drift could not be considered in charge of the vehicle.

Another reason was that Chief Bell said it was very difficult to tell when Hill was drunk and when he was sober. The only reliable way, he suggested, was that when Hill was sober he was well mannered, but when he was drunk he was "mean and ugly."

The events of that night convinced the chief that Hill was drunk.

Chief Bell said he walked into the police station from another part of the building and found Hill sitting in a chair. Hill was reading a Highway Traffic Act manual and asked for a copy of the Highway Traffic Act. He gave Hill a pamphlet and the chief then went out and got into his own car.

Hill, he said, got into his car and followed him, although he could not swear it was Hill who was in the car that followed him. He drove around the block and back to the police station.

Stuck in Snow Bank

The chief stopped at the station and Hill drove up the block. He then turned around and came back and drove into a snow bank opposite the station and became stuck.

The chief went over and talked to him. He said Hill was obviously under the influence of wine or some liquor, but he could not tell to what extent. He told Hill to come into the police station with him and there placed him under arrest.

Hill said "Okay chief, I'm in trouble. Let's go to Peterborough."

Chief Bell put a handcuff on one of Hill's wrists and Hill began to scuffle with him. He threw Hill on the floor and sat on him until he quietened down. Hill screamed he was out for blood and murder or anything and "he just couldn't help it."

There were two or three scuffles and each time Chief Bell put him on the floor until he would quieten to some extent. Finally the chief reached for the phone to call Provincial Constable Donald Erskine for help and Hill darted out the door with the handcuff still locked to his wrist.

A short time later Hill phoned him from a nearby pay telephone.

Out For Blood

"He said he was all ready, come and get me, but there would be lots of lead flying. I'm out for blood," the chief testified.

The chief went after him, but couldn't find him. He returned to the police station and a short time later Hill phoned again, repeating his threat.

He searched again until four a.m. and then gave up. About 1.30 p.m. the following day, Hill phoned again, this time from his home, and asked "what was the score."

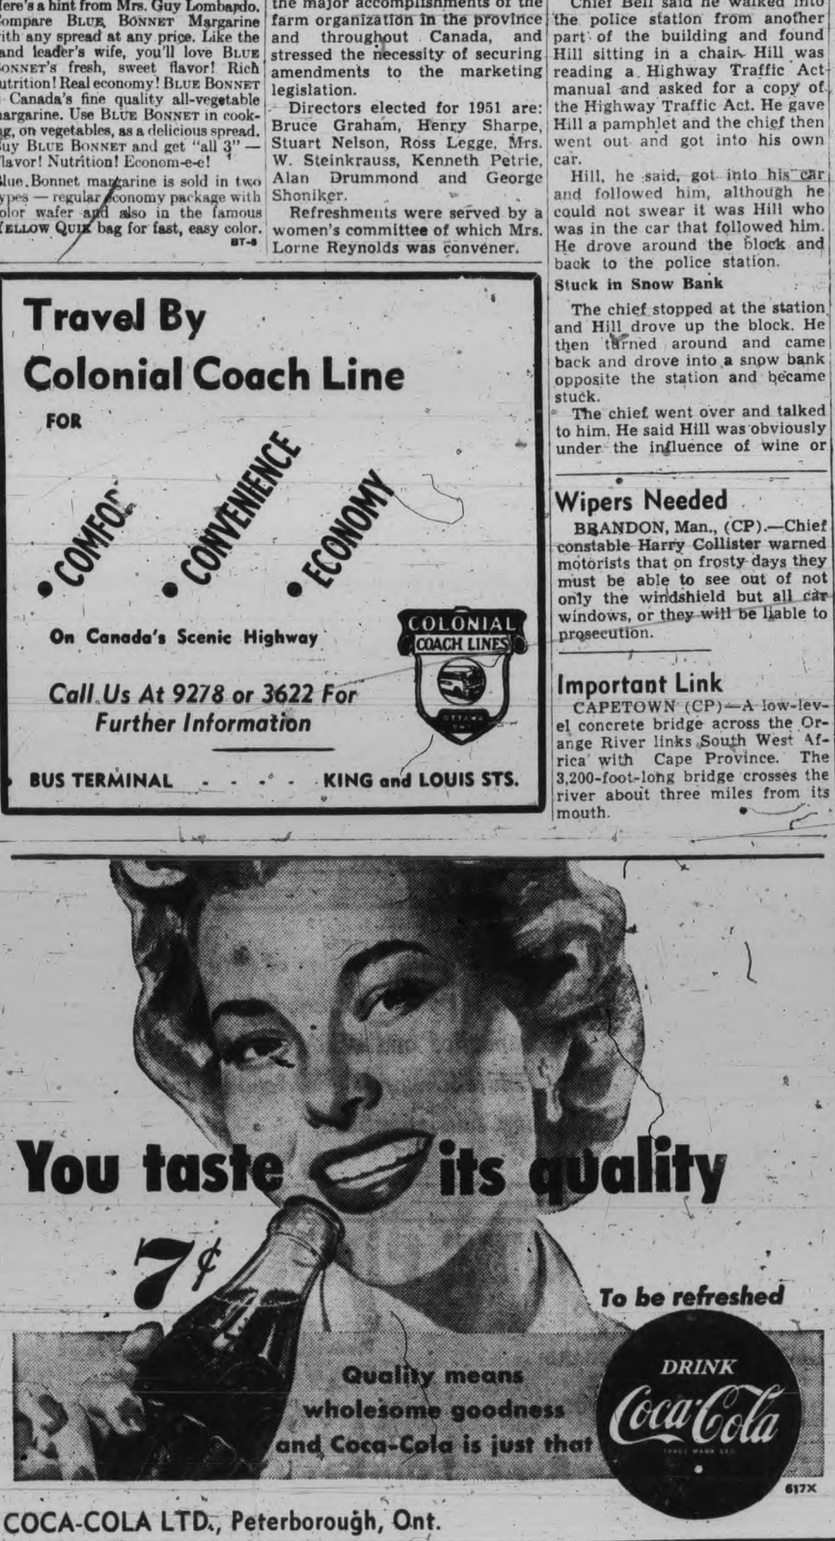
The chief said he had a warrant for Hill's arrest. Hill said the chief could either come out and pick him up or he would come in to town. The chief started out with Constable Erskine and on the way saw Hill on the highway hitchhiking.

By then Hill was "sober and cooperative." But Hill told him he could hunt for the handcuff. It is still missing.

The chief searched Hill's car and found a bottle partly filled with wine.

Hill said the chief's attitude to him was "as if I was a dog and get away from me."

"You're just lucky that's all," the magistrate said.



Hill still faces the charge of having wine in his car. He asked that it be adjourned to next week.

Pregnancy Cause Of More Deaths Than World War

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 14—(ENS)—The greatest loss of life in the world is in pregnancy, Dr. R. A. Kelly, Peterborough MOH, told the Lakefield Home and School Association Monday. He added that during the last war there were four times as many deaths from pregnancy as in the armed forces.

The public nurse, he said, debunks the "old wives' tales" and teaches the mother how to prepare for and take care of the baby. She will notify the doctor if the child is ill.

Dr. Kelly pointed out a duplication of nursing service in Peterborough. He said that the Board of Education has its health nurse to duplicate the service of the Board of health. He expressed the hope that there would be unification in the near future.

Public health education is the most important function of any department. Medical science, he added, informs people of the "do's and don'ts" to enjoy better health. Telling people is not enough and health education must be introduced into the home. This is the work of the health nurse.

Mrs. W. Whetung told the story of Mary Ada Courtice, founder of the Home and School Association.

A skit was put on by Mesdames S. Burger, T. Peyton, A. Dracup, J. Fraser, E. Edwards, E. Orr, T. Down, C. Foster, E. Anderson, C. Coons and C. Hunter. Mrs. Don Hendren contributed a lovely solo "My Task", acompanied by Mrs. Harvey Hill. Mrs. T. Peyton led a sing-song.

Mrs. Vina Deck gave the secretary's report and Mrs. R. Farrow the treasurer's.

Miss M. Maloney's room and Mrs. M. Paterson's room were tied for the attendance prize.

Mrs. Clarence Coons, president, announced that Mrs. Harry Hill would be in charge of the next meeting.

Mrs. Reg. Doubt thanked Dr. Kelly, Mrs. Hendren and all who assisted with the splendid program.

Lunch was served by mothers of Miss I. Madill's room with social convener, Mrs. Eric Anderson, in charge.

Just Missed

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man. (CP).—Joseph Clemmo, 99, was just two months short of attaining the century mark when he died here. He had farmed in the Curtis and Oakville districts for 40 years.

IT TOOK 3½ YEARS of surgical skill and devoted care to save the life and cure little Jacques Messier of the effects of swallowing lye. The boy was 18 months old when he was toddling about the kitchen that summer afternoon of June 20, 1947. Mrs. Messier had scrubbed the porch with the lye solution which she was careful to use in a cup with no handle. She then rinsed the cup and placed it out of reach, as she thought. While she was making supper the child's screams called her. Little Jacques had taken the cup and drank the remaining diluted lye. The agonized child was barely breathing when he was admitted to hospital where he was to under-go treatments for the next 3½ years of his life. In the above photo Jacques is seen leaving the hospital with his parents.

U.K. Steel Firms Taken Over By Government At Midnight

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(Reuters).—Another big segment of British industry comes under state control at midnight today—zero hour for nationalization of iron and steel.

Starting Feb. 15, control of 92 large private companies will pass into the hands of the Labor Government's iron and steel corporation, headed by a cigar-smoking Scotsman, Steven Hardie.

Legislation pushed through parliament in the face of relentless opposition by the Conservative party will enable the corporation to regulate production of all but the smallest firms by a system of licensing.

Shareholders in the companies affected will receive compensation in the form of stock in the new corporation. About $840,000,000 will be paid out in the takeover.

Nationalization comes at a time when the steel industry is producing at a record level. Output for January was at an annual rate of 15,907,000 tons.

Level To Drop

This level is expected to drop within the next few months. Supply Minister George Strauss, who has handled details of the nationalization plan so far, gave a warning to this effect in the House of Commons last week, blaming it on an imminent shortage of scrap and other materials.

One of the main Conservative arguments has been that it would be a crazy deed and an unpatriotic step to tamper with the steel industry at a time when rearmament would be making new demands on it.

Strauss told the Commons that nationalization would begin with a three-month "mark-time" period during which the new corporation would discuss details with the Iron and Steel Federation, the organization of private industry.

Famous names like Dorman Long and Baldwins will continue in the steel business with the same staffs, and will present accounts as usual. But overall direction will be in the hands of the new corporation.

Send Patients Home To Handle Emergency

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Feb. 14.—Two operations had to be postponed and two patients sent home from Greater Niagara General Hospital Tuesday afternoon to make room for Mr. and Mrs. William Gabris and their three children after they were overcome by coal gas in their home.

The stricken family was discovered by Mrs. Frank Angle after Mrs. Gabris' employer had telephoned to ask why she had not reported to work in an uptown store. The Lundy's Lane fire department, with the Falls View department's inhalator, gave first aid and took the five to hospital.

At the overcrowded hospital it was necessary to cancel scheduled operations and send home two other patients to make room for the five emergency cases. Another bed was set up in a corridor.

Mr. and Mrs. Gabris and the children, Yvette, 13; Paulette, 10, and Patrick, 7, were in bed when discovered and thought they had influenza. A fleet of ambulances took the family to hospital.

Pair Go Native In Africa To Aid Research

They plan to live for a year among primitive African tribes whose life has not yet been influenced by the white man's civilization, to follow up the researches of the great missionary and explorer, David Livingstone.

They will live among the descendants of the Ngoni tribe which trekked north from Natal 130 years ago to escape the rule of the Zulu Napoleon, Chaka.

The Ngoni, an aristocratic tribe conquered and absorbed the Maravi and other Central African tribes and have preserved their identity to some extent by banning marriage between Ngoni women and men of the conquered tribes.

Mr. Hamilton is writing a thesis on his research for a doctorate at the School of Oriental Studies, London University.

Mrs. Hamilton will help him with his research by having access to childbirth and initiation ceremonies where only women are allowed.

India Estimates Assam Earthquake Caused Country Loss Of 1,526 Dead

BOMBAY (Reuters)— Revised estimates of the earthquake which rocked the eastern India province of Assam last August place the death toll at 1,526 persons. The property loss is conservatively estimated at $50,000,000.

Fifteen thousand square miles of hills, dales, jungles and farmland were defaced by convulsions in the earth's crust, and some of the world's rarest wildlife perished in the earthquake and floods which followed.

Scores of hill streams changed their course, vast lakes appeared from nowhere and landslides buried hundreds of villages.

Panicky tribesmen in the Assam hills looked to heaven and appealed to the gods to curb their anger. Some, following a traditional tribal custom, hurled their dogs into the overflowing rivers to appease the river gods.

Even Mount Everest, world's highest peak, is said to have been pushed higher as a result of the earthquake, although the Indian Geological Survey is reluctant to confirm this.

Dr. Ramachandra Rao, prominent geologist of Calcutta, said: "According to the latest survey the accepted height of Everest was 29,002 feet. Its present height is anybody's guess pending a fresh survey."

Struck on Anniversary

The earthquake occurred the night of Aug. 15, third anniversary of India's independence. It was one of a series of calamities during the year, including floods, drought, landslides, riots and forced migration.

No disaster on a similar scale had taken place since Krakatao Island in the Dutch East Indies disappeared in the last century.

There was disagreement over the picture, which appears to have been located six miles inside Tibet off the left shoulder of India. No survey of that region has yet been made.

Loss of life in Assam was not proportionate to the violence of the earthquake, largely because the destructive waves were preceded by a shock which gave people one minute to rush out of their houses. In addition, the hilly region which bore the brunt of the quake is sparsely inhabited.

The peculiar aspect of the quake was that more lives were lost and more damage caused by the aftermath of the tremor than during it.

The quake tore hills asunder and tumbled many of them down, blocking the network of streams and rivers which crisscross this region. Water backed up into huge lakes for several days. Then billions of tons of pentup floods overwhelmed their natural dams and roared down on the country, sweeping away everything in their path.

The worst-hit of any size was North Lakhimpur, with a population of 10,000. There's not a single house standing erect there.

REPLACED BRUSH

The steel pen nib was introduced in London in 1803 and was being manufactured a few years later.

700 British Residents Daily Applying To Come To Canada

LONDON — (CP) — British residents are responding to Canada's all-out drive for new settlers at a rate of more than 700 applicants a day.

The current rush has been spurred by the Canadian government's offer of assisted sea and air passages. But most would-be emigrants say they are seeking escape from the continued burdens of austerity, restrictions on housing and lack of opportunity.

Officials of the Canadian immigration department in London say they were being swamped with applications from all parts of the United Kingdom. And they expect an increased flow of inquiries with the introduction of the assisted sea-passage scheme this month.

Seek New Opportunity

Many of the prospective settlers are persons who sought refuge in Britain during and immediately after the war. After being driven from their homes and deprived of their possessions by the German invasion, they are anxious for an opportunity of re-establishing themselves. Their attitude is that if there is another war they would rather be in Canada than Europe.

Of the large groups interviewed by Canadian immigration officers, most of them mentioned the hope of finding better jobs and the difficulties of housing as their reason for wanting to leave.

Anxious for Home

"I've been looking for a home for more than two years," said Frank Harding, London - born carpenter, who plans to settle in Ontario.

"I am willing to build a house with my own bare hands if they'll only let me. After all it's my trade and I can do it. In Canada, at least, I shan't need a permit to do the obvious."

Kenneth Hammond, a Birmingham businessman, said he was going to Canada "because I can't see much future for my trade here." There were too many controls.

"But I am willing to try my hand at anything else, if necessary," Hammond added. "I'll go wherever there is a good job at fair wages. I shall make my home where I make my living."

Farm-working Jack Osborne of Bristol, said he was migrating to Ontario to make a career of farming. His wife and 15-months-old daughter are going with him.

"To be anything more than a farm laborer in this country it seems that one has to go to the right schools," said Osborne. "I have a job lined up on a farm at Gormley, near Toronto, and I have every hope of becoming a farm foreman. To do that in England I would probably need a degree in agriculture."

Says Canadian Banks Safest In World

WINNIPEG— (CP)— Canadian banks are the safest in the world, says the Rev. William McWalter. They are never likely to go broke.

And Father McWalter ought to know. He was a bank inspector before his ordination.

He says many Hollywood actors have savings accounts in Canadian banks because they offer a greater measure of security.

African Doctor Once Herdboy

DURBAN, South Africa (CP)— From herdboy to medical officer attached to the colonial service in Basutoland—that is the story of 26-year-old Dr. Strong Makenete, an African.

Dr. Makenete's achievement is remarkable because he is not the son of a chief, and in the normal course of events could not have hoped to have risen above his family's traditional occupation of peasant farmers.

But from the time he was a 10-year-old boy watching his father's flocks of sheep and goats in the Drakensburg area he was determined that some day he would become a doctor and help his own people.

His father went to work in the Rand gold mines to send Strong to school. Then an Afrikaans-speaking family helped with the school fees to enable him to matriculate.

The Basutoland authorities awarded him a medical scholarship to the University of the Witwatersrand.

Costly Beds

VANCOUVER (CP)— Charles Weir found the thieves who took the blooms off 168 large chrysanthemums in his flower shop. Pack rats under a nearby storage room had lined their beds with the petals. "That's too expensive a lining," he said as he called the exterminator.

Murder Not Most Difficult Crime To Get Away With

By JACK SCOTT

VANCOUVER, Feb. 12 — At lunch yesterday some of my grisly pals got to speculating about that weird double slaying—or "twin killing," as the newspapers put it—over in Victoria a few weeks ago.

Two young men, subsequently described as "inseparable pals," took a room in a hotel. Ten minutes after registering there was a wild outburst of shooting and both men were dead.

The case is still pretty much of a mystery and probably will remain that way forever. Letters found on the bodies were suppressed by the police. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder "by persons unknown."

Such mysteries are intriguing and probably account for the staggering sale of detective story magazines, but I am obsessed by a more macabre aspect of the fine art of murder. Like the fisherman who broods over the big one that go away, I am more interested in the killers still at large.

The sobering fact is that we have no way of knowing the true statistics on homicide, no way of knowing how many murderers are walking the streets as free men, no way of knowing what they did with the bodies.

The crimes of passion, the spur-of-the-moment killings induced largely by alcohol or jealousy are almost always detected, but there is now way of knowing how many cunning, cold-blooded, premeditated slayings have been committed successfully.

We cannot know of the perfect crimes.

The Unknown

You might suppose that murder is the most difficult of all crimes to get away with. Not at all.

A certain detective friend of mine whose whole adult life has been spent sniffing down the gory details of violent deaths, once claimed that he could successfully handle a round dozen murders himself, murders without a trace, yet each demanding an original technique of the cadaver.

Ever hear of the Missing Persons Bureau? Each major city has lists as long as your arm. Where are those people? Well, most of them have strayed and become lost in the crowd of the world. But how many lie bludgeoned in some lonely woods? Or weighted at the bottom of the river? Or grey ashes in a furnace grate?

Most good detectives think along such lines, mainly because they've all seen so many "natural" deaths that were strongly suspicious.

The law itself is, in a sense, on the side of the murderer. Few laymen realize the amount of evidence it takes to convict a man of homicide.

Time after time the authorities will survey the evidence, often knowing in their hearts that they are dealing with an authentic criminal case, but will decide that the element of so-called "reasonable doubt" makes it inadvisable to press a charge. To an Attorney-General only admissable fact is important.

The law holds that a man is innocent until proven guilty and hard proof is often mighty tenuous.

Consider, for example, the apparent suicides, the jumps off the end of boats, the gas turned on, the leap from tall buildings. In case after case the murderer, if such there was could have been the only witness.

It is claimed that even the heart attack may be brought on by a methodical use of certain drugs over a long period.

The Motives

It might be argued that the missing link in this kind of speculation is that few people have a motive for murder.

There are, however, a good many. Financially, there are the insurance and inheritance aspects, the kind of thing that caused little Alfred Guay to smuggle a bomb aboard the airliner. Emotionally there are jealousy, hatred, euthanasia.

Some professional criminologists take the view that there's a little murder in the best of us, especially in a post war period when killing may seem relatively less important and when a good many neurosis are in full flower.

It is worth considering, too, that murder may be a hobby. I remember discussing this morbid subject with my detective friend.

"A modern Bluebeard?" he asked. "Why not? Maybe your neighbor is one. Maybe you passed one in the street today. You see, we presume there is innocence behind an innocent face. We are unwilling to speak evil of our fellow men, yet in all the animal world there's none quite so evil as the human."

Well, maybe so. Only yesterday there was another atomic test explosion in Nevada and the people in nearby Las Vegas used it as an excuse for early-morning parties. I suppose it all depends on what you consider murder.

Buck Storm To Aid Stricken Boy

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., (CP). — Twelve-year-old Ernest Strickland of Milltown, tiny lumbering settlement at the head of Bay d'Espoir, owes his life to the hospital ship Lady Anderson.

The boy, suffering acute appendicitis, needed immediate medical attention. The nearest doctor was more than 40 miles away at Harbour Breton, and there is no road to that Hermitage Bay community.

The Lady Anderson had been assigned to St. Alban's near Milltown, on a business trip. An urgent message arrived from Strickland's father. Could the Lady Anderson take the boy to Harbour Breton. She could.

The weather was foggy and the Lady Anderson had just finished a stormy passage up the bay But she was ready for an emergency.

Next morning, the dawn showed Bay d'Espoir chocked with ice. And Milltown was 10 miles away with the sea the only route. Chewing her way through, buffeted by sheets of rain, the little ship forced her way to within a mile of the wharf at Milltown. Her screeching whistle brought men from the village hurrying over the ice. The ship couldn't push any farther so the stricken lad was brought out over the ice in a komatik.

The Lady Anderson made the run down the bay safely but ran into stormy weather in Hermitage Bay and was forced to shelter for the night.

The next afternoon, after beating her way through stormy seas, she reached Harbour Breton where an operation on Strickland was successful.

His complaint is being considered. Since the trouble started, Ahmed has lost his job as a traffic controller.

Yanks In Britain Learn List Of Conduct Rules

LONDON, Feb. 14 (Reuters)—Conservative Daily Mail said recently the first thing 800 newly-arrived United States troops are learning here is "How to Behave in 1951 Britain."

The men belong to the 39th Anti-Aircraft Battalion — first US Army fighting unit stationed in Britain since the war — now based at Norton Barracks, Worcester. Other troops are here form Texas, Maryland and California bases..

At Norton, the Mail said in a news story, they will be confined to barracks—"and when they come out they will have learned the new 1951 code of conduct for American forces in Britain..... based on wartime experience."

Part of Code

The Mail quoted these excerpts from the code:

1. Treat women with the respect they deserve. Cut out Yankee braggadocio and do not be over-talkative or familiar. Always be correctly dressed.

2. Do not tip too lavishly or offend people who cannot afford to give as much as you.

3. Do not gripe about rations or currency regulations or flaunt the quality and quantity of your rations compared with the British.

4. Don't boast about higher pay, or who won the war.

5. Do not boast about America or apologize for America. Remember that Britain's standard of living is far below normal.

6. Cut out reckless driving and spending.

7. Do not criticize the Royal Family or get into political arguments.

Major G. D. Black, director of US Personnel Services in Britain, told the Daily Mail the young soldiers "are different from those who came to Britain during the war."

"For one thing they have not the feeling that they might die tomorrow," he said. "They have a greater sense of responsibility."

He added the US Army had tightened discipline.

"The bad reputation some GI's got for us during the war will be a thing of the past when these lads have been through their course in modern behavior," he said.

Blacksmithed for 50 Years George Worboy Retires

Nearly 50 years ago, George Worboy picked up a blacksmith's hammer to "give it a try." He laid down the hammer last week.

For 30 of those years he has been working with the CGE. Still young looking at 70, he expects to spend a busy retirement doing a number of carpentry jobs for his wife in their home at 586 Sherbrooke St. and gardening and fishing in summer.

Born in Blaenavan, South Wales, Mr. Worboy came to Canada with his mother when he was seven years old to join his father waiting for them.

Ship Lost Its Propellor

On the way across the Atlantic the propellor was sheared off and dropped to the bottom. The ship sat anchored for three days until it was towed into Halifax.

They stopped off at Peterborough, but went on to Otonabee to farm. Mr. Worboy decided after a time that he would rather do something else than farm.

A blacksmith talked him into apprenticing as a smithy.

"I was still not convinced that I would like blacksmithing, but thought I would at least give it a try. I have been at it ever since," Mr. Worboy said.

He first worked in a small shop which turned out a wide range of general work, including carriages, wheelbarrows, horseshoes and others.

He later went to work for the Peter Hamilton Co., farm implement manufacturers, and stayed there 17 years.

Started at CGE in 1921

In 1921 he moved to the CGE blacksmith shop. At that time the shop was booming and Mr. Worboy and the 13 other blacksmiths sweating at six forges could not keep up with the work. When he got home at night he was too tired to take part in any sport or do anything else.

As the years went by the shop changed.

"If someone told me 15 years ago that blacksmithing was going to be almost a thing of the past, I would have taken little notice of such a statement. Today, the burners, welders and bending machines of the structural steel department do much of the work we thought could only be handled in a blacksmith shop."

Cuban Dictator Back From Exile, Seeks Election

By BEN F. MEYER

HAVANA —(AP)— Fulgencio Batista, who became Cuba's strong man in 1933 and ruled for 11 years, wants to return to the presidency in the 1952 elections.

Back in Cuba after four years of exile in the United States, Batista organized his own political party and started the ball rolling for his campaign in the presidential race.

"Yes, I am a candidate for president," says Batista. "I think I can win."

He is 51 now, still agile, and great deal more experienced than the young army sergeant who seized control of the Cuban army on Sept. 4, 1933.

"Since I left the presidency in 1944, Cuba has had very bad government," he said. "The people are sick of it and they have shown their desire for change in many ways."

One of these ways, he adds, was his own election as senator during his exile in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Only a Sergeant

Batista was only a sergeant when Cubans in an outbreak of burning, pillaging and killing overthrew dictator President Gerardo Machado on Aug. 12, 1933. University students had a major part in the revolt. They tried to run the country and plunged Cuba into a series of the bloodiest revolutions in its history.

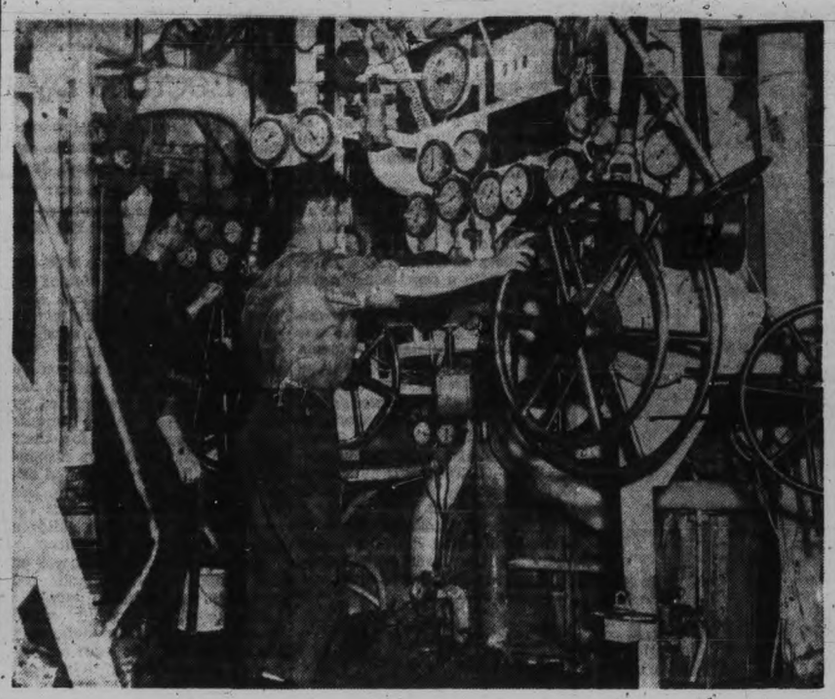
Batista rose to power when he led a sergeant's revolution that ousted commissioned officers from control of the army. In Cuba, as in most Latin-American nations, the man who controls the army is boss. Batista controlled the army.

From behind the scenes he ran the country, dictator fashion, for seven years, then was elected president. At the end of his four-year term, he promised democratic elections. His hand-picked candidate went down to stunning defeat.

Heavy Blow

It was a bitter blow for the man who had ruled the nation for 11 years, but he proclaimed:

"This is democracy in action. I bow to the will of the people."



The man who won was Ramon Grau San Martin, a physician and university professor who had led the revolt against Machado. Batista had put him in power for a brief period after Machado's downfall, and then had bombed him out of the presidential palace.

Knowing when to duck, Batista left Cuba immediately after Grau's inauguration. In 1948 Batista, still in Daytona Beach, was elected a senator of Cuba.

Political quarters do not rate Batista's presidential stock very high just now. One reason is Eddie Chibas, whose followers call him "el loco" (the crazy man) for his violent attacks on the government. Chibas also was elected a senator in 1948. He is regarded as the leading figure of the opposition to President Carlos Prio.

Right now a dozen or so of President Prior's followers have their eye on the 1952 presidential race. Grau's nephew, Jose San Martin, already is in the race. Chibas is regarded as a sure candidate. This leads some to wonder where Batista fits in.

Batista lives on a beautiful estate just outside Havana. He has not figured prominently in senate activities. The little country road leading to his estate has lots of traffic. He is in almost continuous political conferences.

European Atlantic Pact Members Push Conscription To Aid Defence

LONDON —(AP)— Conscription in Europe is quickly massing muscle on the arm of the North Atlantic military body, but two uncontrollable factors make it tough going.

These are:

1. In some pact countries, notably the Netherlands, guns and equipment are so scarce there's little point in pulling the conscription throttle all the way out.

2. Although Italy teems with manpower (what to do with it has been a political problem for generations) her Second World War peace treaty holds her army down to 250,000 men.

In contrast to the United States defence department's call for a draft of 18-year-olds for 27 month's service, most pact countries don't start compulsory military training until the draftee is at least 20.

Britain, on the other hand, starts the able-bodied male off at 18 with a two-year stretch of regular army service and tops that off with 3½ years in the reserve.

Has No Draft

Canada, one of the 12 Atlantic Pact countries has no draft at all.

Here's Europe's conscription set-up:

Italy: Men are summoned for medical examination at 20. If they are approved, they start training at 21 and remain in the armed forces for 18 months.

The 250,000 treaty limitation means a relatively meagre Italian contribution to Atlantic Pact security in numerical terms.

The same shortage of arms and equipment that dogs the Dutch also is a factor in Italy.

Plan 20 Divisions

France: Frenchmen start 18 months' service at 20.

The length of service was 12 months until last fall when Premier Pleven announced France's determination to work toward a 20-division peacetime army with air power to match. As a result of the stepped-up draft, army officials hope to build a backlog of about 1,500,000 trained reservists by 1953.

Belgium: Belgian men are called up at 20 for 14 months but a bill now before parliament would make it two years.

With a total regular army of 74,000 men, Belgium hopes to be able to add roughly 80,000 trained conscripts to that number at any given time after the end of 1952.

Britain: British men are called up at 18 years and three months, do two years in the regular army, navy, or air force, then 3½ years in the territorials—equivalent of Canada's reserve army.

Britain introduced peacetime conscription in June, 1939—A bare three months before the start of the Second World War. The call-up was at 20 for a six-month service period but the six months became "duration" once the war declarations were posted.

When normal peacetime conscription resumed in 1949, the draftee—called at 18—faced 18 months in the regular forces and four years with the territorials. The rearranged 5½-year figure dates from last October.

Britain's armed forces then stacked up: army—375,200; navy—134,900; air force—198,000.

Reserve Army Cut

The Netherlands: Holland had a reserve army of 250,000 men in 1939 but it now stands at a slim 75,000. Under the present set-up, Holland keeps about 15,000 men moving through the training mill each year but next October she plans to call up 30,000.

Dutchmen must register when they're 18 but they don't start their 12-month service until they're 20. Only part of each available class is called because, as Dutch government sources point out, there's no point in calling up draftees if there's a shortage of training personnel and equipment.

Canada has helped the Netherlands out in the equipment shortage with a gift of $50,000,000 worth of arms—enough to equip an infantry division.

Portugal: Portugal has been calling up conscripts at 20 for 18 months' service since Britain's great "Iron Duke" Wellington was battling Napoleon's men in the peninsula with British and Portuguese troops.

After completing his 18 months, the Portuguese becomes a reservist until he's 48. Thus, a Portuguese general mobilization can put at least 750,000 men at the disposal of the authorities with another million on hand for auxiliary work.

Luxembourg: Luxembourg calls up her men at 18 for six months of training, but plans to extend the service to a year.

Since conscription started in 1944, Luxembourg has a reserve force of between 8,000 and 9,000 men, with trained conscripts recallable twice a year for three-week refresher sessions.

Norway's Method

Norway: Norwegian men are called at 20 for nine months with the army or 12 with either the navy or air force. The trained conscript can be recalled later for refresher runs.

In case of general mobilization, all able-bodied Norwegians between 18 and 55 are liable for service.

Standing behind the regular forces is an important "Home Guard" of about 100,000 men. Norway now has 20,000 con-

Horse Operas Not Authentic Author Declares

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 14 (AP)— Did you ever wonder if the west was really as it is portrayed in horse operas?

Well, I have, and at last I found someone to reply to the question. He is A. B. Guthrie, author of "The Big Sky", and "The Way West." The latter won him a Pulitzer prize for the best novel on American life in 1949.

Born in Montana and reared on western lore, Guthrie was on the staff of the Lexington, Ky., Leader for 20 years. He now conducts a writers' workshop at the University of Kentucky and is considered one of the top authorities on the western scene.

He is here to write his first screen play, "Shane," and I interrupted his labors to ask if he thought movie westerns were authentic.

"No," he replied.

Old Clinches

"It seems to me the movie western and western fiction have fallen into the same pattern of using the old clinches time and time again. For instance, there is the familiar character of the ranch foreman who is trying to put something over on the boss. And the boss usually turns out to be a beautiful girl.

Historical figures have taken a beating in the movies, Guthrie added. He pointed out that Billy the Kid was a trigger-happy little punk who neither looked nor acted like Johnny Mack Brown, Robert Taylor, Jack Beutel or Audie Murphy. (All have played the character on the screen.)

"And the western sheriffs are made to seem like great men," he added. "But from their records, you can only gather that they liked to kill."

To Much Violence

"All in all, it does seem that the movies concentrate too much on the violence of the west," the author observed. "Surely, there was some gunplay, but there was also a lot of hard work. There were plenty of men who helped settle the west without firing a shot. I would like to see the stories of those men shown for a change."

George Sexsmith 25 Years At CGE

An old-time teamster who joined the wire department of the Canadian General Electric in 1925 was given his Quarter Century Club button recently. He is George Sexsmith, McCannon Ave.

Mr. Sexsmith was born in Belmont township and educated at Round Lake school, in a time when rural schools were open only six months of the year. At 16, he was working in the north woods with the Rathburn Lumber Company, and about 40 years ago came to the Peterborough area.

For a time, he farmed in North Monaghan, and worked in the CGE yard here. But he did not start his continuous service with the company until December 8, 1925, when he joined the wire department.

Head of the department then was Frank Patterson, and the present general foreman is Eddie Williams.

Masked Killers Terrify Island of Bali

By RICK STEVENS.

DJAKARTA, Indonesia (Reuters). — Terror stalks today in exotic Bali, island of glamorous dancing girls, fabulous legends and centuries-old culture.

The simple Balinese live under a shadow of fear. Their gay music and dance-filled nights are quietened. Many of them have not slept in their villages for months, preferring to seek refug in the dense jungle when darkness falls.

Outwardly, the island — just east of Java — looks quiet. But the atmosphere of peace and tranquility, which helped make it the world traveller's delight—is gone.

Struck In August

Terror came to Bali last August, when a wave of murder began to sweep the green-clad island, where in peaceful centuries past the most heavily punished crime was to steal a neighbor's water.

Since then, there have been more than 90 murders and 33 attempted murders, as well as many cases of arson and robbery, according to recent official figures.

Most of the victims were suspected of being spies or of collaborating with the Dutch.

But in a number of cases, there was no known motive. All Bali was shocked recently, for example, by the mass murder of a Dutch ice-factory owner named Landre, his Balinese wife and their four sons, two of whom were members of the Indonesian Military Police.

Night Murder

Death came to them out of the night when a group of armed men shot the whole family, as well as two factory guards who rushed to their aid.

In other murders, a band of men, reported to have worn black masks and black shirts, came to the home of an elderly villager. They told his wife to run away with her small child, then they dragged the old man and his grown-up son out of the house and hacked them to death with swords or knives.

A Chinese who was shot through the lung was taken to hospital alive. Later, a man believed to have been one of his assassins walked boldly into the hospital and shot him again—this time fatally—then walked out unmolested.

Hope came to the terror-infested island recently when Indonesian Major Islam Salim was appointed commander-in-chief of the lesser Suna Islands, with the special task of cleaning up Bali.

In a press interview Major Salim declared his intention "to restore peace and order on the island within the shortest time possible."

"No matter what the motive for the murders may have been, the culprits will be tried and punished," he said.

Child Psychology Discussed In Lecture by Bishop Berry

All city parishes were represented in the men and women assembled at St. John's school, Jane St., Tuesday evening, to hear the second in a series of lectures on Child Psychology by His Excellency Bishop Berry.

In the first part of his talk, the Bishop gave an explanation of the "vexed question of original sin." That part of the teaching of the Roman Catholic Church is called "wounded human nature." The wounds are unevenly suffered in different individuals. As the nature of humans is transmitted by the parents, so, while parents have a responsibility for their offspring, they also have responsibility for the type of wound experienced by their children. But he added, "Parents are not responsible for what use children make of their human nature."

Second part of the talk was on the various ductless glands and the effect they have on people.

First was the thyroid gland which can affect by deficiency and excess. Children who are deficient show slow growth, poor mental development, and if no treatment is given will grow up having little use of a poor mental endowment, he explained. Excess thyroid results in increase of metabolism, so in children may be noticed brightness in response and there may be tendency to over-estimate their IQ. Most persons with this condition are overexcitable. Extreme excess results in what is commonly called Graves' disease.

The pituitary gland at the base of the brain is again one that shows hypo and under activity. From the latter there will be a slowing up in growth of a child which may give dullness of intellect and very low IQ. Hyper, in childhood, results in overgrowth of bones and gigantism. Later in life it is seen in overgrowth of the terminal bones but does not necessarily cause deviations of personality except from knowing it is incurable. Proper feeding can correct the underactivity in children.

The pituitary also serves as a brake on the sex function. If under active it may bring about puberty before the time with little mental change, no change of character and a precocious attitude toward sex. This action is treatable.

The adrenal was pointed out as important because it sustains for a time the process aroused by emotions such as anger. The pancrea is the hormone which serves as insulin and is important in controlling the amount of sugar in the system.

These remarks were directed to the parents for their vigilance in their children. The Bishop read case histories to illustrate how doctors treat and suggest ways for parents to guide their children when suffering from such action.

Don't be HALF-SAFE

by VALDA SHERMAN

Many mysterious changes take place in your body as you mature. Now, the glands under your arms begin to secrete daily a new type of perspiration containing substances which will—if they reach your dress—cause ugly stains and clinging odor.

You'll face this problem throughout womanhood. It's not enough merely to stop the odor of this perspiration. You must now use a deodorant that stops the perspiration itself before it reaches—and ruins—your clothes.

As doctors know, not all deodorants stop both perspiration and odor. But Arrid does! It's been proved that the new cream deodorant Arrid stops underarm perspiration 1 to 3 days safely—keeps underarms dry and sweet.

Remember this, too. Arrid's antiseptic action kills odor on contact—prevents formation of odor up to 48 hours and keeps you "shower-bath" fresh. And it's safe for skin—safe for fabrics.

So, don't be half-safe. Don't risk half-safe deodorants. Be Arrid-safe! Use Arrid to be sure. Arrid with Creamogen will not dry out, and it's so pleasant and easy to apply. Get Arrid—Canada's largest selling deodorant—today!

Hair, moles, warts removed from arms, legs or face; permanently and painlessly. No blemishes.

The Canadian Family owes much to . . . Czechoslovakia

A Tribute from Calvert to Canadians of Czechoslovakian Descent

CANADIANS ARE A people of many racial origins who have interwoven themselves into a pattern of democracy. Much of Canada's strength and vitality stems from the cultural heritages that each racial group has contributed.

In 1619, Calvert was Secretary of State to King James I. That year James' daughter Elizabeth became Queen of Bohemia — as Czechoslovakia was then known. Her son Prince Rupert, after whom Western Canada was first named Rupert's Land, was the first Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company. Thus our ties with Czechoslovakia reach back over 300 years.

The original Czech and Slovak settlers came to the Canadian West in the 1880's. Since then many more thousands have chosen Canada as their home.

Their folksongs and needlework have contributed to Canada's culture, while their industry, honesty and thrift have made them honoured members of the great Canadian Family.

Man Putting Off Marriage 7 Years Lacks Serious Intent

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you think it fair for a man to keep the girl he loves waiting for seven years and then have nothing definite in mind regarding marriage? That is the situation I am in and my heart is breaking over it. For that length of time I have been keeping company with a man who could not marry because he had to support a mother, two sisters and a brother.

Dorothy Dix

Now the sisters and brother are able to support themselves and contribute their share toward making a home for the mother, but all that he says is that when both of the girls have good jobs "maybe" we can marry. Don't you think that he has done his duty by his family and should think something of his duty to me?

ANSWER: I wish I could tell you how to lead such a balky lover to the altar, for he is evidently bridal shy and has no notion of letting you put the matrimonial halter around his neck. The only sensible thing for you to do is just to face the bitter truth that the young man has lost his affection for you and has no intention whatever of ever marrying you. Men in love do not act as he is doing. They don't put off the wedding day and talk vaguely about marrying some time in the distant future. They hurry it up. Somehow, some way, you have lost your allure for him and he no longer desires you. That is the explanation of his conduct.

Familiarity Can Kill Love

It is a hard thing to keep the love light burning for seven years. Women sometimes do, but men rarely accomplish the feat and it is doubtful if anything but a sense of duty causes many men to fulfil a marriage engagement that has lasted that long. The wear and tear of life can wear romance to tatters even more before marriage than it does afterward. Familiarity can rob a sweetheart of her glamour and turn her into a commonplace companion, and a man can come to resent the domination of the girl friend just as much as he can of the woman to whom he is married.

More than once in this column I have warned girls against the men whose attentions are without intentions. A girl is foolish to waste her time waiting on a man who cannot even see the wedding day through a telescope.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a sister, 34 years old; a good-looking woman, has a good job, dresses well, has a car and a bank account. She is the very neatest and most orderly person in the world and the most systematic. A man of her own age wants to marry her. He is a widower with four children who do not know what it means to mind anyone. He has no property, no system, never knows where any of his belongings are, always hunting for his golf clubs, pipes, cigarettes, etc. He tells my sister that he needs a woman like her to bring up his children. Should she marry him? MISS T. J.

ANSWER: Not unless she feels a call to martyrdom. There are no people more antagonistic to each other or who get more on each other's nerves than the orderly and disorderly.

A slovenly husband and a neat wife never understand each other and are never able to adjust their different points of view. The man can't see why his wife is forever sweeping and scrubbing, and why she raises a row about newspapers and cigaret ashes being scattered over the floor. He thinks she is nagging when she reminds him to hang up his coat and his hat. And to the woman the man who is a scatterer is a perpetual thorn in the flesh. His ways aggravate her beyond endurance and his shiftlessness is a bone of contention between them.

Another reason why this would be a dangerous marriage is the children: Being a stepmother is the hardest job that any woman ever tackles and no one save a woman with an overwhelming maternal complex should undertake it. To marry a man with four undisciplined children is to let oneself into purgatory.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have undoubtedly the most thoughtful, generous, sweet, adorable sweetheart on earth. The one and only fault he has is that he never says he loves me. He has said so, of course, but he doesn't rave over me. He says the reason he doesn't is because he can't find the right words. Do you think I am foolish to worry over this one thing?

PAM

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: One thing your sweetheart must lack, and that is brains, if he still wants to marry a girl who is silly enough to make herself miserable because he isn't always telling her he loves her when he proves it in every possible way. In love, actions speak louder than words.

To End Annoying Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

Here is the well known old recipe which thousands of housewives have found to be a dependable means of breaking up winter coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs very little, but it does give quick relief.

Pour this into a 16 ounce bottle and fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made with 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup water, stirred until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's easy. (Or use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Thus you make 16 ounces of medicine, and you get four times as much for your money. It never spoils and children love its taste.

This home mixture soothes the irritated throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the phlegm and eases soreness promptly.

Seven Children Guinea Pigs In Food Tests

CAMBRIDGE, England (Reuters). — Seven children — sons and daughters of Cambridge University scientists—are acting as human guinea pigs in feeding tests which will determine whether it is safe to eat plants treated with new insecticides.

The youngsters eat strawberries, raspberries, spinach, lettuce and other produce sprayed with insect-killing chemicals.

These chemicals are absorbed by the plants and kill plant lice which feed on the sap.

To make sure the treated plants are safe for human consumption, the scientists first feed them to the rabbits. If the rabbits stay healthy, the scientists themselves try the plants. And finally, they feed them to their children.

"Feeding the plants to our children is the most satisfactory way of convincing farmers and gardeners the insecticides are safe," said Dr. Walter Ripper, head of Cambridge's insecticide development team.

Directions

Some of you are old hands at cooking brisket beef and could add some priceless ideas to this column today.

(If you who have an idea that I could use have time, do sit down and write to me; any ideas on brisket cooking would be welcome.)

Brisket is a cut that can be bought economically. It has flavour. It has plenty of possibilities, but it is no cut of meat for amateurs to handle without some advice.

It is cut from the front of the beef carcass at the lower edge of the upper ribs. The front point is called brisket point and is 50 per cent fat—but when trimmed it is put in brine for 10 or 30 days and is then the corned beef you know well. It is often rolled first for this purpose.

The part of the brisket behind the point is called the plate. It is usually two-thirds or three-quarters lean. It is excellent rolled and corned if your butcher will do it for you.

Our menus today call for the brisket point and it makes the base for three delicious meals.

Boiled Beef With Horseradish Sauce

Put a four-pound brisket point in 3 quarts boiling water with ½ bay leaf, 2 whole cloves, 1 cut peeled clove garlic, 1 small onion sliced, 2 finely cut stalks celery, 1 tablespoon each sugar and vinegar, 2 teaspoons salt, and when it boils, cover it and reduce heat and simmer 4 hours. For first meal remove meat to hot platter for slicing and pass

Horseradish Sauce

Melt 1 tablespoon butter in top of double boiler and stir into it 1¼ teaspoons salt and 1 tablespoon flour and shake of pepper. Stir in 1 cup hot milk and ¼ to ½ cup drained bottled horseradish and stir until thick and hot.

Homemade Vegetable Soup

Let the brisket broth cool overnight and in morning skim off the fat saving it for tomorrow's Yorkshire pudding dinner. Bring the skimmed broth to boiling point and add ¼ cup each barley and lentils, 1 cup tomatoes, and 1 cup carrot dice. Taste this for pepper and salt. Boil until barley is tender. To make the soup finish faster the barley and lentils may be soaked overnight.

For the third meal I had a little of the brisket leftover. So I heated it in the top of the double boiler with 2 tablespoons water. With the Yorkshire Pudding it seemed like more than it was.

Yorkshire Pudding

One cup flour, ½ teaspoon each salt and baking powder, 2 eggs, 2 cups milk. Beat eggs, beat in milk, then sift together dry ingredients and beat them in. Let stand 1 hour. Have ready hot roasting pan with sizzling hot fat in it, about 1-3 cup. Pour in Yorkshire Pudding and bake at 450 deg. Fahr. for 25 minutes. Cut into squares to serve. Pass very hot Beef Gravy made from remaining leftover beef fat skimmed from brisket broth.

Paris Celebrates 200 Anniversary During This Year

PARIS — (AP) — Paris will celebrate the 2,000th anniversary of its founding this year, whether the historians agree or not.

Julius Caesar, the objectors assert, referred to the city of Lutetia Parisiorim (now simplified to Paris) as existing in 53 BC. They claim it must have been founded much earlier than that.

Whatever the exact date, everyone is agreed that the Ile de la Cite (where Notre Dame stands today) was the birthplace of Paris. It still is the geographical heart of the city.

There, on the largest of three marshy islands embraced by two arms of the River Seine, the first huts were built of willow branches and rushes by savages.

Then the empire-building Romans came and for four centuries the infant Paris remained in relative obscurity.

Years of Misery

When the Romans left, Paris embarked on a succession of wars, pestilences and miseries.

In the 14th century, while France was waging its 100 Years War with England, Paris was still unpaved.

Several French kings then and later helped embellish the capital. They were Saint Louis, Charles V, Francois I, Louis XII and Louis XIV.

But as new features were added others were destroyed.

Wars between Roman Catholics and Protestants succeeded the 100 Year War.

Huguenot Massacre

In 1572 Paris turned one of the bloodiest pages of its history. Two-thousand Huguenot Protestants were put to the sword on order of the mad King Charles IX in the massacre of Saint Bartholomew's Eve.

Eighteen years later, amidst wild rejoicings, a Protestant king—Henry IV of Navarre—rode into Paris.

City planning really took strides under Louis XV.

At that time, too, Paris was getting its first reputation as a city of light morals. But the people were preparing revolution.

A mob stormed the Bastille—that dreaded fortress - prison where men were chained for years in dungeons without trial on a simple order from the king—July 14, 1789.

The early victories of a young general called Napoleon Bonaparte—who became a consul, then an emperor—brought a certain stability back to Paris. He started building the Arch of Triumph but was toppled from the throne before it was finished.

After Waterloo, a Bourbon king (Louis XVIII) was king of France once more.

Paris Seething

Fifteen years later all Paris was seething. The last Bourbon king, Charles IX, was thrown out after bloody rioting and dull Louis-Philippe of the House of Orleans became the "Citizen King," a constitutional monarch.

In 1848, barricades again were thrown across the streets. Louis-Philippe hastily abdicated.

The Second Empire

Paris knew four uneasy years of turmoil under the second republic before another change. Then Napoleon III, great-nephew of Napoleon, founded the Second Empire in 1852.

Always haunted by his fear of the Paris mob, he wanted wide, straight avenues and open squares so the populace could be controlled with his cannon in the event of riots. An area was laid out around the first Napoleon's Arch of Triumph as a star-shaped space from which eight boulevards radiated. Churches and theatres, city parks and new bridges, were constructed.

But the war shadow fell again in 1870 when Bismarck's Prussians marched. The French army was destroyed and Napoleon III was taken prisoner.

Finally, spike-helmeted Prussians stomped down the Champs Elysees—a march they were to repeat 70 years later under Hitler. The once-gay Paris was a city of the dead.

Thousands Executed

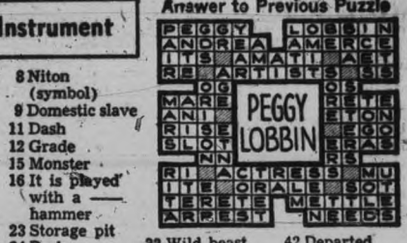
When the Prussians withdrew, the revolutionary government of the Commune held sway. Thousands were executed within its few months rule, before the Third Republic gained control.

The closing years of the century saw Paris gay again.

Twice Paris was threatened directly by German advances of 1914 and 1918. On the first occasion, with the enemy armies close to the Marne, the little red taxicabs drove reinforcements to the battle.

In the Second World War, Paris was a sullen, defeated city, until the day of liberation Aug. 25, 1944.

Now, with conditions almost normal, Parisians are worried that another war may make a new page in their city's stormy history.



But celebrations plans are going ahead. Fetes, pageants, balls, illuminations are all being prepared.

Film Board Makes Toronto Movie

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

In the National Film Board's 10-minute film entitled "Toronto —Boom Town," those wild scenes on the trading floor of the Toronto Stock Exchange are the real thing, scenes enacted many times in the present bull market.

The Film Board camera men, when they came to the Exchange part, were prepared to put in special actors if it happened to be a dull day. But when they arrived Canada had just freed her dollar, and, decidedly, no actors were needed.

Background is given to the Exchange scenes by flashes of the big Canadian industries whose shares are being bought and sold in the hectic sessions.

For the rest, the film gives a good idea of Toronto today—resembling, along its main artery, Yonge Street, a combination of mining camp, oil-field, and wild west shenanigans, thanks to its abuilding subway and night clubs.

And if you don't like the city any better as "Toronto—Boom Town" than as "Toronto, the Good'—well, the film has the old vaudeville gag about the man who spent a dollar a week in Toronto one Sunday.

Wholesalers Defended

R. A. H. Taylor, of New Liskeard, hardware executive and a director of the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating, has a word to say in explanation and defence of the place of the wholesaler in the community.

In a guest editorial in the Pipeline, published by the Institute, he comments:

The wholesaler makes possible the funnelling of many products to a single customer and the disbursal of quantities of a single product to a large number of customers. The geographical barrier of distance between producers and consumers has been overcome by the wholesaler and his local stocks.

Despite this substantial contribution, the wholesaler has labored under the stigma of the term "middle man." In some trades he is looked on by the public as a virtual parasite who contributes only to the end cost of the product. It is difficult for the public to see that the wholesale discount is more than offset by the tangible services the wholesaler renders.

The average person has no conception of the investment in inventory, equipment and manpower required to perform these services. It is not generally understood that distribution through wholesalers is the most economical method of getting goods from producer to consumer.

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 — (CP). — An increase in production of tree fruits in Ontario this year was predicted Tuesday by G. F. Perkin, Commissioner of Marketing for the Ontario Agriculture Department. In an address to the annual convention of the Canadian Horticultural Council, he also forecast stronger consumer demand and higher prices for all fruits.

With the exception of grapes and strawberries, the production of every fruit crop in Ontario in 1950 was less than in 1949.

Clock Made In Copenhagen Most Accurate Timepiece

By CHARLES CROOT

COPENHAGEN — (Reuters) — The world's most accurate clock, which will gain only four-tenths of a second in three centuries, is nearly ready to be installed in the town hall here.

The lifework of Jens Olsen, who died before it was completed, the clock weighs four tons and has more than 110,000 different parts.

The clock in Strasbourg Cathedral, hitherto regarded as the world's finest, has an inaccuracy of eight seconds in 100 years.

The Jens clock contains 12 main sections. The main dial, in the centre, shows the time on a 12-hour face as understood by the man-in-the-street.

If he should not be satisfied with the answer in the man-made division of the day into 24 hours, (local mean time), Jens Olsen's clock will give it to him in sidereal time—the time as measured by the stars. A day and night measured in sidereal time is slightly shorter than a man-made 24-hour day.

Another dial gives the hour in solar time—the time as measured by the sun.

The three times are slightly different from each other and the differences, although unimportant in normal usage, are virtually important to navigators plotting their positions by observations of the position of the sun or stars.

Elsewhere on the clock can be read off the local mean time in nearly every part of the world.

Other Features

The Olsen clock also shows:

1. The time of sunset and sunrise each day.
2. The date: the date of the month, the name of the day, the name of the month and year. The mechanism operating this takes leap year into account and includes a wheel which takes 400 years to revolve around its axis. The fastest rotating wheel takes 10 seconds to complete one revolution and the slowest takes 26,000 years.
3. Positions of the main stars. The mechanism here has to be adjusted every 3,000 years to take accumulating minor corrections into account.
4. The relative positions of the sun, earth and moon.
5. Eclipses of the sun.

The clock is governed by a specially made electric mechanism.

Danish watchmakers describe the clock as "the eighth wonder of the world."

Senate Studies New Pipeline Company Set-up

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP) — A bill to incorporate a new pipeline company to pipe gas from Alberta's Drumheller fields to serve most cities as far east as Montreal was given second reading in the Senate Tuesday.

Explaining the measure for incorporation of the Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Company Limited, Senator Paul Bouffard (L—Quebec) said the company planned a 2,200-mile pipeline eastward to serve the main cities on the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railway lines.

These would include Toronto, Ottawa and Hull, as well as Montreal and the cost would be "at least $250,000,000."

Answering a question by Senator W. Rupert Davies (L-Ontario), if piping of the gas would lower gas prices in Ontario, Senator Bouffard said it was expected there would be a price reduction, but it was hard to say how much.

The bill was sent to a committee for further study.

To Sell Stock

Senator Bouffard said the company planned to finance itself by the sale of 5,000,000 shares of stock at $1 a share and through sale of bonds and debentures.

A proportion was being financed with U.S. capital, but he could not say what the division was between U.S. and Canadian capital.

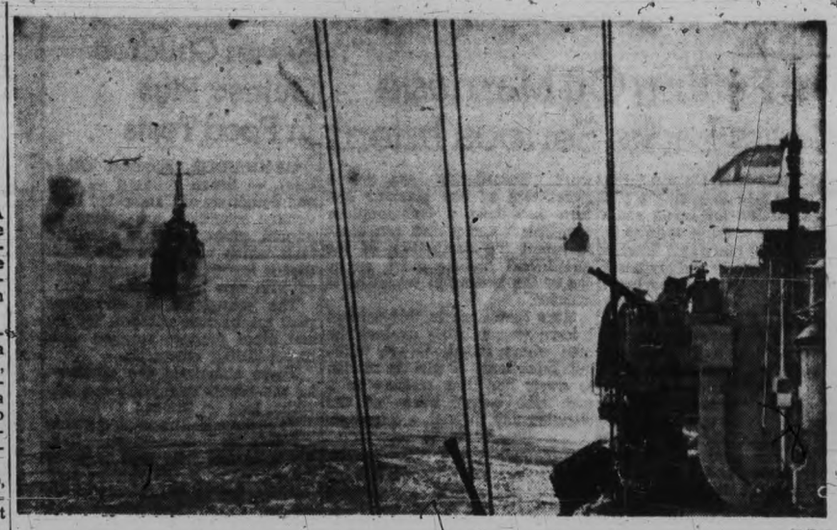
The proposed pipeline would have a capacity of 365,000,000 cubic feet of oil a day which could be increased to a maximum of 500,000,000 cubic feet and the gas would be sold through established distributing agencies in the various cities. Thus there would be no question of competition with established distributors.

Two Men Killed As Car Hits Pole

SIMCOE, Feb. 14 (CP)—Ashleigh Reid, 30, of Simcoe, and Donald Galbraith, 25, of Delhi, Ont., were killed Tuesday night when their cars crashed into a double telephone pole on No. 6 highway about two miles north of Jarvis.

The car had apparently been headed south, about 30 miles south of Hamilton, when it hit the shoulder of the road, skidded back across the highway and crashed into the pole. Reid, an accountant, was killed instantly and Galbraith, an auto dealer, died a few minutes after the crash.

Empire Press Union Given New Name



LONDON, Feb. 14—(Reuters)—The Empire Press Union Tuesday changed its name to Commonwealth Press Union and at the same time added "Defence of Press Freedom" to its official aims.

This was unanimously agreed to at an extraordinary general meeting at which the vice-chairman of the union, Maj.-Gen. Lord Burnham, presided, supported by the founder, Sir Harry Brittain.

The meeting was attended by representatives of member newspapers in Britain, the Dominions, India, and the Colonies.

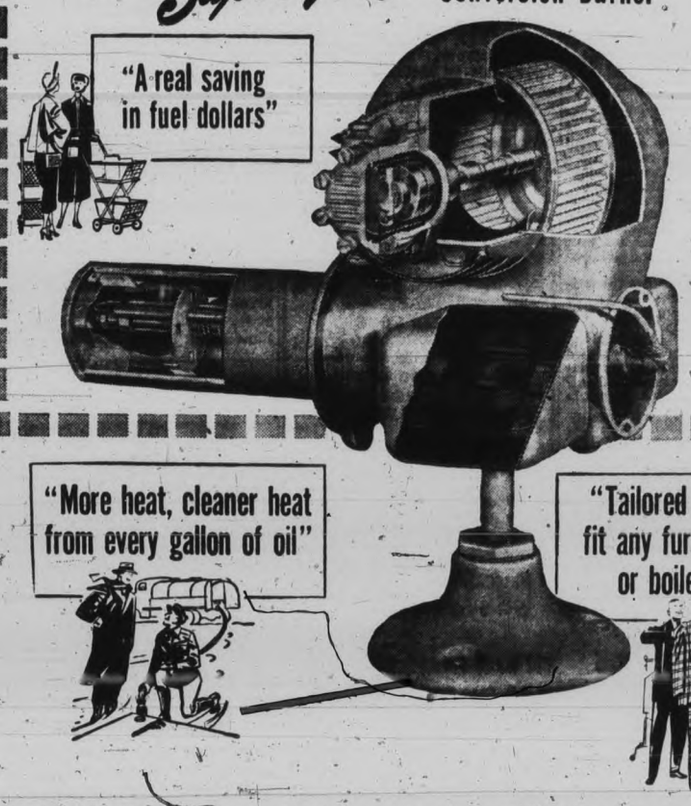
Snowfighter King Has Retired In B.C.

VANCOUVER —(CP)— Vancouver's "King of the Snowfighters" has retired.

Michael (Big Mike) Abrahamson was Canadian National Railways roadmaster and a colorful figure through 46 years of railroading in BC.

Mr. Abrahamson was born in Mandal, Norway. He worked as a laborer when the Canadian Northern was built through the Rockies and BC. By the time the steel hit Vancouver, he was roadmaster.



His biggest fight came a year ago when big slides tumbled into the Fraser Canyon near Boston Bar. He worked almost without sleep for 10 days before the slide was cleared.

Strike Finished At 94 Schools

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 14 (AP) — Minneapolis' 94 public schools, closed since Jan. 23 by a strike, were reopened today and some 63,000 pupils were expected to resume their studies.

Classes were scheduled Tuesday. Instead, picketing union teachers marched about schools in support of their demand for a pay raise higher than the $100 annual increase offered by the school board.

The impasse was settled late Tuesday by Governor Luther W. Youngdahl, who assured the instructors he would intervene with Minnesota legislators in an effort to gain more financial support for the city's schools.

Janitors started the walkout last month with their pay demands, and the teaching staff later joined in the strike. The maintenance men agreed to accept pay boosts of $12.50 to $22.50 a month granted Monday by the board.

But when the teachers set up picket lines, the janitors kept only enough heat in the buildings Tuesday to prevent freezing of water pipes. Some teachers showed up but were thwarted by cold classrooms.

TURIN, Italy, Feb. 14 (Reuters) —The author of an article considered offensive to the Pope and the owner of a magazine which published it were each sentenced Tuesday night to a year's imprisonment. Says Chinese Soldiers Entered North India

NEW DELHI, Feb. 14 —(AP)— Prime Minister Nehru told the Indian parliament today that "certain Chinese soldiers" entered North Assam but now have left the area, which China long has claimed.

Nehru said it was possible the troops did not know they were on Indian soil.

The prime minister said also that, according to infwormation available to his government, Red Chinese forces in Tibet have made no major advance since their original penetration last October. That initial drive carried the main invading force to Chamdo, main caravan centre 370 airlines miles east of the capital, Lhasa.

Religion In Home Subject Of Talk

MILLBROOK, Feb. 14 (ENS). —Mrs. H. J. Parnall of Peterborough was the special speaker at the February meeting of the Home and School Association on Monday night. She took as her topic "Religion in the Home, the School and the Church." She stressed that the hours spent in school and in Sunday School were short in comparison to those spent in the home. It is in the home a child must be taught reverence and tolerance, and the influence of both parents is necessary. She said that while the teaching of religion in school had at first been a controversial matter, it had been found to be most successful.

Mrs. A. W. Nelson, district chairman, spoke on the founder of the Home and School movement and conducted a candle lighting service in memory of Mrs. A. C. Courtice. Mrs. Nelson lighted the candle in honor of the founder, Mrs. Bruce Ingham the one for parents and teachers of Millbrook Home and School Association, and Mrs. Percy Hamilton the one for childhood. Bobby Hamilton gave the reading for the child. At the conclusion, Mrs. Lawrence Winslow sang "My Task," accompanied at the piano by Beverley Patton. Mrs. Herbert Patton gave a short talk on publications.

Mr. J. A. Powell moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Parnall. The minutes and correspondence were read by Mrs. M. E. Hobbs, corresponding secretary. Refreshments were served by Miss Ellen Kent and her committee, assisted by some of the men.

Six Members Added To Lakefield Guild

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 14 (ENS)— Mrs. Grace Stuart presided for the February meeting of the Parish Guild of St. John the Baptist Anglican Church.

Mrs. Stuart expressed sympathy for Mrs. L. Quackenbush, the president, who broke her wrist in a fall last week, and was unable to be present.

Mrs. W. O'Brien, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting and gave the report of the vestry meeting.

Plans were discussed for the bazaar for next December. The Rev. L. Delaney gave a talk on family prayer.

Chamber Joins Tourist Body

Affiliation of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce with the Canadian Tourist Association was approved at the meeting of the directors Tuesday.

This decision to join the national organization was a result of a letter by P. D. Scollard from D. R. Oliver, secretary-treasurer of the CTA asking that the local chamber become a member.

Mr. Oliver stated his intention of recommending to his executive committe that James Fraser, manager of the Peterborough Chamber serve on this body once it is established.

Allied Artillery Breaks Back Of Huge Communist Drive

UK Target for Reds With No A-Bombs Churchill Declares

LONDON, Feb. 15—(CP)—Winston Churchill, in a bitter attack on the government's defence planning, said today Britain has been made a target of Soviet attack by the creation of an "American atomic base" in Eastern England. He scored the government for having failed to produce atomic bombs in Britain since the end of the war, and was promptly accused by Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell of "giving satisfaction to the enemy."

Churchill was speaking in the House of Commons on the final day of a two-day debate on defence which will be climaxed tonight by a vote on his motion expressing doubt in the government's ability to carry out its £4,700,000,000 defence program.

He said the government was daily guilty of "ineptitude and incompetence" which extended to the military as well as the civil field.

Sure of Victory

Labor whips were reported to have told Prime Minister Attlee they were fairly sure they could avoid a defeat on the Churchill censure motion which could force a general election.

In his attack, Churchill said the placing of the iron and steel industry under state control, effective today, intensified Britain's problems in a time of international crisis.

"Evidences and examples of the ineptitude and incompetence of the government are brought almost daily glaringly before us.

"We are convinced that the mismanagement exhibited in civil and domestic affairs extends also to the military field and that that is the growing opinion of the nation."

Churchill described the government's present target of £4,700,000,000 of defence spending in the next three years as "an afterthought and reconsideration of the facts."

He said this was typical of the failure of the Attlee regime to see ahead.

"The government gives nothing but words, declarations, projects and schemes which seem to indicate impressive action. Alas, it is mainly on paper.

"With the control they have demanded over our manpower and the vast sums of money voted so constantly by the House, it should have been possible to produce a substantial and efficient army.

Wants Agreement Revealed

"They have produced so few tactical units that when the Korea trouble broke out and it was necessary for us to send a token force, it took over three months to produce even a brigade group."

The Conservative leader renewed a demand for Attlee to make public the wartime agreement Churchill signed with the United States and Canada on development of atomic energy. He said Britain now is free to make its own A-bombs and should be doing so in self-defence.

Farm Federation Asks Cabinet Curb Inflation

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP)—Canada's organized farmers told the government today that increased inflation is a danger, and urged every means be taken to block it before it chews up still more of a shrinking consumer dollar.

In a wide-ranging, 6,000-word brief, the 400,000-member Canadian Federation of Agriculture emphasized, however, that there must be no discrimination if the government decides to wield price controls as an anti-inflationary weapon. No group should be exempt.

The brief was prepared for presentation to Prime Minister St. Laurent and his cabinet by H. H. Hannam, C.F.A. president, and a delegation of federation directors.

In view of grave international events, it declared intention of Canadian farmers to dig in and produce to the utmost in the event of another world war.

Meanwhile, the farmer was besieged with a host of domestic, as well as international problems, and among these the federation appealed to the cabinet to consider:

1. Whether the board of transport commissioners, in allowing recent freight-rate increases, was fulfilling the functions and responbilities bestowed on it by parliament.

2. Requests for floor-price increases for butter, eggs and bacon, and boosts in the domestic price of wheat to keep farm prices more in line with rising production costs.

3. Inclusion of federal subsidies on the movement of western feed grains in the government's permanent agricultural policy.

4. A "substantial" federal contribution to the final payment under the five-year-wheat pool.

Most of the recommendations grew out of resolutions adopted at the federation's annual meeting in Calgary several weeks ago.

Nootka Has Baptism Of Fire

A UNITED STATES NAVAL BASE IN SOUTH JAPAN, Feb. 15—(CP)—The Canadian destroyer Nootka is back at this United Nations naval base after her first baptism of fire in the Korean war.

The tribal-class ship under command of Cmdr. A. B. Fraser-Harris of Halifax, arrived in Japan Jan. 14 as a relief for the destroyer Sioux, now back in Canada. She sailed a short time later for the West Coast of Korea and things started popping.

On her first patrol, with the destroyer Cayuga, she engaged in a gun duel with Red shore batteries at the Korean port of Inchon.

Then she guarded the approaches to Inchon while Cayuga remained in the hostile harbor with the British cruiser Ceylon and a United States task group providing gunfire support for approaching U.N. armies.

During sea patrol off Inchon, Nootka spotted and destroyed a mine and rescued a Royal Navy flier from the carrier H.M.S. Theseus who was forced to ditch his plane close to her. The pickup was accomplished in four minutes. The flier was unhurt.

6 Divisions In Europe Truman Plan

Marshall Announces Scheme Involves Sending 100,000 Men

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—(AP) Truman administration plans call for six United States Army divisions — triple the American forces now in Europe—to serve with the combined Allied armies being organized for the defence of Western Europe against possible Communist aggression.

Defence Secretary Marshall gave the figure, which means sending over four additional divisions, to the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees today. He said he did it "reluctantly" but in belief it was better than to have a debate over uncertainties.

Under questioning from Senator Lyndon Johnson (Dem. Tex.), Marshall said the movement of four more combat divisions to Europe would involve the sending of about 100,000 men there.

He said 72,000 fighting men would make up four divisions at full strength, and that "about 20,000 or 25,000" supporting troops would be needed in addition to those already in Europe.

An American army division consists of about 18,000 men. In addition, support elements—supply and maintenance, communication, transportation and other units—are needed to keep combat forces in a state of readiness.

The US now has in Europe the 1st Infantry Division and a constabulary force—equivalent to a 2nd division—trained and equipped for field combat, yet the last official indication of troop strength in Europe was about 97,000 men. Thus more than 60,000 men of the present force presumably are in support elements.

Study Resolution

The Senate committees are considering whether Congress should adopt a resolution of some nature concerning the "Troops-to-Europe" issue.

In ripping the top-secret label off this much of the government's blueprint for defending Western Europe, Marshall emphasized that the aim of the forces is to keep the peace.

He said the intention is:

1—"To deter aggression if that be possible, and

Four Decapitated

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Feb. 15—(Reuters)—A small plane decapitated four persons when it dipped in a farewell salute at the Paraguay Encarnacion airport, according to press reports reaching here today. The four were friends, who came to bid farewell to a lieutenant of the Paraguayan Air Force.

Pilot Killed Near Ottawa In Test Flight

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP)—FO Jack A. Ryan, 29, DFC, of Toronto and Ottawa, was killed Wednesday in the crash of a plane used for supersonic research.

"It was a little after noon," said Alphonse McKenna, an eye-witness, "that I heard a plane flying overhead. I didn't pay much attention until I heard a terrific bang and when I looked up I saw an airplane break apart in the air."

Ryan's body was found late Wednesday — after a six-hour search—in dense bush near Dwyer Hill, Ont., 26 miles southwest of Ottawa. His parachute was still in his pack on his shoulders.

McKenna said he saw one portion of the experimental Mustang fighter plane veer away to the northern section of the woodland and another section drop straight down. With a team of horses and a sleigh, he went to both places but found only a few pieces of metal scattered about.

Ryan was making a test flight from the National Research Council experimental centre at Arnprior. The single-seat plane, known as the "flying wing tunnel," has a modification in its wings which causes air to flow over the wing surface at speeds faster than sound.

40 Searchers

The crash occurred 15 miles northeast of Smiths Falls and some 40 rescue workers from that area took part in the ground search. Six RCAF planes and a helicopter which engaged in an unsuccessful six-hour search by air dropped snowshoes to searchers on the ground.

Thirteen-year-old Lloyd Raymond who saw the crash, said later: "I saw a plane around the noon hour with smoke coming from its tail. It went into a dive and then I saw it crash into the bush."

A research council official said cause of the crash is a mystery but he was certain the experimental nature of the plane had nothing to do with it.

It was reported that Ryan was making a final test flight before returning home to celebrate the birthday of daughter Linda Susan. She is one year old today.

Treat India Carefully U.S. Decides

Country Possesses Three-Quarters Of World's Thorium

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 — (AP)—Here's one hush-hush reason for the policy American leaders describe as patience and kindness toward India:

India has three-quarters of the world's supply of thorium, a mineral that may become tremendously important in the atomic race with the Soviet union, and the United States government doesn't want to risk letting this supply fall into unfriendly hands.

The whole subject is shrouded in secrecy, but one government official, who asked not to be quoted by name, acknowledged today that India's possession of all this potential atomic material has had its effect on American policy.

It may well have influenced President Truman's request — endorsed in principle by former President Herbert Hoover and various other leading Republicans—for a gift of 2,000,000 tons of wheat to the government of India to help avert the danger of famine.

"While the main intent is to respond to the appeal on behalf of the people of India," the government source told a reporter, "it cannot be denied that India's mineral wealth also was taken into consideration."

Thorium itself is not a fissionable material— that is, it isn't capable of producing atomic energy. But by the use of another mineral—the A-bomb substance, uranium-235—it can be changed into fissionable U-233, which also can be used for weapons as well as for non-military purposes.

Since Second World War days, the figures on American imports of thorium have not been announced. But Atomic Energy Commission sources said almost two years ago that thorium might become important to their program in the future, particularly if the "breeder" reactor proves successful.

Bevin Plans Holiday

LONDON, Feb. 15—(Reuters)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, recovering from pneumonia, plans to go away for convalescence next week. A Foreign Office spokesman said today that no details had yet been fixed for the vacation. Bevin has been conducting foreign office business from his home for some time, and has been receiving visitors.

Discuss Plan For Pooling Men And Guns

PARIS, Feb. 15 — (AP. — Representatives of five European governments — including West Germany—conferred here today on a French-sponsored plan for pooling men, guns, ships and planes in on big European army.

The plan, originated by French Premier Rene Pleven, won the endorsement of Italy Wednesday following a three-day French-Italian conference on the Riviera.

The unified European army would come under one defence minister with a single general staff of officers to command it. The idea is to pool European fighting resources in much the same manner as the Schuman plan would pool coal and steel.

The first assignment for such a force would be to make its armed strength available to Gen. Eisenhower's Atlantic Alliance command.

So far individual countries have pledged Eisenhower only about a dozen divisions.

Send Observers

The countries represented at th conference in addition to France and West Germany are Italy, Belgium and Luxembourg. Five other powers invited to join in the plan — Britain, Norway, Denmark, The Netherlands, and Portugal — agreed only to send observers. Canada and the United States also will have observers on hand.

Germany will have soldiers in the proposed European army, but it will not have its own separate military organization or defence ministry. France broached the plan to overcome the problem of getting the Germans back into uniform to help fend off Communist aggression without running the danger of creating another German military machine.

Success or failure of the French plan may depend on the British attitude. Precedent does not indicate that Britain's Labor Government will be enthusiastic. It has been cool toward the Schuman coal-steel pooling plan and ignored steps toward federalization of Europe.

Relief Column Slashes Way Through Reds To UN Troops At Chipyong

Enemy Casualties Reported To Be 100,000 Since January 25 Push Began; Say Four Divisions Wiped Out In Four Days

TOKYO, Feb. 15—(AP)—An Allied relief column smashed through a Chinese Red ring today to reinforce American and French forces holding the Chipyong anchor on the central Korean warfront. The relief force battled eight hours before breaking through to the Chipyong perimeter at 5.30 p.m. (3.30 a.m. EST). The action began five miles south-southwest of the town. The hard-hit Chinese finally broke and ran.

Chipyong, 35 air miles east-southeast of Seoul, is the left flank anchor of a 20-mile Allied defence line stretching over snow-mantled hills and valleys to Wonju, key to the central mountain passes.

The American-French garrison withstood two days of massed Red infantry assaults to help break the back of the drive aimed at cracking the central front. The Communist push was stopped Wednesday.

Red casualties were counted at 10,593 on all fronts Wednesday. It brought to nearly 100,000 those killed, wounded or captured since the allied limited push began Jan. 25.

Chinese Fleeing

AP correspondent John Randolph reported the Chipyong garrison radioed that the Chinese were "fleeing in all directions" after the relief column rammed through from the south.

However, AP correspondent William J. Waugh reported more than 1,000 Reds were dug in on high ground north of the town.

On the western front, U.S. soldiers and artillery wiped out 400 Chinese who sneaked across the Han River Wednesday night near Seoul.

It was the second consecutive and disastrous Red attempt to cross the icy stream near the burned-out former capital. More than 1,100 Korean Reds were killed there in a foray early Wednesday.

Elsewhere on the frigid front, allied forces were making limited counter-attacks. AP correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported American troops, attacking with hand grenades, took high ground northeast of Yyongan, 17 miles southeast of Seoul.

Front-line United Nations officers, claiming victory "at the moment," said four Red divisions were wiped out or shattered in the four-day Communist effort

CCF Member Plans Discuss Federal Union

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP). — A CCF member of the Commons today informed the house he is going to raise the subject of federal union of the free world.

Alistair Stewart (CCF-Winnipeg North) placed on the order paper notice of a resolution that the government consider meeting with other North Atlantic Treaty nations to explore federal union within the framework of the United Nations.

The resolution suggests that the delegates to such a conference should include leaders of all the principal political parties in the various countries.

A similar resolution was sponsored by Senator W. D. Euler (L-Ontario) in the Senate last year, and was approved.

Nothing Done

However, nothing further was done about it and Senator Euler said in an interview recently that "it is a pity that the resolution is not being taken up in the Commons by some member."

The idea of federal union has gained headway in the United States.

Under the scheme, a parliament would be established which would direct defence, foreign policy and trade among the member nations. A direct link would be established between this super-parliament and the citizens of individual countries through a voting system.

3,500 Strikers Paralyze Plant

GLASGOW, Feb 15—(Reuters)—Work stopped at the big Rolls Royce aero engine factory here today when 3,500 workers went on strike in protest against the dismissal of two union officials.

Production at the factory, vital in the present arms drive, had already been held up by the refusal of engineers to work overtime. They are claiming more pay.

The Glasgow plant is one of two huge Rolls Royce units now turning out the latest type of jet engines. Many of the world's air forces are supplied with jet engines from the plant.

Arrest Bronx Couple In Assassination Plot

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP) — U.S. secret service agents Wednesday arrested a Bronx couple in whose home the government charges the abortive plot to assassinate President Truman last Nov. 1 was hatched.

The couple, John Correa, 43, and his wife, Mary, were charged with obstruction of justice. Bail was fixed at $12,500 for Mrs Correa and $15,000 for her husband.

Ontario Legislature Restores "Pairing"

TORONTO, Feb. 15 — (CP) — "Pairing" — the voting arrangement whereby each member of a political party is coupled with a member of another party and neither votes in the other's absence— will be restored to the Ontario Legislature, Premier Leslie Frost said Wednesday.

Popular in Ottawa, pairing allows an ill member to absent himself from the Legislature knowing party strength will remain balanced if a vote is called.

Premier Frost said that since many members were ill with influenza, the device was being adopted to allow ill members to stay at home rather than attend sessions and possibly spread the flu.

Railway Strike Facing Britain

LONDON, Feb. 15 (AP) — Britain's Labor government, plagued by a surge of labor unrest faced a new strike threat Wednesday night from workers on its nationalized railways.

Executive boards of two of the main railway unions said they had turned down an arbitration court award which would have given the bulk of the country's 614,000 railwaymen an average wage increase of about five per cent.

The unions had asked for a 10-per-cent over-all wage boost. The minimum wage for railway workers is 92 shillings a week.

400 Fishermen Marooned On Ice Flow Out In Lake

BUFFALO, Feb. 15—(AP)—Several hundred fishermen were reported marooned today on a drifting Lake Erie ice floe, and the Coast Guard launched a rescue operation. There was no indication they were in immediate danger. A Coast Guard spokesman said the cutter Cherry, two ice boats and a helicopter were sent out shortly before noon.

Boatswain Hugh M. Brown said 200 to 400 men were "marooned on an ice floe heading out across the lake."

A sudden break in the ice isolated the fishermen 2½ to three miles off shore, Brown said.

Strung Out

The fishermen were strung out from Woodlawn and Sturgeon Point, south of here, to the north entrance to Buffalo harbor.

Commander Marion Amos earlier had dispatched the Cherry to pick up 28 fishermen seen outside the harbor breakwall. The anglers had not signalled distress, but Amos became worried when a 10-mile east wind began breaking up the ice.

The coast guard asked police along the American side of the lake and Ontario Provincial Police on the Canadian side to watch the shoreline closely.

Federal, Provincial Heads Meet Feb. 23 Plan Defence

MONTREAL, Feb. 15 (CP). — Federal and provincial government heads will meet Feb. 23 to discuss mutual civil defence problems, it was learned Wednesday night following a meeting of Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, Federal Co-ordinator of Civil Defence, and members of the executive and advisory board of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

The General's talk with the mayors and representatives of 23 Canadian municipalities was an "off the record" one, but it was learned he indicated Feb. 23 as the date of the meeting for Federal-Provincial talks on the matter. It was not known if the meeting would be in Ottawa.

The board drafted a memorandum on civil defence following opening sessions of the two-day meeting here and concluded by saying that no Canadian centre is adequately and properly defended.

A major topic at the meeting was the determination of the municipalities to learn who would pay the costs of civil defence.

The board also drafted a resolution to ask federal government authorities to stimulate housing construction in the country as an anti-inflationary measure.

"House construction, in a sense is anti-inflationary in character" said the resolution. "It removes from the pool of purchasing power vast sums of money and credit that would otherwise be spent on a wide variety of goods, many in short supply."

Other matters to be discussed with the government include elimination of the federal sales tax on goods purchased by municipalities and federal grants to municipalities in lieu of local taxes on federal property.

7 German Executions Reported Postponed

BONN, Germany, Feb. 15 — (Reuters) — The West German justice ministry today said it had been told by American authorities that the executions of seven German war criminals in Landsberg prison have been postponed.

A spokesman said he did not know why or for how long the stay of sentence had been granted.

Early today about 100 American soldiers with fixed bayonets ringed the grim Bavarian prison. Black-uniformed Polish civilian labor service guards surrounded the prison cemetery.

Eye-witnesses said they saw other German war prisoners digging graves.

The justice ministry spokesman here said the executions were to have taken place early Friday. There had been no American statement of the time of execution.

$437,500 Bubble Bursts For Navy Veteran Will Leaving Him Fortune Can't Be Found

HAYWARD, Calif., Feb. 15—(AP)—H. D. Rife, navy veteran of the Second World War, was on top of the world Wednesday —for a few hours. He was notified a woman he had befriended 11 years ago had willed him $37,500.

But the bubble burst quickly. No one could locate the lawyers who notified him . . . or the woman, or her will.

Rife, 29 and a paint sprayer in a Dodge automobile plant, related:

A New York law firm wrote him that Mrs. Emma Rivers died last July at Ogdensburg, N.Y., and left him a fourth of her estate.

He didn't recognize the name. But he remembered a "little old lady" he met in Long Beach, Calif., while on liberty from the U.S.S. Lexington in 1940. Sitting on benches overlooking the sea, he often talked with her of ships and adventure.

The law firm said Mrs. Rivers never forgot those talks and had traced him through his service serial number.

So the world seemed bright to Rife.

But—

In New York, the law firm couldn't be located. The Bar Association did not list it. At Ogdensburg, records did not list Mrs. Rivers, or her death, or her will, or the probate judge named in the letter to Rife.

Exiled Nepal Monarch Resumes His Throne

NEW DELHI, India, Feb. 15 — (Reuters). — King Tribhuvana, troubled monarch of Nepal, left here today to resume his throne in his capital of Katmandu after more than three months "exile" in India.

He is going back to his throne with the promise from the government of Nepal that wide reforms will be undertaken and the constitution redrafted.

Civil war flared in Nepal, mountainous independent kingdom north of India, when the king fled to India last Nov. 6.

The government forces crowned Tribhuvana's three-year-old grandson king of the country and sent troops against rebel forces of the Nepali Congress, political group which backed the old king.

Congress forces clashed with government troops in several bloody battles and managed to capture three main cities before the tide turned in favor of the government.

Wonder Where Mao's Gone Misses Three Big Functions

HONG KONG, Feb. 15—(AP)—Observers of the China scene began to express curiosity today about the whereabouts of Mao Tse-Tung, Communist Chinese leader.

They noted he had failed to appear at three important functions in the last few days.

Reports in this strategic vantage point said last month that Mao had gone or was going to Moscow to confer with Stalin on the Korean war and other Asiatic developments.

The reports appeared to have been the result of speculation at the Chinese Nationalist capital, Taipei, and were not regarded seriously here at that time.

Mao's last known public appearance in Peiping was Jan. 26, when he attended the celebration of Indian National Day.

The huge Chinese-sponsored celebration of the first anniversary of the Chinese-Soviet treaty signing was held Wednesday night in Peiping. Nearly all the Chinese Communist government and party leaders were reported there, along with all foreign diplomats. But not Mao.

Two hours earlier, Russian ambassador N. V. Roschin gave a cocktail party at the Russian embassy. Reports listed Chinese Red government and party leaders there up to Premier Chou En-lai and Gen. Chu Teh, the Reds' army commander. But not Mao.

Tuesday Hugo Valvanne, Finland's envoy to Red China, was received officially in Peiping, but not by Mao. The honors were done by Li Chi Shen, one of the few non-Communist members of the Red government.

Communist propaganda describing these events did not mention the absence of the Reds' No. 1, but his name was glaringly missing from the lists.

Mao does not always attend such functions. But it was intriguing that he did not appear at any of the Chinese-Soviet treaty celebrations, which received top military-Communists' political-social schedule for the week.

Say Influenza Creeping Into Ontario

By The Canadian Press

An illness variously reported as influenza and bad colds has crept into Ontario, closing some schools and creating absenteeism from factories and offices in some communities.

Similar conditions have appeared elsewhere in Canada. Ninety-two recent deaths in Montreal alone have been attributed to 'flu.

"There is little doubt that the virus has spread from England to the Maritimes, Quebec and finally here," Dr. J. T. Phair, Ontario Deputy Health Minister, said in Toronto. "It appears as though it was brought in from England by passengers on boats and planes."

The second of two primary schools was closed today at Mattawa, 35 miles east of North Bay. At La Cave, site of an Ontario hydro project on the Ottawa River, a dance hall was taken over as an isolation hospital for workmen and children believed suffering from 'flu.

Schools and amusement places were shut down in Haileybury and the possibility of similar action was forecast in New Liskeard, five miles distant, where 160 public school pupils were absent and 57 high school students were reported ill.

Nurses Ill

About six nurses at Memorial Hospital in St. Thomas were reported ill with bad colds and the hospital was closed to visitors. Most of the St. Thomas teachers who were ill earlier have returned to classrooms. Some 10 per cent of pupils and of the St. Thomas labor force were affected by the illness.

Nurses were reported down with 'flu at St. Catharines and school attendance was cut by an estimated 15 per cent. Schools were closed at Fort Erie, Ont.

Many doctors expressed an opinion, however, that a great number of cases were not 'flu. The Toronto Telegram said it polled 25 doctors who told of "dozens" of cases that the public "might well consider influenza but it really isn't the same thing."

Toronto's medical officer of health, Dr. Gordon Jackson, said that Toronto has escaped lightly thus far with only five influenza deaths reported this year.

In Sudbury, health officials forbade visitors at two hospitals due to the discovery of between 300 and 80 cases of a rare type of disease. No deaths have been reported.

In Sarnia, rising absenteeism from schools and industry is attributed to a rare form of influenza, as are similar situations in Cornwall, St. Thomas and Fort Erie.

The provincial health department is investigating the Sudbury, Sarnia and Cornwall outbreaks, but Deputy Minister Dr. J. T. Phair said influenza in Ontario has not reached epidemic proportions nor are outbreaks of mumps, scarlet fever and measles in the province connected with influenza.

Measles Too

In Cobourg, 103 cases of red measles have been found, while many children in the Timmins mining area are suffering with mumps.

Aylmer, near London, Ont., reports four cases of scarlet fever resulting in all new entries to the RCAF Manning pool there being given leave until March 1, when they will be enrolled at St. John's, Que.

The Maritimes are next hardest hit after Montreal, Sydney reporting coal production [illegible] by 1,500 tons a day.

Edmonton hospitals have banned all visitors except in cases where the patient is not expected to recover, and close to 500 students at the University of Alberta are reported suffering from flu'.

In Saskatchewan, Prince Albert authorities said the malady seems on the wane, although some schools still have 32 per cent of their pupils absent and many business firms are working short-handed.

PC's Won't Back Conscription

OTTAWA, Feb. 15—(CP)—The 43-man Progressive Conservative party—official opposition in the Commons—does not intend to support proposals for compulsory military training in Canada's reserve forces. The party's position was outlined Wednesday in the Commons by Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes V.C., veteran of the two world wars and spokesman for the Progressive Conservatives on defence matters. He said he cannot support a motion introduced Monday by the 10-man Social Credit party and calling for compulsory reserve training of young Canadians for home defence.

Amid applause from Liberal, CCF and Progressive Conservative benches, Gen. Pearkes said that compulsory training now would only serve to retard the development of the active forces and "lull the people into a false sense of security."

The wartime commander on Canada's Pacific coast represents the British Columbia constituency of Nanaimo. He said he does believe the government should undertake a national registration of manpower.

But, on the question of compulsory reserve training, he felt this would only draw from the active forces the equipment and instructors needed to bring them to peak efficiency.

Enough Trained

Ray Thomas (SC-Wetaskiwin) said it would not be necessary to withdraw officers and men from the active army to serve as instructors. There were many former officers, unfit for active service, ready and willing to train the reserves. Canada had enough equipment at least to make a start with compulsory training.

Mr. Thomas, a veteran of the Second World War, charged Gen. Pearkes with "skating around" the manpower issue. He recalled that Defence Minister Claxton had stated that defence of Canada was to be the first consideration.

"I agree with that but for goodness sake let us go ahead and do something about it."

Jean Francois Pouliot (L-Temiscouata), recalling that he had broken with the Liberal government over the conscription issue in the Second World War, said he still is opposed to conscription.

Everyone, he said, is ready to defend Canada; everyone is ready to support the army. But this did not mean that members must listen to the Canadian Legion, which has been pressing for adoption of conscription.

Must Be Prepared

Gen. Pearkes said that on the issue of conscription for active service Prime Minister St. Laurent had stated that the government intends to raise the forces by voluntary enlistments. If the international situation deteriorated or voluntary enlistment failed, the government would be prepared to consider other means.

That being the case, said Gen. Pearkes, it is up to all members to try "to further this country's efforts to raise men by the only means that is possible for this country at present, because of the government's decision, namely by voluntary enlistment."

He could, by going about the country making speeches, discourage young men from enlisting for active service and "do something towards sabotaging this country's efforts."

"But I have never been a saboteur or a traitor and I will do nothing of the sort."

Situation Grave

Telling the government that it was starting "too late" to build up Canada's forces, Gen. Pearkes said:

"I believe that the situation is grave and I believe that it is imperative that at the earliest possible opportunity we have in the forces adequate men to meet, within the next few months, a situation that might arise."

Faced with the Social Credit sub-amendment, he was forced to ask himself this question:

"Will having universal compulsory military training for the reserve army, navy and air force help or hinder the government's program to raise 115,000 men for the forces in being?

"I cannot help but come to the conclusion that if the emphasis is to be placed on getting recruits by compulsory means into the reserve forces, then there will have to be a reduction in the effort which is being made to raise and maintain the forces in being."

Besides the question of equipment and instructors, the shortage of accommodation would make it "almost impossible" at present to tackle such a job. It would mean the diverting from defence projects of essential building materials.

Order 50% Cash Payment For New US Construction

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—(CP)—The U.S. Federal Reserve Board Wednesday clamped a 50 per cent cash-down payment requirement—effective today—on construction of new stores, offices, hotels and other non-residential buildings. The order is aimed to combat inflation through a further restriction of credit and to save materials and labor for the defense program.

The same requirement was imposed on repair, enlargement, alteration and reconstruction jobs on existing commercial buildings if the cost of the improvement exceeds 15 per cent of the building's appraised value.

The order says loans must be paid off in 25 years and that amortization is required. This means the principal must be paid of in instalments rather than left for a lump-sum payment at the end of 25 years.

The order covers new construction or major improvements of the following:

"Office buildings, warehouses, stores — including sales-display and service facilities, whether wholesale or retail—banks, hotels, motels, motor courts, garages, automobile service stations, restaurants, theatres, clubs, and other new structures used for non-residential purposes."

There are a number of exemptions, for the benefit of "schools, hospitals, churches, public utilities and property constructed for use by the government or any political subdivision," among others.

City Will Provide Copy Bus Franchise

The charge of $2.60 to Maurice E. Ketcheson for a copy of the bus company franchise is the regular fee provided for in the Ontario Municipal Act.

A letter from Mr. Ketcheson to the finance committee of the council was read to the members by the chairman, Ald. T. D. Miller Monday night.

"Any citizen may read such municipal records by applying to us," City Clerk Outram said. "But if written copies are required, the charge is 10 cents for every 100 words. That is in accordance with the Act."

Mr. Outram's letter to Mr. Ketcheson conveying that information was approved in a motion by Mayor Swanston and Ald. J. E. Gillespie.

to drive down central Korea's rocky spine between Wonju and Chipyong.

French, Dutch, South Korean and American forces checked the Red drive along a 20-mile front of ridges and a wide valley between those two zones. A field dispatch described the scene as "Death Valley."

Meet Violent End

Hundreds more Chinese and North Korean Reds met a violent end in today's fighting on the central front. The breakdown on Red casualties on that front alone Wednesday was 3,075 killed, 2,305 wounded by ground action alone.

Allied planes took an uncounted toll in supporting ground units rolling with the Red punch.

While the fighting continued on the central and western fronts at reduced tempo, South Korean marines secured two small islands commanding Wonsan Harbor far up on the coast of the Sea of Japan.

The east coast landings were made Wednesday on Cho and Rei Islands, some 90 air miles north of Parallel 38 and about 130 miles north on the mainland, but U.S. naval officials said Thursday the operation was confined to the two islands. The navy said the landings were of secondary importance.

But seizure of the islands, both close inshore, gives the Allies control of Wonsan's harbor. Red supplies and reinforcements funnel through the coastal city to the central front from standing areas in northeast Korea.

Air Force Gets Chance

Clearing skies Thursday gave Far East air force bombers and fighters a better shot at Red troops and supply lines on the battle front and northward.

On the western front, AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported 1,152 Reds killed in an abortive attempt Wednesday to gain a foothold on the south side of the Han River near Red-held Seoul.

But the biggest blow to the Reds was dealt on the central front. The snow-covered hills and the valley around and between Chipyong and Wonju were littered with dead Communists.

AP correspondent John Randolph reported that Allied artillery and infantry continued to pour heavy fire into the area Thursday and prevented the Reds from making any headway whatever.

Randolph quoted an American high staff officer as saying the U.N. forces had won a victory "at the moment," and added:

"It remains now to consolidate it and we hope to do it today."

Stick To Positions

The Allied troops were sticking to their major positions and retaining freedom of movement in some of the heaviest fighting of the Korean war, Randolph said.

Elements of nine Chinese Red divisions—more than 50,000 men—were hurled at one American division on the central front during four days of battle.

The critical moment on the central front came Wednesday when two Chinese divisions plunged past the left flank of the Wonju perimeter and pushed toward the Yoju-Wonju road, 12 miles to the south.

Although the fighting ebbed in daylight Thursday, other Red attacks were expected.

With apparent disregard for life, the Reds hoped to cut the main supply road from the southeast port of Pusan cutting diagonally northwestward to Taegu, Suwon and Seoul.

Seizure of a broad stretch of the highway would cut off U.N. troops on the western front holding Seoul's port of Inchon, Yongdungpo, the old city's industrial suburb, and Kimpo airfield, 15 miles northwest of Seoul.

In a naval action off the east coast, Australian and American vessels shelled Kyongsong, 65 miles south of Russia's Siberian border.

UK Targets

"By creating the American atomic base in East Anglia," he asserted, "we have made ourselves the target, and perhaps the bulls-eye, of Soviet attack."

The showdown comes tonight in a House of Commons vote on the no-confidence motion introduced Wednesday night by Winston Churchill.

It is particularly critical because the government, with a margin of eight in the House, is threatened with defections of some 20 Left-Wing Socialists who have been muttering for the last three months that plans to rearm Britain are contrary to Socialist principles.

The government has threatened any Socialist member who abstains from voting with withdrawal of party support, and has even ordered six members, who are ill, to show up for tonight's vote.

Big Question

The big question in the lobbies today was) "will Attlee's left-wing M.P.'s abandon him?"

Most parliamentary correspondents said "no."

Eight Liberal members — one too ill to be present—were expected to decide shortly before tonight's vote whether or not to support the motion.

If the motion is adopted, Attlee's government will resign and the King then either will call on Churchill to form a new government, or call for a general election, which recent polls say the Conservatives would win.

The vote will be the third in seven days on motions which, if adopted, would have required the government to resign. Last week Labor beat down censure motions on their failure to provide more meat and on their nationalizing the iron and steel industry.

Buffalo's Second Bus Strike Appears To Be Settled

BUFFALO, N.Y., Feb. 15 (AP) —Buffalo's second public transit tieup in seven months apparently was settled today, although more than 1,000 "sick" bus drivers didn't agree immediately that they had "recovered."

Thomas M. Finn of the federal conciliation and mediation service said, however, that the 10-hour stoppage was over.

He s[illegible] 1382 of the AFL Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees Union had accepted a statement of confidence in its members made by the Niagara Frontier Transit System.

The drivers became "ill" at the height of Wednesday night's rush hour. The union first declined to discuss the incident in detail, but later said it wanted an "apology" from the company for a newspaper story.

The story, appearing in last Sunday's Buffalo Courier - Express, said some drivers had made "side" money by manipulating altered dimes they gave to passengers in making change.

The union claimed the company was responsible for the story, but the company denied it.

In its final edition this morning, the newspaper reprinted the original story along with another which said the facts had been substantiated by the United States secret service.

The union staged a three-day wage strike against the N.F.T. last July. Bus-riding residents of this area of nearly 1,000,000 persons were forced to hoof it or arrange car pools to get to work.

Frost Pledges Help To Farmers On Cleo

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (C[illegible] — Premier Frost Wednesday told Ontario farmers [illegible] will back them [illegible] finding an [illegible] compete with [illegible]

Referring to [illegible] with a delegation [illegible] mier told the Ontario Agricultural Council:

"You can count on the government to do its part. We will back you to the limit on this project. We have great research institutions in this province and can put our best minds on it."

Congratulate Speaker

TORONTO, Feb. 15 — (CP) — Valentine's Day was noted in the Ontario Legislature Wednesday when all parties congratulated the Speaker, the Hon. A. S. Davies, and his wife on their 40th wedding anniversary.

William L. Hamilton (L-N[illegible] Falls) said all members [illegible] elated. The hospitality of Mr. Davies and his [illegible]

Premier Frost echoed [illegible] sentiments and turning to Mr. Davies, Minister Doupe[illegible] told him: "You're making a [illegible] in life."

"2—To defeat aggression if, in spite of all our efforts, the action of the Soviet Union or its satellites should precipitate another world war."

Leave Eisenhower Free

Marshall urged Congress to do nothing which would tie the hands of Gen. Eisenhower, as Commander of the Allied Forces, by limiting the number of troops that could be placed under his command.

The proposed six U.S. divisions [illegible] would be part [illegible] of the contemplated defence [illegible] of about 40 divisions.

In addition to the U.S. ground [illegible] there would also be American [illegible] naval units in the [illegible] forces.

Marshall said:

"Because of the great amount [illegible] discussion which has been [illegible] on the subject of ground [illegible] created [illegible] I have obtained the Pre[illegible] permission to discuss [illegible] the actual strength of the ground forces which the [illegible] has planned to [illegible] in Europe in the present [illegible] emergency.

"I take this step reluctantly because of the security considerations involved [illegible] but I have reached the conclusion that there is greater peril to our security through weakening the morale of our allies by a debate based upon misapprehensions, than there can possibly be through the public disclosure of our planned strength [illegible]."

Red Armed Force Now 5 Million

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee said Wednesday night that Russia is estimated to have an armed force of more than 4,000,000 men organized into about 175 divisions.

With all its European satellites, the committee reported, Moscow could boast another 1,000,000 men under arms, making the total more than 5,000,000. This does not include Communist China's armed forces.

Against this strength, the Atlantic pact countries, including the United States and Canada, had about 4,500,000 men under arms as of December, 1950, the committee said.

At the end of December, Canada had a total of 61,779 men in the army, air force and navy.

But comparisons were difficult. The figure for the 11 Atlantic pact countries included the army, navy and air forces. It did not include the estimated 2,700,000 men in organized reserves.

It was not clear from the committee's report whether Communist air and naval forces were included in the Iron Curtain figures, but it was believed they were not.

Stamp's Rink Victors In 5 Straight Games

NORTH BAY, Feb. 15 (CP) — Down to the eights in the Hill-Clark-Francis event and in the 32s of the Lee event, Doug Stamp's unheralded rink from Norris, a tiny spot in northwestern Quebec, was a red-hot favorite today in the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario bonspiel here.

Stamp's rink was unbeaten in five straight games. Another undefeated crew is Johnny Stoyand's rink from Kirkland Lake. Stoyand and his men are in the 32s in the Lee and in the 16s in the Hill-Clark-Francis, top events in the bonspiel.

Harvey Fisher of North Bay was holding an unbeaten mark today, having downed another North Bay rink, skipped by T. W. Bee. Fisher is now in the 16s in both the Lee but is out of the H-C-F competition.

Virginiatown's Harry McNabb had gained in the 16s in the Lee and H-C-F events. Gordon Leverton of Huntsville was in the 32s in the Lee and 16s in the other.

Len Williamson of Kirkland Lake was knocked out of the H-C-F but was in the 32s in the Lee.

Try New Engine In Jet Bomber

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—(AP)—The new F-89F Thunderjet fighter-bomber made its first flight Wednesday powered with the new British Sapphire engine, the Republican Aviation Corporation announced.

The announcement said the flight occurred at the Munro Air Force base in California and the F-84F out-performed its predecessor, the F-84E, "in every category."

The F-84F, the United States Air Force's newest swept-wing fighter bomber, was powered with the new Wright Sapphire turbo-jet engine which develops 7,200 pounds of thrust, more than 2,000 pounds over that of engines previously used in Thunderbolts.

The announcement said the engine "permits a more rapid take-off, faster rate of climb and higher speeds," but no figures were given.

Curtiss-Wright said, however, that its predecessor has a top speed of more than 600 miles an hour, a combat radius of 1,000 miles with external wing tanks, and a service ceiling of more than 45,000 feet.

RAF Planes Pounding Malayan Guerrillas

SINGAPORE, Feb. 15—(Reuters)—R.A.F. planes today pounded guerrillas in the "heaviest operations on record in Malaya," an R.A.F. spokesman said.

Waves of Lincoln, Brigand and Tempest fighter-bombers and Sunderland flying boats attacked jungle targets in several areas.

One of the Brigands, a light bomber, crashed on a rubber plantation, killing both pilot and navigator.

COBOURG, Feb. 15—(ENS)—A drive to raise $2,000 is being launched next week by the Cobourg Boy Scouts Association and the campaign will be of two weeks' duration. The boy scout movement is very active in Coboroug with local churches and a community troop participating. The community troop meets in their recently-acquired hall on D'Arcy St. St. Andrew's hold their meeting in their church basement and the other troops meet in a building at the rear of the Armouries. In the summer they hold a boy scout camp a few miles east of Cobourg. However, funds are needed to carry on.

COBOURG, Feb. 15—(ENS)—J. W. Finney of Cobourg was appointed secretary-treasurer of the Cobourg public school board Tuesday night after a number of applications were received and studied. He succeeds Harry Field, who held that position for the past 12 years and who served on the board as trustee for 22 years.

Test Guided Missiles In Australia

MELBOURNE, Feb. 15—(Reuters)—Experiments on a guided missile to destroy attacking air craft are in progress on the giant rocket range at Woomera, South Australia.

This was disclosed here today by Sir Harry Garner, chief scientist to the British Ministry of Supply, and Sir Alex Coryton, chief executive of the ministry's guided weapons project, in a joint interview.

They said work also is being done on the improvement of high-altitude bombing.

Progress on the range is "almost miraculous," they said.

Coryton added: "This is a part of the British commonwealth's defence effort which should be permanent. There is nothing else like it in the world."

Tear Up And Repent

An order has been given to close the C.N.R. Peterborough-Port Hope line from Millbrook south to Port Hope. We have commented on this matter several times since the abandonment of the line became an imminent proposal, and also since the order was made. We make no apology for saying again that we consider the closing of the line at best a mistaken economy, at worst a tragically short-sighted, faint-hearted act. Tonight members of the Peterborough Council and the Chamber of Commerce are meeting with other district officials in Port Hope to discuss the matter. Tuesday week the Transport Commissioners will hear, also in Port Hope, a joint appeal from responsible people and municipal officials in the Durham-Northumberland-Peterborough area asking that the existing order be suspended.

* * *

We shall not rehearse now all the reasons why the line should not be torn up—its shipping importance to industrial and agricultural Peterborough in times of war and peace; the direct access it gives a wide east-central Ontario area to a port, which may in the surprisingly near future become a sea-port if the St. Lawrence seaway is undertaken; the danger of depending on only one railway line, or on one means of transport (road) in threatening times like these. We should like to emphasize the following point.

* * *

Ontario's population is increasing very rapidly. In fifty years this part of Ontario may be as thickly populated as, say, Surrey. Not only will smaller cities like Peterborough expand. The countryside will house new small industries and thousands of people will commute daily to their work in the bigger cities like Peterborough. The Peterborough-Port Hope line can become, provided the railway company keeps abreast of the need and the times, a busy commuters' line and a shuttler of food and factory products to the Lake front, there to spread east, west and south on main lines. The traffic would be two-way, from far points up through Port Hope to Peterborough and the entire Kawartha district.

* * *

Added to this new traffic to serve a thickly-populated, productive wide area is this ominous warning from the year 1951, the year the first hydrogen bomb may be tested. In the opinion of a noted British scientific journalist (Dr. J. Bronowski) quoted in these columns yesterday, the H-bomb is "the curfew of the civilization built on cities." In other words, because of the danger from the bomb, there will be a depopulation of big cities like Toronto and a rush to the countryside. Factories will move out and so will people who may still have to work in big cities but take the precaution to live well outside them. These industries and people need secondary rail line service.

* * *

The order to close the C.N.R. line to Millbrook (which is probably the first rip in a plan to tear up the whole line) is alarmingly short-sighted in view of the circumstances outlined above. And, as we said in the first paragraph, it is faint-hearted. Have the railways no faith in the development of an area such as this and in their own capacity to cater to that development? It seems instead that they look on the dark side and make it leger-red. The line does not pay, it is said. It will not pay as long as the railways seek to provide less rather than more service. The Railway Commissioners might even inquire into this aspect of the line and at the same time determine whether or not goods destined for Peterborough are being deliberately routed by the company through Belleville, instead of by the shorter, direct run through Port Hope, in order to keep the record of the Port Hope line as dismal-looking as possible.

"No Parking Here To Corner"

On the first page of our second section in yesterday's final edition was a picture of the business block at the south-west corner of Hunter and Water streets. It illustrated the property recently sold in one of the largest downtown transfers in the city's history. Plumb in the foreground of the photograph was an unescapable sign whose words the engravers mercifully blurred. But everybody knows what the sign says—there must be hundreds of them around town: "No Parking Here to Corner."

We do not object to the prohibition; we do to the sign. Not only is the wording confusing; the words appear on both sides of the sign, to add to the bewilderment. Which corner? Since some of these signs, at eighty feet from the corner where parking is supposed to be banned, are about half-way along the block they could refer to the next corner. The very sign in the photograph—it is outside our office window—confuses not only drivers but also the police. A constable tagged one car there the other day (not ours!) which was parked on the right side—drat it, we mean the corner side to which the sign is presumably not intended to refer. The driver paid the fine, even after the Chief himself affirmed that the sign meant this corner and not that one. (Dear dear, this is confusing!) Finally three or four officials were coralled and inspected the corners and the sign and finally admitted that it meant no parking to that corner, not to this one. A refund is pending.

How much simpler to have signs saying: "No Parking Here to Corner Ahead" (or "Corner Behind") depending on which side of the sign the words are printed. Even that is confusing. Why not just an arrow on a post, and a policeman standing by with a ticket?

Contrasting Cancer And Education

Premier Frost has announced that Ontario has declared war on cancer; an institute for diagnostic and curative work will be built at Wellesley Hospital in Toronto, and in due course similar centres will be built in large Ontario cities; the Toronto institute will cost about two millions, and the subsidiary institutes will cost another half million. This is good news, and we commend the provincial government heartily for it. However, we cannot avoid calling attention to the contrast between the forthright attitude toward cancer at Queen's Park, and the evasive, half-baked attitude which it has taken toward the Hope Report on Education.

Everybody is in favour of the fullest attack on cancer, which is one of the great scourges of civilized man. One need not know much about cancer in order to be sure that any money spent to control it is well spent. There is a strong emotional appeal about any anti-cancer campaign, for it is a lucky family indeed which has not had some contact, however remote, with that curse. Governments love emotional appeals, and governments love to have everybody behind them. It is compartively easy to be noble and far-sighted in attacking cancer: it is much more difficult to be noble and far-sighted in dealing with a contentious matter like education, in which comparatively few voters take an informed interest. To put it crudely, attacks on cancer are vote-getters, and reforms in education are vote-losers.

We repeat our statement of yesterday, that we are disappointned by the flippant reception which Premier Frost and Mr. Farquhar Oliver have given to the Hope Report. That Report has been awaited eagerly by considerable numbers of Ontario people who are keenly concerned with the educational system in this Province. The Report cost half a million dollars, and embodies the best advice of twenty able people. Yet Mr. Frost has made it plain that little action on the Report can be expected from his Government, and Mr. Oliver, in a frank but too-revealing phrase, has suggested that it be thrown in the waste-paper basket.

We are not greatly surprised by Mr. Oliver, whose genius as a legislator burns with a flickering and inconstant flame. But we are surprised by Premier Frost. He sat in the Legislature as Premier Drew's chief lieutenant when Premier Drew discussed the reasons for appointing the Hope Commission, and enlarged upon the reforms which might be expected to follow the Report. Is there so little continuity in Conservative policy that he can scupper the Report without a blush?

We repeat that we have nothing but admiration for the Ontario government's powerful campaign against cancer. We only wish that it was moved by a similar zeal in the matter of educational reform—a field in which more than one opinion is possible.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A psychiatrist says that excessive fat is a result of one's frame of mind. Too sweet a disposition, perhaps?

A man who has killed six people says he did it because nobody loved him. Well, that's no way to make himself loveable.

It is constantly repeated that no two snowflakes are alike, but we would be glad to have the name and address of the fellow who checks on this.

A meteorologist says that lightning has no objective point, but follows the line of least resistance." What! Right through a tree?

There is a man of 90 in Wyoming who has never seen a motor car. He would have enjoyed meeting that old woman who lived in London until 1946 and who had never heard of Hitler.

A Spanish fashion designer in Paris announces "gaping necklines that stand away from the skin". The gaping will not be confined to the dresses, we predict, after a long look in our witch's mirror.

Atomic Energy In Daily Life

By J. BRONOWSKI

THE threat of atomic weapons is uppermost in our minds now, and with reason. They are working a revolution in the scale and in the nature of war. Yet atomic energy is making a second revolution in our lives today, which is silent but as far-reaching. I speak for many scientists when I say that it is disquieting to find how little others know of the work on the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Today the atomic pile and its products have three uses: in research, in medical treatment, and as a source of power. Take first the use in research. Atoms which have been treated in a pile become radio-active, and this radio-activity can be used as a label which will stick to them and can be read a fair way off. Put such radio-active materials into a living system or a machine, and their progress can be traced and can serve as a tracer for all the changes in the system.

IN the last two years this technique has given us new insight into the stability and speed of the processes of life. It has also become a standard industrial practice: I myself have seen it used to study the friction of metals and to put underground drillings accurately in line. I saw its most moving application a year ago, when it precisely located for the surgeon, before he lifted his knife, a tumour on the brain which a previous operation could not find.

Second, there is the direct use of materials from a pile in medical treatment. Here the purpose is to carry radio-active materials to growing tissue which is in need of deep radiation for its control. We all know that radium may control cancer growth by irradiating it. But cobalt which has been made radio-active is in every way more effective than radium; and so great is the demand already that the new pile to be built in Canada will be specially designed to produce a maximum of radio-active cobalt.

BUT the pile offers us a more remarkable choice; why not carry the radio-active substance into the tissue itself? The classical cases are diseases of the thyroid and the bone marrow. The human thyroid, for example, needs iodine and searches it out in any diet. Some disorders of the thyroid which call for its irradiation can therefore be treated most directly by giving the patient an iodine which is radio-active. In this way the radio-activity is carried straight into the thyroid gland where it is needed.

So much is classical; but the problems which these treatments set are not; and the problems are already treading on our heels. A patient who has taken radio-iodine is himself mildly radio-active for a week or more, and his waste-products may be dangerously so. Even in hospital you cannot give him any lengthy attention without taking precautions. And you certainly cannot tip his waste-products down the drain and cheerfully pull the plug. You cannot even burn them, for the radio-active materials will linger as dangerously in the smoke and the ash.

WE have here one of a range of problems of isolation and disposal which no hospital dreamt of five years ago. We know the rough and general way to tackle them: build concrete baffles, handle the materials mechanically in airtight dry-boxes, dilute the waste until it is weak enough to be safe. But as for understanding the problems, we are as much at a loss as those who once tried to check infectious disease, before Pasteur found its causes in living bacteria and viruses. Much of what we are doing has still the brave, irrelevant air of an eighteenth-century judge facing gaol fever with a posy of flowers.

We do not know how to sterilize radio-active material; nothing that we can do will either hasten or slow down by an instant the imperturbable release of its radiation. Yet in the application of radio-activity to plant and animal life, we are making large and exciting progress. Five years ago we had no notion how to make healthy tissue withstand or recover from an overdose of deep radiation. Now we have begun to see that radiation is much less dangerous to tissues from which oxygen is withheld.

MORE than this, we are beginning to see the man-made problems in their setting; and we realize that they are one with the problems of nature. We have been fearful of the effects of radio-activity on human inheritance. But nature has set herself, and has solved, these problems of biological resistance to radiation since evolution first began. We put a strict limit to the radio-activity which we allow downstream from Harwell; but New York water and French wines are more radio-active than this. At the heights of Tibet and the Andes, cosmic rays produce more deep radiation than we dare to live with in the laboratory. Yet men have long lived there and, in their way, they flourish. We might therefore have foreseen what we know now, that thirty years of work with X-rays and other radiations have not induced a single new heritable change in a laboratory animal which nature has not already shown us long ago.

LASTLY, there is the one well-known use of the pile, as a source of power. Here, again, the problems are not solved; we could not build a pile this year to take the place of Battersea Power Station. Yet the Harwell experimental pile does heat the buildings, and, as a by-product, saves thirty tons of coal a week. The new plutonium plant in Cumberland will greatly speed up this work of power development.

We are not ready to build a giant pile this year; but we are almost ready; the plans and the pilot work are begun. Silently and out of sight, biologists, physicists and engineers are creating the conditions for the general use of atomic energy. Like the pioneers of X-rays and radium, they are running a race with the revolution which they are making, and taking risks which we do not yet understand. Atomic energy is already part of their daily lives and of ours.

WELL-EQUIPPED

A party in Switzerland decided to ascend a very small peak in the neighbourhood of their hotel. Though the climb was no more than a strenous walk, a guide was engaged, and when the party assembled it was noticed that one of them carried a totally unnecessary rope.

The guide, nodding gravely towards the rope, inquired, politely: "M'sieu is going to skeep—yes?"

"BUT THINK OF THE EXPERIENCE YUH GOT!"

Letter To The Editor

DON'T TAKE IT LYING DOWN!

Sir: May I ask you for the privilege of a little space in your paper to have the following letter printed:

Three cheers for Mr. M. E. Ketcheson and the other gentleman who recently, in a very fair way, criticized the Peterborough Bus Lines. It is indeed refreshing that amid all the ignorance there are public spirited men who not only grumble about conditions affecting the whole community, but take active steps to endeavour to bring about a remedy.

This particular bus company appears to follow a very efficient line to have every increase in fares asked for, approved. No doubt, the honourable members of the council, who vote for these increases, know what they are doing. Or is it perhaps that they do not care, for they do not depend upon the buses for transportation?

People most probably would not be so furious about the granting of such increases if this company were to give the sort of service a community of this size could expect to get. What is, however, most infuriating is that more money is collected for, if anything, a worse service. This, of course, can easily be done, because of the monopoly the bus company exercises. And with the Council aiding and abetting, what is there for the ordinary citizen to do?

I say, plenty! The trouble is that too many people take things lying down and then complain that they have no voice in matters that affect their daily lives. Here is your chance! I know that I am not the only one who is not satisfied with the way the present bus service is run. Time schedules are not kept. People have to wait for twenty minutes in the bitter cold when there is supposed to be a bus every ten minutes. And, when the chariot finally arrives, overcrowding. Some drivers really pack them in. But is it the driver's fault? No, sir, it is not. It is time that there was a by-law regulating the way the bus service must be run, and which, among other things, should clearly limit the number of passengers that are allowed to stand on any one bus. The way the buses are crowded nowadays the driver is in no position to see what approaches from the right, and depends on the passengers to tell him when it is safe to traverse a cross-road. That would be a matter for the police who should stop this practice which endangers the whole traffic system. It is high time that the bus company were told, in clear and unmistakable terms, to either provide a proper service, or else any agreement that might exist between the city and the company (and may I suggest here, Mr. Editor, that the terms of any such agreement be published in your valued newspaper) would be terminated at short notice. I sincerely feel that many another bus line would be glad and willing to enter into agreement with this city to provide the sort of service which, at the moment, remains nothing but a Utopia, without additional cost to the over-patient and, by the bus company, ill-treated Peterborough citizens.

Perhaps, the Council members who so willingly voted in favour of permitting the P.B.L. to raise their fare, will sit up, too, and take, for a change, notice that arrangements among business men and friends, "to help one another", will not be permitted in future if the taxpayer is the one who has to suffer. No business charges the customer more for a service unless there is a very good reason for doing so. What was the reason for increasing the local bus fares? What justification is there to raise it by 33 per cent. within a very short time? I should indeed be glad if the P.B.L. would enlighten me on this subject.

I, as a taxpayer and citizen of this community ask that the City executive take such steps as to assure every man, woman, and child of this city of proper transportation at reasonable cost, and that no agreement be entered into with any transportation company whatsoever which does not fully benefit the citizens of this community.

I hope that other spirited fellow citizens will give expression to their views on this very important subject.

To you, Mr. Editor, my thanks for the space allotted.

Signed,
"FORTITUDE".

ANCIENT

A film star arrived at a friend's house to spend a holiday. He drove up in a very dilapidated car with shredded side curtains and flapping mudguards.

Staring down at the wreck, the host demanded: "What in the world is that?"

"Oh," the star replied loftily, "this is my town car."

"What town?" demanded his outraged host. "Pompeii?"

"I've got a good deal to say if you'll only give me time," replied the prisoner, angrily.

"Certainly," replied the magistrate blandly. "Six months!"

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Then came all the tribes of Israel to David unto Hebron, and spake, saying, Behold, we are thy bone and thy flesh. Also in time past, when Saul was king over us, thou wast he that leddest out and broughtest in Israel: and the Lord said to thee, Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be a captain over Israel. So all the elders of Israel came to the king to Hebron; and king David made a league with them in Hebron before the Lord; and they anointed David king over Israel. (II Sam. 5: 1-3.)

And David said, Is there yet any that is left of the house of Saul, that I may shew him kindness for Jonathan's sake? And there was of the house of Saul a servant whose name was Ziba. And when they had called him unto David, the king said unto him, Art thou Ziba? And he said, Thy servant is he. And the king said, Is there not yet any of the house of Saul, that I may shew the kindness of God unto him? And Ziba said unto the king, Jonathan hath yet a son, which is lame on his feet....

Now when Mephibosheth, the son of Jonathan, the son of Saul, was come unto David, he fell on his face, and did reverence. And David said, Mephibosheth. And he answered, Behold thy servant! And David said unto him, Fear not: for I will surely shew thee kindness for Jonathan thy father's sake, and will restore thee all the land of Saul thy father; and thou shalt eat bread at my table continually....

Then the king called to Ziba, Saul's servant, and said unto him, I have given unto thy master's son all that pertained to Saul and to all his house....Then said Ziba unto the king. According to all that my lord the king hath commanded his servant, so shall thy servant do. As for Mephibosheth, said the king, he shall eat at my table, as one of the king's sons. (II Sam. 9: 1-3, 6, 7, 9, 11.)

Family Asset

(Winkler (Man.) Progress)

Many a boy in farming districts knows from boyhood that he is going to step into his father's shoes as owner of the family farm some day. As soon as he is old enough to be useful, he works to improve the property and avoid wasting its resources. When the day comes for him to take over, he gets a going concern and he has the experience to look after it.

It has always been the case that many farm boys could look forward to owning the family homestead. But recent conditions have made that prospect more attractive than in the past.

Mechanization has done away with much of the back-breaking labour that used to make a farmer old before his time. Farmers have found ways of sharing with their sons the rewards of their labour, either through partnerships, shares in farm profits or through mutually-satisfactory wage arrangements.

Pat: "Yes, sor, all except one, but he ran around so much I counted all the sheep."

COAL "ECONOMICS" FOR THE WEE ONES

Old Institution Paris Concierge May Disappear

By CARL HARTMAN

PARIS, Feb. 15 —(AP)— That centuries-old institution, the Paris concierge, may be on her way out.

She takes up too much space.

Mme. Maria Bertre has worked for 35 years in the same house, a typical seven-storey apartment building in a poor but respectable neighborhood. As concierge, her work calls for the combined talents of a janitor, rental agent, bill collector, bookkeeper, occasional chambermaid and auxiliary policewoman.

But now for the first time in her life Mme. Bertre is worried about her job.

It's a job that has always fascinated visitors to Paris, who find it typical of French life.

Too Much Space

A lot of french novels treat the concierge as a sinister hag who spies on tenants and steams open their letters. She can easily do it if she likes. Part of her job is to deliver the mail and she often does housework for tenants. Also, her tiny apartment—the "Loge"—is right next to the main entrance of the building; in old-fashioned houses anyone coming in after about 11 p.m. has to wake her up.

But no one has complained of Mme. Bertre's being too noisy. She says her trouble is just that the owners want to take over her apartment.

"You must know, M'sieu, they want to get rid of us now. These people—they're new, not the ones I know—they've been looking for trouble with me for eight or nine months."

Real estate owners explain that rent control has kept their income far behind costs. The Loge is a prize, but they have to economize somewhere. So they would like to get Mme. Bertre out.

The township clerk was instructed to advertise for an inspector under the Warble Fly Control Act. Salary will be $200 a season.

Council also passed a bylaw authorizing the spending of $12,360 on roads in 1951, subject to the approval of the Department of Highways.

10 Deputy Game Wardens Added Eastern Northumberland Force

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 15 —(ENS). — John F. McGregor, clerk of the town of Campbellford officiated at the swearing-in of ten deputy game wardens, who will assist in seeing that the game and fish laws are adhered to in the future.

Reg. McCulloch, local conservation officer was in attendance, and addressed the group. He told them of many of the questions they would be asked, and explained some of the finer points of the law as well as describing some of the situations they would probably find themselves in. "You have to learn to use tact, and a lot of common sense in enforcing these laws," said Mr. McCulloch.

The new deputies will operate in the eastern half of Northumberland county, but their authority is valid anywhere in the province of Ontario.

George Braham, secretary of the local Fish and Game Association acted as chairman. President of the local association, Joe H. Smith said he was glad to see the men were interested in preserving the game laws in this district and thanked them for volunteering their services. All are members of the Campbellford and District Fish and Game Protective Association.

Rangers Take Win

In a lively peewee hockey contest at Riverside rink last evening, the Rangers whitewashed the Canadiens 7-0. It was the fifth straight shutout for goalie Ballantyne, who frequently robbed his rivals on fine saves. The game was somewhat better than the score indicates, as Canadiens continue to show improvement after a late start this season. The Dafoe brothers stood out for the victors, while Crough was good for the other side.

Canadiens Acquire Player Meger

MONTREAL, Feb. 15 —(CP)— Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League announced today the acquisition of forward Paul Meger from Buffalo Bisons of the American League.

Meger, who played his last amateur hockey with Barrie juniors, will report in Montreal in time for tonight's game with Toronto Maple Leafs.

Meger becomes the outright property of Canadiens and in exchange Canadiens have loaned Ross Lowe and Vern Kaiser to Buffalo.

Canadiens obtained Lowe from Boston Bruins in a trade announced last night which sent defenceman Hal Laycoe to Bruins from Canadiens.

Meger, 22, is from Watrous, Sask., and currently is the AHL's leading scorer with 36 goals and 35 assists. He was named AHL rookie of the year last season.

Robinson Wins New Title TKO's Lamotta In 13th

CHICAGO, Feb. 15 — (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson has become the first man in ring history to win one championship and lose another all in the same battle.

The rhythmic New York Negro, defeated only once in 124 contests, Wednesday night won the world's middleweight championship by hammering durable Jake Lamotta 160-pound titleholder, to defeat on a 13-round technical knockout before 14,802 frenzied spectators in the Chicago Stadium.

As his gloved fist was raised in victory, Robinson automatically relinquished his welterweight crown. He was forced to surrender it under a ruling of the National Boxing Association and also by decision of Eddie Eagan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, which operates independently of the NBA.

Although Robinson and his manager, George Gainford, said they consider Sugar Ray a double champ, a tournament probably will be held to fill the 147-pound vacancy.

Eagan said he would recognize an elimination series involving leading candidates. Top men in the division are Kid Gavilan of Havana, Charlie Fusari of Irvington, N.J., Billy Graham of New York, and Johnny Bratton of Chicago.

May Not Want It

Under the terms of Wednesday night's match, Robinson is required to give Lamotta a return bout, probably in New York, next June. However, Truman Gibson, secretary of the sponsoring International Boxing Club, wondered if Lamotta wanted to face the prospect of absorbing another beating from his conqueror.

Lamotta remained in an unfavorable condition for two hours after he walked from the ring under his own power. He was immediately administered oxygen when he reached his dressing room. He was completely exhausted and suffering chills.

Dr. J. M. Houston, of the Illinois Athletic Commission and Jake's own personal physician, Dr. Philip Burnori, remained in constant attendance until he was able to leave for his downtown hotel quarters with his wife, Vicki.

Most Successful

The bout was the most successful indoor promotion of the International Boxing Club, which operates in New York City, Chicago and Detroit. The attendance gate was $180,619 and the net was $138,939. The attendance exceeded expectation despite television and its estimated 30,000,000 viewers.

The rugged Lamotta, never knocked off his feet in 95 contests retained this distinction in losing to Robinson. The bout was stopped at 2:04 of the 13th round.

The Bronx Bull was battered into a state of helplessness which prompted referee Frank Sikora to step between the men and order Robinson to his corner.

Lamotta, only man ever to defeat Robinson, never fought more determinedly than he did Wednesday night. For eight rounds he actually forced the battle. He bothered the confident Robinson with resounding body blows and jolting lefts to the head, and often forced him into retreat with his two-fisted attack.

The jolting Lamotta had the spirit to triumph but hadn't the stamina for the 15-round championship route. He outweighed Robinson 4½ pounds, scaling 160 at Wednesday's weigh-in.

The tide turned in Robinson's favor in the ninth round, when Jake began losing his aggressiveness and ability to escape from Robinson's shattering punches. He turned into little less than a target for the welterweight champion.

Securing Moon Wootton Big Boost For Petes

OWEN SOUND, Feb. 15.—The 1950 Mann Cup Lacrosse champions, the Owen Sound Crescents have suffered a severe blow to their hopes for a successful title defence this year with the decision of goaltender Lloyd "Moon" Wootton to accept an offer from the Peterborough Petes.

Wootton, all-star goaltender in the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior series last year, will move to Peterborough with his wife and three children on Friday of this week.

A native of this city, Wootton has spent all five of his senior lacrosse years in the livery of Owen Sound clubs. His departure leaves a gap that the Mann Cup champions will find difficult to fill.

Last season Wootton won the Jimmy Murphy Memorial Trophy awarded to the most valuable player in the OLA, the Scott Galbraith Trophy, awarded to the best goaltender in the league, and the Mike Kelley Memorial Medal awarded to the most valuable player in the Mann Cup final series. He won the Kelley award despite the fact he missed the last game and a half of the Mann Cup finals because of broken bones in his left ankle.

Wootton will join one of his 1950 teammates at Peterborough, Jack "Curly" Mason, valuable centreman who is already in the Lift Lock city playing hockey.

"There are no hard feelings between myself and the Owen Sound club, and I have no beefs with the executive, they've treated me swell," said the 24-year-old Wootton in announcing his decision to go to Peterborough. He admitted that Bob Curtin, Pete's manager had been making him tempting offers for three years. This year, he said, the offer was so good he couldn't say no.

The departure of Wootton and Mason leaves the Crescents with two big gaps to fill, and conversely, the addition of the two players, stamps Peterborough as an early prospect for the OLA title.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Basketball will bounce off many a backboard this week-end. Even tonight there's a boys' game at seven in the YM betwixt SPS and Normals. Last eve, St. Mike's and St. Peter's had a tilt here, and the same clubs clash in Toronto on Friday. That evening sees two Bowmanville girls' squads play PCVS juniors and seniors at the local Collegiate, and there are two Girls' City League tussles at the YW on the morrow. Oshawa Central fellows tangle with the PCVS senior "A" squad at Port Hope in an important contest. Saturday has the intermediate "A" Bruins at Hamilton while Belleville meets Marines at 8.30 in the "Y" to wind up their intermediate "B" OABA series. Marines have a 19-point margin.

* * * * * *

At long last, the OHA junior "B" schedule approaches the end of the trail. Finishes here tomorrow night at 8.30 in Civic Arena when Lindsay Kin collide with the IOOF-ers. The old rivals, fighting it out all season for top spot, along with Belleville, are sure to stage a streamlined windup as only fast-stepping and husky young 19-year-olds can do on good ice. Puck-hungry fans, who haven't seen a decent senior "B" scrap here for some time—owing to the odd way the schedule was drawn up—should be out in force for this hockey tussle. They won't be sorry, either.

* * * * * *

Rocket Had To Learn

Once upon a time, Rocket Richard — great NHL-ers with the Canadiens — was just a junior "B" player, too. But he kept learning and graduated from one class to another, eventually making the big time. Injuries have hampered him plenty as he's a rather brittle big fellow. Very fast, he is rugged, too, and can fire a puck hard from any angle around the net. Also carries the rubber well on his skates. Most conscientious, he is always practicing and seeking improvement, though he's 29 now. An example for young puckists everywhere as the Rocket stars game after game, though a marked man all around the NHL. Baz O'Meara, writing of him in the Montreal Star, says:

* * * * * *

"Strangely enough he used to be an easy prey for charging defencemen. He tried to go between them and the board, and then switched his style trying to leap through. One night, Dit Clapper dropped him like a ton of bricks. Richard came up fighting but Clapper bulled him to the ice again. On the way to hte dressing room at the end of the period, he skated over to Richard in friendly fashion and said: 'Kid, if you want to stay in this league keep your head up when you come in on defence, and don't try to jump through like that.' The Rocket, no Simple Simon at taking a hint, started a new system of cutting in and developed his famous turn-around style of playing."

Exit Queen's Puckists

Maybe 200 chilly fans saw the debacle at the arena last e'en as the Petes trounced Queen's 18-6 in their last OHA senior "B" clash of the semester here. While the visitors kept battling all the way, they just didn't have it, and the Petes waltzed through that third period to a 10-3 tune. A clean game with some thumping bodychecks at times, fairly speedy but often scrambly. The Jopling guys took an early lead and systematically built it up. Gus Leonard led the snipers, with Freddy Garvey and Chum Fryia also potent, but the whole crew fattened their averages at the expense of the tail-enders. And did it without Curly Mason, who was working, Honey Tompkins—sidelined with an eye injury—and Ron Horton, who is nursing a sore leg.

* * * * * *

Lloyd (Moon) Wootton, top OLA senior "A" goalie, is leaving Owen Sound this week-end to take up residence in Peterborough. The 24-year-old star of the Mann Cup champs is bringing his wife and three children and plans to make this his home permanently. Jack (Curly) Mason of the champs has been here all winter playing hockey and is buying a home in the city. A Globe item this a.m. from Owen Sound says the Crescents will have two big gaps to fill now and remarks: "The addition of the two players stamps Peterborough as an early prospect for the OLA title." There'll be other aces here, too, come spring, along with the pick of last year's lacrosse Petes. That's swell news.

St. Andrew's Whips TCS In Cage Contest

PORT HOPE, Feb. 15—St. Andrew's College basketball giants proved too much for the Trinity College School team Wednesday afternoon and came out on top of one of the highest-scoring league games of the season. Final count showed SAC on top, 129-47.

TCS gained an eight-point-lead in the early minutes, but dropped behind, 20-16, at the quarter. From that point the visitors surged ahead, led 55-24 at the half and 89-34 at the three-quarter mark.

Big Jim Cotter was leading marksman for the winners with 42 points. Les Sutton, with 27, and Mike Osborne, with 26, were the other main cogs in the SAC victory. For TCS Hugh Walker, with 18; Bill Thomas, with 13, and Bill Dumoulin, with 12, were standouts.

St. Peter's Take Cage Win Over St. Mike's

St. Peter's High quintet pleased a capacity crowd at its first home game Wednesday night at PCVS by winning the first OCA Conference game from St. Michael's 30-14. The teams return to Toronto Friday night for a game.

Previously defeated by the experienced DelaSalle and St. Jerome's teams, St. Peter's cagers began to work their plays successfully Wednesday and passed for their best showing this year. Although St. Michael's worked the ball in close with neat passing plays, the St. Peter's zone defence held them out and their shooting was off at long distances.

St. Mike's had some difficulty becoming acquainted with the large PCVS court, practicing this year on the new college floor which is smaller than the collegiate's. They lost possession a number of times for stepping out-of-bounds.

Led Throughout

Coach Fred Allore's boys led throughout. They took slim leads of 4-0 at the first quarter and 8-5 at the second when St. Michael's rallied briefly. St. Peter's began to press in the third with fast passing plays and outscored St. Mike's 13-5. They kept up the fast pace in the fourth for a 9-4 score and a game count of 30-14.

Except for a little roughness at both backboards the game was fairly clean and referee John Lynch awarded only nine foul shots. SPS had a perfect night dropping in four while St. Mike's missed one in five attempts.

John Jones led the SPS attack with 10 points while teammate Jack Richardson had seven and Carl Simmons six. Waslyk drifted in long field attempts for five points for St. Mike's.

Lineups:

St. Michael's (14)—Clarke 4, Waslyk 5, Dewhurst 3, Torrella 1, Reid 1, Fitzmorris, Ennis.

St. Peter's (30)—Jones 10, Richardson 7, Simmons 6, O'Neill 3, Legros 2, Galvin 1, Armstrong 1, Holme, Cupoli, O'Leary, Crowley, Cavanagh.

Referee, John Lynch; umpire, Ted Cranfield.

Crowley's Roll 1399 For Best Of Season

Crowley's team in the Major Bowling League this week hit the season's high single game of 1,399 and also took top pinnage with a nifty 3,443. R. Parnell led individual trundlers with a 394 single as he and J. Dormer tied for leading three with 806 each. McWilliams, Hunt and Cherney each took six points over McLeod, Wood and Wonder, while 4-2 wins were taken by Crowley, Selkirk, Bickell, E and B, Caccavella, Parkway, Plaza, Odeon and Calvert respectively over Wade, Mongraw, Bassell, Modern, Kawartha, Campbell, Kingsmen, Edgewater and Posties.

Other good scores included: W. Harris 787, W. Stanbury (300) 786, Reg Gordon (319) 784, B. Flint (346) 774, H. Mowry 771, P. Pryde 763, T. Collins 746, A. Pilling 739, W. Mayfield 738, J. Lowrey 741, G. Snape 723, M. Caccavella 725, B. Boon 725, Jack Wade (335), 714, J. Barnes 713, B. Hunt 702, D. Abraham 702, T. Caccavella 702, J. Dormer a single of 340 and J. Latchford 307.

Utilities Have Power

Utilities led this week in the Mercantile Bowling League with pinnage of 2,887 and single effort of 1,053. May Willshaw topped the girl bowlers with a single of 273 and Marg Parker had a three of 617. Jack Gimblett's 305 led the men and Don Penrose had a triple of 726. Lift Lock blanked A & P, Prudential tied Loblaw's, and 3-1 wins were marked by Braund's No. 1 over Bond's, City Hall against Braund's No. 2, and by Utilities over Austin's.

Other good counts by the lasses in triples were: M. Willshaw 610, Joan Ronco 598 and Mary Morton 590. Good scores for men: Frank Worsencroft 704, George Gimblett 693, Jack Gimblett 683, Bob Hopkins 610 and Harold Mesley 609.

Petes Smear Queen's, 18-6 To Tighten Grip On Top Spot

Walloping Queen's Combines of Kingston 18-6 here last night, the Petes lengthened their lead in first place in the OHA Senior B standing to a game and a half. The crowd was reduced to little more than the next of kin to see the loop leaders romp through the tail-enders. It was 3-0 for the Jopling squad in the first frame and 8-3 as they galloped into a third chukker where they dominated play 10-3. Play was fairly fast, scrambly at times and with some stiff checking seen, but generally clean. Each side drew but two penalties.

Gus Leonard led the way for the visitors with four goals and four assists for eight points. Freddy Garvey clicked for six points, Chum Fryia for five, with Junior West and Don Floyd in on three apiece. Jack Mortimer, Drake Jopling, Ted Collins, Jack Davidson and Arn Dugan were each in on a pair, as singles were counted by Jake Wade and Earl Leonard. For the losers, Don Murray, Ron Murray, Bud Ohlke, and Wagar were in on two each, with Stack, Dunn, Wilde and Sweetman getting singles.

Kept Trying

Queen's didn't fold up at any time and made it fairly close in the first two stanzas, though the Petes had more of the play. Goalie Ray Harding was called upon at times to step lively to hold out the visitors as they tore in doggedly, regardless of the count. But in the third, even though they notched three, it was a case of too much power. The Petes broke fast and made few mistakes in close. A lot of the goals were scored on passouts as the plays were set up for free-wheeling wings to tear into the corners and jockey for positions before slipping the disc out to a waiting mate near the goal-mouth.

Dunn went off limping through the third stanza after being bumped hard by Jopling and Davidson, while Wade also headed for the dressing-room in this inning, not feeling up to par. Horton and Tompkins were absentees, after injuries received in the last game at Belleville, and Mason was working. Earl Leonard turned in a good chore at defence, and all the homesters stepped lively as they fattened their averages in this rather one-sided tussle, Queen's last appearance of the year here.

Queen's: Goal, Holland; defence, Battochio and Latimer; centre, D. Murray; wings, Dunn and White; alternates, Graves, Sweetman, Ohlke, R. Murray, Stack, Wilde and Wagar.

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Davidson and E. Leonard; centre, Wade; wings, Dugan and Collins; alternates, G. Leonard, Fryia, Mortimer, Garvey, West, Floyd and Jopling.

Referee, L. Heffering; linesman, H. Payne.

Boucher Given Many Gifts; Rangers Win 5-1

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (CP).—Frank Boucher, one of the finest centres ever to perform in the National Hockey League, will never forget St. Valentine's Day, 1951.

Boucher, now manager of New York Rangers, an organization he has served as player, scout, coach and manager since the team was founded 25 years ago, was honored Wednesday night in a simple but sentiment-filled ceremony.

Boucher, often called the "gentleman of hockey," received a new car from the fans and numerous other gifts. To make the night complete, the Rangers downed Chicago Black Hawks 5-1 to move into a three-way tie with Montreal and Boston for third place.

Only a slim crowd of 6,375 fans was on hand, probably due to the Robinson-Lomotta fight in Chicago—but they were enthusiastic in their applause for the 49-year-old Boucher when he went to centre ice.

Boucher was flanked by his old linemates of 25 years ago — Bill and Bun Cook. Also with him were his wife and son, Earl, who came with some of his home-town friends from Mountain, Ont.

After the presentations, Boucher said: "I am so overwhelmed by all this that I'm afraid I have little to say. We will cherish this night for the rest of our lives. Thanks a million."

Also Take Part

President Clarence Campbell of the NHL, James A. Farley, former Postmaster-General of the United States, and Mayor Vincent Impellitteri of New York also took part in the pre-game ceremonies.

Other gifts received by Boucher were a tool chest from the Rangers' St. Paul Club of the United States Hockey League; a pen and pencil set from the Garden minor hockey officials; a silver tea service from New York Rovers; a television set from the Rangers and a portable typewriter from the New York Hockey Writers' Association.

Eddie Kullman led the Rangers attack with a pair of goals—both of them in the first period. Don Raleigh and Nick Mickoski tallied for the Rangers before Chicago replied with their lone tally of the night by Steve Black. Reggie Sinclair scored New York's final goal.

Immediately after the game, the Hawks, deep in last place, left for Chicago where they play the Rangers again tonight. Second-place Toronto meets the Canadiens in Montreal.

Player's Blowup Brings Penalty, Other Charges

By The Canadian Press.

Tough language allegedly used by two players of Toronto's St. Michael's Monarchs in an OHA major tilt Wednesday night resulted in left-winger Gord Hannigan getting a match misconduct and may lead to several unidentified fans preferring charges against goalie Phil Hughes.

Trouble arose after Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen were allowed a disputed fourth goal by referee Jack Hogan in a game Monarchs went on to win 5-4 in Waterloo.

Hannigan tangled with the Galt official and Hughes went for several excited fans. Hogan said he would report Hannigan's "swearing and obscene language" to OHA authorities, and police said the fans had complained of Hughes' language and would lay charges today.

Jack Meldrum with two goals, and singles for Bill McCracken, Joe Ubriaco and Tom Fowler gave Monarchs victory; Billy Flick, Maurice Levesque, Don Bauer and Dennis Flanagan registered for the locals.

In Hamilton, Tigers stood off a bitter Toronto Marlboros attack to win another OHA major fixture 2-1. The win gave Tigers four points, since a future game scheduled in Toronto cannot be played. Ab Conick and Doug Maher for Tigers doubled Bill Johnson's Marlboro marker.

Hastings Triumphs

HASTINGS, Feb. 15—(ENS)—Hastings intermediates stayed in the running for top spot in the EPHL by handing out a 12-2 shellacking to Millbrook in a regular scheduled game.

Millbrook worked hard, but were no match for Hastings, and McKenty had another of his hot nights, while Pink, subbing for Millbrook's regular goalie, had a rough time.

Greenley with four was top goal-getter for Hastings, while Petticrew notched three, Stevenson and Edwards two apiece, and Oliver got the odd one. Guthrie and McGill did the scoring for Millbrook, but Handley was a constant threat.

Hastings—Goal, McKenty; defense, Petticrew and Brown; centre, Crowley; wings, Oliver and Edwards; alternates, O'Rourke, Greenley, Stevenson, Thomas, Cobbledick, West, Lockhart.

Marmora Victors, 7-6 Against Norwood Boys

NORWOOD, Feb. 15 (ENS). — A big crowd saw Marmora edge Norwood 7-6 here last night in an exciting and rather rugged Trent Valley League hockey contest. Stewart's goal at 16:07 in the third period settled the issue after some hot going.

Trumble tallied twice for Marmora in the first period, Stewart helping once. Penalties went to Whitnell, Fennell, Nayler and Brooks. Lavender and Stewart made it 4-0 early in the second, an assist each going to Trumble and Lavender. Then Norwood struck for three, Payne, Griffin and Gilbert hitting the mark, Webb aiding on one. Fennell, Lavender, Gray, Brooks, Stewart and Maynes aiding on one. Griffin, Kelly and Webb counted in the third for the homesters, Webb having one assist. For Marmora, Lavender, Nayler and Stewart scored, the last one on a pass from Trumble. Penalties went to Ferguson, Webb, Trumble, Thompson and Brooks. Teams:

Marmora: Goal, Borland; defence, Doyle and Gray; centre, Stewart; wings, Lavender and Trumble; alternates, Brooks, Mantle, Jones, Goodchild, McInroy, Maynes, Brown and Nayler.

Norwood: Goal, Renwick; defence, Rogers and Fennell; centre Whitnell; wings, Ferguson and Webb; alternates, Peterson, Kelly, Payne, Thompson, Griffin, Williams, Wilson and Gilbert.

Referee, W. Leggitt; linesman, K. McArthur.

C's Down Wolves

KEENE, Feb. 15 — (ENS) — Campbellford got an early lead here and went on to score an 8-5 OMHA bantam "C" win over the Otonabee Wolves. The second game of the goals-to-count series is Friday in the Campbellford arena.

McMillan scoring two from Garvey and Wilson made it 3-0 in the initial frame. Garvey, Baker and McMillan counted in the second for the C's, McMillan also having an assist. But the Wolves fought back to get three on shots by Buchanan, McCarthy and MacMillian, with B. Heron, McCarthy and Buchanan earning an assist each. Wilson and Garvey came through for Campbellford in the third, Garvey and Baker each helping once, while Buchanan tallied for Wolves from McMillan, and D. Shearer got the last one. Teams:

Campbellford: Goal, MacArthur defence, Baker, Potts; centre, Garvey; wings, Wilson, McMillan; alternates, Smith, Kendricks, J. MacArthur, Seeman, Dunk, Girard, Peake, Ingram.

Otonabee: Goal, Adams; defence, Revoy, J. Heron; centre, B. Heron; wings, MacMillian, Buchanan; alternates, McCarthy, Shearer, Bethune, Ferguson, Miles, Rusaw, Hannon, Kennedy, Lockhead.

MASKED RIDER—On the right is neither mammy singer nor man from Mars. It's apprentice jockey Tommy Stadnyk, 19, trying to keep his face warm in sub-zero weather at Whittier Park, St. Boniface, Man. Showman's Pet is the sprightly three-year-old with Stadnyk.

St. Peter's Defeated In Campbellford Tilt

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 15 — (ENS).—Campbellford added another two points to their total, and Robinson and Mason of the locals added a few more points apiece in the TVL scoring race on Wednesday night, when St. Peters' were defeated 11 to 2 before a small crowd in the local arena.

Foster in the Peterborough nets played an excellent game despite the 11 pieces of rubber the locals put past him. For every one that went in there were a large number that he kept out. The Peterborough lads played a better brand of hockey than they have displayed in recent games, but their passing plays just didn't click.

"Ozzie" Nelson was the Campbellford netminder for Wednesday's game, giving Red Laverne a well-earned rest.

St. Peter's: Goal, Foster; defence, O'Connell, Short; centre, Russelle; wings, Forestell, Williams; alternates, D. O'Connell, Donald, Basciano, Boyle, McGrath, spare goal.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press.

Gordie Howe continues to hold down top spot in the National Hockey League's scoring race with 65 points, made up of 29 goals and 36 assists.

Team-mate Sid Abel is still in undisputed possession of second place, as neither he nor any of the other big seven were affected by Wednesday night's Chicago-New York game.

Montreal's Maurice Richard, in a three-way tie for third place still holds doggedly to his top goal-scoring spot with 32.

The leaders:	G	A	Pts.

Hoop Squads Prepare For Playoff Session

PCVS' senior "A" Garnet and Greys, the Marines and Clapper's Bruins arrive at the serious part of the basketball season this weekend, the playoffs. Five other games will be played featuring local teams in Toronto and local gyms.

Clapper's Bruins, local intermediate "A" entry, will meet the stiffest opposition in Ontario intermediate basketball Saturday night in Hamilton. There in Westdale Collegiate they play the first of a two-game points-to-count series with the Mormons, winners of the Hamilton and district league.

Packed with American players, the Mormons with only two Canadian players aboard, easily took their opposition, the Latvians and St. Anthony's, to advance into OABA playdowns. Coach Joe Stewart of the Bruins said that the Mormons are better than last year's Hamilton Strand-Cycles which the Marines edged for the Southern Ontario title.

Old Marines

This year's Bruins are the same team as last year's Marines. During exhibition games they have been piloted by Joe Stewart, playing-coach, and have included in the lineup, Ab Stewart, Doug Plunkett, Chum Gillespie, Gord Burns, Bill Edger and Hugh Dibben. For Saturday's game Al Clark, general secretary of the Ingersoll YMCA and former physical director at the local YMCA (and coach of the Marines), will direct Bruins from the bench.

Coach Gord McIntyre's intermediate "B" Marines are expected to take the first round of the playdowns from Belleville Pappas Bills Saturday night at the YMCA. The Marines have a 19-point lead in the two-game series, winning the first Saturday in Belleville 65-46. The Bills will be strengthened for this return game, three players who were sick last week again being in the lineup.

Coach Bev Goulding's PCVS senior "A" team have a sudden-death game Friday night at Trinity College school in Port Hope with Oshawa Central. The winner will advance into lake-shore semi-finals against Lindsay Collegiate next week. Both teams had three wins and a loss in league play.

Two Girls' Frays

At PCVS the girls' teams under Miss Doreen Pemberton and Miss Eva Scott are Friday hosts to the Bowmanville High teams. The collegians won both games by one point in Bowmanville to start the season.

Fred Allore's St. Peter's seniors visit St. Michael's in Toronto Friday night for an Ontario Catholic Athletic Conference game. The opposition for the SPS quintet has been too tall and too experienced for the locals.

At the YWCA Friday night the Girls' City League will have its weekly doubleheader.

Millbrook Victors

MILLBROOK, Feb. 15 (ENS). —The Millbrook Lions pulled out a 6-5 junior "D" OHA win over Bowmanville here Tuesday. Rahm and Alan Hutchinson scored in the 1-1 first frame. McGill counted a pair and Handley one for the home team in the second, as Kilpatrick scored two for Bowmanville. George Smith and Alan Hutchinson hit the mark for the winners in the third heat as C. Ferguson and Ben Mason notched markers for the other side to make it close. Teams:

Bowmanville: Goal, Heath; defence, Rice, Sellars; centre, Ferguson; wings, Geraldi, Kilpatrick; alternates, Lunney, Chant, Lemon, Burgess, Brooks, Rahm, Mason.

Millbrook: Goal, Hubbard; defence, McGill, Lowery; centre, Wright; wings, Smith, Handley; alternates, A. Hutchinson, Riley, Ginn, E. Hutchinson, Jamieson, Lunn, Kent, Lowes.

Leafs Wallop Davos For 2nd Straight Win

ZURICH, Switzerland, Feb. 15 (Reuters). — The touring Lethbridge Maple Leafs Wednesday night walloped Davos 7-2 for their second straight victory over the Swiss hockey champions.

Hec Negrello and Bill Chandler were the big guns for Lethbridge, each collecting two goals. Stan Obodiak and Don Vogan garnered single tallies, while the third Leaf marker, accidentally knocked into his own net by a Swiss defenceman during the goal-mouth scramble, wasn't credited to any Canadian player by the official scorer.

Doesn't Think Richard Only Canadien To Beat

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP). — The suggestion that Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League can be beaten merely by stopping the team's most potent scorer, Maurice (Rocket) Richard, provoked a one-word opinion Wednesday from Joe Primeau, coach of Toronto Maple Leafs.

"Nuts," said Primeau, whose team has been beaten only once by Canadiens this season.

"We've had plenty of trouble from such other Canadiens as Baldy Mackay, Ken Mosdell, Floyd Curry and Norm Dussault. The recipe doesn't apply to Leafs."

Originator of the theory was Neil Colville, coach of New York Rangers, who offered it in an interview during the weekend.

Suggestion that Montreal was a one-man team, Colville said: "Tie Richard up and you have them. That's the cue to beating Montreal. They haven't got much scoring strength outside of him."

Remember When—

Stack Captures Fourth Crown Has Perfect Score

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15—(CP)—Western Canadian skaters Wednesday night captured 10 of 12 events in the Canadian speed skating championships.

Frank Stack, of Winnipeg, skated to his fourth Canadian crown by winning the 220, the 880 and the five-mile events to make a clean sweep in senior competition in the two-day event.

Stack on Tuesday had captured the 440, one-mile and two-mile events to wind up with a perfect 180 points, 90 more than runner-up Gordon Audley, of Winnipeg.

Stack capped his performance with the five-mile, feature event of the trials. He moved into second position in the early stages of the 40-lap grind around the Wesley Park open-air rink, then took over near the end. His time was 16:20.5. Audley was a not-too-distant second and Saskatoon's Craig Mackay finished third.

In senior ladies' competition, Edmonton's Doreen McCleod went ahead of Pat Underhill, gaining 120 points to Miss Underhill's 80 to capture the title. Both Edmonton girls had 60 points on the basis of Tuesday night's skating, but the best Miss Underhill could do last night was to place second to Miss McCleod in the 220.

Caps Down Mohawks In Easy 9-4 Victory

By The Canadian Press.

The three games played in the American Hockey League Wednesday night had little effect on the standings as both Buffalo in the eastern division and Cleveland in the western section continue to show sizeable leads over their closest opponents.

At Cincinnati, Indianapolis Capitals scored five goals in the last 16 minutes to take an easy 9-4 victory from Cincinnati Mohawks before 1,584 fans.

At Buffalo, Paul Meger slapped home two goals with less than two minutes to play to gain a 3-3 tie for Buffalo Bisons with St. Louis Flyers.

Neither club was able to press home a victory in the 10-minute overtime period.

Johnston Asks U.S. Congress For Tougher Taxes At Once

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Eric Johnston asked Congress Wednesday to enact tough new taxes immediately to help him stabilize the economy of the United States by midsummer.

The economic stabilization chief urged the House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee to approve $10,000,000,000 in new levies now and take another look later on to see if still more taxes are needed. The new taxes, he said, should be retroactive to last Jan. 1.

Warning that delay would hinder the government's effort to curb inflation, Johnston said: "There's no mistaking that the days ahead are going to be tough and rough for all of us."

"Wages won't run as high as workers think they should. Profits won't run at the rate business thinks they should. The farmer won't get all he wants—and all of us consumers will have to get along with less."

But Johnston said he believes the present controls on wages, prices and production can be lifted in two or three years, "barring a full-scale attack."

Must Protect Dollar

He said the main task is to protect the soundness and stability of the dollar, and commented. "I want to hasten the day when the dollar bill can look 100 cents worth of merchandise squarely in the eye as one equal to another."

"Failure to tax—and tax hard now," he warned, "will be perilous to our country's strength and safety."

President Truman has requested a two-phase tax boost—$10,000,000,000 immediately and perhaps $6,500,000,000 later—to balance his huge rearmament budget. He has dared Congress to pare it down.

Johnston declined to suggest what specific forms the new taxes should take. He conceded, however, that certain heavy excise tax increases suggested by Treasury Secretary John Snyder would be inflationary to some extent.

Snyder's plan calls for $4,000,000,000 more in individual income taxes, $3,000,000,000 more in corporation taxes and $3,000,000,000 more in excise taxes on automobiles, gasoline, tobacco, liquor, beer and such household appliances as radios and television sets.

Farmer Traces Ancestry To Edward I, Sticks To Farm

AUCKLAND, N.S. (CP) — Two years ago a New Zealand farmer, Gordon Deed, wrote to the editor of Debrett's Peerage in London to check on vague reports that his family had "good connections" in Britain. He was amazed to learn that he was the direct descendant through 19 generations of King Edward I of England and through 24 generations of King David I of Scotland.

Since then Mr. Deed has spent his spare time assembling further data on his family, said to have one of the most interesting genealogies discovered for many years. He has a collection of coats-of-arms, all of which he is entitled to use, and family trees going back to the days of William the Conqueror. He has had letters from kinsmen in Britain, America, and many other parts of the world.

Hobby Only

But it is a hobby only. All the research has not shown that Mr Deed is entitled to any titles or estates. On the contrary his inquiries have cost him a good deal of money.

Despite his ancestry he is still working the dairy farm that his father won from forest and swamp 60 years ago at Otaua, near Auckland. He hopes that his eldest son Walter will follow him when he leaves school.

But he still feels slightly dazed when he contemplates the proofs of his descent. "I can't get over it," he says. "I feel surprised whenever I look at all these papers. I don't know what I'm going to do with them, except perhaps frame them."

Czech Theologian Makes Appeal For Trust And Understanding

LONDON —(CP)— A challenge to the Christian church of the Western World for an attitude of understanding and trust towards Communist-dominated countries, has been issued by Dr. Joseph L. Hromadka, dean of theology at the University of Prague.

In an open letter, published in the current issue (Jan. 25) of The British Weekly, described as a "Journal of Christian and Social Progress," Dr. Hromadka declared the Church is at the crossroads of history and must act to avoid "full-fledged disintegration."

The editor of the British Weekly in a footnote to the letter, explains that the Czech churchman, a figure of recent controversy throughout the Christian world, had been invited to state his case. He fled from Prague when the Germans invaded Czechoslovakia in 1939 and made his way to the United States. He served for a spell at Princeton, NJ, as guest professor of comparative religion. After the war he returned to his Communist-ruled native land where he has taken a leading role in the activities of the Church of Czech Brethren.

Aware of Pressure

In his letter Dr. Hromadka says that a Christian living in a Communist country is keenly aware of the pressure that springs from the present arena of his activities. It had been necessary to readjust conventional ways of worship and action. Sentimentality and sanctimony had been scrapped. But above all, those in the east had to take the upheaval of history seriously—regardless of personal likes.

Within the last two years, he said, an "Iron Curtain" had been drawn tighter between the churches of the two main sections of the world. There was growing danger these two factions would cease to understand one another.

"I am not ready to make anybody responsible for that most unfortunate situation," he writes. "What I wish to stress is the disquieting self-assurance of very many 'Western' churchmen and theologians that they are free of any self-imposed prejudice and that only the other side might be the victim of propaganda pressure, a police supervision and of a systematic indoctrination.

". . . . We are aware of the perils within ourselves. But what we need from you is an attitude of understanding and trust."

Sharp Criticism

Dr. Hromadka was sharply critical of the statement issued in Toronto last summer by the central committee of the World Council of Churches in commending the action of the United Nations in Korea.

"In a tragically decisive moment of world history the World Council of Churches identified itself—under most dubious circumstances—with one group of great powers, backed its military action and encouraged all UN members to participate in it."

He believed the endorsement was an unfortunate and irreparable error, the consequences of which no one could foresee. On this point he added: "Today, when the peace of the world is at stake, when every self-righteous word can strengthen the aggressive and destructive forces of one's own nation and prompt a catastrophe on an unprecedented scale, an ecumenical church body should speak in a way that does not pour oil into the fire and does not encourage one side to a false and self-righteous crusade."

Dr. Hromadka declares it is the duty of the Church in the western orbit to pursue rigorous action for peace and understanding throughout the world. The hearts and minds of their own nations should be closely scrutinized before other nations were condemned.

"Do not misunderstand me," he concluded. "We in the east do not claim to be in every respect free. We are not ready to whitewash all that is going an around us. Our distress, however, arises from our sense of solidarity with, and responsibility for, the Christians all over the world, in general, and of the classical Christian nations in particular."

Oldest MP Observes His 78th Birthday

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP) — The Rev. Dan McIvor (L—Fort William) said today in the Commons he was "just plain flabbergasted" when members joined to wish him well on his 78th birthday.

"I don't know how long I am going to live, but I am going to live as long as I can," said Mr. McIvor, the oldest member of the Commons.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said that from Mr. McIvor's appearance members with confidence could wish him many happy returns of the day. He hoped Mr. McIvor would celebrate many of his birthdays in the Commons.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said Mr. McIvor's youthful appearance "encourages some of us that life in this parliament may not be so destructive after all."

Comsell Portage Hub In Hunt For Uranium In Saskatchewan

SASKATOON —(CP)— Stored in protectively lead-lined, padlocked boxes in a vault in downtown Saskatoon are pieces of rock, heavy with uranium oxide and rich in showings of copper.

Some of these were brought back just before Christmas by five Saskatoon men who found them north of Camsell Portage, in the extreme northwest of Saskatchewan.

To get them, they m[illegible]ored 250 miles from Saskatoon to the settlement of Lac la Ronge, then flew some 500 miles north and west to the north shore of Lake Athabaska, north of the 59th parallel, to land at Camsell Portage.

The expedition was part of Saskatchewan's hunt for uranium.

The five men were Henry Wright, managing director, and Ford Beavis, director of Great West Uranium Mines Ltd.; Douglas Beavis, his brother, all of Saskatoon; George Hershberger of nearby Milden, and Dan Worden, Saskatoon newspaperman who, familiar with the development of Kirkland Lake gold and Cobalt silver in Ontario, wanted to see the lay of the uranium country.

The prospecting group is conducting exploration and development work on a concession of 25 square miles some 10 or 12 miles north of Camsell Portage.

It is part of a larger area, 220 miles wide by about 70 miles deep, which is the centre of Saskatchewan's uranium hunt. In the northwest, it adjoins the Northwest Territories; its southern limit is the 59th parallel.

Growing Activity

There are more than 30 active mining operations, ranging from exploration to development. There, for instance, is the scene of the recently-announced John Nesbitt discovery.

Headquarters of the scattered camps and lonely tents of that grim land of rock, lake, forest and caribou pasture is Goldfields. This is the town boomed in the days of the Box mine, whose wide vein of ore made gold pay at $3 a ton. Before it closed in th[illegible]ew 40, Box mined 2,000 tons a day, and made gold bricks in its own refinery.

The Box mine's power plant today supplies several uranium operations and, with installation of a new turbine, will have a reserve for future expansion. It is operated by Consolidated Smelters.

In the Camsell Portage area, caterpillar roads are ready for major operations. Ore, or eventually concentrates, can be loaded there on Northern Navigation Company barges and taken to waterways, 350 miles southwest across Lake Athabaska, where there is a railhead.

Native trappers, turned prospectors, now are as familiar with the Geiger counter, the gadget which buzzes in the presence of radioactive ore, as they are with dogsled, rifle and trap line.

The prospecting trenches run 15 feet dep and more. They are filled with rock shattered by dynamite blasts. Parts of them have a smudgy, rusty color. That is uranium oxide. There is also a glittering yellow—that's copper.

Alberta Gas Source For Eastern Canada

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 — (CP). — The central and southern oil fields of Alberta will be the source of gas which the Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Limited hope to pump across the Prairies to Eastern Canada, Senator Paul Bouffard (L-Quebec) said Wednesday in an interview.

Senator Bouffard is sponsoring a Bill in the Senate for incorporation of the company to build the 2,200-mile pipeline at an estimated cost of $250,000,000. It would serve cities along the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways lines with gas and would extend as far east as Montreal.

US Naval Construction To Get Big Boost

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP). —A vast naval construction program, including a new type aircraft carrier big enough to handle atomic bombers, was approved unanimously Wednesday by the United States Senate Armed Services Committee.

The legislation, previously passed by the House of Representatives, now goes to the Senate for expected speedy approval.

It would authorize an immediate start on construction and conversion of a large fleet of combat surface ships, submarines, tankers and other vessels.

Phones In Demand

LONDON — (CP) — Postmaster General Ness Edwards told the House of Commons recently that if Britain could meet all demands for telephone installations rental revenue would increase by £3,000,000 ($9,000,000) annually.

Want New York Administer Seaway Project

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Senator H. H. Lehman (Dem.-Lib. N.Y.) said Wednesday he has "full assurance" from President Truman that he supports a proposal that New York state administer the power to be generated by the proposed St. Lawrence Seaway and power project.

The President also agrees, Lehman said in a statement, that New York—"by the nature of things"—should receive a "major" share of the power.

A seaway and power bill, of which Lehman is one of more than 20 sponsors, includes a section under which the power facilities would be transferred to New York state.

(The St. Lawrence seaway and power project has been conceived as a joint enterprise between the U.S. and Canada. Canada is in favor of a start on the project but Congress has held up ratification of it since 1941.)

The federal power commission has denied a New York application to construct and operate the power phase of the St. Lawrence project jointly with Ontario. The commission suggested this should be done by the federal government.

Under terms of an agreement signed by Canada and United States in 1941 it was agreed that the 2,200,000 horsepower to be developed in the international section of the river would be divided equally between the two countries.

The Canadian government entered an agreement with the government of Ontario providing that the Canadian share of the power would be available to that province.

Nova Scotia Forecasts Sales Tax Legislation

By The Canadian Press

Nova Scotia Wednesday became the fifth of Canada's legislatures to launch the 1951 session when it opened with a government forecast of sales-tax legislation.

The Throne Speech — official voice of government plans—said the legislature would be asked to "consider a measure providing for the imposition of a retail turnover tax."

The speech gave no details on the proposed legislation but it was learned unofficially that the government plans to ask for a one-per-cent levy.

The other major promise in the speech was one expressing willingness of the Nova Scotia government to pay half the cost of old-age pensions to persons between the ages of 65 and 70. The Federal government has announced it is willing to pay the other half if the necessary constitutional amendments are made.

Public Inquiry

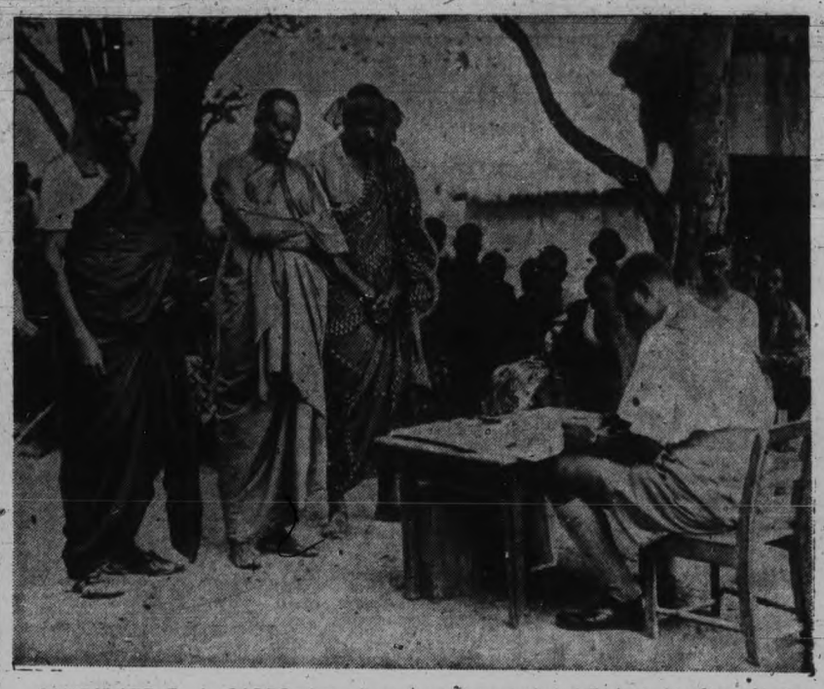
In Quebec, Premier Maurice Duplessis told the assembly "there will be a public, impartial and complete inquiry" into the collapse of the Duplessis bridge at Three Rivers last Jan. 21.

The premier spoke on a government amendment to a motion presented last week by the Liberal house leader, George Marler, asking for a public inquiry into the bridge disaster.

In Winnipeg, debate continued on a Progressive Conservative amendment to the address in reply to the Throne Speech. The amendment charges Manitoba's Liberal Progressive government of Premier D. L. Campbell with failing to make adequate provisions for education.

E. N. McGirr (PC—Dauphin) recommended collection of a province-wide levy to meet education costs, replacing the present system of municipal taxes.

In Regina, a CCF back-bencher said "an Iron Curtain surrounds Saskatchewan."



J. Walter Erb (CCF—Milestone) said the curtain was "erected and maintained by the collusion of the press, the Liberal party and the Canadian Chamber of Commmerce."

"If all the people of Canada really knew about the great social and economic changes that have taken place in Saskatchewan since a people's government has administered its affairs, they would have demanded and achieved not only the social and economic security legislation we have in this province, but all such legislation that would free them from the social and economic inequities of the day."

ST. THOMAS —(CP)—Charles Whilhelm, farmer near Chepstow, let the axe slip when chopping brush. After he got home he took his shoe off and found a small toe virtually severed. At hospital he had it snipped off and drove home.

CANDIDATE E. A. CARBO (standing, centre), a farmer, unopposed to the electoral college in the district of Vakpo in Gaadangbe rural constituency of Britain's Gold Coast Colony in Africa, was nominated, seconded and elected in first election in the colony's history. The nationalist convention People's Party, pledged to bring a speedy end to the 100-year-old British rule, has won 34 out of 38 seats to fill the 85-member new Parliament so far.

Toscanini May Retire; Old Knee Injury

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP).—Recurrence of an old knee injury will cut short the present radio concert schedule of famed conductor Arturo Toscanini—and perhaps end his entire career.

An associate of the 83-year-old Toscanini said the conductor would give a last performance in his NBC series Saturday night. He was scheduled for two more appearances this season.

An appearance this May in London with the British Broadcasting Company orchestra also has been cancelled.

This last NBC performance, the associate added, may be the finale of the noted conductor's long career. Toscanini has conducted the NBC orchestra's weekly series for 14 years.

"The long hours on his feet are a great strain, and he is afraid the leg will buckle," said the associate.

"Other orchestra leaders might sit while conducting but not the great Toscanini."

Amalgamation Ruling

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP).—Whether Toronto and 12 surrounding municipalities will amalgamate probably will be known by June or July, Lorne Cumming, chairman of the Ontario Municipal Board, said Wednesday night. He added that the Board is still to receive 10 depositions from municipalities opposing amalgamation. The board hoped to conclude the hearing, now in session here, in two weeks.

Farm Forum Discusses Food Bank For World

NORWOOD, Feb. 15 (ENS) — Need of a world food bank was the topic under discussion at the Donegal farm forum held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Buck on Monday evening. It was agreed that our surplus food products should be bought by the government and distributed to the countries where food is so desperately needed.

This food could be exchanged for products we need, wherever possible.

It was also suggested that a delegate should be sent to these countries to find out if the land is unsuitable for growing food, or just what the reason is for this condition. There would be more good will between countries if food was shared between each other, rather than spending this money to build armaments to fight each other.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Begg conducted the recreational hour. Games and contests were played, followed by dancing to music supplied by Donald Beamish. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Raymond Begg, Mrs. Max Brown and Mrs. Wilfred Buck.

THE FOREST RANGER—who has more authority than a judge or a general when a fire is under way, can pull men from their regular jobs and set them to work quelling the blaze whether they want to or not. The only persons exempt from this conscription are doctors and clergymen, and experience tells that these professional men are at the forefront during the fight anyway. The fire ranger, too, can walk into any home or business and commandeer what he needs to fight a fire. He can take over trucks, horses, hose and anything that he thinks useful. Canada's most authoritative men sometimes work for as little as 15 cents an hour.

Secretary Acheson Warns Aggressors Keep Hands Off Yugoslavia

By EDWARD E. BOMAR.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP) —State Secretary Acheson called Wednesday for an international revolt of Communist parties against the domination of Moscow.

He advised all foreign Communists who have the interest of their country at heart to follow the example of a group of Italians and break away from the Kremlin's control.

And, at his press conference, he renewed a warning that any Communist attack on Yugoslavia might strain the fabric of world peace to the breaking point. Yugoslavia already has declared its independence of the Soviet Union.

Acheson said recent developments in Italy, where a number of Communist leaders have decided to put their country ahead of their party, are a matter of interest to the United States. He observed it is encouraging when the fact finally dawns on Communists outside Russia that they are agents of a foreign power.

In telling aggressors to keep their hands off Yugoslavia, Acheson said the U.S. already has demonstrated its attitude toward aggression in Korea and in the UN. He added it was the broad policy of the U.S., as stated by President Truman, that new recourse to aggression in the world today might well strain to the breaking point the fabric of world peace.

Acheson also said it is important for Assistant Secretary George W. Perkins, now in Belgrade, to get an up-to-date appraisal of Marshal Tito's regime and the Yugoslav situation generally.

His comment on Yugoslavia resulted from a question about the U.S. attitude especially if Yugoslavia were put under pressure or threat of attack. In response to another question, Acheson declined to say whether Truman's warning last summer has been called directly to the attention of Soviet satellite governments.

On other foreign policy developments, Acheson:

1. Discounted reports that the Western powers are discussing a serious proposal for unifying and neutralizing Germany. Acheson said as far as he knew the reports lacked foundation.
2. Said the U.S. government is going forward with preparations to submit to Congress its proposal for ending the state of war with Germany.

Lose Motion In Legislature To Reduce Work Week

TORONTO, Feb. 15 — (CP) — Opposition members had their innings in the Ontario Legislature Wednesday but were defeated on two counts—a motion to give municipal voting rights to all persons 21 or over and a bill to reduce the maximum work week from 48 to 40 hours.

The motion by Reid Scott (CCF, Toronto Beaches) to extend the municipal franchise was defeated on a recorded, straight party vote, 58 to 20, with Liberals voting with government forces.

The hours-of-work bill, proposed by Robert Thornberry (CCF, Hamilton Centre), was squelched by a successful government motion to give it a six-months hoist. The motion, for a six-month delay in voting on the bill, in effect killed it. The Legislature will not be in ssession in six months.

The Legislature today resumes the throne speech debate.

Three hours of Wednesday's session were set aside for consideration of private members' bills—the first special day for back-benchers the Legislature has seen in years. An additional hour, however, was spent in debating the principle of a government bill to amend the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Approved Unanimously

The bill was approved unanimously in a division requested by Premier Frost, who called for a recorded vote after vigorous debate by opposition members. The CCF, Liberal and Labor-Progressive parties voted for the bill although they had charged it did not go far enough.

Mr. Scott urged that adoption of his motion to extend provincial voting rights to municipal elections would give young people a sense of responsibility and broaden representative government. He, himself, when elected to the Legislature in 1948 at the age of 21, was unable to vote in Toronto elections.

His motion called for abolition of multiple voting in larger centres, where a resident can vote for aldermen in any ward in which he holds property.

Should Be Represented

Civic franchise should no longer be restricted to those with property interests, Mr. Scott said. Local councils were taking an increasing interest in questions not involving property, such as Sunday sport plebiscites. Young people, in fact, paid civic taxes through room rents and should be represented in councils.

He was supported by a series of CCF members, some of whom proposed a further reduction in voting age to 18.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar said there had been no municipal demands for franchise changes. "We don't want, without serious thought, to knock one of the foundation stones from under the Municipal Act," he said.

One possibility, the minister said, was that a large transient vote could upset local affairs. Mr. Scott replied that minimum residence requirements could be established.

8-Hour Reduction

Mr. Thornberry's bill called for an eight-hour reduction in the maximum work week with maintained wages, limitation to eight hours a week and 100 hours a year and time-and-a-half overtime pay. He would maintain existing labor contracts which give more than the terms of his bill and change those which provide less.

His bill was supported by CCF members, including Eamon Park (Toronto Dovercourt), C. H. Millard (York West) and J. L. Dowling (Hamilton East). They said reduction of working hours would allow workers to share in recent productivity increases, and would increase the individual worker's efficiency.

Labor Minister Daley said small employers could not carry the burden of extra costs which the bill would bring. It would also increase the cost of living and shorter hours would strain demands for defence production.

Up To Unions

The government was not opposed to the aims of some of the bill's measures, he said, but felt that further working hours reductions were the responsibility of unions through collective bargaining.

Opposition to the government's Workmen's Administration Bill centred around the absence of provision for labor representation on accident prevention boards. The government was criticized for not including that representation, which was recommended in Mr. Justice W. D. Roach's Royal Commission report on workmen's compensation.

Campbell Calder (L, London) said the bill was "only a down payment" on the Roach report, and called for implementation of all of its 16 major recommendations.

The government's bill will amend the present act by reducing the paiting period for compensation from seven to five days, increasing the maximum annual wage for payments from $3,000 to $4,000, increasing grants for the widow and for funeral expenses of fatally injured workmen, and altering methods of employers' payments into the compensation fund.

Minimum Rate

J. L. Dowling (CCF, Hamilton East) suggested a minimum, rather than a maximum rate, for compensation. W. H. Temple (CCF, Toronto High Park) charged insufficient inspection of safety devices.

Labor Minister Daley said opposition demands for increased compensation to injured workmen who are being paid now at former low rates was impractical. It would involve a complete new act and the cost would be too heavy for employers who paid for compensation.

The minister said he wanted more time to study the Roach report's recommendations on accident prevention. Other recommendations of the report might be implemented later.

"I'm not going to tell the thousands of volunteer accident prevention workers that they are not needed, until I have a formula to replace them," he said. "I must admit I have not got that formula."

Jury Finds 2 Men Innocent Of Rape

TORONTO, Feb. 15 — (CP).—An Assize Court jury took 15 minutes Wednesday to find Gordon Mayes 23, and Lloyd Lowes 24, innocent of a charge of raping a 22-year-old woman from Garson, Ont. Lowes was also found innocent of attempted rape.

The woman told the court during the trial that she had met the two youths after attending a downtown movie here and had accompanied them to a Toronto home where she was raped. She said she escaped by hanging by her fingertips from a bathroom window and then falling two storeys into the arms of a policeman, attracted by her cries for help.

"This should teach you a lesson and I hope it will," Mr. Justice A. M. LeBel told the pair.

French Decoration

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP)—The decoration of the French Legion of Honor was placed Wednesday in the coffin of Dr. F. W. Routley, National Commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross, who died Monday. Dr. Routley had been scheduled to receive the award, given by the French government for outstanding military or civil work, next spring.

Urge System Changed

HAMILTON, Feb. 15 (CP) — Hamilton's legislation and reception committee Wednesday night endorsed a Stratford resolution urging the provincial government to assume the entire cost of education or increase grants to municipalities. Con. Leslie Parker, acting chairman of the committee, said:

"I would be in favor of the province taking over education completely."

House Took Rake-off Police Say

Defendants Seek To Discredit Evidence Of Officer

Three men took up their defence in police court again Wednesday against a charge of running dice games by trying to discredit the chief witness against them Constable John Wesley Miller of the provincial police.

The three were Borden J. Herron, 680 Little St., in whose home the dice games were alleged to have taken place, Alphonse Spencer, 610 Armour Rd., and Michael Vyse, 683 Little St.

Claim Officer Drunk

In their cross-questioning of Constable Miller, they attempted to show the officer was drunk Jan. 5, the night that the provincial police raided Herron's house.

Herron asked "On Jan. 5 were you not sitting in the hotel with the boys all night?"

"I can't recall that," the officer replied.

Asked if he were in the hotel beverage room at all, Constable Miller said, "I can't say definitely, but that is probably right."

When Herron tried to pin the officer down about details of where he was that evening and how much he had to drink, the officer said he could not remember where all he had been, nor how much he had drunk. He said he wouldn't have let himself get drunk when he himself had phoned and given the provincial police anti-gambling squad the tip to raid Herron's house that night. He added that it was part of his duty to "mingle with the boys" in beverage rooms or anywhere else.

"He didn't know half of what he was doing that night," Herron commented.

Both Spencer and Vyse took up much the same line, trying to prod the officer into remembering what had happened that particular night.

Three Times At Herron Home

Constable Miller said he had been three times at the Herron home and took part in dice games operated by Herron, Spencer and Vyse.

He first went to the Little St. house Nov. 19. A kitchen table was covered with a blanket and he saw five other men put $1 each on the table. The constable asked if that were the admission fee and was told by someone it was.

Herron picked up the money and gave it to his wife. Then a fade game of craps started. Shortly after three others came in and gave $1 each to Herron and took part in the game.

He played in another game Dec. 29. This time he saw Leonard Vyse take 25 cents out of the pot for every second pass made with the dice. Vyse put the money in front of him and then every once in a while passed it over to Herron.

Tipped Off Police

Jan. 5 he learned that another game was scheduled and he phoned Constable John Anderson of the provincial police in Toronto. Later he went to Herron's house and started to play a fade game of dice.

This time he saw Spencer take a rake-off from the pot—again 25 cents for every second pass. He saw Spencer put the money he collected in his shirt pocket. Only once did he see him take some of the money out of his shirt pocket and give it to Herron.

About one a.m. in the morning, there were about 30 men in the house. Some of them were taking part in a second game in the living room. There was no rake-off from this second game.

Sometimes there was as much as $30 on the table being bet, he said.

At 2:10 a.m. Corporal Von Zuben and an anti-gambling squad entered the house.

The trial was adjourned to Feb. 28.

A FORMER HAVELOCK MAN, Corporal Bob Angus of the Red Indian Squadron of the RCAF, is shown Above working on one of the squadron's Vampire jet fighters. The corporal, who married a Havelock girl in March of 1950, was posted overseas with the squadron on New Year's Day. The RCAF is his career, but when he retires, he plans to come to the Peterborough district, settle down and fish.

Packet Offer From CGE Made To UE

7.5 Percent Increase Cost of Living Bonus Three-Year Contract

Canadian General Electric have offered the United Electrical Workers a 7.5 per cent wage increase, a cost-of-living bonus, and a three-year contract.

These were the company's counter-proposals handed to union officials Wednesday. Negotiations will resume Saturday after the joint negotiating committee of UE locals has sudied the company offer.

C. R. Sullivan, UE district representative, said that neither the executive nor any official of Local 524 wished to make any comment at this stage. "But," he added, "the offer isn't sufficient to meet the rising cost of living."

Asked For 25 Cents

The UE demands include a general increase of 25 cents an hour; an extra 10 cents for day rate and other skilled workers; reduction of the work week from 42 to 40 hours (43 to 40 in Peterborough) with no loss of take-home pay, and a general improvement in contract terms.

These include holiday provisions, and a group insurance and health and welfare plan paid for entirely by the company.

The company offer of 7.5 per cent works out to an average increase of 8.9 cents (based on the average wage of $1.19 an hour).

A two-way "escalator" clause is also proposed by the company to take care of the cost of living. There would be an automatic adjustment of one-cent an hour for each 1.3 change in the cost of living index. The adjustment could be up or down.

A three-year contract is proposed with an automatic increase of three cents an hour each anniversary date.

Other clauses of the company offer include an extra half week for employees with three years' service, and increased rates for certain jobs as agreed on in each plant.

The present contract expires at the end of March.

Drawn-Out Trial Adjourned For Two Weeks

The drawn-out trial of Mrs. Dorothy Chambers, Leahy's Lane, first charged with stealing $395 and then with stealing a $395 fur coat from John F. Donoghue, 308 Park St., moved into another stage and was adjourned two weeks in police court today.

The latest adjournment was asked for by the crown as a result of a change made in the date of the alleged offence.

The charge, laid last fall, first read that Mrs. Chambers stole $395. After evidence was heard two weeks ago, the crown asked the charge be amended to accuse her of stealing a fur coat worth $395.

Claimed No Evidence

After the crown closed its case, Gordon H. T. Farquharson argued that there was no evidence of any theft taking place between March 1 and April 4 as the charge alleged.

The only evidence which seemed to point toward any sort of theft was a credit note given to Mrs. Chambers in September by a fur wholesaler, Saul Kelman, Toronto, which listed the fur coat Mrs. Chambers had sold to Mr. Donoghue the previous spring. It stated that the coat was sent to Kelman in September.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw then asked that the charge be amended again to date the offence as taking place in September. The magistrate would not allow such an amendment to be made and the charge was dismissed. Mr. Bradshaw then laid a new charge which changed the date.

Mr. Farquharson entered a plea of "autre fois acquit" rather than "guilty" or "not guilty." This meant that the accused had been tried on the same charge previously and acquitted and should not have to stand trial again on it.

Plea Failed

The trial was adjourned to today until the magistrate considered the plea. Today he ruled that the plea of autre fois acquit failed and asked for another plea by the accused. Mrs. Chambers pleaded not guilty.

Magistrate W. R. Philp KC gave as his reason for his decision that although the offences appeared to be identical, the two charges were different because of the different dates on them.

Crown Attorney Bradshaw asked if the accused would consent to the evidence given in the previous case being taken as the evidence in the present case. Mr. Farquharson refused and the crown asked for another two weeks to arrange to have his witnesses appear again.

Women Organize For Drive To Aid Community Chest

"The work of the Women's Division of the Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund Campaign is to solicit funds from the city schools, institutions and private homes," stated Mrs. J. P. Watts, chairman of the Women's Division, in an interview this week.

"In this way," she continued, "we contact citizens who otherwise would not be given the opportunity to contribute to the campaign fund."

Her First Year

This is the first year that Mrs. Watts has been in charge of the Women's Division. She took over this position following the resignation of Mrs. W. E. Fanning. The Women's Division is one of four divisions into which the campaign is divided. The other three are the Industrial, Retail and Special Names Divisions.

Outlining her division's work, Mrs. Watts explained that the city is divided into six sections. Each section has a division captain and two sub captains. These sub captains are in charge of five or more canvassers. In addition a canvasser is assigned to each of the schools and institutions in the city.

Great Enthusiasm

"I have been amazed at the enthusiasm shown by the women when they were approached to do this canvassing," said Mrs. Watts. "Eighty-five per cent of this year's workers are veteran canvassers for the community fund campaign."

She went on to explain that the canvassers will hold a meeting on February 22 when representatives of each of the agencies included in the fund will outline their work and needs. At this time the canvassers will be given kits containing campaign subscription cards.

When asked if she had any remarks to make about the campaign Mrs. Watts said, "I hope that the public will receive these canvassers well. These ladies are voluntarily working very hard for a cause that they consider is extremely worthy. It will make their calls much easier if they are received with a smile."

The campaign will be in operation from March 2-9 and the Women's Division objective is $5,000.

Canvassers Named

Following are the names of the canvassers: North Division—Mrs. W. Hinds, division captain; Mrs. C. R. Hagerman, sub captain; canvassers—Mrs. R. Hatton, Mrs. J. S. Curtis, Mrs. W. Coyne, Mrs. R. B. Arnold, Mrs. G. H. Hutchinson; Mrs. J. R. Jobe, sub captain; canvassers—Mrs. Donald Whyte, Miss E. Taylor, Mrs. Stanley Braund, Mrs. H. J. Long, Mrs. A. E. Sayers; Mrs. Leo Copp, sub captain; canvassers, Mrs. H. Dulmage, Mrs. A. J. Weames, Mrs. P. Martyn, Mrs. G. Munro, Mrs. A. E. Thompson.

Paving Program Approved By Committee

"Property owners on Stewart St., south of Perry St., are the only people who have petitioned for street paving in my time," City Engineer Chalmers remarked this week.

That stretch extends from Perry St. around to Park St. in front of the Baptist Church. It is included in the proposed 1951 paving program with Townsend St. from Aylmer to George St.; Aylmer St. from Townsend St. to the CPR; Weller St. from Monaghan Road to Manorhill Road.

Romaine St. from Park St. to Monaghan Road, and Park Hill Road from Reid St. to Aylmer St. may be considered later in the season.

Financing of the work that was planned last year but was not begun has already been authorized by bylaw. City Solicitor Huycke has said those streets should not be included in the 1951 bylaw.

Finance committee approval of the program was moved by Ald. J. E. Gillespie and Mayor Swanston.

As to the work carried over from last year, Mr. Huycke said: "The bylaw authorizing it is not impaired if the paving is not done until a year later."

Bell Co. Request Coolly Received

Application of Bell Telephone Company to buy from the city for a warehouse site several lots fronting on the west side of Water St., north, was coolly received by the finance committee of the council Monday.

A motion by Mayor Swanston, seconded by Ald. P. J. Anglesey, suggested that the company look over the city's industrial area in the southwest end of the city.

The lots are north of Mill St. and at the foot of a level area of rather high land overlooking the river and Water St., north of the Auburn dam.

"We have had a great number of enquiries from people who wanted to buy and build there," City Clerk Outram informed the committee. "There were close to 100. City planning committee wished to plan the whole area, including the overlooking property (the old Hilliard farm) which is owned by the city. There is no sewer connection for dwellings, and septic tanks would be needed. If it was sold for a warehouse, I think those citizens who were enquiring would be much disappointed."

Judgment Awaited In Betting Charge

The trial of Edward Alberico, Neil Harrington and Ronald Horton, charged jointly with keeping a common betting establishment was adjourned Wednesday to March 5 for judgment by Magistrate W. R. Philp KC.

Resuming Wednesday afternoon after a long morning session taken up almost exclusively with cross questioning of Constable John Wesley Miller of the provincial police, the case ended with arguments of defence counsels. No defence evidence was called.

The date for judgment was put over two weeks because the lawyers will be busy in Supreme Court next week.

Fraser Votes With CCF For Price Fix

The Peterborough and District Labor Council (CCL) has been informed by Gordon K. Fraser, MP, that he voted in favor of the CCF proposal for immediate re-imposition of price controls and the payment of subsidies where necessary.

It was defeated in a House of Commons vote 150 to 54. The Liberals opposed it in a bloc and it was supported by Progressive Conservatives, CCF-ers and Social Crediters.

In a telegram to the labor council, informing them of his intentions, Mr. Fraser said: "I feel that the government should have used some measures to control the fast climb in prices which we have had during the last few years. The government has had the power, and the authority, and it is up to them to put these measures into force as soon as possible. I am voting for the Herridge (i.e. CCF) amendment."

The PDLC has gone on record as advocating price and rent controls but no wage freeze.

Family Court Cost $6,600

Financing of the Family Court last year cost the city and county $6,600 as reported to the finance committee of the council Monday by Magistrate W. R. Philp.

County council is being asked to contribute $1,485.66 which sum is 22.51% of the total. The city pays 77.49% which amounts to $5,128.54.

Of the 271 cases which came before the court last year, 210 were from the city and 61 from the county.

Magistrate Philp provided the following details of these cases:

Those tried under the Juvenile Delinquents Act were: 78 from the city and 17 from the county.

Under the Children's Protection Act: 29 from the city and seven from the county.

Reporting that his car had been hit by another car travelling on the wrong side of the road on Hunter St. bridge Wednesday night, Clarence McFee, 73 Hunter St., could give police only a vague description of the car. He said it was either an old Whippet or Chevrolet about 1927 or 1928 model. He did not get the licence number. His car received a small dent in the left front fender. Traffic Officer Harold Mesley investigated.

HE OBJECTS

An Ashburnham resident, after reading the Post Office story about the rush of Valentine Day greeting cards and the postmen working overtime to get them out, phoned in a complaint. He reports that at 1.15 Tuesday morning he dropped three Valentines with first class postage on them into the Post Office city letter slot. They were not delivered on Wednesday—he hopes they reach his children today.

Out Three Days Back In For Five Months

It took Harold (Mousie) Brady, no fixed address, three days to get out of jail and back into it again.

Tuesday morning he walked out of the Mimico jail after serving four months on a charge of vagrancy. This morning in police court he was sentenced to another five months on another charge of vagrancy.

He wanted only three months because he prefers the county jail to a reformatory. Sentences of more than three months and less than two years are served in one of Ontario's reformatories.

He spent his two nights in Peterborough this week as a lodger in the city police jail.

"You were here just a few months ago," Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, said to Brady.

"This man just came back from reformatory," said Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, "and I thing the only thing to do with him is send him back."

"Have you had work since you got out?" the magistrate asked Brady.

"No," the accused said. He added that he had looked for a job.

"How hard did you look?" the magistrate asked.

"I tried to get one at a few places yesterday," Brady said.

"He won't work," said the crown attorney.

75-Cent Haircuts

BROCKVILLE, Feb. 15 (CP)—Price of haircuts here was increased today by 10 cents to 75 cents. Shaves will cost 50 cents and children's haircuts 60 cents.

The Brockville Barbers' Association said the increased costs of living, barbering equipment and supplies was the reason for the boost.

Airman's Idea Of Paradise Is Land Of The Kawarthas

ODIHAM, Hants., England, Feb. 15—Corporal Robert Angus, formerly of Havelock, is one Canadian who welcomed a chance to serve with the first RCAF squadron to train in England since the war. His first visit off the station was to Aberdeen, Scotland, where his mother is seriously ill. Cpl. Angus' commanding officer, Squadron-Leader R. T. P. Davidson of Vancouver, B.C., gave him special leave, and the corporal was in Aberdeen one day after the squadron landed at Odiham on January 23.

Cpl. Angus is an armament technician with the Red Indian Squadron (421), now training in Vampire jet fighters with the RAF.

Joined In 1936

Born in Aberdeen, the corporal joined the RAF in 1936 and served as an armament fitter with them until 1947, when he obtained his release and enlisted with the RCAF. He was transferred to 421 Squadron just before last Christmas.

Bob married a Canadian girl, the former Edith Wright, of Havelock, in March of 1950, and his wife is now living with a sister in Prince George, B.C.

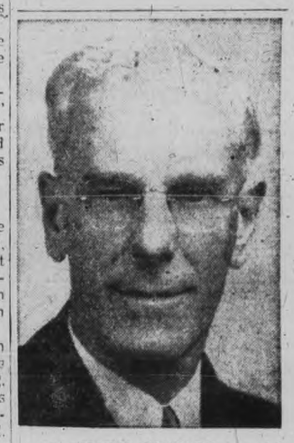
Two days after Bob was forced to leave Prince George for overseas duty, a son was born to his wife.

He plans to make the air force a career and to retire somewhere in the Peterborough district.

"The Trent Valley and the Kawartha Lakes, they're for me," he said. "I'd like nothing better than to retire there and spend the rest of my life fishing. That's my idea of paradise."

Returns After A Year

For the next year, though, the corporal will be a busy man, working on the varied armament of the squadron's Vampire fighters. After the year's hitch in England, the squadron will return to Canada.



Another armament technician who was happy to go overseas was Sgt. Hugh H. Young, of Sperling, Man. His most recent leave was spent with his wife and six-year-old daughter in West Hartlepool, Durham county.

Last October, his wife and daughter came to England to visit Mrs. Young's parents and friends in the old country.

When Sgt. Young learned of the RCAF's plan to send a fighter squadron to England, he volunteered. The unwritten rule of the air force that you should never volunteer for anything because it is bound to come out badly, just doesn't apply to his case.

Befriends Dying Man, Left Money

TORONTO, Feb. 15 — (CP) — A six-year-old Hamilton girl who befriended Frederick McGregor the last months of the retired contractor's life, will receive a university education, music lessons, $25 a month when she becomes 18, and an interest in the proceeds from the sale of his home.

Mr. Justice Ferguson Wednesday upheld an interpretation of Mr. McGregor's will benefitting June Armer, whose mother and Mrs. McGregor died within a few weeks of each other.

In his home-made will Mr. McGregor stated: "I also leave extra money for her (June Armer) if needed for special education to fit her for any profession she wishes to follow, musician, doctor . . . she has the right to choose and to follow and demand what money she needs to put her to the top."

BOON FOR LEAN SOIL is commercial fertilizer, brought into Formosa by the Joint Commission on Rural Reconstruction. These Formosan laborers are unloading a cargo of fertilizer.

Reconstruction Effort In Formosa May Beat Red Plans

By NEA Foreign Service

TAIPEH, Formosa — (NEA) — A two-year-old US financed program of rural reconstruction has so improved the lot of tenant farmers on Formosa that officials see in it a pattern which might overcome Communist promises in other parts of Asia.

At a $2,257,000 expenditure of Economic Cooperation Administration funds, the Joint Commission on Rural Reconstruction boosted the island's vital rice crop last year from 1,060,000 to 1,214,500 tons. The dollar value of this additional rice yield alone is almost eight times the program cost to date. Exportable rice surpluses, expected for the 1951 crop year, will further reduce Formosa's need for dollar-aid.

Rentals Contracts

At the same time, the island's feudal system of "one-way" rental contracts has been revised. Former contracts could be altered or ended at the wish of the landlord, and required rentals as high as 70 per cent of crops. Reforms have brought a 37.5 per cent rent-ceiling in force.

The JCRR was created by the 80th Congress as a part of the 1948 China Aid program. It is composed of three members named by the President of China, and two appointed by President Truman.

The Americans, both "old China hands," are Dr. Raymond T. Moyer, and Dr. John Earl Baker, one-time adviser to China's Ministry of Railways and for many years an executive of China relief.

The Commission started too late for success on the mainland, but since moving to Formosa with the Nationalist government, has achieved spectacular results.

JCRR has accomplished its "purpose," the creation of rural stability, by attacking the ills of the Formosan farmer on a wide front. Its specific aims have been dictated by the things the farmers themselves consider of first importance in improving their lives.

In the agricultural field, the Commission has supported projects for the extension and improvement of irrigation facilities essential to the rice farmer, and has provided commercial fertilizers with which to bolster the lean soil.

Served in Korea

Chief of JCRR's island-wide fertilized distribution program is 26-year-old Ralph Gleason of Tonneville, S.C., who served in Korea with both American Military Government and ECA before joining the ECA-JCRR team on Formosa.

Perhaps the most dramatic ECA-PCRR effort took place in January, 1950, when an epidemic of rinderpest threatened the island's vital water buffalo population.

A prompt isolation-vaccination-destruction campaign stopped the outbreak cold. Cattle which were destroyed to prevent spread of the disease were replaced by ECA funds, a step which sold the farmers on the sincerity of the JCRR program.

"The water buffalo are our lives," one farmer said. "That is what you have given us."

Less spectacular, but no less novel to Formosans, is the rural health program which has invaded even the rugged mountain homes of the island's aborigines.

Until this ECA-JCRR project started, the islanders had accepted disease with characteristic Eastern resignation. Target number-one for the health program is tuberculosis, which takes a tremendous toll of death and lost work hours from the island's manpower potential.

LONDON, Feb. 15—(AP)—Unrationed reindeer meat went on sale for the first time in meat-shy London Wednesday, but housewives were doubtful about its taste and shocked at its price. To Determine Employment Status In 1951 Census

One of the important functions of the 1951 census, to be taken in June this year, is to determine the employment status of all persons 14 years of age and over. This information, when related to other characteristics, i.e., hours worked, weeks worked, etc., provides a measure of employment and unemployment as well as of the actual and potential size of the labor force.

Figures from the 1941 census, exclusive of 314,564 enlisted members in the armed forces, indicate that 4,195,951 persons, or 51 per cent of the civilian population, were engaged in the labor force in the nine provinces of Canada at that time. Of this number 192,299 persons were not at work on June 2, 1941, because of no jobs, illness, vacation, etc. An additional 152,501 persons under 25 years of age were seeking their first jobs.

55 Per Cent of Population

Periodic sample surveys conducted by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show that the size of the labor force has increased considerably since the time of the 1941 census. In the week ended August 19, 1950, the civilian labor force in the ten provinces of Canada totalled 5,324,000—a substantial advance over 1941, even after due allowance is made for the labor force addition for Newfoundland. This figure constituted 55 per cent of the total civilian population 14 years of age and over at that date. The total number of employed persons during this week was 5,221,000, while the number of unemployed persons recorded was 103,000 or about two per cent of the total labor force. The total number of persons 14 years of age and over not in the labor force during this week was 4,893,000, of whom 3,220,000 were reported as keeping house, 890,000 as retired or voluntarily idle (including students on summer vacation), and 264,000 as permanently unable or too old to work.

In the 1951 census, all persons in Canada 14 years of age and over will be asked to report their chief activity during the week ending June 2. They will be asked to state whether they were working, had a job but were not at work, were seeking work, keeping house, going to school, retired or voluntarily idle, or permanently unable to work. With the exception of those who worked or were permanently unable to work, they will be asked also whether or not they did any work for pay or profit or worked without pay in an enterprise owned and operated by a related member of the household during that week. The purpose of these two questions is to obtain information on employment and unemployment in the labor force during the week prior to the census date, so that the population 14 years of age and over can be classified into the various labor force and non-labor force categories. In addition, employed persons will be asked to state the number of hours worked during the week prior to the census date.

Chinese Afraid Chance Lost To Lead Asia

HONG KONG, Feb. 15 (AP)—Chinese Communists are devoting a heavy share of their propaganda to protests against the proposed Japanese peace treaty, which they call a new U.S. plot.

To many serious-minded Chinese moderates, especially among commercial people, approach of the peace treaty with Japan stands as evidence of a national failure by China.

At the end of the Japanese war it was the hope and expectation of the allies that a beaten and still mistrusted Japan would be replaced by China as the leading power in Asia.

The allies, excepting Russia, stood ready to help with hard cash to make China a sort of stabilizing factor in Asia. But China didn't don the ready-made robe. One Hong Kong editorialist the other day boiled it down to "one government couldn't, the other wouldn't."

Foresee Misery

Sober-minded Chinese do not view China's present trend as one that will lead to anything but war and more misery. They say that the approaching peace treaty negotiations stand as a reminder of last opportunity, and some of them interpret the Red propaganda as a hint that the Reds to some extent feel the same way.

Anyway, it is clear that most of the allies of 1945 are about ready to accept Japan again as the Eastern leader.

Chinese both in and out of China look upon resurgent Japan with dread. But the non-Communists among them see no other way out. They only hope that this will not be the old Japan.

Regardless of what the peace treaty may bring, many a Chinese thinks history will one day show that China closed the door on possibly the greatest opportunity that country ever had.

Press Foreman Dies

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 15 (CP).—Frederick C. Brown, 57, who formed half of a father-and-son combination with more than a century of service to the London Free Press, died here Wednesday. He had been foreman of the pressroom at the Free Press for 35 years.

"Sheer Madness"

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 15 (AP)—Senator Kenneth Wherry (Rep., Neb.) said Wednesday night that to engage Russia in a ground war before her steel and munitions plants, oil refineries and communications have been destroyed, would be "sheer madness."

FOUR-YEAR-OLD JOHN McGEE, Whitby, takes his music seriously these days. He is the youngest competitor in the Eighth Annual Kiwanis Music Festival, in Toronto, February 19 to March 3.

18,117 Entries Are Planned In Toronto Music Festival

The Eighth Kiwanis Music Festival which opens in Toronto on Monday, and continues till March 3, has the greatest number of entries and participants in its long and successful history. During the 12 days of the competition 18,117 young and aspiring musicians will be heard in 3,100 competitions which include choral classes, vocal classes, piano, violin and all varieties of band instruments.

Entrants will come from as far west as Calgary, from as far north as Timmins and from 137 towns, cities and villages throughout Ontario, Quebec and the West.

Year by year the musicianship of the young entrants reaches higher levels. From a small beginning in 1944 this annual festival has grown in importance and in strength. Dozens of succesful musicians have had an encouraging start at one of these music festivals.

"But," says festival chairman Stanley A. Bacon, "the most important thing gained by these youngsters is the spirit of self criticism, of good sportsmanship, plus the training they receive in presenting their talent before adjudicators and an audience."

Evening performances will be held nightly at Eaton Auditorium, where the days' winners again are judged one against the other. Adjudicators for the entire festival will be John Clements, England; Albert Howe, England; Martin Boundy, Canada; William Glock, England; Gordon Thorne, England; Cyril Hampshire, Canada; Oakley Yates, Buffalo.

At the conclusion of the festival, say Kiwanis officials, two grand final concerts will be held in Massey Hall.

Canine Jay-Walkers

Trapper Finds Excited Wolves Easy To Snare

SUDBURY — (CP) — Andy Tyson credits a theory he has worked out about wolves with his success in snaring them. During the last year he has caught 22 in the Tyson Lake area south of this northern Ontario nickel-mining centre—11 early in the year and the others after the deer season ended last fall.

The way Tyson figures it, when one wolf is caught in a snare, the other members of the pack become so upset that they run wildly about and are quickly snared themselves.

That is why he places as many as 40 snares in one small area, instead of spreading them out through the bush, as most trappers do.

"I got five in one bunch in November and three in another in December," he said recently in an interview. "You could see in the snow how they went crazy when the first one was caught."

To remove human scent from his snares, he boils them and handles them with gloves until they are set. When taking the snares into the bush, he rides on a sled behind his dog team.

"That's one time I don't slog along on snowshoes. The human scent will remain even in deep snow for days. You can walk if there is a blizzard or if it is snowing a great deal, for the weather obliterates the scent. But the dogs have to work a little harder otherwise."

Tyson, a stocky, blue-eyed bushman, hates wolves as despoilers of the forest. But something that happened last December made him feel slightly friendly toward them for the first time. While trailing three wolves through the bush, he came upon a mink they had killed without injuring the pelt. He sold the fur for $25.

"ADOLF HITLER" gets a big laugh at Munich's annual carnival parade. "The Fuehrer" is followed by a man carrying a banner of the Social Democratic party, and another with huge question mark. Parade illustrated German opposition to rearmament, and this group was titled "followers."

Build Motel City's Outskirts

An application on behalf of Fred Stenson was made by R. O. Standish at a meeting of the North Monaghan Council on Monday. Mr. Stenson has constructed a service station on Highway 28 just outside the city and Mr. Standish requested council to pass a resolution relieving this particular piece of property, which under bylaw 173 would have to come under a registered subdivision.

Reeve W. Waterman presided and all members of the council were present. T. G. Shields, assessor for the past two years advised the council that he had accepted a full time position as assessor of Otonabee township and building inspector and would not be in a position to do the 1951 assessment in North Monaghan. He also intimated that the "added" assessment, or new building since his last statement, had not been made to the 1951 tax roll.

Storage Gravel Bins

Walter Hargreaves secured permission to put storage bins for gravel and crushed stone in the old gravel pit near the CPR line and he will be leased the property at $5 a year for five years.

R. Haywood asked for permission to build a motel on portion of lot 5, concession 12, the property belonging to the estate of the late R. A. Dobbin. The building is to be of block construction of 14 to 16 units, with central heating plant. A committee composed of Reeve Waterman, Councillor Fred Stenson and Bruce Johnston, clerk, was named to meet with F. D. Kerr, K.C., to prepare an amendment to bylaw 1365 to permit construction of motels in the township. Bylaw 1365 was passed a year ago placing restrictions on building.

The following accounts were ordered paid: Ontario Association of Rural Municipalities $5.00; relief and welfare $116.50; insulin .63; Fidelity bond $8.00 and sundries $15.20.

Finish Chart On Great Lakes

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 — (CP). — A modern nautical chart of the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterways has been completed by the Canadian Hydrographic Service, the Mines Department said Wednesday.

The chart is for deep-draught navigators as well as the users of pleasure craft. It supplements the series of standard coast, lake and harbor charts on the Great Lakes system produced by the Hydrographic Service.

Scales 25 miles to one inch, it covers the area from Lake St. Peter to Port Arthur and Duluth, including the Ottawa and Rideau Rivers, the Trent-Severn waterways, and the Richelieu River-Lake Champalin-Hudson River route.

Finds Gold In Newspapers After 20 Years In Radio

In the drug industry they call him the "man with the golden touch." As the owner of an advertising agency he placed many a drug product at the top of the big selling list with his "know-how" of the drug business and knowledge of human nature.

Six months ago John H. Part gave up the radio advertising agency business and turned his attention to manufacturing medicines. For years he had wondered about the possible effectiveness of newspaper advertising for medicines as opposed to his first love, radio. He determined to use newspapers only to advertise his products. Knowing little about it he nevertheless plunged ahead. Part says, "I've helped make many products into million dollar sellers with radio but I never believed I could make a new product of my own into a million dollar seller in three months, but newspaper advertising did just that.

One would think newspapers were a new invention. Currently Part is using them for another new product named Voids, an oral deodorant for which he has the rights in Canada. Six days after the first advertisement he had to temporarily cancel his advertising because he had sold out of tablets.

Pictures of Women Used Capture Reader's Attention

By JACK SCOTT

An old copy of Life, which I've been studying assiduously in a dentist's office, contains no less than two dozen advertisements depicting young, long-legged females in various stages of undress.

In at least half of these displays the lady has nothing whatever to do with the actual merchandise offered and is there merely as a method of capturing the reader's attention, no mean feat in itself if the reader happens to be waiting tremulously for a dental appointment.

Now, of course, the evolution of the female in the fantastic world of advertising is familiar to you all. In a thousand periodicals, on the face of five million billboards we are confronted with girlies in bra and ballerina panty.

They are used as a compulsion to purchase a wide variety of products, ranging from Dr. Shcholl's Zino-Pads to Whizzer motorbikes, and perhaps it's time we asked ourselves why.

We should agree, first, that the female form, as beheld in or out of advertisements, is an altogether splendid thing and has been down through the ages. History tells us (if we care to listen) that the Romans had the equivalent of the wolf whistle. The Greeks had a word for it, too. Human beings—or men, at any rate—don't change much. Well, I don't anyway.

But the simple fact of appreciating a girl in a swimming costume doesn't begin to explain why this should have any bearing on the sales statistics of US Royal Master Tires, Champion Spark Plugs, Band-Aids, Three Daughters Deodorant, Bell Telephone, Webster Cigars, or Pard Dog Food.

These companies just happened to be a few I noticed using bared beauties in the interests of moving their merchandise. We must ask ourselves — with fine little lines forming in our forehead—what is the relationship between a gorgeous girl and a pan of dog food.

Foot In Door

The first obvious deduction we may draw is that a picture of a leggy young female will stop a man quicker, and longer, than, say, a picture of an unadorned spark plug or even a band aide. The advertising man thus accomplishes the first objective of any salesman. The pretty girl is to him what the boot in the door is to the Fuller Brush man.

This, in itself, is not enough. We must assume further that the pretty girl is designed to arouse some subconscious association between her attractiveness and the pictured product.

It is quite possible that the male reader may feel a momentary glow on scrutinizing the form of a svelte model lighting a Sweet Caporal and become momentarily confused into a mild affection for a cigarette.

Surely this isn't too far fetched? Many men have become so shaken and bewildered by the female form that they have paid for it the rest of their lives.

In general then, the bathing beauty's effect on the male reader is to trip him up and put him in a fleeting frame of mind to listen to a sales talk.

Now we come to the effect upon the female reader. For her there is obviously no romantic interest. Her first reaction to a cutie is simply to look at the kind of swimming costume the model is wearing or what she's done with her hair.

Most women, in reading novels or going to the movies, put themselves in the place of the heroine. Thus, confronted by an immaculate and curvesome queen brushing her hair in her Grand Rapids boudoir, or pinching a Royal Master Tire, or answering a Bell Telephone, the female reader projects herself into the picture.

The effect of this is not merely to imagine having a beautiful boudoir, or a lovely, white-walled tire, but actually to imagine herself as the beautiful model.

'I Use It'

The Beautiful Girl motif which has reached such staggering proportions in advertising has several off-shoots, the most interesting of which is the Hollywood Glamor Girl Testimonial.

With the possible exception of Greta Garbo and Dora Duck, each of the film stars is busy drinking reservoirs of carbonated pop or dragging on endless cigarettes, encouraging their less talented sisters to join in the fun.

Dorothy Lamour adores V-8 vegetable juice. Paulette Goddard is reducing nicely with Ayds. Dinah Shore chooses Baby Line furniture. Esther Williams is just mad about her Chromcraft dinette suite. Joan Bennett would feel lost without her Charm Trend Cotton Rugs.

The appeal here, of course, is somewhat similar to that exerted on small, grubby boys who are wheedled into eating a form of congealed sawdust because it gives the home-run king "super-pep."

It's all based on the oldest selling technique in the world summarized inn the phrase "keeping up with the Joneses." Since the Joneses aren't getting anything these days, we've set the higher goal of keeping up with the Hedy Lemarrs.

It seems to work, too. Why, right at this moment in our very own house, my wife is demanding some Baby Line furniture. I am standing on my rights and refusing to give it to her until she gets into that bathing suit.

King Farouk Edits Pictures

SCARBOROUGH, England — (CP)— A Scarborough man who took some color shots of King Farouk at Monte Carlo has finally got his film back—minus a few offending parts.

G. F. Hodgson, an amateur photographer, took the pictures last October while on holiday in Monte Carlo. The film was seized by police. Late in January, King Farouk's official photographer returned the film, with a note saying a "small passage" had been removed.

Hodgson said he told King Farouk earlier that he should be flattered" because my film library includes such personalities as Winston Churchill."

Gov't Takes Over Steel Industry

LONDON, Feb. 15 (AP)—The British steel industry became government property today. It was the last and most elusive piece in a pattern of socialism for the country's basic industries. A prompt boost in steel prices is in prospect.

The British steel industry, which turned out 16,293,000 ingot tons last year, is the largest in the world outside the United States and Russia. The U.S. is producing more than 100,000,000 tons annually. Russia's output is less than half that.

Private ownership of the British plants ended at midnight.

It was a triumphant moment for Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government. With the acquisition of steel, the government owns all the country's basic industrial production. Twenty per cent of the country's economic life now is socialized.

This was the primary goal Attlee and his colleagues set themselves when they swept to power in 1945.

Young Polio Sufferer Keeps Busy

HALIFAX (CP)—Darrell MacPherson of nearby Waverly has his own barber business and home, drives a car, and once in a while flies one of the light planes at the local flying club.

This, in itself, isn't spectacular But Darrell is only 18 and was bed-ridden several years with polio.

Darrell was 10 years old when polio began to cripple him. Before he was 11 it had seeped deep into his back and legs.

He entered the polio clinic here. Then he spent a couple years on his back, paralyzed from the waist down.

After leaving the clinic he started catching up on his schooling. He hitch-hiked to and from school for four years, still using crutches and wearing a steel brace on one leg. He later enrolled for a barbering course at the new vocational school here.

Darrell's OK now. He has his diploma from vocational school and is making a go of his business. He has also found time to build a home, which he shares with his grandmother.

"I guess I'm getting there," says Darrell modestly.

France's New Weapons Reflect Revival Of Military Strength

BAUMHALDER CAMP, Germany, Feb. 15 —(Reuters)— The military spirit is reviving in France.

This was impressively demonstrated at the three-day display of France's latest weapons Feb. 1-3 in the 100 square mile of the camp of Baumhalder, in southwest Germany.

Here, by an irony of history, Gen. Guderian, German tank commander, trained the troops which broke through the French defence line in the spring of 1940.

First result of the post-war work of the French Army's "back-room boys" has been displayed to British, American, Canadian, Dutch and Belgian officers and a handful of selected French and Allied newspaper reporters.

A thousand French field officers from garrisons in France and occupied Germany also watched.

Cameras were barred. So were representatives of Iron Curtain countries.

The weapons demonstrated included self-propelled and motor-towed howitzers, light and heavy tanks, a bazooka described as the best in the world, the latest thing in quick-firing automatic rifles and machine-guns, anti-tank mines, and fox-hole diggers which can produce a hole four feet deep and more than a foot in diameter in about 10 minutes.

Two-way Tank

A 12-ton Panhard eight-wheeled reconnaissance tank has two front and two back wheels fitted with heavy pneumatic tires. The other four are tractor wheels which can be raised off the ground when the vehicle is moving along roads to enable the tank to travel at speeds up to 60 miles an hour. It can be driven in either direction, being provided with steering gear fore and aft.

Another weapon was a recoilless 75-millimetre gun weighing less than 150 pounds. This latest version of the famous French "75" is accurate and effective against tanks up to 600 yards.

The 50-ton army tank, with its 100-millimetre gun and 1,000-horsepower engine, was described by Defence Minister Jules Moch as a "land cruiser."

French experts say it is better adapted to modern fighting than the British Centurion. They claim it is the only tank in the world today capable of neutralizing the Russian "Joseph Stalin" tank.

The French tank is still in the prototype stage and whether it is eventually mass produced will depend partly on decisions of the standing committee of the Atlantic Pact Council.

Special Force Soon Ready For Overseas

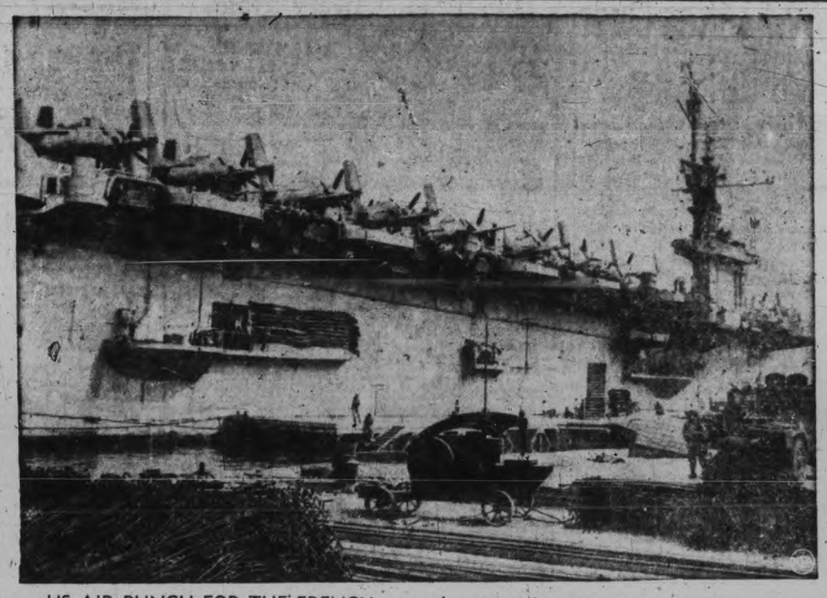
OTTAWA, Feb. 15—(CP)—Canada's 10,000-man special force soon will be ready for commitment overseas and Korea's uncertainties still are a complicating factor in deciding what to do with it.

The government wants to take out of it a brigade group—infantry and supporting arms—of 5,000 to 6,000 men and send them to Europe within a couple of months or so.

It seems quite likely that this will be done with the remainder staying in Canada and probably being formed into a second brigade.

But the offer of the force to the United Nations for service in Korea, made in August, still stands and Korea's uncertainties have never been more pronounced.

To Clarify Picture



It is anticipated that talks will be held with the United States in an attempt to clarify the picture since Washington is the key capital both for Korea and for building up the defences of Europe.

The plan has been—and probably still is—that it would in time be split into two segments, one for Europe, one to train in Canada to rotate with the force in Europe. This would probably mean creation of a second brigade by keeping training battalions now at Fort Lewis in existence as regular battalions.

To these two brigades would be added reinforcements from the regular influx of army recruits so that in time Canada would have two brigades for overseas service with reinforcements to back them up. At present, there is one brigade with reinforcements.

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 14—(ENS)—Lakefield district high school board Wednesday night authorized the payment of $6,000 for land for the site of the new high school.

The land was bought from F. S. Coyle. Motion was made by Trustees Hunt and Tucker.

The board also accepted a revised quotation by Peterborough contractor W. H. Mortlock on the addition to the Apsley school. Revisions to the quotation were outlined to the board by James Craig, architect.

Principal R. E. Sutton reported average attendance for January at 94.08 per cent. He announced commencement exercises would be held March 1 and 2, and that Easter examinations would be held during the week before Easter holidays.

Ken Wright led his team to victory with three goals. Bill Church was a big help for TCS with two goals and two assists. Gord Currie, Mob McDerment and John Long were the other marksmen for TCS.

The SAC goals were notched by Bill Rudd, Jim Robertson and Andy Gordon.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Demand for Bread Recipes Reaction to Price Rise

You, too, may have noticed a tiny news item in last week's papers warning us that the price of bread had taken another rise.

The reaction my mail revealed to this was a militant one. It may not be revolutionary but it signifies a trend.

I quote a typical letter:

"Dear Mary Moore: Would you please send me a recipe for making whole wheat bread? One which would make four or five loaves and contain skim or powdered milk or potato water.

"I have three small children and I want to make the most healthful bread I can for them. One which contains the most whole wheat. I like 100 per cent whole wheat and have bought it, but it is heavy and coarse and the children don't go for it like they do the fluffy kind.

"I am busy through the day so would like a recipe like grandmother used to make. One you can mix at night and knead and bake the next morning.

"Any information you can send me will be very much appreciated. —Genevieve M."

The following very detailed description of a whole wheat bread recipe is one that has been used dozens of times and makes the lightest whole wheat bread I have ever seen or tasted.

1. Use Copeland Mills 100 per cent whole wheat flour—trade name "Gilt-Edge."

2. I do not think this bread recipe should be left overnight to rise. It might go sour in summer. (Genevieve, you will have to try this for yourself.)

3. I do not recommend strong molasses. Use the light Barbados molasses. There is a 20-oz. tin that may be bought in large groceterias, that is good.

4. Most people do not use peanut oil, but I recommend it highly and prefer it to all other fats for whole wheat bread. The next choice is margarine—do not use the other vegetable shortening or lard or butter. The latter make the bread heavy.

Recipe For Homemedae Wheat Bread

Eighteen measuring cups of 100 per cent whole wheat flour (fluff the flour with your hand as you measure it so that it is not packed). Put it all in a big bowl at once.

Scald 4½ cup pasteurized skim milk then cool it to lukewarm. To this add 3 tablespoons peanut oil or 4½ tablespoons melted margarine, ½ cup powdered skim milk, 2 tablespoons salt, ¾ cup Barbados light molasses, 3 eggs. Beat these six ingredients well together.

Dissolve 3 packages quick-acting granular yeast in 1½ cups lukewarm water with 1 tablespoon molasses (this takes about 10 minutes). When ready add to the milk mixture and mix well, then add this mixture to the flour. This is very sticky and a bit messy to knead, so the first time it is best to knead it right in the bowl until it is well mixed.

Cover well and set aside in a warm place near a register or radiator stove to rise—or until when it is pressed very lightly with the finger it leaves a dent in the dough. This takes at least 2 hours and the dough is from 2½ to 3 times its original size.

Punch the dough down to loosen it from the sides of the bowl, then put on floured board and knead it until it is quite satiny—this takes about 24 turns of the dough.

Divide into 5 equal parts, and fold each under to make even looking loaves. Put in greased loaf pans, cover and let rise again, till another dent is left in loaf when touched with finger—about ¾ hour. This time it is very important for it to rise sufficiently.

Bake in moderate oven of 365 deg. Fahr. till bread is free from sides of pan. Do not put on bottom shelf of oven or the bottom of the loaf will burn. Second shelf is better. This takes ¾ hour. Remove from pans at once, and place in rack to cool so it will not get soggy. If desired, bread may be brushed with melted butter when put to cool.

Use whole wheat flour to sprinkle your kneading board.

If any part of this recipe requires more explanation please write to me because I know whole wheat bread can be made fluffy and light.

MOVIE COLUMN

Hollywood Bid For TV Lead Gaining Ground

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 15 (AP)—The "revolt of the comics" today appeared to be hastening Hollywood's bid for contention in the television industry.

This is no organized rebellion. It is a growing distaste on the part of several top comedians for the rigors of doing television shows in New York. All of the men I polled have homes here and most of them are engaged in movie work. They dislike being uprooted for the strenuous life of eastern TV.

Futhermore, several of the comics are against "live" video, preferring to offer their efforts on film. Bob Hope is one of these.

"Why not take advantage of cutting?" he inquired. "Doing a show on film would cut out the sloppiness.

"The same thing happened in radio. People realized you can get a much better show on tape than you can broadcasting 'live.'"

Abbott and Costello, who recently made their TV debuts, also favor films. They have one more eastern show to do and have turned down "fabulous" offers to do more.

Not Even Skelton

Red Skelton, who has not yet made his TV debut, told me: "You couldn't get me to New York on a bet." He plans to start a TV series in October and he will film a half-hour show bi-weekly in Hollywood.

Jack Benny is an advocate of "live" shows and would like to do his stint from Hollywood. He has trekked to New York for two shows this season.

Eddie Cantor is reported eager to do his show from here on film. Jack Carson is also anxious to return to Hollywood with his program in order to pick up motion picture offers.

Hard Time's Party At Wallace's Point

Dipping into the rag-bag for patches to sew on skirts and trousers and deep into closets for well-worn garments the members of St. Paul's Married Couples Club on Wednesday evening prepared themselves for the Hard Times' Valentine party which was held at Wallace's Point hall. They very nearly had to forego the outing on account of icy roads, but found too much preparation had been made to cancel on short notice. This trip was made, however, without accident and everyone had a grand time.

More than 90 persons were in the hall, built to accommodate 60 and heated with an oversize box stove, so the woollens with which the church people had fortified themselves weren't exactly necessary. A group of young people from the church, out on a sleigh-ride joined them for lunch and were glad of the warm temperature and atmosphere.

Mrs. S. Jennings, Mrs. J. Morrow and Mrs. H. Perry were in charge of serving the lunch.

Special entertainment between dances was given by Alan Tucker, Herb. Mullins, Bryden Young and Bert Jones.

Those at the party were:

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bell; Rev. Charles and Mrs. Boyd; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown; Mr. and Mrs. Wallis Caldwell; Mr. and Mrs. George Coleman; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dunford; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Edwards; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hardie; Mr. and Mrs. John Houghton; Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Howden; Mr. and Mrs. Syd Jennings; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Latimer; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrie Mahood; Mr. and Mrs. Noble Mahood; Mr. and Mrs. B. Martin; Mr. and Mrs. Bob McAdams; Mr. and Mrs. Alec McCulloch; Mr. and Mrs. Jack McDonald; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Minty; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Montgomery; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morrow; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Perry; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pond; Mr. and Mrs. Al Tucker; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilkie; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wood; Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Wood

Women Volunteers Willing Proxies For Firefighters

ROSE VALLEY, Pa. (AP) — There's a new version of the lady driver in these parts. She's the lady firefighter.

The feminine company was formed to go into action when regular firemen are not available. The equipment is the somewhat smoke-blackened fire truck that served the Middletown fire company No. 1 of nearby Bortondale for 24 years.

It's not that there are no men to handle the firefighting in Rose Valley. There are regular fire companies near this prosperous borough between Media and Chester in Delaware county. It's when these companies are busy elsewhere and a fire breaks out that the women will race through the streets in their venerable fire wagon.

Three mothers volunteered to do duty as daytime drivers. Others volunteered for other company duties.

Heads Drivers

The drivers are headed by Mrs. Mary Whalen Saul McLaughlin, 35, daughter of Grover Whalen, noted New York official greeter. She is the mother of four children ranging in age from 14 months to 11½ years.

Her assistants are Mrs. Margaret Rhodes, mother of a grown son; and Mrs. Helen Chariott, whose son, Tony, 7, already has served notice he wants a front seat ride on the pumper.

The 118 families in Rose Valley took up a collection of $1,800 to purchase the fire engine and put up a garage to serve as an auxiliary station. The town never has had a separate fire department.

The fire company in Bortondale agreed to sell its aged but still serviceable pumper for $600.

It was then that the question came up about who would operate the equipment during the day. Practically all the men in Rose Valley are away at work during the day in Philadelphia and elsewhere.

The answer came quickly from the women volunteers. They, however, are emphatic that they'll be too busy taking care of youngsters and washing clothes to sit around the firehouse and play cards like full-time firemen. But they may take time out to learn a few pointers on operating the fire engine.

The fire lassies already have had one lesson. All went well until a fire hose wrenched loose from one feminine hand and drenched clothes hanging out to dry on a line across from the Middletown firehouse.

"We've got a lot to learn," said Mrs. Nita Porter, deputy co-ordinator of civil defence in Rose Valley, "but there's no reason why we can't make good."

Kiwanians and their Queens Kountry Kut-ups for a Night

If the county farmers had looked in on the city-wise Kiwanians all dressed up in country style (they thought) at the Kawartha Club Wednesday eve, what a shock! "Kountry Kut-ups" they call themselves—probably think everything starts with a K when they get into that club.

It was a real dandy shin-dig all right! The Kiwani-Queens give one of these for their husbands every year. Charge them four dollars to come too, and the poor fellows have to pay it or stay home getting gray hairs wondering to what extremes the little woman is "expressing her personality" this time.

Some amazing talent in this crowd too. A lot of Peterborough folks go over to Buffalo to see the shows but that's because they don't belong to the Kiwanis Club or haven't friends belonging who will take pity and invite them to these yearly "dos."

Drama and Comedy

The entertainment featured two plays, both copyrighted originals directed by the authors. "Melerdramer" was a serious story of a near-tragic love affair, read in full from off-stage, the actors interpreting each action literally. Mrs. Charlie Huffman played the villainous characters, Mrs. Jack Lewis was the maid about to be forced into marriage, and Mrs. Art Malby the lover who rescued her. Author-director Mrs. Harold Rehill read the play with dramatic pauses for the acting.

"The Farmer's Daughter and the Hired Man," a musical comedy full of songs, chorus girls and stars, ended unhappily for the heroine (Mrs. George Cheatle) who wooed and won the man (Mrs. Stan Northrop), only to lose him to a painted face under a blonde mop (Mrs. Bob McClellan). The farmer was a little man, stooped from his labors, but still full of vim (Mrs. Bill Garner) and his wife a tall well-proportioned figure (Mrs. Clarke Murkar). The overture opening featured Mrs. A. E. DeNure and Mrs. Dennis Fitzgerald in a piano duet. Music for the songs was by Mrs. Fitzgerald with co-author Mrs. McClellan stage directing.

Party-Starter

A knowledge test that was in some cases pretty difficult unless well informed on literature, history past and present, the movie world and stage, was given to all guests. With a name pinned on their backs, they were allowed to ask questions that could be answered "yes" or "no" until they guessed the name. A prize for getting it with three questions went to Mrs. Cecil McIntyre. This novel party-starter was arranged by Mrs. Norman Armstrong.

The "kut-ups" were preceded by a dinner of country style fried chicken with fresh vegetables, and the table decorations were in keeping — empty bottles as candle-holders and straw men, apples, turnips and such like as centrepieces. Favors were packages of heart-shaped mints.

Guests Welcomed

Mrs. Art Bacon, wife of Kiwanians' vice-president, extended the welcome of the Queens, showing exceptional ability for public speech-making. She was in this case substituting for the head Queen, Mrs. Gordon Hancock who was unable to be present, Mr. Hancock acting as chairman in her place.

The Kiwanians introduced their own guests to the party and those who have joined the Club in the past year and their wives were also introduced. Of these 18 new members, the following were present, Mr. and Mrs. Norm Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Drury, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graystock, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lillico, Mr. and Mrs. Don Gravelle, Mr. and Mrs. Art Malby, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Monteith, Mr. Frank Patterson and Miss Ruth Kingan, Mr. and Mrs. Les. Riechert, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Duffus, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Faulkner, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mather, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Zachs.

Dancing started immediately after the floor show and plain-shirted and dungareed figures were whirling merrily to old and new tunes. Then they got into square dancing and decided it was fun too. Some coaching was given by Jim Burns before he started the calls, and the city slickers got through the changes pretty well—especially on the "alaman left" and "promenade."

Mark St. Choir's First Tea Is Well Patronized Event

Making a grand success of their first tea is the proud accomplishment of the ladies of the Mark St. Church choir. Many more than 100, from all sections of the city, were their guests for this event on Wednesday afternoon in the Sunday school hall.

The admission fees they paid and proceeds from sale of home-made candy and baking will make up a sum which is to be in the choir's donation toward enlarging the church. That an addition is needed the choir knows well, for each Sunday now the singers face a larger congregation, some of them sitting on chairs in the aisles. The choir itself numbers 50 persons.

The tea-room decorations were delightful. Cupids and red hearts edged with white lace and streamers were effectively highlighted on dark curtains and small serving tables had white covers crossed with red strips with heart cut-outs.

Crystal candalabra and a matching flower basket on the central tea table were Scottish heirlooms. The tapers were red and the flowers mixed shades of tulips. The tea cloth was handmade of large crocheted medallions.

Mrs. M. Spears, convener of the decorating committee, was also helping to serve with Mrs. S. Lang, Mrs. L. Rowland, Mrs. E. Bentley, Mrs. T. Brook and Mrs. Harry Green, who was general convener of the tea and took the place of a member unable to be present.

Each waitress wore a dainty Valentine apron and cap which had been made by Mrs. Max Pomeroy, the choir president. She was welcoming the tea guests, as was Mrs. Cecil Searles, the organist, and Mrs. H. Hewitt was at the treasurer's table.

Mrs. A. E. DeNure convened the tea table supplies and Mrs. K. Armstrong, Mrs. A. Roberts, Mrs. C. Agnew and Mrs. W. Terrace were helping to replenish the plates and teapots.

Mrs. Ward Gamble and Mrs. B. S. Morwood presided at the tea table throughout the afternoon.

Mrs. H. Hunter, convener of the home baking table, and her assistants, Mrs. A. Scriver and Mrs. W. Hepburn, had little trouble disposing of the goods, and Mrs. L. Welsh's supply of home-made candy was gone in an hour.

Limbs, Joints Stiff, Sore Painful-Tells Of Relief

Has High Praise For Syntona. Condition Followed Acidity, Constipation, Nervous Irritability And Burning Itching Skin.

The great popularity of Syntona is not surprising, for this medicine actually does give wonderful results as vouched for by the many grateful men and women who have used it. Compounded from no less than 12 of Nature's Finest Medicinal Herbs, Roots and Barks, Syntona is a safe tonic for the whole family at this season. It is pleasant to take and many who have used it say that even after the first few days, the whole system takes on a new feeling of energy and vigor. Today, we quote the experience of Mr. Sam Andreasen, 1002 Oxford Street, London, as reported recently:

"For some time I had been troubled with acid indigestion and constipation. My nerves were irritable, there was a burning itchiness in my legs and I couldn't get my proper sleep. Then, pains set into my muscles and joints and they became very sore and painful.

"I had read about how Syntona had helped others who suffered similarly so I got some and I was surprised at how much better I felt from the first bottle. As I continued taking it, my appetite picked up and my food began to digest better. Now I am happy to say I am relieved of the pains in my muscles and joints. My bowels are regular once more, my nerves are relaxed and I am able to get a good night's sleep."

Golden Mile Club Holds Delightful Valentine Tea

As great a success as last year and possibly greater—when all returns are in—was the Golden Mile Club's Valentine tea on Wednesday afternoon in the YWCA Green Room.

Nearly all the 30 members of this club were in the tea room throughout the tea and had a thoroughly grand time. Guests also had a thrill in meeting them and seeing how happy a "club of their own" has made these older women, who were finding little to entertain them before its existence.

The president Mrs. E. Chatten was receiving, assisted by president of the sponsoring club, Soroptimist Miss Florence Scott, and Soroptimists' treasurer Miss A. L. Thomson was looking after door receipts for them.

The Golden Milers poured tea for their guests, Mrs. M. Bickell, Mrs. W. Burns, Mrs. K. Simpson, and Mrs. M. A. Cunningham taking turns. Mrs. C Staunton and Soroptimists served.

It was a Valentine tea table with an all-red cloth and red cardboard ship with lace doily sails on white-crested blue waves as the centrepiece. Old china candalabrae, each of which held five tapers were much admired.

Large red cupids and hearts pierced with golden arrows decorated the mantel, piano top and the bazaar tables.

The draw prize of this tea was a beautifully made quilt, given to the Golden Mile Club by Soroptimist Miss Alice Curtis. A nice sum for their treasury was gained from the sale of tickets, one of the members, Mrs. R. Tyers, having sold 110 herself (and she blames the cold weather for preventing her from selling as many more). Winner of the quilt is Mrs. Violet Davis of 92 McDonnel St.

Mrs. Tyers was saleslady also at the table laden with household novelties, perfume, knitted goods, aprons, etc., and she did very well on it. Mrs. H. Sanders was selling "touch and take" parcels from a big red box and she caught many an unwary customer. The articles were mostly all donated by Soroptimists and friends of the Golden Milers.

The home-made candy was every piece dainty and delicious and was put up in Valentine containers. Miss A. Coleman was in charge.

Soroptimists had the home cooking table which featured a specially tempting variety too. Mrs. H. Ashbury, Miss E. Bennett and Mrs. F. W. Sullivan were in charge.

DOROTHY DIX

Husbands' Philandering Wives' Fault Says Reader

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Women are always complaining about their philandering husbands, but I want to tell them that no woman ever lost her husband if she really and truly loved him. I am a middle-aged man and I know of what I speak. Wives take love too lightly. They think that if they make a comfortable home for their husbands they have done all that is necessary. They do not realize that men crave affection just as much as they do and when they get it at home they do not seek it abroad. That is why I blieve a woman who really loves her husband and shows him that she loves him can never lose him.

A. W. B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I think you are right to a certain extent, but not entirely. One-way love does not make a happy marriage any more than one swallow makes a spring. No woman can keep her husband faithful to her by loving him if he does not love her in return.

Too Much Love

All of us know too many broken-hearted wives who have lost the husband they orshipped and who go on worshiping them even after they have found out that their gods not only had feet of clay but were made of mud, to believe that a woman can hold a man just by loving him. There are too many men who are incapable of any deep passion; too many who are just rovers by nature, who must always have change in women, just as they must have change in environment, and who could not be faithful to any one woman.

But I do agree with you that the great majority of women who lose their husbands do so through carelessness or ignorance. Wives are forever complaining about their husbands, expecting them to take their affection for granted and never paying them any compliments or showing them any appreciation. How few women ever show their husbands any affection! How few wives ever tell their husbands that they think they are the handsomest and smartest men in the world and the most interesting talkers! How few wives ever show their husbands any appreciation and let them know they thank God for getting them for husbands!

DEAR MISS DIX: Five years ago I met a young man and fell in love with him. We had a terrible quarrel—it was as much my fault as his—and separated. A few months later we made up. Then one night we came home from a party and he has never spoken to me since. This happened three years ago. I have seen him every day since and he never speaks. It is about all I can stand. Now a young man who would make a good husband has asked me to marry him, but should I marry him when I love another?

PUZZLED.

ANSWER: Evidently the young man does not love you and has no intention whatever of making up with you. He is hopeless, so far as you are concerned, and I should think your pride and self-respect would cure you of your infatuation for a youth who treats you so coldly. If you will just quit thinking about this boy and dreaming romantic dreams about his coming back, you can cure yourself of your love for him. But you will keep it alive as long as you encourage it by baseless hopes.

I think it is a most dishonorable thing for a girl to marry one man when she is in love with another, so don't add crime to your folly. And don't think you can make a man you don't care for and whom you marry only for a meal ticket happy by marrying him. You will ruin his life as well as your own by doing it.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: How can one develop into a brilliant conversationalist?

L. R. K.

ANSWER: I do not think that any one can acquire the art of being a brilliant conversationalist. That comes by nature and is as much a gift of God as a tenor voice or a classical profile. Conversation to be entertaining has to be spontaneous and no one can be witty or dramatic or picturesque to order.

Nothing is more boring than to hear some one discourse in set terms upon some subject upon which he has specially studied. Nor is anything so depressing as to hear someone without a particle of humor in his system repeat the jokes he has memorized and tell the funny stories whose point he invariably misses. If you want to be popular, read enough to be able to ask intelligent questions and then use your ears instead of your tongue.

Letter to St. James' WMS Describes Work in Trinidad

The February meeting of St. James WMS was held in Wesley Hall on Tuesday afternoon. The president, Miss May Bowers, conducted the business part. The corresponding secretary read an interesting letter from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kitney of Trinidad describing their home and work. They feel greatly the need of home contacts and friendships. More than ever are they sure of the importance of their work as they have often been assured that Canadian Mission Educational work is what has lifted the Indians of Trinidad to their present much improved conditions. Another letter was read informing the society of a bequest of $100 made to it by Mrs. Waterman, a former member. A letter of appreciation for the bale of used clothing sent recently to Timiskaming was read by the supply secretary, Mrs. W. K. Sloane. She also told of requests for an Indian girls residential school near Edmonton of sweaters and used clothing. Mrs. Craik in the Christian stewardship talk told us that if we gave ourselves fully to God, compassion for our fellowmen would follow and we would gladly shafe the material things with which we are entrusted in this world. Mrs. G. Wallace led the worship service. Mrs. Sloane read a poem "Silence" by Kagawa of Japan. Miss Mary Collins led in prayer. Mrs. L. H. Bird discussed the fourth chapter of the study book on Japan telling of the desire of the Japanese people to learn of the Christian way of living.

Seek To Restore Lumber Industry In Historic Area

COLDWATER, Ont. —(CP)— Plans for a reforestation survey may result in revival of the lumbering industry in historic Huronia, 100 miles northwest of Toronto.

The Ontario government has agreed to carry out the survey this summer in North Simcoe district including Medonte township, in which Coldwater is the largest village.

Sawmills at Midland, Penetanguishene, Victoria Harbor, Waubashene, Port Severn and other Georgian Bay points have ceased operation. Provision of alternative employment has been only partially successful and the prosperity of North Simcoe has suffered.

Municipal leaders hope to see the area reforested in stages. A conservation authority may be granted if taxation property rights and other provisions can be incorporated in the scheme to satisfy the municipalities involved.

Current moves have served to revive tales of the Coldwater district's early days when virgin forest covered the area.

Coldwater was a village 150 years ago when land was valued at five cents an acre. An Ojibway chief, Aisance, lived here and his tribe called the settlement Gis-Si-Nau-Se-Bing, meaning "cold water" and thus originated the name Coldwater. At one time the village was the hub of a 9,800-acre Indian reserve.

Used by Military

It was also one of the stages used for water transport by British military authorities in the 1820s.

Starting in 1828 the government built a mill, a store, a school and houses in Coldwater and district. The only white people allowed on the reserve, which stretched as far east as Orillia, were officials serving the Indian agent.

Ten years later the area was given over to white settlers and the Indians removed to islands and tracts of land including Beausoleil Island and the Rama reserve, north of Orillia.

Jacob Gill, who built the government mill at Coldwater in 1833, has many descendants in this district. The mill has been operated continuously to this day and has been particularly busy during the present winter. It gets its power from the Coldwater River.

In 1855 a sailing vessel was built at Coldwater of Medonte timber and called the Reindeer. She was loaded with white oak and sailed direct from Coldwater to Liverpool.

CLOSE SHAVE—When the engine on a US Air Force C-54 went wild over a muskeg in Northern Alberta, it hurled its propeller into the side of the plane. The three six-foot blades gouged out a huge hole, put hydraulic system out of commission and chewed up a cargo of food being flown to Alaska. Without instruments and only three engines running, Capt. P. M. Woods of Louisiana nursed the craft 100 miles back to Edmonton where he brought it down safely without brakes or landing flaps.

Survey Pipeline

SARNIA —(CP)— A survey of the route of an oil pipeline to be built between Sarnia and Toronto will begin soon, Lambton county officials were informed. The pipeline will transport petroleum products from a Sarnia refinery to Toronto with subsidiary plants along the route.

Opens Laboratory

JAMSHEDPUR, Bihar, India —(CP)— Prime Minister Nehru recently opened the National Metallurgical Laboratory of India here. Research in ore, minerals and refractories as applied to metallurgy will be conducted and facilities provided for study of related subjects.

Smart Deer

LOUISBOURG, N.S. — (CP) — The deer-hunting season is past and one deer knows it. Daily a stately buck swims the harbor here, saunters along the site of a new wharf and wanders through the back part of the town.

Courtesy Repaid

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)— A local hotel discovered an oversight and mailed a cheque for $1.10 to a New Jersey doctor who had not been given a premium on his United States currency. Back came the cheque with an additional $3.90, a total of $5 for charity.

Australia Plans To Carry Out Further Projects In Antarctic

By LOUIS L. LECK

SYDNEY, Australia —(CP)— Extension of Australia's scientific enterprises to Antarctica may stem from the work already being done at weather and research stations on islands near the polar continent.

Preparations at present are being made for the relief of a dozen men on Heard Island and a similar number on MacQuarie Island. The scientists have operated on the islands for a year. Australian operations are limited to the two outposts.

Plans are being made also for an expedition to the continent itself.

External Affairs Minister Percy C. Spender announced in July that the government intended to have a special ship built to send on an expedition to Antarctica in December 1952.

May Send Party

There is also a possibility that the government will send a party there in a chartered vessel in December this year. It is hoped to land a small, compact body of scientists to build and maintain a weather and research station in Antarctica.

The organization of this group, even if it is limited to six or eight men, is a job which involves months of preparation and planning. It must be self-contained and self-supporting. Everything from nails to tractors has to go on the expedition ship.

The existing international activity in Antarctica will be borne in mind by these planners when they organize the coming expedition. It is unlikely that they will attempt to duplicate the work of any other scientific parties. Where possible, they will try to break fresh ground.

Ice-Free Oasis

To the west of the Australian Antarctic territory in Queen Maud Land, a joint Norwegian-Swedish-British expedition is now engaged in survey work, hoping to make the first scientific examination of the ice-free oasis discovered by the German expedition in the summer of 1939.

The geologists of this exepdition also hope that they will be the first to reach the huge "warm" land—the size of Tasmania—which lies hidden behind the towering snow-covered barrier of the Queen Maud range.

In French Adelie Land, a thin wedge of territory slicing the big Australian quadrant of Antarctica scientists have been surveying and running meteorological statistics, and taking soundings of the constantly shifting south magnetic pole.

Will Have Information

The immediate practical value of these two neighboring expeditions to any Australian outpost lies in the the chain meteorological information which, in days to come, will be garnered from stations circling the Antarctic continent.

Cape Freshfield has been suggested as a possible site for the main base of the Australian continental expedition. Other sites contemplated with a view to forming links in the weather stations are at Cape Wild, Cape Bage in King George V Land, and at Haswell Island, off Queen Maud Land, a distance of 1,200 miles from Cape Freshfield.

It is expected that another station will be set up eventually in the far west of the Australian territory, in Princess Elizabeth Land or in MacRobertson Land.

Underground Plant

STOCKHOLM —(CP)— Jet aircraft engines of an all-Swedish design will soon be built entirely underground by the Svenska Flygmotor Company. Workmen are blasting out of solid rock a large air pressure chamber 240 feet underground and work has been started on a workshop, 90 feet under the surface of the earth and completely bomb proof.

Train Drivers

EDMONTON — (CP) — A driver training course for school teachers will be held at the University of Alberta next August. Sponsored by the Edmonton branch of the Alberta Motor Association it will have a maximum class of 40.

Visits Constituents By Land, Sea, Air

VANCOUVER— (CP)— British Columbia will get its second seagoing legislature member this summer when H. J. (Bert) Welch takes to the ocean to reach his constituents.

Mr. Welch, member for Comox district on Vancouver Island, already uses land and air transportation (he was a naval air pilot in the First World War) to cover the northern section of the island.

In April, he will launch the 42-foot cruiser Helen Grace, named after his wife, to complete the transportation cycle.

The Helen Grace will take Mr. Welch into isolated settlements along the west coast of Vancouver Island from Winter Harbor at the mouth of Quatsino Sound to the northern tip, and on the east coast from Nanaimo north.

Another member, B. C. MacIntyre of Power River, operates a boat.

Speedy Salvage

RED DEER, Alta. —(CP)— Two hours were all that were neede for an army crew with a tractor-truck and army breakdown vehicle to recover a 37-ton Sherman tank which broke the ice and settled in four feet of water in exercises on the Red Deer River here. The tank was stalled when water flooded the engine compartment.

A Matter of Gumboots

HENDON, England —(CP)— Middlesex county council has decided to provide free gumboots to clerks of works who have to tour muddy building sites. Council K. A. Cleland demanded: "Why not give them umbrellas as well? Are they so impoverished that they cannot provide their own gumboots?"

Diamond Fever

CAPETOWN —(CP)— Diamond fever has gripped the northwestern section of Cape province with the discovery of diamonds on a farm about 280 miles from here. Interest continues despite a statement by the Department of Mines that the stones are of the industrial type and not found in large quantities.

Service Restored To U.S. On Friday

The last C.P.R. train, cancelled because of the railroad strike in the United States, will resume operations Friday, T. G. M. Jamieson, C.P.R. ticket agent here announced today.

The one o'clock afternoon train leaving Toronto for Buffalo, and which has only been running as far as Hamilton during the embargo, goes into service in 24 hours.

Sleepers, which were also cancelled under the ban, are running after a five-day lay-off. These include sleepers going to New York, Boston and Cleveland, he said. Those running to Chicago, Detroit and Pittsburgh were never affected.

Build New Engine

RUGBY, England, Feb. 15—(Reuters) — British engineers have built and tested the world's first gas-turbine engine to drive an ocean-going ship. Built here by the makers of the first jet engine, it will be installed in the British tanker Auris. Designer B. E. Forsling said the engine's performance surpassed all expectations.

Fewer Accidents Help Free World Says N.Y. Official

Reduction of accidents in industry and in private life will benefit the "free world" in its struggle against the forces of Communism. That is the claim made by Albert S. Regula, vice-president and director of industrial relations for General Time Corporation, New York.

Mr. Regula was addressing the Peterborough-Lindsay section of the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations at a dinner Tuesday night in the Kawartha Club.

The manpower of the free world cannot match in numbers that of the Soviet Union and her satellites, he said. However this is partially offset by greater industrial resources (including Germany's Rhur) of the western alliance.

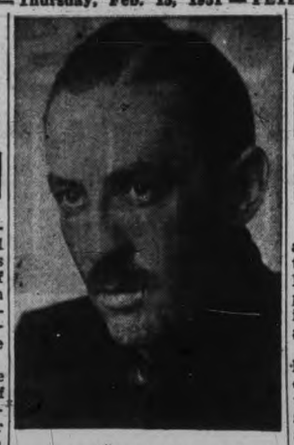
Accidents that reduce our manpower and our production must be eliminated if we are to cut down the Communist edge in manpower, said Mr. Regula.

New Categories of Workers

In the Second World War the west boosted its production by bringing into industry women, teen agers, and people who had recently retired. If a third world war should start two of these reserves of manpower would be reduced, Mr. Regula stated.

The birthrate fell during the Second World War, thus cutting down the number of young people who would be available for industry; and improved social services eliminate some of the incentive for retired people to enter war work.

All the more reason then for conserving the present supply of manpower. And this can best be done, he said, by reducing the number of accidents in industry, in the home, school, and on the highways.



Pays Off

Mr. Regula said he thought that industry's unrelenting campaign for safety had paid off in production. And if people were equally safety conscious in their homes and while driving there would be fewer accidents.

The speaker was introduced by H. T. Cranford, assistant general manager of Western Clock, and thanked by George A. MacDonald, general superintendent of DeLaval. Clyde Cameron, works manager of Peterborough Lock, was in the chair.

Altogether 77 representatives—foremen, key men, plant superintendents and managers—were present from industry in the Peterborough-Lindsay section.

H. A. Baptie, chairman of the Central Ontario division, said that all four sections in this division were doing a good job of safety work. But the objective was the elimination of every accident.

MAJOR-GENERAL SPRY

Rotary To Hear Scout Leader

Major-General D. C. Spry, CBE, DSO, will be the guest speaker at the Rotary Club's luncheon Monday. Formerly vice chief of the general staff of the Canadian Army, General Spry is chief executive commissioner of the Canadian General Council of the Boy Scout Association. He holds the distinction of having been the youngest major-general in the British forces in World War 2 at the age of 31.

A former Wolf Cub, Boy Scout, Rover Scout, Rover Sea Scout, Assistant Scoutmaster and Cubmaster, Gen. Spry became commisioner in 1946 upon the retirement of Dr. John A. Stiles. He was a member of the international committee at the twelfth biennial Scout conference in Elvesaeter, Norway, in 1949 and its next meeting in Lisbon, Portugal, in 1950.

Ennismore Man Fined

Pleading guilty to a charge of failing to make an income tax return for 1946, 1947 and 1948, Samuel Seagle, Ennismore township, was fined $25 and $9 costs in police court today.

Anson House Financing Poses Problem

Resident-days by people staying at the Anson House totalled more than 11,000 days, Miss Abbie Robinson, superintendent, reported at the annual board meeting Wednesday. At present there are 34 residents.

Financing of the old people's home is still a problem. The receipts for 1950 totalled $350 more than the expenditures but the surplus became a deficit when an allowance of $700 was made for depreciation. The receipts totalled $18,700, the residents contributing $12,260 and the city, the province, interest on the endowment fund, donations and bequests the remainder, $6,440.

The residents gave $60 to the Red Cross and Community fund last year.

Paint Exterior

In 1950 the exterior of the building and the fire escapes were painted. Other necessary items had been watched carefully and had been kept quite low considering cost increases.

The Rev. D. L. Gordon, who conducts the Sunday services, remarked that he was impressed with the home-like atmosphere of the Anson House. He added that this condition was noticeably different from other similar institutions with which he has had experience.

Reference was made to the fund bequeathed by the late Harry Denne, administered by the Victoria and Gray Trust Company. The interest is used for the residents' benefit and 25 received $10 each at Christmas.

Handicraft Class

A great amount of interest was reported taken in the handicraft class organized by a committee under Mrs. G. R. Langley. Handmade rugs are now appearing in rooms and a substantial production of leather goods is reported.

The president, James Hamilton, said that the Anson House was filled practically all the time in 1950 and that the residents seemed "happy and content." He thanked the city for its assistance to many residents unable to pay the total cost of staying at the home.

In 1950 many city organizations and citizens have provided concerts at the home and others took residents to concerts and theatres. The residents held an open house in the spring and sold articles made by them. The proceeds went to the Manitoba Relief Fund.

U.N. Bayonets Halt Red Attempts To Outflank Line

TOKYO, Feb. 16—(AP)—Allied bayonets slashed back Communist attempts to outflank both ends of the Central Korean warfront today. On the left flank, southeast of Seoul, United States infantrymen—almost out of ammunition—bared bayonets and charged. They chased the fleeing Chinese survivors half a mile. The infantrymen killed some 56 Reds. Artillery already had killed about 100 of a dug-in force of 300.

On the right flank of the relatively quiet central front, South Korean infantrymen used bayonets and grenades to throw back Chinese troops north of Chechon. But Communist pressure in that mountainous sector continued.

On the western front south of Seoul an American tank-infantry patrol ran into more tha 500 Chinese just south of the Han River. The Reds were dug in but lost at least 100 men.

Action Small

Action all along the curving battlefront was relatively small in comparison with fighting during the last five days, in which a Communist drive on the central front was checked.

The Eighth Army counted Red casualties at 4,935 for Thursday, of which 2,275 were on the central front between Chipyong and Wonju. This brought to more than 100,000 the Red losses since the allied limited offensive jumped off Jan. 25.

Friday's action on the right flank of the central front indicated the Chinese may have shifted much of their strength to the area north and northwest of Chechon.

They struggled over some of the highest ridges on the backbone of the peninsula to apply reinforced pressure to Chechon, 14 miles southeast of the major road hub of Wonju. A South Korean regiment was ready for them at one point. There the Chinese met stern resistance. First reports indicated more than 2,000 Chinese were being held off.

An Eighth Army communique reported some of the Reds infiltrated three miles through South Korean positions but fled after a 55-minute hand-to-hand encounter.

The communique said another force of some 1,000 Chinese was moving toward Chechon on a twisting mountain trail eight miles northwest of the town.

The flanking development came after a chips-down battle at Chipyong, 20 air miles northwest of Wonju. Allied reinforcements bolstered the finger-in-the-dike force of French and Americans at Chipyong that had badly crippled three Chinese divisions in checking the main Red push on the central front earlier this week.

No Artillery

To the east of Chipyong, an American-Dutch force stood off massing Red forces above Wonju. Some of those Communists were believed to have taken to the high ridges in the southeast to threaten Chechon. The Reds had no artillery support in their new threat.

Canadian Flu Like Britain's Officials Believe

By The Canadian Press

Federal health officials have indicated their belief that the influenza which has spread through Canada may be the same deadly virus which took almost 8,000 lives in the United Kingdom in the last few months.

Reports of outbreaks are increasing daily, with at least 25 Ontario centres among the latest affected by the disease.

Hardest-hit centre in Canada has been Montreal, followed by Quebec in general and the Maritime provinces. And schools have been closed, factories made idle and normal life disrupted in many other communities across the country.

No official explanation has been advanced as to why the virus, which proved so lethal in England, has resulted in a total of fewer than 100 deaths in Canada. It attacks both old and young alike.

Montreal has reported 92 deaths Toronto five.

Need Week of Tests

Some doubt still remains as to whether the English virus — known as the prime A type and believed to have been introduced there from the Continent — is responsible for all influenza cases in the Canadian wave of sickness. Ontario Deputy Health Minister Phair has estimated it will take a week of laboratory tests to determine this.

Dr. Phair said Thursday that there is no connection between influenza and outbreaks of heavy colds, mumps, red measles and scarlet fever plaguing some communities.

From Prince Albert, Sask., where influenza is reported on the wane, came a warning from Regional Health Officer Dr. C. C. Manly that "mild weather is influenza weather." rising temperatures outside, he said, are no reason to doff heavy winter clothing or return to work before becoming fully recovered from an attack of the flu.

Premier Frost said the Ontario Legislature would avoid night sittings if possible so that members would be well rested and less susceptible to influenza. He had previously announced that "pairing"—a voting device whereby members of opposite political parties are paired and neither votes in the other's absence — would be introduced to allow ill members to absent themselves from sessions.

Suggest March 5 For Conference

PARIS, Feb. 16 (AP).—The western powers' latest note to Russia, due to be sent to the Kremlin Monday or Tuesday, will propose March 5 as a date for deputy foreign ministers to meet in Paris to arrange a big four meeting on world peace, a government source said today.

Russia has told the west she has no objection to a meeting of deputies of the U. S., France, Russia, and Britain to work out the time, place and agenda for a meeting of the foreign ministers.

Russia began the exchange of notes last November, proposing a big-four meeting on German questions. The west has been insisting that the scope of the meeting not be confined to Germany alone.

The deputies in the preliminary meeting would not discuss matters of substance but will try to agree only on what subjects the four foreign ministers would consider.

Steamer Breaks Ice For 8 Russians' Swim

MOSCOW, Feb. 16—(AP)—With a steamer breaking the ice ahead of them, eight Russian men and one woman swam a full mile in the Moscow river Thursday. The temperature was about three degrees above zero.

The government organ Izvestia said the athletes dedicated their performance to the elections to be held Sunday for the Supreme Soviet, Russia's parliament.

The newspaper said the group, wearing light, rubberized-silk bathing suits, completed the mile in 55 minutes.

$20,000 Fire Damages New Church

12-Man Brigade At Bancroft Fights Three Hours

BANCROFT, Feb. 16 (ENS) — A new church was partially destroyed Thursday night by a $20,000 fire which ate up through the rear of the frame building from the furnace room at the back of the basement.

A 12-man volunteer fire brigade fought the blaze more than three hours in 10 below zero weather to bring it under control.

The church, the Gospel Hall of the Brethren Congregation, was started last spring and was to be officially opened Sunday.

Turn In Alarm

The alarm was turned in by Mrs. Lillian Robinson and Mrs. Roy Robinson who were returning from a function in the Pentecostal Church about 9.15 p.m.

From a block away they saw smoke coming from the building. They investigated and saw flames sweeping up the back.

Firemen rushed to the scene with their new pumper and soon had four streams of water playing on the building. However, the fire destroyed the rear of the church and about three-quarters of the roof before it was put out.

Set Up Tables

Members of the Brethren Congregation had met that evening to plan for the official opening of the church with a one-day conference. Tables had been set for a banquet of 400. They left about 20 minutes before the fire was discovered.

The church was built under the direction of George Easton at a cost of about $30,000. It was estimated it would take another $20,000 to repair the damage. It was partly covered by insurance.

The front of the church was stone and the basement foundation concrete, but the rest was of frame construction.

Mrs. Pitre's Trial Set For March 6

QUEBEC, Feb. 16 — (CP) — Chief Justice Albert Sevigny of Quebec Superior Court today fixed for March 6 date of the trial of Mrs. Arthur Pitre on a charge of murder in connection with the Quebec Airlines time-bomb disaster Sept. 9, 1949.

J. Albert Guay was hanged Jan. 12 for master-minding the plot that killed 23, including his wife. Genereux Ruest, the woman's brother, was also convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged. He has appealed.

Soviet Protesting Release Of Prisoners

LONDON, Feb. 16 (CP). — The Soviet government has sent a note of protest to the United States concerning the release of Japanese war criminals by Gen. MacArthur, Moscow radio said Thursday night.

The broadcast referred to the "arbitrary actions of General MacArthur" concerning the war criminals.

Copies of the note were delivered to other members of the allied council of Japan, including Britain and the Chinese Communist government.

Killed At Play

BELGRADE, Feb. 16 (Reuters) —Twelve children were killed on Thursday at Sitluk, Herzegovina, when a war-souvenir bomb exploded as they were playing with it.

Would Like Spain, Balkans To Be Tied Closer To West

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)— Careful consideration is being given here to the possibility of tying Spain, Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey more closely to the Atlantic Treaty defence set-up in Europe.

Officials say, however, that difficult problems stand in the way.

The possibility of action along this line was pointed up by a brief exchange Thursday during Defence Secretary George C. Marshall's testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees.

Marshall was asked what he thought about bringing countries such as Spain and Turkey into the defence system. He replied that "any acquisition of battle-worthy troops would be tremendously helpful at a time like this."

Informed officials do not interpret Marshall's remark as meaning the United States would like to see troops from Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey added at some future time to the Allied forces under Gen. Eisenhower.

Want Sympathetic Friends

The position they hold in their own countries are of too great a strategic importance in relation both to the Eastern Mediterranean and the southern flank of Western Europe.

What is considered desirable here is some kind of an arrangement which would associate thase countries more closely with the Atlantic defence set-up to strengthen the solid front against possible Soviet military threat in the European area and to improve military co-operation if war should occur.

As far as Spain is concerned, the expectation of many high officials is that sooner or later Spain should find a place in the Atlantic Treaty organization, but that this cannot come about until all 12 of the Atlantic Treaty powers are fully agreed that it is desirable.

Spain is understood to have about 30 equipped divisions, compared with 32 in Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia. Turkey has about 300,000 men under arms and Greece about 125,000.

Reds Can't Drive Tommies Off Hill 122

One Company Cuts Down Chinese Scaling Peak In Fierce Night Battle

WITH BRITISH TROOPS IN KOREA, Feb. 16 — (Reuters). —Troops of Britain's Middlesex Regiment were still on Hill 122 today after cutting down Chinese troops in some of the fiercest hand-to-hand night fighting of the war on the Central Korean front.

The Chinese, scaling the steep sides of the peak with grappling irons, launched a pre-dawn attack in a frenzy of shouts, whistles and hand grenades—but a company of Tommies stood their ground with sub-machine guns blazing.

Two hours later the Chinese fled, leaving their dead and dying at the feet of the Britons, who scattered the remnants with a bayonet charge.

"I was sitting half awake on the edge of a new trench when I saw two little heads pop up in front of me," said Pte. Raymond Hilton, describing the attack.

Throws Grenade

"I said, 'Who's that?' and one of them answered 'Johnny.'

"Then he threw a grenade at me and dived into my trench with his mate following him.

"I shot his mate.

"The other Chinese grabbed hold of my Sten (sub-machine gun). I grabbed his carbine, and we rolled about until he fell out of the trench."

One of the men who had been captured, 19-year-old Pte. Leslie Butchers, said: "Ten Chinese surrounded my trench. They tried to take my Sten off me. I tried to keep hold of it, but had to give in. One of them marched me down the hill and across a rice field."

Butchers told how one of his own machine-gunners picked off his Chinese escort so Butchers was able to walk back to his company.

Chinese dead, which littered the Middlesex position this morning, were clothed in a mixture of American and Chinese uniforms. They carried a lot of American equipment and packets of American cigarets.

Leave MacArthur to Decide

TOKYO, Feb. 16—(AP)—Officials at Gen. MacArthur's headquarters expressed gratification today that President Truman had cleared "muddy waters" concerning a military crossing of the 38th Parallel in Korea. Truman told his Washington press conference Thursday that MacArthur still has authority to decide whether to thrust north of the political boundary. Key officers here said there never had been any doubt of that in the General's headquarters. The United Nations approved the first drive across Parallel 38 by Allied forces and this directive has not been altered, they said.

The informants, who declined use of their names, said there had been no official overtures to headquarters to halt U.N. forces south of the Parallel. They described the recent flurry of discussion on this question as an unofficial campaign conducted largely by the British press.

London Opposed

But in London, a Foreign Office spokesman today said Britain will seek clarification of President Truman's statement.

The spokesman said Britain still sticks by its view, stated in the House of Commons recently by Prime Minister Attlee, who said then that Britain felt a decision on whether to cross the 38th Parallel should be taken only after consultation in the United Nations and among those countries with troops in the UN Forces.

Many British officials believe that crossing of the Parallel coupled with MacArthur's northward drive, were the direct causes of Red Chinese intervention in Korea.

External Afairs Minister Pearson said in the Commons this week that Canada feels that any decision concerning the move across the 38th Parallel by the United Nations forces should be a collective decision.

External Affairs Department officials today had no comment on President Truman's latest statement.

Hydro Commission To Bear Cost of Farm Arbitration

TORONTO, Feb. 16—(CP)—Cost of the arbitration between Perth County farmers and the Ontario Hydro Commission to decide a fair payment for Hydro right-of-way between St. Marys and Seaforth will be borne entirely by the Commission, chairman Robert Saunders said today.

Mr. Saunders said that while he felt that the payments made for crossing farm and bush lands were "just and reasonable," the Commission will facilitate the hearing before the Municipal Board.

"The offers we have made are 50 per cent. higher than have ever been paid in the province before," Mr. Saunders added.

The chairman said that the Commission would also bear the cost of the calling of an equal number of expert witnesses for both sides.

Few Appeals

"As an indication that we feel our payments are fair, I would point out that in 1949 we made 26,000 settlements with only 27 appeals," said the chairman.

The increased rates of settlement, the chairman said, raised the payments from $13 to $25 for a twin pole erected on farm lands while easements had been increased by 50 per cent.

Following a conference at Stratford he had promised a review of the tree and bush land allowance. Officers of the commission had been sent to the district on Jan. 16 under instructions to offer "reasonable" rates.

"I do not know what the offer was but the commission's representatives reported that the farmers were not interested," said Mr. Saunders.

Labor Walks Out On Wage Talks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP) —Uncertainty today clouded the whole government effort to control prices and wages in the United States after Labor members of the wage stabilization board walked out in protest over a recommendation for a 10-percent ceiling on wage increases.

By a 6-3 vote, the board came forth with a long-awaited formula which would limit wage increases to 10 per cent between Jan. 15, 1950, and next July 1. Thus if workers already had their pay increased eight per cent, they would be held to a two-per-cent boost until July 1.

The three public and three industry members, who approved this formula, promised to review the entire wage picture before July 1 and revise it if necessary to keep wages in line with the mounting cost of living.

The Labor members, who had been holding out for a 12-per-cent ceiling, promptly withdrew from the board in protest. In effect, they had been instructed to do so under the circumstances by the United Labor Policy Committee, a group representing nearly all the 16,000,000 union members in the United States.

Bombs In Trieste

TRIESTE, Feb. 16 — (AP). — A bomb exploded Thursday night near the entrance to the Allied military government building. Another bomb exploded on the roof of a printing plant. There was slight damage but no injuries.

Churchill Tries New Broadside

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP). — Undaunted by his defeat in an assault on Britain's defence program, Winston Churchill returned to the attack on the Labor government today, filing his fifth motion of censure within a month.

The Conservative leader, who has vowed to "strive day and night without cessation" to topple Prime Minister Atlee's governmen and force ne welections, tied his latest broadside to the government's costly African ground nuts (peanuts) scheme.

The original peanuts scheme called for an outlay of £25,000,000 ($75,000,000) to get good fats from plantations hewed out of the Tanganyika bush country. A total of £36,500,000 already has been spent when the food ministry, Jan. 9, announced it would ask parliament to write the money off as a loss.

Churchill's censure motion, to be debated Tuesday, is an amendment to a government bill proposing to place a smaller-scale experimental peanuts project under control of the colonial office. Churchill demands rejection "in view of the immense losses already incurred."

Queer-Looking Pup Has Experts Guessing

PORT ROWAN, Ont., Feb. 16— (CP)—A queer-looking pup has started an informal guessing contest in this Lake Erie town as residents puzzle over his heredity.

Ed Garvey, Jr., found him in a wolf's den, took him for a collie pup and let him go. Then he went back for another look.

He found the pup had teeth like a wolf, a bark like a fox and a surly disposition which later changed to friendliness.

Armchair experts have called the pup a cross between a gopher and a bobcat and part wolf, part Newfoundland dog. A zoologist from the University of Western Ontario plans to drop around to look into the mystery.

Student 18 Pleads, Wins Court Case

NEW TORONTO, Feb. 16 (CP). — An 18-year-old high school student had his day in court Thursday.

Acting as his own counsel, Donald B. Ord earned the commendation of Magistrate Earl Hand and an acquittal on a charge of making an improper right-hand turn.

Armed with two pages of notes Ord cross-examined police, crown witnesses and his own girl friend. The magistrate dismissed the case and commended the youth's relevant questioning and courteous manner.

Ord said he prepared his own defence because he couldn't afford to pay a lawyer—or a fine.

Greece Demands Cyprus From UK

ATHENS, Greece, Feb. 16 — (Reuters).—Greece will appeal to the United Nations if Britain reacts "adversely" to the new Greek demand that Britain hand over Cyprus to Greece, authoritative sources said here today.

Prime Minister Sophocles Venizelos demanded "the union of Cyprus with mother Greece" in parliament here last night.

In ancient days a part of Greece the Mediterranean island was taken over by Britain in 1878 from the Turks who had held it for 300 years.

Eighteen per cent of the population is Turkish and opposed to union with Greece. The balance is largely Greek-speaking and in favor of the move.

Allies Couldn't Whip Tokyo But Snow Paralyzes City

TOKYO, Feb. 16 (AP)—Fleecy white snowflakes have paralyzed Tokyo—something Allied fire and demolition bombs failed to do in the Pacific war.

Eight persons were listed dead and 83 injured in the Tokyo-Yokohama area as 12 inches of snow fell, Kyodo News Agency reported. Sixty-six fishermen were listed as missing. Thirty-three fishing boats were sunk and 66 others washed from moorings. Fourteen United States naval ships were grounded for a time by high winds.

The 4,928-ton Swedish motor vessel Christer Salen, her bow snapped off in raging seas 100 miles from the east cost, was being towed to Yookhama. Rescue vessels reported her 10 passengers and 37 crew members safe.

Tokyo's snowfall was the heaviest since the record of 14 inches Feb. 26, 1936.

Everything in this city of 5,000,000 stopped Wednesday night when the storm struck.

Streets are still closed by the snow. Most sidewalks are blocked and stores are closed. Lights are out in many sections. The gas is off in others.

Streetcars remain dead in their tracks. Trains are far behind schedule and in some places are not running.

Thousands trapped downtown by the storm have not been home in three days.

Little relief is in sight. And when the snow melts things will be worse.

Some Vehicles Confiscated At Oshawa; Hamilton Headquarters

Believe Cars Brought Across At Windsor Then Licence Plates Changed; Used-Car Dealers Involved In Racket

TORONTO, Feb. 16—(CP)—Police said today they have arrested five men in connection with their investigation of an alleged international automobile theft and smuggling ring. RCMP officers said they also have seized 17 cars which they believe were stolen from Detroit used-car lots. Twelve cars were seized at Hamilton, St. Catharines, Oshawa and Bowmanville in raids at those Ontario centres last Tuesday. Five were found in Edmonton.

Police said the Canadian headquarters of the ring was in Hamilton. More cars may be seized soon, they said.

The cars were smuggled into Canada at Windsor, across the border from Detroit, investigators said. At Hamilton, serial numbers were changed and Ontario licence plates put on the vehicles.

Three of the suspects are Hamilton used car dealers. Police identified them as Peter Borman, Joseph Mendiuk and Costas Karadavis. Arraigned two days ago, they were remanded on $5,000 bail each on charges of being in possession of smuggled goods.

The others, police said, are Edwards Charles Degain, of Detroit, whom they described as a parole violator, and Joseph Webber, of Tonawanda, N.Y.

Degain, they said, was arrested last December as he crossed from Detroit to Windsor in a stolen car. He was sentenced to one year definite and three months indeterminate for possession of stolen goods and to a year concurrent for falsifying documents. The latter charge was laid under the Customs Act.

Inspector A. Cruickshanks of the RCMP said charges of criminal conspiracy may be laid against all five men.

He called the ring a well-organized "big business" which dealt only in 1949 and 1950 cars.

Some of the cars seized had been bought by citizens from used-car dealers who were unaware the cutos were stolen.

Most sales by the smuggling ring to the Canadian dealers were for about $2,000, Inspector Cruickshanks said. He estimated the Canadian members of the ring made $600 a car.

Nehru Raps MP's Asking U.S. For Wheat

NEW DELHI, Feb. 16 (AP). — Prime Minister Nehru today publicly chided 43 members of parliament for cabling the United States Congress an appeal for grain.

President Truman has asked Congress to authorize a gift to India of 2,000,000 tons of grain to avert a threat of wisepread starvation. The grant is opposed by some quarters in the United States because of India's opposition in the United Nations to American policy on Korea.

The Prime Minister told the house the cable was "sent with no reference to members of the government."

Members of parliament, Nehru continued, may send a message to anyone they wish, but "confusion and embarrassment" could result for members to address officials of foreign governments without consultation with (India's) government and without consideration of the larger issues involved and of India's foreign policy."

Expect Europe To Double Defences In '52

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP) —State Secretary Dean Acheson said today he expects Western Europe to double its defence forces in the next year.

Acheson was before the Senate foreign relations and armed services committees to support the administration's plan to send 100,000 additional American army troops to Europe, as part of a combined defence force against Communist aggression.

In general, Acheson developed these arguments:

1. The western world's advantage gained from the United States' atomic weapons now is the main deterrent to Communist aggression, but time is erasing that advantage. The allies must, therefore, build balanced forces which will make Russia hesitant to move after the west's atomic advantage diminishes.

Would Destroy Morale

2. Any policy of waiting for Europe to build its own strength, before contributing American forces, would dissipate the opportunity of this time interval and damage western Europe's morale.

3. To follow a policy of acting only after an attack would plunge western Europe into a mood of non-resistance — "a mood of 'neutralism' which is, for them and, for all of us, a short cut to suicide."

"Roughly speaking," he went on "the combat forces of our European allies may be expected to double in the next year."

Acheson attacked proposals for limiting American help as well as suggestions for concentrating American defences in the North American hemisphere and for insisting that Europe prepare its defences first and get American aid second.

Chinese Close Southern Border

HONG KONG, Feb. 16 (AP)— The Chinese Communists virtually closed their southern borders Thursday with the announced aim of preventing entry of Nationalist spies.

The no-entry ban even affected Hong Kong Chinese who hold travel permits and identity cards from recognized Communist-controlled firms here.

Harrowsmith Woman Dies In 110th Year

KINGSTON, Feb. 16 (CP) — Minnie Fraser, oldest known resident in this district, died Thursday, two days before she would have celebrated her 100th birthday. She died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hughes at nearby Harrowsmith, with whom she had been living for the past 40 years.

She had been bed-ridden for the last four years, but aside from being somewhat deaf her mind was keen and she had continued to take an interest in things about her.

Miss Fraser was born in Scotland and came to Canada at an early age with her parents and 12 brothers and sisters. All her family predeceased her.

Mrs. Hughes said Miss Fraser would never admit her age and had been telling people who enquired about the touchy subject for the past 30 years, that she was 87.

Employment Act Bans Discrimination Of Race or Creed

TORONTO, Feb. 16—(CP)—A Fair Employment Practices Act, first of its kind in Canada, went before the Ontario Legislature Thursday. Designed to prevent job discrimination by reason of race, creed, color or nationality, the bill provides for two levels of conciliation and recourse to the courts to uphold its principle of human rights. It was introduced by Premier Frost, who said it carried the hope "for the furtherance of a principle which is fundamental to peace in the world."

The Legislature today will debate government bills.

Speakers in Thursday's throne-speech debate were Health Minister Phillips, Reid Scott (CCF—Toronto Beaches) and William Houck (L—Niagara Falls).

Dr. Phillips, in a detailed report on mental illness, said nearly $15,000,000 would be spent this year to combat "one of the greatest problems." One person in every 22 in Ontario will at some time in his life be admitted to a mental hospital, and four of every 1,000 persons are at present mental patients, he said.

Mr. Scott said the Legislature should demand federal action to implement price controls and subsidies. CCF Leader E. B. Jolliffe followed his speech up by giving notice of a resolution embodying the idea.

Mr. Houck said the province should assume active administration of civil defence under a full-time director. He also called for support of the St. Lawrence River waterway and power project and defended the diversion of water involved in the proposed Niagara power development.

No Opposition Likely

The government's fair employment practices bill is expected to meet no opposition. Similar bills were introduced by members of each of the three opposition parties.

It provides maximum fines of $50 for an individual and $100 for a corporation, trade union, employers' organization or employment agency.

An individual with a valid grievance under the Act may complain to the Ontario Labor Relations Board. The Labor minister can then appoint a conciliation officer to investigate. If his efforts bring no settlement, name a commissioner with the powers of a conciliation board. If the commissioner fails, the Labor board can issue orders enforcing his recommendations.

Avoid Bad Feelings

Premier Frost said the bill is aimed at keeping grievances out of the courts. "We don't want to cause bad feelings," he said.

The bill does not apply to domestic servants, non-profit religious, charitable, educational, social or fraternal organizations, nor to firms with fewer than five employees.

It also provides that the Labor Relations Board is not bound to give permission to go to the courts if it feels that the discrimination was done in good faith for national security reasons "in connection with any national emergency or any war, invasion or insurrection, real or apprehended."

It would also prohibit employers to advertise or state that a certain race, creed, color or nationality would be preferred in an employee.

Ontario Pioneered

The Premier said Ontario had pioneered in anti-discrimination legislation in Canada and hopes that with the new law "we may make it easier for others to do the same thing."

Dr. Phillips said the government has decided on "a very definite policy of research, a preventative mental health program and rehabilitation."

A separate research department divorced from hospital administration, was a definite need. Some 19,000 patients in mental hospitals were now being cared for by a staff of 4,000. The research program would be enlarged with "highly-trained professional personnel."

Preventive work in mental health now was handled chiefly by four travelling clinics operating from hospitals at London, Hamilton, Kingston and Brockville. Mental health clinics had served 70,000 since 1930.

New Formula Considered For Pensions

By The Canadian Press

A new formula for amending Canada's constitution to pave the way for old-age pensions at 65 is being sent to the governments of the 10 provinces.

Disclosure of this latest step in Federal-provincial negotiations was made Thursday by Premier Maurice Duplessis in the Quebec legislature.

Mr. Duplessis said that at present the terms of the formula for changing the constitution are unacceptable to his government. He added, however, that Justice Minister Garson had advised him that a new formula was being sent to the provinces.

The Federal government has proposed pensions in which it would pay $40 a month without means test to all persons 70 or over, and would share equally with the provinces in payment of $40-pensions with a means test to persons 65 to 69.

A bill which would empower the government of Quebec to enter into the federal-provincial agreement has been before the legislature. The premier Thursday introduced an amendment, which was passed. Instead of pledging Quebec to enter the agreement, as it stands, it permits the government to negotiate with Ottawa for "just and reasonable pensions."

Sharp Exchange

In Halifax, the throne speech debate was livened by a sharp exchange between Premier Angus L. Macdonald and Robert L. Stanfield, Progressive Conservative opposition leader.

Mr. Stanfield said his party will "fight to the last ditch" against a provincial sales tax. He called for a vote of non-confidence in the government on the issue. The government had indicated in the throne speech it would introduce a sales tax bill at this session.

In Winnipeg, the government of Premier D. L. Campbell was upheld by a vote of 32-17 on a Progressive Conservative non-confidence motion charging failure "to make adequate provision for the needs of education.

Seven CCF and three Independent members joined the Progressive Conservatives in support of the motion.

In Regina, the Liberal opposition placed its second motion of non-confidence in the CCF government before the House.

An amendment moved by B. L. Korchinski (L-Redberry) expressed regret that government policy regarding settlement of vacant crown lands suitable for farming contained no provision for obtaining title.

In the first non-confidence motion Premier T. C. Douglas' government was upheld on a charge that it had given inadequate assistance to Saskatchewan municipalities.

Canadian Record In World Trade

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 (CP)—Canada's international trade in 1950 rolled past the $6,000,000,000 mark for the first time in history.

Buying and selling increased by about $500,000,000 to $6,331,300,000 from $5,783,700,000 in 1949 the Bureau of Statistics said Thursday. Biggest stride was a half-billion-dollar gain in exports to the United States.

Exports to all countries totalled $3,157,100,000, a gain of about $100,000,000 from $3,022,500,000 in 1949. Imports reaching an all-time peak, touched $3,174,300,000, an increase of about $400,000,000 from $2,761,200,000 the previous year.

This splurge in purchases cut Canada's usual surpluses in trade to a $17,200,000 deficit — first since 1931, start of the world economic depression.

But conditions have changed vastly since then, said the bureau. The deficit in 1931 was sparked by low prices and shrinking markets; last year's deficit—relatively small when compared with the huge overall trade—was caused principally by the great demand for goods in Canada.

Main feature of the year's trade added the bureau, was the expansion in exports to the U. S. Shipments rose 34 per cent to $2,050,000,000 from $1,524,000,000. Imports from the U.S. also were higher, but not to the same extent. Boosted nine per cent, they climbed to $2,130,500,000 from $1,951,900,000.

Surprise Margin Of 21 Votes Saves Attlee

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP). — By surprising 21-vote majority, the Labor government Thursday night defeated the eighth Conservative attempt in a year to drive it from office.

The parliamentary test came in an attack on the $13,160,000,000 three-year rearmament plan.

In the 308-to-287 vote, Labor kept its ranks solid despite an earlier threat by left-wing Socialists to bolt on the arms issue. Six Liberals also voted with the government majority.

The vote was on a motion of censure introduced by Conservative leader Winston Churchill, who scathingly described Labor's rearmament efforts as inept and incompetent.

Decide To Stick

On the last four censure motions brought by the Conservative opposition, the Liberal bloc voted against the government. This time they said displays of party differences increased the danger of war.

The left-wing Labor members, who had urged a go-slow policy on rearmament for fear of enraging the Russians and increasing world tensions, decided to stick with the party rather than force a general election that might put the Conservatives in power.

The 21-vote majority was the second largest the Socialists have obtained on a censure challenge in the present House of Commons. It surprised members on both sides of the house, bringing a great shout of "Oh" mingled with Labor cheers.

But a menacing build-up of Chinese and Korean Red forces was reported in the hills and valleys above the central front—the area beyond Chipyong and Wonju.

Eighth Army intelligence estimated the Red strength at five army corps. A Chinese army corps consists of three divisions, of from 6,000 to 10,000 men in each division. Hence, up to 150,000 troops could be massing for a new onslaught on the central front.

Southeast of Chpyong, where some 2,000 Reds had forged the last link of a ring around the hill-ringed town, British, Scottish and Australian troops ran into a hot fight and failed to reach Chipyong.

However, tank-led American troops got there Thursday night. They were greeted by cheering French and American troops who had put up one of the gamest battles of the war to whip superior odds.

Littered between Chipyong and Wonju were more than 20,000 enemy casualties inflicted in four days by the central front defenders and the more than 1,000 sorties of allied planes against them Thursday.

Hold Inchon

Allied troops in the west still held Port Inchon, Yongdungpo and Kimpo airport in the Seoul area. The ravaged South Korean capital itself was under artillery fire from U.N. guns south of the winding Han river.

An unusual touch was added by the Chinese between Seoul and Chipyong. An estimated 1,000 Reds charged a hill west of Chipyong, 300 of them carrying torches.

The self-lighted targets were mowed down before they could reach allied lines.

American artillery took a heavy toll of the enemy during the fighting north of Wonju Wednesday. The battered Reds were forced to withdraw.

In the air war Friday, Okinawa-based B-29s hit military targets on the Korean east coast at Hamhung and Wonsan.

None of the B-29 commanders reported any anti-aircraft fire or enemy fighter planes.

Thursday night three enemy bombers dropped about 15 bombs on allied position in Korea.

Dollar Goes Up

MONTREAL, Feb. 16 (CP). — The American dollar today opened at 4 31-32 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, 1-32 higher than Thursday's close. That is, it took $1.04 31-32 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.98 15-16, up ⅛.

Guided Missiles May Save Life, Expert Believes

OTTAWA, Feb. 16—(CP)—Guided missiles may turn out to be lifesavers instead of killers, in the opinion of Wing Cmdr. C. B. Limbrick, chief of the RCAF's guided missile branch. The air force expert forsees the use of guided missiles to counter the effects of atomic radiation or bacteriological warfare by flashing drugs or blood plasma through the stratosphere at speeds of 3,000 miles an hour to disaster areas.

In a speech to the Ottawa Aeronautical Society, he suggested the use of "hemispheric warehouses" stocked with precious medical supplies.

"You can land a guided missile without breaking it to bits," he said, adding that he knew of one test missile which had been used four times. Landings could be made on water with comparative ease.

Other ways in which guided missiles might be used, might be as contamination detectors following an atom bomb or gas attack. In peacetime, they could be used for spreading insecticides, seeds or fertilizers over vast areas. They could carry mail from Ottawa to Vancouver in an hour and even drop mail on the way.

"We are well along with the development or guided missiles. . . which will eventually form the basis of fully automatic warfare" he added. The logical step after replacing pilot and crew in the air by an unmanned guided plane was to replace the people who provided the ground control by automatic control.

Seek To Keep Monthly Demand For Civic Hospital Under $12,000

Operational deficit for the Peterborough Civic Hospital during January was $18,131.91. Total revenue for the month was $56,616.52 and total expenditure, $74,748.43. These figures were reported at the Board of Governors' monthly meeting Thursday night by T. T. Rodger, treasurer.

Commenting on this "apparent high deficit figure," Mr. Rodger explained that the financial report did not include the additional revenue of a $12,000 grant made to the hospital by the City Council. This grant decreased the month's operational defict to $6,131.91.

Superntendent John Hornal read correspondence from E. A. Outram, city clerk, stating that the city treasurer had been authorized to pay monthly to the Board of Governors the sum of $12,000 until the 1951 budget requirements had been approved. Mr. Rodger told the members of the board that he expected the budget would be completed and submitted for approval by March 1.

"It is our hope that the required monthly grant from the City Council, following the 1951 budget submission, will be well below this $12,000 figure," stated Mr. Rodger.

The treasurer also explained that the month's salary total of $51,134.50 was above average, because of a change in the salary schedule. In previous years, salaries have been paid on a monthly basis. Starting this year, salaries are paid every two weeks. As a result, the salary figure reported for January includes 35 days instead of 31 and on this basis is $5,866 beyond the usual monthly figure.

Toronto Teachers Get Boosts Of $2,330,000

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (CP)—In a history-making salary schedule adopted by Board of Education Thursday night, Toronto's 2,800 teachers received increases totalling $2,330,000 which are expected to add 1.7 mills to the tax rate. The increases are retroactive to Jan. 1.

Salient features of the new schedule include equal pay for both elementary and secondary school teachers with the same experience and training and grading of teachers in five categories with advancement to a better-paid category dependent on improved qualifications.

Minimum and maximum salaries for the five grades are: $2,000-$3,200; $2,240-$4,400; $2,400-$4,800; $2,600-$5,400; and $2,800-$5,800.

Category 1 minimum salary rises by six annual raises of $200 for teachers holding second-class certificates received after attending one year of normal school.

Category 2 embraces holders of first-class certificates earned through attending summer school.

Other Categories

Category 3 qualifications are two years of extra training, usually taken at summer school.

Category 4 includes teachers with a pass BA and one year of teacher training.

Category 5 is for honor BA graduates with a year of teacher training.

Holders of extra degrees, heads of departments and vice-principals receive extra remuneration, the last-named, for instance, receiving a $6,000 maximum.

The old salary schedule provided minimums and maximums of $1,800 and $4,000 for elementary school teachers, and $2,000 and $4,500 for secondary teachers.

Most teachers will receive the $700 limited raise imposed by the board.

Golds Move Strongly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP).— Golds moved strongly ahead as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

The group continued yesterday's strong gains which were connected with rumors of gold being sold on the free market. For several weeks before yesterday the list had traded quietly with little change. Today they climbed to new high ground for the year.

McIntyre led senior golds with a $1 jump and Kerr Addison, Lake Shore, Dome and Giant Yellowknife were up fractions. Junior producers advanced pennies with Macassa, Newlund, San Antonio, Cochenour, Willans and East Malartic ahead.

Industrials were mixed in dull trading. Ford-A was a lone standout as it jumped $4.75 to a new high at $69.25. Other price changes were mostly fractional.

A few of the lower priced issues were ahead, especially mines dealing in cobalt and silver which would profit by yesterday's announcement of an increased price for cobalt. Ryan Lake and Cobalt Lode added pennies in extremely active trading.

Western oils declined with moderate losses.

Find 'Bogeyman' Just Teen-Agers

THE PAS, MAN.,— (CP) — Strange little men ran through the bush one night near Island Lake, 300 miles northeast of Winnipeg.

Superstitious Indians said they must be "Windigos"—the Indian version of the bogeyman.

Trembling squaws kept watch on sleeping children. Braves stood guard outside. Public prayers were said.

Forty well-armed Braves decided to hunt out the spooks but found nothing. They boasted that the Windigos were afraid of them.

Finally, the R.C.M.P. at Norway House, 150 miles away, were called.

They found the bogeymen — three teen-age lads whose run through the woods had started the scare.

The original Windigo, according to legend, was a transformed human who killed and ate hunters. Last report of a Windigo at large came last November from Poplar Hills Post, 200 miles north of Kenora, near the Manitoba border.

Await Report G. Fraser Told

OTTAWA, Feb. 16— (CP) — Postmaster-General Rinfret told the Commons Wednesday his department is contemplating some changes in urban postal deliveries "in view of the economies that we have to make."

He was replying to questions from Gordon Graydon (PC Peel), and G. K. Fraser (PC, Peterborough West).

Mr. Fraser asked why mail deliveries to city residential areas were being cut from two to one a day. Citizens were to be given "second-class service for first-class mail," he said. That was not economy.

He also wanted to know why postmen being transferred from routes to clerical work were to lose their seniority or their jobs altogether and their walks to be taken over on Saturdays by school boys hired at 78 cents an hour.

Mr. Rinfret suggested Mr. Fraser wait for the official announcement beore he made any predictions.

Highway Signs Outdated

There is no need for the Department of Highways to be as inaccurately behind the times as the Canadian Almanac whose current edition gives the population of Peterborough as 25,350. The Almanac makes the excuse that it depends on the Canadian census figures. The last census was taken ten years ago. The Department of Highways puts up signs at the entrances of villages, towns and cities, giving the name of the place and the population. Visitors to Peterborough are told by these signs that 32,000 people live here That is a later figure than the last census one, but it is still lagging. Peterborough has not had a population of 32,000 since 1945. Its present population is almost 37,000. Since these signs are either replaced or repainted periodically, why not at these times bring the population figure up to date?

Strange Law Concerning Contempt Of Court

The fine of $3,600 imposed upon The Ottawa Journal and two of its employees at the end of the Sullivan trial calls attention to the oddity of the law relating to contempt of court. The presiding officer of a court has it in his power to impose fines and terms of imprisonment at his own discretion if he believes that there has been contempt of court. As a usual thing this means that someone in the courtroom has behaved with disrespect, or that someone summoned to give evidence or to stand trial has failed to appear; newspapers are also held to be in contempt of court when they publish matter which is likely to prejudice the outcome of a trial—that is, matter which has not been brought out in evidence; all reputable newspapers guard against this as far as possible, but the best have been known to err.

The curious thing about the law relating to contempt of court is that the judge who deems that contempt has been shown is the same judge who hears the defendant's explanation, and pronounces sentence. He is not, therefore, an impartial judge. If he did not consider the defendant guilty he would not charge him with contempt. He has, in fact, pre-judged the matter.

Most judges use their powers in this respect with discretion and even with leniency. But it may be asked if it is right that such a power should exist? When the man on the bench is both complainant and judge, can it be said that justice is being done? Does not this sort of judgement savour of that familiar in Nazi or Russian courts, where a trial is a formality and nothing more?

Nobody should be permitted to impair the dignity or impartiality of a court. But the law relating to contempt of court brings a man to trial as a guilty person—a state of affairs which, so far as we know, does not exist in any other circumstances.

Free To Peep But Not To Trespass

A recent test case brought out the curious information that there is no law in Canada which forbids window-peeping. You may stare into any window which interests you; you may even press your nose against the glass—provided you are not standing on private property belonging to the owner of the window.

There may be an outcry for a law to make window-peeping illegal. We hope not, for we should regard such a law as a sign of weakness in our national fibre. It is a puny society where every trifling offense has to be met by the machinery of the law.

As there is no law against window peeping, there is no law against throwing slops out of your window on your property. Douse the peeper with slops, and he will have no recourse; he should not have been standing where he was. If you have no slops, you may have a handy kettle of hot water; or a pail of cold water. If the spirit moves you to throw any of these out of your window, and a peeper is in the line of dejection, he has not a leg to stand on.

The offensiveness of window-peeping varies. If a peeper climbs a rainspout, and clings to the windowsill while peeping under a drawn blind while you are undressing, he is a low scoundrel and deserves the slops treatment. But if you have a large picture window in front of your house, and sit there at night with the curtains open, you must not complain if passers-by show a reasonable interest in what you are doing.

With many picture windows we are unable to decide which is the picture—the view from the house or the interior, complete with figures.

A. E. Borland's Service

Mr. Albert E. Borland who is being replaced as Labour's representative to the Library Board after fifteen years on it, some of them as chairman, has given quiet but effective service to the Public Library. Thus, and through his other activities, he has advanced the cause of adult education in the city. He was a prime mover in establishing the Worker's Educational Association branch locally. He will be missed from the Library Board, but organized labour in the city wished to be represented by a CCL affiliate union member. Mr. Borland, a senior official at the Post Office, is an adherent of the Postal Clerks' Association which is not allied with the Canadian Congress of Labour.

Mr. Borland is actively interested in various cultural and educational developments in the city, among them the United Nations Society, and is head of the adult education committee of the Recreation Committee. Even though his services are not now directly available to the Library, they have been appreciated, and his fellow-citizens look forward to a continuation of his advice, help and quiet enthusiasm for these matters affecting the cultural life of the community.

Scandalous Profits

The Ontario Liquor Commission made, from the sale of spirits, wine and some beer, and also of permits required of patrons who want to buy the goods, a total profit of $39,720,787. They made this grandiose profit on liquor sales of $88,816,669. By our reckoning, that is a profit of 45 per cent. If any other business in this country were found to be making that kind of yearly profit, there would be a national uprising. The actual net trading profit alone amounted to $28,304,007.

There is no concerted howl about the government liquor stores' profit because the people of the province are somewhat divided on the subject of the consumption and sale of alcohol in its various potable forms. The chief reason for letting the Commission get away with these scandalous profits is that everybody knows that the money helps to reduce taxes. What a great contribution profits on liquor are to government treasuries is shown by the following figure: The grand total of revenue payments received by the federal, provincial and municipal governments through sales of beer, wine and spirits in Ontario, was $102,800,000. If liquor sales in Ontario were outlawed, this money, $102,800,000 would have to come out of all taxpayers' pockets, and not only out of the pockets of those who consume the liquors. A sum of $102,800,000 is pretty large to raise by taxation.

In this figure are included profits from the sale of beer in Ontario, through warehouses; also excise and customs duties on liquor, imposed by Ottawa. The total sales of spirits, beer and wine in the province of Ontario during the year ending last March 31st amounted to $196,790,174. Thus the cut which the governments (federal, provincial and municipal) got out of this total Ontario business—$102,800,000—was more than 52 per cent. That is taxation and profiteering with a vengeance.

Under Strength Into Battle?

A report that the Princess Patricias battalion in Korea will go into battle sixty men under strength is agitating some civilian desk-men in Canada. There is no cause for consternation. As any military man knows, no army unit, from company to battalion or division, goes into battle full strength. Last Thursday the Minister of National Defence, a former soldier, reminded a questioner in the House of Commons of this. Whatever they are called —'L.O.B.' (left out of battle) was a common term in the last war—a trained nucleus of the battalion including some of the best officers, non-commissioned officers and men, is always held back at the last moment. The reason for this is to have reinforcements available within an hour and also, should calamity overtake the battalion, to have a solid core around which to reform and rebuild the battalion should this be necessary.

There are ample reinforcements available on 48-hours notice from Fort Lewis (the state of Washington); and indeed, it is likely that the P.P.C.L.I. actually in Korea are now over-strength.

NOTE AND COMMENT

To err is human but if your eraser wears out before your pencil you are carrying humanity to an absurd length.

Horse owners are said to be facing an economic crisis. Nonsense, they haven't even begun the experiment of breeding horses for the table.

The California Legislature has passed a law which makes it illegal for cats to trespass on other people's property. And, like the similar law relating to dogs, nothing will come of it.

A range of mountains has been discovered which is 1,000 miles long, 14,000 feet high and—this is the important point—6,000 feet below the surface of the Pacific Ocean. Mountain climbers, who delight in overcoming difficulties which nobody has asked them to overcome, should make preparations to climb these at once.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

SIR: Where did the name Haliburton come from (Haliburton County)?

ANSWER: It was named after Judge T. C. Haliburton of Nova Scotia whose pseudonym as a writer of humorous fiction was Sam Slick. He wrote a series of these articles for the paper Nova Scotian and they were republished (1836, Halifax, 1838, London) in book form under the title 'The Clockmaker or the Sayings and Doings of Sam Slick of Slickville.' These were followed by other Sam Slick volumes. Judge Haliburton (he was first a judge of the Court of Common Pleas and later appointed a judge of the Supreme Court of the province) also wrote historical accounts, for instance, 'The Rule and Misrule of the English in America' 1851. In 1856 he retired from the bench and went to live in England. Two years later he was elected to the British House of Commons and held a seat until his death in 1865. In 1858 he was made an honorary D.C.L. of Oxford University.

What connection did Haliburton have with Haliburton County? He was a director of the Canadian Land and Immigration Company, Mr. Howard Pammett tells me, and it was this company which brought about the incorporation of the county in 1874, nine years after Haliburton's death.

ALPHA: A local matter of some mystery to me is the appearance this last year on many a tree or telephone pole of small squares of metal, painted a cheerful yellow, and laboriously punched with a lot of small holes to create a number. These little things are scattered all around the Charlotte-Pearl area. Some trees or poles have one, some have two. Can you explain whence and why they came?

ANSWER: They are markers for catch basin covers over storm drains. The Peterborough Board of Works puts them up on the tree or pole nearest the grate over the drain hole, and the number of feet the marker is away from the cover is punched in the metal. Thus in winter or spring, workmen can find out where to lift the snow or cut the ice so as to open up the drain.

DEAR ALPHA: Could you explain why it is Royal Canadian Air Force, Royal Canadian Navy, but not Royal Canadian Army? I know the same thing applies in Great Britain, but what is the reason behind it?

ANSWER: Here is my guess. Units of the British army came into existence, and were given the style of 'Royal' before the army with all its components became national and under the King's sway. Thus the Royal Artillery is the senior formation of the British army. There is also the venerable Royal Marines. The navy as an instrument of royal power was formed in the reign of Henry the Seventh, and antedates the national army. When the Air Force was organized, the style 'Royal' had not been co-opted, except by its predecessor, the Royal Flying Corps.

When the national army under the King and Parliament came into being, the artillery and the marines already had their lien on 'Royal'. Until modern times, armies (chiefly infantry) were raised and under the control of barons; and, for instance, at the time of the Crusades, were international, not national. The King called on the baron for the service of his troops and the King himself was not commander-in-chief, as now. Until the 19th Century, mercenary soldiers were employed, and no King could give the dignity of 'Royal' to an army of foreigners.

There is nothing to prevent the Infantry being called 'Royal Infantry Corps', except that already infantry regiments have the style, for instance the Royal Canadian Regiment (R.C.R.).

MRS. MORSE-FARNUM, who wrote the book of verse discussed in this column last week is, it seems, very little known locally. Two people have given me information, one being Miss Davidson of Park St., the other her next-door neighbour on College St. in 1910-12, Miss Simpson. (Incidentally, it was Peterborough's College St., not Toronto's or an American College street.) Mrs. Farnum—she was not known as Mrs. Morse-Farnum—had her home at 500 College St. from probably the beginning of the century until 1912-13 when she moved away. She was a very reserved person—"She kept very much to herself", Miss Simpson says, but neighbours had great respect for her. She was a genteel person, careful and cultivated in speech, and kept her house very neat and tidy, though few were ever invited inside it. She was a Seventh Day Adventist and made it plain to neighbours that the Sabbath for her was Saturday, not Sunday, for she always did her weekly baking on Sundays and would put her pies and cakes to cool on the window sill so that neighbours could see the evidence of her religious convictions.

ALPHABETIST: I have my doubts about that report in the Examiner Wednesday night, about the Food of Love and Malvolio in Twelfth Night. Is the belch really named after Sir Toby Belch? I know Sir Toby belches, but I bet people belched before Sir Toby, even if he did come on the scene in 1600.

ANSWER: So have I my doubts. In fact, Shakespeare named Sir Toby Belch after the belch (as Dickens used surnames like Captain Boldwig, Mr. Mould and Betsy Prig, and Sheridan has Sir Benjamin Backbite and Sir Harry Bumper) and a later generation did not name the belch—an eructation—after Sir Toby. It seems that 'to belch' comes indirectly from an Anglo-Saxon verb 'bealcian'. The 'bel' part of the word is related to the first syllable of the word 'bellow'. Characters in Chaucer, and the volcano Vesuvius were belching long before Sir Toby Belch stumbled drunkenly across any stage.

As I observed in the performance last night, Sir Andrew Aguecheek gives the best single belch.

FOR THE RECORD: The Scott-Needler mill in Cavan is no more. It has been torn down. I mentioned this structure, the second mill built by Adam Scott, first white settler in Peterborough, in this column a year ago. It is (or was) situated about a mile east of Highway 28 and on the first road north of the Millbrook turn. The mill and about ten acres of property went for a song then to the present owner. He has had the dilapidated structure torn down with care, and the lumber salvaged. It is excellent seasoned pine (seasoned for more than a century) and, the owner tells me, makes beautiful wood for room-finishing and the like, to which uses he has already put some of it, and, incidentally, recouped the entire price of the mill and lot in the first load or two. It is probably feckless to mourn the passing of such an old, and, in a way, historic landmark as this. The building would have fallen down eventually unless extensive repairs had been undertaken—and who would have gone to the expense or what use would the renovated mill have been?

CHINA'S IMPORT NEEDS

THE American decision last December to stop the export of goods and raw materials which could be transhipped to China from Hong Kong has deprived the Chinese Communists of imports which are vital to their programme of industrialization.

Russia supplies China only with obsolete machinery and is now depriving her of most of the benefit she could have gained from the Japanese development of the industrial and mineral resources of Manchuria. Therefore, the foreign imports on which she must rely if she is to develop into an industrial power must, as this map shows, largely come by sea.

Some of China's needs in cotton, jute and rubber are being met by India, Pakistan, Malaya and Indo-China, but the sea routes by which these raw materials and the essential heavy goods and oil are carried could easily be cut if the United Nations ultimately decided to take "further measures" against China.

America's exports to Hong Kong, which is the largest source of supply for China, amounted to £36,500,000 in the first 11 months of 1950. British exports to Hong Kong, were worth about £23,000,000. British exports show no appreciable difference between 1949 and 1950 and it is very doubtful, under present conditions, whether they can be increased.

At the moment China is living largely on the oil stocks she seized from Americans when the United States imposed her export ban, and she is also short of metals of all kinds; medicines, textiles and animal feeding stuffs. Four-fifths of her population now depends on agriculture, and industrialisation is essential if the Chinese standard of living is to be raised.

Letters To The Editor

ALARMED AND DESPAIRING

Sir: The prices are going up right and left, when is it going to stop? Every time one goes shopping you find something else has gone up in price, telephones, buses, bread, sugar, tea and vegetables, in fact everything, and the price of coal is tremendous, $27 a ton and they say it is going to be more. About the telephone prices, the board gave them the authority to put the prices up, but what about the 23c adjustment tax? I think it is an imposition to ask the public to pay for the adjustment tax; we didn't ask for the prices to go up. If they wanted to increase the price for services they should pay their own bill not the public; we paid $2.00 for our phone bill when we had it put in, now we pay $3.00; our wages have not gone up to meet the cost of all these increases; one cannot keep pace with it. The price of meat is another pressing question. How much higher is it going to rise? The cost of living is rising out of all proportion; taxes on property are exorbitant. How are we going to pay for it all and keep out of debt? It is time the Council put a stop to spending so much of the people's money out of all reason.

Thank you,
(MRS.) F. J. PARSONS.

COMMON SENSE ABOUT BUS SERVICE

Sir: I have been following some of the letters printed in the Examiner regarding Peterborough Bus Lines and the drivers.

I certainly do not agree with some of the remarks which have been made; while other remarks which were stated could bear some consideration.

First of all, why didn't the South End Tax Payer who stated he was late for work two mornings tell us all no doubt it was the two days when we had it 28 below zero, and so many people could not start their cars, and the only way out for a good many citizens was to get a bus to take them to their destination. You were not the only one who was late for work, plenty of other employees from other factories in the city were all under the same handicap. These things happen, no one is going to blame you because your car didn't start, and if you had any feeling for the other chaps who were in the same predicament, I am sure you would try to make room on a crowded bus rather than let them stand on a street corner and freeze.

Now about the schedules. Have you ever travelled on a City Bus which has been delayed by a train shunting up and down the track? I have more than once seen where a bus was tied up for almost 10 minutes. Therefore, it is logical if a bus coming from uptown has to wait for the one that is delayed, now on earth can the driver run on schedule? While we are on this subject, I believe the streets the buses have to travel on are an utter disgrace. Wednesday of this week at noon hour, Romaine Street was like a sheet of glass from the ice on the road; cars were sliding all over the place and children coming home from school were not safe on the sidewalk. Yet a bus had to travel that road all morning and the driver mustn't lose any time. Keep on schedule. (How?)

Let us be fair and stop to consider just a few things which could be overcome if everyone played his or her part. For instance why do so many women who have all afternoon to shop, wait until the 5 o'clock rush hour before they decide to go home. This is an inconvenience to the driver as well as the factory worker who wants to get home. So does the driver want to get home. He has worked all day too. No doubt he started at 6 o'clock or 6:30 in the morning, and is still going strong. No wonder some drivers get in a bad mood, don't we all at some time or another, although I will agree there are a few drivers who seem to have that attitude at all times regardless.

I have been seated on a bus and along comes a passenger. "Driver does this bus go to East City, does this bus go to Jackson Park"; when lo, and behold it is printed on a sign across the front of the bus which route it is taking. What on earth is the poor bus driver to do, smile from ear to ear and say, "No my dear woman, I am going George Street South"? Naturally things like these get on a driver's nerves, regardless how strong a nerve and strong constitution they have. Remember we are all human. So why pick on the bus drivers? Their job is no cinch at any time. (Try it and see.)

As for the increase in bus fare, figure it out, it certainly does not amount to very much. There are plenty of citizens who would rather have 3 tickets for 25c than bother with the extra nickel so we could get 4 tickets for 30c. The way it is now perhaps the drivers will not have to make change so often, and they may be able to keep more on schedule.

In closing I wish to state one thing which has been proven more ways than one, catering to the public is a thankless job.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space in this paper. I remain,

LIVE AND LET LIVE.

BUS SERVICE FOR SOUTH WEST PETERBOROUGH

Sir: I think it is about time something was said for bus service in the South West end of our fair city. I believe we have one of the poorest schedules in Peterborough.

We have only half hour service, therefore the buses carry a larger crowd than usual.

The last bus leaves Simcoe St. at 11.15 p.m., so if we are a little late coming from a show or visiting the bus has left. This means taking another bus and walking two or three or more blocks, for some people to reach home.

The bus service doesn't start for us until eight o'clock Saturday morning, therefore anyone going to work for eight is out of luck.

We haven't any complaints against the Charlotte west drivers, we think they're tops. Don't blame the bus drivers; they are earning a living, as the rest of the workers. It is the City Council and bus company we should jump on for the raise in fares.

I guess there are very few of them riding the city buses.

Thank you. I remain,
MRS. J. BURNS.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Saul's servants said unto him, Behold now, an evil spirit from God troubleth thee. Let our Lord now command thy servants, which are before thee, to seek out a man, who is a cunning player on an harp, and it shall come to pass, when the evil spirit from God is upon thee, that he shall play with his hand, and thou shalt be well. And Saul said unto his servants, Provide me now a man that can play well, and bring him to me.

Then answered one of the servants, and said, Behold, I have seen a son of Jesse the Beth-lehemite, that is cunning in playing, and a mighty valiant man, and a man of war, and prudent in matters, and a comely person, and the Lord is with him. Wherefore Saul sent messengers unto Jesse, and said, Send me David thy son, which is with the sheep...

And David came to Saul, and stood before him: and he loved him greatly; and he became his armour-bearer.... And it came to pass, when the evil spirit from God was upon Saul, that David took an harp, and played with his hand: so Saul was refreshed, and was well, and the evil spirit departed from him. (I Sam. 16: 15-19, 21, 23.)

"Now I suppose they'll have us in court for wrongful imprisonment."

Board Reports Guild Dispute

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 —(CP)— A three-man conciliation board has submitted to Labor Minister Gregg majority and minority reports recommending bases for settlement of a 10-month collective bargaining dispute between The Canadian Press, National news-gathering agency, and the American Newspaper Guild (CIO-CCL).

The reports, made public today after the board failed to settle the dispute, are not binding on the parties.

The majority report was filed by County Court Judge Archibald Cochrane of Brampton, Ont., board chairman, and Herbert Orliffe, Toronto lawyer and Guild nominee. Gordon Munnoch, Toronto lawyer and CP nominee, submitted the minority report.

The findings dealt with a dispute that has been in progress since last April 5, when the Guild was certified by the Canada Labor Relations Board as bargaining agent for a unit of employees in CP's editorial department. The board included editorial workers and messengers in the unit.

The CP, news co-operative owned jointly by 91 daily newspapers, informed the board that at last Oct. 1 the unit as designated by the CLRB consisted of 73 employees, of whom 15 were messengers.

Both majority and minority findings represented compromise in varying degrees between the views of the union and management. In some cases, Guild demands were approved. In others, continuance of CP practice was recommended. Elsewhere, middle ground was suggested.

Decide Brophey Paid $110 For Being Mayor

WINDSOR, Feb. 16 —(CP)— Board of Control Wednesday again took up the question of how much Thomas R. Brophey was to be paid for running the city eight days and decided the ex-mayor should get paid for exactly eight days. This amounts to $110.

Controller Lawrence A. Deziel voted against the final settlement, claiming the city should make a larger payment.

Brophey's election lead of 38 votes was wiped out and reversed into a 16-vote lead for Mayor Arthur J. Reaume when the city council ordered a recount of the Dec. 6 election results.

Rubs Child's Heart 30 Minutes, Saves Life

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16 (AP) —A surgeon stopped an appendix operation on a two-year-old girl for 30 minutes Wednesday and kept her heart beating by massaging it.

Dr. Joseph S. Bean, medical director at the General Hospital, said the operation on the child, Claire Mitchell, was almost finished when her heart stopped beating.

A surgeon made a two-inch incision in the girl's chest and massaged her heart until it started beating again. Then he finished the operation to remove her appendix.

Dr. Bean said the child's chances of recovering were good.

Herbert Belleghem Dies In Toronto

Funeral of Herbert H. Belleghem, formerly of Peterborough, who died in Toronto Monday were held there today at Pine Hill Cemetery from the McDougall and Brown chapel on Danforth Ave. where the service took place at 2 p.m.

Mr. Belleghem lived years ago on Antrim St. He and his brother, Ernie, played on the old Auburn baseball team whose field was Nicholls Oval. For years it was one of the best teams in the city league, including James E. Ellis, Edward (Yeb) Flaherty, an outstanding pitcher, Jack Mulhall, Bill Shaw and others at one time or another.

Ernie (Nan) Belleghem was a catcher, and Herb (Curley) a pitcher, probably on different teams.

Al Nickleson wrote in his Globe and Mail column Wednesday: "Sympathy to the family and friends of Herb Belleghem, former president of the Old Timers' Baseball Association here, who died of a stroke at his home. He was in his mid 60's. As a player he was with the ICBU team at Don Flats and with Judeans at Stanley Park. He was a first baseman, and a good one."

Marines and Trojans Win City Hockey Championships

The Peterborough Minor Hockey Association midget championship for 1950-51 was taken last night at Civic Arena by Outboard Marines as they downed St. Peter's 9-0 to win the final series 15-2. The bantam crown was captured by the McGillis Trojans as they beat Empress 7-3 to sweep their final series by a 13-3 count. Lakefield edged Clapper's to open their two game juvenile final series.

The midget melee was a one-sided affair. Marines scored three without a return in the first. Dodds, McGrath and Frizzelle counting, as Byrne, McCormick and Kearns earned an assist each. Three more were notched next heat by McGrath, Turner and Spencer, as Ball and Frizzelle each obtained an assist. McGillen, Spencer and Corbett were marksmen in the third, an assist apiece going to McGrath, Turner and Ball. It was generally clean, apart from a fight between Foley and Burns.

Finished Strong

Coming back from a 2-1 deficit in the first frame of the bantam final, Trojans took a 3-2 lead to end the second, and they finished much stronger to take the title handily. The winners drew the only two penalties of a speedy, clean tussle. Sutherland scored for the McGillis boys in the first as Davis and R. Pace hit the twine for Empress. In the second, Rusaw notched one and Godfrey got another from Heffernan. The latter, along with Buckley, Sutherland and Trudeau tallied in the third, with Godfrey and Floyd gaining an assist each. Brown from Jones was the losers' lone marker.

Clapper's battled furiously in the third stanza of the juvenile joust to almost sew it up, but Lakefield held them off for the narrow win. McIlmoyle from Pearson and then Coyle on a solo gave the Lions a 2-0 lead in the initial inning. Both goalies were good to keep the middle chukker scoreless. After Pammett scored for Clapper's in the third, Heffernan rapped in the clincher for Lakefield though Clapper's battled in furiously later and Killen counted one more. They settle this series next Thursday evening. Teams:

St. Peter's: Goal, O'Brien; defence, Hickey, Foley; centre, McDougall; wings, Stewart, Kane; alternates, Marrett, Ferren, Herbison, Pearson, Byrne, Roberto.

Marines: Goal, Delahaye; defence, McGillen, Byrne; centre, McGrath; wings, Frizzelle, Turner; alternates, Corbett, Strickland, Holden, Ball, Kearns, McCormick, Dodds, Spencer.

Trojans: Goal, Masterson; defence, Keeting, Godfrey; centre, Heffernan; wings, Floyd, Sutherland; alternates, Forestell, Mahoney, Cairns, McArthur, Buckley, Trudeau, Rusaw, Whitnell.

Empress: Goal, Curtis; defence, Jones, Pace; centre, J. Brown; wings, Goldie, Naish; alternates, Douglas, Woodcock, Armstrong, Johnston, R. Brown, Davis, Lustic.

Clapper's: Goal, Tyndell; defence, Jones, Sanders; centre, Richardson; wings, Murdock, Killen; alternates, Parry, Cupoli, Mongraw, Sullivan, Pammett, Ferguson, Bailey.

Lakefield: Goal, Wingett; defence, Sabatino, Pue; centre, McCracken; wings, McIlmoyle, Pearson; alternates, Henry, Spencer, Hunter, Wilson, Heffernan, Coyle, Twist, Brown.

Cobourg Edges Redmen 5-4

PORT HOPE, Feb. 16.—Playing coach Cliff Maundrell led Cobourg Pavs to a 5-4 win over Port Hope Redmen in the first game of the OHA Intermediate "A" Lakeshore League semi-final playoffs. Maundrell scored three times including the tying and winning goals.

Herb Tripp was the other Cobourg marksman, banging home two counters.

Port Hope's first two goals were scored by Norm Kelly while Buck Legrow and Jimmie Hoy bagged the other two.

The season's largest crowd of over 1,000 persons saw one of the closest games to be played between the two teams although the Port Hope netminder, Bob Edgar, had to hold the Redmen up on many occasions.

Normals Take Tussle In City Cage League

Normalites blitzed St. Peter's High School quintet 44-31 Thursday night at the YMCA in men's City League basketball. Wednesday night the league opened with the Y-Knots swamping the Hi-Y entry 37-16.

Normalites held a small edge in both halves to indicate that they may be the strongest contender for league honors this year. Battersby drifted in four field baskets and a foul shot for nine points in the first half for Normal. Jim Shram netted six, Foster and Bellamy four each as Normals went up 23-16. Galvin with six points and Harry O'Neill with five led St. Peter's attack in the first.

Scored 10 Points

Battersby continued to batter the basket in the second half, dropping in 10 more points and was backed by seven points by Schram and four by Bellamy for a total of 21. Cavanagh took up the scoring for St. Peter's in the second with three baskets.

Battersby easily led the scoring with 19 points for Normals while teammate Schram had 13. Cavanagh and O'Neill each had nine points for St. Peter's.

Y-Knots had too much scoring power for the Hi-Y quintet Wednesday night as all but one player entered in the scoring. Ken Bachelor led with 11 points, Vern Butcher had nine and Curtis eight to lead the Y-Knots. Grant led the Hi-Y club with four points on foul shots.

Last Night's Stars

Marines Capture Midget Title Beat Saints 9-0

Outboard Marines wrapped up the Midget hockey city championship last night with a 9-0 win over St. Peter's High School. They took the two-game series 15-2. Marines meet Oshawa here next Thursday in the first round of the Ontario playdowns. It will be a home-and-home total-goal series with the second game in Oshawa a week from Saturday. In the 18 games played this season both scheduled and exhibition, the Marines have won 17 and lost one, scoring 150 goals and having 22 marked up against them.

The Students played their hearts out, making it a battle all the way but they were obviously no match for the smooth-passing Marines. They lacked finish around their own net, and time and again the winners had two men uncovered in front of O'Brien to take passes. The Marines had little difficulty waltzing in close to make their shots.

Delahaye in goal for the winners played a sparkling game, and his team-mates cleared the puck without any fumbles, on all close-in scrambles.

Pearson, McDougall, Kane and Foley were the pick of the losers, while the winners played as a smooth working unit that reflected credit on all the players. Their one weakness appeared to be a habit of firing corner shots at the net that couldn't possibly score, when both defencemen were camped inside the blue line, in the clear for a pass and a drive at the front of the net. Kearns, the fast-moving diminutive centre man, was the stand-out player who didn't appear in the scoring.

The teams:

St. Peter's High School — O'Brien, Hickey, Foley, McDougall, Stewart, Kane, Merrett, Ferren, Harrison, Pearson, Byrne, Roberts.

Outboard Marines — Delahaye, McGillen, M. Byrne, McGrath, Frizzelle, Turner, Corbett, Strickland, Holden, Ball, Kearns, McCormick, Dodd, Spencer.

Officials—Peter Nigh and Wm. Romhani.

Scoring summary first period: Marines — Dodds, McGrath (Byrne); Frizzelle (McCormick). Penalty, Kearns.

Second period: Marines— McGrath, Turner (Ball); Spencer, (Frizzelle).

Third period, Marines—McGillen, Spencer (McGrath); Corbett, (Turner, Ball). Penalties, McCormick, McGillen, Pearson (2), M. Byrne and Foley.

Canadiens Triumph

Canadiens yanked out a 3-2 peewee puck verdict over Lakefield in a neat scrap yesterday at Riverside. It was real close all the way as both sides fought hard for a win. Lakefield's goals by McIlwain and Heffernan, an assist going to Darling, were in the first period. Canadiens got two in the second and one in the third, Baptie accounting for a brace and an assist, while Grills got the other, and Garvey had an assist in the clean tilt. Teams:

Canadiens: Beggs, Grills, Harding, Moffatt, Baptie, Pearse, Dinsdale, Crough, Lustic, O'Neill, Garvey, Anthony, Tetlock.

Lakefield: Sullivan, Stenner, Kemp, Henry, Maxwell, Neill, McIlwain, Fraser, Darling, Heffernan, Hill, Nickels.

Referee: J. O'Donoghue.

King Edward Victors

Sutherland and McArthur getting the others for the winners, as Rusaw, A. Phillips and J. Sutherland drew an assist each. Hall got two goals for Queen Elizabeth, Johnston counting one and aiding on another, and Whitnell having an assist. Teams:

King Edward: Hobart, Chalmers, Curtis, Orr, Robbins, J. Sutherland, Phillips, D. Sutherland, Rusaw, Tarkington, McArthur, A. Phillips, Mills, McIntosh, Hill.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

The femmes of bygone years went in for hoop skirts, we're told, but a lot of the lasses today will be just going for the hoops. That is in four basketball games this eve. Two girls' games in the YW, Nurses vs. Black's, and CGE vs. Grads. And a twin bill at the Collegiate, Bowmanville High juniors and seniors against the Collegiate colleens. Down in Port Hope, Oshawa Central boys play Bev Goulding's senior "A" PCI-ers an important tussle, while Fred Allore's SPS seniors are at St. Mike's this Friday evening. Also a Saturday p.m. game at 8.30, Belleville vs. Marines to settle their OABA intermediate "B" series, while Bruins' "A" team is at Hamilton.

Petes' senior ball club hasn't re-organized as yet, but the champion Oshawa Merchants of the Viaduct Major League hold an executive meeting each Monday night now. Mostly on finances, but some talks, too, of players. The Motor City scribe says Jerry Creasy, Roger Wood, Sherry Rowland, Tony DeLaurentis and Harry Walsh all want to come back, and if the loop doesn't limit imports it's likely the Merchants will be after a few more. Plus the pick of local talent. Of course, war conscription in the States may make a lot of difference this year as far as ball imports go. The Petes should start planning right soon, now.

Lindsay And IOOF-ers

Last OHA junior "B" game of the 1950-51 schedule here is tonight at 8.30 in Civic Arena between Lindsay Kinsmen and the Oddfellows. Looks like they'll wind up the race one-two and may or may not meet in group playoffs, so fans shouldn't pass up this possibly last clash of the season between these well-matched rivals. They've staged swell scraps in every clash and tonight will be no exception. These husky youngsers, many seeking a pro tryout, hustle every minute and they burn up energy like we'd like to be able to do. This windup scheduled game rates a big Friday crowd.

* * * * * *

In senior "B", Eagles play Nylons in Kingston tonight, while the Petes go to Gananoque. The Gans come here Monday to end their abbreviated schedule against the Petes. After that, there are but three more games here ere playoffs. Petes and Eagles mix it next Wednesday, Nylons come to play Petes a week tonight, and Belleville ends the whole business with Eagles here a week from Monday. Nylons and Queen's have a few more games, as they postponed some during the Christmas holidays, and these are likely to wind up in wins for the Nylons. So the latter club could still overhaul the second-place Eagles, while the Magee men still have a chance at ousting the Petes from top spot. It'll be a hot finish.

Minor Champs Named

The end of the trail was reached last night at the arena for a couple of teams. Outboard Marines knocked out St. Peter's to take the PMHA title in handy fashion. McGillis Trojans erased the Empress lads to capture the city bantam crown. Our congrats to both these classy young clubs. Tough luck for the losers. Lakefield Lions edged Clapper's juves 3-2 to open their two-game, goals counting, city finals, the next one being Thursday of next week. Two well-matched clubs. It won't be long now until local winners are hitting into provincial playdowns in bantam, midget and juvenile "A" series, as the PMHA is affiliated with the OMHA.

District puck circuits are nearing trail's end, too, as schedules are running out. TVL winds up tonight—apart from a few postponements—with St. Peter's in Norwood, Marmora at Brintons, and Campbellford at Stirling. They started play Jan. 3. We've no info on postponed TVL tilts or their playoff arrangements as yet. EPL games tonight are: Lakefield at Millbrook, and Hastings at Warsaw. On Tuesday, Keene plays in Lakefield, and the list winds up the next night. Otonabee frays tonight: Indian River at Keene, and Downer's Corners at Hiawatha—this loop ending Feb. 28. In Havelock tonight, Harrowsmith will tee off 'gainst the Havelock juveniles in the deciding game of their OMHA series, the teams previously tying 4-all at Westport. Some 30 cars of supporters went from Havelock.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

A hockey jackpot of unusual proportions goes Feb. 28 at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens.

Toronto St. Michael's and Toronto Marlboros, standing one-two in the Ontario Hockey Association major series, meet in a game worth eight points to the winner.

Normally hockey games are rated at two points each in league standings. However, this season games between the two Toronto teams have been four-pointers, a device to fit in with lack of available playing time in the Gardens.

Now, because of such things as a skating carnival and general apathy at the box office, the OHA is going to cut four games off its schedule, producing two four-point games and one eight-pointer.

"We'll start off semi-finals involving two Toronto teams and Hamilton Tigers March 3," said George Panter, OHA secretary.

Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler arrived in Miami Thursday to participate in the annual baseball players' golf tournament. Outwardly he was more concerned about his golf game than his job.

He brushed aside questions pertaining to his future as the major league baseball czar.

"I'd rather not speculate about that now," he told reporters.

Directors of the 16 major league clubs meet here March 12 to pick their commissioner.

Acquisition of Bob Blake, veteran Buffalo defenceman, was announced Thursday by the Cincinnati American Hockey League club. Buffalo has loaned the 34-year-old Blake to the Mohawks for the season.

Harness-racing dates for Wolverine Raceway in Detroit have been advanced two weeks to Oct. 8-13. Originally the meeting was set for Oct. 22-27.

Five more signed contracts arrived at the office of the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday, shortly before the first contingent of the National League champions left for spring training at Clearwater, Fla.

Phillies have 22 players under contract. Among the non-signers only outfielders Dick Sisler and Richie Ashburn are said to be making serious demands for higher salaries.

Gene (Silent) Hairston, 21-year-old Negro puncher who has made a sensational surge up the middleweight ladder in the last year, shoots for his 13th straight victory tonight against solid-socking Paddy Young at Madison Square Garden.

A victory over the blond New Yorker may earn Hairston a non-title shot with the newly-crowned middleweight champion, Ray Robinson, in the Garden.

Brooklyn Dodgers had all but one of their players in the fold Thursday as they announced signing Preacher Roe and utility infielder Eddie Miksis. Third-baseman Billy Cox is the only Dodger not yet announced as signed.

Horsemen Say Santa Anita Track Too Hard

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 16 (CP) —Santa Anita race track officials continue to maintain there is nothing wrong with their racing course in the face of contentions that it has been too hard.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt, one of the blue bloods of thoroughbred racing thought the strip "was too hard," but added that perhaps it had been softened up somewhat during the last week.

Director of racing Carleton Burke declared the track is one of the best in the country, and general manager Gwynn Wilson said records show there have been only half as many horses broken down this season than in previous meetings at Santa Anita.

Admittedly, some of the best-known horses are on the sidelines including Hill Prince, Your Host, Bolero and Bed o'Roses.

The condition of the track had nothing to do with the injuries suffered by Hill Prince said trainer Casey Hayes, and certainly it had nothing to do with Your Host's broken leg, his trainer, Harry Daniels, asserted.

Another Story

Bed o'Roses, however, presents something else again, said Vanderbilt, owner of the nationally-regarded filly.

"I told them before the Bed o'Roses race that it was too hard, and you saw what happened," he said.

Bed o'Roses, racing in the $205,700 Santa Anita Maturity Feb. 3, appeared headed for the winner's circle for the biggest purse in thoroughbred history when she broke down in the stretch.

Vanderbilt said he raced 14 horses successfully through the Hollywood Park meeting but now has "half that many running here."

"Something has to give, and if it isn't the ground, it has to be the horses."

Lindsay Rink Wins Oakwood Bonspiel

Marine Midgets Drop 1st Game

Gibaut in goal for the winners played a sensational game, turning aside a barrage of shots as the visitors had quite an edge in the shots on goal. Ball took an assist from Turner in the second for the lone Marine tally. Clark, McCulloch and Boyd starred for the school team, with Ryder, Ross and Uren also playing smart hockey. Ross, McCulloch and Clark scored, McCulloch counting twice.

The teams:

Layton Claims He'll Fix Mask

Furious at not being in the main bout this week, the Masked Marvel roared so long and loud that he was given top spot on next Tuesday's mat card at the Brock Arena. And his opponent—none other than the sensational grappling star, Lord Athol Layton.

Layton was more than anxious to take a crack at The Mask, not forgetting that a loss to the hooded one would jeopardize his chances for a bout with Whipper Watson. Fans have been demanding this bout. "I won't let them down," said Layton, adding that he will finish the Mask once and for all. Both men have been undefeated anywhere on the continent.

An unsuccessful finish for the Mask will mean his end as he will have to remove the head covering. A sizzling match is predicted.

Pat Flanagan will take on the gigantic task of taming towering Hi Lee in the semi-final.

A newcomer, Sonny Kurgis, will make his debut here against Jack Wentworth.

Gerow Paces Nylons To Win Over Redmen

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 16.—Paced by their veteran left-winger Walt Gerow, Kingston Nylons kept their hopes of reaching second place in the group standing alive here Wednesday night by defeating Belleville Redmen, 5-2, in an OHA Senior fixture here.

The win pulled the Nylons to within seven points of the second-place Peterborough Eagles with two weeks remaining in the schedule.

Former Belleville star, Gerow claimed three of the Nylons' five goals, while Mucker McKeown and Buddy Aitken tallied the others. Joey Catlin drew assists on all three goals by Gerow. Brian Mulvihill accounted for the Redmen's tallies, while Jack Wardhaugh was credited with two assists.

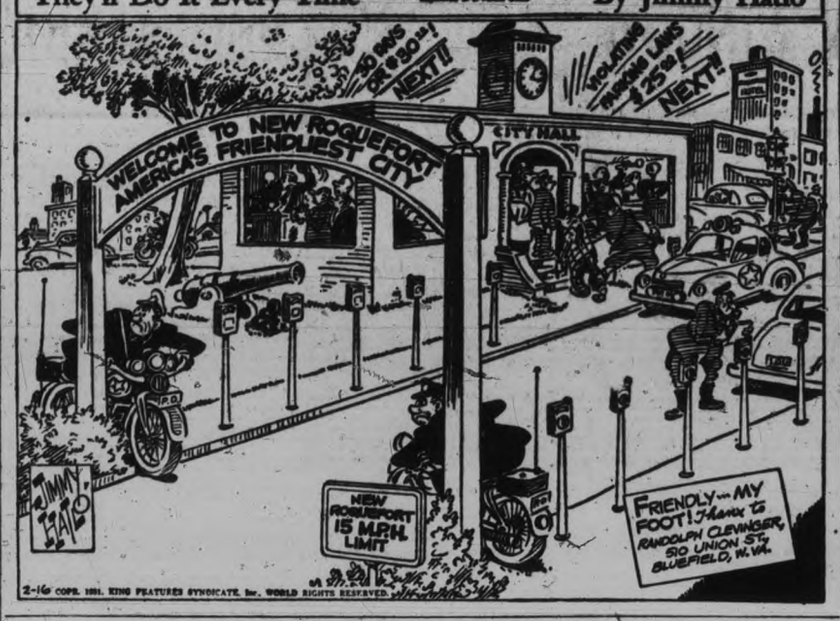
Louis Ranks Charles 6th Among Fighters

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16 — (AP).—Old Joe Louis, who ruled the heavyweight ranks longest of 'em all, rates Ezzard Charles, current champion and the one who beat his in his comeback attempt, as only the sixth best man he ever fought.

The Brown Bomber wasn't pulling verbal punches as he mulled over a distinguished boxing career and decided that titleholder Charles was only No. 6 in a lengthy list of opponents.

Ol' Joe, who will be 37 come May and is fighting his way into another championship match with Charles, picked Billy Conn as the best of all those who have faced him.



"No doubt about it, that Billy was the best. He was winning that title right away from me when I managed to get him. He sure could box and he had a good punch."

The ex-champ was referring to their 1941 meeting, when challenger Conn was well ahead on points but made the mistake of trying to slug with Joe in the 13th round. Louis kayoed Conn again in 1946, this time in eight sessions.

Louis, who wore the crown from June, 1937, until he retired in March, 1949, rated the best men besides Conn to face him as follows:

No. 2—Max Baer.
No. 3—James J. Braddock.
No. 4—Max Schmeling.
No. 5—Tommy Farr.
No. 6—Ezzard Charles.
No. 7—Primo Carnera.
No. 8—Jersey Joe Walcott.
No. 9—Bob Pastor.
No. 10—Arturo Godoy.

Leafs Hold Habs To 2-2 Tie As Rangers Humble Hawks

By MEL SUFRIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Aloysius Martin Sloan, better known to hockey fans as Tod, has the misfortune of playing right wing in the same league as Detroit's Gordie Howe and Montreal's Maurice (Rocket) Richard.

Otherwise the 23-year-old Toronto Maple Leafs star would be sure to find himself more often in the spotlight. While National Hockey League writers continually discuss the merits of Howe and Richard, Sloan is running up a record that rates more than casual mention.

The little guy from Vinton, Que., who has been commuting between the majors and minors for six years, demonstrated his dependability once again Thursday night by scoring a goal as Toronto played to a 2-2 tie with Montreal Canadiens.

It was Sloan's 27th tally of the season, only two less than Howe and five below Richard, who was held scoreless in Thursday night's meeting. In addition it moved Sloan into a tie with Richard for fourth place in the NHL standing.

Serious Threat

It's only recently that Tod was moved from centre to right wing, and since it tallies with his increasing scoring punch it might be an indication that Sloan will be a serious threat in coming years to the domination of the spot by Howe and Richard.

Another player who doesn't often make the headlines came up with an eye-catching performance Thursday night.

He was Don (Bones) Raleigh, 24-year-old native of Kenora, who figured in six goals as New York Rangers defeated the last-place Chicago Black Hawks 73.

The smallest Chicago crowd in years—4,466—saw Raleigh score two goals and assist on four others. Ed Slowinski and Nick Mickoski got a pair each, while Buddy O'Connor got the other.

The victory moved the Rangers into sole possession of third place, a single point ahead of Montreal and two points ahead of Boston Bruins.

It was another in the long string of losses for Chicago, which has been able to eke out only one win in 28 starts.

Never Got Started

The Hawks were never really in the picture. Roy Conacher got their first goal toward the end of the first period, in which Rangers had a 21 lead. New York made it 5-1 in the second, in which Rangers had more goals before Bill Mosienko and Bep Guidolin scored Chicago's other tallies.

At Montreal, a disappointed crowd of 14,301 saw the Leafs come from behind to tie the score after Canadiens had taken a 2-0 first-period lead.

Toronto maintained its wide edge over Montreal in their personal series this season. The Leafs have won nine, lost only one and tied two in games with Canadiens.

Ken Mosdell and Bert Olmstead scored for Montreal in the first period. Teeder Kennedy and Max Bentley helped Sloan on his second-period goal, and Bill Barilko tied it up early in the third.

Indians Whitewash Buffalo Bisons 7-0

By The Canadian Press.

Springfield Indians in the eastern division of the American Hockey League, Thursday night turned on the league-leading Buffalo Bisons and handed them a 7-0 walloping.

In the only other game played, Indianapolis humbled Hershey 5-1.

At Springfield, Kelly Burnett scored three goals and set up two more to pace Springfield in a riotous game before 3,500 fans.

Springfield took over undisputed possession of third place in the eastern division, two points ahead of Providence Reds, idle Thursday night.

Plan To Relieve Global Misery Explained By Hon. R. W. Mayhew

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Some day historians may look back and say that the most significant events of these present times were the Marshall Plan and the Colombo Plan.

The Marshall Plan, perhaps the first great international recognition that the welfare of one depends on the welfare of all, made possible the recovery of Europe, and now is well-known.

The Colombo Plan, initiated by Commonwealth countries just over a year ago, is hardly more than under way. Perhaps ultimately, if it succeeds, its effects may be more far-reaching than those of the Marshall Plan. For its purpose is to enable the one-quarter of the world's people, who live in South and Southeast Asia, to raise their standards of living with the help and technical advice of the West.

Hon. R. W. Mayhew, Canada's Minister of Fisheries, spoke about it Thursday in Toronto to the Canadian Council of the International Chamber of Commerce. Said he in part:

In the long run this country and others similarly privileged cannot expect to remain an isolated island of good times while there is fear, frustration, poverty and despair in the larger part of the world.

Strong Influence

In the struggle between freedom and imperial communism the scales of victory may be turned, perhaps not by force alone, but by a humanistic approach to the people struggling despairingly in other parts of the globe.

He gave the folowing illustration of the world's misery:

If you were born this year, then on the same day 200,000 others would have come into the world with you. Your chances are one in four of being born in the territories mentioned—India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Malaya, Singapore, Borneo, Sarawak, Indonesia, Burma, Thailand, Indo-China—one in four of being born in China, and only one in 20 of being born in North America.

If you are born in the United States (Canadian figures are similar) the chances are that you will live longer than one year, but in India you have only a one-in-four chance of living through the first year. Even if you do survive, you have only a 50-50 chanceof reaching maturity.

Chances Poor

If you were born in those areas the chances are overwhelming that you will be chronically sick all your life from malaria, tuberculosis, and so forth. If you are not sick, you are likely to be weak from hunger, and you have a two-to-one chance of suffering from malnutrition and have a reasonable chance of experiencing famine to the point where you will be glad to eat the bark off a tree.

The Colombo Plan, Mr. Mayhew explained, is one of helping such people to help themselves.

"If the plan is to be successful there must be no western interference with the internal management of the countries concerned. We must avoid any attitude of paternalism. We have to remember that these countries have a civilization much older than ours, and with many merits that ours lacks."

Two TV Actors Prefer New York Life

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16 — A word of cheer for the New York Chamber of Commerce is provided by Stuart Erwin and June Collyer.

Wednesday I reported that a pack of bigtime comics were plotting rebellion against New York's stranglehold on television. All of them live in Hollywood and want to do their TV shows here, too.

But the Erwins—they'll be married 20 years in June—are going against the trend. They do their video work in Hollywood but prefer to live in New York!

"I know that sounds like treason coming from a home-state boy," said Stu, who was born in Squaw Valley, Calif. "But I like it in the east. It's more invigorating."

The Erwins are now on their third visit here since last September. They stay a few weeks each time, making around 13 half-hour shows. It's rugged work, since they have to be at the studio from 7:30 in the morning to 6:30 at night.

I asked Stu if he would return to Hollywood if offered a contract.

Won't Go Back

"Not on your life," he said. "If I were under contract, I'd end up doing just what I'm doing now—making films for television. Eventually all the studios will be doing it.

"The movie theatre business is washed up. It may be helped if we have a war boom with a lot of men back in uniform. But in the end, Hollywood will be producing for TV."

Capsule Review

"Valentino" is corn, but pretty interesting corn. It is difficult to recreate that era of wonderful nonsense which fostered the sensational career of Valentino, and this film is not wholly successful at it. But there is enough flowery love-making and nostalgia to tempt all but the more sophisticated appetites. Anthony Dexter was an inspired choice in the title role. The resemblance is good and he fulfills the acting limitations of the part.

Would Use Licences

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (CP)—The Ontario Agricultural Council Thursday passed a resolution urging licnesing of distributors of Christmas trees to halt illegal or indiscriminate cutting. The resolution, sponsored by the united counties of Dundas, Stormont and Glengarry, charged that hundreds of thousands of trees needed for reforestation were illegally cut each year.

Appointed To Board

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (CP)—Roy Kennedy, Municipal Affairs Department supervisor for Northern municipalities, has been appointed to the Ontario Municipal Board, it was announced Thursday. A native of Pembroke, he was clerk-treasurer for 13 years before joining the Municipal Affairs Department.

RIVALRY FORGOTTEN—Chief magistrates of Canada's two largest centres, Toronto and Montreal, met in Montreal when the executive of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities gathered for a general conference in Ottawa. Farmers Halt Hydro Crew

STAFFA, Ont., Feb. 16 (CP)—An Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission crew of 14 men, stringing the last seven miles of fire on the Seaforth-Devizes line, was halted Thursday by 50 Hibbert township farmers who swarmed around the crew's bulldozer, about two miles south of Staffa.

The incident was the latest in a passive resistance campaign by Stratford district farmers who claimed they weren't getting enough for the right-of-way for the line.

Accept 8-Cent Offer

HAMILTON, Feb. 16 (CP). — Interpational Harvester employees Thursday night concluded three months of contract negotiations by accepting a company offer of an eight-cent-an-hour wage increase with cost-of-living escalator clause, a better vacation plan, and piecework and skilled-employee benefits. The offer was accepted at a mass meeting of Local 2868, United Steelworkers of America.

Wants Consent Given

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP) — Provincial government legislation permitting annexation by one municipality of another without mutual consent was criticized Thursday by Reeve Harry Simpson of East York, a Toronto suburb. He contended that no action should be taken without consent of the voters involved.

Roebuck Raps Senate For Pushing Commons

OTTAWA, Feb. 16(CP)—The Senate should stop "wailing" to the House of Commons for work and do more on its own, Senator Arthur Roebuck (L, Ontario) declared Thursday.

It was beneath the dignity of the Upper Chamber to keep agitating for a speedup of Commons legislation and he was "thoroughly sick of it," he told fellow Senators. Besides, the government wouldn't do anything about it.

Plan Mink Ranches

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Feb. 16 — (CP). — Resources Minister Russell said Thursday his department has received inquiries from several Ontario firms interested in establishing mink ranches in Newfoundland. He did not name any of the groups. Mr. Russell said availability of large quantities of cheap mink food in the Maritimes is the main reason for the interest.

May Ease Restrictions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 — (Reuters)—The United States is willing to ease restrictions on exports to Hong Kong in return for a guarantee that no American goods will be re-shipped to Communist China, an authoratative source said Thursday. This offer now is being considered by British officials in Anglo-American talks here. The talks began after the U.S. last year banned the export to Hong Kong of all goods except those required for minimum essential needs.

117,000 Men, Women Join Britain's Civil Defence

More than 117,000 men and women have now joined Britain's Civil Defence and allied services.

Details and strength as at 31st December, 1950, have just been released by the Home Office. They show that the Civil Defence Corps itself consists of 98,894 people (60,704 men and 38,190 women) compared with 31,809 at 30th June 1950. Recruiting is running at the monthly rate of some 12,500 compared with 2,300 during the summer months of 1950 and 1,500 last winter.

Of the total membership of 98,894 in the Civil Defence Corps no less than 56,156 have had previous Civil Defence experience and are veterans of World War II blitzes.

Recruiting

Rate of recruitment is about equal as between men and women (men 6,502 a month, women 5,959). Preference among men is for wardens' duties (27,867) but large numbers of women have volunteered for welfare work (18,913). The difficult and dangerous jobs of "Rescue" and "Pioneer" have now attracted some 9,000 recruits of which only three are women.

Strongest area for recruitment is eastern England where 3.58 per 1,000 of the population volunteered. Running close are the southern and south eastern regions (3.31 and 3.11) lowest is the north eastern region with 1.49. In the big cities, Birmingham has 1,939 members, Liverpool 1,557 and Bristol 1,277. The County of London corps has 6,615 members.

Auxiliary Fire Service

Not directly under the Civil Defence Corps but a vital arm of defence against air attack is Britain's Auxiliary Fire Service. At December 31, 1950, total strength was 7,853, as against 3,915 on June 30. In the three months, October 1st-December 31st, 2,417 men and women volunteered for the service.

Of the total of 7,853 volunteers, 5,365 are men and 2,488 are women.

Since the recruitment drive started on November 15, 1949, 15,328 men and 352 women have joined Britain's Special Constabulary whose function it is to help the regular police maintain order in wartime. The tempo of recruitment is speeding up—for the quarter ended December 31, 3,653 men and 89 women joined the force.

Britain's Ministry of Health is organizing a National Hospital Service Reserve of auxiliary nurses and orderlies who would help deal with blitz casualties in hospitals during war. At the end of 1950 the Reserve passed the 10,000 mark—there are now 9,427 auxiliary members (orderlies etc.) and 1,006 trained nurses. One in every ten members of the Reserve is a man.

Initial target for the Reserve is 30,000.

Buck Request To Abandon 30-Mile Track

Marshal Arguments Against CNR Closing Port Hope-City Line

Municipalities along the 30-mile line between Port Hope and Peterborough are busy marshalling their arguments to convince the Board of Transport Commissioners that the line should not be abandoned.

Thursday night 17 representatives from affected municipalities met in the Port Hope town hall to decide on a course of action.

Peterborough was represented by Aldermen Harold Rehill and Norman Graham, for the manufacturers' committee of the city council, and by James Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

No formal resolutions were passed but the municipalities agreed to stand united against the abandoning of the line. They will also produce witnesses and have their individual cases prepared when the transport commissioners hear their application in Port Hope, February 27.

Losing Money

The CNR has been trying to abandon the Port Hope-Peterborough line since 1935. They say it is losing money.

In 1941 the transport commissioners agreed to close the single track between Port Hope and Millbrook. But in 1943 this decision was revoked because the line might be utilized for transporting war goods. And there was a shortage of road transport.

Since the end of the Second World War the CNR has again asked to have the Port Hope-Millbrook section closed. The transport commissioners, before taking action, have agreed to hear the appeal of municipalities and individuals opposed to the order.

Thursday night's meeting was held to organize the opposition.

To Meet Here

If present plans go ahead, a similar meeting will be held next week in Peterborough with Port Hope city officials here in strength. The support of local industrial leaders, who do or could use the line, will be sought.

A spur line will run from Peterborough to Millbrook, while the 18-mile stretch from Port Hope to Millbrook will be abandoned if the CNR application is upheld.

Chief rallying point for the affected municipalities is the belief in the future industrial development of this region, particularly if the St. Lawrence waterway scheme goes through.

Stewart Ryan, chairman of the meeting and member of both the Port Hope harbour commission and the board of trade, expanded on this theme:

Docking Adequate

"The opening of the St. Lawrence seaway probably means the increased use of Port Hope harbor and great rail traffic in the Port Hope-Peterborough-Lindsay area. . . Port Hope harbor has adequate docking facilities but not large turning facilities."

James Fraser pledged the support of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce and promised to make arrangements for Port Hope officials to meet Peterborough city officials and industrialists.

Alderman Harold Rehill pointed out that one of the disappointing things was that the Port Hope line suffered because the "railway finds it more convenient to route freight through Belleville."

Recurrent Theme

This was a recurrent theme at the meeting. Representatives said frankly they thought the CNR was determined to see that the line did not pay. Freight that used to come in on the Cobourg ferryboat for Campbellford was shipped roundabout through Belleville instead of directly through Port Hope.

All affected municipalities promised to be at the meeting on February 27.

Others present were Lorne Giddy and Robert Everson, Port Hope council; Reeve Wilbur Moore of Port Hope; Herb. Long, chairman of industrial division, Port Hope board of trade; Harold Grover, manager of the board of trade; Harry Campbell, reeve of South Monaghan; Reeve Elmer Scott and Cecil Mercer, Hope; Reeve Delbert Olan and P. I. Bentley, Cavan; Fred Bamsey, Hope; Reeve Dr. J. W. Wright and Cliff Larmer, Millbrook; and Russell Honey, Port Hope town solicitor.

Guns, Radios Stolen From Store

Two Thieves Enter Firestone Store Take $500 Equipment

Two thieves broke into the Firestone store on Charlotte St. Thursday night and stole at least $500 worth of guns, radios and fishing equipment.

The break-in was not discovered until this morning when employees arrived at the store.

Taken were three rifles, two car radios with aerials, four fishing rods that had just arrived Thursday and about 20 fishing plugs.

Losses Might Be More

J. W. Fortner, store manager, said losses might amount to a higher figure. It is not known whether or not any tires were taken.

The thieves' tracks in the snow led to one of the rear windows about eight feet above the ground in an alley off Aylmer St. The window is in a tire storage room adjoining a repair department. To get into the main part of the store from the repair shop, the thieves used a tire iron to pry open a locked door.

They dumped out the fishing plugs from their boxes and put them in two cartons they emptied. To get the radios they had to cross the lighted store.

Police think the thieves knew the interior of the store and repair shop well. Tracks in the snow showed they walked directly to the only window at the rear that had a catch on it. They broke a pane of glass in the window, reached in and pulled the catch.

Utilities To Charge City $44,000 For Water In 1951

The hydrants of the Utilities Commission will cost the city $44,000 this year. This charge on the city tax rate is $7,000 more than last year, but there are also 29 more hydrants in use. The Commission asked for $35,000 in 1950 but agreed eventually to lopping off $2,000. The hydrants are essential in the city's fire protection system.

Mr. G. S. Matthews presided at the meeting Thursday with G. A. Macdonald and Fred Hills present.

18 Per Cent Increase

R. L. Dobbin, manager, reported the January electrical peak load at 20,400 killowatts, an increase of 403, but the customer consumption of that power bought from the Hydro Commission was up 1,482,400 killowat-hours to 10,160,200 kwhrs. That was an 18 per cent increase.

Fifty-six new water heaters were connected in January. Mr. Dobbin said the total water heater load at the end of the month was 3263 killowatts.

A new lighting circuit was built on Lafayette Ave.; poles were relocated on Park St., from Lansdowne St. south, and work was begun on transferring conductors as requested by the city corporation.

Thirty-six new three-wire and three new two-wire circuits were connected; traffic lights were erected at Monaghan Road and Charlotte St. and at Hunter and Aylmer streets.

Preliminary work was done on the distribution system for the Cobourg Lumber housing subdivision from Clonsilla Ave. and new domestic distribution circuits were run on Noble Place to serve the O'Grady subdivision at Monaghan Road and Lundy's Lane; and on Bell Ave. south from Lansdowne St.

Pumpage Decreases

In the waterworks department total pumpage was 115,555,000 gallons, a decrease of 13,090,000 gals. for January. The average daily pumpage was down 403,000 gals. from the 4,130,000 gals. of Jan. 1950.

The filter plant was closed during the month for general maintenance and modification of the raw water piping system. Five hydrants were reported frozen during the month. Not one water service was laid.

The heating systems in the Aylmer St. office and substation were joined together for more efficient operation.

Gas department showed an increase of 624,000 cu. ft. of gas production.

Find No Sign Of Epidemic

Unlike many other localities in Ontario and Quebec, Peterborough is managing to avoid the flu epidemic. However, when they cite statistics to prove their point, city officials are crossing their fingers.

Children are usually the first to catch the flu, but a check on local schools shows only the normal drop in attendance for this time of year.

"We have about five per cent absenteeism, and that's usual for February," said C. S. Browne, PCVS principal. "There's certainly no sign of an epidemic here."

K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools, said the same applied to the younger school children.

"We've noticed nothing out of the way," he said. "Absenteeism for all reasons—not just flu—amounts to only seven or eight per cent."

Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, says that the incidence of flu is not unusually high. And the city's two hospitals report the same.

In Brockville 621 public and collegiate pupils were absent from school Wednesday, and nine teachers were reported sick.

WRONG NAME

Jointly charged with keeping a common gaming house at 680 Little St., was Leonard Vyse, 683 Little St., not Michael Vyse, as reported Thursday.

"THOU SPEAKEST WELL OF FOOLS," says Feste the jester (Lloyd Hale) to the Countess Olivia (Brenda Davies) TOP LEFT, as she takes his part against her Puritanical steward Malvolio (Roger Davis) in the Peterborough Little Theatre's production of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night". At RIGHT the Duke of Orsino (George Bouck) addresses his page, whom he believes to be a boy, but who is in reality Viola (Lindy Mackintosh) in disguise. BELOW, "Let me see thee caper—higher, higher!" cries the roistering Sir Toby Belch (John Londerville) to his foppish companion Sir Andrew Aguecheek (George Cobb). The Shakespearean comedy, reviewed on this page, will be repeated on Friday and Saturday nights.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

Spirited Comedy, Intriguing Enchantment In Delightful 'Twelfth Night' Production

By C. GLEDHILL

One might be forgiven for imagining oneself at the court of the Merry Monarch to see the delightful production of the Peterborough Little Theatre in Twelfth Night, by William Shakespeare. There was Old Rowley himself as Duke Orsino, My Lady Castlemaine as Olivia, the fair Stewart as Viola, and pert Nell Gwyn as the malapert Maria. Mr. Davies, who directed the production, has hit on the original idea of presenting it in Restoration costume (with a few licences).

A play so rich in intrigue gives ample opportunity for nearly all the players to display their talents, and I am glad to say that the general level of acting was remarkably high. John Londerville, as Sir Toby Belch, gave a very spirited performance, and was ably supported by George Cobb, as Sir Andrew Aguecheek. I liked the way they played into each other's hands in their scenes of broad comedy. Lloyd Hale played the part of Feste with a nice restraint. Of his characterization it could be said, "This fellow is wise enough to be a fool."

The Shakespearian jester is no mere buffoon; he is something of a scholar, something of a philosopher, no respecter of persons, and often possessed of more common sense than the rest of the cast put together. He juggles with words, building crazy arguments out of puns, and then demolishes the whole structure with one devastating comment. This brand of humor, which sometimes reads curiously like James Joyce, is out of fashion today, simply because the average person has not the same literary background as was taken for granted in Shakespeare's time.

Olivia, Maria, Malvolio

Brenda Davies played with experienced assurance the transition from the mourning virgin to the woman in love; her interpretation of Olivia had fine dignity and authority. Jean Leach, as Maria, was a gorgeous hussy, plotting and scheming her way through the play. Roger Davis must be singled out for special praise for his acting of the part of Malvolio; this was quite a gem of characterization.

George Bouck, as Orsino, has a good stage presence, but was rather indistinct. When, as often happened, he was speaking with his back to the audience, he was almost unintelligible, and his long black wig served to muffle his voice still further. Lindy Mackintosh gave an enchanting performance as Viola-cum-Sebastian. She has an affecting freshness and charm in her manner which showed to special advantage in the famous speech "She never told her love." I would like to have seen her mouth some of Shakespeare's resounding lines with a little more gusto, lines such as "It gives a very echo to the seats where love is throned."

Lines such as these were meant to be declaimed to an audience that had a passion for high-flown rhetoric and a feeling for the spoken word. Several times lines such as these were thrown away in an apologetic manner by various members of the caste.

Robertson Davies, who made a brief but telling entrance near the end of the play as the Priest, spoke his lines with fitting unction. His garb was more Orthodox than orthodox, but why quibble? The other minor parts were capably handled by Allan Bennett, Kenneth McKee, Donald Munro, Jack Nichols, Joan Brown (who made a brief appearance at the ends as the real Viola), Joseph Barnard, Eleanor Glover, James Gardiner and Zoltan Temesy.

Splendid Costumes

The costumes were splendid with two exceptions. First, could not Viola have made her first entry in something less resembling a late Victorian tablecloth? Secondly, Valentine and Curio were dressed more like servants than like "gentlemen attending on the Duke." Malvolio's sartorial metamorphoses were magnificent.

The production was well done, and the handling of the scenes when practically everybody was on stage at the same time was particularly effective. In accordance with modern ideas the scenes were all run into one another and fussy scene-shifting was completely eliminated. I would prefer to have seen the small furniture-removal jobs delegated to a pair of pages—little negroes would be ideal if they could be found. I liked the portico, with its rusticated columns—it served equally well for outdoor and indoor scenes—and although the back-drop smacked more of Ontario than Illyria it was pleasantly done.

Spirit of Music

I have let the music to the last, like all Shakespeare's comedies but more so than most it breathes the very spirit of music. John Hooper's Coventry Singers, aided and abetted by Musa Cox and Mary Baker at the piano did much to enhance the effect of the play without distracting the attention. The Coventry Singers have gained much in fullness and roundness of tone since I last heard them. I think that they would be better advised to allow Feste to work out his own salvation when he is singing on stage; certain difficulties of co-ordination arose. The choice of music was good, though the last song, while interesting in itself, did not quite fit into the picture. I particularly enjoyed the Morley madrigals at the opening of the acts, and they were sung with real feeling and understanding.

Peterborough should be proud of its Little Theatre; they are going from strength to strength.

TELEPHONE LINEMEN MEET

Twelve linemen of municipal and private telephone companies in connection with the Bell were a class in special instructions at the Empress Hotel today. The associated companies included: Dummer, Otonabee, Harvey, Ennismore, Douro, Belmont, Manvers, Cavan, Millbrook. The instruction were directed by the Bell staff.

LINDSAY RINK WINS

A Lindsay rink, skipped by P. Eberlee, won its third straight game in the Ontario Schoolboys' Bonspiel at Guelph. The Eberlee rink will meet a Sarnia rink skipped by B. Smith in the quarter-finals. Another Lindsay quartet, skipped by T. Moseley, lost in the third round to B. Kay of Guelph.

Remand Ralph Carey On Capital Charge

PORT HOPE, Feb. 16 (ENS).—Ralph Carey, 26, local funeral director and father of two children was remanded to Feb. 23 in custody when he appeared before Magistrate R. B. Baxter today on a charge of a criminal assault against a young married woman.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, K.C., represented Harry Deyman and Stewart Ryan appeared for Carey. When bail was suggested, Mr. Bradshaw objected and maintained that the magistrate could not grant bail on a capital charge. Carey must apply to the county judge to get bail.

What Does IFAP Mean To The Canadian Farmer?, — Forum Subject Monday, Feb. 19 — Leonard McNeil of Fraserville Elected President of Ontario Swine Producers — Omemee Farmers Club 1950 Business Totalled $281,932 — Junior Farmers Meeting Tuesday, Feb. 20.

Farm Radio Forums will look out over the world and its problems of subsistence and marketing of products in the broadcast Monday, Feb. 19.

The subject is: "What Has IFAP (International Federation of Agricultural Producers) Accomplished?"

That question suggests another. What has IFAP set out to do? A broad answer is that it seeks to bring farmers of the world together in a joint effort to solve their common problems.

As to what IFAP has done since it was organized in 1946, its president, Herb H. Hannam, head of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said in opening the IFAP sessions in Sweden last year:

"We have demonstrated that we can achieve unity, unity which has enabled folks on the land to reach the final goal for coordination of action—that of moving up to function on the world plane through their own organization."

Leaders of national farm organizations have proved to themselves that they have unity of hopes and aspirations, unity of outlook and of conviction that their people can cooperate in approaching agricultural problems more or less common to them all.

This conviction has grown out of their meetings in London, Paris, Guelph, Sweden and elsewhere.

IFAP has supported FAO "in all moves toward setting up an international basis for handling surplus foods."

FAO is the Federation of Agricultural Organizations, an agency of governments as distinct from IFAP, an agency of farmers themselves.

International farmers have been striving to get action through FAO in moving existing surpluses to countries where food and clothing, the essentials of living, are pitiably inadequate.

And, as Dr. Hannam said in Sweden, progress in that direction has largely been in securing unity of sentiment and assurance as fundamental to unity of world functioning.

Monday's broadcast will tell other facets of the story of IFAP. One of the suggested topics for Forum discussion is "Do you think IFAP has any importance to you as a farmer?"

Possibly some Forum members will recall their recent conclusions that Ontario farmers seldom have surpluses of their products.

But, Canada has had surpluses of grain, and many western farmers are active members of the Canadian Federation. The Peterborough Federation farmer is directly associated with IFAP through his provincial and federal associations, and the whole question of IFAP accomplishment rests on the understanding and goodwill of these persons and branches in supporting their major organization.

Apart from the objective of moving surpluses, it is also a challenge in idealism to the Federation membership in their desire to share with backward and hungry peoples something from their own fullness of supply of foodstuffs.

Canadian farmers have moved out into world citizenship, and the CFA and the IFAP are their mediums. One of their own people, Herb. H. Hannam, who used to go about the province, including Peterborough county, as a missionary of agricultural unity and organization, has been for two years president of IFAP.

He and his rural people have gone a long way since that meeting he spoke to one summer afternoon in the field on the west side of Chemong Road, immediately south of the park.

BEEF CATTLE SCARCE

"There are almost no beef cattle in this area around Hamilton," said Ellsworth Smith, of Ancaster livestock exchange, this week. "Dairy cattle are being slaughtered for food, and the United States buyers are ignoring Canadian cattle for that reason. Stock cows for breeding purposes and dairy cattle that are dry are being slaughtered because they bring more as beef."

Mr. Smith blamed the eating habits of Canadians for the shortage. "The public likes veal steaks of calves that weigh only 200 pounds, whereas calves should not be slaughtered until they weigh 300 lbs."

Their deliveries through the Food Bank Now

Canada should encourage the United Nations organization of a World Food Bank by immediately taking over all surplus of food in Canada and giving it to F.A.O., with no strings attached, to start a World Food Bank and use as it sees fit. It is hoped that with this impetus, U.N. would at least try some method of distribution. Eventually gifts of machinery, technical advice, etc., would follow for the development of backward countries.

This was the conclusion reached by Westwood Farm Forum, Monday, Feb. 12, at the home of Mrs. R. Y. Cameron. The discussion was led by Wm. Mood. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Green.

NEW LICENCE PLATES—Nine of the provincial automobile licence plates for 1951 are shown in this composite photo. The 10th—Newfoundland—was not available until April 1. Two of them—Manitoba and British Columbia—have separate strips or plates showing the year of issue. Counter-clockwise, they are: Quebec, black on aluminum grey; Manitoba, black on silver with red date tag; Nova Scotia, black on orange; British Columbia, orange on black with new strip of blue on white; New Brunswick, white on green; Alberta, blue on yellow; Prince Edward Island, white on dark blue; Saskatchewan, black on ivory, Ontario, centre, is light blue on white.

Ontario-Durham Folk School Opens Mar. 29

Many of our rural young people will again have an opportunity of enjoying a few days of pleasant association, studying, working and playing together in the folk schools which are being held at various points throughout the province during the winter months. The schools are a co-operative project, since they are sponsored and promoted by a committee of the County Federation of Agriculture, which in turn receive assistance from the Ontario Folk School Council, whose membership comprises representatives from various organizations such as the Canadian Association for Adult Education, the United Co-operatives of Ontario, and the Ontario Farm Radio Forum.

One of these schools, planned for Easter week, is being held at Sky Loft Lodge in the Dagmar hills of Ontario county, about eight miles north-west of Brooklin and six miles south of Uxbridge.

The school is a joint project of the Durham and Ontario Federations of Agriculture, who are hoping to enlist the interest and attendance of approximately thirty young people in the 18-25 age group. It will be conducted by Ray Hergott, fieldman of the Ontario Folk School Council, assisted by various leaders resident in the two counties, as well as executives of various farm, co-operative, and adult education organizations.

Opens March 29

Tentative plans for each day include the following activities:

Thursday, March 29th, the school will open for registrations at 1.30 p.m. Since students may be arriving at various times, the first afternoon will be an informal, get-acquainted period, with instruction in some of the handcrafts by Edward Pegg, of the Ontario College of Art, Toronto. In the evening, Ray Hergott will speak on the History and Basic Philosophy of the Folk Schools, and will conduct a recreation period from 8.30 to 10 p.m.

On Friday, five study and discussion periods will be conducted by various leaders, and will include the following topics: Philosophy of the Soil, Philosophy of the Forests, Basic Principles of the Co-operative Movement, The Purpose and Program of the Federation of Agriculture, and the Farm Radio Forum. A two-hour handcraft period conducted by Edward Pegg will provide a change of interest and activity in the afternoon, and the time from 8.30 to 10 p.m. will be enlivened by folk dancing.

Rural Community Value

On Saturday, the lectures and discussions will be devoted to consideration of the value of the rural community, democracy in action at the community level, and Canadian culture. A handcraft period, and recreation will occupy the usual places in the daily program.

For Sunday, the students, leaders and guests will attend the morning service of worship at Greenwood United Church, or any of the nearby churches as they may prefer. During the day, three leaders will speak on the Appreciation of Music, Art and Literature.

Supper will be served about 5.30 p.m. after which the closing exercises will be held, and the school concluded.

treatment that was adopted last year was generally approved in discussion, but there was some objection to the use of a cold water spray.

GET 1953 MATCH

In the councils of the International Plowing Match they think and plan in terms of years. And so the 1953 match is conclusively scheduled with Northumberland-Durham association as hosts. Location will probably be on No. 2 Highway in Durham.

The ND delegation to the provincial convention in Toronto distributed some bushels of apples to emphasize their invitation.

Their case was presented by United Counties talent, William Allin, Newcastle, local president; Hon. W. A. Goodfellow of Codrington; W. A. Monroe, mayor of Port Hope; Ollie Taylor, president of Cobourg chamber of commerce; Earl Drope, Harwood, president of Northumberland Federation of Agriculture.

L. V. Winslow, Millbrook, director and past president of the OPA; Ralph Banbury, agricultural representative in Northumberland, and Ed. A. Summers, agricultural representative in Durham.

AYRSHIRE BREEDERS MEET

Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association approved at its Montreal convention an executive recommendation that notice be given of intention of withdrawing from the Canadian National Live Stock Records, and setting up its own system of registration and records. Until the association is ready to assume this work, the Records Office will continue to act for the breed.

By a vote of 132 to 67, the members decided to retain their headquarters in Ottawa. Directors were authorized to continue plans for a head office building. J. Douglas Hyde, of Dundas, was elected president.

Reports showed new high records: membership 2,515; registrations 13,567; transfers 11,296; exports 2,535; revenue $65,549.

EGG STORAGE DECLINING

Not more than 250,000 cases of eggs will be stored this spring for summer and autumn marketing. This estimate by the Canadian Poultry Council is 200,000 cases fewer than last year.

A serious shortage in the autumn, unless the downward trend is helted, was the warning of Eric Armstrong of Hamilton, secretary-treasurer of the council. He urged all provincial industry committees to make a concerted effort to bring 12 to 15 per cent more hens into production.

Present supplies were regarded as ample at moderate prices.

✦ ✦ ✦

TOBACCO FARMS

The tobacco belt may be expanded in the Ponytpool area of Durham. Some 1,500 acres have been diverted from grain and feed crops. Tobacco interests are reported to have bought recently the farms of Mr. Vandam, Robert Moore, Mr. Mortem, George Brown, Mike Muren and the Kinsmen farm. Neil Curtis is also reported planting tobacco on his own farm.

FAVOR FOOD BANK

Scotch Line Forum in the Roseneath area endorsed the world food bank proposed in last Monday's broadcast. The members met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gallagher. Their hosts next Monday will be Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thackeray. In the recreation period euchre prizes were won by Mrs. Harold George and Clarke Sandercock.

EXPENSE ITEM OF $30.65

Local Federation of Agriculture's series of luncheon meetings in 1950 cost the association only $30.65 as shown in the financial report reviewed at the annual meeting this week. W. W. Dawson, president, mentioned this item as information of the members. It was the total of the expense accounts of several of the guest speakers. Those luncheons merited larger attendance than most of thm attracted.

Don Milburn Offers Junior Opinion of "Ex" Programs

Don Milburn of Smith received wide Canadian Press publicity on his address last week at the convention of the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies on the subject of the junior department of fairs in particular, and exhibition programs in general.

"Many people realize that our fairs are approaching the crossroads, whether to go on with a system which more and more leads to an exhibition of professional exhibitors only, supported financially by an extravaganza of midway and amusement activities, or a diversified type of program which, recognizing the changes in agriculture and industry alike, is ready to meet the needs and interests of rural and urban people."

Competitions in judging classes of livestock have been a feature of the junior department of fairs and exhibitions since their inception 20 years ago. They have served a practical purpose, Mr. Milburn said, "acquainting all those who participate with the characteristics necessary for quality livestock."

"This type of program is carried on still in the same manner, but a number of people believe that, although livestock is very important, there are features of modern agriculture which should receive consideration."

During those 20 years great changes have taken place, mechanization of agriculture has come, and its whole economic structure is changed.

"It seems to many that too much of the limited time of the day's program is spent trying to decide which is the better of two very good Holstein cows without knowing about their milk record and butterfat test, or trying to judge the difference between several highly-fitted beef cattle which, although it seems necessary that they are that way for present show-ring standards, are not in condition which is practical for the ordinary farms throughout the country."

Many young people when they approach the horse class in the judging competition find that they are required to judge something of which they know very little, for in these times as most of us know, and a few of us admit, the horse has moved from a position of prime importance in the past 20 years to a relatively minor one on the majority of modern farms.

And, above all, it is very difficult for many of these young men to understand how, in these senior exhibitions, the horse still commands approximately the same percentage of the prize list as it did 50 years ago.

Thus, youth is demanding changes, as it has done in every generation. They are not asking for discontinuance of the judging competitions, but rather a balance of program which brings to the attention not only of the participant but of the bystander as well some of the other features of present day farming.

Mr. Milburn described some of the interesting innovations adopted in junior departments of fairs, including the agricultural quiz that has been developed in that branch of Peterborough Exhibition. That was the particular subject which he dealt with as a junior executive, but otherwise he expressed the doubts and dissatisfaction of Juniors with details of senior programs that have been continued from year to year by exhibition boards without sharp questioning of their value to agriculture of Ontario.

At the close he said: "Youth today is responsible for the progress of exhibitions over the next 25 years. Let us work and prepare ourselves for the opportunities of development which indeed are great."

Reuther Pledges Living Cost Battle

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP) Walter P. Reuther, head of the Auto Workers' Union (CIO) Thursday night telegraphed 22 major auto, aircraft and farm equipment companies that the union is prepared to use its "full strength" to preserve cost-of-living wage adjustments in its five-year contracts.

Reuther, saying the companies employ more than 1,000,000 workers, advised these companies that the wage stabilization board was about to issue a new wage order, the provisions of which were uncertain.

Reuther's telegram was sent out as the wage stabilization board met to try to break the deadlock over the wage thaw pattern.

Arms-Maker Krupp To Get Hero's Salute After Jail

By JOHN BARTLETT
(Special copyright dispatch from Frankfurt to the Peterborough Examiner)

When Alfried Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach released from prison and resting now in the Bavarian Alps, returns to Essen in a few weeks' time, he will have a hero's welcome. The entire town is waiting for him. So also is a vast inheritance—a business that employs 60,000 people in 90 financially-related enterprises scattered all over Western Germany. The Krupp industrial empire is based on great coal, iron and steel firms. It ranges from insurance to shipbuilding. The total value of the plants is estimated at one and a third billion Deutsche marks and the net book value at 276 million Deutsche marks. Losses through bombing and dismantling have been put at 297 million Deutsche marks.

Krupp's final share of this is still undetermined. It will depend on the long-delayed implementation of the Allied deconcentration and decartelisation law No. 27. It is guessed that the Rheinhausen steel plant, 30 miles from Essen, with a wire producing plant, an engineering plant and a construction company, will be retained as one unit, and that the rest of the separate properties will have to be disposed of, so that they will be legally and financially divorced from the Krupp combine.

Allied Trustees

At present there is a six-man board of directors for Krupps, appointed by the Allies and acting as trustees for the owners. They are all men formerly associated with Krupp, but unlike him and some of his colleagues in the company, were not convicted as war criminals or Nazis.

Around the Krupp works at Essen eight factories are working, with 10,000 employees. In the old days 200,000 were employed there. The main plants have been one-third bombed and one-third dismantle. Russia got an entire steel plant. The trustees complain that their patents have been taken from them, and assert that the United States has been selling them for a dollar apiece.

400 Million Capital

The nominal capitalisation of the Krupp works is 400 million Deutsche marks. They have a pig-iron producing capacity of 1,500,000 tons a year, or 11 per cent of Germany's total capacity; steel capacity of 1,400,000 tons, or 10 per cent of Western Germany's total; rolling mill products output of 812,000 tons, or 8 per cent of the German total, and coal production of 5,000,000 tons, or five per cent of the total. The complex includes the locomotive works at Essen, wire production plant at Hamm, bridge-building and construction plant at Rheinhausen, steel processing at Dusseldorf, four coal mines, five iron ore mines, an insurance company, five housing companies, two shipbuilding companies, a chemical company, a transport company, eight coal trading companies, two ore trading companies, a cement trading company, fourteen iron and steel trading companies, twelve miscellaneous production companies, and the great Krupp truck manufacturing company.

The Krupp truck company, like its owner, has had to move about a little. During the war it was moved from Essen to France to make its products handier for the Wehrmacht, as well as to take advantage of local opportunities. The company was moved to Bavaria when the Allies put the Wehrmacht in reverse, and now it is planned soon to return it to Essen, where it wil undoubtedly be welcomed by 5,000 unemployed.

The Krupp trustees are proud of their reconstruction of the locomotive plant out of a sea of twisted steel and rubble left by Allied bombing. The plant is building 100 locomotives each for South Africa and Indonesia. It will take nine months to fulfil the orders, which compares favorably with the pre-war rate of a locomotive a day.

150 Year Old Empire

Founded a little over 150 years ago by Alfried's great-great-grandfather Friedrich, and raised to eminence as the premier armaments factory in Europe by his great-grandfather Alfred and grandfather Friedrich Alfred, the Krupp firm was turned from a stock company into a family enterprise by a special decree of Adolf Hitler in 1943, known as Lex Krupp. The Krupp insignia of three seamless wheels derives from the invention of a seamless wheel by Alfred Krupp. A high point frequently recalled by Krupp managers is the exhibition in London in 1851 of the biggest steel block smelted in one piece up to that time.

Krupps always has enjoyed a good reputation in Germany for its "social outlook." Social security at Krupps today is little different from that at other enterprises, but the firm still benefits by having pioneered in that field. There are about 15,000 pensioners at Krupps, including 600 who live free of rent. The credit for this goes to Krupp as though he was paying for it out of a personal expense account. The adulation of the family, and the respect that is felt for the power it wields, were evident at once when Alfried was released.

Cabinet Quickly Rejects Plan For Compulsory Reserve Training

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 — (CP). — In less than a minute, the Cabinet Thursday night rejected) compulsory military training in the reserve forces for home defence.

The rejection came from Defence Minister Claxton late in a Commons debate which produced a split in the Progressive Conservative ranks over the controversial issue.

Members of all four parties, half a dozen of them decorated for gallantry on foreign battlefields, spoke on a motion criticizing the government for not introducing compulsory part-time service in the reserve forces for home defence.

Some of them were for it, some against, but Mr. Claxton's brief statement removed the last doubt that the motion—a sub-amendment to the Throne Speech enunciating government policy—will go down to defeat if and when it reaches a vote. That vote may come today.

Mr. Claxton arose shortly before the 11 o'clock adjournment to say that for reasons already sufficiently explained by members on both sides of the House the government feels the motion is unacceptable. It was proposed by the 10-man Social Credit Party.

Those reasons include contentions that there aren't enough facilities to train the men; that it would be an inefficient use of manpower; that it would be an unfair system.

Listens To Debate

Prime Minister St. Laurent listened to the debate through much of the day. He already has said that the government will introduce conscription if and when it is deemed the most effective way to defend the country.

The motion has plunged the House into its first major debate on this topic, and this fact brought from Howard Green (PC-Vancouver-Quadra) the comment that it is far better to discuss it dispassionately now than with rancor and bitterness after war starts.

Mr. Green, a major in the First War, was one of two members of the 43-member official Opposition to speak out against the Progressive Conservative stand, expressed the previous day by the party's official military spokesman, Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearks (PC-Nanaimo).

Mr. Green and Douglas Harkness (PC-Calgary East, a George Cross winner in the Second World War and an artillery lieutenant-colonel, both announced they are going to support the motion.

Make It Plain

Liberal speakers left no doubt where their party stood on the motion. George Cruickshank (L-Fraser Valley), combat veteran of the First World War, reiterated his stand for compulsory training in the reserve forces but said he could not support the Social Crediters because their motion would once again lead to a "zombie" home army.

For a third party Claire Gillis (CCF-Cape Breton South) and O. L. Jones (CCF-Yale) both came out against the motion on the grounds that Canada has not the facilities to fulfil it and that it would be a wasteful use of men.

The Social Credit Party put Victor Quelch (SC-Acadia), C. E. Johnson (SC-Bow River), and H. H. W. Beyerstein (SC-Camrose) forward to champion their policy, and all contended it is the logical step to be taken at a time of vital importance for the defence of the country.

Drain Off Manpower

Gen. Pearkes said compulsory training in the reserves—originally advocated by the Canadian Legion—would drain off manpower needed elsewhere and could not be effected because of lack of facilities. His stand was supported Thursday by J. A. Ross (PC—Souris), a one-time lieutenant-colonel.

Mr. Green said the reserve army establishment announced by cabinet in 1945 calls for 150,000 men or 100,000 more than now. That many men should be obtained by a system of lots as part of a system of selective service that would guarantee enough men for defence industry too.

He said the voluntary system of enlistment has been discredited and that there is no time to be lost in implementation of selective service, preceded by national registration.

Col. Harkness, a veteran of the Second World War, said that any objections to compulsory training could be overcome if there was a will to do so. As early as three years ago he had called for compulsory training in the reserve forces and the need for such training had only increased since then.

Mentions Arguments

Without referring to Gen. Pearkes by name he mentioned some of the arguments advanced by his party colleague against compulsory training. Gen. Pearkes had said that a compulsory scheme would lull the people into a false sense of security and would necessitate the drawing of large numbers of instructors from the active army.

Col. Harkness said the people can have no feeling of security now because there is nothing to provide for it. The reserves would provide the framework on which to mobilize in the event of war. The reserves had enough officers of their own and would not need to draw any instructors from the active force.

Mr. Gillis asked members to consider what the position would be if the government was forced to adopt conscription at this time. In the first call-up of 18 and 19-year-olds possibly 100,000 men would be raised. But they would have to come from the farms and from industries where they could not be spared because this country "has not that kind of manpower."

Stick to Arms

The main danger of war, he said, is in Europe. They had manpower there but had no equipment. He believed Canada's best contribution at this time would be the arming of allies who could not arm themselves.

J. W. G. Hunter (L-Toronto Parkdale), a Lieutenant-Colonel said war has become such a complex business that only full-time training is worth while. As one who commanded a reserve unit for two years after war, he said the reserve army was never designed for compulsory service.

Mr. Hunter said the reserve army was never designed for compulsory training. He wondered how any one could become a soldier by training one or two nights a week. It took at least six full months to train a man to fight.

PCVS TEACHERS tied the PCVS students from Technical Grade 12 and Household Grade 12 four-all Thursday afternoon at the Civic arena in the first annual teachers-students hockey game. Goal Tending of Teacher Highlights Hockey Game

A desperate last-minute drive by the PCVS students gave them an even break with the teachers Thursday at the Civic Arena in the first annual teacher-student hockey game. They rattled in two goals in the last four minutes for a four-all tie before nearly 1,000 students.

Stellar goal tending by the rival goalies was the game highlight. Herb Panter between the pipes for the students, from Technical 12, saved the pupils with his kicking and catching in the second period. Zolton Temesy, first in the nets for the teachers, robbed Eric McCue several times in the first period. Al MacQuarrie replaced Temesy in the second and proved to be the most colorful player on the team, sliding, kicking and catching the puck.

Few Accidents

Except for bruises mainly suffered by the teachers who were bounced rather roughly against the boards, the only accident happened before the game started. Al MacQuarrie was tapped on the forehead with a stick in the teachers' dressing room. He wore a tape cross over the cut throughout the game. Howard "Pop" Moebus limped off late in the game hit on the ankle with a sizzling drive.

Miss Helen Wilson for the teachers showed her female rivals how hockey should be played. A former girl hockeyist while at university, she flashed around the ice with some ideas of what hockey is all about. She was teamed with Miss Doreen Pemberton and Miss Eva Scott. Representatives of the girl students were Eleanor White, Anne LaPointe and Agnes Doris.

"Ringer" For Teacher

Teachers dropped a "ringer" into the game in the form of part time student Clare Ferguson, and his youthful energy brought out the hidden hockey talent in his team mates. Zolton Temesy, Harry Collingwood, Jack Cullis and J. M. Prideau surprised the students when they showed flashes of former hockey days. James McNabb and Howard Moebus provided the laughs for the game with their good-humored plays.

Ferguson on a solo effort put the teachers one up early in the first period only to have Norm Hayward slam home a loose puck for the students. Buckton outguessed his checks and broke into the clear for the students to finish the first scoring. Zolton Temesy grabbed a loose puck in the corner in the second period and flipped it into the nets' corner to tie the score.

A neat passing play in the third featuring Prideau and Ferguson ended in Prideau scoring a rebound to send the teachers up 3-2. Minutes later Cullis scored from a scramble in front of the net.

Jim Galoska backhanded a hard drive from 20 feet out with less than four minutes to go and made the score 4-3. Ab Buckton drove in the final tally for the students while goalie Al MacQuarrie was on his knees out of the net.

Lineups:

Students—Goal, Panter, defence Galoska, Mongraw; centre, Buckton; wings, Strickland, Payne; alternates, Smith, Mather, McCue, Lindsay, Hayward, Fowler, Strode, White, Doris, LaPointe.

Teachers — Goal, MacQuarrie; defence, Temesy, Moebus; centre, Prideau; wings, Collingwood, Cullis; alternates, McNabb, Ferguson, Scott, Pemberton, Wilson.

GEELONG, Australia, Feb. 16—(Reuters)—Victoria County today plodded through intense heat to amass 201 runs for five wickets as a two-day cricket match opened against the touring English team.

Play was dull, with England's bowlers getting no help from the sun-baked pitch, and the close-of-play score left little hope for any result but an incomplete draw.

Brightest incident was the heckling by a spectator of John Dewes, youthful English fielder. Attendants removed the heckler.

Urge 7½% Increase For CPA Captains

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 (CP) — A majority conciliation report has recommended a 7½ per cent increase in basic salaries for captains on domestic runs on Canadian Pacific Air Lines, it was announced Thursday.

The report follows a six-month labor dispute between the air lines, which fly across the Pacific Ocean and on some domestic runs, and its ships crews, represented by the Canadian Air Line Pilots Association.

A minority report, representing the views of the association, urged adoption of salary and working conditions which now prevail in the Trans-Canada Air Line Service.

Eisenhower made the statement on the run as he boarded the liner Queen Elizabeth shortly after midnight for the trip to his headquarters in France.

The general told reporters he would not be interviewed, commenting "I had my say in Washington," but added:

"Now we go back to Europe again. It's four firm hope that our job over there will be done soon and we can get back to our country.

"We really believe that if we all do our jobs . . . the job will be done promptly."

"The free nations must stick together and establish the fact that we can live together in peace and confidence.

Suggest Using Food Lockers To Freeze Sandwiches, Cakes

By KAY REX

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 — (CP) — Let's take a look at those half-empty food lockers, and a second glance at the food budget.

At this time of year most of the vegetables and fruit stored last summer have been consumed. "Waste" space is left.

And we mean that literally. Waste. Because that space costs money. Lockers are paid for by the year—so why leave them half empty?

This is one problem for which home economists of the consumer section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, are trying to find a solution.

And they've come up with some encouraging results.

Sandwiches can be kept frozen for months on end. Cakes also can be frozen, coming out as delicious as the day they were put in.

This news should be cheerful to the ear of the housewife who must count lunch-box packing among her daily chores.

It means she can pack enough lunches to last a month, putting them in the freezer until needed.

Best Fillings

Leftover meat, fish and peanut-butter are the best fillings for sandwiches which are to be frozen. Lettuce, tomatoes and hard-cooked eggs should be avoided as they do not keep well. Mayonnaise should not be used as a spread as it tends to make the bread soggy under freezing.

Cooked food to be frozen must be wrapped carefully in moisture and vapor-proof paper.

The experts say bread also stands up well under freezing. In the near future they hope to look into the possibility of freezing such goodies as angel-cakes, cookies, rolls and pies.

So far the results they have obtained are encouraging.

Powdered Milk Tests

Home economists of the consumer section have another project on the way—studying properties of the powdered skimmed milk now being sold in most grocery-stores.

"As far as food value is concerned this skimmed milk has all the calcium of ordinary milk—in fact it has everything except the butterfat," said one of the home economists. "We are checking the various types of powdered milk to see how they react."

The experts have found several of the companies manufacturing this powdered milk are giving American measures in their reconstitution directions.

They warn that an American quart equals 32 ounces while a Canadian quart equals 40 ounces—better remember that next time you use a recipe from a United States cook-book.

The home economists are trying to find out whether adding more of this powdered skimmed milk to a food will put more calcium into the diet.

They also are anxious to find out whether it must be mixed with water before it can be used to replace milk in baking.

"We've tried it in custards and found it better than when it was reconstituted," said one of the cooking experts.

In their experiments the home economists have been using the dried milk in everything from puddings to gravies—and so far have found it satisfactory.

LADYLIKE, pretty pumps are right with 1951 spring fashions. The flat beige linen pump (upper left) has black patent heel and binding. A purple calf pump (lower left) has narrow self strips across a V throat. The strips terminate in small, round jet buttons. A grey patent pump (centre) with pointed toe and squared-off heel is worn with grey flannel sheath and matching coat, straw bonnet with velvet ribbons. Dressy pump (upper right) is beige silk shantung with white embroidery. Suit pump (lower right) is navy blue calf with medium heel and perforated vamp.

New Pumps Trim, Ladylike

NEW YORK —(NEA)— Light and ladylike shoes with a trimmed-down, slim look are the ideal companions for spring fashions. The sheath, for example, looks best with Paris-inspired pumps, those with pointed toes and thin, high heels. And certainly, the pump in its many variations is the most universally flattering shoe.

The woman who finds the pump her pet shoe may, without difficulty, assemble an entire wardrobe of pumps this spring. She might start with a beige linen flat with a shallow black patent leather heel and black patent top binding. This shoe could easily take her neatly and comfortably on shopping tours, out walking, see her to spectator sports.

Her next choice might be a navy calf suit pump with medium heel and slim lines, its vamp perforated for prettiness. A closed shoe, it will look right with suits and with tailored dresses, too.

She can get a flattering high heel into her wardrobe and, at the same time, introduce a flash of color via a purple calf pump with narrow self strips across a V throat. These strips terminate in the shoe's only trim, small shiny jet buttons. This is a shoe for suits and for afternoon dresses.

For very high style, for grace with gray in any form, and for fun, she might then add a simple but sophisticated gray patent pump with a pointed toe, squared heel, slim lines.

The final touch could come in very dressy pumps in beige silk shantung embroidered in white. Lovely in its pale, subtle colors, this shoe is right with understated clothes for after five.

Worked On Pioneer Farm Like a Man Woman Relates on 91st Birthday

An Examiner reporter called on Mrs. Ellen Conroy at her home on the 8th Concession of Otonabee township on Thursday afternoon. It was her 91st birthday.

"Young man," she warned at the door, "I've paid up my newspaper subscription for the next year."

"But I want to talk to you about your birthday," said the reporter. And that put an entirely different face on the reason for the call.

Mrs. Conroy was as sharp as a tack. She continued sewing on a patchwork quilt during the interview, and reviewed her long busy life with many facets of good Irish humour.

Born on the boundary line (Otonabee-Douro), she was the eldest daughter of Patrick Heffernan and Elizabeth Slattery and is now the only living member of a family of nine children.

She was married to Patrick Conroy at St. Joseph's church, Douor, by the late Rev. Daniel O'Connell and raised 13 children. It was a hard life, she said, but her husband, who died 12 years ago, was a "sociable man" and together with their large family and numerous friends, there was no lack of mighty fine gatherings.

"I worked on the farm like a man," she said, "and did everything but cradling."

The reporter was a bit nonplussed at this coming from a woman who had raised 13 children until she explained that she referred to cutting grain in the pioneer fashion. Mrs. Conroy still likes to be outside around the barns and her garden and potted plants on her living room window sills, revealed her love of growing things.

Four daughters and a son are still living. They are Mrs. Timothy Garvey (Elizabeth), Mrs. Loretta Allan and Mrs. Thomas O'Connor (Pearl), all of Peterborough, and Mrs. Gregory Thomas (Carrie) and a son James, both of Victoria.

"Are not prices awful now?" she asked. "I used to sell eggs for seven cents a dozen and butter for 15 cents a pound. And made a bit of profit, too."

Mrs. Conroy has a family living in part of her home now and finds them good company. A birthday party was not planned for her but she said, regardless of that, everyone was very kind to her. The reporter left her waving at the open doorway in the cold February sunshine with her throaty chuckles ringing in his ears. He could not help but think that it really took something to be bright, happy and busy at 91. Her Irish ancestry, no doubt.

NO BIRTHDAY PARTY was held for Mrs. Ellen Conroy of the 8th Concession of Otonabee Township on Thursday. She was 91. —Examiner Staff Photo

Mrs. A. Gynane and Mrs. E. Prüner were appointed to wrap and send Easter parcels to nine boys at Gravenhurst hospital. These boys have no relatives in Canada. Hall as convener, served delightful refreshments.

DOROTHY DIX

Long Engagement Burden For Boy Starting College

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: I am very much in love with a girl and think she loves me. However, nothing has been said about love as I have four years of schooling ahead of me. My friend says that I should tell her how I feel about her, but I think it would not be fair to ask her to wait that long for me, especially as we shall be separated for three of the four years. I feel that in that time either she or I might change our minds and we would be bound by a promise if we became engaged now. What do you think about this?

A STUDENT.

ANSWER: I think you are taking the wise course and one that will make for the happiness of both you and the girl. Any young man who starts off for a long term in college burdened with a long engagement lays a heavy handicap upon himself and so jeopardizes the girl's future.

If college does anything for a man it changes him. It educates, broadens, refines him. It changes his tastes, his habits, his outlook on life. He is thrown with different people from the ones with whom he has been accustomed to associate. He meets a different type of girl from the ones he went with at home.

Outgrows Girl

Oftener than not, when the boy who has been away four years at college returns to the girl he left behind him he finds that he doesn't want her at all. He has outgrown her. His taste has changed. But if she has waited for him and been faithful to him he hasn't the heart to break her clinging arms away from him and refuse to marry her.

And no marriages are more miserable than those entered into from a sense of duty and because a man feels in honor bound to marry a girl of whom he has grown tired. Such a husband always feels that his wife has forced him into marrying her and unless he is of a singularly noble character he takes it out upon her in neglect and surliness. It is far better when a man cannot ask a girl to marry him to leave her free if they must be separated for a long time. Then he is not keeping her from making a marriage if some man she fancies comes along. Nor does he obligate himself to marry her if his taste in woman changes. If they both really love each other their affection will survive and their marriage will be one of volition and not compulsion.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Does a girl have to live a loose life in these days in order to get married? I am nearly 30. I have kept myself pure, as the phrase goes, but am still unmarried, while most of my friends who defied the conventions have husbands. I have had the admiration of many men, but I have never had marriage offered me. Is it silly for a girl of my age to hold to principles that seem to net her nothing?

PUZZLED.

ANSWER: You must live in a community in which the moral standards are unusually low if only soiled doves flutter to the altar and where men prefer wives with bedraggled skirts to those who come to them clean.

You say that in your community loose living helps a girl to get a husband, but do you suppose that many such marriages are happy? If you do, I wish that you could read some of the letters that come to me on the subject. Women write me that, although their husbands "forgave" them before marriage, after marriage they throw up their pasts to them in every quarrel between them. And men write that, although they believe that they were their wives' only lovers before marriage and that although their wives have been true to them, so far as they know, they feel that they can never trust them.

Always in their minds is the thought that the woman who was weak enough to yield to temptation once would do so again, and that the woman who had not enough moral principle to hold her straight would always go crooked under provocation. So you see the marriages you envy have little in them to envy, if you knew all.

Anyway, it seems to me that virtue is not a matter of expediency but of right and wrong, and that if you have to lower your ideals to get a husband you are better off without one. You can pay too high a price for a wedding ring.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am the wife of the principal of a rural high school. It is his one ambition to get a city school, but his one big drawback is his personal appearance, which is extremely slovenly. He thinks that it is just foolishness about having on a clean shirt, or his clothes pressed, or his hair cut, or his shoes shined, or to have good manners. When I try to make him be neat he calls it nagging and it makes him angry. What must I do?

WORRIED WIRE.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I doubt if a sloven, either male or female, was ever cured of slovenliness. But one thing is sure. Unless your husband cures himself of the habit of looking like something the cat brought in he will never in the world get a job as principal of a city school. For neatness is one of the things that they try to impress most on children, and how can they do that if Teacher is one of the great unwashed?

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Boiling the Milk First For Scalloped Potatoes

The controversy over the curdle-ability of the milk in scalloped potatoes is simmering still. This has been going on for three months now...

...and between Marianne and me we think we have licked it by actually boiling the milk first.

We do not claim this to be a new idea, but want to stress the necessity of actually boiling the milk. Naturally it must be watched or it will boil over in one unwatched moment.

We have made eight casseroles of scalloped potatoes acording to the following rule and not one has curdled:

Emem's Scalloped (uncurdled) Potatoes

Exact amounts do not matter for once. Wash, pare and slice potatoes into buttered casserole. Have ready at hand boiled, hot milk. As you slice about two potatoes pour some of boiled milk over them to keep them white; also sprinkle sparingly with salt and white pepper. Continue slicing, pouring over boiled milk to cover, and sprinkling with salt and pepper, until you have enough potatoes for your family. The milk should barely cover them when you are finished. Finish top with salt and pepper and dots of butter or margarine. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for one-half hour, stir them down, reduce heat to 375 deg. Fahr. until tender —about 1¼ to 1½ hours in all. There will be a small amount of liquid in the bottom of the dish, but potatoes at top will be somewhat dried out. I like it this way,

100-ACRE FARM
The best we've had yet. Fine seven-room home, spotlessly clean. Steel-roofed barn with steel stanchions and water inside, huge all-steel implement shed, hydro in all buildings. Stream through property. Silo. About 20 acres bush, rest under cultivation, some fruit trees. A wonderful buy at $9,000, about $4,000 cash will handle. Phone Mr. Houck, 8402.

DON'T BUY THIS ONE
Who cares if it's a brick home on a lot 50 x 198'? Sure it has three grand bedrooms, but who cares? You won't be interested in the fact it has a bright, modern kitchen with built-in sink, cupboards and tile floor, so we'll just skip that. We have to admit that the living-room is large, but who wants too much space? Of course Dad or Mother would rather buy coal at $27 a ton and shovel ashes so why tell you it's oil heating. The kids can play on the big lot, even though it's on a smart quiet street. We know the owner is selling this too cheap at $8,000, but that's his tough luck. No, don't pay $3,000 down and buy this or your family will enjoy too much peace and happiness. Mr. Houck at 8402 is the salesman.

$199.00 INCOME
Who wants to collect that much money every month and have two extra rooms to live in themselves? You do? Well, we have a twelve-room brick home, oil heated, oak floors and trim, insulated, heavy wiring, situated on a lot 64 x 112. The price is $13,500. North-end location. Phone Mr. Houck, 8402.

Broadway Loss On Ti-Coq $90,000

NEW YORK, Feb. 16—(CP)—Variety, the show business weekly, said today that Ti-Coq, the Canadian play which closed last week after three Broadway performances, lost about $90,000.

The play, writen and directed by Gratien Gelinas of Montreal, its leading star, opened in the Broadhurst Theatre last Friday night and closed Saturday night after adverse reviews from the critics. Ti-Coq had record-breaking runs in its French and English versions in Canada and came here after a fortnight's run in Chicago.

Variety said the three performances here grossed about $4,000, while the production represented a net loss of around $90,000.

Gelinas hoped his play would have made the grade despite the critics' panning, but he was unable to raise in time last Saturday the $50,000 needed to keep it running for another week.

Billboard, another amusement weekly, said one of the troubles with the English version stemmed from the overheavy French accents of several members of the cast.

Billions For Paint Claxton Tells Fraser

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 —(CP)—It would cost billions of dollars to paint the wooden buildings belonging to the department of national defence, Defence Minister Claxton said Thursday.

He was answering questions in the Commons by G. K. Fraser (PC—Peterborough West) who promptly told him there must be something wrong with his estimate.

Mr. Fraser asked if the department has considered use of fire-resistant paint. Mr. Claxton said it is used where economic to do so but it would cost billions to use any kind of paint on all defence buildings.

The funeral service for Mrs. William Robert Hetherington, was held Thursday at the Comstock funeral home, the Rev. C. W. Balfour officiating. Mrs. Hetherington died Tuesday. Burial was at Little Lake cemetery. Pallbearers were Orville Hetherington, Lorne Scott, Jack Milburn, Frank Smart, Kenneth Harrison and Albert Foster.

Ski Meet Set Bethany, Sunday

Ski conditions in the Peterborough area were described today as good. If the mild weather and rain hold off until Monday, the club expects to have its busiest weekend this season with two major operations on the agenda, the Saturday morning ski school at Kemp's Hill and the Southern Ontario ski meet at Bethany on Sunday.

Secretary Mary Dodds said that she expects a large entry for the club's invitation meet, downhill and slalom, for novice class "C" senior and junior women Sunday at Bethany. Hamilton, Toronto, Oshawa, Collingwood and Huntsville skiers are expected. Many skiers, said Miss Dodds, wait until the last minute to see what the ski conditions will be like before entering.

Fundamentals of skiing will be the main subject at the ski school's third class on Saturday morning at Kemp's Hill. Another slalom course will be set up and competitions may be held among the better skiers.

The provincial travel department reports that conditions are generally good. Excellent conditions are reported at Fort William, Port Arthur, Haileybury, Haliburton, Midland and Sundridge. Good conditions prevail at Barrie, Collingwood, Havelock, Cobourg, Flesherton and Markdale. Dagmar is only fair and poor surfaces are at Orangeville and Toronto Summit.

Skiers will become dancers Saturday night. At the Kawartha Golf and Country Club the ski patrol of the Peterborough club is holding a dance for club members, their friends and out-of-town skiers. Proceeds are for supplies for the patrol.

Offer Teachers $300 Increase

LINDSAY, Feb. 16—A salary increase of $300 will be paid to high school teachers in Victoria county if the teachers' association will accept this offer. The teachers had asked for a $500 increase.

The matter of salary changes was broached when the newly-formed high school board was asked to consider the cost-of-living bonus being paid to teachers by the now-defunct Lindsay Board of Education.

The teachers asked that any such bonus be incorporated into the salary in order that their superannuation fund would get the benefit of the increased income.

Salaries of the principals in Little Britain, Bobcaygeon and Woodville will be equalized at $2,900. Minnimum salary in this district will be $2,400. This salary will apply to all secondary schools in the area and to both men and women teachers.

All increases will be retroactive to January 1.

Up Five Months House Razed

LINDSAY, Feb. 16—The home of Edwin Ashby, 85, of the 14th concession of Mariposa, lost all destroyed in a flash fire that burned the house to the ground on Tuesday morning. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Mr. Ashby had been inside the house just before the outbreak of the fire and did not see any flames.

When the fire broke out, an alarm was raised and a crowd of neighbors arrived at the scene. The Woodville fire brigade was summoned but was unable to control the flames. The house had only been erected for five months.

Mrs. Ashby, who is a patient in Little Britain hospital was not at home when the house caught fire.

Mrs. R. Cassidy

The funeral for Mrs. Robert Cassidy, the former Elizabeth Ann Cassidy of R.R. 2, Lakefield, who died Tuesday, was held at the home of Cecil Bateman, Springbrook.

The Rev. Beare of Springbrook United church, and Mr. George Dyson of Warsaw United church, conducted the service.

Pallbearers were Edward Hamblin, George Thompson, Phillip Bauderie, Hiram Mundy, Percy Bateman, Arnold Reid. Burial was in Mount Nebo cemetery, Springbrook.

63,133 In UK Emigrate In '50

LONDON, Feb. 16 (Reuters)—Between Jan. 1 and Nov. 30 last year, 50,519 British men, women and children emigrated by sea to Australia. In the same period 12,614 went to Canada.

Prime Minister Attlee gave these figures in a parliamentary answer Thursday.

Lady Tweedsmuir, Conservative, said that of the 150,000 expected to emigrate this year to Canada only 60,000 would be of British stock.

As Canada was most anxious to have British people and many were willing to go, would the Prime Minister reconsider the fiancial restrictions? she asked.

Attlee replied that that was another question.

Up To MacArthur

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—President Truman said Thursday United Nations troops still have UN permission to cross the 38th Parallel in Korea. Whether they do it is a matter of strategy in the hands of Gen. MacArthur, he told questioners. The subject, a touchy one among United States Allies abroad, was raised by reporters at Truman's weekly press conference.

Avoid Night Sittings

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP) — Because of the threat of an influenza epidemic among members, the Ontario Legislature will try to avoid night sittings, Premier Frost said Thursday. "Members who work all day, plus evenings, become subjects for influenza," he told the members. "Our advice is to go to bed early."

Urge Chevrier Speed Box Cars

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (CP)—The Canadian Industrial Traffic League Thursday urged Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier to help speed the return of Canadian railway box cars from the United States.

The league, whose members are the traffic managers of some 400 Canadian companies, said in a statement issued from its annual meeting that the box-car shortage is "severe" and threatens to "cripple the operations" of many industries.

"In some cases shutdowns, particularly in the paper and flour-milling industries, are possible."

Special Police Force

BONN, Germany, Feb. 16 (AP)—Creation of a 10,000-man special police force to guard Western Germany against Communist infiltration won parliamentary approval Thursday. In addition to watching against infiltration of Red agents the force will seek to halt East-West smuggling.

Urge Permanent Exile

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 16 (AP) Col. Ben C. Limb, Foreign Minister of the Republic of Korea, said Thursday Communist leaders of North Korea should be deported to Russia in permanent exile after the war instead of being hanged as war criminals. "They are not Koreans," he said. "They follow the picture of Stalin and they should go to their fatherland. We don't want them in Korea."

Boiling Milk First For Scalloped Potatoes

but if you do not, add more milk than I have suggested — boiled milk.

Scalloped Potatoes With Ham (a meat stretching dish)

One quart sliced raw or diced boiled potatoes—this is about 5½ measuring cups full; one-half pound raw or cooked smoked ham, 2 to 2½ cups hot milk or hot thin white sauce (see below), salt and pepper, mixed buttered crumbs and grated old cheese—up to 2-3 cup.

If thin white sauce is to be used melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and add 2 tablespoons flour. When blended stir in 2 or 2½ cups hot milk until thick.

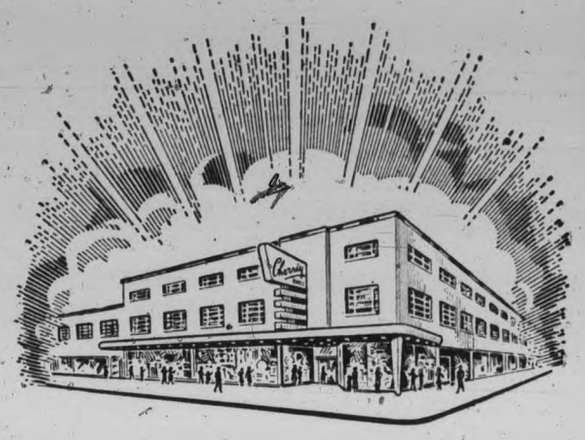
Put potatoes and ham in layers in baking dish, pour over the milk or sauce—hot, lifting the potatoes with a fork to be sure it trickles through all of the potatoes. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, then sprinkle mixed crumbs and cheese over top. Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for 1½ hours if potatoes are raw. If potatoes are precooked bake at 375 deg. Fahr. about 40 minutes—or until sauce bubbles all over and top is golden.

Scalloped Potatoes With Sausages

Make scalloped potatoes as in first recipe, but omit the butter. One-half hour before baking time is finished cover top of dish with enough pork chops or sausages to serve your family. Return dish to oven and turn on top oven for 10 minutes. Turn chops or sausages over, return to oven to finish browning and cooking. Turn off upper burner if it is burning the meat.

English Potatoes With Cheese

(for a meatless meal)



Four cups raw potato sliced very thinly, 4 tablespoons margarine, ½ to 1 cup grated cheese, ½ clove garlic chopped as finely as posible. 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Arrange in layers in baking dish, cover tightly, bake at 350 1 hour. If desired add 2 tablespoons cream. This is delicious if carrots are substituted for half of the potatoes and cheese is omitted.

Three Enemy Divisions Dent, But Fail To Turn U.N. Flank

Stalin Accusing U.S., Canada Unleashing War

MOSCOW, Feb. 17—(AP)—Prime Minister Stalin said Friday night the United States is leading the United Nations. He declared UN forces must face defeat in Korea unless Britain and the United States accept Communist China's proposals for settling Far East problems. The 71-year-old Russian leader made his first major pronouncement in two years on world affairs. Despite his talk of war, he said a third world war is not inevitable at the present time. Stalin made his views known in a long interview published by the Communist newspaper Pravda and broadcast from Moscow tonight.

Stalin assailed as shameful the UN decision to brand Communist China an aggressor. He depicted the Korean War as extremely unpopular among U.S. and British soldiers, asserting:

"It stands to reason that the most experienced generals and soldiers regard the war imposed upon them as profoundly unjust. . . . It is difficult to convince the soldiers that the United States of America is entitled to defend its security on the territory of Korea and at the frontiers of China."

Defeat Certain

Pravda said it asked Stalin how the Korean War would end, and that he replied:

"If Britain and the United States reject finally the proposals made by the People's Government of China, the war in Korea can only end in a defeat of the internationalists."

The proposals he referred to apparently are the demands of Communist China that the UN forces withdraw from Korea, that Communist China be admitted to the UN and that U.S. forces withdraw from the Formosa area.

On the broad subject of the UN, Stalin declared its "aggressive core" is 10 countries of the North Atlantic Pact, led by the U.S., and 20 Latin American countries.

"The representatives of these countries now decide the fate of war and peace in the UN," Stalin said. "It was they who carried in the UN the shameful decision on the aggressiveness of the Chinese people's republic.

"Being turned into a tool of aggressive war, the UN organization is at the same time ceasing to be a world organization of nations enjoying equal rights. The UN organization is now not so much a world organization as an organization for the Americans, an organization acting on behalf of the American aggressors.

Blames Canada

"Not only the U.S. and Canada are striving to unleash a new war. The same stand has also been taken by 20 Latin American countries, the landowners and business men of which are craving for a new war somewhere in Europe or Asia in order to sell goods to the belligerent countries. . .

"The UN organization is therefore taking the inglorious road of the League of Nations. In this way it is burying its moral prestige and dooming itself to disintegration."

5 Girls Excused From School Following Trial

KITCHENER, Feb. 17 (CP)—Five girls aged 12 to 14 years involved in morals charges with Kitchener youths and men Friday were banned temporarily by the Public School Board from attending publiic schools.

Board members decided that the girls will be "excused" from classes until their future is determined.

Earlier Friday, nine youths were sentenced to six months' imprisonment and 10 strokes of the strap for offences against young girls.

To prevent the juveniles' names from becoming public, Magistrate Kirkpatrick warned newspapermen against writing anything contrary to regulation's pertaining to juvenile court.

The court recorded the name of each newspaperman present and the magistrate asked that his warning be noted in the court record.

Inspector's Advice

The school board acted on the advice of Inspector Russell M. Buie who was responsible for removing the girls from their schools. The board commended him.

It was disclosed that the inspector had telephoned the mother of each child involved and suggested that for the mental peace of the girls it would be advisable to keep her out of school for the present.

Temporary Removal

The school board "excused" rather than "suspended" the girls, it was stated later. Their removal is said to be temporary pending outcome of the cases.

The girls' school behavior was normal, and their attendance record was good, Inspector Buie said. In one instance attendance was perfect.

The girls attend different schools, he said, but "this type get together no matter where they're located."

More Fluorine May Be Used

BRANTFORD, Feb. 17 (CP).—Several Ontario communities may follow Brantford's lead and add fluorine to drinking water to combat tooth decay.

This was made known Friday night at a meeting of the Brantford Fluorine Committee by Dr. A. E. Berry of the Ontario Department of Health, who said that a large number of Ontario municipalities had written to his department and had received permission to add the fluorine.

N. J. Howard, Toronto's director of water purification, said "we hope to have it" in Toronto although cost would be $140,000.

Brantford began use of fluorine in 1945. An interim report published by the Fluorine Committee says that the number of school children with perfect teeth was 10 per cent greater in 1950 than in 1945 and there was a 31 per cent reduction in the rate of occurrence of decayed, missing and filled teeth.

Claim Device Heats House By Using Water

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP).—Two Utah inventors say they have invented a device which burns ordinary water to produce heat for homes or power for industries.

George Jackson and William Daughterty, both of Salt Lake City, have applied for a patent on their process. Daugherty told a reporter Friday that experimental estimates indicated a pint of water could be used to heat a four-room house for four hours.

The patent application says water is heated, under pressure, by alcohol. Then, the inventors said, it emerges from jets, apparently broken down into the two gases—hydrogen and oxygen—which make up water. These burn at intense heat, the inventors said, and alcohol is needed only to get the progress going.

Daugherty said he could make a home-made burner for $15. It would also burn other fuels, he said, without leaving carbon deposits, oil film or making smoke.

Reds Massing 15,000 Men Near Chechon

Heavy Artillery Fire, Counter-Attacks Blunt Enemy Drive

TOKYO, Feb. 17—(AP)—Elements of three North Korean divisions today dented the Allied east flank in central Korea but failed to turn it.

Accurate artillery fire and counter-attacks blunted the force of the enemy punch, shifted eastward from bloodily-repulsed onslaughts at Chipyong and Wonju.

The smash at the east flank near the transport hub of Chechon, a mountain gateway to South Korea was the only serious enemy effort. The Reds massed 15,000 or more men in the area but a late field report said only spearheads had been committed.

Eastward on the coast, South Korean troops made a deep pull-back from the 38th Parallel to a new defence line but under no enemy pressure.

Westward for 70 miles to Seoul, there was scattered, small-scale fighting.

Around Wonju and Chipyong, where Chinese Reds suffered 22,128 casualties in four days but failed to break through, Allied patrols ranged one to more than two miles north without finding Reds.

May Try Again

The chewed-up Chinese pulled back the remnants of four divisions for regrouping, but there were signs that upwards of 150,000 Chinese Reds still might try to smash the Allied centre and imperil 100,000 United Nations troops around Seoul.

Three separate battles flared Friday night and Saturday around Chechon, 14 miles southeast of Wonju. Accurate U.N. artillery quickly broke up a Red attack at 11:40 p.m. Friday six miles northeast of Chechon.

At about the same hour, a Red regiment assaulted South Korean units 10 miles northeast of the U.S. Apologizes To Czech Gov't

PRAGUE, Feb. 17 (AP).—The United States apologized to Czechoslovakia today because American jet fighter planes inadvertently flew over Prague 10 days ago. The Czech foreign minister protested Feb. 9 that the planes had done so.

U.S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs released the text of an official note saying:

"U.S. jet aircraft inadvertently crossed the border of the U. S. zone with Czechoslovakia on Feb. 7 when they became lost on a training mission, and mistaking the Prague beacon for the Mammendorf beacon, flew to the vicinity of Prague.

"This mistake is regretted. . . Special instructions have been given to all U.S. pilots in Europe to observe utmost caution not to cross the Czech border without proper authorization by the Czechoslovakian government."

MacArthur Widens Powers Of Japanese

TOKYO, Feb. 17—(Reuters)—Gen. MacArthur today widened the powers of the Japanese government to include direct negotiations with foreign missions on a limited number of subjects, such as representatives abroad.

But Japan still is excluded from communicating directly with Russia or any other Communist country.

The Japanese government now may negotiate directly on such subjects as the protection of Japanese nationals abroad, copyright and certain other matters.

18 Air Force 'Guinea Pigs' Test Clothing In Arctic

FORT NELSON, B. C., Feb. 17 (CP).—Eighteen members of Exercise Mukluk—a test of winter clothing by personnel of the RCAF, the RAF and the USAF—left this Alaska highway point today by plane for the wind-swept wastes of Victoria Island in the Arctic.

Finding the coldest spots possible is part of the job of the Air Force "guinea pigs". The party spent two weeks in bush camps in this region. The temperature reached 49 below zero at one point, but the bush afforded some protection. On Victoria Island there are no trees or bush and the wind cuts like a knife.

At Cambridge Bay on the south shore of Victoria Island, the 12 airmen and six civilian observers will build igloos and live in them for about two weeks. Pneumatic tents also may be tested for warmth. These operate on a double-wall principle, the space between being pumped full of air.

Each Air Force section will test several types of clothing made in their own countries. The British will also test winter rations. Each man will fill out a form saying what clothing he wore, whether he was warm and, if not, why he was cold. They will also jot down the level of their morale each day.

Canadian personnel taking part in the exercises are: FO. Fred A. Moore, Trail and Victoria, B. C.; Sgt. Max Laverne Holt, Paddockwood and Nakaw, Sask.; FO. George B. Ridley, Victoria; LAC. Bill Wiltzen, Edmonton; Flt.-Lt. Scott, Alexander, Ottawa; Dr. John Huner, Toronto and Fredericton, researcher; and Dr. Thom Boag, Montreal, medical practitioner.

GRIM SCENE—This was the grim sight searchers found in the dense bush 26 miles east of Ottawa, scene of the crash of an experimental Mustang fighter plane. The searchers sort through the twisted wreckage of the plane, which was based at the National Research Council station at Arnprior, and was known as the "flying wind-tunnel." FO Jack A. Ryan, DFC, 29, of Toronto and Ottawa, was killed when the plane exploded in mid-air.

Doctors Believe Influenza Peak Reached

By The Canadian Press

Legislators, soldiers, miners, hockey players and trainmen have been added to the lists of Canadians stricken by influenza, but medical authorities believe the disease has passed its peak in most communities.

Virologists have not yet definitely determined that the Canadian influenza is caused by the same lethal virus that killed more than 8,000 Britons recently, although Ottawa sources believe it is.

Montreal Friday night reported 23 more deaths among elderly persons caused by flu, making a total of 115 for that city. In St. Catharines two deaths Friday were attributed to the malady.

Say 10,000 Cases

An unofficial estimate placed the number of Ontario cases at 10,000. However, medical authorities said it was impossible to obtain an accurate figure due to the prevalence of severe colds in many communities and the fact that many persons were treating themselves at home.

One hundred soldiers at Camp Borden are in hospital with flu, and a Canadian National Railways spokesman said absenteeism due to the disease is hampering freight traffic in the Hamilton district.

At Moncton, N.B., the epidemic is considered past its peak, as well as in Prince Albert, Sask., and Brantford and Brockville in Ontario. Cornwall, Sudbury and Sarnia in the latter province continued to stagger under flu, and several more smaller centres reported schools closed and hospital visiting banned.

Loan Volume To Be Cut Soon

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP). — Officials said Friday that chartered banks likely will announce within a week a general aim of reducing the volume of loans to curb credit buying and the inflation threat.

An intimation of this was given by Finance Minister Abbott when he indicated in the Commons Friday that he expects Canadian banks will announce a change in their lending policies shortly. He was answering J. M. Macdonnell (PC, Toronto-Greenwood).

Decision to reduce the lending volume follows unprecedented borrowing from Canadian banks. In 1950, public loans of $2,651,000,000 were at an all-time high, an increase of about $500,000,000 over $2,174,000,000 in 1949.

This increased the purchasing power in the hands of Canadians and created a greater demand for goods.

Curbing of the volume is expected to reduce demand. And at the same time increased competition for the Canadian purchasing dollar may help restrain price boosts.

West Asks Stalin Prove War Not Yet Inevitable

LONDON, Feb. 17—(AP)—Western European countries agreed today with Joseph Stalin that war is not yet inevitable, but they asked him to prove he means it. Italian Premier Alcide de Gasperi said Stalin's statement would be more assuring "if Russia would demonstrate with facts contributing to a true peace."

The Russian prime minister, in a newspaper interview broadcast by Moscow radio Friday night, charged that the United Nations is a tool of the United States, but added that war was not yet inevitable.

A British Foreign Office spokesman said:

"We do not regard war as inevitable at all. In our view there is no problem which cannot be solved by peaceful negotiation, given goodwill. Certainly, on our side, such goodwill always has been, and always will be, forthcoming."

In West Germany, a government spokesman said his country found it "sad and disheartening that the Soviet leaders repeated the old charges of alleged aggressive intentions of the west and Russia's "firm love of peace."

Forced Move

"Eeverybody meanwhile has learned that it is Russia's present superior armament which compelled the west to take drastic defence measures."

The French government reserved official comment pending a study of the full text. A spokesman said, however, that he did not think Stalin's remarks had materially hurt the chances for a Big-Four meeting, although it may have "slightly complicated" the situation.

Some British diplomats were represented as believing that a Big Four confab now is more urgent than ever.

"This is a typical example of Soviet design to sow dissension in the free world and to exploit the natural desire for peace throughout the world," the British spokesman said.

All newspapers across the Soviet Union gave major front-page display to Prime Minister Stalin's question-and-answer interview with Pravda.

Car Hits Bridge Captain Killed

BISMARCK, Ont., Feb. 17 — (CP). — Capt. W. G. Warren, 33, was killed early today when his automobile crashed into an abutment af a railway bridge five miles east of here. Capt. Warren, formerly of Kingston, had been stationed recently at the Army's Ortono Barracks at Oakville.

Bismarck is about 15 miles south-west of St. Catharines.

Provincial Police, who said Capt. Warren was alone in the car at the time of the accident, reported that wreckage of the car was strewn for 50 yards and that the engine was thrown 75 feet beyond the car body. They said that after striking the centre abutment of the bridge, the heavy car apparently veered and struck a cement wall on the side of the road, then came to rest in the centre of the highway.

2 UK Leading Artists Join Union To Paint

LONDON, Feb. 17—(Reuters)—Two of Britain's leading artists have joined a trade union—so they can continue painting.

Graham Sutherland and Feliks Topolski, both in the top flight of modern British art, are painting murals for the festival of Britain.

They joined the Sign and Display Workers' Union to fall into line with other signwriters and painters employed at the site, where a union closed shop has been enforced.

Quarantine 66 As Flu Precaution

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 17 — (Reuters) — Australian health authorities ordered all 66 occupants of a KLM (Royal Dutch Airlines) airliner into quarantine on arrival here today as a precaution against influenza.

The plane load—57 Dutch immigrants and nine-man crew — joined 30 passengers and crew of nine from a British Overseas Airways Constellation already at Syney's North Head quarantine station.

Health officials said there were nine suspected cases of influenza aboard the Dutch airliner. All aboard the airliner will be held in quarantine for at least five days.

Of the BOAC Constellation's passengers and crew, quarantined here Friday, there was one confirmed case of English-type influenza, health officials said today. There was another suspected case among the British group.

Convict Crete's Romeo Will Be Jailed Two Years

CANEA, Crete, Feb. 17. (AP)—Crete's modern Romeo, Costa Kephaloyannis, was convicted today of carrying arms without a permit and sentenced to two years in jail.

The fiery Costa has been accused of forming an armed band to kidnap his Juliet, 19-year-old Tassoula Petracogeorgi, daughter of a Liberal member of parliament. The couple's families have been feuding for years.

Conviction on the charge of leading an armed band would have carried the death penalty.

Costa seized Tassoula on a Herakleion street last August and carried her away to storied Mount Ida. They were married at a lonely monastery and spent a honeymoon in mountain caves.

The raven-haired Tassoula, an expectant mother, was unable to attend the trial. She sent word to the court from Athens that she was ill with influenza. Informed of the court's decision she sobbed: "It's unhappy news. If he has to serve his term in Crete, I'll return to be near him."

Tassoula's father, furious at the kidnapping, had sworn he would take legal action to have the marriage annulled.

The 20th-century version of Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet was complicated by politics. While Tassoula's father is prominent in the Liberal party, Costa's brother, Manuel is a Populist member of parliament.

Following their mountain honeymoon in August, Costa and Tassoula flew to Athens to seek the blessing of Greek Orthodox Archbishop Spyridon. Liberal Premier Sophocles Veneizelos interceded, going to the archbishop's palace to speak to all contending parties.

The archbishop gave his blessing, but politics entered the mountain romance and Costa found himself in jail.

Frost Promises Farmers Help To Find Substitute For Butter

Says Research Foundation Hopes To Produce Something To Compete With Margarine At Much Lower Price

TORONTO, Feb. 17—(CP)—Rural topics were to the fore Friday at Queen's Park, home of Ontario's government. Outside the Legislature, Premier Frost had a bit of good news for dairy farmers. The Ontario Research Foundation will make its facilities available to the dairy industry to help it find a butter stubstitute, made from milk products, to compete in price with margarine. In the House a bill aimed at an equitable distribution of country road funds between rural and urban areas of counties was introduced by Highways Minister Doucett.

In a press statement, Premier Frost almost promised financial help to dairy men. He did not amplify this reference.

The industry has advocated a dairy spread in the last two years that sale of margarine has been legal in Ontario. Mr. Frost said:

"If a cheaper brand of butter can be developed from dairy propects, it will help the farmers recover some of their revenue lost to margarine sales."

Aim of research, dairy sources said, will be the use of butter-making by-products and fresh cream to develop a cheaper brand of butter for quick sale.

Not Getting Enough

Mr. Doucett told the House his bill was prompted by complaints of towns and villages that they were not getting enough in return for road levies paid to their counties.

It will require counties to pay towns and villages an amount equal to the mainteance cost of a 22-foot-wide stretch of all county roads which extend into town and village streets. Counties must also rebate 25 per cent of the ordinary road levy paid by towns and villages, to be applied to street construction and repair.

The highway bill is also aimed at making it easier for a city or a town which pays no county rates to provide adequate suburban roads. It will drop the requirement for a two-thirds vote of the town or city council wishing to spend more than the statutory minimum.

An increase of 11 per cent in the number of Ontario residents sent to prison in 1950 was shown in the annual report of the Department of Reform Institutions tabled in the Legislature.

37,607 In Jail

Some 37,607 were sent to prison in 1950, compared with 33,627 in 1949. Last year's figure was equivalent to 8.33 of every 1,000 residents.

Justice Orders Fines Returned To 2 Reporters

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP). — Two Ottawa Evening Journal reporters Friday were given back the $30 each of them had paid as fines for writing a story Feb. 3 concerning the manslaughter trial of Mrs. Marion Sullivan of Toronto.

The money was ordered returned to reporters Ainslie Kerr and Ross Smith by Chief Justice J. C. McRuer of the Ontario Supreme Court. No reason was given.

A fine of $3,000 imposed on the Journal publishers, was paid Feb. 14, the day after it was levied.

W. G. Pugsley, local registrar of the court, said the order that the fines on both reporters be remitted was made in writing on back of the main order imposing fines on all principals involved.

No Comment

The chief justice had merely said:

"Let the fines imposed re Ainslie Kerr and Ross Smith be remitted."

It was signed Friday.

The Feb. 3 article forecast Mrs. Sullivan might be called to tell the story "locked in secrecy since her arrest last November" of the death of her husband in a Chateau Laurier Hotel room late Nov. 17 last.

The chief justice, presiding at the trial, said the story had given concern to himself and to counsel for both prosecution and defence. All counsel had assured him they had given no basis for such a report. Mrs. Sullivan did not appear in the witness box. She was acquitted of the charge.

Critics Praise Ontario Singer

NEW YORK, Feb, 17—(CP)—Joseph Laderoute, a native of Sault Ste. Marie, received plaudits from New York critics for his tenor soloist performance Friday night in the Schola Cantorum's rendition of Benjamin Britten's Spring Symphony at Carnegie Hall.

The performance of the symphony by the Schola Cantorium, a mixed chorus, was the first staged in New York.

The New York Times said that a solo by Laderoute—who studied in Toronto—was "one of the best."

The New York Herald Tribune said Laderoute's singing was "appealing and well phrased."

Woman Frozen Solid "Feeling Wonderful"

CHICAGO, Feb, 17 (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Stevens, who is believed to be the first person to have survived a body temperature of 64 degrees, is feeling "wonderful."

"But I guess I have nine lives like a cat," the 23-year-old woman told reporters at a press conference at Michael Reese Hospital Friday.

Mrs. Stevens was brought to the hospital Feb. 8 after she was found frozen in a south side gangway. She has made what physicians described as a miraculuos recovery. She called it "a miracle of God." Physicians are certain that she will not have to undergo any major amputations.

Mrs. Stevens said she plans on leaving Chicago when she is discharged from the hospital.

"I want to go to some nice, small town—where it's warm."

Markets Resist Tendency Toward Selloff

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Stock markets hardly held their ground this week, but at the same time they resisted any tendency towards a heavy sellout.

They finished the previous week in a burst of strength. Monday Canadian prices stayed about where they were while New York was closed for Lincoln's birthday. They tended down Tuesday, slipped Wednesday, were uncertain Thursday, but picked up a little Friday.

Thursday, golds featured both Canadian markets and New York, and they continued strong Friday, though less enthusiastically. In the two days they gained 7.61 points in the Toronto Stock Exchange's index to reach their highest point since before the Korean fighting started in June.

The gold strength arose from recurring rumors that something would be done to give gold producers more than the present official price of $35 an ounce (U.S.); though there seems little apparent prospect that anything of an outstanding nature will be done.

Where Market Going?

Discussion still centres around where this long bull market is going. Is it approaching a downward reaction, possibly a severe one; or is inflation creating a new set of money values which may take stock prices up and up?

It is indeed difficult to forecast what money values will be a few years from now; but at the moment it seems unlikely that we are yet nearing a new set of values—it seems unlikely that inflation will move that fast.

It it does move that fast, then we are in for a very drastic set of controls. The value of our monetary unit (the dollar) can decrease slowly, as it has done over the last 25 years or so, and we can adjust our economy to it. But if the pace of this process should accelerate from what it now is, the process would have to be stopped in some way.

Boy Dies In Hospital Following Road Injury

Provincial police said the youngster was on his way home from school when the accident occurred. He and his sister, Madeleine, 7, had been dropped by the side of the highway from the school bus.

Misjudging the speed of an oncoming car, Gordon tried to run across the road. Roderick Smith of Toronto was unable to stop his vehicle in time and ran the youngster down. The boy received a fractured arm and leg and serious internal injuries. Madeleine remained beside the road and was not hurt.

PCVS Cagers Win 89-60 Over Oshawa

Scoring officials practically had to use adding machines Friday night in Port Hope when the PCVS senior "A" basketball team sank Oshawa Central's hope for a 1951 COSSA championship. In a sudden-death game to decide the local group of the lakeshore district Coach Bev. Goulding's boys racked up an 89-60 win.

This score is the highest for a PCVS single game score, both as a team and total score, in the past 10 years. Often the PCVS teams have piled up scores into the 60's on opposition under Mr. Goulding, but Friday night's game was the first into the 80's.

Offensively the playing of both teams was sound as indicated by the total score of 149 points, the shooting on long and short shots of both teams accurate. They paid little attention to their defensive plays, concentrating on scoring.

Another Record

Another record was set, this in the number of fouls handed out in a PCVS game. Referees Pethick and Mockford of Toronto handed out 57 personal fouls, 24 to PCVS. Oshawa lost four of its first team early in the fourth, Corse, Hill, Stroz and Edwards, with five personals and it left the team weakened.

Besides in the shooting of field baskets, recording 32 to Oshawa's 24, PCVS were successful in 24 out of 45 foul attempts. Oshawa counted on 12 of 31. Eight good foul shots for PCVS in the second quarter held the Garnet and Greys in the game when the score became close.

They went ahead in the first 16-5 but Central rallied early in the second as PCVS' shooting slipped. PCVS' two field baskets and eight foul shots gave a 28-22 score in their favor at the half.

Neil Thompson, long overdue this year for a high-scoring game, came through in the third quarter with 12 points and helped break the Central offensive which was causing a strain in the game. PCVS rapped in 31 points to Central's 18 in the third and 28 to Central's 18 in the fourth.

Thompson with Central's Corse and Mozewsky shared the scoring honors with 18 points each. Al Northcott had 16, Al Mcflraith 15 and Ted Evans 12 for PCVS.

This important win places PCVS's three "A" teams against Lindsay collegiate's seniors, juniors and bantams in the lakeshore semi-finals. The first games of the two-game points-to-count series will be played at PCVS Wednesday and return to Lindsay Friday night.

Lineups:

PCVS (89) — Cunningham 2, Northcott 16, Ash 8, Thompson 18, Fowler 4, Frise 4, McIlraith 15, Evans 12, Cranfield, Young 10.

Oshawa Central (60)—Corse 18, Mozewsky 18, Riseborough 8, Hill 12, Stroz, Edwards, Varga, Andrinovich 4, Panko, Armstead.

Smashes Railings On Bensfort Bridge

Two minor accidents, resulting in slight damage but no injuries, were investigated Friday by Peterborough provincial police.

Edward LaFonte, RR 1, South Monaghan, skidded as he drove south and onto Bensfort bridge, Otonabee. He smashed some wooden railings on the northwest section of the bridge. And the right front wheel, fender, headlight, and the grill were damaged.

Provincial Constable Russell Pollard investigated.

William S. Mepham, Young's Point, turned left off Highway 28 to go down the Selwyn road. He skidded and struck the side of a pickup truck, parked at the intersection.

The truck, driven by Robert Fairburn of Young's Point, received about $50 damage; the car $10.

Stalin Accusing

But to the question "Do you consider a new world war inevitable," Stalin was quoted in Pravda as replying:

"At least at the present time it cannot be considered inevitable. Of course in the U.S., in Britain as also in France, there are aggressive forces thirsting for a new war. They need war to obtain super profits, to plunder other countries. These aggressive forces control the reactionary governments. But at the same time they are afraid of their peoples, who do not want a new war and stand for the maintenance of peace."

Stalin said these forces were trying to deceive the peoples and had led their governments to turn down Soviet bids for peace and the control of arms. Peace will be preserved, he said, if the peoples take the job into their own hands. Stalin declared the Soviet Union will continue firmly to pursue a policy of averting war and maintaining peace.

Nursing Registry Reports $491.29 Deficit During Year

Second annual report of the Community Nursing Registry of Peterborough, presented at a meeting Friday evening in the Civic Hospital nurses' residence, showed an excess of disbursements over receipts amounting to a $491.29 deficit.

Financial status of the registry has been one of concern throughout the year and contacts to the City Council and applications to the Boards of Governors at both hospitals and to the Red Cross and Community Fund for assistance have been without success.

Effort of the president Mrs. Eva Brackenridge in organizing a series of teas among the women of the city and district in the early fall brought the financial situation to a more satisfactory level however. Sale of uniforms through the registry is adding a small commission to the receipts which are mainly nurses' files, medical telephine fees, VON fees. Largest payments are salaries to registrar and assistants and telephone services.

That the Registry is performing a community service was indicated in the report of calls handled, given by registrar Mrs. M. B. Pringle.

"A total of 1721 calls for registered nurses was received and disposed of for the year, approximately 50 per cent coming directly from the general public." Broken down, the report showed 1097 for private duty nurses and 434 calls in this bracket unfilled. Eighty-four calls were for non-professional women's services and 22 of these went unfilled. A peak was reached in September when 200 calls were handled and July showed the fewest calls.

Two educational programs held during the year netted a deposit of $94.03 to the Education fund.

A credential committee, conceived by Miss A. L. Thomson, Reg. N., reviews carefully the applicants for membership whether professional or nursing assistants, thus assuring the public of qualified service.

town. By 2 a.m. Saturday, the attack subsided.

The third action was initiated nine miles northeast of Chechon by South Koreans against a southbound North Korean column.

Hills Strewn With Dead

Thirty-four miles northwest of Chechon, French and U.S. patrols ranged more than two miles north of Chipyong past hills strewn with the bodies of Chinese Reds. The patrols found no live Reds, although they pushed up to the Hukchon River and a road leading northwest to the enemy hub of Hongchon.

Other patrols reported no contact while moving 1¼ miles north of Allied positions 4½ miles north of Wonju, which is 20 miles southeast of Chipyong.

Red ground casualties in Korea Friday were estimated at 5,417. This brought to 106,746 the total estimate of enemy dead, wounded and taken prisoner since the U.S. Eighth Army opened a drive Jan. 25 aimed primarily at hunting down and killing Reds.

Says 40% Of Motorists Unfit To Be Driving

TORONTO, Feb. 17 — (CP) — Traffic Inspector Vernon Page said Friday 40 per cent of motorists, because of lack of skill, technique, efficiency and knowledge, are unfit to drive.

He told the Rotary Club that Canada's highway fatality record, in proportion to population, now is worse than that of the United States.

However, although Ontario's 1950 toll was high at 800, Toronto's record of 58 was, on a per capita basis, lower than that of any other large North American city.

Bull Lawsuit Goes To Supreme Court

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP)—A $3,300 lawsuit over the soundness of an Aberdeen Angus bull is to go before the Supreme Court of Canada.

The Ontario Court of Appeal Friday granted permission for Lewis L. Strauss, former member of the United States Atomic Energy Commission, to take his suit against John Bowser of Newmarket, Ont., to the Supreme Court.

The action, arising from Strauss' purchase of the bull from Bowser in 1948, was dismissed twice previously. Strauss claimed the bull was unsound.

Montreal Critic Assesses 'Twelfth Night'

On invitation of the Peterborough Little Theatre, Filmore Sadler, Montreal producer and director of the Knowlton playhouse and theatre school, was present at Friday evening's performance of "Twelfth Night." He gave the company a private adjudication on the stage, following the play. Mr. Sadler had high praise for both the individual actors and the production as a whole. "A very, very delightful evening." He remarked especially the vitality among the cast: "Everybody was alive."

He commended the unit set, the "business" on the stage (that is, the gestures, facial expressions, by-play and the like which actors use to interpret character, to heighten moments, and to make a scene luminous, apart from their words); and the grouping and costuming. He found the finale both unusual and interesting. The music by the Coventry Singers, he said, was entirely in keeping, and fully integrated with the play, as well as being in itself charming.

Adverse Criticism

His three chief adverse criticisms were about the lighting, the lack of contrast, and what he felt to be a failure to bring out the poetic, langorous and fey qualities inherent in the play.

(1) He tempered his criticism about lighting by admitting, after observing the stage lighting system at the Collegiate, the restrictions imposed by what he called "makeshift," and static (e.g., the lack of a dimmer) lights. (2) He felt that there was not enough contrast in tone, pitch and pace of voice in the actors, both individual long speeches and in their picking up from each other. (3) The comic qualities of the play, he felt, were excellently revealed; the poetic, romantic, rhapsodic qualities were not sufficiently projected—the characteristic which may be set by the opening speech: "If music be the food of love, play on. Give me excess of it."

Professional Appreciation

Much of Mr. Sadler's detailed adjudication was given to small technical points of acting and staging, important to the persons concerned. He expressed his pleasure at being able to speak in such technical, professional terms to a group of actors and behind-scenes people who understood the terminology of stagecraft and appreciated the art of the theatre.

He considered that all the major actors spoke intelligently, enunciated well, and were easily heard. In reply to a question at the close of the adjudication he said that in his experience most people whose criticism of a play was that "So-and-so could not be heard," said this merely because they could not think of any other criticism. It did not matter that every word was heard. Even in Shakespeare lines must be "thrown away," that is, said quickly, without any intention of having each word heard. What was important was the dramatic context, not the mere words.

Mr. Sadler made no comment on the Restoration costuming, which was, of course, 50 years after Shakespeare. He apparently took that for granted. Nor did he comment on the fact that the entire play was given from beginning to end, without a line missing, and every line had, through the production, an understandable meaning. He apparently took that for granted. These two critical grants were a tribute to the production.

Remanded One Week On Theft Charges

COBOURG, Feb. 17 —(ENS)— Arrested two weeks ago after he was reported as trying to peddle cigarettes, William Ross Gallagher of Toronto appeared on several theft charges yesterday. He pleaded guilty to breaking into a service station in Hope township on Feb. 6 where four mantel radios and a car radio were stolen; breaking into A. Lord's garage at Deseronto on Feb. 8 and theft of licence plates in Toronto during the month of February. A charge of theft of a car in Peterborough is expected to be laid. Gallagher was remanded for one week.

MRS. J. R. M. WILSON, of Toronto, who is to speak "On being an effective person" at the 60th annual meeting of the YWCA this coming Thursday evening, immediately following a six-o'clock dinner. Her activities in clubs and organizations, writing, speaking and broadcasting show that she is a truly effective person herself, and she is a young mother with three children, two, five and nine years, to care for as well as doing her own housekeeping. A special job she did for the National YWCA, while a member of the Group of Public Affairs, was to represent the home-makers of Canada at a conference in Washington on effects of war on the lives of women.

Mr. Wagar was one of the best known woodsmen of the Kawartha Lakes district and spent his summers at Lake Catchacoma where he achieved local fame as a competent guide.

In 1929 he joined the Queen Mary School teaching staff and retained the position of vice-principal until his retirement in 1947. Mr. Wagar was a member of the Gospel Hall, Brock St.

Pembroke Pair Denied Right To Adopt Child

TORONTO, Feb. 17. (CP)—A Pembroke couple Friday were denied the right to formally adopt the little girl they have brought up since shortly after her birth in 1947.

The decision, handed down in a written judgment by Mr. Justice R. I. Ferguson of the Supreme Court of Ontario, marked another step in the lengthy legal battle for the custody of Julia Yvonne Lesieur between her natural and foster parents.

The judgment denied an application by Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Gibeau of Pembroke to formally adopt the child they have been bringing up as a Protestant. The foster parents said the decision would be appealed to the Supreme Court of Canada.

The child's natural parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Keuhl of Sudbury, still must have a motion for custody approved by the courts before they can regain possession of the little girl. Mr. and Mrs. Keuhl are Roman Catholics.

"Although the courts may dispense with the consent of parents who are not in a position to give the same, I do not think it goes so far as to enable the court to make an adoption order where the parents not only do not give their consent but actively oppose the making of the order," said Mr. Justine Ferguson in his judgment.

The Pembroke couple first made application for adoption in August, 1949, with Judge John T. Mulcahy of Renfrew reserving the decision. Before a decision was handed down, Mr. Keuhl, who had consented to adoption at the time of the child's birth, withdrew that consent. The case has been before the courts since that time.

Gov't Wins Confidence Votes On Manpower, Control Policies

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP).—Two confidence votes from the Commons left the government free today to go ahead with its manpower and controls policies.

The votes Friday saw the house turn down demands for compulsory military training in the reserve forces and also reject contentions that the government failed to raise necessary defence forces and to combat inflation and the cost of living.

The divisions, won by the government on top-heavy votes, cleaned up the annual throne-speech debate and cleared the decks for action on the government's "blank cheque" bill for economic control powers and its proposed legislation to set up a new department to speed up defence production.

However, these bills will not be proceeded with immediately. Under Commons procedure, Monday is "private members' day," and priority then is given to legislation brought in by non-cabinet members.

Private members' bills due for consideration then include one by Wilfrid Lacroix (L-Quebec-Montmorency) to ban the Communist party in Canada. Another, from J. L. MacDougall (L-Vancouver-Burrard) calls for shifting statutory holidays from other weekdays to Mondays.

Government Bills Next

Right after that, it is expected, the government bills will be dealt with.

In Friday's votes, the government's preponderant majority easily beat back the two non-confidence motions, each time with the help of different elements of the opposition.

The vote was 146 to 15 on a Social Credit non-confidence motion demanding compulsory training in the reserve forces for home defence, a subject that provided the main topic of debate for two days.

Government supporters voted solidly against the motion, and they were backed by the bulk of the Progressive Conservative party and the CCF. The 10-man Social Credit party was supported by four breakaway members from the Progressive Conservatives and one Independent.

A Progressive Conservative non-confidence motion was defeated, 115 to 46. It alleged the government failed to provide leadership, failed to raise the forces necessary for defence and to meet international obligations, and to take steps to deal with inflation and the rising cost of living.

The CCF and most of the Social Credit party voted with the solid Progressive Conservative ranks on this motion.

With its defeat, the traditional address in reply to the throne speech was adopted, ending that long open forum in which members are free to express their views on any subject. That meant speeches from now on will be confined strictly to the business at hand.

Wouldn't Meet Need

In the final debate Friday on the Social Credit Party's compulsory service demand, George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said military training in the reserves for home defence would not meet Canada's need at this time. The first requirement was for combat forces in being, ready to undertake military tasks anywhere.

He said there was no inconsistency in his party opposing the compulsory-training move while sponsoring a resolution criticizing the government for not having provided the troops for home defence. It would take a long time to do this through reserve-force training.

Besides Mr. Drew, speakers in the concluding phases of the debate included Percy Wright (CCF-Melfort); J. M. Macdonnell (PC-Toronto Greenwood); Gordon Higgins (PC-St. John's East); G. S. White (PC-Hastings-Peterborough); C. E. Johnston (SC-Bow River) and Robert Fair (SC-Battle River).

"We do not want some compulsory form of service that creates an apparent pool of men who are not available for whatever service may be required in the defence of this country wherever that defence should take place," said Mr. Drew.

Need Defence Forces

"Let us in these critical days deal with the first things first.

"The first thing is to get on, belatedly it is true, but nevertheless get on as quickly as possible, with the job of creating defence forces in being not two years from now, not three years or four years from now as would be the earliest possible hope of training young men and women for a few hours a week in reserve forces.

"We can tackle that job calmly and effectively and satisfactorily when we have made sure we have created the forces to meet the immediate tasks we may be called upon to face two months from now, three months from now, or in fact any month between now and next November, when the world will have passed its first great climacteric in this immediate threat of Soviet world conquest."

He listed these seven objections to compulsory military training in the reserve forces at this time:

"1. We have not the training staff available to carry this out.

"2. We have not the drill halls.

"3. It would create a false sense of security wholly unrelated to the urgency of the situation.

"4. It would divert attention and divert manpower from the immediate and urgent task of creating forces in being.

"5. It would mean an immense withdrawal of manpower at a time when this country is short of manpower to produce those things which nature has made it possible for us to produce for our allies as well as ourselves.

Lack Information

"6. We have not before us in this House, outside of the government, much of the information which is essential to an adequate consideration of this problem.

"7. No other country with a similar dual type of force has yet adopted, and I believe for good reasons, a form of compulsory service in the secondary force."

Mr. Drew said there was no inconsistency in his party opposing the compulsory training motion while sponsoring one criticizing the government for not having provided the troops needed for home defence and to carry out international obligations. His party still stood by its criticism of the way the government had handled defence matters.

Urges Committee

Mr. Johnston suggested a parliamentary committee be established to solve the manpower question once and for all. The United Kingdom and United States had adopted universal selective service and how had no trouble with their manpower problems.

Mr. Wright called for national registration of manpower, dispersal of industries and action to see that there was equality of sacrifice "right down the line."

Mr. Macdonnell urged the government to do more to stress the urgency of the current situation and said the Opposition will hold the government to the strictest accounting of how it handles the manpower problem.

Mr. Fair said Mr. Drew had been "putting up a straw man and trying to knock it down," and he accused the Party Leader of misrepresenting the Social Credit non-confidence motion.

Mr. White said the idea of compulsory service in the reserve forec was not feasible. It could not possibly be put into effect, nor would it provide equality of service.

The "terrible farce" of conscription in the last war, with its inequality of service, was among the reasons why it was difficult to get men to enlist now. He would not support any form of conscription that was "political or of the back-door type."

Julian Ferguson (PC-Simcoe North) proposed that those making munitions and other commodities should be put on the same pay basis as the men in the front lines. Also, labor should be transferred from the manufacture of non-essentials to goods needed for defence. He would not support the Social Credit non-confidence motion, but he would support one calling for national registration.

How Building Problems Fit Into the High Cost of Living

"Today's high cost of living" is a subject we hear discussed everywhere. We read it in magazines, in newspapers, on buses, at meetings or even at work—it seems the topic of everyone's discussion. Homeowners wonder if they ever will complete those unfinished jobs around the home—certainly saving the necessary amount is a problem.

The Credit Plan offered by the Peterborough Lumber solves this difficulty—Every homeowner is eligible, at the lowest method of financing available today. Enquire today at the P.L. Office, 163 Hunter St. Their staff will be only too pleased to explain this plan to you.

"Second Class Mail Service"

When the announcement was made that the post office department planned to reduce home mail delivery in cities from two to one a day, we questioned the fairness of it, and indeed the need for such a so-called economy. To give business and industrial establishments the usual two deliveries a day and withold this service from residences is unfair discrimination. Both pay for first class service and the four-cent first class letter-rate. Are householders to be given second-class service for first-class mail? These very words were used by Mr. G. K. Fraser in the House of Commons on Wednesday when he questioned the Postmaster General, the Honourable Edouard Rinfret, about the proposed one delivery a day.

* * *

Mr. Rinfret replied that some changes in urban postal deliveries were being contemplated "in view of the economies that we have to make" but suggested that Mr. Fraser wait for the official announcement before he made any predictions. We think that Mr. Fraser quite properly brought the matter up in the House and at the proper time. The Post Office is a public department charged with giving public service. Members of Parliament would be slack in their responsibilities to the people whom they represent if they waited, muzzled, until departmental authorities foisted their regulations on the people. The time for such questions, and adequate answers, is before, not after, the deed is done.

* * *

It may be argued that in some communities two mail deliveries a day are already superfluous because of the railway schedules. For instance, in Peterborough the bulk of the day's mail both from the east and the west, particularly from Toronto, arrives in time for the morning delivery. But we fear that the Post Office officials at distributing centres in Toronto and Montreal might take the one-mail-a-day delivery as an excuse for holding up mail that would otherwise be delivered in the afternoons. Business offices get out most of their correspondence by five o'clock. This usually reaches Peterborough firms on the next morning delivery. But people at home often write in the evenings. These letters, on a one-delivery schedule, might therefore not reach Peterborough addresses until two days later. Further, there is a goodly bit of mail for Peterborough from distant points, not adjusted to morning delivery.

* * *

One other point of local interest is worth considering. If there is to be only one delivery a day in Peterborough, what routes are going to get that delivery in the afternoons only? These routes would have no morning delivery. Thus letters would be unduly delayed in delivery.

The whole matter should be reconsidered at Ottawa.

Price And Wages Rise In Fifty Canadian Years

We have before us a chart prepared by Dun and Bradstreet from figures supplied by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics which shows the fluctuations of wages, wholesale prices of goods and foods, and the purchasing power of the dollar during the first fifty years of this century. The lines of the chart show supply and demand "in action"—the relationship of prices paid for food, textiles, building materials; wages and the shifting value of the dollar at wholesale level in fifty Canadian years of wars, depressions and recovery.

The most startling line of all is that which shows hourly wage rates. It climbs from the bottom of the page (1901) where it is below all other lines at 40 (1926: 100), criss-crosses all other lines until it climbs, by April 1950, to the very highest point of all, 220. It is a perfectly clear indication that wage rates have outsoared all other indices and that today the wage-earner is in the highest position he has ever been as regards prices of commodities and even the purchasing power of the dollar.

During the two wars, and particularly in the first post-war years, peaks were reached in all wholesale costs and wages, and low points were touched in the purchasing power of the dollar. But there is this significant difference. At the top of the 1920 peak were, in this order, prices of fibres and textiles; of food, beverages and tobacco; building and construction material prices. Hourly wage rates were considerably below—little more than 110 (1926 being again taken as the norm of 100). At this 1920 crux the purchasing power of the dollar was as low as 64 (expressed in wholesale prices, 100 being given the 1926 levels).

Compare this 1920 phase of the graph with the 1947-50 phase. Wage rates were 219.6 (in comparison with 1920's 112). They were at the very pinnacle of all the index lines. Below were, in order, construction and building 206, fibres and textile prices 162.4, and food, beverages and tobacco 154.6. This is the remarkable point, and it should make an impression on all those who bewail now the high cost of foods and living, and the low purchasing value of the dollar. In 1950 wage rates were twice as high as they were in 1920 and the wholesale prices of all commodities were only three points higher than in 1920—almost the same, in fact, (160 compared with about 157 in 1920). This is the clearest indication possible that the lot of wage earners is vastly better now than it was in the other peak price time of 1920.

The wage pattern through the last fifty years, in comparison with the fluctuations in prices and purchasing power of the dollar, shows that wage earners are better off than they have ever been. The entire graph is visible proof that the standard of living has constantly improved since 1935, and by great leaps and bounds in the last five years. Another notable fact is illustrated: even though prices are now high, the purchasing power of the dollar is no lower now than it was in 1920. Yet now, wage rates are twice as great as they were in 1920.

Several other matters of economic interest are revealed by the chart. For instance, the jolt which the first war gave to the economy was far sharper than the jolt of the second war. The lines rise as much as 70 points in the four years before 1920; they rise higher in the span 1940 to 1950, but the rise is fairly gradual and covers ten years, not four. Further, there has not been the sudden fall which came in 1921.

The purchasing power of the dollar (in terms of wholesale prices, 1926 being the median of 100) has gone down from 204 in 1901 to 62 in 1950, in a heavily fluctuating series, particularly between 1915 and 1922, 1931 and 1935 (depression years) and 1940 to 1948. The wage rate line rises almost conversely from 40.4 (with the basic rate of 100 fixed on 1926 levels) to 219, but is a remarkably steady line. The total fall in the dollar's purchasing power has therefore been in the half-century, 142 points; and the total rise in wage rates 180 points. (The chart is based mainly on wholesale commodity indices because wholesale prices are generally more sensitive barometers of price change than are retail prices.)

The total impression such a chart gives of the half-century in Canadian economic life is one of health, expansion despite recessions, and betterment.

The Nickel Is More Expensive

Everybody knows that the five-cent piece is worth less than it used to be. The nickel cigar is gone, the nickel ice-cream cone, the nickel chocolate bar and soft drink; all are things of history. Although the five-and-tens still do business, it takes a careful eye to find anything in these shops that can be had for a nickel, or even a dime. As for the one-cent piece; why it is more useless than chicken-feed! Despite the fact that the cent, the nickel and the dime, are worth less, they now cost more.

An examination of the books of the Royal Mint will show how much the cost of making these coins has gone up. The price of the material has advanced; so has the labour and machinery which goes into making them. Is it not time either to charge more for the nickel, or to make a cheaper nickel?

One change in the nickel was made some thirty years ago (1921 to be exact) when it ceased to be a small silver coin and became a Big Nickel—bigger, but cheaper than the silver coin. During the last war when military people wanted nickel for practical purposes like mugs for soldiers, a brown-coloured, many-sided five-cent piece was introduced, made of 'tombac', a copper-zinc alloy. These, manufactured in 1942 and 1943, were deservedly unpopular. They did not look like nickels; they were not nickel, even though the value of five cents was still approximately five cents. People were not getting their money's worth in the tombac horror. In 1944 the mint went back to a reasonable facsimile of a big nickel, the coin now in use. It is made of mild steel with a chromium finish.

Now, in 1951, even fake nickel is too expensive for the cheap five-cent coin. We suggest that it is time to make the steel in the five-cent piece even milder and the chromium even thinner. As the coin is now, we are getting more than our money's worth.

We do not entertain seriously the notion of doing away with one-cent coins altogether. Useless and archaic as they may be, they are a historical reminder that money once upon a time, even copper money, had a value not scorned by children.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Some Canadian communities are boasting that they have radio-active snow. Is that the kind which jumps off pathways by itself?

The 125,000 beauty parlours in the U.S.A. are trying to hop on the bandwagon by getting themselves recognized as first-aid centres. And as centres for the distribution of information, as well.

Diary Of A Wild Dreamer

By
SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Sat by my window today, and as the church bells rang and people hastened past my door with their prayerbooks and hymnals in their hands, I pondered upon the secrets of the human heart. Do people go to church in Chalk River, I wondered, and in Los Alamos? And if they do so, do they try to square it with the Almighty that they are engaged in making the most devilish engines of destruction that the world has ever known? We are assured, of course, that atomic power will do great things for the world at peace, but we never hear anything specific except what it will do for the world at war. Do the wives of atomic scientists worry about hats and social prestige? Did the wife of Dr. Faustus fret about what to do with the leftovers of yesterday's dinner while the Doctor was in his study chatting with the Devil? The answer to all these questions, I have no doubt, is Yes.

MONDAY: Was talking to a man who had seen service in the East during the war, and he was telling me about the curious smoking habits of some of the peoples he had encountered. Not only do many of them smoke water pipes, or nargilehs, but before putting the tobacco in the bowl they mix it with a substance which he declared to be black-currant jam. They also smoke in a communal manner. The nargileh may have four tubes or mouthpieces attached to it, but anything up to twelve people will smoke it, passing the mouthpieces from hand to hand. Pondered upon this and decided that I would not care for it. I smoke pipes myself, but it has never occurred to me to offer anybody else a suck, and I am sure that I would find some subtle excuse for refusing if such courtesy were shown to me. Nor do I care for tobacco which has been treated with substances which make it sweet. I like a little aromatic Irish tobocco mixed with my smoking, but that is as far as I go. I once tried a pipeful of Irish aromatic by itself, and the effect was like smoking a powerful concentration of nasturtiums. A Russian Jew of my acquaintance, a jolly fellow who had not relinquished the customs of his ancestors, once gave me a cup of tea with jam in it; if jam tobacco is like that, pray excuse me.

TUESDAY: To the movies tonight, and saw an excellent film about Africa, with some of the best pictures of wild animals that I have ever seen. I was particularly interested in some close-ups of a group of lions eating a zebra. Now I was brought up on picture books which insisted that the lion was a noble beast, which killed its prey with a single violent blow, and then stood upon the fallen carcass for a time, roaring; when it had thus worked up an appetite it gnawed off a leg, ate it in lonely splendour and rushed off for further spectacular mischief. But here was a picture of five or six lions, all pushing and shoving like human beings, gobbling (so far as I could see) the guts of the zebra; there was no roaring, no defiance and no loneliness. One lion lay on its side near the feast, gorged and apparently slightly drunk. Vultures stood nearby, like waiters waiting to clear away the dirty plates. The lions ate dirtily, dropping bits and slobbering on their fronts. It seems that life in the jungle is rather more like life at a short-order lunch waggon than I had supposed. I do not know whether to be pleased or not.

WEDNESDAY: Was looking through a catalogue of new books today, and was amazed at the number of books now available which will teach you to do things; they will not teach you to do them very well, perhaps, but they will tell you something. One title in particular caught my eye: "Antique Collecting For Everybody." What optimism! The first requirement for collecting antiques, I should think, was a fairly substantial sum of money which one did not need for something else. Not everybody has this. The next requirement would be reasonably easy access to a part of the world where real antiques can be found; this is no description of rural Ontario, for it has been my experience that if anybody here has a good piece of old furniture, they know it, and they want at least twice its true value for it. They are ready to sell you old pine commodes, seventy-five year old pine desks with no legs on them, forty-year old washstands, thirty-year old toothbrushes, coal-oil lamps made in 1925, moustache cups, eggs made of china with view of the Chicago World's Fair inside them, and antiques of that character, but I am able to resist such treasures. Antique collecting is decidedly not for everybody.

THURSDAY: Had a chance today to look at a Russian magazine, and I paused in fascinated horror over the page devoted to women's styles. In Imperial Russia there were two kinds of women: there was the Countess Natasha, dressed in the height of Parisian splendour, and there was simple Boobka, who wore her peasant dress with becoming modesty, and made up in hand-done embroidery whatever she might lack in elegance. But in modern Russia it seems that the countess and Boobka alike aspire to dresses which, though made of silk, look like potato sacks, and are shown upon mannequins who have themselves figures like sacks of potatoes. I think that the whole Soviet Union could be conquered by subtly offering their women clothes which had a little style and fit to them.

FRIDAY: This evening heard some gramophone records which recited most of T. S. Eliot's play "The Cocktail Party." Reflected that if they had just drunk a great deal more at that party, none of the painful events in the play would probably have happened. But this is an Immoral Thought, and I pushed it down immediately into the mental cistern which I keep for the imprisonment of such notions. . . . But ah, how poorly the lock on that cistern works when I am asleep! Barely have I dozed off than up flies the lid, and all night long all the improbabilities, and undesirabilities which I have rejected come popping up to delight and amuse me. I am told by observers that I laugh out loud in my sleep. And well I might, considering the number of times when I politely refrain from laughing during the day. . . . There are people who shriek in their sleep, and people who cry. I have known people who talked in their sleep, and once in a while they said something interesting, which was often better than their average when awake. And I have known people who said that they never dreamed; these, to me, are the really sinister types.

SATURDAY: To a concert this evening and heard a man play the 'cello uncommonly well. This instrument is a great favorite of mine. I can just bear the violin in the hands of an expert, but if I were to hear that every violin in the world had been smashed to kindling I would not repine. But the rich moanings of the 'cello, like the voice of a wise old philosopher full of port wine, enchants me. I have never learned to play the 'cello myself, but I have watched others do so, and I can confidently state that the hardest thing about it is learning how to dig the spike on the end of the instrument into the floor. A 'cellist, in full sweep, works up a terrific vibration, and if his spike slips the 'cello is likely to drag him to the ground and pummel him severely with its trembling frame. Puny learners have been slapped to death by wild 'cellos in the depths of conservatories of music. . . . It is said that the vibration of stringed instruments causes their player to have heavy heads of hair, whereas the pressure on the inside of the skull engendered by playing a wind instrument makes their players go bald. My observation contradicts this, scientific though it appears on the surface.

COMPLAINTS ABOUT BUS SERVICE

SIR: It is about time our City Council should do something about our bus service instead of granting them everything they want, but don't ask P.B. Co. to do anything for the city's benefit. Considering the service we get their request for increased fares should have been turned down until our city auditor checked their books and satisfied the Council it was necessary. Was it granted because our councillors all drive cars and do not care for the general public like one of our councillors says about the farmers?

1. There are men on our buses who should not be there, because I have heard it said and I know it myself are reckless drivers and very discourteous.

2. Schedules do not mean a thing.

3. As "Fortitude" says it is time a bylaw regulating the number of people allowed to be standing. I saw a George St. bus, corner George and Simcoe Sts., about a week ago south bound shortly after 4 p.m. when it stopped, seats full, people standing, and motorman allowed easily 25 more mostly high-school students to crowd on. I bet there were 75 to 80 people, crowded right up in front and down on lower steps. The motorman has no view whatsoever to see what is approaching from right nor can he see when passengers are all off at side door unless told by some passenger. Who gets the benefit? The P.B. Co. This overcrowding pays them well at old rates and goes on every day.

The other morning when it was 22 degrees below zero both George St. buses passed each other at Ware St. A lady on corner George and Princess St. signalled driver on south bus to stop. He paid no attention to her—result she crossed to south west corner and had to wait in 22 degree below zero weather till bus went to river and back up again. That is only one example of service and courtesy of one driver. I saw this myself.

I have on more than one occasion been left standing one corner King and George and King and Sherbrooke when there was room easily for 4 or 5 more.

When city wanted to sell car barns and were offered considerably more by a taxi company, they sold them P.B. Co. at their figure with understanding that if they wished to sell again that the city could buy them back at same price. Did they do it—no. The profit I understand was a nice sum and they came back for increased fares and they got it—to heck with service.

If all drivers were as good drivers and courteous particularly to elderly people in helping them when necessary on and off as Bill Hunt does it would improve the efficiency of our bus service.

Another thing why is it that so many—young people especially—are so unpolite that they refuse to give up their seat especially to real old people standing in the aisles?

Lastly what should be done is to rescind this last agreement and have City Auditor check P.C. Co. books and make report to the Council as to whether increased fares are justified. Then make new agreement with P.B. Co. that protects City's interest not as it is now all one sided.

LIFE TOO SHORT FOR QUEUES

SIR: I have read with great interest the facts about British Rations.

It is easy to read the writer is a man.

I spent some time on the so-called plentiful rations, waiting in queues for hours, for the little extras! And I thank God I am away from it all, I just wish that all my relations and friends could come over.

TAXES ON NICHOLLS HOSPITAL PROPERTY

SIR: Relating to the Civic Hospital sale: The property was sold for $70,000 to an organization which will not be required to pay taxes to the City. We offered $65,000 subject to taxes.

From the estimate we had from the assessor the taxes woud represent $5,000 yearly to the city.

On this basis we are of the opinion any organization buying on the open market should state what their position is in regards to taxes.

We beg to remain

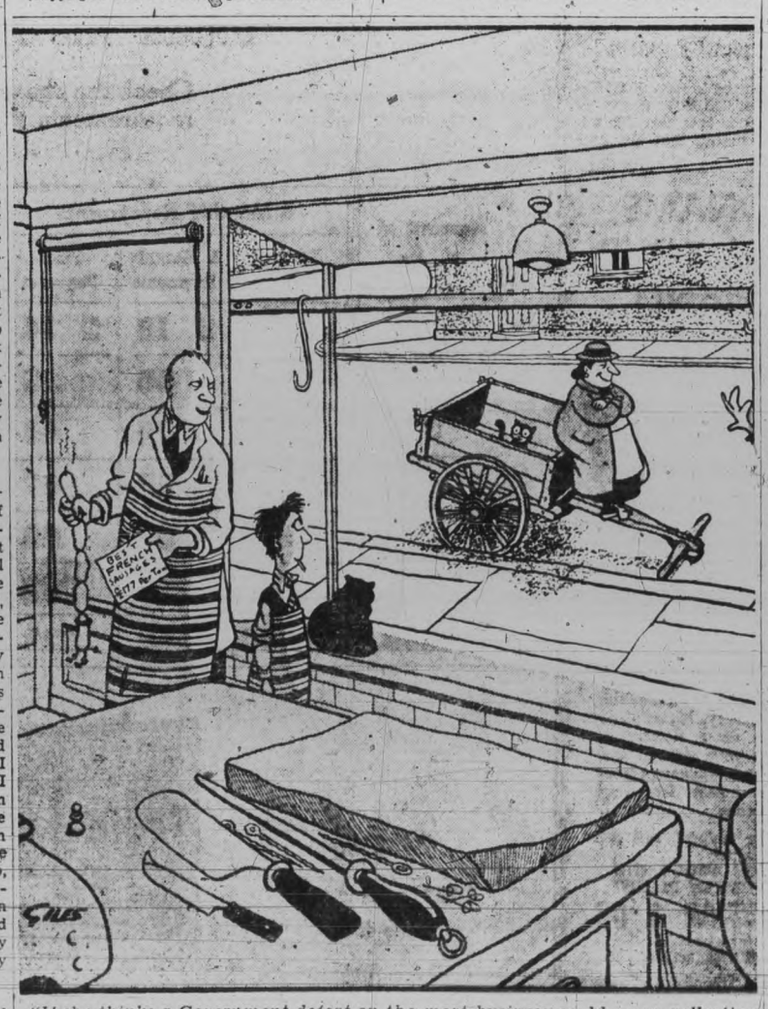
APOLOGISTS FOR RUSSIA

SIR: Recently a letter appeared from a correspondent who complained on behalf of the U.E.W. about a broadcast from station CHEX sponsored by the I.E.W. union, and a short time ago I found a copy of the "U.E. Canadian News" dated December 8 lying on the sidewalk.



The first part is the normal call for more wages, less taxes, etc. There is an article "U.E. Stands for Peace Now" urging restriction of the area of conflict, avoidance of preventative wars, and a good deal of criticism of the government, extended in an article about the "Infamous Abbott Plan." The whole is a typical news sheet with a good deal to say about "Pompous big-shots," Ever-chiselling employers, and some rather foolish phrases.

However one had to reach the back page to find the real connundrum contributed by a British delegate. Space will only permit a very scant quotation: "Workers receive full wages during the whole of the period of any illness which necessitates them staying away from work." "The visitors (Soviet workers) spoke well of the treatment they were receiving and the food that was provided. There was a choice of fifteen varieties of food, etc." "Workers in the U.S.S.R. receive one month's annual holiday on full pay."

One reads of scores of thousands of them fleeing into Germany away from this treatment. People leap out of windows, or as two men did, jump from a boat in the St. Lawrence river and drown rather than return there. I have spoken to a refugee who was there and it all adds up to the fact that Russia is a dreadful place, a ghastly place in which to live. Apologists for the U.E.W. News article will say that the foregoing is lies, but people do not commit suicide lightly, and I well remember the vibrant sincerity of the refugee to whom I spoke.

No, I think that the article in the U.E. Canadian News was propaganda put out with a sinister motive, and that unions which do not peddle such stuff should be heard from more often on the radio.

Yours truly,

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another? . . . And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were blind he gave sight.

Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached. (Luke 7: 19, 21, 22.)

* * *

And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou son of David, have mercy on us. And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said unto him, Yea, Lord.

Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you. And their eyes were opened; and Jesus straitly charged them, saying, See that no man know it. . . .

As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man possessed with a devil. And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying It was never so seen in Israel. (Matt. 9: 27-30, 32, 33.)

Progress of Peterborough: LVIII

Haliburton Biggest Lumbering Area In '70 Numerous Companies Active In District

By HOWARD PAMMETT, M.A.

According to census statistics of the timber trade, district production varied:

	1871	1881
Victoria County
Cu. ft. square pine	86,900	58,500
Cu. ft. other timber	319,000	357,000
Number of sawlogs	559,255	627,463
Peterborough County:
Cu. ft. square pine	552,000	689,000
Cu. ft. other timber	198,000	2,630,000
Number of sawlogs	574,955	1,792,667

In these figures, Peterborough totals include the 13 northern townships that joined Haliburton county 1874, and Victoria totals include three Haliburton townships. But it can be estimated that 25% in 1871 and 50% in 1881 of the Peterborough timber was cut in the Haliburton area. In addition to the above categories, there was a considerable production also in square oak, staves, shingles, lath and firewood, mostly in the south.

The number of square miles under timber licenses in Central Ontario, with Ontario license revenue in brackets, follows: 1868: 1,889 ($84,078); 1870: 1,849 ($87,784); 1875: 2,022 ($54,976); 1880: 1,456 ($100,334). On Crown lands the fee was $1.50 per M, plus a few cents a square mile ground rent; as the government was far away and scalers could be bribed sometimes, it was not unusual to cheat on the fees by false scaling. License fees and ground rents were lowered in mid-decade due to the depression, which led to a big increase in limits, declining rapidly by 1880 when fees and rents were higher. Limits were never again as extensive in Central Ontario as in the 1870s. In 1875 appalled by the reckless way forest resources were being despoiled by reckless slashing, fires, floods, etc., some of the more responsible lumber companies organized the Ontario & Quebec Lumber & Timber Association for "developing and conserving the timber resources of the country, and preventing unnecessary waste." Mossom Boyd of Bobcaygeon and John Ludgate of Peterborough were among the directors.

Dickson had about 200 sq. miles of limits north of Stony Lake, and around Minden. Ludgate & McDougall had over 100 sq. miles in Burleigh, Anstruther, Digby, Sherborne, Guilford, Stanhope & Lutterworth. The Stricklands of Lakefield had about the same amount north of Stony Lake. Ullyott & Saddler (who in 1867 bought out Campbell & Knowlson) had limits in Burleigh, Harvey, and northern townships. Rathburn & Co. had limits in Harvey, Burleigh, Methuen and on the upper waters of Indian River, later going into Haliburton. Gilmour & Co. had over 300 sq. miles in northern Haliburton townships. Boyd-Smith & Co. had over 400 sq. miles in Verulam, Harvey, Monmouth, Glamorgan, Dudley, Snowden, Eyre, Harburn, Havelock, etc. Elmhirst was cutting in Anstruther, Hall north of Buckhorn, and Brass & Co. to the north. Others who had smaller limits in Haliburton, particularly along Burnt River and its tributaries, were Smith, Hilliard, Hazlitt, Irwin, Payson, Wessell, Trudn, Mowry, etc. The three northern ranges of townships in Haliburton were all logged over and abandoned by the early 1880s.

The Canadian Land and Emigration Company report for 1872 stated: "The company continues to derive the chief portion of its income from sale of timber, payments by Mr. Boyd alone reaching the sum of $2,797 . . . The mills at Haliburton are still retained in the company's management . . . No less than 600,000 ft. lumber has been sold for building purposes . . . Mr. Boyd has purchased land of the company in Havelock township and established a farm thereon. He writes as follows: 'The operations on the Depot farm in Havelock have been very satisfactory. The soil, though of light character, proves very productive, and the crops of potatoes, turnips, hay and oats were exceedingly good. There were 2,200 bu. potatoes taken off seven acres, turnips were a good crop, and oats an extraordinary one. Now about 120 acres are under cultivation'."

The report goes on to mention the company was building a road through Dudley to Kennaway village, that it was selling Longford township to Thompson and Dodge for $12,000 after getting $20,000 for sale of timber, and that a telegraph line was approaching Haliburton village. Timber royalties averaging 30 cents a log brought the company $15,300 in 1871, compared to $3,200 for land sales. This was one year the company made a little money, just before the depression hit.

Defebaugh's "History of the Lumber Industry" 1906 listed the leading district firms in 1874:

	Production	Held Over	Logs Cut

Payson, Bigelow and Town, Port Perry	4000	1500	4500

Rathburn & Co., Belleville and Napanee	32000	8000	25000

In addition, of course, there were dozens of smaller sawmills and logging contractors, cutting for local consumption and often selling to the larger firms.

Company Depots

Each of the larger companies had one or more depots close to roads by which supplies could be sleighed in, rivers navigable by scows, and (later) close to railways. Ullyott and Sadler had a depot on Burleigh Road, lot 14, con. 6, and another at Minden. Dickson had depots at Minden and Mt. Julian. Green and Ellis of Fenelon had a depot on the site of Gooderham in Glamorgan. Jas. Irwin had one at Haliburton. Ludgate and McDougall, when they advertised their business for Sale in 1880, stated "Minden property—1 acre, 3 rds, 2 pchs—consists of a commodious boarding house, storehouses, stable, &c, and is in every way calculated for a depot from which to distribute supplies to camps in the woods to the north." Boyd had depots at Kinmount and in Harburn and Havelock townships. A Boyd Office Journal Note Aug. 9, 1878, reads: "Scow of 149 bbls. pork, 52 bags flour &c, also a car of pork to Kinmount, by rail to Little Ireland and by boat from foot of Cushog (Lake) to Haliburton, and teams to Eagle Lake and Havelock."

At the depot the superintendent had his office, assisted by a chief clerk, and a couple of logscalers and timber cruisers; these received $30 to $75 a month plus board. From the depots men and supplies were sent out to a network of shanties on the timber limits. Irwin had 10 shanties with 300-500 men in northern Haliburton. Boyd had 12 to 16 shanties scattered around his depots, each with 40 to 50 men. The other large companies had 200-750 men each in their winter cutting operations. A typical Boyd shanty was under foreman Wm. Robinson 1874-5 with 40 men, half French-Canadians; 10 choppers, 12 skidders, 5 road-cutters, 5 sawyers, 2 ox-teamsters, 2 horse-teamsters, 1 foreman, 1 clerk, 1 cook, 1 cook's helper. Wages were much the same as in the 1860s: $15-20 a month with board for most of the men, $30 for the cook and the foreman. Thus the

There would be dire times in the Kawarthas if its largest industry folded up. I am referring to the annual revenue from the tourist business in this district that brings $5,000,000 into our collective cash registers.

Unlike some businessmen who feel no need for advertising their wares because their products are selling well, Peterborough city fathers are men of long vision. They and the resort members section of the Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring a booth at the Cleveland Sportsmen's Show, March 9th to 18th. The Toronto Show is being staged at the same time. So, what's the big idea of going to the States? Because 80 per cent of our tourist dollars come from Ohio.

We are going to talk up our glittering wares to them. We are very proud of our vacation-land reputation. It is the best in the world—good accommodation, courtesy, enough fish for everyone if they abide by our laws, liberal helpings of good health.

We are not saying that we are smarter than other contemporary Ontario centres in boosting and selling our district; North Bay, Sudbury, Norfolk County and Huntsville will be in Cleveland with us. It is doubtful if they will have as good a stand as Peterborough, though, an 8 by 15-foot main-floor booth near the front entrance to the Show.

Its four experienced attendants will dish out vacation gen to all who will listen from noon until midnight for ten days. The tourist will see display panels depicting Peterborough proper, Kawarthas in general, the Trent Waterways system, and picture-proof of the Order of the Kawartha Muskie.

There are 475 resorts in the Kawarthas. Unfortunately a great many of their operators are not astute enough to belong to the resort section of the C. of C., which is prepared to sell their wares, not only at the Cleveland Show, but the year 'round. Too bad for them that they are so dull. I would hate to reveal the small percentage of active participants.

A suggestion here to tourist business groups or chambers of commerce in Lakefield, Lindsay, Bobcaygeon, Crowe Valley (Marmora) and Bancroft. How about selling YOUR wares at the Cleveland Sportsmen's Show this year? See Jim Fraser of the Peterborough C. of C. right away. Thousands of Show information-seekers would like to know all about your particular section.

If anyone questions our five-million tourist-dollar figure, look at it this way. We can accommodate 12,000 one-night visitors in the district—half of them paying $5 per night and remainder, $3, for 70 summer days. Add to this the overnighters, week-enders, summer vacation cottagers and diversified business created during any time in the twelve months, and you have it. A few weeks ago a Rice Lake operator bought $4,000 worth of cottage refrigeration from a local firm; hundreds of similar untabulated transactions like that...

This, then, is the reason why we are participating in the Cleveland Sportsmen's Show. We are just looking after our great big shiny golden nest egg.

The Trent In Newfoundland

No less than three Trent Valley Canal employees rang up to ask if I had seen a picture of their beloved workboat "Trent" in a St. John's, Newfoundland newspaper. I hadn't, but was amused to think that the picture, which originally appeared in the Examiner a few weeks ago, appealed to the editor of a city where shipping has been commonplace since Cabot's time. Must indeed be a trim craft.

A SUGGESTION to the Department of Lands and Forests, Queen's Park. Late last Spring you made an offer to Boards of Education in all provincial centres to send teachers to your educational conservation course at your Dorset School. There would have been candidates from Peterborough if your offer had been made not later than sometime in April, say. But it came too late. Teachers had already made summer plans. Could we hear something about it well in advance this year so that plans can be laid to send candidates and enable a conservation course to be laid out for Fall curricula?

Remember the Log Cabin Inn at Actinolite, 56 miles east of Peterborough along Highway 7? It was the attractive roadside restaurant where east-bound bus travellers stretched their legs and motorists stopped to view its attractive setting and to feed the caged bear, "Ted." The stone fireplace with its mill stone hearth, antique clocks and firearms set this inn aside from the others. Price brothers, owners of the establishment, closed up last Thanksgiving and tore the old building down and bus travellers have since been stopping in Madoc. A new structure has risen on the site of the old, of cement block construction, stucco-covered, and will accommodate 100 diners. The decorating scheme of the original inn is being retained in the new. "We have scoured the country and found more antiques," said Joe Price this week. "We hope to open the new place at Easter."

ANGLERS NOTE: Opening dates for certain species of game fish in the Trent district for 1951 will be as follows: speckled, brown and rainbow trout, April 28; pickerel, May 12th and lake trout, May 12th. An exception to the above in the County of Haliburton for lake trout is that fishing will commence there on April 28.

FIREMEN WHEN HEAT'S OFF

SPARE FIRE ALARM BOXES ARE REPAIRED . . . . FOLLOWED BY GAMES OF EUCHRE

Our Reporter Takes A Calculating Peep Into The Life at Fire Hall Between Firefighting

By DAVE WHITE

What does a Peterborough fireman do when he isn't actually fighting a fire?

Ask this of the average citizen and he'll reply something like this: "Well, I dunno. Sit around . . . take it easy . . . and play checkers I guess."

And this is where Joe Doakes, the fireman, would like to start swinging . . . with his axe.

"I guess the taxpayers just don't understand our job," Joe confided in the Examiner. "When we do fight fires the kibitzers tell us we do more damage than the flames, and when there are no fires they jerk their thumbs contemptuously toward the fire hall and accuse us of wearing out checkerboards. We just can't win."

But don't think Joe is down on his job. Not at all. It's just a temporary lapse into professional melancholy. Actually he's quite an optimist.

Here in Peterborough we still haven't a sub-firestation and yet Joe dreams of being ranking officer at City Fire Hall No. 5. You can't beat that for optimism.

"Well, how do you occupy your time at the fire hall, Joe," I asked.

Quick to King George

"We've got enough courses and lectures and drills, as well as the real thing, to keep us hopping," he said. "For instance what's the quickest way to get to King George?"

"That's an easy one," I chuckled, "just walk down George St. and turn west at Simcoe, and—"

"No, no. I mean the street, the street. You haven't the foggiest idea. Now it's part of our drill. We get lectures and tests on the location of streets, their corresponding street numbers, and the location of fire hydrants and alarm boxes."

"If you had half a minute to get on a rig and start out at full speed for the fire, you wouldn't have much time for looking at a road map. The location of every street has to be in here." At this point he whipped off his hat and pointed at his skull.

I conceded that this was so.

"If it was your job to drive one of the rigs—say the aerial ladder—it wouldn't do if you started off for King George street by wheeling north up Aylmer. This wrong-way Corrigan stuff may be OK for flyers and Hollywood comedians, but it doesn't go down well with our chief."

"Besides some of the citizens are likely to murmur and get troublesome if they see a rig pull up five minutes late because the driver lost his way. And when a house burns down because of a mistake they get downright nasty."

"OK, so you study streets and the location of alarm boxes and hydrants," I said. "What else?"

(By this time Joe was warming to his favorite subject. He encouraged me inside the fire hall by applying a hammerlock. And he explained that Chief George Smith has issued an invitation for any local resident to come inside, look over the premises and discuss with him any particular problem of fire prevention.)

"You see all this equipment," he said sweeping his arm about in a possessive manner, "every man has to be able to operate every rig and know where all the equipment is stored on them."

I took stock.

Ladders and Gallons

There was the 85-foot aerial ladder, hydraulically operated; a ladder truck with 398 feet of ladders on it as well as other equipment; a 1000-gallon-a-minute pumper (American); two 600 gallon pumpers; a 420 gallon pumper; a small pumper unit that can be hefted by two men and is particularly useful for bush fires; and a 16-foot skiff with outboard motor, mounted on a trailer and used for rescuing people in danger of drowning.

The pumpers all have 1,600 feet of two-and-a-half-inch hose, 200 feet of one-and-a-half-inch hose, and 300 feet of three-quarter inch hose. All have booster pumps and tanks containing between 60 and 135 gallons of water. Adjustments allow water to be pumped from the tank on the truck, pumped from a well or river, or attached to a pressure hydrant.

"You don't just sit on your fanny all day and learn to master that lot," said Joe.

"What else do you do?" I hedged.

He explained that all firemen have ladder drills. They must know how to heft the manually-operated ladders around, become perfectly free and easy on them while going up or down, and learn to carry "loaded" or "empty" hose.

The term "loaded" is fireman's jargon for hose with a full stream of water gushing from it. Because of its weight it requires the support of one arm, and that means that firemen must climb using the other only.

WATCH-ROOM BELLS . . .

. . . AND RESUSCITATOR

"I don't think you could do it," he said. "You're not strong enough."

"Tut-tut, my man. A reporter is not only strong but resourceful."

"What do you go?"

"I'm a muscular 125 pounds and I stand five feet, three and three-eighth inches."

"We've caught better fish in these Kawartha waters than that. Better stick to reporting. A fireman's job is not for you."

"Don't show me your muscles," I said. "Just explain the use of this "resuscitator."

Mask Over the Nose

With some prompting from other firemen, Joe started to point out the difference between a "resuscitator" and an "inhalator." Every member of the force must know how to use both.

The inhalator includes a mask to fit over the nose, and a pressurized bottle of carbogen—a special mixture of 93 per cent oxygen and seven per cent carbon dioxide. The motive power for breathing is supplied by artificial respiration.

It is used when people are overcome by coal-gas or other fumes; for drownings, cave-ins, and victims of heart trouble.

The resuscitator is a more complex apparatus and is favored by the firemen. It can be adapted to three different uses:

One use is as an inhalator. In the second position it supplies a proper breathing mixture from the adjacent bottle. It eliminates artificial respiration by pumping the air mixture into the lungs at the right pressure and then it reverses and draws the breath out.

The third use is as an aspirator. In this position it will draw foreign matter, such as mucous, out of the throat and thus prevent the patient from choking to death.

"It can be used on the youngest baby, without harm," Joe announced.

Grade A Fires

"Just like in hose and ladder drill, and in driving the rigs—every man must know how to do every job. That's the first law around here."

"Anything else, superman?" I said that with the faintest touch of irony. Fortunately he missed it. He had started on the extensive subject of fires and how to put them out.

To a fireman, it seems, there are three kinds of fires. Class "A" is one involving such combustibles as wood, rags and paper. Just plain, ordinary water will put that kind out.

Then there is the Class "B". It starts from oil or gas and the proper extinguisher is "foam" or "fog." Foam is the chemical CO_2, and fog is water, broken down into minute particles; hence the name.

Methods of fire control are all included in the lectures, Joe explained.

By this time I thought he was laying it on a bit thick, so I said: "Don't you ever go to bed?"

"Sure," he replied. "Take a look at this dormitory on the second floor. Twenty beds in it. The whole thing is as neat as a pin. Of course some of the bed covers are tattered. Some of the lads think it's a disgrace, but we mustn't spend the taxpayers' money on luxuries, you know."

I changed the subject: "How long does it take you to get down to your rig from here—when you're sleeping, that is?"

Pants in Boots

"Well we sleep in our underwear and stockings. When we hear the bell go we jump into our rubber boots that have the pants already placed in them and folded inside out over the top of the boots. That means we're into pants and boots at one jump. As we head for the brass pole we adjust our braces. And our coats, helmets and belts are on the rig."

"We can be in position and ready to go inside 30 seconds."

Joe recalled a record run, some time ago. The men received the alarm, reached the alarm box at Aylmer and McDonnel Sts., ran out three lengths of hose and had the water on inside two minutes.

"That takes training, and you don't get it playing checkers or lounging around in an easy chair," said Joe, once more assuming the air of a professional man much-misunderstood by the public.

"OK . . . OK . . . so you have a tough job, and you can't even sleep in peace. But you're not on duty 24 hours of the day. You must play checkers or something, sometime."

"C'mere," he said sadly. "I want to show you something."

Rubber Ice Floor

We ascended the stairs of the old building to what used to be the attic. It looked like a firetrap to me.

"This is our kitchen and what we laughingly refer to as our recreation room," he said.

I took a step forward and nearly retreated down the stairs again. The old wooden floor gave like rubber ice. Only experienced firemen can cross it without trepidations.

"Now see how the firemen enjoy themselves in the lap of luxury," he jeered. "Look around you."

Four of them were having a quiet game of cards in the corner. There was no money on the table. That's forbidden. In fact even cards, dominoes and hop-scotch are barred on Sunday. Ontario's bluenose element long ago saw to that and its a standard prohibition throughout the province.

"Haven't you a billiard table," I asked.

"Could you have a billiard table on a give-away floor like that?" That ended that.

One of the firemen mentioned that there was a carpetball outfit somewhere around, but he didn't know where, and anyway the floor was no good.

"Well Joe," I said determinedly, "you haven't a billiard table, a tennis table, a dart board; no easy chairs—but you must have a game of checkers.

"OK," said Joe, producing a board, "but we'll have to use cardboard markers. We haven't got a full set of men."

As I left the fire hall, a disillusioned man, Joe whispered to me: "Come back again sometime, relax in the easy chairs and . . . have your game of checkers."

Lindsay Puckists Get Win Against Oddfellows, 7 to 6

Lindsay Kinsmen edged Oddfellows 7-6 last night in the final junior "B" hockey struggle of the season prior to play-offs in a hard-fought game from start to finish. Nearly 1600 fans thrilled at the fast play as the two strong clubs gave a preview of what fans may expect should these teams clash in play-offs.

Oddfellows took an early lead in the first period as Jim Morrow tallied on a fine close-in rush with Dean West and Ken Floyd who took the injured Bob Wyatt's place on right wing. Army Armstrong made it two as he banged home a long pass out to the right blue line through a maze of legs. Kinsmen fought back as Powell combined with Schinkel and Sinclair to score in a scramble. Two more hard-earned markers by Sinclair and Dysart gave Kinsmen a temporary lead but Dean West, who played a fine game throughout, rapped home the tying goal near period's end from Morrow with Green and Walling) in the sin bin.

Turn On Heat

Bun Kingdon's lads turned on the heat in the second frame to earn a good edge in play and scored the only marker midway in the session as Bill Stewart backhanded a pass from the Robinson brothers directly in front of the net past McGuire and the fans went wild. Eight penalties were meted out by Referee Wilson as play roughned up and tempers flared but they kept the battle under control.

Arnold Karrys sparked Kinsmen in the fast final frame as the Mitchell crew put on a rally to eke out the margin of victory. His goal from Corby after Lucas had sizzled a hard drive past Wasson early in the chapter to tie the score put his team ahead while his final tally from Baker on a fast two-man rush ensured a hard-earned victory in a game packed with action. Links missed their ace right-winger Wyatt but his mates came through nobly to score seven points and bring their season's total to 101 points as a line. Morrow and West each scored, the former getting two assists and the latter three in a fine display. Ken Floyd turned in a master chore scoring one goal and assisting once. Armstrong, Stewart and Buckton rapped home the other Link markers with the Robinson brothers each getting an assist.

Eagles Beaten By Nylons In Senior Tilt

KINGSTON, Feb. 17—Kingston Nylons' pursuit of second place in the OHA Senior "B" group standings continued unabated in the Harty Arena last night when the speeding locals shot down the Eagles by 7 to 3 and moved to within five points of the coveted runner-up booth. Nylons who have three more games to play, two of them four pointers against the lowly Queen's University Combines, will by winning them all oust the Eagles and qualify for an Allan Cup elimination round against the Petes who, despite their amazing 9 to 0 reverse sustained in Ganmoque last night, are still firmly lodged on the top rung of the ladder.

Possession of first place in the final roundup is still mathematically open to the Petes, Eagles and Nylons, but the present leaders could settle all arguments by collecting three of a possible six points in their last three games.

Minute Silence

Nearly 1,200 fans were on hand in the Harty Arena when "a minute's silense" was observed in paying respect to the memory of Alfie Pierce, famous mascot of Tricolor hockey and football teams. Nylons, forcing the issue from the start, made the faltering and wandering Eagles' defence resemble a sieve when they roared in to rack up five goals without a reply in the first period.

The checking was close in the final period and it wasn't until the 18.25 mark that Armstrong scored the lone goal of the session after Kenny Potts and Freddy Harrison had built up the attack. The Eagles made desperate efforts to rally in this round but were balked by fine defensive play with Goalie Glyn Udall and Eddie Plumb the shining stars.

McKeown again paced the point getters on both teams with two goals and an assist but Gerow and Armstrong of Nylons, and Greenlaw of the Eagles were just a shade in arrears, each with two well-earned goals.

Referee Shannon from Marmora imposed only six penalties and Nylons drew four of them. All infringements were in minor category and none of the visitors sentences had any bearing on the goal-getting.

Teams:

Eagles: Goal, Nicholls; defence, Montgomery and Burns; centre, Rochetta; wings, Munroe and Lalonde; alternates, Crowley, Vitarelli, Milne, D. Mortimer, F. Mortimer, Hill, Stewart and Greenlaw.

Nylons: Goal, Udall; defence, Patterson and Plumb; centre, Partis; wings, Gerow and Catlin; alternates, Watts, Murphy, McKeown, Aitken, Joyce, Harrison, Armstrong and Potts.

Referee, W. Shannon; linesman, Stan Scrutton.

Summary:

First Period

Nylons—Gerow (Catlin) ... 1:12
Nylons—Joyce (McKeown) ... 3:47
Nylons—McKeown (Joyce, Aitken) ... 11:30

Nylons—Gerow (Catlin) ... 19:20

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 17 (ENS)—The Lakefield Merchants trimmed Millbrook 10-6 in a lively EPL puck fray last night. SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Wrestling fans get a break this week at the Rue Brock palais de bump when the Masked Marvel tangles with Lord Athol Layton in the main mat bout. Both have been undefeated to date, and something will have to give. His ludship appears to have much too much for the villainous hooded one, and if the latter loses he must unmask. That would be the finish of him in these parts. No doubt, he'll give the huge and handsome Britisher a rough go of it. Pat Flanagan faces Hi Lee (if he stands on a bucket) in the semi-final, and that's a tough job for the Flan. Sonny Kurgis meets Jack Wentworth in the prelim. Kurgis is an American college guy who had three years of European war service. The card ought to draw well.

Results of basketball games around and about should be in elsewhere. While Clappers Bruins are off to Hamilton tonight to open a stiff OABA intermediate "A" series, the local Marines are at the YMCA at 8.30 this gloaming to wind up their first OABA intermediate "B" series. Should knock Belleville out of the race, having a 19-point lead from the first game. However, the Quinte scribe points out that three of the Belleville aces were missing that game and adds that "they feel they can scuttle the Marines" in the return fixture. Quite a chore, chum. Yes, indeed.

Mayor Puts Up Trophy

Mayor Max Swanston is putting up an annual trophy for the fastest-skating hockey player in the city or district, from junior age up. You'll recall that quite an argument developed last year and a race was finally run off at a big hockey evening — proceeds going to aid minor hockey here. Bill McMaster won it when two faster guys, in our opinion, (Murray Fife and Bill Crowley) fell during the tests. Joe Blewett, Keith Montgomery and some more were others who had a big following in the winter arguments. Anyway, the PMHA officers plan another such race about March the middle for fast skaters carrying a puck, the trophy and good prizes being put up. Apply to President Les Mountney or to Arn Olmstead, the vice-prexy, if interested.

* * * * * *

If we may add our two bits' worth, we'd suggest that a game be staged that PMHA night, even a 20-minute tilt between Oldtime Petes and the junior "B" Oddfellows. With the promotion of minor hockey as the object. Get such chaps out as Jack Gardner, Jim Ellis, Red Creighton, Jack and Drake Joplinng, Art Heal, Bun Kingdon, Honey Tompkins, Ray Harding, Don Crowe, Archie Weir and a few more. Many of these chaps played a practise game with the IOOF-ers at Christmas, losing a close verdict to the juniors. They think at full strength they'd take the kids. It would be a good game and might attract a lot of fans. Just an idea.

Gananoque Plays Petes

While we won't deal at any length today with the OHA senior "B" games staged last night, we'd better mention the setup for the first half of next week. Gananoque play the Petes at 8.30 Monday night in Civic Arena, the second and final appearance of the Gans here this semester. They played a single inter-locking schedule with the other teams, so this game finishes 'em up on local ice. Might or might not be a rousing struggle, who knows? But excitement is mounting as the schedule nears a finish with three club of the top four still jockeying for playoff positions, and that should bring out a goodly crowd. Later in the week, the Petes and Eagles tangle in another important number.

* * * * * *

Lindsay Kinsmen took an unbreakable grip on first place to wind up the OHA junior "B" schedule here as they jerked out a 7-6 win o'er Bun Kingdon's battling Oddfellows. Nearly 1600 fans—the largest junior crowd here in years—viewed a fine fray as both sides hustled every minute. It was speedy, rugged and with some good hockey shown between the well-matched clubs, and they are quite likely to be tangling shortly again in playoffs. The Kin crew play a rather rugged brand of hockey but the IOOF-ers don't back up at any time, believing the old saying that your opponent only has two arms and two legs just the same as you. They certainly serve up crowd-pleasing hockey, and that's why they're drawing the customers.

Dealing 'Em Off Cuff

Don't forget the big ski meet for the lasses at Bethany on Sunday aft... Nor the ice carnival this e'en by Trojan AC at Turner Park; lots of fun, music and prizes, we're informed... King George seniors of the school puck circuit plays Confederation after four Monday in the arena... Keene is at Lakefield on Tuesday in an EPHL number, the schedule ending up in Millbrook and Keene on Wednesday... No word yet as to their playoff arrangements... NHL scoring champs for the past five years were: Max Bentley of Chi in 1946 and 1947, Elmer Lach of Canadiens in '48, Roy Conacher of the Hawks in 1949 and Ted Lindsay of Detroit just about a year ago... Apsley and Buckhorn meet now in Haywire Hockey League finals... PCVS junior girls took their fifth straight cage win by downing Bowmanville 20-16, whilst the local senior lasses lost to the Bowman Villa belles 21-16 in a right tidy basketball tussle... Lindsay colleens at the YW won a 13-10 game o'er CGE as Black's forfeited their fixture to the leading Neill's crew... PCVS rubbed out Oshawa Central handily in the senior "A" boys' game down at Port Hope... St. Peter's seniors hoopsters won a nice 25-24 loop tilt o'er St. Mike's in Toronto... Petes' puckists absorbed a thorough trouncing in Gananoque, whilst Nylons were trimming the Eagles... Alas, what a screwy circuit!

Petes Blanked By Gans In Puck Upset

GANANOQUE, Feb. 7 — The lightly - regarded intermediate Gans humbled the vaunted pace-setting Petes 9-0 in an OHA Senior 'B" tilt here last night. It was a stunning upset and judging from bench comments, rather a bitter pill for the front-running Petes to swallow.

The visitors were clearly outskated, outchecked, outsmarted, outshot, and in short made to look like jittery juveniles. On only a handful of sorties did they dangerously threaten Goalie Norm Parish's citadel, and then he rose to stellar heights to hold them at bay.

The Petes were minus the services of three of their big guns—Wade, Tompkins and Horton. But their absence didn't account for the visitors' obvious inferiority. On the play, from opening whistle to final horn, the Gans were full value, for their 9-0 margin. They might have been over their heads, but Bill Hastie's galloping gaters showed a brand of hockey that was just too good for the baffled Petes.

No Cheap Goals

It was play-off hockey and the crowd was pleased all the way. None of the goals were of the "cheap" variety. But rather came off sparkling passing plays or brilliant solo dashes. Only two penalties were handed out, one to Woodman for elbowing in the second and the other to Fryia near the close of the same period. Fryia's was a double header, two minutes for boarding and two for high sticking, served consecutively.

High flying Elmer Steele rattled in three goals and drew an assist to tie for point-potting honors with Bing Jackson, the latter compiling four assists. Burly defence artist Neil McCarney turned in a whale of a game throughout the piece, and notched himself a brace of counters and an assist. Defenceman Grant, McIntosh also sniped a pair of goals, while Tommy Tindal tipped in one and aided on two and Doug Harper scored a single. Parrish played a flawless game between the pipes for Gan, and in the final torrid stanza particularly, was no less than sensational in keeping his net clear of rubber.

Dugan, Mason, Garvey and Floyd were the pick of the Petes. Ray Harding in goal, despite the nine he fanned on, turned aside a veritable barrage of flying discs in all three chukkers.

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Jopling and E. Leonard; centre, Dugan; wings, Collins and Mason; alternates, G. Leonard, Fryia, Mortimer, Garvey, West and Floyd.

Gananoque: Goal, Parrish; defence, McCarney and McIntosh; centre, Anderson; wings, Harper and Fair; alternates, Tindal, Steele, Jackson, Woodman, Hastie, Brown and Grue.

Referee, Art Casterton, Kingston; linesman: Tarzan Ford, Gananoque.

Lindsay Edges CGE In Clean Cage Tilt

In the lowest scoring game this season in the Girls' City League basketball at the YWCA Friday night the Lindsay Merchants, formerly the Grads, edged the CGE lasses 13-10. Black's failed to have a team at game-time in the other tilt and forfeited to Neill's who have a firm grip on first place.

The Merchants took a slim 2-0 lead in the first quarter after Shirley Algar sank the ball early. Both teams rallied briefly in the second half. Shirley Meath, D. Jardine and D. Copp dropped in a field basket each to run the Merchant score to eight. Barbara Luther and Dot Jackson chalked up four points for the CGE'ers.

Came Close

Isobel Green scored four points and D. Copp a foul shot in the third quarter for the Merchants as they edged the factory girls 5-3. J. Fletcher drifted in a basket and Betty Barry a foul shot for CGE. The Peterborough girls rallied a second time in the final quarter for three points by Barbara Luther and M. Hodson to fall short of a win by four points.

Top scorers in the game were Barbara Luther for CGE and Isobel Green for Merchants, each with four points. Referee Dick Burrows awarded only 14 foul shots in the cleanly-played contest with 10 personals called against the Merchants. The CGE lasses counted on only two of the 10 attempts while Merchants came through only once.

Lineups:

Lindsay Merchants (13) — Meath 2, Algar 2, Green 4, Jardine 2, Copp 3, Cullis, Craine.

CGE (10)—Luther 4, Barry 1, Jackson 2, Hodson 1, Fletcher 2, Nixon.

Toronto Marlboros Swamp Kitchener Dutchmen 8-3

By The Canadian Press.

Second-place Toronto Marlboros swamped Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen 8-3 Friday night in an Ontario Hockey Association major series tilt that did everything but lock the cellar door on the Krauts.

The Dutchmen trail Hamilton by six points.

Scotty Mair, Bud Kemp and Al Buchanan rapped home two goals each, with Eddie Stankiewicz and Bill Johnson adding a brace. The visitors' one hope faded after Bobby Wrightsell was injured in the second period and taken to hospital with concussion. Wrightsell had registered twice for K-W, Dinny Flanagan getting the third.

In OHA Junior A events Windsor Spitfires easily retained first place by downing Waterloo Hurricanes 6-1 to remain one point up on Barrie Flyers, victors over Toronto Marlboros 3-0.

St. Catharines Teepees blasted Galt Black Hawks 6-3, Stratford Kroehlers took Toronto St. Michael's 7-3, and Guelph Biltmores—minus four regulars due to flu—walloped Oshawa Generals 10-5.

Never In Danger

With a three-goal surge by Erwin Grosse, Spitfires were never in danger as they whipped Hurricanes for the sixth time. Jim Anderson, Eddie Joss and John Offidani completed the rout, Paul Oliver getting Hurricanes' lone marker.

Flyers bested Marlboros in a hard-hitting battle by virtue of two tallies by Leo Labine and one by Jack White.

In St. Catharines, Skip Teal tripled, Pierre Pilot doubled and Buddy Boone connected once for Teepees, Garth Boyce, Jack Gill and Len Hogan answering for Hawks.

Kroehlers' George Aitken with three was aided by the solo efforts of Bob Bailey, Gord Nudds, John Woods, and Bob Armstrong. For the Irish, Ed Plata, Murray Costello and Jack Weldrake bellied Kroehler nets.

Lead Attack

With three goals each, Ken Laufman and Ron Murphy led Biltmores' onslaught, backed by two each by Chuck Henderson and Deen Prentice. Generals' Alex Delvecchio answered with two, Herv Dejordy, Ted O'Connor and Lou Jankowski with singles.

Laufman's spree landed him back in front in the individual scoring race, although teammates Herb Dickenson and Mid Houghton ended on the injured list.

What Happened To Paddy Young. Floored 5 Times By Second Round

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Feb. 17—(AP)—What happened to Paddy Young?

Usually punches bounce off Paddy like rain on a tin roof. Friday night the once-durable punch absorber was floored five times and stopped by young Eugene Hairston in 2.57 of the second round of their Madison Square Garden bout.

"The punch to the kidney in the first was terrific," said Paddy. "It knocked the breath out of me. I never got my breath back."

"Hard," said Hairston, once a deaf-mute who slowly is learning to mouth words. He swept his left in a menacing hook to show how he threw the punch. His manager, Mike Miele, said he learned it from the late Marcel Cerdan.

"Boo, boo," roared the small crowd of 6,154 that paid $20,732 to see the brief bout. There were enough boys to account for a sell-out. The customers couldn't believe their eyes seeing Young doing the elevator act—up and down five times in less than six minutes.

Paddy went down twice in the first and three times in the second. After the third knockdown in the same round, referee Ruby Goldstein automatically stopped the bout. That is the New York rule for non-title fights.

Not Sure

Goldstein looked sharply at Young after he went down for the second time in the second.

"Are you hurt or trying to quit?" he said.

"I'm fighting," Paddy replied.

"If you quit on me," warned Goldstein, "I'll have you suspended for life."

Young mumbled something like "What in hell do you think I'm doing down here?"

Ruby let it go on until another knockdown brought the automatic ending.

Dan Dowd, executive secretary of the New York State Atheltic Commission, questioned Young about the knockdowns after the bout. He also talked to Hairston through his manager, Mike Miele. After consulting the refreee, both judges, two commission doctors and many boxing men, Dowd said he was convinced the punch that started Young in the first was a "left hand below the ribs."

Don't Plan Investigation

Asked if he plans further investigation, Dowd said: "I see no reason. Do you? Ast far as I'm concerned the fight was stopped by the three-knockdown rule."

Eddie Fagan, commission chairman, said he saw nothing wrong with the bout. He was a ringside spectator.

"I have no information this was anything but an honest bout," said Eagan. "If there is any information that it was not, the commission certainly will look into it."

Like many ringsiders, Eagan did not see the blow that floored Paddy for the first time. Many of the writers didn't see it either. The knockdown seemed to come some five or six seconds after a body punch.

Injury-Riddled Leafs Play Hot Rangers

By The Canadian Press

Manhattan's surging Rangers get a chance to tighten their grip on third spot in the National Hockey League standings this weekend.

Rangers, flushed with a three-straight victory skein and currently one of the hottest clubs in the league, play Toronto's injury-hit Maple Leafs twice to fill out exactly half of the weekend engagements in hockey's major loop.

Coach Neil Colville's boys are in Toronto for tonight' tilt and play host to Leafs back in New York Sunday. Other games pit the pace-setting Detroit Red Wings against Montreal Canadiens Saturday in Chicago and the hapless Chicago Black Hawks against Boston Bruins in Chicago Sunday.

Leafs, firmly entrenched in second place with 70 points—21 ahead of Rangers—added strength for the stretch run Friday by signing high-scoring Bobby Hassard from their Toronto Marlboros amateur farm club. Hassard, smooth-skating centre, is leading point-getter for Marlboros of the Ontario major league. He replaces Johnny (Goose) McCormack, out for at least three weeks with a shoulder separation.

Also In Hospital

Also on the Toronto Hospital list are Jim Thomson with an injured wrist, and Gus Mortson, sporting a swollen ankle. Both, however, are expected to see action during the weekend as Leafs try to cut down Detroit's six-point margin.

Saturday will be Richard night at the Montreal forum for the famous rocket of the Canadiens. The starry right winger will receive an array of gifts—$7,000 worth—in a brief ceremony between the first and second periods of the game against Detroit.

The gifts, highlighted by a 1951 car, come from contributions of hockey fans and sport figures alike.

CLEAN SWEEP—Veteran Frank Stack gets a mitt over the line to edge fellow Winnipegger Gordon Audley in the 880-yd. event of the senior men's competition of the Canadian speedskating championships in Winnipeg. The win gave Stack a clean sweep of all events in senior ranks—and the Canadian title. Audley was runner-up.

Defenceman Has No Fracture

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP). — X-ray tests showed Friday that Jim Thomson, Toronto Maple Leaf defenceman, suffered no fracture when his hand was injured in a Toronto-Montreal National Hockey League game on Thursday night.

Coach Joe Primeau said an examination at noon today would determine whether Thomson plays against New York Rangers here tonight.

Johnny (Goose) McCormack, lanky centre who showed up with a shoulder injury when recalled from Pittsburgh Hornets of the American League this week, will be out 3 weeks, Primeau said.

Trapper Wins Derby

THE PAS, Man., Feb. 17 (CP) —A hardy Indian trapper with an appropriate name drove his tough team of huskies to a popular win Friday in the annual 144-mile Canadian open dog race. Joe Highway, 44-year-old trapper from far-north Brochet, Man., covered the rugged course from here to Cranberry Portage and back in running time of 16 hours, 49 minutes and 50 seconds.

Church Missions Big Help In Aiding Korean Homeless

By CINTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK —(AP)— Christian missions are proving their worth dramatically in war-torn Korea.

Dr. John Thompson Peters, representing the Interdenominational National Council of Churches of Christ, recently surveyed Korean relief needs and returned heartened and inspired by the church work in progress among millions of homeless.

"The women among the missionary families were returned to Japan at the beginning of trouble," Dr. Peters said, "but most of the men stayed—except those who were too old or in poor health. We found these men leaders of large groups of nationals. They gathered their people together, moved them in groups south when necessary, distributed supplies and acted as liaison between the Koreans and the military establishment.

Great Spirit

"The people themselves are continuing to gather for worship —out of doors when necessary. We were distressed to see the destruction of property—missions, churches, schools and hospitals—but we were immeasurably impressed by the faith and spirit of these Christians in a time of peril and serious physical need."

Throughout the period of Red domination north of the 38th parallel the Communists worked systematically to discourage and stamp out Christian religious activity.

"The Communists killed off the Christian leaders—most of them Nationals," Dr. Peters said. "In Pyengyang, for instance, we know that 80 per cent of the pastors were killed — 35 presbyterian pastors, 12 Methodist pastors and six Roman Catholics."

Various methods were used in the drive to eliminate Christianity. Schoolchildren, for instance, were kept in their day schools all Christmas Eve and night to prevent their attending religious exercises. A pledge of allegiance to the Communist government was required. Those who refused to sign were "liquidated," Dr. Peters said.

Given Red Teachers

"In Pyengyang, where a theological seminary flourished, the Communists put Red teachers on the staff with the regular teachers," he continued.

"There were 600 students at the seminary last May. When they sought to have them sign the oath of allegiance, 480 of the students walked into the hills and became guerrilla fighters. The Christianity of these people is a strong, living force."

During the Lenten season starting Feb. 11, 22 denominational groups of the Protestant Church, under the banner of the United Appeal for Christian Service, will collect, at church services, special funds to carry on relief work among refugees. No goal has been set, but it is hoped the campaign will bring in close to $10,000,000 —most of which will go to helping Korean refugees.

4,000,000 Refugees

Dr. Peters said that there were between four and five million refugees in South Korea—many of them North Koreans who managed to escape south of the parallel during the month or so of the successful Allied drive.

"Most of the relief work among the refugees is undertaken by the military, under United Nations direction," Dr. Peters explained.

"At the outset of the war, our missionaries were distributing supplies—cotton, blankets, food, medical supplies—from our stockpiles in Korea and in Japan. Now one of the big needs for the Korean refugees is money. There were good crops in Korea this year, and they were able to harvest much of it. There is food in South Korea if there is money to buy it."

Jesus, Human And Divine

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

The humanity of Jesus is clearly manifested and emphasized throughout the Four Gospels, even in the Gospel of John, which, in its prologue, asserts most fully His eternal and divine nature. The Word was in the beginning, "and the Word was with God, and the Word was God."

But Jesus of Nazareth was the Word made flesh, dwelling among men (John 1:14). This is the doctrine of the Incarnation, and it would have no reality, if the divine Word did not truly become man.

So, in the Gospel story we see Jesus sharing our common human life. He knew weariness and needed rest; He hungered; once He asked a Samaritan woman for a drink.

He felt the spiritual need of prayer, and in difficult days He went into a mountain and continued all night in prayer. Both the Gospel records and the Epistle to the Hebrews tell how He was subject to temptation, "in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin."

That "like as we are" is significant. It was only after He had conquered that the angels came and ministered unto Him. Matthew 4:11).

We miss the true relationship of the earthly life of Jesus to us, and our relationship to Him, if we do not grasp and realize the fact of His true humanity. But it is likewise necessary to see how it was in that earthly life that His divinity was revealed. It is in living with Him, as the disciples lived with Him, that we, too, shall feel the power and glory of the Christ.

It is possible, I believe, to live with Him in human fellowship as well as in spiritual communion, to know the Man, Christ Jesus, as well as the divine Lord.

We can so live in the Gospels, walking with Jesus and the disciples along the seashore, on the mountain, among the multitudes, in flowery fields and quiet places, among His friends.

We can have His comforting presence in homes of doubtful, questioning Pharisees with other questioners who came by night, in the tragic scenes leading to the Cross, and the triumphant experiences of the Resurrection.

In such a way can the wonderful life and the wonderful story become as real to us, and much more significant and engrossing than the incidents and environment of daily life.

That the noblest Christians have so known Jesus and lived with Him is evident in many life histories. The imitation of Christ, the following of the example of the Master, has given many an example of love and service in which humanity has attained its greatest height.

In contrast to that glory of Christian living is the denial of God in the mass of evil, hatred, and violence in the world.

If men everywhere had the knowledge of God, if they knew the Gospels, and the Jesus Christ of the Gospels, the greatest hope of a better world would be realized. Yet how few think of the Gospel as the greatest weapon of hope and security!

KIRKLAND LAKE, —(CP)— Favorable conditions of the spring market for dressed lumber have prompted some local lumber dealers to double their cut compared with last year. Majority of lumber cut here goes to market in Toronto, Montreal and New York.

Long Title

RIBSTONE, Alta. — (CP) — Residents of this central Alberta town are fortunate the early white settlers translated the name of the place from Cree to English. Otherwise mail would have to be addressed to "As-sin-kos-pikégan-it, Alta."

Expect Steel May Delay Four Projects

New Restrictions Likely Delay Federal Building

Ottawa's drastic curtailment of the use of steel may affect four building projects in Peterborough. They are the new masonic hall, federal building, memorial centre, and the new collegiate.

In no case is the prospective buildings past the plan stage, so architects have not tried to contract for steel. And until this stage is reached they won't know for sure how they stand.

Ross Dobbin said he had no definite word on whether or not steel could be obtained for the new masonic hall, to be built on the old Hamilton property, Rubidge St.

"If we can't use steel we'll have to get along with wood," he said. "But no final decision has been made."

Homes and Hospitals

The new restrictions, announced by Trade Minister Howe, apply to amusement construction and almost all other types of civilian building, excluding home and hospital construction, and the oil industry.

Mr. Howe explained this restrictive order: "Those who contemplate construction projects which do not relate closely to our defence effort should not commit themselves to building operations unless they have the steel and other building materials, or know where they can be obtained. It would be unfortunate for those concerned, and a waste of valuable labor and materials, for projects to be started and then held up indefinitely for lack of some vital material."

Has Heard Nothing

"Dit" Clapper, Liberal candidate at the last federal election and one of those trying hardest for work to begin on the federal building here, doesn't know how the steel shortage will affect that project.

He has no official word. On this subject he's like the late Will Rogers. He only knows what he reads in the newspapers.

Joe Jebson, chairman of the memorial centre committee, is also in the dark.

"I see they're going ahead with plans to build the hockey Hall of Fame in Kingston," he said. "It seems to me our memorial centre is more important than anything like that."

School May Go Ahead

"Until we get to the stage where we ask for prices we just dont know." That was the comment of K. S. Wightman, referring to possible difficulties in getting steel for the new collegiate, Monaghan road south.

However it is thought unlikely that the federal government would block construction of so important a building. Delays are likely but steel should be available.

Wooden beams will likely be the supports at the proposed four-room addition to Grove school. The addition is on the second storey and laminated-wood beams are considered sufficiently strong.

Castleton Man Sleeps In Barn, Residents Fear He Will Freeze To Death, Refuses Work

COBOURG, Feb. 7 (ENS). — Garnet Stillman of Castleton, who has been sleeping in barns at Castleton, was remanded out of custody for one week and told to get a job and a boarding house by next Friday, when he appeared before Magistrate R. B. Baxter Friday on a vagrancy charge. Crown Attorney Harry Deyman said that Stillman was sleeping in a barn and getting his groceries at a store and eating his lunch in the store. However, he was sleeping on a couch in the barn, with only his overcoat to cover him. Residents in the community were afraid he would freeze.

"In this country, if a man wants to freeze to death it is his business, so long as he does not interfere with the rights of others," said Mr. Deyman, "but the people were worried about him. He turned down $20 a month and his keep to look after some cattle and he does not want to go to the counties' home for the aged," Mr. Deyman said.

"I'll give you until next Friday to get a job and a proper place to stay," said the magistrate.

Disease And Poverty Said Seedbeds For Communism

Conditions of disease and poverty are the primary seedbeds for communism, Hartley Fowler, world service secretary of the YMCA's national council, told members of the Friday Night Supper Club and the Y's Men's Club Friday night.

He said that such conditions have made it easy for communism to gain a foothold in many countries, and that communism made its greatest advances in North America during the depression.

How Other Half Lives

"All the world loves youth," he said. "But in Canada today we don't realize how the other half of world youth lives."

The youth of other countries is frustrated. They are either unable to do things or afraid to do them, he declared.

Problems caused by poverty and disease and communism can be erased not only by keeping the military forces of the western powers strong, but also by giving cultural and technical assistance "running into billions of dollars" to other countries.

Youth Needs Faith

Faith is one of the greatest needs of the youth in other lands, he said, and our countries can supply that faith. "'Man does not live by bread alone'—that is the stone on which communism will crack," said Mr. Fowler.

"At the heart of the present hot and cold war stands youth. They are most affected by the changing conditions of this world."

Mr. Fowler dealt briefly with the Korean war, which he said was the result of more than 100 years' conflict—direct and indirect—with the western world.

Conflicts Traced

He traced the conflict of the Tai-Ping rebellion in the middle 1800's, through the Boxer rebellion in which 30,000 foreigners were killed, through the Japanese war to the present time.

Mr. Fowler was introduced by Y's Men president Jack Richardson and thanked by Don Armstrong of the Friday Night Supper Club.

LEVEL-CROSSING ACCIDENT

Nobody was injured when a car with five occupants early today collided with a freight train at the Pontypool CPR crossing. It is believed the driver, a Bowmanville man, applied his brakes but skidded on the highway and slid into the freight that was just pulling off a siding. The front of the car was damaged. Provincial Constable Hardy of Bowmanville investigated.

Aged Couple Bed-ridden Saved In Fire

Provincial Constable, Passing Baker Rescue Brighton Pair

BRIGHTON, Feb. 17 — Two bedridden octogenarians were dragged from their burning home here Friday by a Provincial Police corporal and a passing baker seconds before they were overcome by smoke.

Cpl. Harry Caldwell of the Brighton OPP detachment, said later that he and Burton Seaborn, Brighton baker, were lucky to get Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Eddy, aged 80 and 84 years, from their home alive.

"The smoke inside was so thick we had to feel our way to where Mr. Eddy was lying on the second floor landing," Cpl. Caldwell said. "We could not breathe inside, and had to hold our breaths while we brought him out."

After rescuing Mr. Eddy, Caldwell and Seaborn carried Mrs. Eddy from her downstairs bedroom to safety. Both elderly people were turned over to neighbors' care, and later moved to the home of a niece in Grafton. Neither was seriously hurt.

The $3,000 fire resulted from an overheated pipe and broke out between the first and second floors, smouldering there for some time before bursting into roaring flames. The house was nearly demolished by the time volunteer firemen had the blaze under control.

The alarm was turned in by the Eddys' niece, who was washing dishes in the kitchen when she noticed the smoke. Both elderly people had been almost completely bedridden for some time.

Girl Slapped Man Is Held

Harold (Huck) Frost, 36, 550 Sherbrooke St., is in jail today waiting to be charged following the slapping of a girl after a dance early this morning, police said.

The story told to police was that two girls called for a taxi after a dance late Friday night. When it came they got into the back seat of the cab. Just as they climbed in, Frost came out of the dance hall and got into the back seat with them.

The girls did not know Frost and so moved into the front seat with the driver. The cab started away and was travelling on Park St. when Frost reached from the back seat and tried to pull one of the girls into the back seat with him.

When she resisted, he slapped her several times on the face. Up until then the taxi driver, Clare Carroll, thought the girl had been at the dance with Frost.

When they told him they did not know Frost, the cab driver drove to the police station. Outside the police station, Frost got out and started to walk down Simcoe St.

Constable John Morrow went after him and brought him back. Police said when they searched Frost they found a part bottle of whisky in his pocket.

Police are waiting to consult the crown attorney before laying any charges against Frost.

BUSY WEEK

Busy Peterborough people have taken up so many evenings on this month of February that almost surely two important meetings must fall on the same date. Two of wide public interest have clashed on plans for this coming Thursday evening, February 22. A compromise was made by each, the YWCA setting their dinner meeting ahead to six o'clock, and the Brotherhood committee changing time of their meeting to 8.30. A strict schedule will be adhered to at the Y and it is hoped to end the meeting in time that both can be attended.

Struck By Car Left On Road

Dan Costello, 168 Morrow St., told police that he had been hit by a car while he was walking on Orpington Rd. sometime after midnight Friday night.

He said the driver of the old model car which hit him, stopped and looked at him. The driver said "I guess you're not hurt," and drove on.

Constable Douglas Farthing said the man was bleeding from the nose and a cut on his hand. He was ordered to St. Joseph's Hospital by Dr. J. M. O'Brien to be patched up.

Police said Costello had been drinking and was unable to point out just where he had been hit by the car.

Sheer Ice Ties All Traffic, Bus 2 Hrs. Late

An unexpected mild spell, then a quick freeze, combined early today to practically tie up motor traffic and reduce pedestrian speed to a cautious shuffle.

Peterborough streets were a glaze of ice, and remained so until about 8:30 a.m.

Buses were nearly two hours late.

"It was impossible to turn a wheel," said Arthur Lewis of the Peterborough bus lines.

Bus drivers, standing beside their immobile vehicles, chaffed their customers as they had to pick their own way over the sheer ice of Hunter St. bridge.

Sander at 7:45 a.m.

At 7:45 a.m. the city sander went over the bridge and the buses began to circulate along their regular routes.

Larry Gibson, inspector, reported they were unable to make the Benson or Barnardo Hill on the first two tries. And elsewhere they found the going tough until the sander got there.

If it had been a regular weekday there would have been a severe dislocation of industry for several hours. But the majority of workers are now on a five-day week and so were unaffected.

Early morning risers peeped out of their front windows to watch pedestrians edging their way along and were rewarded with the sight of numerous pratfalls. Apparently none of the falls was severe because "no broken bones" was the report from both city hospitals.

Highways Good

Highways generally were in good shape. The Lindsay-Peterborough bus was right on schedule until it hit the city's icy streets, and it was then slowed down.

Provincial police were able to carry on their routine patrols on district highways all night.

By 8:30, just when the sanding began to be really effective, the temperature rose and the ice turned into slush. The weatherman predicts rain all day and "quite mild and sunny" Sunday.

Objective Set At $18,000 In Retail Division Drive

"Objective—$18,000. The job is up to you and if you handle it right, the donations will take care of themselves." This was the punch line of an address given by James Wharry to Retail Division canvassers of the Red Cross and Community Fund Campaign at a dinner at the Empress Hotel Friday night.

Outlining the method that the canvassers should use in the campaign Mr. Wharry stressed the necessity of a proper presentation of the purposes and needs of the community fund to the contributors.

"Tell them what we are collecting for," he said. "Explain how the money is disributed and show them that the community fund is a go-between acting for the people as well as the agencies to prevent exploitation and unnecessary expenses."

1950 Contributions

In a detailed analysis of last year's contributions in this division, Mr. Wharry stated that 31½ per cent of the contributors gave $1 or less. A total of 879 people who contributed to the campaign, as a result, gave only 10 cents or less to each of the 10 agencies.

"It is with this group of smaller contributors that a real opportunity for increase exists," stated Mr. Wharry. "We must educate these people and show them what a reasonable share would be. A proper and consistent presentation of the community fund work would move many of them into a higher class of contributors."

"With proper handling and enthusiastic canvassers who can sell the idea of the community fund, we should have no trouble in topping our objective," the speaker concluded.

Mr. Wharry was introduced and thanked by Ben Myers, chairman of the Retail Division.

Prepare The Way

In his introductory remarks, Mr. Myers told the canvassers that 4,500 letters would be sent to the contributors in the Retail Division. These letters were to prepare the way for the canvassers and would ask for a minimum contribution of $10. In this way, he said, the people would be educated to the responsibility that they have to the fund.

Campaign cards will be distributed to division captains and canvassers a week before the campaign Mar. 2. The canvassers will deliver them to the contributors who can complete them and have them ready when the canvasser calls.

The following are division captains, and their objectives: John Steinkrauss, $785; C. H. Elliott, $1,450; P. Martyn, $1,500; Ken Billing, $1,500; Al Plaskett, $1,300; Jack Sinclair, $2,100; Woodrow Roberts, $850; Frank Patterson, $1,300; Bruce Edwards, $1,600; L. Brooks, $2,000; Norman Hughes, $1,300; Jack Curtis, $1,500; Art Newson, $900; John Nornabell, $550; J. E. Sullivan, $300.

$30,000 Surplus In 1950 Thing Of Past

About the net financial result of city council's operations last year, Mayor M. J. Swanston said the other day, "we'll probably break even."

Expectations some time ago had promised something like a surplus of $30,000 or more to carry as a credit into the 1951 budget, and thereby hangs a tale that will simply have to await telling.

"The least said about it right now, the better," was Mayor Swanston's cryptic remark. "We'll tell the public just as soon as it is ready, and that should not be long."

At any rate, it is not an operating deficit from 1950 that is to be announced in the near future just as the council is gradually taking hold of this year's budget.

Meet In Ballroom

Monday night's meeting of the council is to be held at the Empress Hotel, beginning at 7.30 o'clock. Finance committee this week decided to accept the invitation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to be their dinner guests. The Jaycees proposed that the council convert its usual business session into an after dinner feature, as was done on one former occasion.

No objection was expressed, but there appeared to be a little hesitation in agreeing to switch the business of the corporation to the hotel dining room.

However, the Junior Chamber through its civic affairs committee takes an active interest in urging voters to go to the polls in municipal elections, an annual appeal on the side of citizenship, and the council agreed to the proposal.

So, if any citizen wishes to consult the council Monday night he will have the usual opportunity of a hearing at the opening of this regular meeting. He should be at the Kawartha Room of the Empress at 7:30.

Gives Up Salary Takes Salvage

The caretaker at the city dump out in Monaghan is abandoning his salary of $1,040 a year for whatever salvageable stuff he can gather around the place.

From the viewpoint of the treasury it is a little economy announced by Ald. Norman Graham who is chairman of the sanitation section of the board of works. Presumably the change of income was a voluntary proposal, but at any rate the dump won't be costing the taxpayers anything any more if that arrangement sticks.

Ald. Graham has intimated that he is looking into some other items of cost in his department.

Professor Dies

HALIFAX, Feb. 17 (CP)—Murray Macneill, mathematics professor at Dalhousie University here for 35 years and skip of the first team to win a Dominion curling championship, died here Friday. He was 74. In 1927, Murray MacNeil took his Nova Scotia rink through to victory in the first Dominion curling tournament at Toronto. It was the first and only time that the honor was brought to Nova Scotia.

23,760 Feet of Water Mains Laid By Utilities In 1950

For the extension of water services to 473 new dwellings, the Utilities Commission laid four and one-half miles of six- and eight-inch water mains in 1950.

This is a reminder of the sustained expansion of Peterborough as indicated in the financial statement of the waterworks department of the Commission published elsewhere in the Examiner today.

It presents a summary of work done, costs entailed, and the manner of financing from which it appears that the department showed a net loss of $6,708.90 as compared with the profit of $10,-164.83 in 1949.

Value of the waterworks plant has reached a figure of $1,948,-183.91. This is an increase of $122,000 over last year, and was occasioned by the cost of new mains and services and additional pumping equipment.

Instal New Pump

An electrically-driven pump of six million gallons per day capacity was installed in the pumping station. This pump will be used at the time of peak use, and when the waterwheel-driven pumps are affected by anchor ice.

Four and one-half miles of six and eight inch water mains were laid, and 473 new water services. These were all for new dwellings.

These capital extensions were paid for by issuing debentures amounting to $125,000. These were in addition to $200,000 issued in 1948 and $100,000 in 1947.

The issue of these debentures has greatly increased the yearly charge for interest and retirement. In 1950 these charges were $16,698.00 more than in 1949.

Operating and maintenance charges increased by $14,632.33, due to higher wages and material costs.

The total amount spent on operation and maintenance, debenture charges and reserves was $259,570.86, as compared with $228,034.38 in 1949.

Increased Revenue

Revenue increased by $14,-663.56 in 1950, mostly from domestic consumers.

The net loss for the year was $6,708.90, as compared with a profit of $10,164.83 in 1949.

The total pumpage for the year was 1,629 million gallons, or a decrease of 28 million from 1949. This was due to the increased rainfall in 1950, which cut down on the water used for lawn watering. It was not necessary, as a result, to institute any restrictions for the use of water.

All valves in the distribution system were tested and overhauled where necessary. This work had been postponed for seven years because of pressure of other work, but in the future, part will be done each year.

Term Basement Becomes Obnoxious

City Hall's Lower Level Is Ground Floor

City Council has reached the stage of arranging for fuel oil in its gradual approach to occupation of the new city hall.

City Clerk Outram is likewise making a psychological approach as indicated the other day in a comment to the Examiner that the word basement should not become fixed in designation of the lower of three floors of the building.

The connotations of the word basement are obvious enough, suggesting a place of storage, rumpus room, and other modern details of arrangement of what used to be the cellar.

Ground Floor

Suavely corrective, certainly not directive, Mr. Outram remarked that the lower floor with all its lighting and office layout deserved the word ground floor, then above it the first floor and finally the second floor. That eliminates the somewhat objectionable term "basement."

And it was also suggested that the Examiner could get the example by avoiding that other word, and by using the phrase "ground floor" instead.

So, the word basement is to be eschewed, from here on in news reports from the city hall. Ground floor is the term to be fixed in memory.

Somebody on the staff of Christian Science Monitor recently came upon the phrase "basement complex" and supposed it was coined for purposes of psychiatry, possibly meaning a person given to low spirits and being perennially "down in the dumps."

But the new Webster placed it as a geological term meaning "the assemblage of metamorphic and igneous rocks underlying the stratified rocks in any particular region." That might be construed as having remote relationship to the basement rather the ground floor of the new city hall.

But, it certainly was not in the Outram thinking—banish such a thought. The phrase is ground floor. The nicety to remember is that if you ever want to get into some office on the ground floor you start heading for the b...., you know what.

Children and Money

By NANCY CLEAVER

Money is important in a child's world as well as in an adult's. How does your child get the money he wants By asking for every cent at the time? From an allowance? From gifts from relatives? By earning it? Another vital question which you, as parents, should consider is—How does your child think of money? His ideas are bound to be colored to a great extent by your own attitude to it.

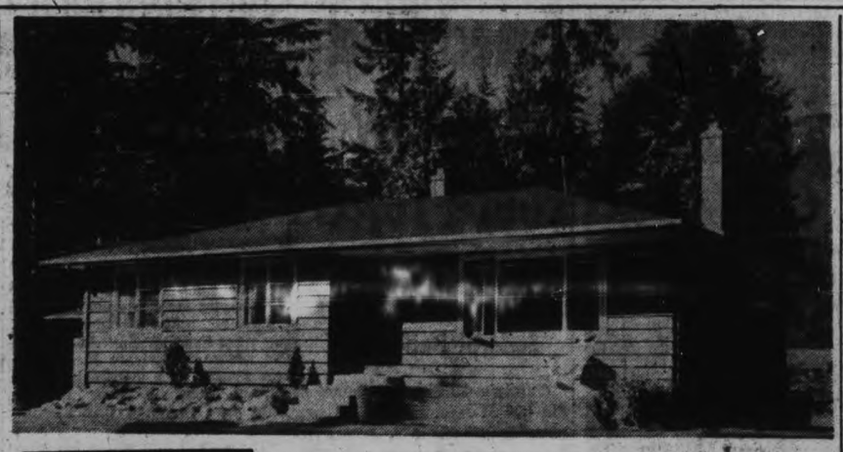
In your home, do mother and father work together as partners in planning the family budget? Are you "good managers"? Do you spend too freely? Are you on the miserly side? Do you act as if money is the most important thing in life, which can buy everything you want? Or do you look on money as a tool to be used wisely in building a good life?

Parents keep coins out of a baby's reach so he won't put a copper in his mouth. The danger of choking is too great. Money fascinates a small child. He likes to handle it, put it into little piles, pretend to count it. It is fun to "play store" with real money. But, being a child, he is apt to hide it in a "safe" place and forget where he put it, or lose it altogether.

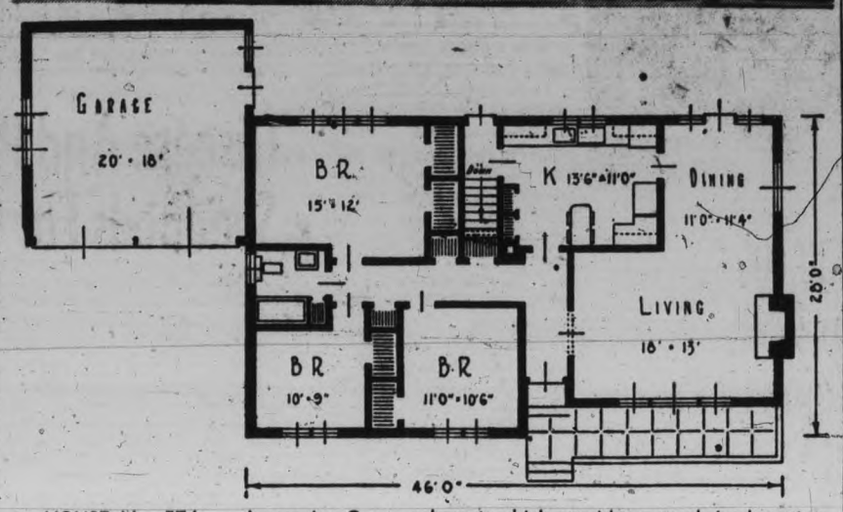
Children soon learn that grown-ups attach special importance to money. Little Margaret finds her mother's purse on the bureau one day and takes the compact out to play with it. Mother is amused at the powder on her chin. The next day Margaret is delighted to find coppers to play with loose in mother's purse. The child is surprised when mother is annoyed and scolds here for touching her money.

Mother and dad should not leave purses or change lying around the house. A small child, with no real idea of "stealing," may be used by an older neighbour's child to take this money out to him. Then they both can go on a spending spree, with the younger child warned not to "tell."

Children realize at an early age that money gives them the power to purchase candy or ice cream or other desirable treats.



Children learn to handle money through their own experiences. That is why an allowance, begun about the time a child starts to school, is so important. Even if it must be a small amount, five or six cents a week, Junior should receive a definite sum at a certain time each week. He can do as he likes with this money. His allowance is not taken away as a punishment. Nor is he forced to set aside part of his money as savings.



When children are given an allowance they do not have to whine or bargain for spare cash. Parents should not pay money as a reward for good behavior or high marks. Neither should a child be paid for home chores. These are part of the child's contribution to the family welfare. But payment can be made for extra tasks quite apart from regular home duties.

It is unreasonable to ask a child to save for technical training or a college education. A child discovers that he must deny himself the pleasure of buying one thing if he wants to have the fun of purchasing a different object.

Impatience is a youthful characteristic, and saving has to be for a goal which can be reached before too long. The total amount for a young child should be small. The lesson of discipline is lost if the child "borrows" the additional sum he needs from an indulgent parent. "Pay as you go" is a sound slogan.

Academy Award Under Fire On Nominations

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 17 (AP) —The dear, old (24 years) Academy, Hollywood's favorite target, was again under fire this week as its nominations for 1950 awards were announced.

The main discussion seems to be over the nominees for best picture. They were: "All About Eve," "Sunset Blvd.," "Born Yesterday," "King Solomon's Mines" and "Father of the Bride."

No one disputes the right of the first two to be on the list. "Born Yesterday" is nowhere near a great picture but thanks largely to Judy Holliday's performance, it might possibly rank among the top five.

That brings us to "Mines" and "Bride." In discussing them, we should remember the initial purpose of the Academy Awards—to raise the standards of film-making by rewarding artistic merit.

And how do those two films hold up to that yardstick? Granted, both were highly entertaining and are among the top money-makers of all time. But "King Solomon's Mines," however fascinating its backgrounds, was basically hokum. The same plot could have been filmed in New Mexico instead of Africa and it would have made a pretty good western.

Amusing Comedy

"Father of the Bride" was an amusing domestic comedy but nowhere near the high humor of Spencer Tracy's other film last year, "Adam's Rib."

There were other films of artistic merit which the Academy overlooked in its "best picture" selections. What about "The Asphalt Jungle"? "The Third Man"? "The Gunfighter"? "Cyrano"? "The Man"? "Broken Arrow"?

The selection of "Mines" and "Bride" makes it appear that the Academy is paying heed to the popularity of films, as some of its critics have urged. But others argue that there are plenty of popularity polls and that the Academy should return to its original purpose.

Growing Drug Addiction Noted Among Younger Set

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 — (CP).—Narcotic addiction among Canada's younger set, including 'teen-agers, is causing some concern among officials charged with stamping out illicit traffic in this country.

Federal Health Department officials note that until a couple of years ago addicts mainly were in the 28-to-45 age group. But in the last two years there has been a noticeable lowering of the age. Prosperity, a large supply of illicit heroin on the market and the search for new thrills are blamed by officials for the increase.

In 1950 three juveniles in British Columbia were convicted on charges of illicit use of narcotics. There has been an increase in the number of addicts in the 20-to-25 age group.

However, officials state, the use of narcotics by 'teen-agers and by young men and women is not the problem in Canada that it is in the United States. An Associated Press survey recently showed that addiction among 'teen-agers is a menace in some parts of the United States.

The lowering of the age group has been particularly noticeable in Vancouver.

One source said it was found that the young people who were becoming addicts had been in trouble before. They were youths who had been brought up by force and who decided to make their living by force.

The girls turned to prostitution and the boys to stealing, often with violence. The turn to narcotics followed.

It sometimes happened, he said, that youngsters who thought it was smart to drink came in contact with unsavory characters. They were told that a shot of heroin was a good cure for hangovers. One dose led to another and the cycle was started.

All told, Canada has an estimater 3,500 to 4,000 addicts of all ages. This is not considered large in a population of 14,000,000, although there has been a steady increase through the years.

Officials know that the number of addicts is increasing, but the thing that alarms most is the amount of heroin that is smuggled into Canada. The heroin that is used by addicts "definitely" does not come from legitimate trade, the officials state.

The RCMP, enforcement agency for the Health Department's Narcotic Branch, are doing their utmost to smash the illicit traffic and every year break up a number of dope rings.

38 Owners Ordered To Move Cottages

KINGSTON, Feb. 17 —(CP)— Owners of 38 cottages on the outskirts of Kingston have been notified they will have to move the dwellings, it was disclosed Friday.

They are located on crown-owned land on the northern shore of Deadman's Bay, behind Fort Henry.

Cottages were built or bought there on the understanding the land would have to be vacated if needed for military purposes.

Notice of quittal states further that the cottages, if not moved, will be demolished and the land returned to its original control at the expense of the present licencees.

A spokesman for eastern command—whose name was not disclosed—said expansion of married quarters at nearby Barriefield camp makes the notice necessary.

Play About Pioneers Has Ottawa Premiere

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP)—"The constant heart," a three-act drama of the struggles of the pioneers on the island of Montreal, will be given its premiere in Ottawa Feb. 24-26, it was announced Friday.

Mother St. Miriam of the Temple, head of the English literature department at Ottawa's Notre Dame College, is the author of the play which is written about Marguerite Bourgeoys, the Montreal school teacher of 300 years ago who last November was proclaimed "blessed" by Pope Pius XII.

It was Marguerite who established the congregation of Notre Dame. At present the Ottawa college is one of 200 in Canada, the United States and Japan staffed by sisters of the congregation.

South Monaghan Must Amend Building Bylaw

South Monaghan will have to amend its proposed building restriction bylaw before it is acceptable to the Ontario Municipal Board.

Friday R. C. Rowland conducted the board's hearing at the county court buildings. He said at least two amendments — one dealing with the size of parcels of land for dwellings, and the other increasing the setback of dwellings from the street or highway—were necessary.

The bylaw, No. 579, was introduced by South Monaghan to "regulate and restrict the use of land and the character, use and location of all buildings." It would only apply to future construction.

There were no objectors present at the hearing.

Subject To Restriction

The land may be used for residential, local business, industrial, and agricultural purposes, subject to the restrictions of the bylaw. Land within the defined area may be used as a public park, playground, garden or as a public street.

Residential uses include a dwelling, summer cottage, tourist or overnight cabin, automobile trailer, funeral home, schools and churches and their accessory buildings.

On land of at least two acres in size, farm dwellings and buildings, and buildings for poultry raising and the housing of livestock are permitted. But buildings for livestock, fur farming or dog raising must not be less than 100 feet from the road or highway.

Apart from a summer cottage or cabin no dwelling shall be erected for less than $3,000 based on 1946 figures. Summer cottages occupied between April 15 and November 15, unplastered and unlined, shall be erected for less than $700, again based on 1946 figures.

Chief amendment is to the effect that dwellings cannot in future be erected on a parcel of land less than 15,000 square feet in area unless they comply with certain sanitary standards.

Where there is no public water or sanitary sewers the area must be 15,000 feet. If there is public water service but no sewers, 7,500 feet; and where there are both, 5,000 feet.

At present most of the summer properties in South Monaghan are built on 50-foot lake frontages and have neither water nor sewers. In future this means purchase of 15,000 feet parcels of land.

Another amendment is that dwellings must not be constructed less than 25 ft. from a highway or road. This revision from 15 feet is to allow for snow plowing or widening of the road.

The amended bylaw will have to be discussed by South Monaghan council and then a copy will be sent to all property owners. Objections will be received by the Ontario Municipal Board.

Americanization Of Canadian Army Going Foward

By DOUGLAS HOW.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 — (CP) — By calculated policy, traditionally-British Canada is moving deeper into the American military orbit.

This trend, in one way or another, affects all three armed forces. The changes have come gradually and have never been spelled out in their entirety.

Notable are these two:

1—The Army's switch from British-type to American-type equipment with resulting changes in organization, a switch now coming into full stride and expected to be one of the Army's biggest jobs for 1951.

2—Decision that Canada's supply of aircraft must be based on this continent or, in other words, that the RCAF use Canadian or American-type planes—not British.

Do Own Designing

The Navy has been progressing gradually from the British to the American supply system. However, in planning new ships, it has designed Canada's own, using the best examples of both Britain and the US have to offer.

The American trend has one main foundation. Defence of Canada has become of vital concern and it has been adjudged one with the defence of North America, a decision that means integration of US and Canadian forces to fight together if needed.

Defence Minister Brooke Claxton has defended this integration as common sense. Linked with it is the policy of building up Canada's facilities for making planes, ships and arms. Taken together they mean Canada no longer looks to Britain as the source of military supplies as in two world wars.

The integration steps arise from North American defence needs, but they go beyond that. They probably mean that in any new war Canadian land and air formations will fight largely under US not British command.

Under US Command

It is expected, for instance, that when a Canadian brigade goes to Europe this year it will serve under US command. It is likely, too, that when an RCAF fighter wing gets to Europe late this year it will come under US command because its three squadrons will be flying American-type F86E Sabre jets made in Canada.

The switch to US command is a logical result of a logistics or supply problem. They will be using US equipment.

Parliament's first blast against this "Americanization trend," as he called it, came from E. D. Fulton, a British Columbia progressive Conservative, and a wartime major. He predicted it will lead to an end of the regimental army system that has built tradition around famous names such as the Seaforth Highlanders, the Black Watch and the South Saskatchewan Regiment.

Keep it to Minimum

Claxton interrupted to say that is "nonsense." He had said the army organizational changes will be minor and the army command has isued orders to keep them to a minimum. How great they will be isn't yet clearly known. The subject is under study.

But the old regimental names wil stay and so will the Canadian uniforms and Canadian insignia of rank and Canadian pronunciation of ranks—"leftenant" not "lootenant."

As far as the layman is concerned, it will probably be entirely the same army. But there will be changes in internal organization.

Army officers are in the U.S. studying the changes that will be necessary and, at home, the switch to U.S. arms already has started. The new arms, Garand semi-automatic rifles, carbines, mortars and others, are going first to schools of instruction for recruits. Others will go to the special force at Fort Lewis, Wash.

Another example: The Canadian Infantry Division's mobile anti-tank weapon was a self-propelled gun. The U.S. Division uses tanks. Canada will get tanks for the job and will change her organization accordingly.

Touch Every Branch

Studies of the required changes have touched every branch of the army and extend to investigation of the problems associated with putting Canadian brigades, divisions and corps under U.S. command.

On the air side, it is the intention to establish virtually a single North American fighter defence. The RCAF is about to start using the Canadian-made, US-designed Sabre and will complement it with the Canadian-designed CF100 Canuck.

Canada has adopted the American term "air division" for the British "group" and is likely to adopt "group" for "wing."

In the navy, there has been gradual adoption of the US supply system. The Fleet Air Arm uses both British and US type planes but the latest purchases were US Avenger anti-submarine planes.

The Navy is switching from the 4-inch and 4.7 inch British-type guns to the American three-incher. But the bulk of Navy equipment and arms remains British.

$700,000 Trust Fund Declared Invalid

TORONTO, Feb. 17, (CP).—Ontario Court of Appeal Friday declared invalid a $700,000 trust fund set up under the wills of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Cox of Oakville for more than 30,000 Canada Life Assurance Company employees and their dependents. Mr. Cox was a former president of the company.

The court directed that the money is to go to other beneficiaries of the couple.

It upheld a conviction by J. D. Arnup, counsel for Margaret Jane Ardagh, a beneficiary under the will of Mr. Cox, that the trust found was invalid because it went against a rule of law prohibiting perpetual trusts except those for such purposes as advancement of education, religion and community welfare.

Home Comfort Is Essential In Either Cottage, Mansion

Comfort in the home is something you must feel. Comfort requires the interest and attention of the home owner who must be able to put himself in the place of his guests. Without comfort, a house is just a house; with it, a cottage asks no quarters from a mansion.

Most women select a majority of the furniture in their home; their tastes are inclined to run a bit feminine, frilly, and delicate. Try to remember that your husband and probably some visiting males, appreciate a little sturdiness and masculinity in their chairs. Indulge yourself, if you will, in a spindly-legged affair with some sort of perishable upholstery and a seat that could accommodate no more than a large cat comfortably. But invite—even welcome — a deep, comfortable lounge chair or two with durable sturdy upholstery, into which your men may sink with a sigh of satisfaction. It won't hurt your room, either—in fact, it will add character.

Definite Plan Or Scheme

When women buy clothes, they generally have a definite color scheme in mind for a complete ensemble. It isn't smart fashion sense to pick out a black hat because it's "cute," when you have brown shoes, bag and suit, for instance. Well, the same goes for pictures. Decide before you start to buy whether you're looking for prints, nature scenes, oil portraits, line drawings, etchings or "moderne" abstracts — decide which of the one category deserves the largest space the most commanding position; and then choose the rest to harmonize.

Scatter rugs, judiciously placed, add beauty and charm, and brighten a dull carpet. But don't scatter them indiscriminately where people will stumble over them. Be sure they are treated with curl-resistant backing or tacked firmly to the floor if it won't ruin the wood. Avoid too high a polish on the floor, also—makes a person instinctively tense his leg muscles, fearful of a fall.

Group your furniture in handy, friendly bunches — don't place your chesterfield in solitary glory at one end of a long room and a single chair with a lamp table beside it at the other. Don't make it necessary to pull pieces of furniture together when guests drop in for a visit, or to shout back and forth across the room.

Case For Knick Knacks

Easy on the knick-knacks, lady. If you're a collector of 'em, then purchase a suitable case with a glass top and store them safely in it. But don't clutter up every available flat space with vases, plants, elephants, worry birds, dancing dolls, and other miscellaneous objects d'art. Too risky, in the first place; if they have any value to you, sentimental or monetary, they deserve more enclosed quarters; besides which, they made a body uncomfortable, if he must live in dread of knocking one or another of them over whenever he shifts position or crosses his leg or waves an arm. Comfort, you know, is what we're after in this article.

Lamps that stand alone, and have decoration as their main purpose for being, can use small bulbs that throw dim, soft light. It's attractive, cosy-living, and practical, too no need to waste electricity. But, on the other hand, if your lamps are supposed to be reading lamps, please furnish adequate-sized bulbs for them. This is a very common discomforting item—too often a love seat or chesterfield is flanked by attractive reading lamps with dinky little bulbs which require strain, if one tries to read, or waste of good stiting space if one must hie elsewhere to decipher the print.

Comfort In Living Room

You and your guests will both enjoy your living room more if you are the ones who make the noise rather than the room. There are some which practically shriek—big, splattered design rugs, a contradictory pattern for the upholstered pieces, bold striped drapes, and loud, bright walls. No matter how striking and "different" this may look the day after you've finished decorating, it is not restful and will wear on a sensitive person's nerves within two weeks. Unless you can afford—and enjoy—re-doing your home every few months, you'd best concentrate on the comfort angle and let who will be flamboyant.

As a final word, Cast a reflective eye on the positioning of the furniture in your home. Remember that angles are disturbing—although a small piece turned an interesting way is 100 per cent approved. But the large chairs, tables bespeak themselves far better if they follow the general lines and contours of your walls.

The effect of an otherwise comfortable room often has been spoiled by the lack of grooming. There are so many little things like fingerprints on the woodwork, dust on the window sills, a sagging slip cover, old magazines, and unemptied ash trays which can be righted in only a few minutes. However, we don't advise making a fetish of neatness. The homemaker who pops up each minute to close a book, straighten a pillow, merely destroys her family's enjoyment of the room and certainly adds nothing to their comfort.

Comfort is a lovely feeling—a little thoughtful planning will help your home provide it.

LITTLE PRINCESS ANNE, daughter of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, is seated on lap of her nurse as their car leaves King's Cross Station in London.

Gwen Record Wed At Aklavik Post

A wedding which took place on November 3rd, 1950, is newsworthy now because it took place in the 60 to 70 below zero weather in northern Canada at a time when communications were "frozen." It is of interest here because the bride was formerly Miss Gwen Record, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Record, RR. 1, Peterborough. It will be remembered that last August she left for Aklavik to take charge of the Aklavik Mission School.

In the land where women are greatly in the minority, romance blooms quickly and she shortly became engaged to Mr. Andrew Watt, a Scotsman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Watt, East Bank, Port Elphinstone, Inverurie, who had come to Canada about four years ago, and was in charge of the Hudson Bay Company's trading post at Aklavik.

Their marriage in the Cathedral of the Arctic was performed by Canon Montgomery, brother of the famous Field-Marshal, and Mrs. Montgomery was Miss Record's matron of honor.

Mrs. Montgomery also entertained at a wedding breakfast and gave a social evening in the bride's honor. She was given in marriage by her principal the Rev. Mr. Gibson.

Since the wedding Mr. Watt has transferred to Fort Smith, 1,000 miles to the south-east of Aklavik. His bride, however, is continuing in her job at Aklavik until the school closes in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Record expect they will see their new son-in-law in the fall of '51 or spring of '52 when he gets several months leave. The couple plan then to visit the bride's home near Bridgenorth and the groom's home in Scotland.

Small Exhibition By Craft Groups

Perhaps interest is lagging because of uncertain world conditions but certainly exhibits were lacking in the disply of handicrafts at the YWCA Friday by craft groups of the Women's Art Association.

Less than half the number of articles and about two-thirds the variety was on view. Largest exhibit was of pottery and it was indeed fine work. The only new craft being demonstrated was making belts and necklaces of copper wire.

Just several pieces of leatherwork and only a shopping bag and pair of slippers made of felt were noticed.

Fabric painting that will withstand years of washing and the method of making jewel-set rings and brooches and metal designs were also being demonstrated.

Only a few paintings were shown, the outstanding being done with pen and ink.

Decorating and Arranging Stand Out Valentine Ball By Major Bennett Chapter

Again the Major Bennett Chapter IODE steps to the apex of the social whirl for this season. Members on Friday evening presented the annual Valentine Ball and achieved a stand-out as the finest in this type of entertainment, with most careful arrangements to give outstanding pleasure to the guests.

Having a committee worker whose husband is clever at sketching and has some novel ideas for night club decorating placed the conveners in a proud position. The sensational silhouette posters in sharp black and white contrast which decorated the walls and each post around the Club Aragon dance floor were well above usual in design and effect. A ciel of red and white streamers radiating from a lantern-like centre had the desired result of focusing attention on the figures and causing them to be admired and commented on.

Production of these posters is interesting too. When Mr. Ronald Kemp had put his ideas into outline on heavy white sheets, the figures were filled in with black enamel paint—the same kind you use for interior house painting. Decorations convener and her helpers then edged each sheet with a frill of red paper, affixed a simulated seal and ribbons diplomat fashion, and they were complete.

Favors for this dance were outstanding too. Each lady received a small plastic jewel box (there were three colors, white, pink, and gold), each decorated with a red ribbon bow filled with Valentine candies laid on a tiny paper lace doily.

Door prizes for lady and gentleman were a $3 gift certificate each redeemable at downtown stores. The lucky couple was Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dolan. There were two other draw prizes which went to Mr. and Mrs. Rod. Blackwell and Mr. and Mrs. T. Townsend.

Miss Joyce Alexander, regent of the Chapter, was on hand to welcome the 325 couples attending the dance. Receiving with her was Mrs. W. Gordon Hall, honorary regent, assisted by Lieut. Col. Hall, also patrons and patronesses, Mayor M. J. Swanston and Mrs. Swanston, and Mr. Gordon K. Fraser MP, and Mrs. Fraser.

Dance conveners Miss Louise Spriggs and Mrs. B. E. Metcalfe were taking tickets and Mrs. G. J. Moher was assisting in handing out the favors.

Chapter members Mrs. Ralph Clark, Mrs. Robert Gibbons, Mrs. Tom McMillan, Mrs. Stewart Lockington and Mrs. Kenneth Gibson ushered the guests to their table reservations.

Those attending were:

Miss Dorine Wells and Mr. Clare McDougall, Miss Betty Howson and Mr. Bob Greer, Miss Agnes Barry and Mr. C. Gobsone, Miss Angeline Dufresne and Mr. Jim Goselin, Miss Mary Curry and Mr. Bryan Roberts, Miss Gladys Johnson and Mr. Harold Frost, Miss Sonja Jones and Mr. Scotty Smith, Miss V. Sills and Mr. J. Fashion Forecast for Spring into Summer

Every spring comes up with its own special signature-fashion, and this spring, you'll find, when you're shopping for your Easter wardrobe, that the costume is new for 1951. This is the dress with its own coat—the full-length coat, often a duster silhouette; the tunic top, the fitted jacket, the bolero, the capelet. This means a big choice for the accompanying cover-up, but, in covering manufacturers' offerings for the coming season, fashion experts find that the result always adds up to the costume ensemble.

This ensemble is represented in all price brackets and in many departments in your favorite retail store. You'll find it in the better dress department; in budget dresses; in the sportwear department; in the daytime dress or economy dress department. Of course, each department will have something different to offer, but it's always the costume look.

Navy Takes Over

Spring 1951 will be another navy spring. In dresses, coats and suits, navy is the most important color news. It looks different this spring because the clothes look different. Suits are softer, frequently silk, frequently print-lined to match the blouse, arched at the hipline. Coats have new-looking cardigan necklines; they come in soft navy fleece with town elegance; they're, full-length or short in silhouette. Dresses are slimmer and softer.

Navy looks different, too, because of the colors worn with it—white, of course, for its sparkling freshness, but for a new look, the pinks, the mauve-into-lilac range, the yellows.

As an alternate to navy, the natural beiges are important and promising. Among the pastels you'll be hearing the most about are the pinks (the runaway early favorites) and again, the mauve-into-lilac family.

Here is a quick run-through of spring fashion favorites to be promoted in individual departments:

More Sheath Dresses

More one-piece dresses for spring! These are more often slim sheath silhouettes, but with something extra added to make them flattering to the figure—a side-swept drape, a trumpet flare or low fulness at the hemline, a tunic apron. The prediction is for more sleeveless dresses this year, especially as we go on into summer. Silks are coming up strong in dresses, including pure silk prints and silk shantungs; tissue failles are important for early wear; linen is big and will be bigger for summer.

Femininity in Coats and Suits

A change-over from strictly tailored to softly feminine, but still neat, is found in this year's coats and suits. Suits are slim, with arches, rounded hoplines. The pyramid coat continues to be a favorite. This spring, coats and suits have these fashion points in common: Collarless necklines, from cardigan to mandarin; buttons for suits; inset arrows, self-strapping appliques and velvet accents.

Suits with stoles and capelets are already selling as good new fashions; the suit with side slanting closing is also a high fashion choice. In fabrics, fleece and suede fabrics are the majority choice for coats, gabardine and flannel for suits. Fabrics which are newly important include the crisp silks, from taffeta to ottoman, dress-type rayons, and linen.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Domestic Situation Affects Every Other Facet of Life

WE ALL recognize that the greatest blessing that can possibly come to any of us is a happy home life. It we have that, we have not only a perpetual source of joy, but also we have a compensation for whatever ill fortune may befall us. If we lack that, we have nothing, even though Lady Luck may have emptied all of her gewgaws into our laps.

Dorothy Dix A palace is nothing but an abode of misery if it is filled with strife and quarreling. Marriage is a torment if a man and woman fight like cat and dog. Children are poisoned in mind and body who grow up in an atmosphere that reeks with hate and gloom. Wealth and fame are but empty honors if there is none to share them with, no one to rejoice in our success.

It is not too much to say that everything that makes life worth living is wrapped up in family life. Our health depends upon it. Any doctor will tell you that a discordant home is really what ails a large percentage of the patients he is called upon to treat. One famous psychiatrist declares that he rarely has a case of nervous breakdown among middle-aged people if they grew up in a happy home. Our morals depend upon family life. The husband and wives who are happy at home are not the philanderers who are cheating on each other and having illicit relationships with other women and men. The children who have a happy family life do not run away from home to follow the paths that lead to destruction.

Our success in our undertakings depends upon our home life, for nothing cheers us on to do the very best that is in us as does having our own people believe in us and back us, and nothing takes the very heart out of us as does meeting discouragement and disparagement at home.

Why Is It So Rare?

All of this being true and all of us knowing it, how strange it is that so few people ever really honestly and intelligently try to make a happy home, and that happy homes are so rare that we point them out as objects of interest.

Yet the secret of making a happy home is simplicity itself. It is merely to treat your husband or wife and children with the forbearance and courtesy you would show a casual stranger on whom you wished to make a good impression. That we do not do this, that we save for our own the rudeness, the boorishness, the tempers and the selfishness that we would not dream of visiting on anyone else, is one of life's great and unnecessary tragedies.

Husbands and wives when out in company are gay and cheerful and bright and chatty. They make a definite effort to be amusing and entertaining, but at home they are grouchy and grumpy and spend their evenings sitting up in a silence so thick you could cut it with a knife unless they enliven it by having a scrap. Let wife undertake to tell husband what has happened during the day and he merely grunts from behind his newspaper. Let him start to tell a story and she says: "On, for goodness sake, are you going to tell that thing over again?"

It is only in the exceptional home that husbands and wives make the slightest attempt to be interesting companions to each other and to make an evening at home a pleasant occasion instead of a dull ordeal.

"Home Truths" Cause Disruption.

It is only in the home circle that the vicious practice of telling home truths prevails, and we say to each other the things that we know they would rather die than hear. Mr Jones would be incapable of telling Mrs. Smith that he thought she had the intellect of a hen, but he doesn't hesitate to tell his wife that he considers her a fool. Mrs. Brown would never spoil Mr. Green's dinner by criticizing his table manners, but she never lets a meal pass without telling her husband what she thinks of a man who gargles his soup and uses a fork as if it were an agricultural implement.

It is only our own families who tell us that our new hats are too young for us, or that we are getting too fat, or that we sing off key, or that people laugh at us and not with us when we try to tell funny stories, or that while others might make a success of something we aspire to do, we haven't the ability to do it. It is only our own families who give us the inferiority complexes that are responsible for half of our failures.

It is only our families who refuse to grant us any privacy and any individual liberty and who nag us until we are driven to leave home and go off among strangers to live in order to have any peace and freedom.

And the curious thing is that we commit these sins against the people we really love and deliberately deprive ourselves of a happy family life, knowing it to be the greatest blessing in the world.

LITTLE IODINE by JIMMY HATLO

Israel Utilizes Talents, Skills Of New Citizens

TORONTO—(CP)—A goal for living—something many of them never had before—is one of the chief benefits the new state of Israel has to offer its immigrants, Dr. May Bere told a press conference here.

Winnipeg-born Dr. Bere, at present a clinical psychologist with the joint distribution agency in Israel, described how the latent abilities of every immigrant are utilized. Tests for interests, experiences and talents are given new arrivals and, as far as possible, they are given work corresponding with their individual qualifications.

One of her chief problems, she said, is with what she calls the "forgotten men"—those between the ages of 50 and 60. These cases are typed and fitted in industries where they can work with younger persons, doing the jobs that don't require youthful brawn.

Have Campaign

A graduate of the University of Manitoba and a doctor of philosophy from Columbia University, Dr. Bere addressed a meeting of supporters of the Hisadrut-Israel Labor Federation which is conducting a campaign here for $225,000 to aid in its work of developing Israel.

Dr. Bere first visited Israel in 1926; three years later she went back to live. Prior to the Israeli war she continued her work as school psychologist at Tel Aviv. During the war she served as personnel and placement officer for Chen, the women's army unit.

Dr. Bere is the wife of Israel Merom, who is in charge of vocational training with the Histadrut. They have twin daughters who are preparing to follow in their mother's footsteps.

Give Service

Eighteen-year-old Israeli girls accept enthusiastically the two-year period they must contribute to the country's armed forces. Her daughters did guard work along the Galilean border. Parents share this enthusiasm with their children, Dr. Bere said.

"Our army service plan is unique in many ways," she explained. "One year is spent working on the land and the other in guard duty . . . The only girls who are exempt from this service are the daughters of orthodox families, and they must take up social work or a similar service."

Readers' Saturday Column by Mary Moore

QUESTION: I certainly like any of your recipes I've used, especially a biscuit recipe, published about 2 months ago. There was cream of tartar in it — trusting you won't find it too much trouble to send me that same recipe if it is possible for you to locate it. (Mrs.) M.T.J.

❖ ❖ ❖

ANSWER:

I'll soon be able to recite this in my sleep. I have had more requests for repeats of this recipe than I have had since I printed my first recipe for fresh strawberry pie.

Biscuits Supreme or Anna's Hot Biscuits

Two cups all-purpose or bread flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon cream of tartar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup milk, ½ cup butter or shortening (room temperature is best for this), 2 teaspoons sugar. Cut the shortening into the sifted dry ingredients until it resembles crumbs. Add milk all at once. Quickly stir. Pat and roll ½-inch thick. Do not grease baking sheet. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. for about 10 minutes.

Note to "A Reader and Merchant": I would be grateful if "Reader and Merchant" would write to me again, giving me his name and address so that I may reply to his letter. I am glad to know we are of the same opinion regarding "monopolies" for I too, am an "independent" and welcome this opportunity to express my opinion privately to him. Please write again "Reader and Merchant":

Attention: Another reader who did not include her name, sent me a clipping of this column asking me to explain an item she had encircled in pencil. A recipe for Lemon Sponge Pudding called for "1 tablespoon flour". She remarked in the margin "What a mess with 1 tablespoon flour".

She is right. It would be too soft. The correct amount of flour is 4 tablespoons. This was a typographical error and I am very sorry that it occurred. We check and double-check for this type of error constantly, but we are human. We will have to redouble our efforts.

❖ ❖ ❖

QUESTION: Please print the recipe sometime for banbury tarts with lots of lemon in them.

DONGA.

❖ ❖ ❖

ANSWER:

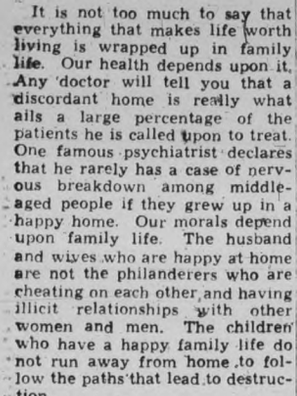
This is as good a time as any, better probably since it is a little confection we turn to in the winter months.

Lemon Banbury Tarts

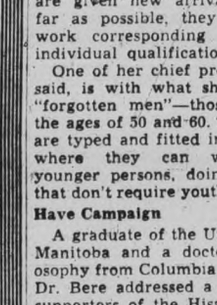
One-quarter cup lemon juice, ½ cup seedless raisins which have been steamed, 1½ cups chopped tart apples, ¼ cup chopped walnuts, 2 tablespoons orange marmalade, 1 cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon cloves, ¼ teaspoon ginger, ¼ cup melted buter or margarine. Mix all of these ingredients. Use to fill pastry-lined tart tins two-thirds full or use to make:

Turnovers: Roll pastry to ⅛-inch thickness and cut in 4-inch squares. Place squares on greased baking sheet. Place 1 tablespoon of mixture on each square. Dampen edges with water, then fold each over from corner to form triangle. Crimp edges together with a floured fork. Prick top of each turnover in several places. Brush top with milk. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. for about 20 minutes.

South African Hearty at 107



KINGWILLIAMSTOWN, South Africa (CP).—Minny Bly, an African whose age is estimated at 107, remembers clearly incidents in the last Kaffir war in 1877.



The only indication of her great age is her wrinkled face. In most other respects she could be taken for a woman only half her age. Her carriage is erect, and she is in full possession of all her faculties.

She frequently does washing for people and scrubs out kitchens to augment her old-age pension, and at weekends she walks miles out of town to visit her friends.

Her husband died about 30 years ago. Her only son died before 1900.

St. Peter's Get Hoop Win Over St. Mike's

Fred Allore's senior cagers of St. Peter's High School eked out a 25-24 Catholic Athletics Conference victory over St. Michael's College last evening in the large St. Mike's gym in Toronto. It was their second win in four league starts, having defeated the Saints of Toronto 30-14 here a short time ago. Last night, they met a much tougher team but finished a shade stronger to earn the decision.

St. Mike's racked up an 8-3 lead in the speedy first quarter but they were only in front 12-11 at the halftime intermission. St. Peter's tore into the attack in a heated third stanza and had a 16-15 margin at the finish. It was plenty even and exciting through the final frame, with the visitors able to emerge with that big one-point margin.

Cupoli led the victors with eight points, while Jones clicked for seven and Richardson six in a good showing. O'Neill hooped a field basket and both Cavanagh and Simmons dropped in four shots. Clark topped the losers in scoring with eight points, one more than Reids and Dewherst, while Turano got two points. Both sides hustled every minute in the tight tussle. Teams:

St. Peter's: Jones, Richardson, O'Neill, Cupoli, Cavanagh, Simmons, Legrow, Fitzgerald, Holme, O'Leary, Armstrong, Galvin.

St. Mike's: Reids, Turano, Dewherst, Fitzmorris, Clark, Vozseek, Grimaldi, Wasylek, Ennis, Zeyak.

Haliburton Biggest

average shanty cost $6,000-8,000 to operate for four months, and a company with several depots and 10 to 20 shanties was a big business, especially when their timber might not be sold and paid for within two years.

Improvements in the shanties did not come until nearly 1880. The food continued to be mainly pork, beans and flour, although a few companies with depot farms raised potatoes, turnips and oats for their shanties. Old-timers remember shanty food most vividly: A. E. Bottum of Bobcaygeon, who went to a shanty in northern Haliburton in 1876 at the age of 16, said recently: "All they ever gave us to eat was bread, blackstrap molases and fat pork." On the other hand, Joseph Crowe, who worked in a Ludgate & McDougall shanty in Digby from 1875 on, recalled having fied pork, potatoes, dried apples, onions, baked beans, corned beef, raisin pie, with pork dripping for butter, and black tea without milk or sugar; on Sundays as a treat they had extras like rice puding with molasses.

After the railway reached Kinmount and Haliburton, it was easier to bring in more varied food regularly, such as beef, onions, dried apples, syrup, rice, raisins etc. George Thompson in his book "Up To Date—Or the Life of a Lumberman" (Peterborough 1895) wrote that he started working for Boyd in 1869 and later (about 1877) was bush superintendent for Irwin, overseeing 10 shanties in Cardiff, Harcourt & Dudley; he claimed that about 1879 he introduced such "luxuries" as various foods listed above, separate bunkrooms, diningtables, and shanty-stoves (made by "Hall of Peterborough who makes the now celebrated shanty cookstoves"). As a matter of fact returning prosperity brought these improvements in the camps of all the large companies in the later 70s. Thompson's book is interesting but not too reliable.

A crew of two or three choppers and two sawyers could make six pieces of square timber or 75 sawlogs a day, averaging five sawlogs to a tree. In the usual shanty there would be four crews competing, plus others cutting roads, skidding logs, etc. In April the drives would start, breaking dumps to get the logs afloat, and started downstream under the control of picked crews. In spite of their best efforts, however, logs got "hung up" by lack of water, or "tailed" and jammed at rapids and waterfalls. 1872 was the year of one big jam on Burnt River near Kinmount, when very little timber was taken out. A few years later, according to Thompson, the riverdrivers for one large company struck when the company decreed a 20 per cent wage cut, and the "green" men employed in their stead cost the company $100,000 in spoiled timber. Every drive had at least one skilled "jam-cracker" to break up costly jams at bad spots like Fenelon Falls. Dynamite was used later for this purpose; it is interesting to note that the Boyd Office Journal for April 23, 1875, stated: "Mr Boyd and Oliver experimented with dynamite", since this explosive had just been invented by Nobel in Sweden.

New Cancer Film Available to Women's Groups

A film about breast cancer, showing how to determine yourself if a cancer is forming, has just been purchased by the Peterborough Cancer Society.

This is a new, modern kind of health film, not in any way embarrassing, which has been prepared under medical advice specially to be shown to women's organizations. When doctors and members of the local society previewed the film Thursday it was considered a film that should be viewed by husbands also, so that they may be alert to any symptoms of the disease and insist on medical attention at once.

Designed to save thousands of lives the film demonstrates how to perform self examination for breast cancer. It is a 16 MM, sound track, running 15½ minutes.

Women's organizations of the city and county wishing to use the film should contact Mrs. Maurice Holt, 469 Water St.

FRANK WELSMAN, distinguished member of the board of examiners of the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto who will conduct current examinations for the Conservatory in Peterborough, February 20-23.

Toronto Signs Phil Marchildon

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP). — Phil Marchildon, one of the American League's top pitchers three years ago, Friday night signed a contract with Toronto's baseballing Maple Leafs.

For the 36-year-old native of Penetanguishene, it meant a return to the triple A club that 12 years ago started him on his swift, but short-lived, climb to stardom in the majors.

The chunky French-Canadian righthander broke in with Leafs in 1939 and moved up to the A's the following year. While with the A's, exclusive of three years —1943-45—when he was serving with the RCAF, Marchildon won 68 and lost 75. His best seasons were in 1942 when he won 17 and lost 14 with an eighth-place club, and 1947 when he produced a 19-9 record.

Marchildon suffered from a sore arm and "war nerves" the following two years and in 1950 was sold to Buffalo Bisons of the International League. He was released unconditionally by Bisons before the end of the season, returned to the majors for a two-week stop with Boston Red Sox and again was released.

Many baseball men have blamed the big righthander's quick fall from stardom on "war nerves"—the result of spending 10 months in a German prisoner-of-war camp. He was shot down over Germany while flying with the RCAF.

C's Oust The Wolves

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 17 — (ENS)—The Campbellford bantam "C" hockey team took their return match from Otonabee Wolves in the arena here on Friday night by the score of 12 to 2, to put themselves ahead by 13 goals on the round, and so take the series 20 to seven. The team now meets Stirling next week.

Denny MacArthur played in goal for Capmbellford on Friday night, and did a good job of stopping the few shots the Wolves had on him. Garvey and Wilson each netted four goals for the local lads, and spearheaded their team on most of the play.

Herron played a good game in the Wolves' nets, but just couldn't stand up to the shower of rubber from the local lads.

The teams:

Wolves—Goal, Jim Herron; defence, Jim McCarthy, Wayne Bethune; centre, Bob Herron; wings, Ken MacMillan, Bill Buchanan; alternates, Doug Lockhead, John Ferguson, Ken Barker, Maurice Hannon, Tom Kennedy, Glen Miles, Doug Shearer, Paul Adams.

Campbellford — Goal, Denny MacArthur; defence, Jim Baker, David Ingram; centre, Jack Garvey; wings, Bill Wilson, Carl McMillan; alternates, Paul Smith, Doug Seymour, Lyle Blond, David Girard, Bob Dunk, Joel MacArthur, Eddy Peake, Ross Hendricks.

Fashion Forecast

Sportswear Ensembles

Duster dresses top the list in spring sportswear, in everything from denim to bengaline. These can be worn by themselves as a dress, or as coats over dresses and skirts and tops (here is the costume look again). Easter ensembles can be made up of separates this year, too. Besides dusters and dresses, there are lots of co-ordinated skirt-and-jacket outfits. Newest are the short batwing or "shrug" bolero jackets for dress-up times. The redingote-skirt is also new in sportswear; this buttons down the front, can be worn by itself as a skirt, or over a dress or another skirt. Fashions dyed to match each other are just as important for spring as they were for fall—from inexpensive spun rayon skirts with matching cotton boucle or nylon sweaters to dyed-to-match silk and linen coordinates, or silk and gabardine or flannel.

Small Hats in Favor

The small hat is the most important for spring. It is newest worn level and forward. Many of these small hats—berets, sailors, cloches and bonnets—are done in straws with texture interest, and they get even more texture interest through embroidery of lace, braid or trimming. Flowers will blossom in profusion, usually small petals rather than flamboyant blooms, and there are more all-flowered hats this year. White, of course, for hats, with colors including vibrant yellows, bright pastels, the mauve range.

Stoles Important

The stole is headed for a big spring and summer, worn in any number of ways—belted at the waist, caught at the neckline with one end fastened at the waist with a large pin, wrapped around the shoulders, draped over the arms. White lingerie touches are also a sign of spring. In handbags, elongated shallow shapes are recommened for spring. Red is considered the leading color for spring handbags, especially in calf. Patent leather rates high on the list, often combined with linen, shantung or calf.

In gloves, the newest spring line is the oblique or slanting line, usually worked out in longer lengths with scalloped tops, side-swept draping, gauntlet cuffs. More fabric gloves will be worn for spring, and more colors, like pink, mauve, melon and pistache green.

Lingerie Keyed to Styles

Lingerie deserves a special word because it is keyed so carefully to spring ready-to-wear fashions. There are strapless slips and camisoles for bare-top dresses; slim slips for sheath dresses; and slips and camisoles with tops designed to be worn as actual blouses with suits. And corsets, the starting point of the wardrobe, have been designed for spring so that they give the slim line, the straight hips, the little waist that Easter parade fashions call for.

Valentine Tea

GORE'S LANDING, Feb. 17— (ENS)—An attractive Valentine tea was held by the ladies of the United Church WMS on Wednesday afternoon at their February meeting held at the home of Mrs. M. F. Ames. The collection from this tea was added to by the sale of a prize cake recipe given by Mrs. Frank Milne, who baked the cake especially for this occasion. The proceeds were a contribution towards the Mrs. W. L. Smythe memorial fund to provide a missionary room.

Two delegates to a recent meeting in Port Hope read their reports, the morning session being given by Miss Flora MacDonald and the afternoon report by Mrs. T. Cheyne in the absence of Mrs. Larke through illness. The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Medcoff and the Easter thankoffering will be held in April. Plans were made for a March 17th supper in the church hall followed by an illustrated lecture by Dr. R. Robertson of Cobourg.

PCVS Damsels Split Two In Cage Play

Packed with thrills throughout the fourth quarter PCVS' Garnet and Grey junior girls' basketball team edged Bowmanville High Friday at PCVS 20-16 for their fifth straight win this year. The senior PCVS lasses received their second setback in five starts when Bowmanville seniors won the second game 21-16.

In the opening games five weeks ago the PCVS teams edged both Bowmanville in the lakeshore school by one point, 20-19 in the senior and 19-18 in junior.

PCVS' senior scoring ace, Mary Craw, was held to 11 points and that was the difference in the game. Only once in the previous four games was she held to 11 points, the other loss to Port Hope 13-12. The guards failed to support the team defensively especially in the first and third quarters when Bowmanville built up fairly large margins in the scoring.

A. Husak led Bowmanville in the first quarter with two field baskets and two foul shot points as the lakeshore team were up 9-4. M. Dippell netting the other three points. Mary Craw dropped in three foul shots in four attempts and Nancy Mason one foul shot for PCVS. A basket by junior eager, Rosie McInroy, and another foul shot point by Craw gave PCVS a 3-2 score in the second half, Husak scoring the Bowmanville basket.

Not Enough

PCVS went down 5-2 in the third quarter when Dippell and Husak both scored baskets and J. Craig a foul shot for Bowmanville. PCVS' points were by Nancy Mason. PCVS outplayed and outscored the lakeshore high in the final quarter but Mary Craw's seven-point effort wasn't enough. G. Snowden, Dippell and Craig added five points for Bowmanville to take the win.

The verdict in the junior game was in doubt until the final whistle. Reta Naylor, aided by the starry playing of Lorraine Derry and Rosie McInroy around the basket, topped the scoring with 10 points. Phyllis Peryer and Betty Wilkinson, guards, stemmed the Bowmanville forwards with close checking.

A basket by Rosie McInroy, and a foul shot point by Lorraine Derry gave PCVS a point edge at the first quarter 3-2. Lenore Osborne scoring two foul shots for Bowmanville. Led by Reta Naylor, PCVS took a 12-7 at the half. Naylor scored three baskets for six points, Rosie McInroy a basket and Lorraine Derry another foul point. Lenore Osborne continued adding a single point on a foul shot.

Baskets by Dorothy Kilpatrick and Lenore Osborne kept Bowmanville on even terms with PCVS in the third when Lorraine Derry had three points and Rosie McInroy one. Reta Naylor sent in four points in the last quarter when Bowmanville outscored PCVS 5-4.

Gunshot Wound Ends Romance For Canadian

MIDDLEFIELD, Conn., Feb. 17 (AP)—A fatal gunshot wound ended what police described as a romance between the son of a prominent Hartford manufacturer and a Canadian woman.

Found dying Thursday when investigators arrived at a sparsely furnished, two-room cottage was John Hart, 26, shot in the brain. He was taken to hospital where he died.

Dr. H. Deforest Lockwood, Meriden medical examiner, reported the death as a suicide.

Police said that Hart had been living in the cottage since last fall with Florence Mabel Ellis, formerly of Toronto.

They met when Hart, who, police said, had a record of mental instability, was sent to work in a branch factory operated by his father's company at Aurora, Ont. She later joined him here.

In Connecticut, they worked on tobacco and potato farms in this area and last November, police reported, they moved into the cottage here.

Planned To Wed

Police quoted Miss Ellis as saying she and Hart planned to marry when a divorce decree separating him from his former wife became final.

Although police said the woman was arrested here on a charge of lascivious carriage arising from her relationship with Hart, they described here as a "fundamentally good" person who thought she was helping the manufacturer's son overcome his difficulties.

A $1,000 bond for her release was posted by Hart's father, George H. Hart, president-treasurer of the Hart Manufacturing Company.

Police said Miss Ellis told them she had a "strange premonition" while Hart was cleaning a .22-calibre rifle. As he was looking down the barrel, the gun suddenly discharged, she said. She held him in her arms until she could no longer hear him breathing and then ran out for aid.

PORT ARTHUR, —(CP)—Passengers travelling on buses here in 1950 totalled 5,870,764; a drop of 1 per cent from the 1949 total. Because of increased fares however the revenues rose to $145,353, an increase of $8,421.

HAVING EXPERIENCED some of the heaviest bombing raids in World War II, the city of Bristol, England, is today undergoing realistic tests for rescue work in the event of another outbreak. Civil and military operations were given a thorough work-out recently when 1,500 troops joined forces with Civil Defence in tackling the damage caused by an assumed atom bomb attack. The test known as "Exercise Madusa" was the 1st full-scale operation ever carried out in Britain and here troops are shown carrying away a stretcher case from an awkward spot on a blitzed site.

9 Youths Receive 6 Months' Jail Terms At Kitchener

KITCHENER, Feb. 17 —(CP)— Nine youths were each sentenced to six months in jail and 10 strokes of the lash when they appeared Friday on morals charges stemming from the recent investigation into activities of a group of girls 12-14 years old.

Six of the youths were charged with having carnal knowledge of under-age girls and three with indecent assault. All but one pleaded guilty.

Magistrate H. R. Polson in passing judgment suggested the youths attempt their rehabilitation elsewhere after they serve their sentences. "The finger of contempt" will always be pointed at them here, he said.

Previously the court heard A. W. Boos, counsel for one of the accused, describe the case as the most shocking he has encountered.

He suggested the girls involved had a shocking degree of sexual knowledge and were possibly more aggressive than the youths. His plea was echoed by other counsel.

Sentenced on carnal knowledge charges were Douglas Smythe, 20; Charles Mansfield, 17; Edward Cashabec, 22; Ambrose Joseph Freiburger, 16; Harvey Leonard Prang, 18; Lawrence Kocher, 24.

Jailed on indecent assault charges were, George Degan, 17; Glenn Guthrie, 18, Waterloo and Lloyd Schaefer, 17, Erbsville. Of the group only Smythe and Guthrie have records, the court was told.

Charge Taxation Plan Too Rigid

MONTREAL, Feb. 17 —(CP)— The municipal finance and taxation structure is too rigid and limited to give effective government the advisory board of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities said in a report released Friday.

The report, prepared by George S. Mooney, executive director of the federation, will be presented to the federal government by a delegation from the federation headed by Mayor P. Horace Boivin, Granby, Que., federation president.

The report said federal and provincial governments had increased their incomes by 700 per cent since 1930 to meet inflation but municipal governments increased theirs by only 50 per cent.

During this same period the costs of public school education, handled by municipalities, increased by 117 per cent and municipal welfare costs increased by 89 per cent.

The municipalities have also had to face mounting demands for increased wages, pension funds, etc., from municipal employees.

"The facts are compelling," the report said. "They substantiate the contention of municipal governments that the present municipal finance and taxation structure is too rigid and too limited to serve as an adequate base upon which the financial affairs of local governments can continue to be carried on effectively."

Warns Couples Don't Expect Perfect Marriage

"Do not expect a flawless marriage," Dr. Bruce Gordon told those attending the last in the series of the marriage counselling course at Trinity United Church Thursday night.

The topic of Dr. Gordon's address was "Spiritual Factors in Marriage." The speaker developed this theme by using 10 rules of marriage as a basis.

"You should not let little things become big things," Dr. Gordon contended. "All is not lost if there are some misunderstandings. A good motto to follow is, 'Let not the sun go down on your wrath.'"

Dr. Gordon also emphasized that married couples should share their religious life. He mentioned the advisability of both being members of the same church, and said that in a religious life can be found a kind of unity deeper and stronger than any other.

The remaining eight of the 10 rules Dr. Gordon mentioned were: Look before you leap; do not leave the in-laws out; the wedding is just the start; financial partnership; you always pay for life; do not let romance die; marriage is a life undertaking; make your home a place of refuge.

Dr. Gordon was introduced by Ernie Horton.

The Mr. and Mrs. Club, who sponsor it, met in conjunction with the marriage counselling course.

Presidents Mr. and Mrs. John Pierce were in charge of the meeting. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Bert McFadden and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Horton.

GIDEON SUNDAY IN PETERBOROUGH

A CONTRIBUTION TO THE GIDEONS IS AN INVESTMENT IN CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP

Answering Your Questions About "The Gideons"

Who? The Gideons International is an Association of Christian commercial and business men who have linked themselves in fellowship for mutual spiritual edification and united Christian service. Organized in 1899, their membership numbers approximately 15,000 around the world, 1,200 in Canada.

What? Gideons have as their objective the winning of others for Christ. They labour together to that end through personal witness and the placing of the Word of God in hotel guest rooms, hospital wards, prison cells, school classrooms, etc. New Testaments are also presented to military personnel and the youth of our land.

Why? Because Gideons believe that "righteousness exalteth a nation" (Proverbs 14:34), and that only the Lord Jesus Christ can free men from the penalty of sin, secure their eternal happiness and empower them to live lives that are clean and upright.

How? Gideons themselves provide a substantial portion of the annual budget in Canada, which this year exceeds $100,000.00; the balance being contributed voluntarily by interested friends who believe in the effective power of the Word of God in transforming lives.

DOES IT PAY? Here Is Your Answer!

From the Gideon Ministry at Home—A steady flow of unsolicited testimonials from persons who have been helped in a spiritual way through the Gideon ministry say "yes" to the question "Does it pay?" Here's what some say:

HOTELS

"Discouraged and lonely I was sitting in my hotel room when I noticed a Gideon Bible on the table. I read at length, then I prayed and accepted Christ as my Saviour. For the first time in my life I experienced real peace and happiness."

HOSPITALS

"In taking my bed jacket out of the dresser drawer I found your Gideon Bible. I read the passages suggested on the front page. I lost my fear. Although the way of the transgressor is hard, thank God, I found the answer before it was too late."

PRISONS

"Through a Bible placed in my cell by The Gideons I found freedom in Christ. With the Bible lying on my bed I got down on my knees and confessed my sins to God. The Lord was merciful to me and I arose from my knees a Christian."

AND IN REGIONS BEYOND

An "around-the-world" programme means that multiplied thousands of copies of the Word of God are being made available to the spiritually needy. Some helped write to say:

GREAT BRITAIN—"I have discovered from reading the Bible that the Lord Jesus Christ loved me and died for me and I have found Him as my Saviour."

GERMANY—"I got a New Testament which came from you. I read the Book and it gave me satisfaction and helped me to understand some of the uncleared questions of life. God gave me His Light and showed me all my sins. I came to know the Lord Jesus Christ as my personal Saviour."

THE PHILIPPINES—"I am glad to tell you I have a Gideon Testament. I enjoy reading it very much. I came to know that we all are sinners, but if we come to Christ and accept Him as our personal Saviour He is willing to save us."

JAPAN—"I am writing to thank you for the lovely Testament. I eagerly read its pages. I found that everybody is a sinner and the Divine remedy is Christ. Suddenly I discovered that God had given me new spiritual life. Since my new life began to read the Bible to my heart's content. I am so happy and cheerful now."

West Germany Recognizes Debts

BONN, Germany, Feb. 17 (AP) —West Germany decided Friday to recognize its responsibility for war debts of the Hitler Reich, and thus paved the way for allied approval of a German Foreign Minister.

The allied high commission is to be notified at once of the decision, a spokesman said. The war debts question was the big obstacle in the way of granting more political freedoms—including its own foreign office—to the government or Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The U.S., British and French foreign ministers agreed last fall in New York that West German controls should be relaxed if the Germans gave assurances that they acknowledge responsibility for the third Reich's debts, make a settlement of economic aid received from the allies, and cooperate in equitable distribution of goods and materials needed for western defence.

In London, a British foreign office spokesman told reporters Britain hopes all three western allies soon can formally end the state of war with Germany, possibly within weeks.

Trent River Carrier To Mark Birthday

TRENT RIVER, Feb. 17 (ENS) —Ten-year-old Bob McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLaughlin, is a familiar figure to district residents. He is the Examiner carrier boy for Trent River.

His interest in the newspaper business may run in the blood. Before him, his uncle was a carrier boy and his father has been in the printing business in Havelock and Lakefield.

Because of ill health, Mr. McLaughlin retired from the printing business and bought a grocery store in Trent River which he has operated for 13 years.

Bob is a keen angler and hunter, but best of all games to him is hockey. Here he follows again in his father's footsteps— Frank McLaughlin was a Trent Valley League player for several years.

Money saved from Bob's carrier route is going into a new bicycle, and his sister, Diane, who is 7, will take over the older, smaller bike.

Next week, on Wednesday, Bob will celebrate his 11th birthday.

Dancer Hopes To Form National Ballet

LONDON, Feb. 17 —(CP)— Celia Franca, 29-year-old British ballet dancer, left for Canada Friday to try to organize a national ballet company there.

"If I can find 35 good dancers, Canada will have her own company," Miss Franca assured reporters.

She said she is going to Canada on the invitation of Toronto business men, who want her to teach ballet know-how on a national basis.

Miss Franca was formerly with the famed Sadler's Wells Ballet Company which recently concluded a triumphal tour of Canada and the United States.

Register Protest

LIMA, Peru, Feb. 17 —(AP)— Peru charged Thursday that head-hunting Jibaro Indians from Ecuador killed two Peruvian border patrol soldiers while they searched for lost buddies in the jungle wilderness along the Santiago River frontier. A stiff note of protest said it was assumed Ecuadorian authorities had supplied the well-armed and warlike tribe with the guns and ammunition they used.

Students Hear Norma Hughes

PCVS students were advised Friday to take full advantage of the opportunities offered them. This advice was given by a former PCVS blind student, Miss Norma Hughes, publicity convener of the Ontario division of the Canadian Council of the Blind, at the students' observance of White Cane Week.

Several suggestions for helping blind people were given such as letting the blind person take your arm when trying to cross at intersections, standing bicycles erect instead of leaving them flat on the sidewalks, closing doors of cars when parked, and not blowing the car horn when a blind person is crossing the street.

Miss Hughes said that White Cane week was first started in 1946 and was named after the symbol of blindness, either totally or partially.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, said Miss Hughes, services the blind people with libraries. The Canadian Council of the Blind, formed eight years ago, is a voluntary organization, composed of 37 clubs for the blind across Canada.

Miss Hughes said there were 18,000 blind people in Canada, 60 blind people in the city and 85 in Peterborough and county. The local member club of the Canadian council is the Louise Braille Society which meets once a month for the purpose of recreation for the blind.

C. S. Browne, principal, when introducing Miss Hughes, presented her academic standing the chance to plead guilty on a "unique record" in spite of her handicap.

Miss Hughes is visiting the Normal schools in Ontario and Friday morning spoke at the Peterborough Normal School of which she is a former pupil.

Along with his wife, mother and school-age daughter, he was forced to evacuate on Saturday, as neighbours helped him remove all livestock. Boyce's land was the worst affected of several other farms in the vicinity.

Allies Hurl Back Reds On Whole Korean Front

Mayor Rush 1st Witness In Inquiry

Begin Investigation Into Dismissal From Police Force

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 19 (CP) —Mayor Allan J. Rush was the first witness called in the provincial enquiry which opened today in Middlesex County courthouse to investigate the circumstances surrounding his dismissal from the city police force last July.

Mr. Rush took the stand before a crowd of spectators that overflowed the main courtroom and filled corridors.

Court officials said that in their experience they had never witnessed such overcrowding. Jury boxes were thrown open to spectators and others were seated in the aisles of the gallery.

Mr. Justice W. D. Roach was appointed to the investigation by Attorney-General Porter when he announced the investigation of Mr. Rush's dismissal in the legislature Feb. 3.

He read the letters of reference: 'Pursuant to section 46 of the police act, I appoint the Hon. W. D. Roach justice of the Supreme Court of Ontario to investigate and to report to me on the administration of the police force of the City of London with respect to the dismissal of one Allan J. Rush."

That, he said, would be the limit of the scope of the investigation.

First Witness

Mayor Rush was first witness called to testify by crown counsel A. A. MacDonald, under questioning, the mayor said that apart from his dismissal there were no other disciplinary proceedings in which he was involved.

He said Mr. Wenige first told him of the dismissal after a meeting of the London Police Commission on July 14 last year.

"Did you have any warning or complaint communicated to you in advance of your dismissal?" asked Mr. MacDonald.

"Yes, on July 11, prior to the association meeting," the mayor replied.

U.N. Troops Smash 4 Miles Enemy Casualties 'Terrible'

TOKYO, Feb. 19 (AP)—Counter-attacking Americans today smashed four miles into the heart of a Korean Red stronghold in East-Central Korea. Hundreds of Communists were killed. On the Central and Western fronts, the ba'ly-mauled Chinese withdrew from the battle lines. Lt.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said his Allied forces had won a decisive victory on these fronts. But he said the Chinese Reds have enough massed troops to prevent a successful Allied crossing north of Parallel 38 if the Reds commit them.

UN troops established a small bridgehead on the north bank of the Han River five miles east of Seoul, but were driven back by Red mortar and machine-gun fire.

The Allies advanced all along the western front, as much as four miles in some areas. Their lines were jammed solidly up to the south bank of the Han near the ruins of the Korean capital.

The action on the east-central front was developing at two points north of Chechon, key highway and rail centre 20 air miles southeast of Wonju.

Near Chuchon

Associated Press Correspondent Tom Stone reported that a task force, rolling behind heavy artillery barracks and fighter-bomber strikes, punched four miles northward to within a mile of Chuchon.

Chuchon is 10 miles north of Chechon.

The task force jumped off at 9 a.m. (7 p.m. EST Sunday) and advanced over snow - covered mountain roads. Stone said artillery fire alone accounted for more than 200 enemy dead.

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton said the other American counter-attack recaptured a bitterly-defended mile of a wedge driven by the Reds into the Chechon front last week.

This action covered a 2½-mile front about six miles north of Chechon. By nightfall the force had captured the little mountain town of Kumna and driven the Reds from three hills.

Furious Battle

Swinton said a furious battle was in progress for a fourth hill.

An estimated 3,000 Korean Reds had made light attacks in the area Sunday, but these were repulsed.

It was quiet between this sector and the west coast. The Reds had pulled back along the 70-mile front after failing—at tremendous cost—to crack the Allied line in a five-day drive.

Ridgway credited a magnificent stand by American and French forces at Chipyong with smashing the Red drive Thursday. He said the Chinese were so hard hit that his patrols have been unable to make contact for 36 hours.

Ridgway, commander of the Eighth Army, told a press conference that although the Chinese have been beaten south of Parallel 38, they have enough massed manpower to prevent an Allied crossing of the old boundary.

Parallel 38 was designated as a temporary dividing line for occupation purposes after the Second World War. It recently became a touchy political question. Prime Minister Attlee of Great Britain said the United Nations should reconsider the question before Allied forces cross the boundary.

No Significance

To Ridgway, however, the line "has no significance."

"I have not given (it) a thought," he said.

President Truman said Gen. MacArthur still has authority to send U.N. troops across 38 if it becomes militarily advisable. U.N. troops crossed it last fall and had final victory over North Korea in sight when Red China entered the conflict.

Ridgway said the Chinese had five armies on the line when they began their attack on the central front last week after a limited Allied offensive carried from Suwon to the gates of Seoul, former South Korean capital.

"When they attacked on a 20-mile front they had the potential of a powerful attack," Ridgway said.

But the Reds lost thousands of men daily. Some were carrying only primitive weapons — among them crude spears.

But he would not say the Reds were that short of modern weapons and ammunition.

He did not consider serious the Korean Red attacks on the east-central front north of Chechon. Since the collapse of the Red drive between Wonju and Chipyong the Chinese had been trying to disengage.

A six-mile advance carried American troops 10 miles northeast of Chipyong. Turkish patrols swept the entire peninsula northwest of Seoul without finding any Chinese.

Nab Gunmen After Holdup At Bank Door

Stolen Car Trapped Between 2 Cruisers, Find Cheques Loot

SUDBURY, Feb. 19. (CP) — Two gunmen today held up an International Nickel Company pay clerk on the steps of the north end branch of the Bank of Toronto. A few minutes later police captured two men downtown and charged them with the holdup.

Police said the alleged gunmen used a stolen car and stolen firearms. A suitcase filled with INCO cheques was recovered.

Two shots were fired in the hold-up which led to the arrest of two men identified as Jack Campbell, 27, of Sudbury, and Jack Chadwick, 28, of Fenwick, Ont.

Both were scheduled to appear in court today on charges of armed robbery. Police said they were armed with loaded 9 millimetre automatic pistols when captured.

One of the gunmen, said to be Chadwick, accosted Inco pay clerk Len Turner of Copper Cliff, as he waited for the bank to open and ordered him to hand over a suitcase containing Inco pay cheques.

Possible $200,000

Inco paymaster Ken McNeil, who supervised the distribution of cheques after the holdup, said there was a "considerable amount in cheques" in the suitcase, but no definite figure was given. Rumor placed it at more than $200,000.

The gunmen apparently were under the impression that the weekly payroll at the north end bank branch was in cash.

"I was just about to go into the bank when one of the men came up and said 'let me have it'," Turner said. "The taller one stood beside the car parked on the street. I made a grab for the gun the chap was holding and it went off just as I reached for it. The gun was pointing to the side at the time."

The gunman then grabbed the suitcase and got into the car. The men were arrested in a lane when their car was trapped between two police cruisers.

The two men who held up Turner left the bank in a car stolen two weeks ago. When it ran into a snow bank, they held up George Burke, who had followed them in a truck. In this truck they turned into Fir Lane when they saw a police cruiser. They then found themselves trapped between this cruiser and another at the end of the street.

In making their escape from the scene of the attempted holdup, would-be bandits hit John McTumber, seven, before heading into the snowbank. The boy wasn't seriously hurt.

Rail Strike Under Way In Manchester

LONDON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Fifty million Britons, already shivering through a winter of too little coal and not enough meat, awoke today to the new crisis of a threatened railway strike.

The rail walkout began shortly after midnight in Manchester, where 3,500 freight handlers stopped work in protest against a proposed five-per-cent wage increase they consider too small. Other rail unions made plans to join them.

Only five freight handlers reported for work in the heavily industrialized Manchester area after the strike decision.

Another 11,000 members of the National Union of Railwaymen, —engineers, firemen, signalmen, guards and porters—have promised to join the walk-out at midnight Tuesday.

With all three major British rail unions seeking a larger increase, spokesmen predict a full-scale strike on the nationalized roads this week unless the government offer is raised.

To Meet Executive

Leaders of the unions were to meet with the government's railway executive today to press their demands.

Other strikes and slowdowns were in prospect. In Sheffield 10,000 voted to start "working to the rule" today. By this action, the men would follow to the letter every obscure regulation in a book of rules grown fat with trivialities during the years.

At Birmingham, 800 others adopted the same slow-down tactics. At Mexborough, 1,200 voted to strike next Sunday. Many other workers scheduled token 48-hour stoppages for next weekend.

The railways' three big unions —the National Union of Railwaymen, the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers, and the Firemen and Railway Clerks' Association—asked last August for wage boosts of from 7½ to 15 per cent.

Digs At Tunnel 2 Years Convict Escapes Prison

BALTIMORE, Feb. 19. (AP) — A 39-year-old convict wormed his way early Sunday through a 70-foot tunnel from his cell to freedom outside the massive State Penitentiary wall. He was still at large today. Joseph Holmes, credited by Warden Edwin T. Swenson with "the most fantastic escape I've ever heard of," was serving the 10th year of a 20-year burglary sentence.

The warden said it must have taken Holmes two years to dig his way out.

A slender, light figure, Holmes started his tunnel under his bunk. He carefully lifted out a piece of slate about two feet square from the floor. Then he hit cement.

Piece by piece, he chipped away the cement, apparently working only between 5 p.m. and 10 p.m. When the loudspeaker system blared out radio programs.

After 10 inches of this, he struck dirt.

He apparently disposed of the material — scooped up with smuggled scrap iron—by flushing it down his toilet. He had to carry the dirt—trip by trip—in his clothing.

Comes Up By Fence

Once under the wall that extended 10 feet deep, Holmes angled sharply up. The tunnel emerged in a sodded area between the main wall and a seven-foot fence. A hop over, and he melted into the pre-dawn darkness.

George P. Gearheart, cellhouse officer, discovered the break when he found a wadded blanket and pillow in Holmes' bed. Lifting up the bunk, Gearheart saw the square opening in the floor.

"That guy must have been an engineer," Warden Swenson said. "The guards tell me he was always neat and clean. We figure he must have taken off his shoes before he started to keep from getting them muddy."

Privy Council Delays Judgment

LONDON, Feb. 19 — (CP). — The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council today reserved judgment in a Canadian appeal concerning the custody of Terry Alexander McKee, 10-year-old son of a Michigan Air Lines executive.

The case, which has been fought for nine years in Canadian and American court, went before the highest court in the Commonwealth last Tuesday.

McKee, who has a home at Linwood, near Kitchener, asked the law lords through counsel to reverse a Supreme Court of Canada judgment awarding custody of the child to his divorced wife.

The Council's action followed closing arguments by counsel on the fourth day of the hearing.

The Supreme Court of Canada judgment was handed down last June. Mrs. McKee was awarded custody of the boy on the understanding that she would take the child to the United States.

Scores Of Reds Desert Party

ROME, Feb. 19 (AP). — New scores of Communists today were reported turning in their party cards as the split in Italy's Red ranks widened across the country.

From Gravina, Apulia, press reports said 220 Communists and pro-Red Socialists handed their cards to the Christian Democrat (anti-Red government) party. The reports said all asked to join the Christian Democrats.

Nine members in Calabria, Southern Italy, said they "did not want to belong to organizations sponsoring the invasion of Italy by Soviet troops."

The rift in the party—biggest this side of the iron curtain—developed with the resignations on Jan. 26 of Communist deputies Valdo Magnani and Aldo Cucchi in Northern Italy. The two deputies resigned because their fellow Communists would not declare opposition to invasion of Italian soil by Soviet Russia.

Fierce Explosion Rips Through London House

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 19 (CP)— A fierce explosion ripped through the two-storey home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Rodgers on Piccadilly Street today, blasting out walls, shifting the house on its foundation and lifting the roof from the walls.

Mrs. Rodgers, working less than 10 feet from the coal furnace where the explosion was believed to have originated, crawled from the blazing basement through a small window. She had only her hair singed, but was taken to hospital for shock treatment.

Pieces of the verandah were blown 75 feet across the street, kitchen curtains were blown into backyard trees and the 12-foot chimney was toppled onto the wrecked roof.

Three city gas company employees were fixing a leak in a line to the house which Mr. Rodgers said he reported about eight days ago.

Village Burned As Punishment

SINGAPORE, Feb. 19 (Reuters) —Houses in the doomed village of Jendaram in Selangor State, Malaya, were stripped bare today before security forces burned it to the ground under a collective punishment order.

The Malayan government announced last week that the village would be destroyed, under the emergency regulations because it was a "hot-bed of bandit helpers and sympathizers."

Its 1,500 inhabitants had already been removed to detention camps.

Livestock and movable goods have been auctioned and the houses broken up for their building materials.

Fire Destroys Lodge Say Arson Suspected

ROCKPORT, Ont., Feb. 19 — (CP)—Hickory Lodge, 100-year-old resort hotel in this St. Lawrence River community, 20 miles southwest of Brockville, was destroyed by fire early Sunday and Ontario provincial police are investigating the possibility of arson.

Two neighboring residents reported seeing two men enter the deserted 22-room building during the night and said they saw the men leave on the run about a half-hour before the fire was discovered. Damage was estimated at $25,000.

Army Considers Changing US Machine-Guns and Rifles

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP) —The United States army is considering changing over to new and better models of two of its most widely-used weapons—machine-guns and rifles.

If made, the transition will be a process taking years, instead of a sudden tossing away of existing weapons and picking up of new ones.

The army has hundreds of thousands of .30- and .50 calibre machine-guns. Its rifles, automatics and carbines number in the millions.

The cost of a change is only one factor. Production lines would have to be stopped and new ones set up; facilities would have to be provided for new types of mass ammunition production.

The army showed experimental types of the machine-guns and rifles to President Truman during the weekend in a demonstration at the Aberdeen, Md., proving ground.

It is considering adoption of a .60-calibre machine-gun far faster and hard-hitting than anything used now.

Among its advantages are a high rate of fire and a high velocity — both important because ground forces must defend themselves against jet-air attack. The heavy, fixed type of .50-calibre machine-gun fires 450 to 570 rounds a minute. The new gun has a normal rate of 750. It sprays bullets like water from a hose.

The gun can be converted quickly to a .20-millimetre weapon merely by changing the barrel.

It is fired electrically; the crew can get away from it if the enemy answer accurately, and fire by remote control.

Railway Union Pleads Guilty

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)— The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen pleaded guilty to contempt of court today in the recent "sick" strikes in railyards and was fined $75,000.

Federal Judge Edward Tamm ordered the fine in U.S. District Court here immediately after the surprise plea.

He said he was fining the union $50,000 for criminal contempt as a "punitive" penalty for the strikes which occurred despite army operation of the railroads.

The other $25,000 for civil contempt was intended to compensate the government for the cost of bringing the legal proceedings against the union.

Tamm said it would require "a firm of accountants working for years" to determine the actual damages suffered by the public in delayed service, missed connections or the blocking of shipments of munitions and supplies to Korea.

The union already had drawn a $25,000 fine in Chicago for the stoppage there. Another case is still pending in Cleveland.

Tries To Save Chickens Woman Dies Of Burns

THESSALON, Ont., Feb. 19 — (CP).—Mrs. Arthur McAlpine, 41 died Sunday night from burns suffered when she tried to rescue a flock of chickens from a blazing chicken coop in rear of her home. She was believed to have been burning rubbish near the coop when it caught fire Saturday. Her clothes were almost burned off.

Barely conscious, Mrs. McAlpine was found by her father, Sam Miskimmin, as she was trying to get into other clothes in hopes of managing some way to get to hospital. Mr. Miskimmin hailed a passing truck to take her to hospital. She died 30 hours later.

A sister, Mrs. R. A. Hunt lives in Sault Ste. Marie, about 55 miles west of here.

North Bay Man Committed To Stand Trial

NORTH BAY, Feb. 19 (CP)— E. B. Murphy, 69, today was committed for trial on a charge of murder in the hammer-slaying of his wife.

He will be tried in a Supreme Court hearing here March 19. Committal came after a preliminary hearing today in which several witnesses were heard.

One of them, Vern Andrews, told the court that Murphy told him on the day after the slaying that his wife swung at him with the hammer. Then he blacked out and when he recovered consciousness his wife, Mrs. Belle H. Murphy, was dead.

Witnesses heard today were Andrews, former business associate of Murphy, and a friend of long standing, Dr. J. R. Hall, who performed an autopsy on the dead woman, and Inspector Ivan Thurlow, one of the officers concerned in the subsequent investigation.

At times Murphy wept silently, dabbing at his eyes with a handkerchief while Inspector Ivan Thurlow told the court of the conditions of the body of Mrs. Murphy when it was found in the trunk room in the basement of the Murphy home here.

Death was caused by a subdural hemorrhage which was caused by a fracture of the skull the doctor said. The fracture was caused by external force, he said.

Foulkes In Washington To Discuss UN Force

OTTAWA, Feb. 19—(CP)—The Defence Department's top military official was in Washington today and believed to be discussing the question of whether Canada should send her Special Army Force to Europe or Korea.

Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, chairman of the Chiefs of Staff committee and former Army Chief, is expected back in Ottawa tonight.

Authoritative quarters say it is the government's wish to send a brigade group—5,000 to 6,000 men—to Europe and that Canada would not look with too much favor on sending further units to Korea.

However, if the United Nations wants the force for Korea it would probably be hard to resist the request since the 10,000-man force was raised for that purpose.

The force now is nearing completion of its training at Fort Lewis, Wash., and should be ready for commitment within about two weeks.

Anonymous Donor Giving Presbyterian Church Million

OTTAWA, Feb. 19. (CP)—An anonymous donor has pledged himself to give the Presbyterian Church in Canada $1,000,000 over the next 10 years. The Rev. F. Scott Mackenzie of Montreal, Moderator of the General Assembly, made the announcement today at a Presbytery luncheon at St. Andrew's Church, Ottawa. He said it is the largest single gift the church has received, "something unprecedented."

The donor was described only as "a layman of the Presbyterian Church in Canada."

Its immediate result would be to ease "heavy burdens of financial worry in many manses across the land . . ."

The money has been given to help married ministers and widowers in the lower income brackets and their children. An 11-man board of trustees will administer the fund whose expenditures will extend over the next 20 years.

Aid 250 Immediately

Dr. MacKenzie estimated some 250 of the church's 650 ministers will benefit immediately.

Under terms of the fund, all married ministers receiving the present minimum stipend of $2,000 will receive a supplement of $100 a year. A further allowance of $50 a year will be paid for each dependent child to the maximum of three.

Dr. Mackenzie said ministerial stipends, "never too generous at any time, have become in recent years increasingly inadequate to meet the steadily rising cost of living."

At the present time the minimum salary for Presbyterian ministers is $2,000 plus manse and car allowance. Before an increase was put through last October, it was $1,800 and manse.

Dr. Mackenzie said he felt the benefits from the gift would encourage young men of ability and deep Christian conviction "who are so sorely needed in the ministry today to dedicate themselves to the service."

Canada Offers Pay 25 Million

COLOMBO, Ceylon, Feb. 19— (Reuters)—Canada has offered to contribute $25,000,000 to the Commonwealth Colombo plan to develop South and Southeast Asia, it was announced today. At lot of the money will be spent in Canada.

David Johnson, Canadian delegate at the meetings here of the Consultative Committee of Economic Development of South and Southeast Asia, made the announcement.

The Colombo plan is estimated to cost a total of £1,868,000,000 ($5,604,000,000) over six years.

"The Canadian government has decided it is willing to contribute $25,000,000 to the first year of the Colombo plan, provided it is clear other contributing countries will be making appropriate contributions so that the broad objectives of the Colombo plan can be realized," Johnson said.

Propose Meeting

LONDON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Britain, the United States and France today proposed to Russia a meeting of deputy foreign ministers in Paris March 5 as a first step toward four-power talks on disputes between the east and west.

A foreign office spokesman said Britain's ambassador to Moscow, Sir David Kelly, was scheduled to give the British note to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vyshinsky this afternoon.

Professor's Genius Pyramids $6,000 Salary Into Million Dollar Fortune With Stocks

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Feb. 19 (AP)—A professor, whose annual salary never topped $6,000 built up a fortune of close to $1,000,000, it was disclosed today in the will of the man who pyramided the money—the late George A. Miller.

He left his entire estate to the University of Illinois.

Miller, 87 when he died Feb. 10, was a familiar figure on the campus. He dressed plainly and often ate with students in the cafeteria. Not even his intimates knew of his wealth.

James G. Thomas, the lawyer who prepared the will, estimated Miller's holdings at between $900,000 and $1,000,000.

The professor, a mathematician, bought stocks and bonds. Nobody knew precisely how he parlayed his salary into six-figure riches.

The executor of the will, Marc C. Norton, said:

"I don't know what his investment formula was. But it certainly was a successful one."

$1,000,000 Fires Sweep 2 Clubs

DENVER, Feb. 19 (AP)—The death toll stood at six today following two million-dollar fires that swept through two private clubs here in as many days.

The swank Wolhurst Saddle Club was razed Sunday by a blaze which took two lives. Four died in a fire at the Denver Athletic Club in downtown Denver Saturday afternoon.

Killed in the Wolhurst clubhouse, which had housed royalty, gamblers and one United States president, were Bob Snell, 37, and Tamie Kakus, 64. Two persons were injured.

Another 20 employees escaped the fire, started by a defective oil burner.

The Athletic Club fire, started from a short circuit, mushroomed through part of the six-storey building.

Stalin Blast At UN May Backfire

Diplomats Believe Russians Get New Opposition Idea

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. — (AP) — Diplomatic officials predicted today that Stalin's blast at the United Nations and the free world generally will backfire in three ways.

These authorities speculated that it may have these effects:

1. To tighten up, rather than divide, the west in its determination to build military strength against Soviet expansion. This because, despite his avowals of seeking peace, the over-all tone of what Stalin said was tough and uncompromising.

First expected result: Quick western agreement on a note to Moscow calling on the Russians to say if they are willing to hold Big Four talks on the real causes of world tension.

2. Inside Russia, where Stalin's words are universally read, his descriptions of the array of nations against the Communist bloc may give the Russian people a new idea of what they are up against.

The State Department's reply Saturday night, mildly denouncing the Stalin comments as "misstatement," expressed the hope that Stalin's attack on the United Nations and all UN members who voted against the Communists in Korea "will awaken the Soviet people to the dangerous road down which they are being led."

Prestige Involved

3. Stalin's personal prestige has become involved in Russia's diplomatic and propaganda battle more directly than ever before. Previously he had held aloof from the East-West conflict in most of his public pronouncements.

The State Department opened an attack on this point Sunday night. Its "Voice of America" broadcast said Stalin has "put himself on record and on trial before the world by lending his own name to the Soviet deception."

The fact that the official mouthpiece of the United States would take such a personal thrust at the chief of the Soviet State, showed both the government's estimate of the extent to which Stalin had led with his chin, and the advanced deterioration in relations between the Soviet Union and the United States.

Britain also replied to the Stalin attack over the weekend, accusing Russia of using the "threat of overwhelming force" and "aggressive and subversive policies" throughout the world to prevent peace.

London accused Russia of assisting Communist minorities to seize power throughout Eastern Europe, or violating the Potsdam agreement by sealing off the Soviet zone of Germany, and of supporting in the UN the "unprovoked aggression" of North Korea and Communist China.

2nd Rare Birth Reported In U.S.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Feb. 19 (AP)—Dr. Henry Gong Sunday delivered by abdominal section a normal baby not connected in any way with the mother's womb.

Dr. Gong said the case apparently was similar in every respect to the one reported at Hillsboro, Tex.

(There, Dr. J. L. Guffy reported he delivered a mother of a floating baby—one formed in the abdomen.)

Dr. Gong gave the mother's name as Mrs. Emma Benzor, 28, Redlands, Calif. The child, an eight-pound, five-ounce girl, is normal and healthy and the mother in good condition, he said.

Dr. Gong said he knew of 280 such births in medical history.

Four New Buses On City Routes

Two of the new extra-large buses purchased recently by the Peterborough Bus Lines serviced the people for the first time Sunday. These are the 38-passenger gasoline-combustion-engine buses bought in Fort Erie. The other two buses, 36-passenger diesel engine buses, bought in Fort William, have been on the routes for the past week.

Today the two newer buses were put on the George St. route and the Nicholls Park-Byersville route. They have a more modern design than the diesel buses except for the ordinary door opening system, the drivers still operating the opening and closing of the doors. Only the two diesel buses have the treadway opening system.

The gasoline buses have a new-type windshield which slants forward at the top and then back sharply. The lower back-slanting windshield gives the driver a clear view directly in front of the bus.

Pipeline Age

TORONTO, Feb. 19. (CP) —A government scientist predicted Saturday that Canada is entering an age of pipeline construction that will bring Alberta natural gas and oil eastward as far as Ontario and Quebec. Dr. G. S. Hume, director-general of scientific services, Department of Mines, Ottawa, told the Royal Canadian Institute that although it would cost $250,000,000 to build a pipeline serving Eastern Canada, the line would be built as soon as western reserves of oil and gas exceeded the needs of the prairie provinces.

Gardiner In London In Effort To Get Payment On Wheat

OTTAWA, Feb. 19. (CP)—The Canadian Government has sent Agriculture Minister Gardiner to London in another effort to obtain financial reimbursement from Britain for the postwar sale of wheat to the United Kingdom at below-world prices. Agriculture Department sources said discussions in London likely will decide whether western farmers will get a small or large final payment under the five-year 1945-50 Canadian Wheat Board pool.

Mr. Gardiner left suddenly by air Saturday. There was no announcement of his departure.

In meetings with United Kingdom officials he also is expected to obtain clarification on what Britain wants from Canada in the way of future food supplies in view of British stockpiling and a deepening world crisis.

Under Consideration

The final wheat payment to Canadian farmers has been under Cabinet consideration for weeks.

Western farmers have stated there are only sufficient funds on the books of the Canadian Wheat Board to pay about another five cents a bushel under the five-year pool. They have requested a final payment of between 15 and 25 cents a bushel for the 1,400,000,000 bushels in that period.

Most of that wheat went to Britain. Under the 1946-50 Anglo-Canadian wheat contract Canada delivered about 600,000,000 bushels at prices ranging from $1.55 a bushel for the first two years for No. 1 Northern to $2 a bushel for the last two years.

Clauses inserted in the agreement—known as the "have-regard" clause—to the effect that Britain recognized she was getting Canadian wheat below world prices and would take this into consideration in future dealings with Canada.

Last spring Trade Minister Howe brought the question up in London and he was told that Britain would fulfill her obligations by promising to take 120,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat in the current crop year under the terms of the international wheat agreement.

Military Bear-Baiting Gives Allies Brilliant Local Victory

By RUSSELL BRINES.

TOKYO, Feb. 19 (AP).—Military bear-baiting has given the allies a brilliant local victory in Korea.

U.N. forces smashed a Communist attack on the central front, piling up tens of thousands of dead and wounded. The allied cost was comparatively light.

The Red attack was provoked by American commanders under circumstances similar to the first big battle with the Chinese last November.

It required a risky military manoeuvre—setting off an enemy trap without getting caught in it.

The campaign began late last month when allied forces began gingerly reaching northward of Suwon toward the frozen Han River.

It was apparent then, say American officers, that the Communists were building up strength for a new thrust.

As the U.N. offensive went forward, resistance continued relatively light in the west. The Han River was reached. Kimpo airfield and Yongdungpo on the edge of Seoul were captured with relative ease. So was the port of Inchon.

Trap Spotted

But the trap was apparent. The Communists were trying to lead the allies onward across the Han and into Seoul. The aim was to over-extend the U.N. lines in the west so these forces could be cut off by an encirclement movement smashing through the key highway town of Wonju, about 35 miles southeast of Seoul.

U.N. commanders decided to operate on the west as though they did not know what the Communists were planning. But allied forces there were not extended. Meanwhile U.N. power was quietly built up in the centre to meet the anticipated Red onslaught.

Series Of Attacks

Soon it exploded into a series of attacks. The attacking Chinese ran into deadly Allied firepower in depth.

The Reds, with heavy manpower reserves, tried to break through regardless of losses. But the stout American-French garrison in the mountain town of Chipyong held the centre of the line. The eastern prong of the trap was smashed.

Lt.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, commander of the Eighth Army, says the Red drive has been stopped and the Chinese are withdrawing to regroup.

This local victory will not win the campaign. But it helps to pile up Communist losses—and that is the basic strategy now.

RECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS —By Merrill Blosser

Peiping Charges Thailand Abuses Chinese

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19 — (AP)—Communist China fired a furious propaganda broadside against little Thailand (Siam) Sunday for what the Reds called "large-scale persecution" of 3,000,000 Chinese in that country.

A series of broadcasts from Peiping heard here included irate editorials from a number of Chinese Red papers and blustering protests by an official spokesman of the Chinese Red Commission of Overseas Chinese Affairs.

The main Communist complaint was pegged on the alleged arrest in Bangkok, Jan. 30, of the editor and publisher of the Chinese daily paper Chung Ming Pao.

To Be Deported

The broadcasts said editor Tsai Chih-hung and Wu Chien-chung were to be deported by Siamese authorities because they 'published news of patriotic Chinese who opposed American aggression."

The Communist spokesman said, "we strongly protest against the outrageous acts of the Thailand Government in intensifying the crushing of the legitimate rights and interests of the Chinese living overseas.

"We firmly demand that the Thailand Government immediately release the responsible members of the Chung Ming Poa, put an end to the illegal measures of persecuting the overseas Chinese, and safeguard all legitimate rights and interests of the overseas Chinese."

Prices Drop Sharply On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Feb. 19 (CP)—Prices dropped sharply as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

Although the drop was great, it was not forceful or heavy. Volume for the first three hours was 1,228,000 shares, about 434,000 shares fewer than the same period last Friday.

Industrial losses ranged to more than $3 in a few odd cases but were mostly fractional. Steels, papers, constructions, foods, liquors; refining oils, banks, textiles and manufacturing companies showed a majority of losses and the rest of the board was mixed.

Base metals declined over a broad front. Consolidated Smelters was a standout as it dropped $5.50 to $145.

Western oils eased quietly.

McIntyre led senior golds with a $1 drop and Dome, Hollinger, Giant Yellowknife and Lake Shore were off fractions. Preston, Macassa, MacLeod Cockshutt and Pickle Crow dipped pennies among junior producers.

Speculate Bevin May Resign

LONDON, Feb. 19 (Reuters).—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin left today for the south coast resort of Eastbourne to complete his recovery from pneumonia mid fresh newspaper speculation on whether he will retire from his post.

Foreign office spokesmen would give no support to the suggestion that Bevin, who will be 70 next month, intends to resign soon.

The impression gained from government quarters is that Prime Minister Attlee is prepared to continue "deputizing" for Bevin until he is fit to return.

But political commentators suggest Bevin may leave the foreign office within six months.

Herbert Morrison, 63-year-old deputy prime minister, continues to be spotted as the man who would get the job.

Find Russians Disappointed In Oil Supplies

VIENNA, Feb. 19 (AP).—Although pumping furiously, the Russians haven't been able to siphon all the oil they want from their eastern and central European captives.

Romania, the Soviet's largest foreign source of oil, has announced that the petroleum industry was a bit shy of its 1950 quota—its estimated 4,750,000 tons being 1.2 per cent off the beam.

Hungary is reported to have met only 75 per cent of its quota—amount unknown — although Hungary's 1946 oil production was 684,000 tons.

But Austria's Soviet-owned Zistersdorf fields yielded 1,450,000 in 1950, more than double the 1945 figure. About 60 per cent of the Austrian production goes east.

Russia's own oil output in 1950 has been estimated at 37,000,000 tons.

Hopes Disappointed

Western observers in Bucharest believe Russia had hoped for a quicker recovery of the great Romanian oil-fields, destroyed partially by allied bombing during the Second World War. They feel that it may take the Communists two years more to reach the pre-war level of 7,000,000 tons a year, attained by the now-kicked-out American, British and Dutch oil companies.

They see three factors contributing to the slow post-war comeback from the 1947 low of 3,810,000 tons. They list these as the loss of western management and technicians, inadequate labor, and Russia's inability to supply replacement equipment.

Said He Killed Wife

Mr. Andrews told the court that when he arrived at the Murphy home, he was taken into a sunroom by Murphy.

Then, said Andrews, Murphy started to sob and said: "Vern, I hate to bring you into this but I killed Bob yesterday. (Bob was a pet name for Mrs. Murphy.) I said: 'What?' and he repeated what he had said, the first time."

"He told me that she met him in the house with a hammer, made some accusation and took a pass at him with the hammer injuring one of his thumbs.

'I am not sure if he said he wrested the hammer from her or picked it off the floor. He said that was all he knew of the occurrence. He had blacked out. He went on to explain things to me. I was very much upset and he was sobbing. I never did get the details of what happened.

"I asked him what he would like me to do and he said just to leave him alone and he would be all right.

Go To Chief's Office

"After some more talk I suggested that we go and see Chief Constable J. W. Pilgrim.

"In the office of the chief constable I told him that Mr. Murphy had a sad story to tell.

"He had barely started to talk when the chief halted him. He had said: 'I think I've killed my wife.'

The chief said: 'Wait, anything you might say might be used in evidence against you.'

"The chief suggested that Mr. Murphy consult a lawyer and the latter asked for a Thomas Smith. Mr. Smith was summoned and arrived at the chief's office shortly after."

Jellied Gasoline In U.S. Bomb Deadly Weapon

ABOARD THE US CARRIER PHILIPPINE SEA, Feb. 19 (AP) —On one side of this aircraft carrier off Korea is a contraption that would look familiar to a Kentucky moonshiner. It is a rusty barrel with coils.

But it doesn't make whisky—it's used to mix napalm, a product known as jellied gasoline and a deadly fire weapon. Pilots of war planes think it is a mighty fine piece of equipment.

The napalm must be mixed properly to produce the best results, fiery destruction of the targets on which it is dropped.

Pilots complained that the jellied gasoline bomb they were getting did not work properly. So Lt Anthony Modica, Jr., a short, muscular Navy officer, and his special aircraft service crews tackled the problem.

The barrel and coils were the result.

Modica has spent 23 years in the Navy. The Korean War provided his firt experience with napalm. But in a few short months he has become the ship's expert on this hellish weapon which Communist prisoners of war admit they fear most of all.

"You know, the guy who conceived it must have had a weird mind," Modica said in tribute to the bomb.

Looks Like Starch

Modica's unorthodox mixing barrel is as simple as the result it seeks. The proper mix looks like a pot of starch, except that the coloring is light wine instead of white.

Modica and his crew usually turn out about 2:30 a.m. to get ready for a strike. Napalm is mixed the day the planes take off.

They never get to witness the results of their work, but pilots oblige them with vivid accounts. Modica quotes one pilot who dropped a napalm bomb on a trench and claimed 50 Communists were killed. Another put a tank out of commission with a direct hit.

Results Good

In the pilots' room Lieut. Floyd Lissy said: "It works now; results are fine." Another said: "Napalm is the best weapon we've got."

The stuff isn't particularly dangerous to handle, according to Modica. "All you have to do is keep your wits about you," he said.

Once loaded aboard a plane and taken into the tir, the napalm must be dropped. Pilots do not try to land aboard the carrier with this fiery load.

Although satisfied with the results of the rusty barrel and the coils, Modica is not resting on his laurels. He is mulling over a plan that would enable planes to carry more napalm.

HE'S SMALL BUT HE'S USEFUL—An unidentified Allied military policeman is shown here directing traffic on the outskirts of Suwon and is keeping his back warm at the same time with the aid of a Korean youngster. The ground fire isn't much but the "junior MP" keeps it going by foraging for fuel, warming himself between trips for odd pieces of wood.

Warns Canadian Troops In For Tough Time Soon

TORONTO, Feb. 19 (CP) — Jack Macbeth, Associated Press war correspondent, said Saturday that Canadian troops, soon to enter combat in Korea, are in for a tough time.

Macbeth, on leave after six months in Korea, saw the 2nd battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry during their advanced training at Miryang.

"There's nothing wrong with those troops," he said in an interview. "Their appearance is outstanding. They're exceptionally smart and keen as a razor blade.

"They'll do well when they go into action—although I'm afraid they're likely to get a blood bath."

Macbeth, 30-year-old Canadian navy veteran and former sports editor of The North Bay Nugget, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Macbeth of Toronto.

The Chinese Communists are every bit as tough as reports from the battlefronts indicate, he said.

"They've hit us four times—and ripped right through us each time. Despite the U.N. advances from time to time, there's no reason to believe the Chinese can't do it a fifth time."

Macbeth said he considers Canada's contribution so far "a national disgrace."

Macbeth said that since returning to Canada he has been "really astounded by Canadians' lack of interest and lack of knowledge about what's going on in Korea—it's pathetic."

"Surely the pattern of Communist plans is clear enough that we can see it's going to get worse before it gets better. Therefore the only thing to do is make a maximum effort now."

At the close of the session the hostess served lunch assisted by Mrs. Percy Eamer.

Crash Damages Two Trucks, Car

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 19 — (ENS)—A car and two trucks figured in a three-way smash about noon on Saturday here and resulted in considerable damage to the three vehicles.

William Bertrand was driving a milk truck of Anderson's Dairy north on Mill St., following a Bell Telephone Company truck, being driven by James L. Post, an employee of Davidson's garage, where the truck was being repaired. The driver of the Bell Telephone truck attempted to turn left into the garage and was struck by the heavier truck travelling behind, which could not stop because of the icy roadway. The dairy truck then careened off the Bell Telephone truck and struck another car parked by the garage.

None of the three vehicles were seriously damaged. Chief Constable Geroge H. Hardy investigated.

A Great Trading Nation

Canada traded six billion dollars worth of goods and services with other countries in 1950. That is more than three times as great as our international trade in 1939. It was the greatest trading year in Canada's history. The volume of foreign trade is not necessarily an indication of a nation's economic health. If the imports heavily overbalance exports, the chances are that the country is living beyond its means—certainly beyond its production. If the exports are excessive, in comparison with imports, either the people of the country are living poorly (not getting enough of their own products for themselves), or it is so surfeited with goods that its exports are international tender. In Canada there was both a great increase in the volume of international trade (from $5,783,700,000 in 1949 to $6,331,300,000 in 1950) and a fair balance between exports and imports. Exports totalled $3,157,100,000—a gain of about one billion dollars—and imports reached a peak of $3,174,300,000. Thus there was a trade deficit (the first since 1931) of $17,200,000, but it was relatively small in comparison with the volume of trade.

* * *

The chief gains were in both exports to the U.S. and imports from that country, a continuation of this most significant trend of Canada's international trade since the war. Exports to the U.S. rose 34 per cent. during the year, to $2,050,000,000, due chiefly to E.R.P. and the American re-armament. Imports from the U.S. also rose again in 1950, but not to the same extent as the exports: nine per cent., to $2,130,500,000. Canada's imports from the States continue to outweigh the exports, but not in the same degree as in other years, for instance, in 1947 when the trade deficit with the U.S. was $918,100,000, a deficit which, had it continued, would have cracked Canadian economy. It was deficits of this nature which made the exceptional import restrictions necessary three years ago; restrictions which have now been practically done away with. The deficit this year was $80,000,000.

* * *

In all the years of Canada's existence as a nation it has had a trade deficit with the United States. This used not to matter greatly, for it was offset by the great excess of exports over imports with the United Kingdom, and the U.K. indebtedness was paid off in American dollars. This three-way trade is no longer effective. For instance, the export-import trade with the U.K. was again lower in 1950 than in 1949 and, further, was almost in balance. Exports to the U.K. totalled $472,500,000 (down about $250,000,000 from 1949) and imports from the U.K. were $404,200,000 (an increase of $100,000,000). Thus there is no surplus from exports to Britain to balance a deficit caused by our imports from the U.S.A. But the chief reason for the decline in the effectiveness of the three-way trade is that it is becoming two-sided. Our trade with Britain in comparison with our trade with the U.S. is becoming minor. Last year the total trade between Canada and the U.S. was two-thirds of our total world trade.

* * *

Apart from the great expansion of trade in the last decade, the most prominent aspect is its shift in weight from the U.K. to the U.S. The reason is not that Canada is buying less from the U.K. It is buying more. But Britain is buying less from Canada. Fortunately for Canada, the U.S. is taking up the slack and providing Canada with an almost unlimited market for her products. The political significance of this new dependence on the U.S. trade is incalculable, and may not be altogether good. Too many of our eggs are going into one basket.

Toward Coalition Government In U.S.?

For several months suggestions have been heard in the United States that a coalition Administration be formed, including leading moderate Republicans, in an effort to secure national unity for the critical times ahead. Until recently, these suggestions have been peremptorily dismissed, even ridiculed, by President Truman, but reports from Washington now tell of a marked change in the Presidential attitude.

During the past two weeks, it is said, Mr. Truman has discussed the coalition suggestion with a number of his advisers, calmly and sympathetically. No definite decisions have been reached, and it is thought unlikely that eminent Republicans will be taken into the Administration in the near future. Perhaps the most that can be said is that coalition has now become a distinct possibility, which must gratify the Democratic leaders and advisers who have been advocating coalition since shortly after the election last November.

A major factor influencing Mr. Truman's change of attitude may well be the altered status of Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin within the Republican Party. Prior to the election, the Senator was the outstanding member of a very small Republican group. After the campaign, however, it was evident that his witch-hunting tactics and his unsupported accusations of Communism and homosexuality, made in the immunity of the Senate, appealed to many voters. The possibility that either the pro-Eisenhower or pro-Taft group might seek an alliance with the Senator was at once apparent, with the latter considered more likely.

That alliance has now been formed, and it has been termed the most significant political development since the election. Senator McCarthy has been made Senator Taft's chief lieutenant in Congress and leading propagandist of the Taft presidential campaign. The purpose of this, according to Washington columnists, is to let Senator McCarthy outdo, in this session, everything he did in the last session. Facing such attacks, it would seem almost elementary that Mr. Truman should seek to gain the protection that could be provided by the inclusion of moderate Republicans in a coalition Administration.

Duplessis Bridge Enquiry

On Wednesday last the Quebec legislature approved a Government motion to hold a "public and impartial inquiry" into the collapse of the Duplessis bridge at Three Rivers. This in effect is the same as the Opposition motion made last week that "a public inquiry by persons of unquestionable capability and impartiality" be made. It remains now to see whom the Government will appoint to conduct the inquiry, what its findings will be, and what action the Duplessis Government will take thereon.

Do You Aspire To a Mule's Heaven?

General Eisenhower said something in one of his speeches recently which restates an old truth with novelty and clarity. Said he: "If men are not creatures of soul as well as of body, they are no better than the field mule, harnessed to the plough, whipped and goaded to work, cared for in the measure of his cost and value. But too often today, we incline to describe the ultimate in human welfare as a mule's sort of heaven—a tight roof overhead, plenty of food, a minimum of work and no worries or responsibilities. If I doubted that man is something more than a mere educated animal I should personally be little concerned in the question of war or peace".

It is true that great numbers of people regard security and ease as ends in themselves; they look no farther, and they have no idea what they would do with perfect security and ease if they had these gifts. It is a fact that the lot of most workers today is immeasureably better than it was a century ago; they have reasonable hours of work; they are not required to work under bad conditions; they have a powerful voice in deciding what their labour is worth; they have many hours of leisure. But it is questionanble whether they are making any better use of the leisure which they have than did their ancestors a century ago.

Man does not live by bread alone. One of the strongest aspirations of the men who began the labour movement was that the workers of the world should have access to the good things of the spirit which were thought to be the prerogative of a more leisured class. They struggled to get shorter hours and better pay for their people, but chiefly in order that their people might thereby have the time and the energy to pursue the better things of life. The shorter hours and the better wages were means, not ends. Those labour pioneers would be disappointed if they knew how little the labour movement has done to advance the cause in which they so fervently believed.

The mule's heaven of security has supplanted the dream of such men as Robert Owen, John Ruskin and William Morris.

Musical Notes

by
PETER PIPER

THE symphonic poem was one of the great inventions of the nineteenth century. The resources of instrumental music had grown so rapidly, and so many improvements had been made to instruments that many composers felt that it was time to free themselves from the bondage of abstract symphonic music and to attempt to portray scenes, emotions, stories, and even philosophic ideas. This idea was not entirely new: throughout the history of music we find composers imitating the sounds of cuckoos or the babbling of the brook, conjuring up moods of happiness or depression, not to mention naive attempts at illustrating stories, as Kuhnau did in his "Bible Sonatas". But the nineteenth century saw this tendency carried to its logical extreme. The conservatives, like Mendelssohn and Brahms, held themselves more or less aloof from these developments, though the former did on occasion write works such as the "Hebrides" overture, in which the surge of the sea and the wailing of the wind are depicted. The radicals, however, like Liszt and Berlioz, threw overboard all previous notions of music and endeavoured to paint pictures in sound more realistic than had ever been attempted before. This led them to make great advances in the art of writing for the orchestra. Wagner, though an operatic composer, influenced this group greatly by example and precept. It certainly looked at the time as though the Symphonic Poem was to be the "Music of the Future".

✧ ✧ ✧

RICHARD Strauss carried the development of the symphonic poem even further. In "Don Quixote" he imitated the bleating of sheep, in "Till Eulenspiegel" he includes a trial, with a bullying prosecutor and a terrified prisoner, concluding with a hanging. In his symphonic poems the details of the stories stand out most realistically, provided that the listener has the clue to the story. And that is where the weakness of the symphonic poem lies. Without the "programme" the music seems too often to be disjointed and fragmentary. It is trying to do something that can be done so much better in a story or a play. Mendelssohn, with his usual penetration, once said, "Where words leave off, music begins".

STRAVINSKY, in his neo-classicism, carried the reaction against programme music to the opposite extreme. In his autobiography he says, "I consider that music is essentially powerless to express anything; a feeling, an attitude, a pyschologicial state, a phenomenum of nature, etc.... Expression has never been the imminent property of music. The raison d'etre of the latter is in no way conditioned by the former. If, as is almost always the case, music appears to express something, it is only an illusion and not a reality". This is an austere view, coming from the composer of "Petrouschka"! But this is not all. He continues, "Music is the only domain where man realizes the present (this is a pretty extensive claim! P.P.). By the imperfection of his nature man is destined to undergo the passage of time — of its categories of past and future, without being able to realize and therefore stabilize the present. The phenomenon of music is given to us for the sole purpose of instituting an order in things, including above all an order between man and time. In order to be realized it requires necessarily and uniquely a construction. Once the construction has been made, the order reached, all is said". This point of view is at variance, not only with the theorists but also with the practice of the great masters. For instance descending chromatic figures have been used by Byrd, Bach and Beethoven alike to express sorrow, while dotted rhythms are often associated with merry-making. To think of them as pure abstract patterns is to divorce music from life. Music originated with the human voice, a far from abstract organ. At the same time music cannot pretend to portray specific emotions, etc., but has a quality of its own that defies analysis except in terms of itself. To say, as Stravinsky does, thta it is an illusion if music appears to express something, is to deny reality to one's own impression of music. If the last movement of Beethoven's Seventh Symphony expresses to me a Dionysiac exhilaration it may seem to Stravinsky to be an illusion, but not to me or to many who share my feelings.

WHEN the present age speaks of Haydn they are apt to call him Papa. I am a little concerned about this: it has a patronizing ring to it, as though one were to say, "The old boy certainly wrote some pretty little tunes, but for real depth give me Rachmaninov". He was a genial and pious man, but serious, precise and methodical. He had a gift for friendship rare amongst composers. At the same time he was one of the few really great composers. Those who are apt to relegate him to the rank of an "interesting historical figure" have little idea of his range. His texture is so light that it conceals hidden depths. Of him it may truly be said that he knew how much to leave out. Like a truly wise man he could say the most serious things with a twinkle in his eye. He could be serious without being earnest. The inexhaustible variety of his rhythm is a feature of his work that has not been sufficiently appreciated. He could be "learned" when he chose, but he never parades his learning. His orchestration abounds with felicitous touches. It all looks so simple, until one looks more closely.

OF all professional musicians the organist is one of the most versatile. Besides being a competent organist he usually has the duties of training the choir. This is a job that requires a fine ear and a good deal of special knowledge, not to speak of a generous allowance of enthusiasm and tact. He should be able to transpose, play fluently at sight, read vocal scores, harmonize a melody either at the keyboard or on paper and a hundred-and-one other things. He must supplement his salary by taking pupils, playing engagements and the like, or else turn to a non-musical job for his main income. In short, he has to be the musical equivalent of a good General Practitioner. In many ways this is harder than being a specialist. He cannot afford to become too one-sided in his interests. He must try to raise the level of musical taste and performance, though on many occasions he will have to make concessions. He will receive little publicity, but then he probably prefers to avoid the limelight. He need not think of great earthly rewards—they will never come his way—rather he will try to do his duty, week in, week out. An unspectacular life, but organists find it somehow more satisfying than any other career.

Learning To Detect The First-Rate

(Joan Finnigan in The Ottawa Journal)

ON the CBC recently, Canadians were treated to an enquiry into education by Sir Richard Livingstone, one of Britain's foremost educationists and vice-chancellor of Oxford University.

In striking contrast to Canada's recently completed, five-and-a-half-year, 14-pound, 500,000-word enquiry into education, Sir Richard's investigation was brief, his words were direct and his summing up concise enough to be retained by his listeners.

Here is his condensation of the aims of education:

1. To make a "human being" out of the raw material.

Since there are three aspects of the human being, the body, the character and the intellect, all education must concern itself with this tri-fold development of the individual.

2. To introduce the individual to the world in which he has been born.

He must be made aware of the material aspect of his world and this is the responsibility of the science faculty; he must be made aware of the men who have shaped his world and this is the responsibility of the arts faculty, the teachers of history and literature and politics.

3. To give the individual a knowledge of what is first-rate, in literature and music, in human life and character.

How may the individual distinguish between what is first-rate and what is second-rate?

Sir Richard believes that constant exposure to the first-rate will make the individual prefer the first-rate. "If you always smoke first-rate cigars you will immediately detect a bad one." If you continually hear good music, Bach and Beethoven, you will grow to prefer Bach and Beethoven. If you associate or live with first-rate people or, failing that, if you see first-rate people in the portrait galleries of history and literature, you will grow to prefer first-rate people.

As you learn to distinguish the first-rate from the second-rate, you become an educated man or woman. As you learn to distinguish the first-rate in more and more fields of human endeavor, you become more educated.

Sir Richard then intimated that the individual does not leave school or university an "educated man," but that his education continues all through life.

"Students should not be forced to overeat at the educational meal," he said. "Whet their appetites," he urged. "Create a hunger for more knowledge."

No doubt the Hope Commission has established the aims of education, defined the "educated man," urged a simplification of the curriculums so that students are not stuffed with knowledge to the point of repugnance for all learning. No doubt it has done these things and much more.

But who is to read its 500,000 words of wisdom? By what routes will its conclusions and recommendations reach the public, the parents of children at school. How can the ordinary man or woman circumscribe its immensity, find his way through its statistical labyrinths, grasp it as an entity?

Far better for the man-on-the-street are a few well-chosen words like those delivered by Sir Richard Livingtone. His were big concepts clothed in simple understandable language. The CBC is to be thanked for recording this talk of Sir Richard's when he was in Canada in November giving a series of lectures at Queen's University.

It is to be hoped he was heard by many Canadians.

This May Not Be So Funny

(Montreal Gazette)

AT the recent annual dinner of the Bookmakers Protective (as though they needed protection) Association, the bookies of England decided upon laying odds of 1,000 to 1 against a world war this year. An old-timer in the organization even offered to lay 500 to 1 against a world war in 1952.

All this could be funny or quite definitely otherwise in accordance with how one looks at it. First of all, anyone who knows about bookmakers has a fair idea as to what sources that fraternity, even the legalized English variety, might have for knowing whether there will be a war or not. Also the initiated could make a shrewd estimate of the actual financial responsibility of the average bookie. And furthermore many a plunger will know how fast the average bookmaker can disappear, apparently from the face of the earth, when his clientele gang up on him, either on a "good thing" or a coincidental surge of luck.

And the characteristics suggested in the foregoing perhaps justify this as one of the most callous of gambling coups. In Britain, as elsewhere, there are many people who like to be assured that there will be no war even when they see war going on. And in England nearly everyone likes a bet. What more natural than that thousands should satisfy their urge for a gamble and at the same time take out insurance, as they would consider it against the occurrence of a world war this year or next?

If, as might readily be the case, 200,000 people out of a population of fifty million bet an average of $10 each at odds of 1,000 to 1 and war should come, it would mean a payoff of $2,000,000,000 (two billion dollars). But, of course, according to what the old-timer above referred to told reporters: "When a bookmaker offers odds like that against anything, you can be sure it won't happen."

The average bookmaker, especially the English variety, is seldom accused of being a fool whatever else he may be called, and it would appear, indeed, that the stage has been beautifully set for a killing. That the shillings and the quids will pour in seems a foregone conclusion. Already a U.S. businessman has announced his intention of placing a bet of $500 at 500 to 1 offered by the old-timer. He may think better of it.

First of all, with a war affecting all creation actually in progress, who will say at what stage it becomes a "world war" in these days of non-declaration of war? The bookmakers of course. If no war comes in 1951 to satisfy their definition the bookies will clean up enough to keep their umbrellas open no matter how they may fare with the horses, the dogs and the prize fights. And if open war flares in Western Europe this year, the bookies probably have reasoned that there will not be too many of their clients calling to collect and that, with their gift of disappearance, they have a considerably better chance for survival.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Praise ye the Lord: for it is good to sing praises unto our God; for it is pleasant; and praise is comely.... He telleth the number of the stars; he calleth them all by their names.

Great is our Lord, and of great power; his understanding is infinite. (Ps. 147: 1, 4, 5.)

✧ ✧ ✧

I love the Lord, because he hath heard my voice and my supplication. Because he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live. (Ps. 116: 1, 2.)

✧ ✧ ✧

O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain: O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voice with strength; lift it up, be not afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God!.... Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or being his counsellor hath taught him? With whom took he counsel, and who instructed him, and taught him in the path of judgement, and taught him knowledge, and shewed to him the way of understanding?....

Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding. (Isa. 40: 9, 13, 14, 28.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord, and there is none else. (Isa. 45: 18.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Now unto the Wing eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen. (I Tim. 1: 17.)

Communist Discipline Slipping?

(Montreal Star)

Communism in Britain is in a case by itself, in some ways. Some of its leaders follow the orthodox line of the moment; others go in for conduct that would get them read out of the party elsewhere. Arthur Horner, for example, the Communist mine union secretary, urges the miners to dig more coal in the present emergency, to strengthen the hand of the government, flying in the face of the general Red exhortation to slow up and sabotage "preparations for war."

So the issue of a new manifesto piously disavowing any wish to see a Soviet system set up in Britain by force, and stating British communism's only goals to be national, the welfare of the working class, is not the sensation it would be on the continent.

But it is odd to see such a statement issued officially even by a party wing noted for its deviationism. One would naturally suspect it to be a propaganda manoeuvre. But it might also be a tactical step to satisfy the misgivings of nationalist Communists.

It would be far from surprising to see nationalism working in one of the least militant Communist factions when it has cropped up in more strictly disciplined ones like that in Italy, where two Communist deputies bolted the party last week in a display of independence, on the question whether the arrival of Russian troops would be liberation or aggression.

Farmer Deplores Disuse Of Land

Four vacant farms in the north-eastern corner of Otonabee are cited as typical of the woeful conditions which one township resident sees as overclouding the industry of agriculture.

Desertion and disuse, he says, may also be found south through Otonabee to Rice Lake and north through Douro. And the owners would probably be found working in the city.

The writer, himself a farmer down No. 7 Highway somewhere, asked that his name be withheld. His jeremiad was inspired by the news story the other day about cattle selling at $325 to $400 as compared with $25 a beast some years ago.

"During the last war calves were held around 14 cents a pound, and at that price were a loss to the farmer. Packers could easily set the price as there were only a few of them. It naturally had a tendency to stop raising cattle. Labor was left raise."

(Apparently quite a number of farmers did not stop raising stock.)

The four farms in NE Otonabee are: the late James Collins farm 150 acres; James Foley farm 200 acres; Cavanagh farm 100 acres; the late Maurice O'Leary farm 150 acres.

"There is not one head of livestock, and right now there is no person living in any one of the four houses. If the assessor came along he would have to go to the city to get three of them.

"The buildings would be around $40,000 to $50,000 at present day prices. Only the Cavanagh farm has five head of cattle and a few sheep. There is very little prospects of much spring crop on those 600 acres. You can go south to Rice Lake and it is the same thing, and north in Douro to Clear Lake and it is just the same.

"The only bright thing is the school attendance, over 40 pupils with an ideal teacher, Miss M. Moloney. Twenty-six are from homes where the fathers work in Peterborough. The 16 others are from farms.

"The Union School section, Douro, Dummer, Asphodel and Otonabee has an assessment of around $130,000. There is around 8,000 acres and only 160 cattle in the whole section. Eight years ago there were around 100 on the first four farms mentioned.

"Cows are selling for around $300 to $400, and it takes three years to raise a cow and let them develop well. It costs about $60 a year to raise a cow from birth and risk. The eight hour day is a good share of the cause of it."

"Steers selling at 30 to 35 cents a pound as they were the other day, and on Friday there were rumors of round steak at $1 a pound. If some one were to interview consumers what they think about such are agricultural blue ruin story as that one, the answer might be that if farmers can't make money at the prices consumers have been paying since the war something appears to be out of joint."

They followed her to the gallows.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Stung by that 9-0 reverse they suffered in Gananoque on Friday night, the senior "B" Petes will be thirsting for vengeance when the Gans play 'em here tonight. It was the worst licking of the season for the locals and doubly humiliating when it is recalled that the Petes lead the senior "B" race while the tail-end Gans are an intermediate "A" added starter. True, the Petes weren't at full strength, and those long trips are killing—as the Gans may realize tonight in Peterborough. But the lowly Gans have been poison on home ice to senior "B" clubs, including the Eagles whom they beat early in the season. They've won four of their nine games to date. tonight's tilt should draw well.

* * * * * *

While we're all hoping up this way that Petes and Eagles will meet in playoffs, it may not work out that way at all. Nylons are threatening again to overhaul Eagles and, if they do, it'll be Nylons vs. Petes to declare an Allan Cup contender, with Eagles going against Belleville in group semi-finals. Right now, Petes have 43 points, Eagles 40 and Nylons 35—the Quinte crew being definitely in fourth place and Queen's out of the running. But the catch is that Nylons have but three more games, two of them being four-pointers 'gainst Queen's, picking up postponements. The other one is against Petes here next Friday.

* * * * * *

Perish Such A Thought

All right, the Eagles then have two more games, one against Petes here Wednesday and the schedule windup here against Redmen on Monday next. Thus, it will be seen that Eagles have to claw it out the hard way and hope someone else knocks Nylons off, also. Even the Petes haven't first place quite cinched yet, needing two wins of their remaining three games to be absolutely sure of it—depending on how Eagles and Nylons make out in the stretch drive. It's as sizzling a race finish as you'd care to see—and, frankly, we don't care to see it so close. We want Petes and Eagles to finish one-two and thereby give us a playoff series. Well, this week should tell the tale one way or another.

Word comes through that OHA junior "B" semi-finals go this week in best-of-five series. The local IOOF-ers open in Lindsay tomorrow night, as the Scugog squad finished first and get the extra game, if it goes to five. Oddfellows, who finished third by a point back of Belleville, have their home game this coming Saturday (that's right) evening. Meantime, Belleville and Oshawa tear into each other in the other sawoff series. Bun Kingdon's crew will have to give it all they have to oust the strong and scrappy Scugog puckists. If they play hurry-up hockey every minute, they can do it, and proceed into group finals. If not, they've had it.

Regarding OMHA playdowns in this neck of the woods, they commence Thursday at seven p.m. in Civic Arena. Oshawa teams tackle our bantam Trojans, midget Marines and juvenile Oddfellows. Return games in Oshawa on Saturday a.m., starting at 10, goals to count. Advance sale of ducats on now for games here. Oddfellows are sponsoring the juvenile squad with the best players picked from the IOOF, Clapper's and Trojan teams. They'll be coached by Johnny Godfrey, who now has the time to devote to their practices and games since his eye injury side-lined him from senior activity. He is the perfect coach for this good team in provincial playdowns.

Marines won and Bruins lost in men's hoop play Saturday in OABA series. The Marines had to hump here to eke out their intermediate "B" series from Belleville, losing the game 68-54 but taking the hound 119-114 at the "Y". Fred Plato and Doug MacPherson were outstanding for Gord McIntyre's shorthanded crew, with the others good, also. At Hamilton, the Clapper Bruins dropped a 63-41 intermediate "A" game to the Mormons, district winners there, to open their series. The refs were "homers", according to the bitter Bruins—favoring the USA offensive play of Mormons and frowning on the defensive style used by Bruins. Chucked five Bruins out of the game, and they finished up with but three on the floor. That's really pretty rough. The series resumes here Saturday and might be a lot different.

Marines Rub Out Belleville To Continue In OABA Play

By DON GRANT

Plagued by the flu and a determined Belleville quintet, Marines won the first round of the OABA intermediate "B" playdowns from Belleville Bills Saturday night by only five points. A week ago in Belleville the Marines won 65-46 in the first game of the series. Saturday night at the YMCA, the Bills won the return game 68-54 but lost the round 119-114.

Without the services of stalwarts Rocky Kidd and Bill Dadson, with the flu, a six-man Marine team saw the 19-point edge which they carried into the game washed away in the first half. The round lead then changed back and forth, first the Marines up one or two points, then the Bills. In the last four minutes the local quintet drove ahead by seven points on the total round tally. The Bills whittled the lead to five in the last few seconds.

Doug Shone

Reliable Doug MacPherson who played the entire game for the Marines, stood out with his offensive and defensive playing which held the Marines together. Bill Trimm's return to local battles after a slight skull fracture, suffered in a lakeshore league game several weeks ago, strengthened the Marines' defence.

Fred Plato was in the scoring limelight for the Marines with 17 points by a display of long and short work on the court. Doug MacPherson backed Plato's effort with 14 points while holding the Bills off with close checks. Ted Payne and Jim Thorburn, both top scorers with averages of 20 points and 16 poins a game respectively, were held to their lowest scoring efforts this season, Thorburn with four and Payne eight.

Faulkner again spearheaded the Bills' offence with 17 points while Spafford, who missed last week's game, totalled 14 points. Both played standout games by going both ways well.

Good On Fouls

Doug MacPherson led in the foul shooting with six for six attempts as the Marines sank 16 out of 26 attempts. Fred Plato scored on five out of seven shots. The Bills made only six in 16 attempts.

This was the Marines' first loss in nine games this year. They won seven league games decisively, faced with inferior opposition. The games with the Pappas Bills were the first real tests of power for the Marines.

Coach Gord McIntyre said he expects the next round to be with the Georgian Bay winners, probably Oshawa. It is scheduled to begin next Saturday in Peterborough at the YMCA gym in a two-game points-to-count series. This game may be changed to Orillia to prevent interference with the Clapper's Bruins-Hamilton Mormons game at PCVS on the same night.

Lineups:

Belleville Pappas Bills (68) — Garrow, Summers 5, Faulkner 17, Spafford 14, Pappas, Ketcheson 1, Lockyer 1, Dudley, Bachelor 6.

Marines (54)—Plato 17, Thorburn 4, Payne 8, MacPherson 14, Trimm 4, McIntyre 7.

Mormons Beat Bruins In OABA Game

Personal fouls sank Clapper's Bruins in the first game of the OABA intermediate "A" basketball playdowns Saturday night in Hamilton. The Bruins, left with only three players on the court with five minutes to go, were swept 63-41 by the Hamilton Mormons, winners of the Hamilton and district league. The return game of the two-game points-to-count series will be played here Saturday.

Last year in the Southern Ontario finals Hamilton referees just couldn't see the Peterborough brand of basketball. Saturday night was no exception. The Bruins' Canadian basketball didn't quite agree with the Americanized Mormon game and the referees liked the American version.

Lead Changed

The lead belonged to both teams during the first half as the offensive play was fast with neat passing plays. The Bruins were one point up at the half, 25-24. The teams kept up the close pace for the first 12 minutes of the second half and then the bomb was dropped.

One, two, three, four and five Bruins left the floor with five fouls. The bench was cleared for back-talking to the Hamilton referees. Gord Burns, Warren Smith and Bill Edger tried in vain to hold the Mormons off but the Hamilton cagers dropped in 17 points.

Ab Stewart, Joe Stewart, Doug Plunkett, Chum Gillespie and Hugh Dibben were lost with five personals. This is unusual for Hugh Dibben, who was noted for his sportsmanlike play while in Collegiate and with Marines last year. Technical fouls were called on Doug Plunkett and Joe Stewart each twice; then the bench was cleared.

Led The Bruins

Ab Stewart with points led the Bruins while on the court. Brother Joe was leading the defensive plays, breaking up Mormon passing attacks. Chum Gillespie and Gord Burns were good on the defence.

Tom Holmes, a six-foot four-inch bucket shot artist, controlled rebounds and led the scoring with 20 points; 12 points scored on foul shots. Wayne Randall had 11 points for Mormons. All the players seemed to specialize in one-hand push shots from the keyhole area.

Ab Stewart with eight points, Joe Stewart with six and Gord Burns with five led Bruins in the first half. Randall, Holmes and Shepherd kept Mormons within reach. Warren Smith kept Bruins even with the Mormons for 10 minutes in the second half but Holmes' 14 points, and Gleave's nine for Hamilton were enough to take the win, the Mormons outscoring the Bruins 39-16.

Lineups:

Clapper's Bruins (41)—J. Stewart 7, A. Stewart 12, Burns 6, Gillespie, Dibben 4, Smith 8, Edger, Plunkett 4.

Hamilton Mormons (63)—Basseit, Randall 11, Gleave 10, Redd 6, Shepherd 10, Lauder, Anderson, Holmes 20, Neilson 6.

Layton Favored To Stop Mask

The Masked Marvel, the rough, mystery-man of the mat who is unbeaten in his ring campaigning, will be up against what might be the crucial test of his fiery career when he meets Lord Athol Layton, the handsome, impressive British wrestler, in the main bout in the Brock Arena on Tuesday night. Layton, like the Mask, is also unbeaten in his campaigning in the ring. Perhaps it will take some one like the 6-foot-6 258-pound Englishman with his judo chop and English Octopus specialities to end the Mask's uninterrupted victories.

There should be plenty of firework in the semi-final, in which flying Pat Flanagan of Toronto will oppose Lee Henning, the Iowa Cornhusker.

Jack Wentworth of Alabama will test Sonny Kurgis, Columbus, O. favorite, in the first bout.

Confeds Get Win

Confederation blanked Queen Elizabeth 2-0 in a nifty School Hockey League encounter, Simmons and Miller doing the sniping. Tighe shone in the losers' cage. His own defence deflected a puck which hit him on the forehead for a three-stitch cut. Teams:

Confederation: Mein, Miller, DuMoulin, Goldie, Floyd, Brown, Simmons, Linsey, McIntosh, Little, Graves.

Queen Elizabeth: Medland, W. Harrison, Hall, Frise, G. Harrison, Lymburner, Cameron, Parry, Willis, Tighe, B. Whitnell, Johnston, Ward, MacMillan, W. Whitnell, Lyons.

Richer Wins Title

OTTAWA, Feb. 19 — (CP) — Claude Richer's immediate response to an encouraging cheer from a band of admirers probably gave the youthful Ottawa skier the Canadian cross country racing title. Richer, racing under the colors of St. Lawrence University of Canton, N.Y., Saturday staged a sensational burst of speed — after being urged—for the last 30 yards to finish the 11-mile course in one hour, 18 miutes and nine seconds.

School 'Spiel Winners

GUELPH, Feb. 19 (CP).—In the final games played Saturday Sault Ste. Marie, Guelph and Kingston rinks won trophies in the Ontario School-boys' Bonspiel which ended Saturday. The Sault rink skipped by Clive Carruthers won the Gore Mutual by defeating R. Wark of Brockville.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Windsor, Sarnia and Toronto Balmy Beaches will be back in competition in 1951 in the Ontario Rugby Football Union, the annual meeting was told Saturday. Although no new franchises were issued, it was indicated two additional teams may be added to the three-squad loop.

However, there was no indication where the additions would come from.

D. F. Downey, K.C., was re-elected president, Bill Leveridge, vice-president and Harold Bailey secretary-treasurer.

The Windsor team will have a new name, and a number of new players, Don Calder, secretary of the Windsor executive, told the meeting.

Norman Perry and coach Red Douglas of Sarnia told the meeting Sarnia again will field a contending team. For the Balmy Beach crew, president Bob Reid and business manager Paul McGarry said the Toronto east-enders again will be in the league.

Fishing season for speckled trout, brown trout, rainbow trout and for pickerel in Ontario will open this year on April 28.

The normal opening date is May 1. But, as that falls on a Tuesday, the Lands Department set back the start of the season to the preceding Saturday.

At Steamboat Springs, Colo., a Norwegian Air Force mechanic, Ansten Samuelstuen, soared 316 feet in a ski jump Sunday from Howelson Hill. The mark, if approved by the National Ski Association would set a North American record.

Art Devlin, Lake Placid, N. Y., set the record of 307 feet in a jump a year ago.

University of Toronto swimmers Saturday night captured the intermediate intercollegiate swimming championship, defeating a strong University of Western Ontario contingent 40-43.

Varsity took six of the nine events from the defending western aggregation with Bernie Langer setting a meet record for the 100-yard backstroke. The Varsity swimmer's time of 1:11.3 compared with the old mark of 1:13.

The University of McGill Redmen won the intercollegiate wrestling championships in the senior class Saturday night with 18 points, Ontario Agricultural College was runner up with 13 and the defending champion University of Toronto finished in third place with 12 points.

Varsity grapplers, however, made up for the loss in the senior grouping by sweeping the intermediate western titles by a margin of 22 points. Toronto racked up 35 while OAC was again second with 13 and the hosts from University of Western Ontario gained four points.

New Scandal Rocks U.S. Basketball

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK, Feb. 19—(AP)—College basketball was rocked to its foundations today by the second big betting scandal ina month and by disclosure that "fixes" are being investigated on a country-wide scale.

After three members of City College of New York's national tournament champions and three other persons were taken into custody Sunday on bribery charges, there were these swift developments:

1. Senator Estes Kefauver (Dem., Tenn.) said the Senate Crime Investigating Committee has been probing this and similar fixes in other cities, and "New York is not an isolated case."

2. Dr. Hugh C. Willett, president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, said the matter is of "great concern" and will be taken up at a meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Council in Chicago March 1.

3. Ned Irish, director of Madison Square Garden, called the situation "deplorable" and added, "gambling isn't confined to the Garden or New York City."

Three Stars Caught

The three CCNY players caught in the web of the latest scandal are Ed Roman, Ed Warner and Al Roth, stars of the amazing team that swept to the national invitation and NCAA championships last year for basketball's first and only "grand slam."

District Attorney Frank Hogan said they admitted accepting up to $1,500 each game to fix three games played in the Garden. CCNY lost all three.

Arrested also were Harvey (Connie) Schaff, a substitute on the New York University team; Edward Gard, a Long Island University senior who played last year, and a jeweller, Salvator Tarto Sollazzo, described by the district attorney as a gambler who inspired the scheme.

Sollazzo and Gard were accused of offering the bribes and the three CCNY players were charged with accepting them.

Hawks Take Leafs

Hawks trimmed the Leafs 7-0 in their peewee hockey fray at Turner Park. Murphy scored four goals for them, as Druery, Stewart and Haig got one each, an assist apiece going to Olmstead and Mountney. Allan stood out for the losers, while Murphy, Haig, Druery, Scharf, Baker, Hotston and Olmstead all caught the eye in the winning lineup. Teams:

Leafs: Chambo, Allbrook, Oliver, Lesurf, Longo, Johnston, Shaw, Trotter, Burns, Playford, Allan, McFadden, Vargo, Dunstan.

Hawks Tighe, Baker, Hotston, Haig, Olmstead, Mountney, Murphy, Stewart, Chesney, Scharf, Brown, Stevens, Druery Kimball, Smillie.

Referee: R. Bowen.

Legion-Lloyd's Win

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 19 — (ENS)—Hockey fans enjoyed two good games in the arena here on Thursday evening, when the Town League teams battled in their usual hot fashion.

In the first game, Lloyds took on Seymour East. This game had fans on their feet during the dying minutes. With the score 4 to 3 for Lloyds with only a minute to go Seymour East pounded MacColl, who pulled off some miraculous saves, diving from one side of the net to the other, and finally wound up stretched on the ice behind his own goal while Seymour East missed a couple of shots at the empty net. Hay then took the puck on a break-away and scored with only a few seconds left, to make the score 5 to 3 for Lloyds. Seymour's vain attempt to tie the score backfired.

The Legion - Seymour West game proved to be just about as exciting. Johnny O'Rourke was watched more closely in this game, and failed to score seven goals as he did in a previous game, but did manage to get one counter. Final score of this game was Legion 5, Seymour West 2.

Leafs Capture Two Games; Say Rollins Best

By The Canadian Press

Elwin Ira (Al) Rollins, the gangling Toronto netminder some hockey experts said would never make a good goalie, bids fair to become the goalkeeping find of the year.

The 24-year-old Vanguard, Sask., smoothie all but broke the hearts of New York Rangers during the weekend as Leafs put a big dent in the Manhattan puck-chasers' playoff hopes.

An unspectacular player who makes the hard stops look easy Rollins kicked out 25 Ranger shots in Toronto Saturday night to lead Leafs to a 2-0 victory over New York. Back in New York Sunday, Rollins turned in another brilliant performance, limiting Rangers to a brace of goals, while his teammates banged home five.

In 28 full games this season, he has allowed only 53 goals, the hottest goals-against average in the league.

On his present performance, the six-foot, two-inch Rollins is leading the race for Vezina Trophy honors as the best goalie in the league and also is a strong contender for the rookie-of-the-year award.

Hawks Whipped

In other weekend games, Boston Bruins handed the hapless Black Hawks a 7-3 whipping in Chicago Sunday night and Detroit's pace-setting Red Wings spoiled Maurice Richard night at Montreal Saturday by edging Canadiens 2-1.

The double loss for Rangers, boasting a three-game winning streak before they bumped into the Leafs, put a crimp in their playoff hopes and allowed Boston Bruins to move into a tie for third place.

The runner-up Leafs pulled within four points nearer the fast-stepping Wings who now boast 78 points. Boston and New York have 49 points apiece, with Canadiens in fifth place a point behind and Chicago deep in the cellar with a meagre 34 points to show for 57 games.

Little Howie Meeker, the workhorse winger, shared honors with Rollins in the Saturday tilt at Toronto.

Meeker plagued with injuries most of the season, banged home both Toronto goals—his third and fourth this season—in the close-checking contest.

First Penalty Shot

The game also produced the first penalty shot called in Toronto during the current season. Referee Bill Chadwick awarded the shot against defenceman Allan Stanley who pulled Toronto's Harry Watson down on a breakaway play with only 34 seconds to go.

Goalie Chuck Rayer, who played a spectacular game for Rangers, outguessed Leaf's top goal-getter, Tod Sloan, to block the shot.

Leafs were forced to overcome a two-goal deficit in racking up their Sunday night win. Cal Gardner led coach Joe Primeau's marksmen with a pair of goals, while Max Bentley, Bill Barilko and Sid Smith got the others. Reggie Sinclair and Nick Mickoski tallied for Rangers in a rough-house opening period that saw 14 penalties handed out, eight of them to Leafs.

Boston's fast-improving Bruins ousted Montreal Canadiens from the fourth and last, playoff spot Sunday night as they handed Chicago's Hawks their 35th defeat of the year. Bruins now are tied with Rangers with 49 points and have a game in hand.

Ezinicki Scores

Ex-Leaf Bill Ezinicki paced the Boston marksmen with a brace of goals, with Hal Laycoe, Milt Schmidt, Lorne Ferguson, John Peirson and Eddie Sandford adding singletons. Denting the twine for Hawks were Bill Mosienko, Roger Bedard and Pete Babando.

A record throng of 15,780 fans watched a fast-skating, solid-checking game at Montreal Saturday. The close play had the fans in an uproar throughout, but they still went home disappointed.

The fans turned out to honor Canadiens' famous right winger Rocket Richard. The Rocket did his part by scoring Montreal's lone goal—his 33rd of the season—late in the opening period. But Wings spoiled the night's celebrations, by banging home two tallies to win the game. Rugged Red Kelly got the first in the second frame, big Gordie Howe the second.

The Rocket, however, wasn't disappointed. The fans presented their hockey idol with a new car and other gifts.

Want Your Pedigree

Filling Out Summons To Pay Fine

Did you ever fill out a plea of guilty on a police court summons? Were you confused doing it?

A great many people are apparently bewildered when they are asked to answer the questions on summons forms. The court wants to know your birthplace, religion, occupation and many other things.

For people who have never been sent a summons it had better be explained that persons who break minor traffic laws are given the chance to plea guilty on a form and send in their cheque for the fine rather than appearing personally in court. Most are fined $5 and $10, plus $2.50 court costs.

When a salesman was asked what was his religion, he stated "English." Another law breaker said his religion was Irish. Still another was a prodistant (short for Protestant). One individualist wrote "Don't believe."

When a great many others reach a question that confuses them, they simply leave it blank. Or perhaps they just think the court is impertinent.

A large proportion of the traffic violators are youths in their late teens or early twenties. They confess to all types of minor traffic misdemeanors. They speed, don't stop at stop signs, drive through red lights, park illegally, make illegal left turns and commit all the other driving crimes.

In recent years the volume of traffic summonses sent out has doubled and trebled. In fact there are so many who pay fines now that you can hardly call yourself a driver unless you have paid at least one summons.

Bethany Ladies' Guild Plans Salvage Drive

BETHANY, Feb. 19—(ENS)—The Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Church, Bethany, met at the Rectory with Mrs. Charles Reynolds presiding.

Mrs. T. S. Gault conducted the opening devotional period. The treasury report showed a bank balance of $350.41. Letters of thanks were read from several members who had received cards and fruit during illness. A vote of thanks was tendered to the past secretary treasurer, Mrs. Hector Morton, for her faithful work during the past three years. Plans were made to complete three quilts. It was decided to start a salvage collection in the village, proceeds to go to the building fund.

Mrs. Charles Smith, of Cavan, invited the ladies to meet at her home in March.

Mrs. T. S. Gault closed the meeting with prayer, after which a social hour was enjoyed with the hostess and her assistants serving a dainty lunch.

WA Plans Bazaar

GORE'S LANDING, Feb. 19 — (ENS)—Mrs. Oliver MacIntosh was hostess for a meeting of St. George's W.A. on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Meggs, president, was in the chair.

Plans for the annual summer bazaar were made with several articles received for this affair. Quilt blocks were also given in and the members requested to attend a quilting bee at the home of Mrs. Melville Harris in two weeks time.

The study book was taken by Mrs. Meggs and Mrs. Melville Harris read an article on Beauty in Churches. The hostess served tea.

Rap Seaway Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19—(AP)—The United Mineworkers' journal said editorially Friday that construction of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project would be "a gross abuse and misuse of men, money and materials in a period as critical as the present period." Legislation to authorize the project is before Congress. A hearing on the proposal will be opened Tuesday by the House of Representatives public works committee.

W.A. February Meeting

HASTINGS, Feb. 19—(ENS)—Group 3 of Trinity United Church Women's Association held their February meeting at the home of Mrs. Clarence Lockhart, Tuesday evening. The president, Mrs. W. A. Thomas, took the chair for the business period. Flowers sent to the sick were acknowledged. The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Thomas, on Tuesday, March 6.

Named Ambassador

MADRID, Feb. 19—(AP)—Appointment of Miguel Primo de Rivera Marquis de Estella, a brother of the founder of the Falange party, as Spain's first Ambassador to Britain since 1946 was announced by the Spanish government Friday. A communique also announced appointment of Manuel Aguirre de Carcer as Ambassador to France. He has been Spanish delegate in Paris since 1947.

225 On Welfare 1950 Cost $54,947

Two hundred and twenty-five individuals received help of one kind or another from the Peterborough Welfare Department at a total cost of $54,947.18 in 1950, A. G. Metheral, welfare administrator, revealed in his annual report today.

The city paid $33,729.67 of this bill. Most of the rest was paid by the province ($19,808.35). The remainder was collected from other municipalities who were responsible for some of the people cared for by Peterborough and a refund of relief paid amounting to $39.80.

It cost the city $8,303.39 to run the department and pay staff salaries.

$24,741 In Food

The department distributed $24,741.69 in relief for food, $7,409.87 for shelter, $4,934.09 for fuel, and $1,622.07 for clothes. The department's doctor bill was $1,521.28. Care for people who had been released from sanatoria cost the department $2,012.18 and special home care for people cost $1,018.75.

Other relief given were: ambulance service, $80.50; household sundries, $963.81; medicine, $246.30; funerals, $650; transportation $15, and miscellaneous $19.09.

The department received 141 applications for old age pensions and the province granted pensions to 124 of those who applied. Three people made applications for pensions because of blindness and they were all granted. Thirty-two women applied for mothers' allowances and 17 were granted.

One hundred and forty-six people applied for relief during the year. Thirty-two received temporary help; 78 were aided because of illness or age; 19 received help because the head of the family deserted; seven because the head of the family was jailed, seven were helped while they waited for old age pensions and mothers' allowances; two were unmarried mothers and one was waiting for dependent's allowances.

Two hundred and fifty-five people asked the department to pay their hospital bills. The department paid the bills of 220 and refused 35 because they were not Peterborough citizens or they did not qualify for because the department thought they could afford to pay their own bills.

Eighty-eight of these went to St. Joseph's Hospital and 67 to Civic Hospital. The remaining 65 went to outside sanatoria and hospitals.

Total cost for hospitalization was $12,047.15. Of this $2,190.70 was paid for relief recipients and the rest for indigent residents. The department collected $1,405.22 leaving a balance to be paid by the city of $10,641.93, a decrease of $1,096.48 from the previous year.

Mr. Metheral reported that the department received a contribution of $520 from the treasurer of the Almira Grover Foley estate trust fund. It was distributed quarterly to 13 needy residents.

Police Collect $59,674 From Meters, Court Fines

A total of $59,674.90 was collected by the city police department in 1950, about $7,000 more than the year before, in all kinds of fines, licenses and collections. Almost half of this money, $28,371.47, was taken from the city parking meters. This was almost $2,000 more than the meters coughed up the year before. Fines and police court costs collected in court amounted to $21,925.43, roughly $2,600 more than in 1949. This was accounted for by an increase of about 1,300 more cases in police court in 1950 than in 1949.

Increase In Cases

In 1950 Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, handled 3,639 cases, except for the few that went through court while he was on holidays. The year before his court disposed of 2,398 cases.

The police department sold 1,006 dog tags for a total price of $2,486. The year before there were more tags sold (1,063), but it brought the department less than in 1950, $2,320. The explanation is probably that fewer licenses for female dogs were sold in 1950. The licence fee for a female is $4, a male $2.

Parking fines, tallied separately from the police court fines, amounted to $5,351. This was more than double the 1949 total of $2,397. Parking permits sold to trucks which use the downtown area netted another $1,206.

The amount of money collected from bicycle licenses has dropped off sharply over the last three years. In 1948 the amount taken in was $2,636.50. In 1949 the take was less than a quarter of that $616.50. In 1950 it skidded again to $335. This represents a drop in the number of licenses sold from 5,273 in 1948 to 670 in 1950.

Speaker Lists Threats World Freedom

Ignorance, intolerance and fear are the three greatest threats to world freedom today, contended Miss Helen Tucker at a public meeting held at the Beth Israel synagogue Sunday night.

The meeting was sponsored by the B'nai B'rith and marked the opening of Brotherhood Week, now being held in Peterborough.

The guest speaker, co-chairman of the Toronto women's division of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews, which is sponsoring Brotherhood Week in this country,

"All over the world people know what it is to fear because they are different," Miss Tucker told the capacity audience. "I am worried about my right to be free and can see how important it is to understand differences. From this inability to understand differences springs the dire and urgent need for brotherhood work today."

Differences Stimulate

Differences should not provoke sneers and laughter, but instead should stimulate a desire to understand the roots from which they spring, explained the speaker. Sometimes these differences indicate emotional insecurity which brotherhood work is trying to meet.

Miss Tucker stated that she was engaged in brotherhood work because she felt that she owed something to democracy and society. Everyone has this debt and it is our duty to earn and safeguard the goodness of the life of a democracy. It must be safeguarded by the stamping out of prejudice and fear.

"The three faults of ignorance, intolerance and fear can best be met by learning, light and love," the speaker concluded. "Knowledge combined with sympathetic understanding and faith in brotherhood work is the answer to prejudice and sufferings of minority groups in the world today. To go forward with faith is indeed to go forward in this great work of brotherhood."

Miss Tucker was introduced by Irving Moldaver, secretary of the B'nai B'rith and thanked by Mrs. D. Collis, president of the Peterborough Chapter of the Hadassah.

Civic Greetings

His Worship, Mayor M. J. Swanston, extended civic greetings to this first meeting opening Brotherhood Week in Peterborough.

Chairman for the meeting was Morris Black, president of the B'nai B'rith; T. J. Carley, K.C., chairman of the local branch of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews and Rabbi J. Mayer of the Beth Israel synagogue also took part in the meeting.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by the Hadassah.

One Charge Laid In Five City Accidents

Five accidents Saturday afternoon and evening were reported to city police. No one was hurt, but fenders took a heavy battering. One of them resulted in charges being laid against Mervin Brown, 577 Harvey Street.

Ice was blamed for the first accident about 4 p.m. Ernest Bolton, RR 9, Peterborough, driving east on Edinburgh Street, stopped at George Street. Donald Sollitt, 243 London Street, driving behind him could not stop in time on acount of the ice and banged in the trunk of the car ahead. Constable Edward Niziol investigated.

Two cars travelling in opposite directions collided on McDonnel Street opposite the brewery warehouse because cars parked on both sides of the street left only a narrow lane between.

Ronald C. Mahood, RR 4, Peterborough, was driving west. Allan Hansford, 696 Stormont Street, was driving east. When Mahood applied his brakes his car slid on ice over the centre line of the road and the cars hit. Traffic Officer Harold Mesley investigated.

Faces Two Charges

Mervin Brown faced two charges in Police Court today after an accident at London and Downie Streets. He was charged with careless driving and having inadequate brakes on his truck. The charges were adjourned to February 26.

His truck met in collision about the centre of the intersection with a car driven south on Downie Street by Laverne Doxsee, 363 Holloway Drive. Brown was driving east on London Street. Both left fenders, and rear corner of the Doxsee car were damaged. The truck had a damaged right front fender. Constable Allen Edmison investigated.

About 8:30 p.m. two cars collided at Monaghan Road and Hawley Street. Ronald Pomeroy, 548 Spruce Street, told police he was driving south on Monaghan Road. As he approached Hawley Street, he saw a car coming out of Hawley Street toward the east, driven by Gerald Laroche, 636 Little Street.

Pomeroy braked his car and swung to the left, but the cars collided. Laroche said he stopped for the stop sign at Monaghan Road. When he saw Pomeroy brake his car, he started out to make a left turn.

The right front door, panel and right rear fender of the Pomeroy car were damaged. Traffic Officer Mesley investigated.

A truck driven by Leslie G. Poole, Lakefield, backed into a car behind him on George Street when he started to back after sliding out too far into Lansdowne Street.

Samuel R. Hutton, 777 Lock Street, had stopped behind the Poole truck. The right rear corner of the truck hit the front left fender of the car. Constable Mesley investigated.

Cafe Rumpus Raiser Fined $15, Costs

Pleading guilty to charges of causing a disturbance in a George St. restaurant and being drunk Sunday, Arden Dracup, 20, Lakefield, was today fined $15 and costs on the first charge and $10 and costs on the second in police court.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, KC, said the accused raised "quite a rumpus" in the basement washroom and then tried to interfere with the cashier and shoved one of the waiters around.

"They asked me to go and I asked them why," Dracup said in explanation. The waiters told him they wouldn't serve him and he went to the cashier to find out why they refused to serve him.

Office Workers To Decide On CGE Offer

Members of Local 599, International Union of Electrical Workers (CIO-CCL), are meeting tonight in the Orange hall to decide whether or not they will accept the Canadian General Electrict contract offer.

The offer to the 450 officeworkers is much the same as that to the 3,500 production workers whose bargaining unit is the rival United Electrical Workers.

A general increase of 7.5 per cent is included in the company offer. Also a cost of living clause: one cent for each 1.3 change in the cost of living index. The adjustment can be up or down.

Three-Year Contract

The company is also offering the officeworker a three-year contract; an increase of three-cents-an-hour on each anniversary date of the contract; and job classifications will be negotiated when the contract is signed.

Local 599's demands included a general wage increase, shorter hours with the same take-home pay; accumulated sick leave; pensions, and a better health and accident plan paid for entirely by the company.

Meanwhile Local 524, UE, are on the third day of continuous negotiations with the company in Toronto. The Peterborough local is part of a joint negotiating committee made up of Peterborough and Toronto UE locals in the CGE chain.

Blame Garbage Truck For Morning Accident

A city garbage truck travelling on the wrong side of the street was blamed for an accident at Reid and Dalhousie Sts. about 7.45 a.m. today.

Clarence Nelson, 616 Union St., said he was driving south on Reid St. About 100 feet north of Dalhousie St., he saw a city garbage truck, driven north by Fred Pavy, 217½ Charlotte St.

He said the truck was on the west side and he thought it was going to turn left into Dalhousie St. However the truck continued north through the intersection. Nelson put on his brakes, slid on wet pavement and hit the left rear wheel of the truck.

No damage was done to the truck but the front bumper, windshield and the motor of the Nelson car were damaged. Traffic Officer Gordon Trennum investigated.

Two Motor Death Cases Slated For High Court

Two motor manslaughter cases are scheduled at the jury sittings of the Supreme Court opening today with Mr. Justice Ferguson presiding.

They are the only two criminal cases waiting to be heard.

Allan Dillon, 20, of Oshawa was committed for trial after his dump truck crashed into a car at the Chemong turn on Highway 7, last November 17, and instantly killed Claude Lindstrom, 43, of Scarboro.

Lindstrom's widow and a passenger, John W. Dexter, 26, of Levack, were both injured.

Lindstrom was on his way to Toronto, by way of Lindsay, when he was struck by Dillon's out-of-control truck, loaded with six tons of asphalt, as it came south out of the Chemong turn.

The second motor manslaughter charge has been laid against Mrs. Amelia Edwards, RR 2, Warsaw. She was the driver of the car that struck and killed five-year-old Garry Bertram Faiers last October 14.

The accident happened in front of the boy's home at 829 Lansdowne St., near Western Ave., as he was crossing the street to buy some gum. He was carried some distance by the car and died four hours later in hospital.

Three actions—all of them motor accident cases—are entered for trial with a jury.

Five divorce actions are listed and six actions entered for trial without jury.

Outboard Marine Workers At Home To Their Families

Employees of the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Company were at home on Saturday afternoon and evening to their wives and families when more than 1,000 inspected the plant. It was an auspicious opening of the new addition to a plant which now boasts of the second largest industrial payroll in Peterborough and employs almost 600.

Saw Operations

Guides were on hand to conduct and explain the operations as the groups followed through production, assembly, shipping and the many other departments which are connected with this most modern manufacturing industry. Sons saw where their dads worked and took great interest in trying out the machines.

The lines of Johnson, Evinrude, Elto and Viking motors built and in production gave to the onlooker a glimpse of just how the factory operates and why today the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Company is one of this city's foremost industries.

There was also the Iron-Horse. This is the gasoline operated motor which plays such an important part in lightening work around the home, operating the power washing machine, power lawn mower, the power water pump or pressure system or supplying portable power for the work bench power tools. This little motor was of inestimable value during the Second World War.

The sick bay is like a fully equipped hospital with a nurse in charge. Finally the visitor ended up at the cafeteria where lunch was served.

Established In 1928

It is a far off day, when in February, 1928, Hugh Campbell, after having decided to locate Johnson Motors in Toronto and having secured a building was brought to Peterborough by the late Roland Denne, then mayor, and Frank P. O'Connor. Mr. Campbell had already made up his mind to go to Toronto. But the urgings to look Peterborough over, and as he had another day to spend in Canada, he accepted their invitation. Arriving here on the noon train he found that a luncheon had been arranged for him, where he met the other industrialists of the city. There were J. H. Vernor of the Western Clock, Robert Abbott of Raybestos, W. R. Breyfogle of De Laval and the other heads of industry. But the three mentioned were all men who had come from the United States to establish a factory in Peterborough.

Their enthusiasm for this city that day convinced Mr. Campbell that Peterborough had something. Fortunately for the city the old Henry Hope plant on Monaghan Road was idle. It had been operated a few years previously by the Birmingham Motor Car Company. But that firm had never really been manufacturing cars. Mr. Campbell visited the plant and liked it. Peterborough had been sold to Mr. Campbell. Soon the first staff was assembled, six men; operations commenced in April and production in May with manufacturing the next year when a drive was made to gain the export market.

Since then the story of Johnson Motors has been one of progress and expansion beyond the expectations of those who were the founders of the company in Peterborough.

Evinrude, Elto and Viking lines were added and the company took its present name. The original building is now greatly enlarged. Mr. Campbell has retired and Clarence B. Neal who was one of the first six employees is now president of this great industry.

Former City Man Dies At Grimsby

Formerly of Peterborough, Robert George (Bert) Gillespie, nephew of G. A. Gillespie, 477 Homewood Ave., died Sunday at the West Lincoln Memorial Hospital near Grimsby in his 57th year. Since 1914 Mr. Gillespie has been a resident of Grimsby, previous to that in Peterborough.

His father, Hugh Gillespie, operated the Peterborough lift lock when it was first built. His mother was the former Elizabeth Redpath of Otonabee township.

Mr. Gillespie is survived by his wife, the former Florine Robertson, and three sons, Robert, Kenneth and William.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 3 p.m. at the J. W. Buck and Son funeral home, Beamsville. Burial will be in the Mount Osborne cemetery, Beamsville.

YMCA To Appeal Through Community Fund

2,500 Boys In Contact With YM In 1950

"Service to the youth of Peterborough is the contribution of the YMCA to the city," stated Charles D. Forsyth, general secretary to the Peterborough YMCA.

The YMCA is one of the 10 agencies making an appeal for financial aid through the Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund Campaign to be held March 2-9.

"We of the YMCA feel that we are serving the city by building character in boys that will make them better men and citizens of Peterborough in the future," Mr. Forsyth continued.

The general secretary substantiated this statement by outlining the various activities and aspects of the Y program under the general headings of leadership training, teaching of skills, physical instruction and guiding boys in adjustment to environment through the medium of friendship clubs.

Friendship Clubs

"These friendship clubs we consider to be one of the most important aspects of the Y's work," Mr. Forsyth said. "They are situated in the various outlying districts of the city for boys who might otherwise be too far away to participate in Y activities. Through these clubs we are able to guide gang activities which might be harmful into helpful and positive channels. We believe that these friendship clubs are doing a great deal to minimize the occurrence of juvenile delinquency in the city."

However, these friendship groups are only one of the many activities carried on by the Peterborough YMCA. During 1950 a total of 2,500 boys were contacted as members by this organization. In addition 2,218 non-members attended 2,300 sessions and meetings at the Y with a total attendance during the year of 34,581.

108 Organizations

These sessions were made up of 108 different organizations which made use of club room facilities for club meetings, team get-togethers, music, forums, discussions, addresses, dinner meetings, social programs, church meetings and religious exercises.

In the physical department of the Y, regular gym classes for men, boys and special interest groups are held regularly. Group activity is stressed especially in basketball, volleyball, track and field and swimming.

During the past year, 81 boys learned to swim, not including the vacation club and school classes. More than 250 boys were registered for swimming instruction and total attendance passed the 3,000 mark. Six boys from the city were winners of Ontario Open and YMCA Ontario championships in 1950.

A total of 27 Royal Life-Saving awards were earned by members of swimming groups and several boys took positions of swimming leadership during the swimming months.

The boys' department of the Y has a full schedule with boys ranging from public to high school age participating in clubs, craft and social activities and vocational study series. Aid is also given in juvenile problems. Special mention should perhaps be made of Saturday morning craft sessions which include instruction in building model aircraft, finger painting, leatherwork, clay and plaster of paris and coping saw work.

Each summer the Y's Men's Club operates Camp Kawartha on Clear Lake with a total capacity of 60 boys per weeks on a non-profit basis.

"We try to keep our membership fees below cost so that no boys will be forbidden the opportunity of taking part in Y activities because of lack of funds, Mr. Forsyth stated. "In addition our residence accommodation charges are kept down to the minimum. As a result the Y is burdened financially by an operational deficit."

According to the 1950 annual report, the income from all departments totalled $36,179.11 and expenditures, $42,151.70.

"New craft room facilities, gymnasium equipment, travelling equipment to be used in friendship clubs, four club rooms and other special equipment such as a movies projector are badly needed by the Y," Mr. Forsyth explained. "At least $15,000 will be required to finance the buying and erection of this equipment and facilities."

"We are basing our appeal for money through the Red Cross and Community Chest campaign fund on the service we are rendering and the need for financial aid to give even better service to Peterborough in the future," Mr. Forsyth concluded.

Flu Epidemic Mild Variety Doctors Report

By The Canadian Press.

Medical authorities today had both a word of encouragement and a warning for Canadians as they stepped up efforts to halt the epidemic of influenza sweeping many sections of the Dominion.

The flu virus, identified as similar to that which caused widespread epidemics in Europe earlier this year, is extremely contagious and can be expected to spread quickly, medical officials warned.

However, they classified the virus as "mild," indicating that normally healthy persons coming down with flu should have little reason to fear serious complications.

Ontario, where the flu was listed as the cause or a contributing factor in five deaths during the weekend, appeared the hardest hit of Canada's 10 provinces. Northern Saskatchewan and Nova Scotia's Cape Breton Island also reported flu in the epidemic stage, while epidemics were continuing to abate in several communities including Montreal and Brantford.

Identification of the influenza virus is similar to that which struck the United Kingdom, Sweden and other European countries earlier this year was disclosed Sunday night by Dr. Robert D. Defries of the Connaught Medical Laboratories, Toronto.

Identify Virus

Dr. Defries said tests made in various parts of Canada by the Canadian advisory committee on influenza had identified the virus as infuenza "Prime A."

The committee, which includes members from the Department of Health and Welfare at Ottawa, the armed services, provincial health departments, and civilian medical laboratories, has been conducting research into types and characteristics of influenza for several years.

Dr. Defries said the virus is extremely contagious resulting in rapid spread and large numbers of cases of the disease. However, effects were generally mild.

The current outbreak had "little or none" of the clinical characteristics of the 1918 influenza pandemic that caused millions of deaths in Europe and North America.

No new cases were reported Sunday in Toronto, where drizzling rain fell during the weekend, but health officials said the weather was "just the kind that spread the flu."

Contributing Factor

Influenza was declared a contributing factor in the deaths of a seven-month-old child at Burlington, near Hamilton, and of two elderly persons at St. Catharines. The death of an infant due to flu was reported at Timmins, in Northern Ontario, and a 22-year-old father in Chatham, died of what a doctor said was "definitely 1918-type influenza."

A sharp increase in flu cases was reported at Sault Ste. Marie, but the medical officer of health, Dr. J. E. Gimby, said it was "just the usual garden variety." He added that it would "spread like wildfire if precautions aren't taken."

A-Bomb Fourth

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Feb. 19 (AP).—The atom bomb ranks fourth among potential military weapons, Earle Cooke, Jr., National Commander of the American Legion, said Sunday. Addressing the mid-winter conference of the Nebraska Department of the American Legion, he said the hydrogen bomb, germ warfare and guided missiles rank ahead of the atomic bomb.

Russian Forces

PARIS, Feb. 19 (Reuters). — The well-informed Conservative newspaper Figaro said today that in 1950 Russia had an army of 2,500,000 men, or 176 divisions. There were an additional 600,000 men in the MVD (secret police) and another 600,000 men in the air force, Figaro said. It gave no figures for the navy.

In Second Place

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP) —The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported Saturday that the purchasing power of American workers' hourly earnings—in terms of food—ranks second among 20 countries in 1950. Australia, the BLS said, is the only country studied where less working time is required than in the U.S. to buy a given amount of food. Wage earners in Canada, Britain, Israel and the Scandinavian countries had to work 20 to 60 per cent longer than Americans.

AMIDILAK'S BEAVER — Anatomical discrepancies in this soapstone carving of a beaver may be excused, since it was carved by Amidilak, a talented Eskimo sculptor from the east coast of Hudson Bay, who had never seen a beaver or a photograph of one. The carving is a result of encouragement by the Canadian Handicraft Guild for Eskimos to develop native arts. The Guild sells the handicrafts on a non-profit basis with a view to developing a new economic asset for the Eskimos. In some districts, more than three-quarters of the Eskimo population is turning out some kind of handwork.

Attractive Eskimo Work Now Finding Good Market

OTTAWA, — (CP) — How does a beaver seem to an Eskimo who has never been outside the Arctic

A most attractive but slightly erroneous carving in soapstone produced by Amidilak, talented Eskimo sculptor from the East coast of Hudson Bay far North in Arctic Quebec. Because beaver are not found in the Arctic and the Eskimo had never seen a photograph of the animal, he had to carve it as he had heard it described —a hard worker who fells trees to build his home.

Amidilak, an expert in Arctic carving, made a few technical errors when he came to the beaver. He set the tail on vertically instead of horizontally, and shows the beaver packing logs home with its shoulder. But by extending his range beyond the wildlife with which he was familiar he showed the true craftsman's instinct for experiment.

The beaver carving resulted from an experimental project being carried out by the Canadian Handicraft Guild to encourage the Eskimos to develop their fine native gifts in art. With the help of the Northern Administration of the Resources and Development Department, the Guild buys from the Eskimos direct and markets their work for them on a non-profit basis.

A Guild representative last year visited Port Harrison, Povungnituk and Cape Smith in the Eastern Arctic and, while working among the natives, bought 2,500 pieces of local handicraft.

The Eskimos response was so keen that soon more than three-quarters of the population was turning out some kind of handwork. Eskimos ornaments and curios now are finding a good market among Canadians and tourist from the United States.

The long-term aim of the project is to develop a new economic asset for the Eskimo, at the same time increasing his pride in a talent in which he shows much skill and originality. One important by-product of the program should be a welcome addition to the field of Canadian native art.

Pete Smith Keens Own Photos From Public

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 19 (AP)— A guy named Smith celebrated his 20th year as a short maker the other day and he's "beginning to think that it might be a steady job."

Rather than toy with any tired jokes about wearing shorts, I'll explain that I am talking about Pete Smith, who makes short films for MGM. This fellow Smith has one of the most familiar voices and unfamiliar faces in Hollywood.

You know his voice. It has a flat, dry tone, and perfectly suited for making wry comments on film sound tracks.

But you doubtless wouldn't recognize him walking down the street. Smith has a theory about that.

"It's an idea that I learned from Lon Chaney, Sr.," he remarked. "He never permitted photos of himself as he really was; you always saw him in his fabulous makeup. He figured that was a big publicity value for himself. People created their own impression of how he looked.

Different Approach

"I worked the same angle with Greta Garbo. I was in charge of publicity at MGM when she came here. At first we put her through the usual publicity mill—posing in shorts, etc. But then, because she was so different, I tried a different approach—shielding her from the public.

"She was naturally shy anyway, so it worked out well. Or until it got out of hand and she really became a recluse."

Smith is no Chaney or Garbo but says of the same technique: "I figure it adds publicity value if people try to figure what I look like. When I have requests for photos, I send out caricatures instead."

Smith turns out 10 shorts a year, shooting them in three days or less. None of his 250 films has shown a loss, and most of them return a 50-per-cent profit.

Free World To Meet Emergency

By FORBES RHUDE,
Canadian Press Business Editor.

In the next few years we shall have to learn to do many things which we now think can't be done.

At present we seem to be producing about all we can produce and using up about all the materials that are available.

So we wonder how we are going to do more, and sometimes we think we may have been better off in 1939 when there was production power and manpower to spare as we entered a war.

In such thinking we are overlooking how much we have learned about production, and how prepared we now are, if pushed, to produce more efficiently.

Recently Cyrus Eaton, chairman of the board of Steep Rock Iron Mines, Ltd., urged that Canada embark on a tremendous program of opening up its natural resources.

Rise To Emergency

A reported asked him if it would be possible to carry out such a program if there were, say, a general war.

Mr. Eaton replied, in effect, that the resources would be all the more needed if there were a war, and that we never know what we can do until we set out to do it.

There were lessons of this kind in the last war. Theoretically, with the shortage of men, farm production should have suffered. Instead, farms became increasingly mechanized and, with less manpower, produced more than ever.

Such things undoubtedly will happen again if stress forces them.

Big Change

Sam Dawson of The Associated Press recently looked over what is happening in the United States and commented:

"Tinless tin cans are on the way, just in case the Far East tin mines are lost. Aluminum rods and wires can be turned out in a jiffy for the aircraft industry by a new continuous, faster and cheaper method.

"More and higher-octane gasoline can be refined from crude oil for the use of war planes or the family car. Steel can be hardened in war-essential alloys by a new process using a non-metallic element (boron) which is abundant.

"Possibilities of war shortages are also giving impetus to such things as powering vehicles with liquified gas, instead of gasoline. The liquified gas, a combination of butane and propane, is a by-product of natural gas and petroleum."

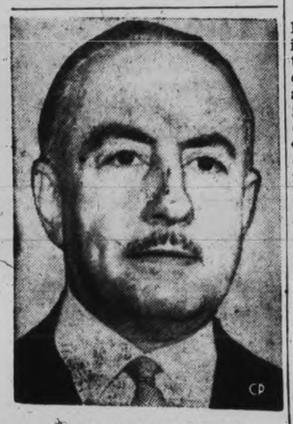
TLC Approves New Labor Act

TORONTO, Feb. 19 — (CP).— An official of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada (AFL) Saturday praised the Fair Employment Practices Act, introduced in the Ontario Legislature last Thursday by Premier Frost.

Leslie E. Mismer, public relations director of the TLC, told a labor conference on civil rights here that "labor has urged such a law be passed in Ontario and welcomes this step by the government."



He said, however, "the legislation as proposed falls short of the provisions of similar laws in the United States.

He suggested the addition of a permanent commission with sufficient authority to investigate and conciliate any cases of discrimination would strengthen the Act.

The Ontario Labor Relations Board is "overworked," and "it may be assumed that these new duties will not be more than a sideline with them."

Urges Women Use Leisure To Aid Others

TORONTO (CP).—Too much lejsure time is the reason so many women are unhappy, said Dr. Hedwig S. Kuhn, American woman physician, at an American Women's Club luncheon here. There should be more of the home and children in a professional woman's life and more worthwhile work in a married woman's life, the Hammond, Ind. eye specialist told the meeting.

Mother of two sons, both studying medicine, Dr. Kuhn and her husband, Dr. Hugh A. Kuhn, conduct a 24-hour service eye, ear, nose and throat clinic in the heart of a highly industrial area. In addition, Dr. Kuhn is industrial consultant to the United States Air Force and air material (CCK) command, and secretary of the joint committee on industrial eye work of the American Medical Association and American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolarynology.

Need Other Interests

A "complete" woman, said Dr. Kuhn, should have health, plus home, plus children, plus work.

"A career woman's life is an empty shell unless she has home interests. Every woman cannot have children of her own, but she can adopt some," Dr. Kuhn said.

She states that many women think they have done everything when they join some civic group, but it is not enough to read and study about things—women must do them.

Graduate of Rush Medical College, Chicago, Dr. Kuhn did post-graduate work in New York, England and on the continent. She met her husband while she was interning at the Cincinnati General Hospital.

Saskatoon Girl Sees World Lots Of Fun At Little Cost

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON —(CP)— Phoebe Craig of Saskatoon, Sask., and Noreen Sexton of Casino, New South Wales, are proving the strength of Commonwealth relations.

Arriving in London from widely-separated parts of the globe, with the same idea in mind, the 22-year-old tourists met at a youth hostel and decided to team up. Both wanted to see as much as possible of Britain and Europe on a limited bank balance.

Already they've worked in London, visited Ireland and Scotland and spent nine weeks touring France, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland and Germany—their rucksacks sporting the flags of Canada and Australia.

The girls saw the "Passion Play" at Oberammergau, were given leaflets for a proposed Communist strike in Germany and spent a night in a dosshouse in Berne.

They arrived in Berne when the youth hostels had closed for the season and it was the dosshouse or an expensive hotel. They chose the dosshouse and their evening meal was a cup of cocoa and a dish of bread-and-butter pudding with raisins.

Kept Expenses Down

For the nine-week tour, Noreen and Phoebe allowed themselves £22 ($66) each and the outlay included souvenirs and postcards.

Now the girls are back in Britain, working and saving for another tour. This will take them to Spain, Portugal, Denmark, Sweden and Luxembourg. They will call at Malta, cross to Morocco, see Algiers and Tunisia and come back through Berlin. They are allowing themselves four to five months and £50 each.

On arrival from Canada, Phoebe had about $600. "And that's going pretty fast," she said. "When we come back next time, I'll really have to settle down and save my fare home."

Phoebe finds that living costs in Britain are as high as those at home and wages are less. Saving is much harder. However, she hopes to accompany Noreen to Australia. They plan to work in Australia and save enough for Noreen to accompany Phoebe to Canada.

DOROTHY DIX

Divorce May Save Children Agony Of Family Discord

DEAR MISS DIX: I think you are very much on the wrong side of the fence when you oppose men and women getting divorces from their uncongenial mates because there are children. I know whereof I speak because I was brought up by mismated parents, and I can say that there is nothing more detrimental to a child than to live in a household of discord. No child is so unhappy as the one who is continually torn between mother and father. If my parents had parted when I was a child and possibly remarried more congenial companions, I might have had two congenial sets of parents, instead of the place of unrest and strife in which I was forced to live. I should have had far more respect for my parents and we would all have been happier. I should have been better off even if I had been put in an orphans' home than to have been the chain which held two antagonistic people together.

A READER

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There are as many sides to the divorce question as there are to human nature. No one view of the subject can take in every angle of it, no one judgment fit every case. When I urge mismated people who have children not to take their freedom or their happiness at the expense of the hapless little creatures they have brought into the world, I am thinking of the many young lives that I have seen blighted by their parents' divorce.

May Suffer Physically

Often a divorce brings actual suffering on children. As long as their parents were together the man's earnings sufficed for a comfortable home, plenty of good food and clothing and an opportunity for the children to get a good education. But when they separate what was enough for one family is not enough for two. The meager alimony the husband pays and the scant earnings of a mother who has been trained to no gainful occupation, reduces them to dire poverty. Thousands of children pay with stunted bodies and minds, hunger and cold for their parents' quarreling.

The inescapable truth is that children need a home, happiness and peace in which to grow up. They must have a sense of security. When you tear them up by the roots from the environment in which they belong you blight their whole lives. That is one side of the question and, on the other, is that which is stated so vividly and so pathetically by my correspondent. That is equally the truth. No good comes to the children in keeping a home together if it is a place of discord and strife, and a child IS better off with only one parent than with two who tear it apart between them.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Why is it that boy's family treats his girl friends so differently from the way a girl's family treats her boy friends? When a boy begins going steady with a girl, if her family approves of him, they invite him to dinner, they make him welcome and they try to be friendly with him. But a boy's family ignores the existence of his girl friend until they are actually engaged, and then they act as if she was a kidnapper who had stolen their baby from them. There wouldn't be so many daughters-in-laws with chips on their shoulders if their husband's families had taken the trouble to make friends of them before marriage.

ALICE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The reason why the girl's family gives the boy a glad hand while the boy's family turns the back of its hand to the girl is because parents are always eager to get their daughters married, but seldom are willing for their sons to marry. Hence the girls' parents speed up the wedding day; and boys' parents shut their eyes to the coming catastrophe as long as they can.

Certainly it would save a lot of heartache on both sides if a boy's mother would invite his fiancee to the house and not only get acquainted with her but make her feel she would be a cherished member of the family even before marriage, instead of letting her come into the family feeling that she was an alien and a stranger.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Which is the main factor for peace in the household, the husband or the wife?

X.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The wife, because she is the one who makes the home, both physically and spiritually. The husband supplies the raw materials, the house, the food, the heat, the light out of which a home is made, but is it the wife who makes it a place of beauty, comfort, and peace, or turns it into a squalid abode of discord and quarreling.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Sweeten Your Cranberries Before Placing in Dough

When you consider how far one pound of cranberries can be made to stretch, they are an economical little fruit. They also give us plenty of flavor for our money.

With imagination, these beautiful little fruits, in wintertime, can take the place of summertime berries, in pies, muffins, tarts and sauce, and give piquancy to many a salad and meat dish.

One little observation I want to make early in the cranberry column is that they must be sweetened before they are incorporated into flour mixes. The sweetness in the dough or pudding surrounding them is not quite strong enough to overcome the spot of sourness when your teeth sink into a cranberry. I found that out when I made muffins from a blueberry muffin recipe. Blueberries are sweet and do not call for sugar. Cranberries should be presweetened.

✧ ✧ ✧

Cranberry Muffins

Mash washed cranberries with a wire potato masher in a deep straight - sided dish, or put through food chopper, until you have 1 cup. Add 2 tablespoons sugar and let stand while you prepare remainder of the batter. Cream ¼ cup shortening with 2 tablespoons sugar and 1 egg until very light. Sift together 2 cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, and ½ teaspoon salt, and add this alternately with 1 cup milk to the shortening-sugar-egg mixture. Fold in the cranberries and 1 teaspoon grated orange rind last. Fill greased muffin tins two-thirds full. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 25 minutes or until muffins are light gold and shrink slightly from sides of pan. Do not over stir these muffins—mix just enough to make flour disappear in the batter.

✧ ✧ ✧

Cranberry Gelatine in Orange shells

Your meat platter will be made elegant with this garnish. It makes the modest meat cut look like party fare.

Boil 2 cups cranberries in 1 cup water until they burst and are tender. Add 2 or 4 tablespoons sugar, stir well, then force through sieve. (If desired you may add up to 1 cup sugar, but for me this is far too sweet for a meat accompaniment). Bring to a boil this puree then add ½ tablespoon gelatine which has been soaked in 2 tablespoons cold water. Stir until dissolved. When cold pour into orange-shells that have been cut in halves. (So that I could make these we had oranges for breakfast cut like you would cut a grapefruit for breakfast, then I washed the shells and dried them and scooped out the ragged membrane remaining; then I had my cups.) Chill thoroughly. Before serving each shell may be cut in half if desired. Either way they make a pretty garnish especially around a smoked cottage roll with a shiny glaze.

✧ ✧ ✧

Pear and Cranberry-Cheese Salad

Mix together equal part of white cream cheese and stiff cranberry jelly (made like above). Use this as stuffing for the hole in halves of canned pears, or put it through an icing tube, making a rim around the edge of the pears. For the latter treatment use a cube of pineapple for the centre. Serve this on small leaves from inside head of lettuce.

✧ ✧ ✧

Cranberry Applesauce

Here is an innovation to serve with the meat course. Whip equal parts of cranberry sauce and applesauce together. The cranberry sauce is made by cooking the cranberries in water until they are tender, then sweetening to taste. A little grated orange rind or 1 cut up orange are pleasant additions.

Police Report Women Drivers Better Than Men

MONTREAL —(CP)— "Women are much better drivers than men."

This statement is bound to bring forth howls of protest from every male who ever sat behind a steering wheel, but according to police statistics it is the gospel truth.

Says Montreal traffic inspector Armand Girard who made the statement, "the last time I said this in public I was jumped on from all sides. They even accused me of trying to make a hit with the ladies."

Although there are fewer women drivers in the city than men their percentage of accidents and traffic infractions is still lower on a percentage basis, Insp. Girard declared.

For explanation, he pointed out that women, on the whole, obey traffic regulations, are more courteous drivers and take better care of their autos.

The men on the other hand are always willing to "take a chance." They will take a chance on parking under a "No Parking" sign where a woman would search for a proper place to park her car.

They take a chance on speeding and cutting in on other cars in traffic, things a woman would be afraid to do, Mr. Girard said.

"The men rely too much on their own ability to drive," Insp. Girard declared. Women are more nervous but nervousness in a driver is a good thing if it stops them from taking chances that may lead to accidents.

Caps Down Hershey As Bisons Triumph

By The Canadian Press.

The American Hockey League, preparing for the stretch race, came through another heavy weekend schedule with the first two teams in both the eastern and western divisions pretty well assured of finishing as they now stand.

Buffalo paces the eastern division with 72 points, 12 more than second-place Hershey, 10 points up on third-place Providence. In the western section, Cleveland sets the pace with 80 points, Indianapolis comes next with 63 and is followed by Cincinnati with 57.

At Indianapolis, the Capitals won their fifth straight victory, beating Hershey Bears 3-2.

At Buffalo, the Bisons whipped Cleveland Barons 6-3 to square a weekend series between the divisional rivals. Cleveland defeated Buffalo Saturday night, 7-2.

At Providence, the Reds scored a 2-1 victory over Pittsburgh Hornets on Jack McGill's freak second-period goal.

It was decided to donate the money raised by taking the plays, the drill, choruses and vocal and piano solos and duets to the hall in Orono on Wednesday to the Arena fund. Orono High School shared the proceeds and expenses. They served refreshments to the Millbrook students at the close of the entertainment.

Council Allows Motels In Monaghan

Indications of continuing realty expansion west of the city were reflected at the special meeting of North Monaghan council Friday. George H. Rop[illegible] and others petitioned for a water main from the present terminal on Weller St., westerly to Wallis Drive, thence northerly on Wallis Drive to a point 160 feet south of Park Hill Road, as a local improvement.

Bruce Johnston, clerk, reported sufficiency of signatures and percentage of assessment, and the council referred the petition to the Peterborough Utilities Commission for approval and estimate of cost.

The Fred Stenson plan of a subdivision on the north side of Lansdowne St., and west of Western Ave., part of lot 11, was approved by the council subject to assent of the provincial Department of Planning and Development and Ontario Municipal Board.

The special meeting was held to dispose of the volume of business that had to be carried over from its meeting Monday, Feb. 12. Reeve Willard Waterman presided, and all the members were present.

Following accounts were passed for payment:—

Voucher No. 14, the balances in full for 1950 school money, $1,408.35.

Voucher No. 15—a grant of $15 Sundries—$5.45.

Letters have been received from Hon. H. R. Scott and Hon. George Doucett, Minister of Highways, regarding an application from the townships of Monaghan, Cavan and Smith, that the Cavan boundary be taken over by the department as a connecting link between Highway 28 and Highway No. 7 at Fowler's Corners.

Depends On Route

No decision has been made yet, pending the final laying out of the route of the transcontinental highway.

Cheques have been received under the highways improvement act for expenditures on township roads totalling $2,893.43.

The clerk was instructed to order four 15-in. culverts and two 18-inch culverts.

Bylaw 1385 appointed Fred F. Stenson a member of the local board of health.

Mr. Rowland of the Ontario Municipal Board attended the meeting, and the question of amendments to building restriction bylaw No. 1365 was discussed with the council.

To Erect More

Resolutions have been passed by the township council consenting to the application of Haywood and Riley, contractors, asking for permission to erect a motel on Highway 28 at lot 5, concession 12, North Monaghan (on the west side of the road leading past the R. Dobbin place, on the south side of Highway No. 28) if and when the bylaw is drafted defining type of construction, materials etc., and is finally approved by the Ontario Municipal Board.

7,500 Sq. Ft. Lots

Another resolution passed by the council and considered by Mr. Rowland and the Department of Planning and Development would be an amendment to the same building restrictions bylaw which would allow lots being served by city water systems to have dwellings erected thereon if these lots contain 7,500 sq. feet.

If there is no city water connection, building lots must contain a minimum of 15,000 sq. feet but if the township established a water system then these lots may contain at least 7,500 sq. ft.

However, with sewer and water connections, the area of a building lot shall be not less than 5,000 sq. ft.

It is expected that these amendments to the bylaw will be approved by the Ontario Municipal Board, the planning board and the council.

Henry Batten and Frank Whitfield were appointed pound keepers, and there are also five fence viewers named.

Melville H. Johnston was appointed to a vacancy on the Peterborough District High School Board caused by the resignation of Fred Stenson.

A bylaw was passed permitting Bell Telephone Co. to extend their line on Webber Ave. to Roy Beeler's sash and door factory.

Road expenditures for this year were provided by bylaw as follows:

Maintenance and repair, roads, $4,000; culverts $250; construction, roads, $2,500; culverts, $250; miscellaneous, roads, $1,000; total $8,000.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for an assessor for the township, salary to be $400; applications to be in the hands of the clerk by Friday, Feb. 23.

The following motion was adopted: That the council hereby agrees to pass an amending bylaw to allow erection of motels in the township if and when the bylaw is approved by the council and the Ontario Municipal Board.

The council approved the John Dougherty plan of the subdivision of a lot at corner of Wallis Drive and Weller St., subject to approval of Department of Planning and Development and the Ontario Municipal Board.

Record Grain Drying Operation Used

FORT WILLIAM, Feb. 9—(CP)—Steam swirls around the lakehead grain elevators—sign of bad prairie harvest weather in the autumn.

Night and day the elevators are carrying out one of the greatest grain-drying operations on record. Since early winter, 200,000 bushels of damp grain daily has passed through the stifling drying rooms.

Millions more bushels still must be handled before spring, when warm weather will ferment and spoil all wet kernels.

Grain is graded "damp" if it has 17-per-cent moisture content. Elevators here have been drying grain this season which is as much as 23 per cent. water.

Early in January, grain-trade officials in the west estimated that 18,000,000 bushels of tough and damp grain had been delivered to Port Arthur and Fort William. They said country elevators had 4,400,000 bushels more and that some 11,000,000 bushels probably would be sold by farmers by March 31.

Must Go To Lakehead

Because the only large-scale drying equipment in the west is at the lakehead, nothing but damp and tough grades has been shipped here since Jan. 23, when the Canadian Wheat Board banned all other grain movements.

Some elevators have been drying around the clock since October. Most grain men say that is unprecedented.

Two drying systems are used. One involves a steam drier which handles grain in batches. The other is a coke drier through which grain flows in a continuous stream.

The first system is used at Fort William elevator company's plant "F." Hot air is forced for two hours through vents into a 900-bushel drying bin. Then the grain is dropped into a bin on the floor below where cool air passes through it for about 40 minutes.

Second System

The second system is used at elevator E, where barley is dried. The grain enters the drying bin in a stream, at about 350 bushels an hour. It passes through the drier, interlaced with hot-air tubes, in about 80 minutes, then pour into a cooling bin for 40 minutes.

Hot air for wheat is kept at 180 degrees Fahrenheit. The barley drier operates at 110 degrees, since higher temperatures would damage germination.

J. Cameron Perry, superintendent for the company, said grain is tested and graded after drying by the Inspections Branch of the Board of Grain Commissioners.

Elevator workers said some grain from the West has been so wet this season that it has been frozen solid in the railway cars. Picks have been used to get it unloaded.

Steam around the elevators is formed when the hot grain is dumped into cooling bins, causing condensation in the air. It is most dense when the Lakehead temperature is below zero.

Andrews of Bracebridge and Mrs. Harry Anderson of Orillia. Mr. Parker was an employee of the Canadian General Electric Company and a member of George Street United Church.

Spits, Flyers Now Tied For First Place

By The Canadian Press.

Baseball's adage that a second-division club can murder you during the stretch run can be just as true in hockey.

Take Toronto St. Michael's College, a ninth-place team that moved six points back of the nearest playoff spot when they took a beating in Stratford Friday night. After that one, anyone would think they'd be more interested in their plans for the summer than in their chances for the Memorial Cup.

Windsor Spitfires, on the other hand, are locked in a neck-and-neck struggle with Barrie Flyers for leadership of the OHA's Junior A division. A date with a ninth-place club should have meant two badly-needed points.

Everything went according to schedule for two periods in Toronto Sunday. Then the pesky Collegians scored two goals to earn a 2-2 tie, forcing the Spitfires to share first place with Barrie. Since the Flyers have a game in hand, the missing single point could be costly.

Barrie took no chances with the last-place Waterloo Hurricanes Saturday, scoring four second-period goals to drub the tail-enders 6-2. Toronto Marlboros and Guelph Biltmores maintained their third-place deadlock by battling to a 2-2 tie.

Split Points

The fifth-place St. Catharines Teepees also settled for split points, as Galt Black Hawks held them to a 4-4 count, while Oshawa Generals tightened their hold on sixth-place by downing Stratford Kroehlers 5-1.

In the major division, Hamilton Tigers virtually clinched the third and last playoff spot with a 7-4 victory over the league-leading Toronto St. Michael's Monarchs.

Clare Shillington, one of the oldest and trickiest of the Old Men of the Mountain, paced the Tigers with a three-goal effort and assisted on two more. Polly Miocinovich, another Hamilton veteran, counted two more. Tom Smelle and Doug Maher completed their total.

The sluggish Monarchs came to life belatedly in the final period, when Sam Kennedy, Bill McCracken, Tom Fowler and Johnny Ubriaco cut down the winners' margin.

The Junior Irish did a little better with their last-period drive against Windsor. John Schiller and Mike Ratchford were the trigger-men who matched the earlier efforts of Spitfire centres Eddie Joss and Erwin Grosse to earn the Collegians a tie.

Forced Pace

In the second game of the junior double bill, Guelph forced the pace against Marlboros, despite the absence of five regulars suffering from the flu. Don Wilson replacing ailing goaltender Cliff Hicks, was particularly effective as he staved off a Marlboro offensive in the last period.

Dean Prentice and Andy Bathgate were the Guelph marksmen. Gus Karrys and Danny Poland counted for the Dukes.

Another goalie, Don Simmons of St. Catharines Teepees, was the individual star of his club's 4-4 tie with Galt, handling 51 shots by the aggressive Hawks. Johnny Sleaver, Ken Wharram, Ed Mateka and George Gosselin fired the only ones that beat Simmons. Bill Young scored twice for the Teepees, Skip Teal and Buddy Boone getting singletons.

Three-goal efforts by Real Chevrefils of Barrie and Herve Dejordy of Oshawa sparked their clubs to victory.

THIS DUO is expected to help give Canadiens the necessary drive in their bid for an NHL playoff berth. Bernie Geoffrion, highscoring rightwinger of the Montreal Junior Nationales recently signed his professional contract. Paul Meger (left), who showed with the Canadiens in the playoffs against Rangers last year, comes from Buffalo where he scored 36 goals and 33 assists. He is a promising forward and Frank Selke had to talk far into the night to pry him away from Art Chapman. Vern Kaiser and Ross Lowe shuffle off to Buffalo as part of the deal for Meger. Lowe, a defenceman, was obtained from Bruins.

Pavs Defeat Redmen 6-4 In Playoff Game

GOBOURG, Feb. 19—Cobourg Pavs moved to within one game of advancing to the Lakeshore Hockey League Intermediate A final when they defeated Port Hope Redmen here, 6-4. The second straight win of the three-in-five series, it was a red-hot tussle before 2,000 howling fans from both towns.

Referees Love and Calhoun of Oshawa had their hands full keeping the players under control. Two fist fights broke out as well as half a dozen near mills that were successfully quelled before real damage was done.

Buss Cane, Tripp, Smith, Ferguson, Cooper and McMillan were the Cobourg marksmen. Kelly with two tallies led Port Hope, Legrow and Racine getting single goals.

Port Hope—Goal, Edgar; defence, Baker, Douglas; centre, Hessis; wings, Legrow, Gordon; alternates, Racine, Casey, Ashby, Kelly, Kaufman, Rowden, Hoy, Forrester.

Cobourg—Goal, Rowe; defence, Cooper, McMillan; centre, B. Cane; wings, Maundrell, Tripp; alternates, Hogan, H. Cane, Wilcox, Smith, Ferguson, Campbell, Forbes, Buchanan.

Drillon May Retire

It was a fine hockey game, fast yet on the rough side, there being 11 penalties with Harrowsmith drawing seven of them.

J. Southward in goal for Havelock played a brilliant game which contributed greatly to his team's success. Also the local forward line was strengthened by the return of Reg. Pollock who was unable to play the previous game owing to illness. The Havelock defence of B. Pollock and P. Kumpf were called upon to play the full 60 minutes of the game.

The Laing brothers were prominent in the scoring honors for Havelock with Bill getting two goals, Jim one and an assist on one of Bill's goals, while the fourth and winning goal was scored by B. Pollock.

Omemee Winners

OMEMEE, Feb. 19 (ENS) — Omemee trimmed Orono 12-1 Friday night at Omemee. The playoff game was staged under protest because Orono was playing some men not registered with the team, but the precaution proved unnecessary.

Robinson scored Orono's only goal in the second period. The first and third periods were stormy as Orono made a lot of trouble for the referee, roughing and disputing decisions. Of the Orono team Burley got three penalties, Merser two and Schell two one of which was a misconduct. The manager also got into trouble wih the referee. Parker got all Omemee's penalties—three. Omemee demonstrated their usual good team work in the forward line and Fisher was on his toes in goal. Parker, R. Crawford, Jamieson were chief scorers.

New Hellman Play Listed On Broadway

By MARK BARRON

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 —(AP)— Beginning with a new Lillian Hellman play, a revival of "Romeo and Juliet" and a new musical from the pens of Rogers and Hammerstein, Broadway is starting its spring season with as much fanfare as it usually reserves for its fall openings.

What is exciting this season is that producers seem suddenly to have decided that shows are marketable for all the 12 months, and are not necessarily closed on May 31. Time was when major shows did not dare open on Broadway after Easter.

Ten musicals and 25 dramatic plays will be unfolded on Broadway between now and June 1.

Two nights from now is due the melodrama by Charlotte Hastings, "The High Ground," formerly known as "Strange Sanctuary." It has just had a successful run in London. This is a story about a girl in a convent who is accused of murder.

On March 4 comes the James M. Barrie fantasy, "Marry Rose," with Bethel Leslie in the leading role and Helen Hayes as producer.

Lillian Hellman, long one of Broadway's top playwrights, returns March 7 with her story of a southern resort, "The Autumn Garden." Frederic March and Florence Eldridge are the stars.

A revival of "Romeo and Juliet" which has been on tour will get to Broadway March 9 with Olivia De Havilland in the feminine romantic role.

From Richard Rogers and Oscar Hammerstein II, comes a musical version of "The King and I," taken from the Margaret Landon book of "Anna and the King of Siam." Gertrude Lawrence sings the leading role.

The musical comedy version of "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" and a couple of serious plays by Eugene O'Neill, which the Theatre Guild has on its schedule, also are interesting possibilities. Another which sounds exciting is "The Musical Comedy Man," a lyrical show about the late George M. Cohan.

"We are putting forth all these efforts for peace and not with any idea of destroying any other nation or any other government."

This was as close as Truman came to replying to Prime Minister Stalin of Russia, who said Friday the United Nations "is becoming a weapon of aggressive war."

Don't Just Say 'Reverend'

Using The Correct Term When Addressing Clergy

If you're an Anglican and you have been greeting your clergyman every Sunday with "Hello Rev. Smedge," you've been offending him.

If you're a Roman Catholic you've been annoying him.

If you're a Lutheran he's probably ready to strangle you.

Not Just "Reverend"

Peterborough men of the cloth say you just don't call them "reverend".

"Reverend is an adjective, it's not a title or degree, like doctor," said one minister, who pointed out that United and Anglican clergymen like to be called "mister." Lutheran ministers will settle for either "pastor" or "mister."

Most Catholics know enough to call their priests "father"—never "mister"—but when you write one of them a letter you should address it to "Rev. X. Y. Smedge," or whatever his name is.

If you're a Mormon you should address your minister as "elder." "Mister" is not generally used.

The equivalent to a minister in the Christian Science Church is known as the "reader" and there's usually a "first reader" and a "second reader." They are called "mister."

Usually the "first reader" is a man and the "second reader" is a woman, says a church member, who stated that the church had no ordained ministers.

Rectors And Pastors

Anglican heads of parishes are known as rectors, but in Lutheran and Baptist churches they are usually referred to as ministers, but are sometimes called pastors.

The Mennonite Church in Canada has 16 branches. In the old order, "preachers," as they are called, are selected by lot and most people address them as preacher." New order preachers usually get "mister," but not "pastor." Many Mennonite clerics are also called "bishop."

Seventh Day Adventists steer clear of the title "reverend," and church members address their ministers as "pastor" or "mister." However, you can call one of them "elder" if you know him fairly well, says a church member.

Known As Companies

Jehovah's Witness congregations are known as "companies" and are headed by the "company servant," who organizes and prepares material for meetings. Their meeting place is known as Kingdom Hall.

"Company servants" are never referred to as "reverend" but are sometimes addressed as "brother" or by first names.

Cancer Society April Campaign

The Peterborough branch of the Canadian Cancer Society will hold its annual campaign during the month of April with an objective of $10,250. This was announced by president John Broadhurst at the local branch meeting at the Public Library.

Mr. Broadhurst explained that April will be known as Cancer-Month in Canada and the United States. He said that it was unfortunate that this campaign came so soon after the community chest fund. But, because it was impossible to include the Cancer Society in the community drive, the society had to have their campaign during April to take advantage of the national newspaper and radio publicity.

"One cent a day for April," Mr. Broadhurst stated would be the slogan for the campaign. "Last year the membership fee was $1," he said. "Actually it is the same this year, but in order that everyone in the city and county of Peterborough may feel that they are a part of fighting this dread disease, the plan is to ask a cent-a-day from each person for the month of April. In this way everyone will be able to contribute and not feel too heavy a burden."

Mr. Broadhurst also explained that the money donated to the Cancer Society is used for research, to encourage study, to buy equipment and to develop new methods; for service, to provide comfort, to aid sufferers and to supply workers; for education, to warn in time, to dispel fear and to give hope and for administration and national co-ordination.

"Breast Self-Examination," the widely discussed sound film, was previewed at this meeting. This film has been purchased by the local branch and is available to any group desiring to have a showing.

Mrs. Beecham Boucher, health convener for the Home and School Council and Mrs. K. O. Birkin, inspector of Public Schools for Peterborough East, were introduced and welcomed at this meeting.

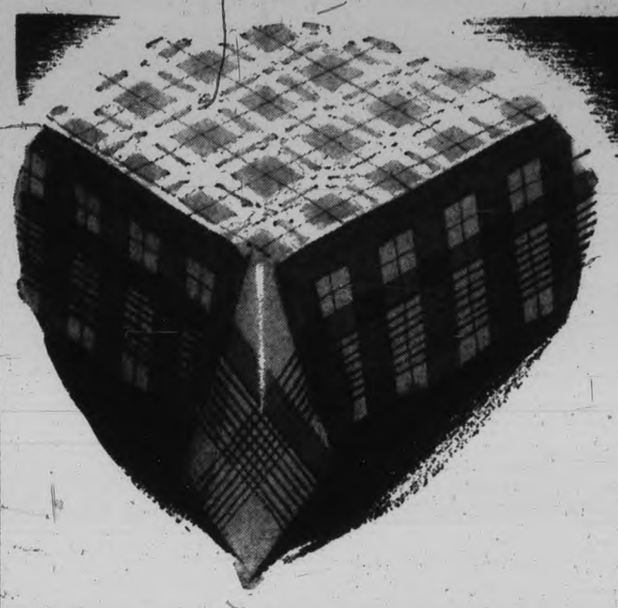
Campaign plans will be discussed more fully at the next meeting of the local branch which will be held February 22 at the Public Library.

Bedside Table Given To Loan Cabinet

CAVAN, Feb. 19—(ENS)—Mrs. R. Vance and Mrs. Hal Argue were joint hostesses on Wednesday when the Pot Luck Quilting Club of the seventh and eighth concessions Cavan held their February meeting at the Argue home. At the pot luck dinner, served at noon, fourteen members and five guests were present and the proceeds amounted to $4.05.

It was decided to send a donation of $25 to the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, and $25 to the March of Dimes fund. Another bedside table will be donated to the Red Cross Loan Cabinet at Millbrook.

One quilt was completed during the afternoon for the Red Cross and patches made for another.



Plans were made to hold a community euchre party in Whitfield's school on February 27, commencing at 8 p.m., the proceeds to be donated to the Millbrook and Cavan Arena fund.

Pension Plan At 70 Without Test By January 1 - Frost

TORONTO, Feb. 20. (CP)—The Ontario government's determination to put the proposed Federal-Provincial plan for universal pensions into effect as early as possible may bring the legislature into special session later this year. Premier Frost told the legislature Monday he wanted the plan — for pensions without a means test at age 70 — to be in operation by next Jan. 1. Before then however, the Federal and Provincial governments must agree on a constitutional amendment and the Federal government pass its pension law.

If it is apparent this will not be done before the present session prorogues in late March, Premier Frost said, he would either ask for blanket legislation to close the pensions agreement with Ottawa or else call a special legislature session.

Such a blanket authority from the legislature would be "asking for a pretty big blank cheque," while the second course was the more regular procedure.

Partnership Arrangement

Ontario's part of the proposed agreement, which the premier said would be carried out "without delay" consists of a partnership arrangement with the Federal government for joint financing of pensions with a means test for those between 65 and 69 years of age.

Premier Frost said Ontario had only a minor objection to the proposed constitutional amendment giving the Federal government powers to institute the universal pension plan.

There was a danger that the amendment as now proposed would give away all the province's rights to pass pension legislation, the premier said. He said he felt sure that that was not the intention of the Federal government.

"Both parliaments should have jurisdiction to deal with the matter," Premier Frost said. However, unless the legislature gave his government blanket legislation to conclude an agreement, Ontario's legislation would have to wait "until we know what the Federal government is trying to do."

Watch Wording

The premier suggested that the wording of the constitutional amendment could provide both Federal and provincial governments with power to make pension laws, providing that no federal law would interfere with the operation of provincial laws.

4 UK Seaports Crippled In New Walkout

LONDON, Feb. 20 (AP)—The start of a court hearing for seven men accused of an illegal dock strike conspiracy touched off a sympathy walkout today which crippled four of the biggest seaports in Britain.

The transport-dependent island meanwhile faced a railway strike that threatened to spread throughout the country.

By mid-day, 19,540 dockers—22 per cent of Britain's total—were idle in London, Liverpool, Glasgow and Manchester. The handling of vital export and import cargo was halted on dozens of ships.

Hundreds of dockers milled around London's Bow Street police court, where the hearing was in progress, under the watchful eye of two score uniformed constables. The hearing was expected to last all day.

Feared Climax

Meanwhile, a wage dispute which threatens a strike by 600,000 workers on nationalized railways neared a climax in talks between union leaders and the national railway executive.

Already 3,500 railmen were on strike, at least 12,000 others were working on a "go-slow" basis and 11,000 more were due to walk out at midnight tonight. Strike votes were scheduled at depots throughout the country.

The National Dock Labor Board said the mid-day situation in the four ports affected by the protest walkout was follows:

London—10,840 men on strike, 13,940 working, 72 ships idle, 10 undermanned.

Liverpool-Birkenhead—3,310 on strike, 12,690 working, 18 ships idle, 13 undermanned.

Manchester — 2,370 on strike, none working, 17 ships idle.

Glasgow and Greenock — 3,020 men on strike, 45 ships idle.

Today's trial of dock leaders resulted from a walkout, beginning in Liverpool Feb. 2, protesting union acceptance of a two-shilling (30 cents)-a-day pay raise.

King And Queen Visit Wilgress

LONDON, Feb. 20 (AP). — The King and Queen, accompanied by Princess Margaret, had lunch today with Dana Wilgress, Canadian High Commission in London and Mrs. Wilgress.

The luncheon marked the first visit by their majesties to the high commissioner's official residence in Upper Brook Street in London's exclusive Grosvenor Square area.

Once one of the most elegant town houses in Mayfair, the residence had 30 rooms, including a squash court and a cinema.

Later in the day, Canadian newspapermen in London paid their first formal visit to Upper Brook Street for a reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Wilgress.

Find Giant Penguins

HOBART, Tasmania, Feb. 26 (Reuters).—French Antarctic explorers whose ship called here today said they had discovered giant emperor penguins four to five feet high during the trip to Adelie Land and MacQuarrie Island. Emperor penguins, the largest of their species, usually grow only to about three feet in height.

Duchess Of Windsor Goes To Hospital

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (AP)—The Duchess of Windsor is in the hospital for a check-up.

A secretary said today the Duchess was having a "routine check-up."

The Daily News said today the Duke and Duchess had to cancel a cruise to the West Indies because of the Duchess' condition.

The story did not reveal the nature of her ailment beyond calling it a "persistent recurrence of acute physical discomfort."

Order Troops Renew UN Initiative

Tank-Led Soldiers Drive 7 Miles Against Red Army

TOKYO, Feb. 20. (AP) — Gen. MacArthur visited the roaring Central Korean front today, watched Allied guns and planes pound the fading Communists and then ordered his troops to resume the initiative generally.

This did not mean necessarily that Allied forces would attempt a new drive across the 38th Parallel border into North Korea.

When MacArthur spoke, the Allies already had kicked off on a renewal of the "limited offensive" that started Jan. 25 and was stalled only last week by a Red push that failed.

MacArthur recalled that President Truman had said the general should make the decision whether to cross the border again. But he told correspondents at the front:

"I shall not arbitrarily execute that authority. . ."

The allied commander indicated that "if and when" allied troops reach the border, he would give consideration to any "cogent political reasons against the crossing."

Britain is the leader in the opposition to crossing the 38th again. She was reluctant to send her forces across last fall at the high tide of allied offensive efforts against the North Koreans—before Red China turned the allies back.

(In London, a foreign office spokesman said Gen. MacArthur's statement that he would refrain from sending United Nations troops across the 38th Parallel if it acquired new political importance "seems to be very much in line" with British views.

(The spokesman said the question of the 38th Parallel still is under discussion by Britain and the United States.

(He repeated the British position that there should be consultaions among nations with troops in Korea before any decision is made to push north of the 38th Parallel.)

Must Do Better

MacArthur had one of his typically acid comments for Russia's leader:

"I note that Marshal Stalin has just predicted the annihilation of our forces in Korea. But his (Chinese and Korean) comrades will have to do a lot better than they have done to prove him a prophet."

Labor Offers To Consider Wage Stabilization If Price Freeze Enforced

If Provinces Fail To Hold Down Rents Then Government Prepared To Take Over Control In National Interest

OTTAWA, Feb. 20. (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent, meeting a joint Labor delegation asking for price-rent controls today, was reported to have told it that the Government may re-enter the rent control field after its powers lapse April 30 if Provincial administration does not hold down rentals. Labor spokesmen at the meeting quoted the Prime Minister as expressing this view and also saying: 1. The Government is keeping in close touch with the price situation and is studying the report of the 1948 Royal Commission on Prices. It also is introducing general legislation on emergency powers this afternoon in the Commons.

2. If the Government comes to the conclusion that price controls are necessary, it is sure the Canadian people will go along.

3. The government welcomes Labor's offer in its joint brief from the four central Labor bodies to consider wage "stabilization" if a general policy of price and production controls is put into effect.

No Comment

Mr. St. Laurent himself had no comment for newspapermen after the meeting. It was attended by key cabinet ministers and about a dozen top Labor leaders. The brief represented the views of organizations with a combined membership of 1,000,000.

The leaders asked for immediate reimposition of a price freeze accompanied by the appointment of a public board, on which Labor would be represented, to rule on all price increases.

They wanted federal rent controls continued beyond the April 30 expiry date.

After the meeting, union officers said Mr. St. Laurent had told them that the government had made up its mind that, short of war, federal rent controls would be allowed to lapse as scheduled. The government did not want to infringe on provincial powers.

But if it later should be found necessary in the national interest for the government to re-enter the field, it would do so.

While turning thumbs down on any outright wage freeze, a delegation representing virtually all organized labor conceded the question of "some form of wage control or wage stabilization"

Explosion, Fire Cut Power In Westmount

MONTREAL, Feb. 20 (CP). — Two babies were delivered by flashlight in hospital early today after a six inch gas main exploded, cutting off all gas and electrical services in suburban Westmount, and threatening nearby homes with fire.

Flames leaped as high as 50 feet from a crater in the road at the busy intersection of Atwater and Dorchester Streets in west-end Montreal, a stone's throw from the Montreal Forum.

The explosion occurred when construction workers were laying a 48-inch water-pipe. The gas pipe suddenly collapsed and a steam shovel was put to work clearing away the debris. It was not known immediately whether a spark from the shovel set off the blast or if it was caused by the cave-in.

The district was immediately blacked out by a power failure. Power cables laid under the street were cut by the blast.

No injuries were reported as a result of the explosion and fire.

While firemen battled the resulting fire from the blast the two babies were born at Herbert Reddy Hospital. Nurses and internes held flashlights while the infants were delivered.

Power service was expected to be restored to the district sometime during the day.

Not Consulted On Contribution

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 (CP). — Defence Minister Claxton has disclosed Canada wasn't consulted before figures on her contribution to European defence were placed before the recent Atlantic Pact meeting in Brussels.

The Minister, in a CBC interview broadcast on the Dominion network on Monday night, was asked whether Canada volunteered to send a brigade of troops to Europe or whether she was asked to do so as part of the build-up of an integrated force under Gen. Eisenhower.

He said the size of the forces to be contributed by each of the pact nations was worked out by the 12 nations. Actually, he said, Canada's figure "was set down for us."

Perhaps he was breaking a confidence in saying so, Mr. Claxton continued, but it was true that "our figure was set for us without us being consulted." By accident, Canada wasn't consulted but she would have been consulted the next day.

Mr. Claxton announced recently that Canada proposes to send a 5,000-man army brigade group and an Air Force wing of three fighter squadrons this year.

The Minister also told the press conference:

The question of women in the forces "still is open" but the first step may be enlistment of women in the regular RCAF.

Acheson Asks Congress For Quick Seaway Approval

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson and Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer asked Congress today to approve a quick start on the St. Lawrence seaway and power project. Acheson said the proposed development is a matter of "urgency" for the joint defence of Canada and the United States.

Sawyer said that should war come, "only" through the proposed seaway could the U.S. be assured an adequate supply of iron ore from Labrador.

The two cabinet members testified before the House of Representatives public works committee, getting under way the administration's campaign for congressional approval of the long-debated $1,000,000,000 project. It would provide a deep-water route from the Atlantic Ocean to the Great Lakes and develop power estimated to yield annually 13,200,000,000 killowatts.

Fears Decline

Sawyer said that without enough iron ore "our steel industry, our economy and our military posture would decline disastrously."

Acheson stated:

"Today the threatening trend of international developments has created an even deeper sense of urgency with respect to this project than existed before."

Their testimony was the first by administration lieutenants in a hearing expected to take up to three weeks. Opponents will have their turn next week.

Wait 20 Years

Acheson said the Canadian government has been waiting almost 20 years on the United States in order to complete its share of the construction.

UK Won't Touch Canadian Credit

LONDON, Feb. 20 (Reuters).—Britain will draw no further on the dollar credit which Canada made available in 1946, Hugh Gaitskell, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced today.

The Canadian government was told of this decision Monday, he told the House of Commons.

Gaitskell said Canada granted a credit of $1,250,000,000 in May, 1946, to expire Dec. 31, 1951. When drawings were suspended last June, he said, $65,000,000 was untouched.

After discussion in Ottawa between the British High Commissioner and the Canadian government, Britain decided it would draw no more, Gaitskell said.

He expressed his "warmest appreciation for the spirit which prompted the Canadian government to afford us this very generous measure of help in our time of need. . ."

227 Inches Snow

REVELSTOKE, BC, Feb. 20. (CP) — The snow is so high here that children can't see over the banks lining the streets and have to be shown the way home. Since November, 227 inches of snow have fallen on this Rockies city, four inches less than the all-time record set in 1948. Drifts higher than a person's head line both sides of the main street.

Gardiner Begins Talks In London

LONDON, Feb. 20 (Reuters)—Agriculture Minister James Gardiner of Canada, today began talks with Hugh Gaitskell, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Food Minister Maurice Webb.

There has been no official announcement regarding the talks. But Ottawa sources indicated, before Gardiner left for Britain Saturday, they would centre around adjustment in the price paid by Britain for the last two years of the Anglo-Canadian four-year wheat agreement.

Canada's case is that the $2-a-bushel price paid in the last two years to western Canadian farmers did not make up for the difference between the contract price and the market price during the first two years of the agreement, signed in 1946.

Two Buffaloes Decide To Paint Town Red 30 Policemen, 2 Cowboys Finally Nab Pair

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 20 (AP) —Cowboys and police joined in a buffalo hunt on the streets of Denver Monday night.

Two big bison being transferred to a pen at the Denver stockyards broke away, cleared four fences and headed toward town.

One went down a railroad track toward a freight train. A trainman standing nearby climbed aboard in record time as the buffaloes bore down on him.

Thirty police got in on the chase, after the radio dispatcher followed up his original call with, "well, that's what the man said—buffaloes."

The policemen and two cowboys on horseback finally captured the pair after a two-hour chase.

The animals were brought here from a game refuge in the mountains west of Denver, consigned for sale to a Wyoming rancher by a William F. Cody. At least, that's what the records showed. The Buffalo Bill Cody died in 1919.

60,000 Involved In China War

HONG KONG, Feb. 20—(Reuters)—Heavy fighting between Chinese Communist troops and guerrillas in eastern Kwangsi, China, with as many as 60,000 troops involved, was reported today by both Communist and pro-Nationalist sources.

Communist reports from Canton said their forces had killed 357 guerrillas, captured 9,120, and accepted the surrender of 5,304. They said they captured heavy-calibre guns, machine guns and 13,000 rifles.

Pro-Nationalist reports from Kwangsi said the Communists lost heavily, possibly as many as 20,000 men, including two divisional commanders. The reports added 3,000 Communists had been taken prisoner and many others had voluntarily joined the guerrillas.

The reports said the Communists had withdrawn leaving the hills in guerrilla hands.

Singapore Prefers Horses To Ballots

SINGAPORE, Feb. 20 (AP).—Singapore prefers horses to ballots.

The British colony's governor, Sir Franklin Gimson, has postponed legislative council elections from April 7 to April 19 because the former is a big race day.

Candidates for the colony's legislature demanded the change, saying otherwise nearly everybody would be at the pari-mutuel windows, not at the polls.

The newspaper Singapore Standard commented:

"It's a shame people would rather lose their shirts on the horses than vote.

Boxcar Shortage Ordered Eased

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 (CP).—Officials said Monday night Canada's boxcar shortage should be relieved within a week by an order speeding the return of Canadian-owned cars from the United States.

Under the order from the Association of American Railroads, announced in the Commons by Transport Minister Chevrier, all Canadian boxcars on U.S. lines must be returned empty to Canada, starting today.

This will free cars being held up for reloading and start them flowing back to Canada to ease a shortage that has hit particularly hard at newsprint producers, some of whom had suggested they might close down temporarily unless the situation was improved.

The annual shortage problem had been aggravated by the U.S. strike of railway switchmen.

Canada's Opera Bid Costs $37,000 But Makes Money

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (CP) — Canada's bid for a national opera played to appreciative, near-capacity audiences for nine days, pleased the majority of music critics and, despite a flu epidemic ended up with some money in the bank.

The achievement was considered "something of a miracle," by E. J. Rawley, general manager of the Opera Festival Association of Toronto, which staged the second annual festival, with singers from the Royal Conservatory of Music.

The three productions—"Marriage of Figaro," "Madame Butterfly," and "Faust,"—cost more than $30,000 to stage. Box office receipts exceeded expenses by about $100, Mr. Rawley said.

In addition the professional singers, who came from virtually every part of Canada, were seen by several opera authorities from outside of the country who were enthusiastic about the talent displayed.

Last year, following the initial festival, three of those who took part were engaged for an opera company which annually stages a season in various central American countries. The three were Jan Rubes, bass singer, former Czechoslovakian who now makes his home in Toronto; Andrew MacMillan, baritone, of Montreal; and George Crumm of Toronto, assistant opera coach at the Conservatory.

This year the festival was seen by Eric Simon, BBC representative in Uruguay and a well-known conductor; Ludwig Lustig of the New York City Centre Opera Company and Michael Kuttner, representing the South American opera impressarios.

Hermann Geiger-Torel, stage and artistic director of the Toronto festival, quoted them as saying "quite a few of the singers are ready for professional opera in other countries as well as in Canada."

Pacific Alliance In Mind

Consider Pact With Australia, New Zealand

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP) —The United States is considering a triangular defence alliance with Australia and New Zealand as a move toward a projected Pacific Pact similar to the North Atlantic Treaty.

Informed officials reported today that John Foster Dulles, state secretary Dean Acheson's adviser, is ready to discuss this and other possible defence line-ups when he stops off in New Zealand shortly for official talks.

Dulles has already visited Japan and Australia to discuss a Japanese peace treaty and to explore ideas for a mutual Pacific Defence arrangement.

Officials emphasized to a reporter the three-way alliance is one of several alternative arrangements now being considered as a means of knitting democratic countries closer together in the Pacific area.

Want Philippines

Another, it was learned, would add the Philippines as an original member of the United States-Australia-New Zealand arrangement.

All alternatives now being discussed leave the way open for additional countries to join later.

Acheson was reported to have mentioned the possibility of an initial three-member alliance to Prime Minister Sidney G. Holland of New Zealand when he visited here early this month. Holland, long an advocate of a Pacific Defence Pact, was reported enthusiastic.

Officials said he believes such a United States-New Zealand-Australian pact would meet his country's desire for formal assurances of outside aid in event of Communist aggression.

Hike Atlantic Alliance

The alternative pacts now being talked about are patterned after the North Atlantic defence alliance in that each country would pledge to aid all members in the event of an attack.

It is believed virtually certain, however, that the United States will insist upon a much smaller alliance than the 12-member North Atlantic Pact.

American policy makers are reported to favor a go-slow policy since many interested powers have little in the way of common backgrounds, traditions and resources.

Chief Says Rush Troublesome

Testifies Detective Reluctant To Take Any Cases Assigned

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 20. (CP) —Mayor Allan J. Rush was not informed of the reason for his dismissal from the police because Chief Constable A. E. Knight "did not want to involve the officers who had complained about him."

The chief constable made this statement today under questioning in the provincial probe investigating Mayor Rush's dismissal.

Justice W. D. Roach, who is conducting the inquiry, suggested to the chief that "it was a question of choosing your targets."

Chief Knight answered he was convinced the complaints against Rush were true and that Rush was "disrupting the department."

During the morning A. A. MacDonald, crown counsel, examined the police commission's minute book in the sections that referred to the Rush dismissal and other dismissals.

Different Treatment

The chief admitted that minutes showed that other men dismissed and censured were brought before the board with the complainants. He agreed the men were allowed a chance to defend themselves. When asked by Mr. Justice Roach why Rush was not given this privilege, he answered:

"He was a man of service and experience. He knew what was required. I didn't think it was necessary. There are certain types you just drive underground when confronted with charges."

A packed courtroom Monday heard Police Chief Knight testify that the detective had been dismissed because he had been "reluctant to take cases assigned to him and had generally created trouble" in the police department.

Rush testified earlier that it was his opposition to a police personnel job evaluation scheme and replacement of a police pension fund by a city-sponsored fund, which had caused him to be fired from the force for no stated reason after 16 years of service.

Mr. Justice W. D. Roach is conducting a provincial inquiry into the dismissal, on which issue Rush captured the mayoralty in the recent municipal election.

The hearing continues today.

The investigation was ordered by Attorney-General Porter after the London police commission members refused to make public the reason for Rush's dismissal. Commission members at the time were ex-mayor George A. Wenige, Judge Ian Macrae and City Magistrate Donald B. Menzies.

No Reason Given

Chief Knight testified that Rush had been dismissed without any reason being made public. No disciplinary action was taken against the detective. The dismissal had been decided upon at a secret police commission meeting prior to a regular meeting, and no record beyond the bare statement of dismissal had been kept of the secret meeting.

The chief had recommended Rush be let go because of complaints from police department heads that the detective's conduct had been unsatisfactory in both the morality and criminal investigation branches.

Rush testified that another factor contributing to his dismissal was his opposition to the disbanding of a $500,000 pension plan fund in 1948. Knight had received more than $16,000 as his share of the fund, Rush $3,400. About 60 or 70 officers who had paid into the fund shared in its division. The fund was replaced by a city scheme which Rush charged was unfair to newer members of the police force.

Say Sabotage Causes Blast

MERTHYR TYDFIL, Wales, Feb. 20 — (Reuters) — Sabotage caused an explosion which rocked a 12-mile area of South Wales early Sunday, police said Monday night.

A steel and concrete building full of explosives in a quarry near Treharris, Glamorganshire, was blown up.

Melbourne Thomas, chief constable of Merthyr Tydfil, said "investigations have shown that the explosion was deliberately caused."

Prices Continuing Decline On Exchange

TORONTO, Feb. 20. (CP) — Prices continued declining over a broad front as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

Losses ranged from fractions to more than $3 as prices continued Monday's sharp drop.

Trading was fairly quiet and volume for the first three hours of 974,000 shares was about 254,000 shares fewer than the same period yesterday.

Every group in the industrial list was lower with steels, papers, utilities, refining oils, liquors and manufacturing companies showing the most solid array of declines. Canadian Celanese was the biggest loser with a $3 drop.

Consolidated Smelters paced Base Metals downward with a $4 loss to $141. Noranda and Quemont dipped $1 and Steep Rock, International Nickel, East Sullivan, Waite Amulet and Golden Manitou were off fractions.

In western oils Home Oil dropped 75 cents.

McIntyre declined $2 to $66 to head senior golds downward. Junior producers eased pennies.

Dollar Drops

MONTREAL, Feb. 20 — (CP)— The American dollar today opened at 4 13/16 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, 1/32 lower than Monday's close. That is, it took $1.04 13/16 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.93½, down 1/16.

Barred Licence But Still Drove Fined $100

Found guilty of driving while his licence was suspended, Robert Hill, 18, Codrington, was fined $100, and costs, or two months, in Police Court today.

Magistrate W. R Philp, KC, told the accused that in a similar case about a year ago, a straight jail term was imposed with no alternative of a fine.

Provincial Constable Donald Erskine testified that January 10 he saw Hill driving a 1939 model car on George Street in Havelock. He and Chief Bay Bell of Havelock stopped Hill and the Provincial officer asked Hill for his driver's licence.

Hill produced a licence in the name of Thomas Hill, 18, of Codrington. He asked the accused if he were Thomas Hill, and the accused said yes.

Finally Hill said his name was Robert Thomas Hill and admitted he had a licence issued to him under the name of Robert Hill. It was suspended on a drunk driving charge about two years ago.

Signed Car Over

He also said the car was registered in the name of Thomas Hill. He added that he had signed the car over to his mother.

Chief Bell said Hill told them he had obtained a licence under the name of Thomas Hill to overcome the suspension.

Joseph Hill, Belmont Township, testified that on January 10 he had taken his brother's car out of a garage where it had been repaired and he kept it until the following afternoon.

The accused said simply, "I didn't drive the car on January 10, a Wednesday."

He said he was stopped by the officers the following day.

Acting Crown Attorney Walter Howell argued that the evidence concerning the date given by the officers should be believed, not necessarily because they were officers but because they kept daily records of all their affairs.

Serious Matter

You apparently have no idea of the seriousness of this matter," the magistrate told Hill. "Surely you must understand it (the system of licence issuing) must be lived up to, otherwise we might just as well do away with the Highway Traffic Act, and drivers get out on the highways with everyone on his own."

Asked if he owned the car, Hill said "This car doesn't belong to me. It belongs to the finance company."

The magistrate said the car would have to be impounded three months in any case. He then asked if Hill had a driver's licence.

"No," Hill replied.

"Not of any kind?" the magistrate asked.

"No, I burnt it," said Hill.

Before MacArthur flew to the Wonju airstrip Tuesday morning allied forces rolled behind tanks in a northward thrust along the central front. Field dispatches still described the action as a limited offensive, a renewal of the Red-killing raids Lt.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Eighth Army commander has used to cut deeply into Chinese strength.

Frontline reports said 30,000 Communists were massing around Hongchon, a road centre 25 air miles north of Wonju and a Communist massing point for their counter-attack last week. Their big thrust then won some ground but failed to crack the central front.

Another 10,000 Reds were reported northeast of Wonju.

Gain Seven Miles

In the renewal of allied thrusts tank-led troops Monday night slammed seven miles over the mountains northeast of Chechon and still were pushing ahead Tuesday.

On the western front, an allied patrol crossed the Han River five miles east of Seoul Monday but was forced back to the south bank.

Allied warships shelled both coasts. Cruisers hit along the western shores. The British cruiser Belfast and the Australian destroyer Warramunga sped to the east coast where their heavy guns joined a naval armada pounding the Wonsan sector, about 100 miles north of the border.

British authorities in Tokyo said after an investigation that there was no evidence that British ships took part in a landing last week on the islands of Cho and Rei in Wonsan Bay. South Korean marines went ashore.

(At Ottawa Canadian authorities said they had no indication Canadian naval units had participated in the Wonsan raid.)

In the air, naval, air force and marine planes hit the Reds again after Monday's record attacks. The Far East air forces alone mounted 1,039 sorties (single flights) Monday against the Reds.

Doesn't Like 38th

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—Col. Ben C. Limb, foreign minister of the United Nations-sponsored Republic of Korea, said Monday night the talk about stopping the U.N. armies at the 38th parallel in Korea is "obnoxious to right-thinking statesmen of the world." He said the 38th parallel should be wiped out as a dividing line separating Koreans.

Hint Senator Paterson Million Dollar Donor

TORONTO, Feb. 20 —(CP)—A Toronto paper said Monday in an Ottawa dispatch that Senator Norman Paterson of Fort William is "believed" to be the man who has pledged himself to give $1,000,000 to the Presbyterian church in Canada during the next 10 years.

The 68-year-old Liberal senator, president of Paterson Steamship Lines Ltd., and of N. M. Paterson and Company Ltd., a grain firm, refused to confirm or deny the identification, the newspaper says.

In Ottawa, Senator Paterson's secretary said "Senator Paterson does not wish to make a statement."

He appeared in more than 100 plays and movies and made several tours of Canada and the United States.

Acheson Asks

He submitted a report by the permanent joint board of defence, made up of American and Canadian representatives, which urged an early start.

Acheson said the administration is asking approval of a pending resolution sanctioning an existing agreement with Canada because of the contribution of the St. Lawrence project to the growth of the U.S. economy and its particular value to national defence.

"From what can be foretold today—we may need to mobilize a large portion of our available industrial capacity for the protection of our security."

Prevents Completion

Acheson said failure to develop 46 miles of the so-called international rapids section and to modernize the 68-mile Canadian section downstream has prevented completion of the 1,000-mile link for deep-draft shipping between the Atlantic and the lakes.

The legislation would approve a 1941 U.S.-Canadian agreement for the St. Lawrence development.

Sawyer said construction of the international project could be justified "even if its commercial value were negligible and its total cost had to be charged to the taxpayers."

But, he said, both the seaway and power project have a "solid commercial basis." The economic advantages to be derived from the development are "so great and the investment is so modest in comparison that not only can we afford to build the project—we literally cannot afford not to build it."

Bring True Bills In Assizes

True bills were brought in today against Allan Dillon, 20, of Oshawa, and Mrs. Amelia Edwards, RR 2, Warsaw. Both are charged with motor manslaughter.

The grand jury brought in the two bills when the assizes opened today at 10 a.m. A jury was picked to try Dillon and the cases for both the Crown and the defence were heard by 1 p.m.

Dillon was driving a dump truck that crashed into a car at the Chemong turn on November 17 and instantly killed Claude Kinstrom, 43, Scarboro.

On the petit jury are Allan Easson, Otonabee, farmer; Fred Stenson, North Monaghan, farmer; John S. Boyd, Stewart St., manager; T. D. Plewman, Hunter St., roof contractor; Arnold Lobb, Asphodel, farmer; Douglas A. MacQueen, George St., roofer; Frank Montgomery, Stewart St., contractor; Russell Williams, Havelock, merchant; G. Warren Payne, Lakefield, merchant; Frederick Lebar, Aylmer St., maintenance; Raymond C. Best, Elias St., merchant; and Garth E. Braund, Monaghan Rd., manager.

Labor Offers

might be investigated. In the first joint presentation to the government from the four central labor bodies with about 1,000,000 members, the delegation sought:

1. "Adequate" rent control. (Federal rent controls will lapse April 30).

2. Freezing of prices.

3. A public board—on which labor would be represented — to pass on all applications for price and rent increases.

Joining in the presentation were top officers of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, the Canadian Congress of Labor, the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor and the Dominion joint legislative committee of the Railway Transportation Brotherhoods.

First Joint Submission

It was the first time in their history that these groups have got together in a joint submission to the government. Their brief has been in preparation for about two months, accompanied by a country-wide campaign that has included a lobby of mailed literature aimed at members of parliament.

Declaring that inflation now is "in full swing," the 5,000-word brief said it can be "as dangerous as Communism itself, and Communism's most powerful ally." Controls were needed now, and they were practicable now.

The labor spokesmen said they realized that, even with the most complete and energetic control policy, prices in Canada could not be kept stationary because of economic forces outside the country. But these forces made it even more important that Canada exercise as much control as could be made effective.

Dealing with the question of wage controls, the brief said price control is certainly possible without wage freezing. Workers' productivity—output per man—was increasing. Wages could increase with it without breaking a price ceiling.

Largely Controlled

Wages already were subject to a large measure of control, through contracts and the bargaining procedure. If there had been as much control over prices, living-costs increases might have been much more moderate.

"It is not self-evident," the brief said, "that, if the government imposed a price ceiling now, existing wage levels—or any immediately in prospect—would put any serious pressure on such a ceiling. A wage freeze would certainly not be necessary. Whether some form of wage control or wage stabilization would be necessary is a question for investigation. . . ."

The brief added:

"The proper way to deal with this question is a government-labor-management conference to work out methods of wage stabilization." "This offers a prospect of a wage policy which will do two things, both essential: (a) Preserve the spirit, the principle, of collective bargaining, and (b) bring the experience of labor and management into the defence effort.

"If our government introduces a general policy of price and production controls, labor is ready to take part in a joint government-labor-management conference to consider wage stabilization."

The delegation said there was no necessity to wait until consumer shortages appeared before reintroducing controls. Nor was there any necessity to wait until war production took 40 per cent of the national output, as it was doing in 1941 when controls were applied. It was obvious that the present 10-per-cent production soon would be sharply increased.

The administrative task would be lighter now than in 1941, when controls were new to Canada.

"We are at war, a war which promises to be the grimmest in our history," the brief said. "If there are any of our people who do not understand this, it is the business of the government to make it clear to them. If that is done, there can surely be no question that the almost unanimous support of the years of the war against Hitler will be forthcoming again."

Pension Plan

The suggestion, he said, was "in no way dogmatic."

The amendment was necessary if Ottawa considered raising a pension fund by contributions. It would not be necessary if the pension were to be paid now, the Premier told reporters.

Mr. Frost said he expected no serious opposition by any of the provinces to an amendment to Canada's Constitution—the British North America Act.

The Premier said there was no problem about the second part of the pensions plan—payment of pensions with a means test to persons between 65 and 69, to be eral and provincial governments.

No constitutional amendment to transfer provincial pension powers to the federal government would be needed for this, because Ottawa already had the power under the present pension plan.

The Premier suggested the amendment protecting provincial pension rights could be worded to give both the dominion and the provinces power to make pension laws, providing that no federal law would interfere with the operation of provincial laws.

The throne speech debate continues today after speeches by Reforms Minister Foote and William Dennison (CCF-Toronto St. David).

Defends Policies

Mr. Foote, Victoria Cross winner at Dieppe and former vice-chairman of the Ontario Liquor Control Board, was the third cabinet member to follow Premier Frost with a report to the legislature.

The former army padre defended the government's liquor control policies and criticized those who demanded temperance legislation.

Alcoholics needed medical attention and scientific research into their problems, Mr. Foote said. For drinkers who are not alcoholics, the Minister proposed an educational program, stricter traffic laws to penalize drunk motorists and scientific tests for suspended drunk drivers.

Temperance laws, however, should not be passed for any area without the agreement of a substantial majority.

The Liquor Licence Board's policy in allowing new licences for liquor outlets was "mighty tough." Of 913 applications since May, 1949, 698 were rejected and only 86 new licences were granted to private individuals. The remainder went to those who already had licence, or to clubs and non-profit organizations.

"In view of what we have done, I don't see why we should be subjected to such violent criticism," Mr. Foote said.

Mr. Dennison called for a government hospitalization plan, and proposed the CCF plan in Saskatchewan as a model. He denied it would cost more, and said the individual cost in Great Britain was only one-third of the average annual outlay for hospitalization by United States citizens.

Railroad Indicted On 84 Charges Of Manslaughter

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Feb. 20 (AP). — Eighty-four manslaughter indictments—one for each of the lives lost in the Woodbridge, N. J., commuter train wreck Feb. 6—were returned Monday against the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The indictments were handed up by the Middlesex county grand jury in the second week of investigating the worst U.S. railroad wreck since 1918.

The indictments charged the Pennsylvania Railroad did "feloniously kill and slay" the 84 victims, each of whom was named. None of the train crew was indicted.

State legal authorities said any person convicted of manslaughter may be fined a maximum of $1,000 or sent to jail for a maximum of 10 years or both. Corporations are considered persons under the law, but Alexander Eber, assistant Middlesex County prosecutor, said "naturally, you can't jail a corporation."

Therefore, legal authorities said the maximum penalty against the railroad if it was convicted on each of the 84 counts would be a fine of $84,000.

Habeas Corpus Writ Requested

A motion on a write of habeas corpus—the first application of its kind to be heard in Peterborough in many years—was dismissed Monday afternoon at the present assizes.

Mr. Justice Ferguson turned down the motion, introduced by Stewart Ryan, Port Hope, so Ralph Carey, 26-year-old undertaker charged with the rape of a married woman, could be granted bail.

Carey on Friday was remanded in custody to February 23 by Magistrate R. B. Baxter. When Mr. Ryan at that time suggested bail, it was objected that a magistrate cannot grant bail on a capital charge.

The swiftest way, Mr. Ryan decided, was to put a motion before the supreme court justice now presiding at the Peterborough assizes. Mr. Justice Ferguson was at first reluctant to hear the motion because it had no connection with the county of Peterborough. He finally consented to hear it and turned it down.

Neither Crown Attorney John Bradshaw or Sheriff John Harstone can recall a previous writ of habeas corpus being applied for.

Sees No Area Immune From Attack

TORONTO, Feb. 20 — (CP).— Provincial Secretary Arthur Welsh said Monday that no city or rural area in North America will be immune from air attack in event of a Third World War.

He told the Ontario Association of Rural Municipalities that "no matter what defences we set up, some enemy planes are bound to get through."

"An air attack on the Soo would be particularly devastating," Mr. Welsh said. "The destruction of the Soo Locks could wreck the economy of both the United States and Canada."

Besides Sault Ste. Marie, the principal targets in the province are Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, Windsor, Sudbury, Niagara Falls and Sarnia, he said.

The cost of civil defence should not be borne by municipalities. "Any expenditures above peacetime requirements should be shared by Provincial and Dominion governments," he added.

Discusses Rural Role

Mr. Welsh emphasized the importance of civil defence and discussed the part rural Ontario could play in the event of air attack. He said towns and villages near likely target areas can be equipped with increased number of fire fighting units. These could rush to target areas in time of emergency.

Something to be considered is the possibility of incendiary bombs being dropped to start huge forest fires in Northern Ontario, the Provincial Secretary said. There are not enough men in Canada to fight forest fires which could be started in the northern bush by this method, he added.

"NOW, SHEE HERE, OFF!SHER!"—Driving drunks won't stand a chance when confronted with this little chemical gadget, "The Drunk-o-meter." The gadget, shown at a traffic conference at the University of Washington, Seattle, measures the alcoholic content of a man's breath. Anything over .15 per cent means he's "under the influence." Dr. C. W. Muehlberger of the Michigan State Department of Health tests the "intoximeter," while Theodore Loveless of the University of Washington looks on.

Past President Outlines Rotary History

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 20—(ENS)— The Campbellford Rotary club met Monday for the 46th anniversary of the founding of Rotary International. The first Rotary club was formed in Chicago on February 23, 1905.

Past President Dr. Bruce Longmore, the charter president of the local club was in attendance, and spoke to the members, telling them something of the early days of Rotary in Campbellford. Dr. Longmore told of the aims of the original club, and the manner in which the club provided service to the community.

Handicapped children were the main concern of the local club members. Dr. Longmore told of a number of cases in which the club provided medical care for handicapped children, and mentioned the various positions these persons held at the present time. The one time handicapped and under-privileged children are now following various pursuits, and their positions range from high school teachers to successful business men, and women.

Only five of the original charter members are still with the local club. The others have been removed through death in some instances, and others have moved from the district. The five remaining members are all past-presidents. They are N. Alex MacColl, A. Armour, A. D. Bennett, H. N. Carr and Dr. Bruce Longmore.

Rev. John McKibbin, one of the newer members of the local club gave the club "Some Birthday Thoughts for a Young Rotarian."

Past President Bert Taylor thanked the two men for their talks, after which the meeting was broughto to a close by vice-president Franklin Linton, who presided in the absence of president A. K. Loucks.

BISHOP PLATON, FUTURE LEADER OF THE UKRAINIAN Orthodox Church in Canada, is greeted by his two daughters on arrival at Toronto. They are Anna, left, and Clarissa. For the past seven years he has been the representative of the church in exile, living in a displaced-persons camp at Ludwigsburg, Bavaria. He is expected to be appointed head of the Ukrainian Orthodox Church in Canada at a forthcoming convention.

Oldest Alderville Indian Celebrates 83rd Birthday

ROSENEATH, Feb. 20 (ENS). —Mr. George Beaver, oldest resident of the Mississaugi Indian Reserve at Alderville, celebrated his 83rd birthday on Saturday. His dinner dessert was a black rice pudding, the rice gathered from Rice Lake. The day was spent quietly receiving the well-wishes of the residents of the reserve and listening to his radio. The radio was a gift to the oldest resident on the reserve, and as one Indian passes away, it is passed on to the next oldest.

Mr. Beaver was born at Alderville, February 17, 1868, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Beaver and his entire life has been spent here. He speaks Indian fluently and walks to Roseneath, 1½ miles, to do his shopping. When asked why his black hair has never turned grey, his reply was, "Because I never married."

His home on the reserv is situated on the county road from Roseneath to Harwood. His wants are looked after by his sister, Mrs. Carolyn Fleming, who lives with him. His hobby is wood-carving, making curios for the tourist trade.

Mr. Beaver has two sisters, Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. Emmar Hagaar of Shiwaniga, also one brother, Wellington Beaver of Madoc.

Logs 20,000 Hours For Aussie Record

SYDNEY, Australia — (CP)— Capt. Keith Virtue recently logged his 20,000th hour of flying time. This is an Australian record, believed to be exceeded only by a United States pilot who has 22,000 hours flying time logged.

Captain Virtue is 41 and he has been flying since he was 18. He flies now for Australian National Airways and pilots D.C. 4's usually on Australian runs but sometimes to London.

He has logged a lot of his time on the treacherous Sydney to Brisbane run (463 air miles) which he has flown 3,020 times. He has flown Sydney-Melbourne (435 miles) 667 times, and Brisbane-Cairns (930 miles) 666 times.

He flew his 20,000th hour on the run from Sydney to Brisbane where he lives and as he stepped from his pilot's seat he remarked "I've still got years of flying left in me."

Thirteen Grand Jurors Instructed At Assizes

Though abolished in a number of other provinces, the grand jury still has an important function to perform. And whether or not the institution of a grand jury remains in Ontario depends on how that duty is discharged.

That was the reminder given to the 13 grand jurors sworn in Monday afternoon at the current Peterborough assizes by Justice Ferguson.

Justice Ferguson briefly traced the history of the grand jury. In some form it existed before the Norman conquest, he said, and was certainly in existence by the time of Henry II.

He said it was their duty to bring in a "true bill" or "no bill" after hearing evidence in two Crown cases.

Both are for motor manslaughter.

Allan Dillon, 20, Oshawa, was committed for trial after his dump truck crashed into a car at the Chemong turn and killed Claude Lindstrom, 43, of Scarborough.

Mrs. Amelia Edwards, R.R. 2, Warsaw, is also charged with motor manslaughter after her car struck and killed five-year-old Garry Bertram Faiers on Lansdowne St., last October.

It is not the grand jury's duty try the accused, but only determine if the Crown has a reasonable case. Unlike the petit jury, the grand jury goes by a majority rule. And only Crown witnesses are heard.

To Inspect Jail

Another important function of the grand jury is to inspect the jail and see that nobody has been wrongfully imprisoned. Even in this day and age this is a "very necessary power," said Justice Ferguson.

A person could be locked up on charges that were quite baseless and could not stand the light of public examination.

At the present assizes it is not necessary to examine the several public institutions that are often inspeced by the grand jury, he said. That was done in December. However, he instructed the jurors to inspect the jail and courthouse and bring in their findings later.

The jury foreman is William A. Prest of Peterborough. The other 12 are Isaac Anderson, Belmont-Methuen; Kenneth Moffatt, Apsley; Robert B. Sayers, Havelock; Thomas Trotter, Chandos; and eight Peterborough men—Donald Morrison, Thomas E. McKay, Elwood McDonald, Maxwell Pomeroy, Roy W. Parnell, Robert Pirie, Harry T. Taylor and Clifford Vincent.

British Government Headed For Stormy Weather

The British Government did remarkably well, and surprised its critics, when it emerged with a good majority from a want-of-confidence vote; it was sustained by twenty-one, the best majority it has mustered so far, and this in spite of the fact that the Socialist left wing was opposed to the rearmament program which provoked the vote. However, political observers feel that a crisis is developing which might bring about the fall of the Government.

* * *

Prime Minister Attlee is a fine political tactician, and handles the House of Commons with a brilliance which is often obscured by the quietness of his own personality. But he is facing a widespread dissatisfaction among the people, and no amount of parliamentary generalship can overcome that. There is disappointment in his ministry; it is not Socialism which has brought about the change, but a feeling that the government is bungling its socialist measures and has been guilty of bad planning. It looks at present as though there might be a fuel crisis during the next six weeks, and the drop in the meat ration has proved extremely unpopular. The Government controls the nation's fuel, and is the nation's purchasing agent; if it has used these great powers ineffectively it may suffer a sudden defeat.
